The selected auditor must be a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) with experience in public school and charter school finance and must be listed as an approved audit provider by the State Controller. CICA is solely responsible for all associated audit costs. Where applicable, the audit scope will include federal compliance elements outlined in Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circulars and related federal guidelines.

Resolution of Audit Findings
Any audit exceptions or deficiencies are first reviewed by the CICA Audit Committee, which provides formal recommendations to the Board of Directors. The Board submits a written report to the charter authorizer describing how identified findings have been addressed, along with supporting documentation. In cases where findings remain unresolved at the time of submission, the report includes a corrective action plan and projected timeline for resolution. CICA aims to address all audit findings within six months. Disputes regarding the resolution of audit findings will follow the dispute resolution procedures set forth in this charter.

Upon receipt of the draft audit and management letter, the CEO/CBO prepares a written Corrective Action Plan (CAP) that, for each finding, identifies the root cause, required remedial actions, responsible owner, resources, and a target completion date.

Audit Committee Review & Board Action
The CICA Audit Committee reviews the CAP and forwards recommendations to the Board of Directors for approval. The CAP remains on the Board's agenda for status reporting each meeting until all items are closed.

Authorizer Notification & Documentation
Within 30 days of Board acceptance, CICA submits to the charter authorizer a written report describing how each finding has been addressed or will be addressed, with supporting documentation. If any item is not yet resolved, the submission includes the Board-approved CAP and projected completion dates.

Timelines & Monitoring
CICA aims to fully resolve audit findings within six months of audit issuance. Progress is monitored against milestones; if delays arise, management provides revised timelines and interim controls to the Audit Committee and Board.

Material Weaknesses/Significant Deficiencies
Any material weakness or significant deficiency triggers immediate Board notification, expedited remediation steps, and—if warranted—the engagement of external advisors to strengthen internal controls.

Public Access and Appeals
Audit reports are public records and will be made available upon request. Any audit appeals or requests for summary review will be submitted to the Education Audit Appeals Panel (EAAP) in accordance with applicable law.

Education Code § 47605(c)(5)(J).

School Climate And Student Discipline System
Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools (HCCTS) has adopted 5144.1 Suspension and Expulsion Board Policy to promote student learning and maintain a safe and supportive learning environment—whether in-person or remote. The policy is closely aligned with California Education Code § 48900 et seq. and is reviewed annually for updates. Disciplinary actions, including suspension, expulsion, or involuntary removal, are applied fairly and consistently and are clearly outlined in the Student Handbook. Students and families receive written notice of these policies upon enrollment. The policy prohibits corporal punishment and outlines due process protections for all students, including those with disabilities or Section 504 plans. Involuntary removal requires written notice in the student's native language and an opportunity for a hearing. Students remain enrolled during the hearing process unless suspended or expelled for misconduct. For more information about Board Policy 5144.1, see the appendix.

CICA Discipline Philosophy
California Innovative Career Academy prides itself on meeting student needs and developing action plans to address extenuating circumstances as they arise, recognizing that many students come to the organization due to hardships that have prevented the fulfillment of their educational goals. By addressing the needs of each student directly, barriers to student success are removed.

CICA implements a philosophy that all students deserve a second chance by providing services that include individual one-on-one student counseling, a drug and alcohol rehabilitation and prevention support group called Clear Connections that meets twice a week, and a Positive Direction support group that meets once a week which focuses on a different student success theme per month. We also provide services that address criminal history and homelessness if these occurrences impede student attendance. Additional addressing of student needs include a transportation plan for adults who do not have vehicle access to and from school, a clothing and food closet for those students who are lacking basic necessities, and free child care for those students who are not able to attend class due to young children between the ages of 2 and 5 who are not school age eligible.

CICA encourages the utilization of these services to prevent student disenrollment, suspension, or expulsion when applicable. Should a disciplinary action be required, Student Success Team meetings (SSTs) and 504 plan meetings (when applicable) are organized to review the student's individual extenuating circumstances. Counselors, teachers, directors, and other assigned personnel assist in addressing student needs by creating an action plan for both the staff and the student.

School-Wide Positive Behavior Intervention and Support

The Student Success Team (SST) is a problem-solving and coordinating structure that assists students, teachers, staff, and community partners to develop positive solutions for maximizing student potential. It provides an opportunity for school staff, the adult student, community agencies, and other important people to present their concerns about an individual student. The SST focuses in-depth on one student at a time and invites the adult student to participate in finding solutions. Through discussion and study, they plan a positive course of action and assign responsibilities, as well as monitor the results of a student. This process informs individual actions for students, including referral to the formal SST process and class-wide actions to address issues such as use of class resources, behavior management, and classroom modifications.

The following is implemented during the time of behavioral intervention:

- Asset-Based Delivery: The SST always starts with a discussion of a student's strengths/assets and develops solutions that build on these strengths
- Problem Solving: The SST gathers background information regarding the student in the areas of school, home, family, health, and collaboratively brainstorms solutions to address areas of concern.
- Service Coordination: An action plan is developed for interventions, with support implemented and designed to address the students' needs; team members are assigned responsibilities for action items.
- Monitor Results: Action items are monitored, and a follow-up SST meeting is scheduled to review the results/outcomes of interventions, make adjustments, and continue to strategize positive solutions to ensure student success.

The coordination of interventions at school, home, and the community improves student learning and provides focused, positive support to teachers, students, and staff. An SST can help students who are facing significant concerns relating to:

- Academics
- Attendance problems
- Behavioral/emotional issues
- Consideration for 504 services
- Retention

- Health issues (including substance abuse)
- Social adjustment

Tiered Behavior Intervention

Members of a Student Support Team:

- The Adult Student is always invited to participate in the decisions of their own education and goal setting.
- Designated administrator
- Teacher(s)
- Resource personnel or specialists, such as community outreach consultants, social workers, probation officers, community resources representatives, or mental health consultants
- Others invited as appropriate

All SST team members are active contributors, and the process defines special roles that some members of the team must fill to achieve the greatest positive outcome. Team members may change roles from one SST meeting to the next. However, during any meeting, each team member's role is clearly defined before the meeting begins and then maintained throughout that meeting.

Facilitator

This person facilitates the work of the team and is the SST coordinator/leader. The success of the team depends largely on this person, who guides the flow of the meeting and coordinates logistics before and after the meeting.

The facilitator directs but does not dominate the SST meetings, eliciting the most helpful contributions of the group and, most importantly, keeping a positive tone at the meeting. The facilitator directs the process with respect for all members and accommodates the needs of the group. The facilitator reassures and supports the efforts of colleagues and students.

Recorder

The recorder is responsible for documenting the SST meeting discussion, including students' strengths, concerns, interventions, action items, and results. The recorder does this by using the Student Success Plan form or the Student Success Plan Follow-up Form.

Team Member

An effective team member is a positive contributor to the work of the team. The team members participate but do not control the flow of the meeting. Members come prepared with information about the student. Contributions that address difficult problem areas are positive, looking at constructive solutions, rather than characterizing, blaming, or stereotyping. Interventions are linked to the student's strengths.

The Adult Student as a Team Member

The Adult student is a full-fledged member of the SST, and they are always included. At the SST the student can share his/her perspective and concerns, contribute critical problem-related information from home, and share effective and ineffective home interventions. Many times, the adult student can clarify questions for the team and participate in the implementation of strategies developed by the whole team.

Outreach to Students

When connecting with students, care must be taken to ensure the most positive experience possible. Reaching out to and engaging the student is a key element in making the SST process successful. This effort involves much more than sending a written notice of a meeting or making a simple phone call. It involves extending oneself as a representative of the school and serving as a bridge for the student to the classroom and the larger school environment.

Adult students often resist this engagement. The barriers they present to any involvement may mask deeper fears or concerns. Being a student with school or social concerns can cause the student to have feelings of defensiveness or guilt. Many students may feel they will be unfairly attacked or made to feel worse than they already do in an SST meeting. They may have had former experiences with school meetings that were not successful, or they were not kept well informed, and they may be reluctant to trust another meeting at school.

The person performing the outreach/engagement role must be sensitive to these issues. Information about the purpose of the meeting must be presented with an emphasis on the shared concerns and responsibilities. An explanation of the SST process must be provided, emphasizing that the process is a collaborative strategy that builds upon the student's strengths to attain the highest degree of success for the student. The student must also be allowed to ask any questions or share any concerns s/he may have with the upcoming meeting.

Adult students may also have time, work, child care, or transportation issues that prevent participation in the meeting. The SST process must include support for students to accommodate these very real issues. Any support provided has both symbolic and concrete meaning to students and contributes to the success of the meeting for both students and team members.

Restorative Justice Practices

Student Success Team Follow-up Practices: The action plan created at the SST meeting is only as good as the follow-up practices that ensure its implementation.

Steps for Implementation:

Case Management

It is very important to clearly define in the Student Success Plan who is responsible for each "action item" and to designate the administrator in charge of monitoring the implementation of the plan. This creates an accountability system that is monitored and reviewed when the team comes together again for the Follow-up SST meeting(s).

Case manager tasks may include:

meeting with the student and with the teacher regarding the action plan, making phone calls and/or sending reminder notes to team members regarding action items, and/or helping students and their families follow through with referrals to on-site and community-based services.

Feedback to the Referral Source

The administrator, or a designated member, provides the referral source with feedback promptly after the initial SST meeting. Even when the referral source is unable to attend the SST meeting, it is beneficial to involve them in some ownership of the plan, particularly classroom strategies, modifications, and adaptations.

Student/Family Support

Working with students to be a part of the plan and to undertake actions on their own behalf is an important part of the follow-up. Students are empowered to take ownership of their action plans, with ongoing check-ins offered as needed. During the SST meeting, the student is an equal partner in developing the action plan. The assigned administrator or another staff member who has a relationship with the student may want to check in with the student periodically to offer support toward implementing action items.

Follow-Up SST Meetings / Ongoing monitoring of student progress

At the end of every initial SST, a follow-up SST meeting date is set, preferably within 4-6 weeks. At the follow-up SST meeting action items are reviewed and student progress is discussed. The follow-up SST meeting is documented on the Student Success Plan Follow-up Form. The action plan may need to be modified and additional interventions added depending on student progress.

Communicating, Teaching, and Modeling: Suspension Alternatives through Professional Development

Staff shall enforce disciplinary rules and procedures fairly and consistently among all students. CICA staff are trained and annually review de-escalation strategies for students in crises. These strategies focus on developing relationships with students, identifying and avoiding, when possible, triggers for undesirable behavior, and stabilize students who have been triggered safely through the use of de-escalation techniques.

Discipline includes but is not limited to advising and counseling students, conferring with parents/guardians[3], during assigned time for supervised academic support or restorative conferencing, either virtually or in person., community service, use of alternative educational environments, suspension, expulsion, and involuntary removal.

Corporal punishment shall not be used as a disciplinary measure against any student. Corporal punishment includes the willful infliction of or willfully causing the infliction of physical pain on a student. For purposes of this Pupil Suspension and Expulsion Policy, corporal punishment does not include an employee's use of force that is reasonable and necessary to protect the employee, students, staff or other persons or to prevent damage to school property.

[3] The Charter School shall ensure that a homeless child or youth's educational rights holder; a foster child or youth's educational rights holder, attorney, and county social worker; and an Indian child's tribal social worker and, if applicable, county social worker have the same rights as a parent or guardian to receive a suspension notice, expulsion notice, manifestation determination notice, involuntary transfer notice, involuntary removal notice, and other documents and related information. For purposes of this Policy and its Procedures, the term "parent/guardian" shall include these parties.

Suspended or expelled students shall be excluded from learning opportunities, meetings, and optional program events during the period of suspension or expulsion.

A student identified as an individual with disabilities or for whom CICA has a basis of knowledge of a suspected disability pursuant to the IDEIA or who is qualified for services under Section 504 is subject to the same grounds for suspension and expulsion and is accorded the same due process procedures applicable to regular education students except when federal and state law mandates additional or different procedures. CICA will follow all applicable federal and state laws when imposing any form of discipline on a student identified as an individual with disabilities or for whom CICA has a basis of knowledge of a suspected disability or who is otherwise qualified for such services or protections in according due process to such students and shall notify the District of the same.

No student shall be involuntarily removed by the Charter School for any reason unless the student has been provided written notice of intent to remove the student no less than five schooldays before the effective date of the action. The written notice shall be in the native language of the student, and shall inform him or her of the right to initiate the procedures specified below for suspensions, before the effective date of the action. If the student initiates the procedures specified below for suspensions, the student shall remain enrolled and shall not be removed until the Charter School issues a final decision.

As used herein, "involuntarily removed" includes disenrolled, dismissed, transferred, or terminated, but does not include suspensions or expulsions pursuant to the suspension and expulsion procedures described below.

In-School Suspension

Authorization and Implementation of In-School Suspensions

In-school suspension at CICA is structured through enrollment in the school's targeted support track within the Independent Study Program. This track includes mandatory advisor check-ins, access to credit recovery resources, and scheduled tutoring—either in person or virtually—as appropriate. CICA offers in-school suspension as a means of reducing time missed from learning for behavioral issues. Should the need for in-school suspension arise due to a violation of student conduct violations, as defined by the California Innovative Career Academy's Student Handbook, in-school suspension will be served through the enrollment of and attendance in the California Innovative Career Academy Alternative Education/Independent Study Program. An assigned advisor will work with the student to arrange a schedule for the student to engage in credit recovery and after-school tutoring as needed to ensure she is able to keep up with his/her school work while on suspension. Grounds for in-school suspension shall not exceed grounds for expulsion as defined by the Student Expulsion policy. Notification procedures and the maximum number of days for in-school suspension per incident as well as academic year are the same as out-of-school suspensions.

To ensure that CICA adequately provide safety for students, staff, and visitors to the school and serve the best interests of students, in-school suspension will not be offered to any student who:

- Caused, attempted to cause, threatened to cause, or participated in an act of hate violence,

- Engaged in harassment, threats, or intimidation against a pupil or group of pupils or school district personnel, or
- Made terrorist threats against school officials or school property, or both.

Out-Of-School Suspension Procedures

Suspension Authority
CICA will ensure that the process for investigating incidents and collecting evidence will be fair and thorough before a student is suspended. A student may only be suspended by the Executive Director's and/or Chief Academic Officer, or in the case of the Executive Director and Chief Academic Officer's absence or inability to carry out proper suspension procedures, an assigned designee.

Conference
Suspension will be preceded, if possible, by a conference conducted by the Executive Director's and/or Chief Academic Officer or an assigned designee with the student and, whenever practical, the teacher, supervisor or Charter School employee who referred the student to the Executive Director's and/or Chief Academic Officer and Instruction or assigned designee.
The conference may be omitted if the Executive Director's and/or Director of Curriculum and Instruction or an assigned designee determines that an emergency situation exists. An "emergency situation" involves a clear and present danger to the lives, safety, or health of students or charter school personnel. If a student is suspended without this conference, the student will be notified of the student's right to return to school for the purpose of a conference. At the conference, the student will be informed of the reason for the disciplinary action, including the other means of correction that were attempted before the suspension, and the evidence against him or her and will be given a meaningful opportunity to present his or her version and evidence in his or her defense. This conference will be held within two school days, unless the student waives this right or is physically unable to attend for any reason, including, but not limited to, incarceration or hospitalization. No penalties may be imposed on a student for failure to attend a conference with Charter School officials. Reinstatement of the suspended student shall not be contingent upon attendance by the student at the conference.

Student Notification
Students will have due process rights with regard to suspensions and expulsions. At the time of the suspension, an administrator or designee will make a reasonable effort to contact the student by telephone or in person. Initial contact will be followed by a written notice. This notice will state the specific offense(s) committed by the student. In addition, the notice will also state the date and time the student may return to school.

Maximum Suspension
The length of the suspension will be determined by the Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or an assigned designee based on the severity of the offense(s), as evidenced by witness statements, physical evidence, and other relevant factors. For students with IEPs, the students SST team will consult with the Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or an assigned designee on additional factors that are relevant to the decision. The length of suspension for students may not exceed a period of 5 consecutive days per suspension. The total number of days for which a student may be suspended from school shall not exceed 20 school days in any school year.

Meaningful Education for Suspended Students

A student on suspension will be provided meaningful access to education during the term of the suspension. An advisor of the suspended student will collect and provide the student with classroom material and current assignments to be completed at home during the length of the suspension. Missed tests will also be coordinated to be completed either at home or upon return. Written notification listing all required assignments will be given to the student and all needed materials will be left in the front office.

In accordance with Education Code § 47606.2(a), upon the request of a parent, a legal guardian or other person holding the right to make education decisions for the student, or the affected student, a teacher shall provide to a student in any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, who has been suspended from school for two (2) or more school days, the homework that the student would otherwise have been assigned.

In accordance with Education Code § 47606.2(b), if a homework assignment that is requested pursuant to Section 47606.2(a) and turned into the teacher by the student either upon the student's return to school from suspension or within the timeframe originally prescribed by the teacher, whichever is later, is not graded before the end of the academic term, that assignment shall not be included in the calculation of the student's overall grade in the class.

Suspension Pending the Outcome of an Expulsion Process

Upon a recommendation of expulsion by the Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or Administrative Panel, the student or representative will be invited to a conference to determine if the suspension for the student should be extended pending ~~the completion of~~ an expulsion hearing. This determination will be made by the Executive Director and/or Chief Academic Officer or Administrative Panel upon either of the following: 1) the student's presence will be disruptive to the education process; or 2) the student poses a threat or danger to others or property. Upon either determination, the student's suspension will be extended pending the results of an expulsion hearing. The maximum number of days a student may be suspended is thirty days (30) unless the expulsion hearing is postponed for good cause, in which case the suspension could be extended further. Procedures for providing a student on suspension with meaningful access to education during the term of the suspension pending the outcome of an expulsion process is outlined above in the section titled, "In School Suspension."

Expulsion Procedures

Prior to making an expulsion recommendation, students will be provided adequate notice of the reason for disciplinary actions and a meaningful opportunity to be heard by invitation to a conference to determine if the student should be placed on suspension or if an existing suspension for the student should be extended pending an expulsion hearing. This determination will be made by the Executive Director and/or Director of Chief Academic Officer (or assigned designee) upon either of the following findings:

- The student's presence will likely be disruptive to the educational process
- The student poses a threat or danger to others or property.

Upon this determination, the student placed on suspension or will have his/her suspension extended pending the results of an expulsion hearing.

Students will be recommended for expulsion if at least one of the following findings may be substantiated:

- Other means of correction are not feasible or have repeatedly failed to bring about proper conduct.
- Due to the nature of the violation, the presence of the student causes a continuing danger to the physical safety of the student or others.

Authority to Expel

As required by Education Code § 47605(c)(5)(J)(ii), students recommended for expulsion are entitled to a hearing adjudicated by a neutral officer to determine whether the student should be expelled. The procedures herein provide for such a hearing and the notice of said hearing, as required by law. A student may be expelled either by the CICA Board following a hearing before it or by the CICA Board upon the recommendation of the Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or a neutral and impartial Administrative Panel may be assigned by the Board as needed. The Administrative Panel should consist of at least three members who are certificated and neither a teacher of the student nor a Board member of the Charter School's ~~student expulsion process and shall~~ governing board. The Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or Administrative Panel may recommend expulsion of any student found to have committed an expellable offense, and the CICA Board of Directors shall make the final determination.

Students must be expelled for any of the following acts when it is determined pursuant to the procedures below that the student:

A. Possessed, sold, or otherwise furnished any firearm, explosive, or other dangerous object unless, in the case of possession of any object of this type, the students had obtained written permission to possess the item from a certificated school employee, with the Executive Director's and/or Director of Curriculum and Instruction (or assigned designee's) concurrence. E. Possession of an explosive.

If it is determined by the Board of Directors that a student has brought a firearm or destructive device, as defined in Section 921 of Title 18 of the United States Code, on to campus or to have possessed a firearm or dangerous device on campus, the student shall be expelled for one year, pursuant to the Federal Gun Free Schools Act of 1994. In such instances, the student shall be provided due process rights of notice and a hearing as required in this policy.

The term "firearm" means (A) any weapon (including a starter gun) which will or is designed to or may readily be converted to expel a projectile by the action of an explosive; (B) the frame or receiver of any such weapon; (C) any firearm muffler or firearm silencer; or (D) any destructive device. Discretionary Recommendation for Expulsion
Students shall be recommended for expulsion, unless the Executive Director or the Executive Director's designee determines that expulsion should not be recommended under the circumstances or that an alternative means of correction would address the following acts:

C. Unlawfully possessing any controlled substance, as defined in Health and Safety Code Sections 11053-11058 except for either the first offense of possession of not more than one avoirdupois ounce of marijuana, other than concentrated cannabis, or the possession of over-the-counter medication for use by the pupil for medical purposes or medication prescribed for the pupil be a physician.
D. Robbery or extortion.
E. Assault or battery, as defined in Penal Code Sections 240 and 242, upon any Charter School employee.

Expulsion Procedures
Students recommended for expulsion are entitled to a hearing to determine whether the student should be expelled. Unless postponed for good cause, the hearing will be held within thirty (30) school days after the Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or an Administrative Panel or designee determines that the student has committed an expellable offense.

In the event an Administrative Panel hears the case, it will make a recommendation to the Board for a final decision whether to expel. The hearing shall be held in closed session (complying with all student confidentiality rules under FERPA) unless the student makes a written request for a public hearing three (3) days prior to the hearing.

Written notice of the hearing shall be forwarded to the student at least ten (10) calendar days before the date of the hearing. Upon mailing the notice, it shall be deemed served upon the student. The notice shall include:

1. The date and place of the expulsion hearing,
2. A statement of the specific facts, charges and offenses upon which the proposed expulsion is based,

8. The opportunity to question all evidence presented and to present oral and documentary evidence on the student's behalf including witnesses.

Reasonable accommodations, including language support for a student who has a primary language other than English will be made available at the hearing, upon request.

Special Procedures for Expulsion Hearings Involving Sexual Assault or Battery Offenses
CICA may, upon a finding of good cause, determine that the disclosure of either the identity of the witness or the testimony of that witness at the hearing, or both, would subject the witness to an unreasonable risk of psychological or physical harm. Upon this determination, the testimony of the witness may be presented at the hearing in the form of sworn declarations that shall be examined only by the CICA Board or the hearing officer. Copies of these sworn declarations, edited to delete the name and identity of the witness, shall be made available to the student.

1. The complaining witness in any sexual assault or battery case must be provided with a copy of the applicable disciplinary rules and advised of his/her right to (a) receive five days' notice of his/her scheduled testimony, (b) have up to two (2) adult support persons of his/her choosing present in the hearing at the time s/he testifies, which may include a parent, guardian, or legal counsel, and (c) elect to have the hearing closed while testifying.
2. CICA must also provide the victim a room separate from the hearing room for the complaining witness' use prior to and during breaks in testimony.
3. At the discretion of the person or panel conducting the expulsion hearing, the complaining witness shall be allowed periods of relief from examination and cross-examination during which s/he may leave the hearing room.
4. ~~1.~~4.The person or panel conducting the expulsion hearing may also arrange the seating within the hearing room to facilitate ~~the post-expulsion placement of expelled students~~a less intimidating environment for the complaining witness.The person or panel conducting the expulsion hearing may also limit time for taking the testimony of the complaining witness to the hours s/he is normally in school, if there is no good cause to take the testimony during other hours.

~~Charter School shall document and implement the alternatives to suspension and expulsion that Charter School utilizes in response to attendance-related concerns, e.g., truancy or excessive tardiness.~~

~~Element 11: Employee Benefits and Retirement~~

5. ~~Governing Law:~~ Prior to a complaining witness testifying, the support persons must be admonished that the hearing is confidential. Nothing in the law precludes the person presiding over the hearing from removing a support person whom the presiding person finds is disrupting the hearing. The person or panel conducting the hearing may permit any one of the support persons for the complaining witness to accompany him or her to the witness stand.
6. If one or both of the support persons is also a witness, CICA must present evidence that the witness' presence is both desired by the witness and will be helpful to CICA. The person presiding over the hearing shall permit the witness to stay unless it is established that there is a substantial risk that the testimony of the complaining witness would be influenced by the support person, in which case the presiding official shall admonish the support person or persons not to prompt, sway, or influence the witness in any way. Nothing shall preclude the presiding officer from exercising his or her discretion to remove a person from the hearing whom s/he believes is prompting, swaying, or influencing the witness.
7. The testimony of the support person shall be presented before the testimony of the complaining witness and the complaining witness shall be excluded from the courtroom during that testimony.
8. Especially for charges involving sexual assault or battery, if the hearing is to be conducted in public at the request of the student being expelled, the complaining witness shall have the right to have his/her testimony heard in a closed session when testifying at a public meeting would threaten serious psychological harm to the complaining witness and there are no alternative procedures to avoid the threatened harm. The alternative procedures may include videotaped depositions or contemporaneous examination in another place communicated to the hearing room by means of closed-circuit television.
9. Evidence of specific instances of a complaining witness' prior sexual conduct is presumed inadmissible and shall not be heard absent a determination by the person conducting the hearing that extraordinary circumstances exist requiring the evidence be heard. Before such a determination regarding extraordinary circumstances can be made, the witness shall be provided notice and an opportunity to present opposition to the introduction of the evidence. In the hearing on the admissibility of the evidence, the complaining witness shall be entitled to be represented by a parent, legal counsel, or other support person. Reputation or opinion evidence regarding the sexual behavior of the complaining witness is not admissible for any purpose.

Record of Hearing

A record of the hearing shall be made and may be maintained by any means, including electronic recording, as long as a reasonably accurate and complete written transcription of the proceedings can be made.

Presentation of Evidence

While technical rules of evidence do not apply to expulsion hearings, evidence may be admitted and used as proof only if it is the kind of evidence on which reasonable persons can rely in the conduct of serious affairs. A recommendation by the Administrative Panel to expel must be supported by substantial evidence that the student committed an expellable offense. Findings of fact shall be based solely on the evidence at the hearing. While hearsay evidence is admissible, no decision to expel shall be based solely on hearsay. Sworn declarations may be admitted as testimony from witnesses of whom the Board, Panel or designee determines that disclosure of their identity or testimony at the hearing may subject them to an unreasonable risk of physical or psychological harm.

If, due to a written request by the expelled student, the hearing is held at a public meeting, and the charge is committing or attempting to commit a sexual assault or committing a sexual battery as defined in Education Code Section 48900, a complaining witness shall have the right to have his or her testimony heard in a session closed to the public.

The decision of the Administrative Panel shall be in the form of written findings of fact and a written recommendation to the Board who will make a final determination regarding the expulsion. The final decision by the Board shall be made within ten (10) school days following the conclusion of the hearing. The Decision of the Board is final.

If the Administrative Panel decides not to recommend expulsion, the student shall immediately be returned to his/her educational program.

Written Notice to Expel

The Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or an Administrative Panel, following a decision of the Board to expel, shall send written notice of the decision to expel, including the Board's adopted findings of fact, to the student. This notice shall also include the following: (a) Notice of the specific offense committed by the student; and (b) Notice of the student's obligation to inform any new district in which the student seeks to enroll of the student's status with CICA.

The Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or an Administrative Panel, shall send a copy of the written notice of the decision to expel to the authorizer. This notice shall include the following: (a) The student's name; and (b) The specific expellable offense committed by the student.

Disciplinary Records

CICA shall maintain records of all student suspensions and expulsions at CICA. Such records shall be made available to the authorizer upon request.

No Right to Appeal

The student shall have no right of appeal from expulsion from CICA as CICA Board's decision to expel shall be final.

Expelled Students/Alternative Education

CICA shall ensure that students suspended from CICA are provided with an appropriate alternative educational program (class work and homework assignments, etc.) during the period of the student's suspension from school. Whenever a student is expelled from CICA, CICA shall notify the student and the student in writing of the student's duty to attend the public school district in which the residency of either the parent or legal guardian is located. CICA shall also notify the public school district in which the residency of either the parent or legal guardian is located whenever a student is expelled from CICA.

Rehabilitation Plans
Rehabilitation Plans, Criteria, and Expulsion
Students who are expelled from CICA shall be given a rehabilitation plan upon expulsion as developed by the Board at the time of the expulsion order, which may include, but is not limited to, periodic review as well as assessment at the time of review for readmission. The rehabilitation plan should include a date not later than one year from the date of expulsion when the student may reapply to CICA for readmission.

Readmission
The decision to readmit a student or to admit a previously expelled student from another school district or charter school shall be in the sole discretion of the Board following a meeting with the Executive Director or designee and the student and guardian or representative to determine whether the student has successfully completed the rehabilitation plan and to determine whether the student poses a threat to others or will be disruptive to the school environment. The Executive Director or designee shall make a recommendation to the Board following the meeting regarding his or her determination. The student's readmission is also contingent upon CICA capacity at the time the student seeks readmission.

Notice to Teachers
The Charter School shall notify teachers of each student who has engaged in or is reasonably suspected to have engaged in any of the acts listed in Education Code § 49079 and the corresponding enumerated offenses set forth above.

Amendment of Charter

Any amendments to this charter shall be made by the mutual agreement of the governing boards of Twin Rivers Unified School District and CICA. CICA may present a petition to amend the charter at any time, and Twin Rivers Unified School District agrees to respond to such petitions pursuant to the process and timelines specified in Education Code Section 47605 or its successors.

Cooperation

Twin Rivers Unified School District agrees to cooperate with CICA in all matters related to the implementation of this charter and interactions with the California State Board of Education.

Severability

The terms of this charter are severable. In the event that any of the provisions are determined to be unenforceable or invalid for any reason, the remainder of the charter shall remain in effect, unless mutually agreed otherwise by the Twin Rivers Unified School District's Board of Trustees and CICA Board of Directors.

Annual Calendar

The school will offer instruction for at least 175 days a year using independent study contracts referred to as a Master Agreement, and following all applicable independent study laws (Education Code Section 51745-51749.3, and implementing regulations). The calendar will be similar to California Innovative Career Academy with a five track attendance calendar reflecting 175 instructional days broken into the 5 tracks.

Exclusive Partnerships

One way that we will meet the needs of our students is through community partnerships. We have exclusive partnerships with Greater Sacramento Urban League (GSUL), Opening Doors, Asian Resources, Inc. (ARI), and Bach Viet. Our partners work to improve educational and employment opportunities in underserved urban communities to enhance the workforce and the local economy. At CICA we will provide instruction to students exclusively in partnership at no cost to our partners or our students. Our partners will notify students about opportunities to participate in our program and provide students with details of the terms required for participation. Through these partnerships, we will be able to reach more students and have a larger community impact.

Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA)

In 2014, the US Department of Labor signed the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA), formerly known as the Workforce Investment Act (WIA), into law. It is designed to help job seekers gain access to education, training, and employment and to ultimately help unemployed and underemployed youth, dislocated workers, and workers with disabilities to successfully find jobs. California Innovative Career Academy will apply for a WIOA grant for the 2019-20 school year. Our plan is to use portions of the grant to fund positions such as the Reading Specialist and test proctors to assist our students in literacy and testing. The extra grant funding will allow us to fund in areas such as technology. It will provide us the opportunity to purchase laptops, laptop carts, and computers.

Subject: Notice of Violation Pursuant to Education Code 47606 for California Innovative Career Academy

Dear Mr. DiGiulio,

On June 12, 2025, Twin Rivers Unified School District ("TRUSD") provided Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools ("HCCTS") with a formal Notice of Violation. We recognize the seriousness of the issues outlined and we acknowledge that, under prior leadership, HCCTS failed to meet expectations in several important areas. Mistakes were made, and those mistakes have eroded trust.

Since that time, CICA has undergone a profound transition. With new leadership and outside experts engaged in finance and compliance, we have embraced accountability and implemented sweeping reforms. HCCTS is also in the process of bringing on a new board of directors to lead the school in improved governance and systems of accountability. Changes include:

- New systems for financial oversight and internal controls,
- Stronger credentialing processes in partnership with UMass Global,
- Clearer academic and attendance standards, with daily monitoring,
- Adoption of more than 100 new board policies to strengthen compliance and transparency, and

- A material revision to CICA's charter which outlines these and other changes.

We are committed to working in close partnership with TRUSD to demonstrate that these changes are not temporary fixes, but lasting improvements. Our goal is to move forward with a constructive relationship, grounded in transparency and shared accountability, to ensure CICA is in full compliance and able to continue serving our students.

We respectfully submit the enclosed materials as HCCTS' formal response to the Notice of Violation. If you have additional questions or would like further information, please do not hesitate to contact me directly at (617) 823-9341 or jonathan.raymond@hccts.org.

Thank you for your attention and for your ongoing oversight as we work to build a stronger, more accountable HCCTS.

Thank you,

Jonathan Raymond
Executive Director
Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools

I. BACKGROUND

California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) recognizes and respects TRUSD's role as our authorizer, as outlined in MOU Amendment No. 3 signed on January 23, 2024. This amendment clearly defines the district's oversight responsibilities, including the approval of new facilities, ensuring safe learning environments, and providing supervisorial guidance.

We acknowledge that the Notice of Violation issued on June 12, 2025, falls squarely within TRUSD's responsibilities. We take this notice with the utmost seriousness. Under past leadership, California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) fell short of meeting expectations in several areas. Mistakes were made, and we own that.

Today, under new leadership, CICA is fully committed to addressing every issue raised. In many cases, corrective actions have already been completed; in others, substantial progress is underway. Where issues remain outside of our direct control, we have taken every step possible to mitigate them and are actively working toward full resolution.

This response provides a clear account of the corrective actions already taken, the progress still in motion, and the timelines by which remaining matters will be fully resolved. Our commitment is to demonstrate that CICA is not only curing past deficiencies but building a sustainable, compliant, and transparent system for the future.

II. VIOLATIONS OF THE CHARTER

A. CICA Grade Levels

Education Code section 47604(a)(4) provides in part: "After receiving approval of its petition, a charter school that proposes to expand operations to one or more additional sites or grade levels shall request a material revision to its charter and shall notify the chartering authority of those additional locations or grade levels."

- There are no exemptions for the requirement to submit a material revision request to change grade levels.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of our oversight responsibilities to address CICA' s failure to submit the required Material Revision request to change grades.

Education Code section 47605(a)(4) makes clear that a charter school seeking to expand operations to additional sites or grade levels must submit a material revision to its charter and notify its authorizer. CICA recognizes that there are no exemptions to this requirement and acknowledges that it did not submit a material revision when grade levels were changed beginning in the 2020–21 school year.

In the 2020-2021 school year, leadership at HCCTS shifted from grades 1, 2, and 12 to grades 9, 10, and 12 for the following reasons:

- Create clarity in the community that HCCS was a high school
- Align more closely with traditional high school programs
- Allow English Language Learners the opportunity to earn high school credits and make progress toward their high school diploma
- Show student progress as students move between grade levelsCreate clear pathways for international high school students and high school students to graduation
- To improve graduation rates

While HCCTS communicated with TRUSD staff regarding these changes (Exhibit A) and believed the adjustments had support, the formal requirement for a material revision was not pursued at that time. We recognize this was a failure of process, and we take responsibility for not following the proper procedures.

Since then, CICA has taken corrective action. In June 2024, HCCTS began preparing a comprehensive material revision. That revision reflects:

- The addition of grade 11, as requested by TRUSD (Exhibits B & C),
- The removal of grades 1 and 2, and
- The continued offering of grades 9, 10, and 12.

The proposed material revision was completed and board approved on September 18, 2025, see Exhibit D, after which it will be submitted to TRUSD for consideration. This action is intended to fully align CICA's charter with current practice, CDE guidance, and TRUSD oversight. The proposed revision is attached here as Exhibit E.

Accordingly, this issue will be fully resolved once TRUSD acts on the submitted material revision. If the TRUSD Board does not approve the revision, HCCTS will comply by returning to the grade levels specified in the existing approved charter.

CICA regrets that this process was not followed in the past. Under new leadership, we are committed to full compliance, clear communication, and a constructive working relationship with TRUSD to ensure that changes moving forward are properly authorized and transparent.

B CICA Locations

MOU Amendment No. 3 provides in part: "The terms of the MOU are intended by the District and Charter School to become part of the standards and procedures set forth in the Charter School's Charter approved by the District ("Charter"). Along with the Charter, this MOU will govern the relationship between the District and the Charter School regarding the operation of the Charter School. To the extent the terms of the MOU is/are inconsistent with any terms of the Charter, the MOU shall control. In addition, if the Charter is silent on an issue addressed by the MOU, the MOU shall control. As such, any violation of MOU by Charter School that also constitutes grounds for revocation per Education Code section 47607 will be treated and enforced by the District in the same manner, subject to Education Code Section 47607 and applicable implementing regulations, as it would any other violation constituting a ground for revocation."

- October 3, 17 and November 7, 2024 HCCTS Board approved sites/locations that were not included on MOU Amendment No. 3.
- On multiple occasions the District notified HCCTS of the requirement to submit a material revision request, before occupying a new location. HCCTS failed to comply.
- HCCTS June 1, 2025, newest "tentative" location list still includes sites not approved for operation for HCCS.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of our oversight responsibilities to address CICA's failure to submit the required Material Revision request before adding new facilities.

MOU Amendment No. 3 governs the approval and operation of CICA's facilities and makes clear that any new locations require District authorization through a material revision. CICA acknowledges that in the past, locations were opened or relocated without first completing the formal material revision process required by the MOU. This was a failure of compliance, and we take responsibility for it.

These missteps were not intentional, but they reflect a lack of attention to detail under prior leadership. Historically, CICA relied on a more informal process with the District regarding the addition, relocation, or consolidation of sites. In some cases, leadership believed that moves — such as opening an additional suite within an existing facility or relocating to a site nearby — did not constitute a "new" location requiring a material revision. That interpretation was incorrect, and we recognize that now.

The District's request for an updated site list on June 1, 2025, coincided with a period of significant transition at CICA, including organizational restructuring and site consolidations.

While those circumstances contributed to delays in providing a finalized list, they do not excuse the failure to comply with the MOU requirement.

CICA has since taken corrective steps. A material revision updating all current operating locations was prepared and HCCTS Board approved on September 18, 2025 for submission to TRUSD. Moving forward, CICA will strictly comply with the requirement to submit a material revision for any facility location change, ensuring that the District is fully informed and that all operations are authorized.

This issue will be fully resolved once the TRUSD Board approves the submitted material revision. If the Board does not approve certain sites, CICA will immediately limit operations to District-approved locations.

Under new leadership, CICA is committed to transparency, accuracy, and compliance in its facilities reporting and to maintaining a constructive partnership with TRUSD on all matters related to school sites.

III. ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF THE LAW

A. HCCTS Annual Independent Audit Report

The Charter School is in violation of Education Code sections 47604.33 and 47605, and its own Charter, for failing to complete and submit its 2023-24 annual independent audit report to the District.

- HCCTS requested an extension to the December 15, 2024, deadline for submitting its 2023-24 audit report.
- The District granted an extension until January 15,2025, but HCCTS failed to meet this deadline and has subsequently missed multiple additional extension deadlines, including March 31, 2025, and April 18,2025.
- To-date HCCTS' audit report has not been submitted to the District.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of TRUSD oversight responsibilities to address HCCS' failure to submit the 2023-24 annual independent audit report.

Education Code sections 47604.33 and 47605, as well as the HCCTS charter, require timely completion and submission of an annual independent audit report. HCCTS acknowledges that the 2023–24 audit has not yet been submitted to TRUSD and that multiple deadlines were missed.

HCCTS contracted with Eide Bailly to conduct the 2023–24 audit (Exhibit F). While a draft was provided on May 9, 2025, the process has been significantly delayed due to a combination of external and internal factors (Exhibit G). These included:

- Eide Bailly's 2022–23 audit being selected for review by the State Controller, which diverted capacity and slowed the 2023–24 work;

- Errors identified in the draft related to unduplicated pupil counts, which required national-level review and corrections; and

- Additional testing required following the release of the California State Auditor's report, which heightened risk assessments.

HCCTS has consistently provided documentation requested by the auditor and followed up on promised delivery timelines as demonstrated in Exhibit J which details an extensive list of document requests fulfilled by HCCTS staff. However, the final report has not yet been released by Eide Bailly. Legal counsel has formally demanded its completion (Exhibit H) and HCCTS continues to press for immediate resolution (Exhibit I).

To date, Eide Bailly has not indicated any significant findings in the draft report. While the delay has been deeply frustrating, HCCTS has acted in good faith throughout the process, and the draft report demonstrates that we have been cooperative and responsive.

Moving forward, HCCTS will ensure timely completion of audits by:

- Holding vendors accountable through stricter contracts and oversight; and

- Engaging with TRUSD earlier in the process to provide status updates and transparency.

We will provide TRUSD with the completed audit report immediately upon its release by Eide Bailly. We regret the delays and are committed to ensuring this problem does not repeat.

Attached you will find the following documents:

5. Exhibit J: Document requests from Eide Baily fulfilled by HCCTS

B. HCCTS Credentialing & Misassignments

HCCTS agrees that all teachers must hold valid teaching credentials and that paraeducators should not serve as classroom teachers without them. We acknowledge that, under prior practice, CICA relied on adult education credentials based on guidance previously received from outside agencies (Exhibit K). While this approach was followed for years without audit findings, it did not meet current expectations from CDE and CTC, and we take responsibility for correcting it.

Beginning in 2024–25, CICA laid off teachers who did not hold the required credentials and re-staffed classes with appropriately credentialed teachers (Exhibit L). We also undertook a full review of our credentialing and staffing systems to ensure alignment with updated guidance and long-term compliance (Exhibit M).

Key corrective actions include:

- Credentialing Review: Examined over 300 staff profiles and held 269 individual consultations with certificated staff to create personalized compliance pathways.

- Support Systems: Established a credentialing support team of staff and consultants; built a centralized credentialing database; and partnered with UMass Global to provide flexible, remote intern credential pathways (Exhibit N and Exhibit O), and are hiring mentor teachers (Exhibit P,Exhibit Q, and Exhibit R)

- Financial and Professional Support: Adopted Board Policy 4112.3 (Exhibit S) to reimburse staff for exam fees and coursework; approved a K–12 Teacher Retention Incentive (Exhibit T); and aligned hiring timelines with CTC testing windows and permit options.

- Hiring Reforms: Suspended instruction in July 2025 to allow time to re-staff with fully credentialed teachers before the school year; implemented structured hiring and rehire processes tied to credential readiness; and issued updated teacher agreements.

- Governance Safeguards: Adopted new board policies requiring all certificated staff to hold valid credentials at hire and renewal, mandating use of Frontline to track compliance, and prohibiting nepotism in hiring through Board Policy 4212.8 (Exhibit U).

Through these actions, CICA has corrected past practices and put in place systems that ensure all teachers moving forward will hold valid K–12 credentials. Instruction has resumed with properly credentialed staff, and we are committed to ongoing monitoring and support to keep CICA fully compliant.

This issue is now resolved, and CICA has turned the page with stronger systems that protect both compliance and instructional quality.

C. CICA Instructional Minutes

California Education Code 47612.5 mandates that charter schools provide a minimum number of annual instructional minutes equivalent to those required of traditional public schools.

- According to HCCTS' email correspondence, before March 2025, CICA did not have a process or documentation to ensure compliance with minimum instructional minutes.
- By correspondence dated October 30, 2025, the District notified HCCTS that the requirement to meet minimum instructional minutes was outlined in Education Code 47612.5 and CICA's Charter.
- In the October 30 correspondence, the District requested the documentation that CICA uses to ensure the minimum number of instructional days and minutes are being met.
- HCCTS' November 26, 2024 included a statement that they would immediately take action to ensure compliance with minimum instructional minutes.
- On March 24, 2025 HCCTS provided a 20-page response to the District's October 30th request.
- HCCTS' March 24 response has resulted in more questions than answers. Additionally, the initial request in the District's October 30th communication regarding the verification that CICA is complying with the minimum instructional minutes remains unanswered.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of our oversight responsibilities to address CICA's failure to ensure the minimum instructional minutes have been met and the resulting disallowed ADA collected.

As a traditional independent study school CICIA ensures it meets instructional time requirements by documenting daily student engagement, evaluating work products for time value, and offering synchronous and asynchronous learning opportunities. Pacing guides offer guidance to teachers for assigning work and assigning time-value to the work completed, with the goal of ensuring that the time-value completed should be equivalent to a seat based program. However CICA is not a course-based independent study school and the actual time value-earned depends on the certified teacher's judgment of individual work products and the time-value that teacher deems appropriate based on the teacher's assessment of the pupil's individual needs and capacities.

Engagement with the instructional program and time-value earned per student is tracked by the Assigned Work Record (Exhibit W). The Assigned Work Record contains a record of daily engagement and documentation of the time-value of each completed assignment. Students may only earn time value by engaging on days indicated as instructional days in the HCCTS Academic Calendar (Exhibit V)

It is the nature of traditional independent study that the actual time-value earned by a student can vary depending on the pupil. CICA pacing guides therefore constitute general recommendations for time-value earned per assignment, rather than prescriptions. A student may well earn more or less time value for a given course or assignment depending on the nature of their engagement of the course. The purpose in sharing pacing guides is to demonstrate that any student fully engaged has ample opportunity to participate in the equivalent of the required 64,800 minutes (Exhibit X).

Staffing challenges have since necessitated the adoption of a new calendar by the Board with the start date of August 14, 2025 (Exhibit V).

D. HCCTS Exclusive Partnership Agreement

"Instruction must be provided exclusively in partnership with Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) programs."

- During its 2024–25 oversight review, the District discovered that HCCTS had allowed individuals who were non-students to participate in its Career Technical Education (CTE) Truck Driving program.
- The practice began in 2014 at the direction of a Board member, was supported by the Executive Director, and continued with Board approval through 2024-25.
- The WIOA partnership agreement requires instruction to be provided exclusively in partnership with WIOA.
- Providing instruction to non-students as part of HCCTS' partnership with the Volunteers of America, Local 185 Union, Sacramento County Sheriff's Office, and the Sacramento Police Department, violates this agreement.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of our oversight responsibilities to address the breach of the exclusive partnership agreement and all resulting funds tied to the agreement.

HCCTS acknowledges that past practices in the Truck Driving program violated the requirements of our Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) partnership agreement, which stipulates that instruction must be provided exclusively in partnership with WIOA programs. Beginning in 2014, and with the support of prior leadership, non-students were allowed to participate in the program through informal arrangements with outside organizations.

HCCTS takes full responsibility for this lapse. Under current leadership, the practice has been ended and corrective steps have been taken to ensure compliance. Specifically:

- A formal investigation was completed by the Director of HR in 2024–25 (Exhibit Y)
- Disciplinary action was taken against an employee.
- A stop notice was issued in December 2024 prohibiting non-student participation. (Exhibit Z)
- Between December 2024 and January 2025, HCCTS discontinued informal partnerships with Local 185, the Sacramento Police Department, and the Sacramento County Sheriff's Office.
- On January 6, 2025, HCCTS officially ended all non-student participation across programs. (Exhibit AA)
- The Truck Driving program was suspended and will remain paused until HCCTS can ensure full compliance with WIOA requirements, its charter, and the MOU.

These actions have fully cured the issue. Moving forward, HCCTS has strengthened oversight of program partnerships, reinforced compliance training for staff, and adopted new safeguards to ensure all instruction aligns exclusively with WIOA requirements. This reflects our commitment to correcting past mistakes, complying with all partnership agreements, and ensuring that every program we operate directly serves our enrolled students.

Attached you will find the following documents showing progress made by HCCTS regarding the truck driving program:

- Exhibit Y: 2025.03.28 Letter from HCCTS detailing investigation into the Truck Driving program

IV. FISCAL MISMANAGMENT

A. HCCTS San Diego Location

Engaged in fiscal mismanagement.

- The condominium advertises being able to "watch the ballgame from your balcony" and is the highest priced unit in the facility.
- The decision to engage in this exorbitant real estate transaction, even though students were not in or around the area is questionable.
- Compounding the issue is the fact that the admin facility lacks any direct connection to educational services or student benefit demonstrating a fiscal mismanagement.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of our oversight responsibilities to ensure that HCCTS address the fiscal mismanagement.

HCCTS acknowledges that the decision to lease a condominium office in San Diego was a misstep that does not align with our mission or our responsibility to ensure all expenditures directly benefit students. While the space was briefly used by a remote employee and originally intended to support exploration of expansion opportunities, the location did not provide meaningful educational value. We recognize that this was poor judgment under prior leadership and understand the District's concern that this constituted fiscal mismanagement.

HCCTS has since vacated the property and taken corrective steps to minimize the financial impact. We engaged Newmark Realty on March 27, 2025, to sublease the space, revised the listing in June 2025, and remains prepared to accept any commercially reasonable offer. While it is not possible to control the timing of sublease offers, HCCTS is committed to recouping as much value as possible and bringing this matter to resolution (Exhibit AB and Exhibit AC).

This decision reflects mistakes of the past. Moving forward, HCCTS has implemented stronger financial controls and multi-level approval processes to ensure that all facility and spending decisions are directly tied to student learning and educational services. These safeguards are designed to prevent similar errors and to reinforce our commitment to fiscal responsibility, transparency, and compliance.

VI. SUMMARY

This response provides evidence that CICA has either already fully cured or has taken every possible step to cure all of the concerns raised by the District and will continue to vigorously pursue resolution of the few items that are outside of the school's control.

Subject: Request for Evidence

Dear Ms. Warta,

We have prepared the following response to the TRUSD request for evidence regarding the statement of HCCS approval of adding grades 9 and 10 through a non-material revision process.

If you have any additional questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me at 559-217-3901 or via email at bill.mcguire@hccts.org

Grades 9 and 10
Before adding grades 9 and 10, HCCS enrolled students in grades 1, 2, and 12. In the 2018-2019 school year, there was political pressure from the capitol to enroll all students in high school following a misunderstanding that HCCS had 40-year-old students enrolled in first and second grades with children. HCCTS serves adult students aged 22 and older. However, our students were never in classes learning with children. To address this, in the 2020-2021 school year, HCCTS added high school grades 9 and 10.

HCCTS communicated with TRUSD via email and phone about these changes on several occasions. TRUSD Administration strongly encouraged the change to a 9-12 grade span to more accurately reflect the students we serve and would not require a material revision to the charter. While HCCTS does not possess email evidence of this exchange on October 29, 2020, these communications are reflected in the 2019-2020 Annual Oversight Report from TRUSD drafted on July 7, 2020. The report, which was drafted by Francie Heim of School Business Solutions, clearly states: "It should be noted that Highlands serves ages 22 and older. Before 2020-21, Highlands classified students for LCFF funding purposes as K-3 or 9-12. Starting in 2020-21, all students are reported as 9-12 for LCFF funding purposes, generating a higher level of funding (approximately $1,000 more per student.)"

Please see an excerpt from the report below. Attached is the complete report by School Business Solutions, TRUSD Oversight consultant, which was provided to HCCTS in July 2020.

It should be noted that Highlands serves age 22 and older. Before 2020-21, HIghlands classified students for LCFF funding purposes as K-3 or 9-12. Starting in 2020-21, all students are reported as 9-12 for LCFF funding purposes, generating a higher level of funding (approximately $1,000 more per student).

Any violations of law shall be reported to the Board.

The Board shall monitor each charter school to determine whether it is achieving, both schoolwide and for all groups of students served by the school, the measurable student outcomes set forth in the charter. HIGHLANDS COMMUNITY CHARTER SCHOOL
ANNUAL OVERSIGHT REPORT 2019-20

PART I

Board Policy:
The Superintendent or designee shall monitor the charter school to determine whether it complies with all legal requirements applicable to charter schools, including making all reports required of charter schools in accordance with Education Code 47604.32. Any violations of law shall be reported to the Board.

Highland states they filed all required reports with their office, and there are no known violations of law. TRUSD states that all required reports have been filed, and there are no known items to report.

The annual independent audit for 2019-20 is an unmodified opinion. The audit report did restate the ending fund balance, with a $78K accounts receivable overstatement adjustment for Highlands and $15 K for CA Innovative Career Academy.

Board Policy:
The Board shall monitor each charter school to determine whether it is achieving, both schoolwide and for all groups of students served by the school, the measurable student outcomes set forth in the charter. This determination shall be based on the measures specified in the approved charter and on the charter school's annual review and assessment of its progress toward the goals and actions identified in its local control and accountability plan (LCAP).

There are limited ways to measure student outcomes for alternative programs as students do not take the Smarter Balanced Assessments taken in traditional K-12 schools. In March 2019-20, the pandemic resulted in limited data collection and suspended the traditional LCAP process.

Highlands does continue to test students regularly with the CASAS test, which is required as part of the workforce investment grant.

The most recent LCAP (2018-19/2019-20) noted the following:

Goal 1: Improve Academic Performance School-wide.

Outcome: We expect our English Learners (EL) students to make significant progress in the Comprehensive Adult Student Assessment System (CASAS) Reading Assessment, our EL reclassification rate to Re-Designated English Proficient (RFEP) to increase, and 50% of our identified high school students to show increase in their CASAS scores in either ELA or Math. We exceeded our metrics in elementary English language development: 58% of our ELD learners have made significant learning gains on the Comprehensive Adult Student Assessment System (CASAS) reading assessment exceeding our goal of 52%. Shifting significant resources to additional para-educators has been highly effective. Highlands exceeded our goal on teacher credentialing because we recruit highly skilled teachers from the UC and CSU systems. They come to Highlands with Master's Degrees and a wealth of teaching experience but need their Designated Subjects Credential. The use of our 'Navigators' to assist transition from EL classes to defined high school level courses.

Goal 2: Improve College and Career Preparedness through increased research based practices and strategies with increased career-technical educational (CTE) opportunities for all students.

Outcome: 65% of our eligible students complete a defined College or Career Pathway. This includes expanding our CTE Pathways, thereby, increasing the number of options available to students. Highlands is committed to students' success and providing opportunities to obtain a livable wage lifestyle. Highlands provides classes in child psychology and parent education. The CTE courses available consist of Truck Driving Class A License, Early Childhood Education careers, Microsoft Suite Certification, A+ Information Technology, Medical Office Training, Medical Assisting, Cosmetology, Manicuring, Entrepreneurship and Culinary Arts.

Goal 3: Increase Student Engagement and Enhance School Climate.

Outcome: Highlands has supported student and alumni achievement by investing in additional para-educators in classrooms and enhanced technology resources. These investments along with other proven investments have allowed our students to exceed our school wide GPA goal of 2.77 to 3.44. Highlands is on course to meet our high school graduation goal of 41%. We exceeded our goal of 60% of non-exempt alumni gaining and maintaining employment with 62%. 19% of our alumni are enrolled in college or post-secondary education which exceeds our goal of 10%. Highlands provides many activities for students to supplement their education by participating in leadership groups on campus. These include: Student Leadership Committee, Budget Committee, Event Planning Committee, English Language Advisory Committee, and the Community Advisory Council.

Goal 4: Increase instructional technology use to improve student achievement and career readiness.

Outcome: The number of our students that now have access or use a computer in their daily life is 87%. We increased our overall number of available student computers to 1:4 ratio. The overall goal is to attain a 1:1 level.

Goal 5: Increase stakeholder and community engagement in the students' education and school and community life.

Outcome: Of the 79% of Highlands' students who have children, 67% are actively parenting. Our expansion of play care programs and summer camp activities provide a rich learning environment while allowing their parents to attend school. Highlands' partners with both Twin Rivers Unified School District and Family Hui program to provide supplemental parent education programs.

LCAP

Education Code 47604.32 requires the charter authorizer to review the LCAP as a part of authorizer oversight duties. The TRUSD team has done a review and provided recommendations to Highlands on changes that should be reflected in a revised LCAP (Appendix D). A summary of the LCAP highlights is shown in Appendix C.

Dashboard Alternative School Status (DASS)

In 2013, California's accountability system significantly changed with the adoption of the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF). This new accountability system, the California School Dashboard (Dashboard), contains state indicators and standards to help identify a school's strengths, weaknesses, and areas in need of improvement. Because these state indicators and standards were developed for traditional (non-alternative) schools, a different measurement tool was needed for Alternative Schools. The Dashboard Alternative School Status (DASS) program replaces the previously administered Alternative Schools Accountability Model (ASAM) and holds alternative schools and alternative schools of choice accountable for modified methods of measurement for accountability indicators, when appropriate.

Board Policy

The Board shall monitor the fiscal condition of the charter school based on any financial information obtained from the charter school, including, but not limited to, the charter school's preliminary budget, annual update of the school's LCAP, first and second interim financial reports, and final unaudited report for the full prior year. (Education Code 47604.32, 47604.33, 47606.5)

Highlands was financially solvent at the close of 2019-20. The audit report reflects unrestricted net assets of $1.28 M at the close of 2019-20. The level of borrowing is concerning, with $2.6 M in revenue anticipation notes (RANs) outstanding at the close of 2019-20 and a $3 M PPP (Paycheck Protection Program) loan payable. An additional $ 6.6 M in RANs were issued in 2020-21.

Other Key Data Elements

ADA (AVERAGE DAILY ATTENDANCE)/ENROLLMENT GROWTH OVER TIME

Highlands has grown from 207 students (October 2014 count) to 3,225 students (October 2020 count). Charters are funded based on current year P-2 ADA, a cumulative count of student attendance as of the last full school month ending on or before April 15. ADA is significantly less than ADA.

Due to the pandemic, 2020-21 ADA was frozen at the 2019-20 level with the ability to apply for growth ADA, which is why Highlands increased from 2,001 ADA to 2,550.

Highlands Enrollment ADA Trend
Academic Year	Enrollment	ADA	ADA as % of Enrollment
2020-21	3,225	2,550	79%
2019-20	3,336	2,001	60%
2018-19	1,980	1,446	73%

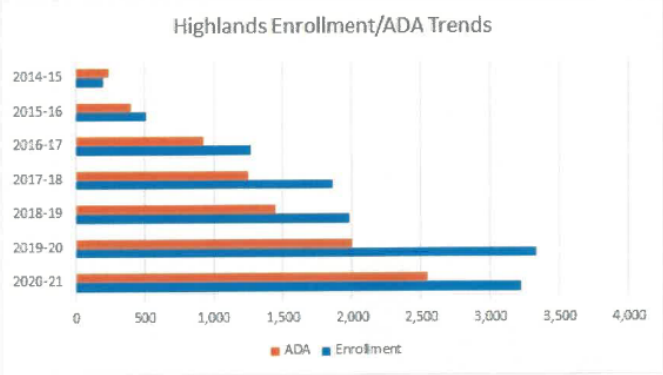
2015-16	518	405	78%
2014-15	207	237	114%



It should be noted that Highlands serves age 22 and older. Before 2020-21, HIghlands classified students for LCFF funding purposes as K-3 or 9-12. Starting in 2020-21, all students are reported as 9-12 for LCFF funding purposes, generating a higher level of funding (approximately $1,000 more per student).

ENGLISH LEARNERS

Highlands has 90% of the population identified as English Learners. A 90% identification rate is higher than TRUSD (33%), Sacramento County (17%), and the State (19%). As noted in the chart below, a significant number of languages are represented in the student population.

PART 5

Site Visit Observations

Murdock Smith is the CEO/Director of Highlands and brings a passion and vision to the charter. Mike Reid is the Chief Operations Officer. Mike will be retiring in June 2021, and a leadership reorganization is underway.

Diana Gonsalves is a new addition to the team, serving as the Director of Fiscal Services. The charter continues to contract with Delta Management Solutions for back-office business support. Highlands is reviewing the possibility of bringing all business functions in-house. As requested in our last oversight report, the charter has added a "fiscal transparency" section to the website, providing budget and interim report updates.

Highlands received an outside consultant report (Terry Bradley, SBC) in May 2020. The report's scope was to review the organizational structure with an emphasis on the business services department. The report also requested a follow-up review of the FCMAT extraordinary audit (May 2018). There were many findings and recommendations, and a summary is provided below:

a) Recognition of the increase in student enrollment and a "healthy" general fund reserve.
b) Recognition of the leadership of Murdock (Doc) Smith and his high visibility in the organization
c) Recognition of the Board of Directors in their trust of the leadership team and holding the team accountable.
d) Improved communication among divisions in the organization was recognized. It was also noted that this is an area of continued focus to improve.
e) The utilization of technology should be a priority throughout the charter organization.
f) Based on interviews of HCCS staff, all 19 internal practices identified in the FCMAT extraordinary audit have been addressed. Staff feels the charter is a better organization due to the FCMAT study and will continue to improve as more systems are developed and implemented.
g) Internal controls need to be in place to ensure that only students 22 years of age or older without high school diplomas can register at HCCS. It should be noted that the October 2019 and October 2020 student counts show no student under the age of 22 enrolled.

The report recommended that further areas of focus/study should be:

Development of a succession plan for HCCS leadership positions.
Review of the existing organizational structure.
Completion of a cost/benefit analysis of establishing a "total" business office operation within the structure of HCCS.

No sites were visited this year due to COVID, but several zoom sessions were conducted with the Charter leadership team, and several classes were visited via zoom. The first meeting with Murdock Smith (CEO/Director), Michael Reid, and Charles Patillo was to establish the protocol and plan for zoom visits. After the class zoom visits, a meeting was held with Murdock Smith, Mike Reid, Katrina Tupper (Director of Instruction and Professional Learning), Niccole Scrogins (Director of Curriculum and Program).

The questions guiding the team discussion are shown in Appendix G. A summary of a year in review with challenges and successes is provided below as noted by the leadership team.

At the start of the pandemic, a distance learning specialist group was brought in to train staff and set the stage for remote learning. For some of the clients, a zoom environment improved attendance. Chromebooks, hot spots, Gmail accounts, were provided to students. "Digital navigators" assisted students and staff with technology. If a student was not in contact for five days, there was outreach to ensure students were OK. Food and clothing closets were provided to assist with other needs.

ADA was determined by google classroom, mobile app, zoom attendance, work submitted, and reading program log-ins. Highlands is considered a school of the district for special education purposes, and special education services are provided by TRUSD.

There were many challenges for teachers in adapting to a Zoom environment, but the success was seeing the great work at the end. The silver lining is the push over the finish line for staff and teachers (and students) on digital literacy (Nicole).

Challenges were the personal hardships, and success was the relationships and connections that were made. The silver lining was creating a system and structures for collaboration, with staff reaching out for more professional development opportunities (Katrina).

Challenge was never taking the foot off the accelerator and pivoting, and the success was creating more pathways for students (Mike).

Success was graduation with 138 graduates in January. Challenges were not receiving COVID funding like traditional school districts. The silver lining was the development of a learning management platform in-house. (Doc).

There were some very specific kudos to the TRUSD team:
Kate Ingersoll for working so closely with Diane Gonsalves and the business office team
Lori Grace for ongoing, consistent communication on COVID to the Highlands team that made them feel very supported by the district.
Kristen Coates for reaching out to ensure good communications with the team.
TRUSD police support, specifically noting an incident with an at-risk student, and the collaboration of the Highland team and TRUSD police department that prevented a potential suicide.

I attended the following Zoom classes:

English Learners	10:00 to 11:00	Tuesday16-Mar	7 students attending
English, History,Govnt	11:00 to 12:00	Tuesday16-March	1 student attending
Math	1:30 to 2:30	Tuesday16-Mar	4 students attending
English	6:00 to 7:00	Wednesday17-Mar	16 students attending
CDL Truck Driving	10:00 to 11:00	Thursday18-Mar	11 students attending
Beg English	11:00 to 12:00	Thursday18-Mar	15 students attending
Algebra (CICA)	5:15 to 6:15	Thursday18-Mar	1 student attending

General Impressions:
Teachers used technology appropriately, with some teachers excelling in providing engaging activities. Students were generally adept at using Zoom and had good connectivity. The English Learner classes were particularly engaging. Many of the students were women with small children, and it was a joy to watch their level of engagement in learning English. As noted previously in the report, attendance has improved since transportation, and child care barriers are no longer issues in a Zoom environment.

SUMMARY

The Highlands team is passionate about its mission and vision and is committed to its students' success. They serve a diverse group of adults, primarily English Learners, under the Workforce Investment Act. The challenges are many. Chronic absenteeism is high at 88.6%, graduation rates are low at 15.3%, and college/career readiness indicators are -0- prepared and 1.6% approaching prepared (2018-19 data).

Our commendations to Highlands for bringing in an outside consultant to review operations and provide recommendations. The report (May 2020) was reviewed as part of this oversight report. The charter has implanted many of the recommendations.

Highlands should be commended for the quick response to align services to students in a virtual environment back in March 2020. As of this report (May 2021), Highlands is still providing services in a virtual environment.

In 2019-20, adequate controls were in place to ensure all students enrolled were age 22 or more.

Highlands has implemented a prior year recommendation that provides for fiscal transparency, with the website posting budgets and interim reports.

Highlands has been creative in partnering with the community on facilities near where the students and community needs are located. Appendix B provides the most current listing of 35 sites.

A stated concern in the past was a lack of cash flow and budget discipline necessary for a growing organization. Highlands has improved its fund balance. They have discontinued expensive factoring agreements used for cash flow. Highlands indicated that in March 2021, they repaid the RANs and acquired a $9M line of credit to utilize for cash flow purposes. They continue to contract with a charter "back office" for financial support but have added staffing in-house to improve financial/budgeting systems. They are projected to be fiscally solvent in 2019-20 and future years.

There continue to be legislative discussions to limit the ability of Charters to serve adults over the age of 22 and receiving LCFF funding. Highlands has been actively working to ensure legislators and others are aware of the impact of their work in the community.

The Accrediting Commission for Schools, Western Association of Schools and Colleges (ACS WASC) Commissioners have determined Highlands Community Charter School (AD - AD) meets the ACS WASC criteria for accreditation and granted a Six-Year Accreditation Status with a Mid-cycle Two-day Visit through June 30, 2025.

APPENDIX C

Greatest Progress

At Highlands, we are proud of increasing services to our unduplicated students by leveraging a variety of funding sources. One of our most creative and innovative services continues to be the deployment of a mobile clothes closet and library which was financed through base funding. Many Highlands students live in poverty and for two years now a free clothes closet was established at our main campus to provide clothes to needy students and their families. Due to the overwhelming success of this project and the high demand for these clothes, and to provide access for students at other sites, Highlands purchased an RV which can now take the clothes to students at all 24 auxillary sites. Additionally, as our students have often indicated their desire for books to read at home, the mobile clothes closet is also a mobile lending library. Students can check-out one book, then exchange it for another at a future date, the books are never overdue. This program was initiated with base funds and is popular with all students. In the next school year, we will continue to expand on this resource to offer free clothes and books to our students.

Another very successful Highlands initiative this year was providing free eye exams and free glasses to 72 of our highest needs students. Highlands applied for a grant through Vision Service Plan called "Eyes of Hope" for those who are in need but can't afford the services. Certificates for a free eye exam and a pair of eyeglasses at any doctor in the VSP network are issued to students identified by their teachers to be in need or "desperate" need of glasses. The results were immediate, these students are empowered to fully participate in class because they now see the Board and read without squinting in their classes.

In response to high-needs students requests for increased access to computers, Highlands secured funds from our Workforce Investment Opportunity Act (WIOA) grant, supplemental and concentration funds to purchase 250 additional student computers. Bringing a 2 year total purchase of 535 student laptops/desktops. These are all pre-loaded with support software or programs for student use. Including Google Chrome, Microsoft Office Suite, Ethernet capability and WiFi available access. This has increased significantly our drive to become a 1:1 student to computer available school.

Last year, we had an identified need to improve the English Language Learner reclassification rates. This year we planned to invest $1,100,000.00 dollars of supplemental and concentration funds to provide para-educators for our students with highest needs . This is an additional $770,000.00 dollars toward classroom assistance. When our local indicators, CASAS scores, and student feedback demonstrated the effectiveness of this strategy, administration allocated an additional $490,000.00 to para-educator salary and benefits. As a result, our actual expenditures outpaced our budgeted expenditures and moreover, our student gains and reclassification rates surpassed our original growth goals. With a particular emphasis on 'literacy rates' improving we are striving for providing intensive in-class assistance. This has proven to be an effective strategy for increasing student success. Investment in para-educators for of our English Language Learners and Socioeconomically Dis-advantaged students has contributed to significant gains throughout our student population. Next year we will continue to provide para-educators as supplemental support for our un-duplicated students.

Last year, we identified a need to improve our 7% CTE participation rate from the 2016-17 school year. This year,we doubled the rate and achieved a 14% participation rate. In addition, we were able to more than double the CTE completion rate of long term students. For the 2016-17 school year, the completion rate was 31%. In the 2017-18 school year the CTE completion rate was 64%, exceeding our goal of 45% completion rate. In the 2018-19 school year, we continued to improve our CTE program as our un-duplicated students rely on this program to prepare them for living wage jobs. At the completion of the 2018-19 school year we reached 48% of our students taking and completing a CTE Pathway.

With regard to other outcomes that were significant to our school's success, we were approved by the Twin Rivers Unified School District's Board of Trustees for a full 5 year re-authorization to continue our work as a charter school. In addition, we went through a full review for accreditation with the Western Association of Schools and Colleges and have been granted a 6 year accreditation (the highest accreditation possible) with a 2 day mid-cycle visit. Additionally, we are still a grantee for the Work Force Investment and Opportunity Act (WIOA for $350,000 annually).

Finally, we have grown from 22 learning sites from the 2018-19 school year to almost 30 available learning sites or partnership locations, thus expanding the opportunity for additional students to access the school either locally or regionally.

Greatest Need

There are 5 areas Highlands will focus attention next year to improve our overall results:
1. Improving CTE participation rate: As a non-college prep-school, we meet Ed. Code § 52060(d)(4)(C) through the number of students who participate in and complete career technical education sequences or programs of study that align with state board-approved career technical education standards and frameworks".
While our school offers a range of CTE programs, we believe we must continue to increase the participation rate.
2. Improving career attainment: By having more students complete our CTE programs through improved instruction and follow up, our graduates should be more equipped to obtain livable wage lifestyle.
3. Improving curriculum and instructional materials: We will continue the process of rolling out a new and improved comprehensive curriculum to promote student learning as well as support teachers through coaching, modeling and professional development. We will also continue to provide supplementary resources to support instruction in response to student requests; moreover, research demonstrates that the quality and availability of the instructional materials is important to how well students learn.
4. Expansion of remedial instruction and intervention: We will expand the use of intervention specialists to target students who need additional academic support. We will offer remedial classes and open a tutoring center to help close the achievement gap by building up basic skills in reading, writing, and math.
5. Increasing our identified 'Cohort Graduation Rate' while decreasing the number of students that would be designated as 'Chronically Absent'.

Performance Gaps

Given the nature of our school, there are fewer internal performance gaps than there are performance gaps between our students and the general population. Most of our students enter the Highlands high school program with academic skills that are significantly below grade level in reading, writing and math. We continue to make remedial instructional opportunities available and plan to stay the course to monitor outcomes associated to academic and career-technical advancement. We have seen a greater number of our identified English Learning students make advancement in leveled instruction as well as 'bridging' into high school.
We are continuing to improve our services for all student groups that have additional needs. Those needs include English learners, low income students, disabled students, former foster youth, ex-offenders and homeless to promote their general academic skills. These services unequivocally close the income gap which nearly all our students face. However, with regard to the 2018-19 State Accountability Dashboard, we still have identified an 87% chronic absenteeism rate, an overall cohort graduation rate of 19% and 0% of our students being

District LCAP TRUSD Review of the LCAP

The charter expressed appreciation to the district for their suggestions and will use the input to improve future LCAPs but did not update the 2019-20 LCAP with the suggested changes below.

Goals, Actions & Services 2019-20

Page 47 - Goal/Action 1.1 has both boxes marked above and below the OR for if the action is Not including or Including to meet increased or improved services for unduplicated students; determine which one it s and eliminate the verbiage in the other section.

Page 50 – is the increased budget from $250,000 to $1,500,000 for 1.3 realistic?

Goal 2 – 2.1, 2.2, 2.3 & 2.4 all say the action is Not including to meet increased or improved services for unduplicated students. If that is the case, then S/C funds should not be used.

Page 78 - is the increased budget from $60,000 to $600,000 correct? If not then an additional $540,000 needs to be added to the LCAP. If it is, is it realistic? And is it above and beyond the base program since S/C funds are being used?

Demonstration of Increased or Improved Services for Unduplicated Pupils

Page 88 - The S/C Grant funds are about $1 million short from the LCFF calculation and what is in the Adopted Budget. The amount should be $5,570,738 and 35.50%.

RE: Request for Response Dated August 5, 2024 Relating to 11th Grade

Dear Ms. Carreon:

This is in response to your August 5, 2024 correspondence to Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools ("HCCTS"). We understand that the Twin Rivers Unified School District ("District"), as the chartering authority for both Highlands Community Charter School ("HCCS") and California Innovative Career Academy ("CICA"), has requested that HCCTS take the following actions:

- The District requests that HCCTS investigate the necessary steps and support needed to add 11th grade to the High School program.

- The District further requests that HCCTS implement the necessary steps to add 11th grade as soon as practical.

HCCS and CICA have been operated by HCCTS since 2014 and 2019, respectively. Both schools serve adults 22 years of age and older in compliance with the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act of 2014 (Pub. L. 113–128, title II, §201.) Both charter documents currently provide for a unique grade level configuration of 1st, 2nd, and 12th grades. Additionally, HCCS and CICA have added grades 9 and 10 to their grade level offerings through a non-material revision to the charter petitions based upon approval of the addition of these grades previously by District staff on October 29, 2020. Upon enrollment, the HCCS charter provides that:

> "Students who are at a high school level (9th through 12th grade) based upon credits and assessment will be assigned to their grade level based upon age. Students who are at a primary school level (8th grade or below) based upon a lack of credits or low assessment scores, will be assigned to a grade level based primarily upon assessment."

CICA's charter contains identical language pertaining to grade level assignment after enrollment. Neither charter, therefore, currently requires 11th grade. Additionally, the high school curriculum offered by Highlands Community Charter and Technical School and CICA complies with the California Education Code requirements for graduation (Ed. Code §51225.3.)

The educational program of a California public charter school is defined by its charter petition. (Ed. Code §47605.) The educational programs of HCCS and CICA, as defined in the charters, were developed to meet the needs of the unique student population enrolled in both schools. The educational programs, including a grade configuration that does not include 11th grade, was approved by the District and by virtue of this approval found to be a sound educational program. Furthermore, these educational programs comply with the requirements for graduation. (Ed. Code §51225.3.). As such, HCCTS is not legally required to add an 11th grade to the educational programs of either HCCS or CICA.

Although HCCTS does not have a legal obligation so do so, in an ongoing effort to assuage the District's concerns and demonstrate HCCTS' commitment to proper reporting and progress tracking of students and bolstering the educational program of HCCS and CICA to best serve the needs of every student, HCCTS will add an 11th grade as soon as practical to its educational program subject to approval of both the HCCTS Board and the District. In order to plan and implement an 11th grade to the high school program, HCCTS will need to review and analyze both HCCS and CICA's current educational programs, investigate staffing needs and assessment schedules, and train its team on implementation of these changes. As the District is aware, HCCTS is currently responding to a state audit and two separate audits being conducted by representatives of the District, while continuing to operate its two schools and attempting to implement numerous operational changes to satisfy the District and other stakeholders. Therefore, HCCTS does not have the adequate time or staff capacity to plan and implement a new grade within this academic year.

HCCTS takes the advice of the District staff to add an 11th grade seriously and is committed to adding an 11th grade as soon as practical to its educational program. Assuming the District will confirm that the addition of 11th grade is approved as a non-material revision to the charters for both schools with an implementation date of July 1, 2025 or as part of the charter renewal process before our charters expire on June 30, 2027. HCCTS proposes spending the current academic year planning for the 11th grade configuration change and implementing the change to take effect when possible. This would provide HCCTS with adequate time to properly investigate, plan, and implement the addition of the 11th grade to the high school program. Furthermore, this would ensure that there is not a chaotic disruption to the educational program for students in the middle of an academic year and ensure a successful implementation of a new change. HCCTS appreciates the District's willingness to work with us on DASS metrics that will better capture the progress of students enrolling at Highlands given its high levels of immigrant students who often know little English even though they are classified as high school students. Having these metrics in place before adding the 11th grade will also assist stakeholders by ensuring there is reliable data upon which to evaluate student progress.

We hope that this letter fully addresses the District's requests on this matter and we look forward to hearing from you about our proposed implementation timeline and whether the non-material revision is approved by the District. Should you have any further questions in the meantime, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Bill McGuire
Executive Director

Element A: The Educational Program

"The educational program of the charter school, designed, among other things, to identify those whom the charter school is attempting to educate, what it means to be an "educated person" in the 21st century, and how learning best occurs. The goals identified in that program shall include the objective of enabling pupils to become self-motivated, competent, and lifelong learners." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(A)(i).)

In accordance with California Education Code § 47605.1(f) and 47612.1, all instruction with CICA will be provided exclusively in partnership with a WIOA-funded organization, or other legally allowed exclusive partnership. CICA currently has a Memorandum of Understanding with the Sacramento Employment and Training Agency (SETA), the workforce development board for Sacramento County. Adult students who meet the terms of the partnership agreement and statutory requirements may be served by CICA.

Education Program Overview

Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools (Highlands) is one of California's largest public charter organizations dedicated to second-chance learners. Highlands operates two public charter high schools for second-chance learners: Highlands Community Charter School (HCCS), a classroom-based program established in 2014, and California Innovative Career Academy (CICA), an independent study school founded in 2019. Both schools provide adults with the opportunity to earn a high school diploma while building workforce skills and career pathways.

The need for this type of charter school is immense. More than four million adults in California have not completed high school, yet tuition-free options for returning learners remain scarce. Highlands fills this critical gap with a model that not only transforms individual students, but also strengthens families and uplifts entire communities. California cannot afford to leave millions of adults without a diploma and a workforce pathway—and Highlands exists to ensure that doesn't happen. Our model is creating generational change while directly fueling the state's workforce pipeline.

California Innovative Career Academy

California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) is one of Highland's two charter school programs. CICA provides a flexible independent study model designed for adults.

CICA serves:

- Adults aged 22 years old and older without a US high school diploma
- Parents who left school early to raise children
- Adults rebuilding after involvement with the justice system
- Immigrants and refugees seeking to learn English
- Working adults who left school for economic reasons

Reflecting Sacramento's international diversity, CICA enrolls students from dozens of countries and language groups, including large communities from Afghanistan, Ukraine, Russia, Mexico, and Vietnam. Students engage in individualized learning plans, meet regularly with teachers, and access in-person and online support designed around their schedules, languages, and goals. Instruction integrates English language development, diploma completion, and career training so that multilingual learners can strengthen academic and workforce skills simultaneously.

Mission and Vision Statement

CICA is a diverse community for social justice, serving the underserved, providing access to education, technology, communication, and employment for 21st-century achievers. Through community partnerships, CICA builds new legacies leading to self-sufficiency and generational change.

Vision

The vision of CICA is to eradicate educational inequality and promote workforce success.

Educational Philosophy

CICA believes the biggest challenge of the 21st century has been, and will continue to be, ensuring that all people have the opportunity to obtain the skills and knowledge necessary for sustainable living wage jobs. To meet this challenge in a constantly changing technological, academic, and professional environment, students must:

- Become self-motivated, competent, and lifelong learners.
- Build academic, workforce, and social-emotional skills.
- Engage in flexible, student-centered instruction tailored to individual needs.

CICA affirms that a well-educated person must not only demonstrate strong academic proficiency but also be equipped with the habits of mind and adaptability required to navigate an evolving global economy. Lifelong learning, problem-solving, and creative thinking are essential for building opportunity and transforming talent into true skill. These qualities enable students to contribute meaningfully to their communities and pursue personal and professional success. While CICA is committed to offering the same broad course of study to all students, it is grounded in the knowledge that flexible instruction tailored to meet the needs of individuals is essential to achieving positive outcomes for the diverse population it serves.

Impact

CICA is demonstrating measurable impact:

- Graduation: Nearly 580students graduated from CICA in 2024–25 alone.
- Employment: More than half (53%) of HCCTS graduates reported jobs averaging above $20/hour, and 40% pursued college.
- Career pipeline: One in four graduates at HCCTS completed a CTE program in fields like health care, transportation, IT, and skilled trades. In the 2024-2025 school year 370 students visited the Center for Workforce Solutions a total of 622 times.
- Family transformation: Parents returning to school model persistence and achievement for their children, breaking intergenerational cycles of poverty.

- Justice and opportunity: To date, Highlands has facilitated 24 expungements, helping returning citizens reenter the workforce with stability and dignity.

Student Population

CICA serves a uniquely diverse student population, with the majority being immigrants and Below you will find a table that shows all the locations where CICA teachers and staff are refugees. Some students arrive with advanced degrees from their home countries, having worked as engineers, teachers, or medical professionals. Others come with little or no formal education and are just beginning to learn to read, write, or speak English. Our model is designed to honor this full spectrum of lived experience—meeting students where they are and supporting them in reaching their goals.

CICA welcomes all adult learners over the age of 22, admitting students based on available capacity and through lottery procedures. At its core, the school is guided by the belief that every student—regardless of their starting point—deserves access to a high-quality education, a pathway to a brighter future, and the unwavering support of a community that sees and nurtures their potential.

Leadership

In July 2025, CICA entered a new era of reform and renewal under the leadership of Executive Director Jonathan Raymond, a former superintendent of Sacramento City Unified School District. With a sharpened focus on transparency, equity, and academic rigor, we are reimagining what second-chance education can be in California.

Our goal is to build back better with integrity, urgency, and a deep commitment to putting students first in every decision. We are raising standards across the board: ensuring every classroom has a credentialed teacher, implementing clear policies for fiscal responsibility, lowering class sizes, implementing a rigorous and standards-aligned curriculum, adjusting the bell schedules to expand professional learning for teachers, and broadening access to career training aligned with California's and Sacramento's workforce needs.

While the school is currently operating with fewer staff and reduced enrollment due to recent layoffs, the reforms now underway are deep and structural. Each initiative reflects our commitment to rebuilding a school system that delivers on its promise to students, families, and the public.

Executive Leadership

The Executive Leadership at CICA provides high-quality leadership to create and sustain a meaningful learning environment that supports student academic progress. Under the direction of the Board, the Cabinet—comprising the Executive Director, Chief Academic Officer, Chief Operating Officer and Chief Business Officer—develops, implements, and evaluates key school systems and processes, including academic, human resources, finances, assessment, facilities, and accountability. Job descriptions and qualifications for each role are outlined below.

Leadership Team

Jonathan Raymond, Executive Director

Jonathan Raymond is a nationally respected education leader known for helping institutions navigate moments of deep crisis and emerge stronger, more accountable, and more student-centered. He most recently served as Senior Vice President and Superintendent in Residence at City Year, a national youth development and education nonprofit, where he oversaw education policy and provided strategic guidance to local and national systems working at the intersection of education, equity, and workforce development. As the Superintendent of the City School District of New Rochelle, he led the district through the final stages of the COVID-19 pandemic, investing in whole-child supports, accelerating learning recovery, and strengthening school-community partnerships. His leadership prioritized mental health, expanded after-school and summer enrichment, and delivered resources to students most impacted by the Pandemic.

Prior to that, Raymond served as Superintendent of Sacramento City Unified School District, where he guided one of California's largest urban districts through historic budget deficits, deep structural reform, and the early stages of a statewide shift toward equity-driven education. Under his leadership, the district raised graduation rates, introduced whole-child support, launched early learning and summer programs, and transformed some of its most underserved schools into high-performing campuses — all while navigating one of the toughest fiscal climates in California history.

Raymond's crisis-tested leadership is grounded in a lifelong commitment to public service. He previously served as Executive Director of the Massachusetts COVID-19 Relief Fund, Chief Accountability Officer of the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools in North Carolina, and President of the Stuart Foundation, California's largest K-12 education philanthropy. He began his career as a labor law attorney and brings legal, nonprofit, and philanthropic expertise to every challenge. He is a graduate of the Broad Superintendents Academy, and holds a JD from George Mason University School of Law, an MA from The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University, and a BA from Tufts University. He also completed the Executive Management Program at Harvard Business School.

Throughout his work, Raymond has earned a reputation for putting students first, building trust in fractured environments and helping systems rise from instability to renewal. As the newly appointed Executive Director of Highlands Community Charter, he brings that same steady hand to a school community that is ready to rebuild and thrive.

Teresa Cummings, Chief Operations Officer

Teresa is a seasoned systems-level leader with nearly three decades of experience transforming education through strategy, accountability, and innovation. She has served as Chief of Staff and Chief Accountability Officer, bringing clarity, alignment, and execution to large-scale organizational priorities. Holding a Ph.D. from the University of Illinois, Chicago, Teresa's career spans the full spectrum of education—from PreK–12 classrooms to community colleges and universities—where she has excelled as a teacher, administrator, and author of mathematics curricula.

Her leadership portfolio includes extensive executive-level district administration, where she has shaped policy, accountability systems, and instructional improvement at scale. Beyond the district level, Teresa has advanced research and development efforts for non-profits, the Riverside County Office of Education, and the Stuart Foundation, where she co-developed an organizational health review now used to strengthen institutional performance.

Across every role, Teresa has been recognized for her ability to integrate research, practice, and policy into sustainable systems that drive student achievement and organizational excellence.

Eric Chapman, Chief Academic Officer

Eric Chapman holds a Master of Education from California State University, Sacramento, and has dedicated more than 25 years to the field of education. He began his career as a classroom teacher and instructional coach in the Del Paso Heights School District before moving into school leadership, serving as principal at four sites within the Sacramento City Unified School District. In these roles, he led transformative turnaround efforts in literacy, family engagement, and community school models, while guiding schools through continuous improvement cycles, professional learning, and student-centered restructuring initiatives. Since 2008, his leadership has focused on building systems that foster equity, innovation, and academic achievement. Eric now serves as Chief Academic Officer for Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools, where he directs efforts in career technical education, workforce alignment, and equity-driven systems that expand opportunities for adult learners. Recognized as a mentor and collaborator, he is deeply committed to advancing student success and harnessing the power of schools to strengthen communities.

Matthew Lemos, Chief Business Officer

Matthew Lemos brings more than two decades of leadership experience in finance, operations, and team management across both the education and hospitality sectors. He began his career in the gaming industry, serving as a floor supervisor, pit manager, and head trainer, where he developed expertise in staff development, customer service, and process improvement. Transitioning to the nonprofit and education fields, Matthew has spent the past six years directing financial services for charter schools in California and Nevada. He has overseen multimillion-dollar budgets, compliance with state and federal regulations, and the development of policies and systems that ensure fiscal stability and operational excellence.

Matthew currently serves as Chief Business Official for Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools, where he provides strategic leadership in finance, operations, and risk management to support the school's mission of preparing career-ready graduates. Known for his strong communication skills, ethical leadership, and collaborative approach, he is dedicated to building sustainable systems that strengthen schools and expand opportunities for students and staff alike.

Melissa Roberson, Director of Accountability and Assessment

Melissa Roberson is the Director of Accountability and Assessment, bringing over a decade of experience in education with a strong foundation in teaching, leadership, and data-driven decision-making. She earned her Master's degree from the University of Southern California in 2016 and went on to serve as a principal for five years, where she championed student outcomes and teacher growth. With a background as an experienced ELD and ESL teacher, Melissa has deep expertise in instructional strategies and supporting English learners. In her current role, she oversees WASC accreditation, state reporting, and manages the relationship with the Twin Rivers Unified School District, ensuring compliance and alignment with school goals. Known for her integrity, student-centered approach, and sharp focus on data, Melissa is dedicated to building systems that elevate teaching and learning for all students.

Mayra Valdivia, Director of School Services

Mayra Valdivia is an educator and administrator dedicated to advancing student success through strategic leadership, community partnership, and program development. She began her career as a high school counselor, supporting students' academic, social-emotional, and career growth, and later served as Lead ELD Counselor, directing programs that expanded services for English learners. She went on to serve as Director of Student Services and Assistant Deputy Director at Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools, overseeing counseling, student support, and departmental operations while strengthening community partnerships. In 2024, she was appointed Deputy Director of School Services, where she supervises directors, guides program implementation, and represents the organization in legislative and community settings to advocate for policies benefiting students and families. Mayra holds a Master of Science in School Counseling from California State University, Sacramento, and earned her Preliminary Administrative Services Credential in 2024. She has also completed leadership and charter school business officer training through the Charter Schools Development Center. Fluent in English and Spanish, she is a strong advocate for equity and access, committed to expanding opportunities for diverse student populations.

Student Challenges and Needs

CICA incorporates several innovative features throughout its programming, anchored by a few distinct approaches that set it apart from other local schools and allow it to serve the whole student. CICA serves adult learners balancing complex lives. Many students juggle employment, family care, and basic needs, often without reliable transportation, devices, internet, or childcare – limiting the time they can devote to school.

Trauma and Life Experiences

A significant number of students have experienced displacement, poverty, homelessness, addiction, or justice-system involvement. Students who have experienced incarceration face additional barriers to re-entry and benefit from CICA's targeted academic and social-emotional supports.

Basic Needs

Many students lack access to fundamental necessities, including food, appropriate clothing, school supplies, and stable housing. Refugee and immigrant students also navigate new cultural norms and technology while building English proficiency and seeking employment.

Student Goals and Motivations

Students enroll with interconnected goals: improving English proficiency, earning a long deferred high school diploma, developing career skills, supporting their families, and engaging more fully in their communities. For many, the diploma is both a dream realized and a gateway to economic stability and higher education. CICA recognizes that academic achievement must be pursued alongside students' broader life goals, creating pathways that honor both educational attainment and personal aspirations.

Characteristics of an Educated Person in the 21st Century

CICA defines an educated person in the 21st century as someone who:

- Masters core academics (English, mathematics, science, history/social science) and communicates effectively in English in college and workplace settings.
- Thinks critically and acts independently, applying problem-solving in academic and professional contexts.
- Collaborates and contributes, practicing empathy, constructive communication, and conflict resolution in diverse, multi-age, multicultural classrooms.
- Engages as a global citizen, understanding democratic principles and social, political, and environmental issues, and participating respectfully across cultures.
- Is digitally fluent, using technology confidently for learning, work, and civic life.
- Balances well-being, developing habits that sustain healthy, productive lives across family, work, and community.

Our students seek understanding and peace within multi-age, multicultural classrooms and respect the rights of others to do the same. We support students in developing personal habits for a healthy lifestyle—balancing academics, leisure, work, family, and community. Students who have limited access to technology learn to use digital tools for increased success in school, work, and civic life.

Our students are scholars who build proficiency in English, Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies/History. As members of the California community, they communicate effectively and contribute to the world around them. They are prepared to meet the expectations of college classrooms and to engage thoughtfully with new ideas.

Our students are community members who collaborate with others, contribute to projects, and manage and resolve conflicts using the communication tools learned in our classrooms. They are motivated to provide meaningful service and to apply their developing talents in real settings. We send our students into the workforce confident in the communication, collaboration, and competency they have developed.

Our students are citizens of the world who understand the foundations of constitutional democracy, the rights and responsibilities of all, and the importance of staying informed about political, social, and environmental issues. By learning together in diverse classrooms and on our campuses, students deepen their understanding of other political, social, and cultural systems and practice peaceful coexistence.

Our students are members of an increasingly technical and information-based world and are competent, comfortable users of a wide range of technologies. They view technology as an integral part of learning and life and remain open to new tools and approaches as they emerge.

Core Beliefs

CICA supports all adult learners 22 and older to have agency and to chart the path that will help them achieve their academic vision. We have research-based beliefs about learning in general, learning for adults, and learning for English Language Learners that inform our approach to teaching and learning. Our educational philosophy is grounded in three interconnected beliefs that recognize the complexity and humanity of adult learning. These principles guide every aspect of our instructional design, student support systems, and organizational culture.

CICA's instructional model is grounded in three beliefs that reflect the complexity and humanity of adult learning:

Learning Happens Within the Contexts of Safe and Trusting Relationships
Adult learners, particularly those who have experienced educational trauma or systemic barriers, require learning environments that prioritize psychological safety alongside academic rigor. Trust is not a luxury in adult education—it is a prerequisite for the kind of vulnerable, transformative learning that leads to lasting change.

- Trauma-Informed Educational Practices. Many of our students carry the impacts of various forms of trauma, including displacement or systemic oppression. Our approach recognizes that trauma affects learning by impacting memory, concentration, and the ability to take academic risks. We create predictable, supportive environments where students can rebuild their relationship with learning in contexts that feel safe and affirming.
- Relational Pedagogy. We understand that learning is fundamentally relational. Students are more likely to engage in challenging academic work when they feel seen, known, and valued by their instructors and peers. Our educators invest time in building authentic relationships with students, learning about their goals, interests, and concerns. This relational foundation allows for the kind of honest feedback and academic push that leads to growth.
- Community Building and Peer Support. We intentionally cultivate learning communities where students support each other's growth and success. This includes structured opportunities for peer collaboration, study groups, and mentoring relationships.

Instruction Meets Students Where They Are Meeting students where they are is more than an instructional strategy—it is a fundamental stance that honors the diverse pathways that bring adult learners to our doors. Our students arrive with varying levels of formal education, different cultural approaches to learning, and unique combinations of strengths and areas for growth. This reality requires us to move beyond one-size-fits-all approaches toward responsive teaching that builds on what students already know and can do.

- Support for students with interrupted or inconsistent formal education (SIFE). We pair intensive foundational skill-building with access to grade-level content, explicitly teaching academic literacy (how to use texts, take notes, discuss, and present) while maintaining high expectations.
- Asset-based assessment and design. We start from each learner's full profile—schooling, work, community, and self-directed learning—to connect new knowledge to existing strengths.
- Flexible pathways. Multiple routes, paces, and modalities; choice in demonstrating learning; supports that fit adult schedules.
- Responsive teaching. Ongoing formative assessment drives just-in-time re-teaching or acceleration (see Professional Development for PD structures).
- Cultural and linguistic responsiveness. We leverage what students know—and how they know it—to make rigorous content accessible.

Adults Learn Best With Agency and Relevance.
Every student develops an Individual Learning Plan (ILP) that names short- and long-term goals (education, work, family). During orientation, students learn pathways and requirements so they can make informed choices. Teachers and counselors help students write SMART goals, map required credits/certifications, and identify supports. Progress is revisited in regular check-ins using simple dashboards/trackers, and students complete brief reflections to build the metacognitive habits that sustain lifelong learning.

- Choice and Flexibility in Learning. Adult learners thrive when they have options in how they engage with content and demonstrate their learning. We provide multiple ways for students to explore topics of interest, pursue individual research projects, and showcase their growing knowledge and skills.
- Real-World Connections and Application. Learning feels most relevant when students can see immediate applications to their lives and goals. The curriculum we use has many opportunities to connect academic content to contemporary issues, workplace skills, and community engagement opportunities. Students might analyze historical patterns to understand current social issues or conduct scientific investigations related to health or environmental concerns in their communities.
- Career and College Integration. We explicitly connect academic learning to students' career and college goals, helping them understand how the skills they're developing will serve them in future educational and professional contexts. This includes developing academic habits of mind, communication skills, and critical thinking abilities that transfer across contexts.
- Student Voice and Feedback. Students have regular opportunities to provide feedback about their learning experiences and suggest improvements to courses and programs. Please see the student survey section below for more detailed information. We view students as partners in the educational process, recognizing that their insights about what supports their learning are essential for continuous improvement. This feedback loop helps students develop advocacy skills while ensuring our programs remain responsive to their needs.
- Ownership of Learning Outcomes. We support students in developing the ability to assess their own learning and set goals for improvement. This includes teaching students to use rubrics, reflect on their growth over time, and identify specific strategies that support their success.

These three foundational beliefs work together to create learning environments where adult students can achieve their educational goals while developing the skills, knowledge, and confidence they need for continued success in their academic, professional, and civic lives.

CICA supports all adult learners to have agency and to chart the path that will help them achieve their academic vision. We have research-based beliefs about learning in general, learning for adults, and learning for English Language Learners that inform our approach to teaching and learning. Our educational philosophy is grounded in three interconnected beliefs that recognize the complexity and humanity of adult learning. These principles guide every aspect of our instructional design, student support systems, and organizational culture.

Mental Health and Wraparound Services
We recognize that academic success is interconnected with students' overall well-being. Our support systems include connections to mental health resources, basic needs support, and advocacy services that address the systemic barriers our students face. We work in partnership with community organizations to provide comprehensive support that allows students to focus on their learning.

Addressing the Social-Emotional Impacts of Educational Interruption

Students with interrupted formal education often experience complex emotions related to their academic journey, including shame about gaps in their knowledge, anxiety about academic performance, or frustration with the pace of progress. We create learning environments that normalize diverse educational pathways and celebrate the varied forms of knowledge students bring.

Supporting Students with Interrupted or Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE)

A significant portion of our student population has experienced interruptions in their formal schooling due to migration, economic necessity, political instability, or family circumstances. These students bring rich life experiences and often sophisticated problem-solving skills, yet they may have gaps in traditional academic content or unfamiliarity with formal educational expectations. We reject deficit-based approaches that focus on what these students lack, instead building comprehensive support systems that honor their strengths while addressing their specific learning needs.

Our approach to supporting SIFE students includes intensive foundational skill development alongside grade-level content engagement, recognizing that these students need both remediation and acceleration. We provide explicit instruction in academic literacy skills—including how to navigate textbooks, online curricula resources, take notes, and engage in classroom discussions—while maintaining high expectations for critical thinking and complex problem-solving.

Asset-Based Assessment and Instructional Design

We begin by understanding each student's full educational profile, including formal schooling, work experience, community involvement, and self-directed learning. This comprehensive view allows us to design learning experiences that connect new knowledge to existing understanding while addressing genuine learning needs. Rather than focusing on deficits, we identify the multiple entry points through which students can engage with rigorous academic content.

Flexible Pathways and Differentiated Support

Meeting students where they are means creating multiple pathways through our curriculum that allow for different paces, learning styles, and life circumstances. Our new curriculum, which covers all disciplines, allows teachers to alter the reading level of the text to meet the student at their level and provide translated background text and videos that build background knowledge to enhance ELLs' access to the core grade-level curriculum and the grade 9-12 California State Standards. This includes offering content in various modalities, providing choice in how students demonstrate their learning, and designing support systems that accommodate working adults with family responsibilities and other commitments.

Diagnostic and Responsive Teaching

Our teachers continuously gather information about student understanding and adjust instruction accordingly. This goes beyond initial placement to include ongoing formative assessment that reveals how students are making sense of new concepts and where additional support or challenge is needed. We create learning environments where struggle is normalized as part of the learning process, and where students receive the specific feedback they need to move forward. See more about this in the professional development section.

Cultural and Linguistic Responsiveness

Meeting students where they are requires a deep understanding of the cultural frameworks and prior educational experiences that shape how students approach learning. We work to understand not just what students know, but how they know it—the cultural tools and ways of thinking they bring that can be leveraged for new learning.

Self-Directed Learning and Goal Setting

We work with students to identify their short-term and long-term goals and help them understand how their coursework connects to these aspirations. This begins in orientation, where they learn the pathways and requirements so that students can make informed decisions about their academic path. Students participate in setting their own learning objectives within the framework of academic standards, and they regularly reflect on their progress toward these goals. This self-direction increases engagement and helps students develop the metacognitive skills essential for lifelong learning.

Foundational Research and Theories Supporting Our Approach

Adult Education Learning Theories
CICA applies research-based adult learning theories to design educational programs that recognize adult students have different needs than traditional K-12 students. The school incorporates adult learning theories, differentiated instruction, and student-centered approaches to meet diverse learner needs. Malcolm Knowles' foundational research (1980) identifies key differences between adult and child learners: adults are self-directed, bring rich life experiences, are problem-oriented, and are motivated by internal factors. Patricia Cross (1981) emphasizes that adult learners are typically voluntary participants who may feel insecure about learning but are motivated to solve real-world problems. Cross identifies multiple motivation sources including personal achievement, social factors, and career advancement.

Sociocultural Theories
According to Sociocultural Theory (SCT), social interaction is the foundation of all learning (Walqui, 2008). Sociocultural perspectives in language acquisition emphasize real-world participation with authentic language and activities that occur in everyday life (Zuengler & Miller, 2006). Some of the primary assumptions of Sociocultural Theories are that learning occurs before development, that language is the primary tool for thought (Mitchell, Myles, & Marsden, 2013), that writing and speaking are connected (Lightbrown & Spada, 2012), that mediation is essential to learning (Walqui, 2008), and that concept-based instruction aids learning (Mitchell, Myles, & Marsden, 2013). The Zone of Proximal Development (ZPD) and Scaffolding are two very important concepts in Sociocultural Theory. The ZPD is the stage in which the learner can advance because of support (scaffolding) that's provided to them by an interlocutor (Lightbrown & Spada, 2012). Scaffolding is defined as "a process of setting up" the situation to make the student's entry easy and successful and then gradually pulling back and handing the role to the student so that the student becomes independent enough to handle it (Walqui, 2008). For example, in traditional Sociocultural Theory, meaningful interactions take place between an expert (teacher) and a novice (student), where the expert provides the learner with scaffolding during the learner's ZPD.

Differentiated Instruction

Each student arrives at a different level, with unique learning styles, interests, and abilities. Recognizing this diversity, differentiated instruction is utilized to ensure the needs of all students are met. Differentiated instruction (also known as differentiated learning) is a teaching framework in which the teacher works to simultaneously address the diverse learning needs of all students in one class (Maloy, Verock-O'Loughlin, Edwards, & Woolf, 2013). It is commonly used in multi-level classrooms to meet the needs of students with special educational needs, English language learners, and students who are advanced or in talented and gifted programs. It allows students the opportunity to learn through various avenues, and each student has different expectations based on learning styles and abilities. According to the U.S. Department of Education's Literacy Information and Communication System (2012), the design is intended to engage students at a range of different levels with various learning styles and to make learning meaningful for students at every level. According to Carol Ann Tomlinson (2003), differences in student learning exist in four categories: readiness (prior knowledge), interest (curiosity), learning profile (formal or informal), and affect (self-regard). Before teachers can differentiate their lessons, teachers must understand their students' levels, abilities, learning styles, interests, strengths, and challenges (Corley, 2005).

Content-Based Instruction (CBI)

CBI is particularly critical for high school English Language Learners because it addresses the dual challenge of mastering academic content while developing the academic language skills essential for school success. By embedding language development within meaningful content learning, CBI creates authentic contexts for language use, builds subject-specific vocabulary, and prepares students for college-level coursework. Research shows this empowering approach encourages learners to become independent, continuing their language development beyond the classroom while simultaneously meeting rigorous academic standards required for high school graduation and post-secondary success.

For students developing foundational language skills such as reading and writing, context plays a critical role in supporting both language and literacy development. Content-Based Instruction

(CBI) provides context-rich materials through the curriculum, offering meaningful opportunities for students to build language skills while engaging with relevant academic topics. One of the most critical challenges we face is the persistent and widening vocabulary gap, which can significantly impact the academic progress of learners across all age groups. CBI addresses this challenge.

Supporting our English Learner Population

CICA serves a population of older English learners who are not eligible for the English Language Proficiency Assessments for California (ELPAC) nor appear in the California Dashboard for purposes of the English Language Proficiency Indicator (ELPI).[1] Almost all of the students at CICA are classified in CALPADS as adult English Language Learners or ADELs. CICA goes to great lengths to serve the needs of our English Language Learners.

Language learning for adults can differ from traditional models of education. It is deeply personal work that builds on the rich linguistic and cultural assets that students bring with them. Because compulsory education requirements do not apply to adult students, myriad factors constantly pull them away from their educational goals. Our approach to supporting English Language Learners recognizes that language acquisition happens most effectively when it is meaningful, relevant, and connected to students' lived experiences and goals.

At CICA, we understand that our students are not empty vessels waiting to be filled with English. They are accomplished individuals who have navigated complex systems, often in multiple languages, and bring sophisticated problem-solving skills and cultural knowledge that enrich our entire learning community. Our role is to create learning environments where students can leverage these strengths while building academic and professional English proficiency.

Our approach to English language learning is grounded in several research-informed principles that guide our instructional design and student support:

Language and Content Learning Are Interconnected.

Research consistently shows that students learn language most effectively when it is embedded in meaningful, content-rich contexts (see CBI explanation above). Our integrated approach ensures that students are simultaneously building language skills and engaging with rigorous, standards-aligned academic material relevant to their goals.

Students' Home Languages Are Resources, Not Barriers.

Multilingualism is an asset that enhances cognitive flexibility and cross-cultural communication skills. We create space for students to use their full linguistic repertoire as they build English proficiency, recognizing that translanguaging—the fluid use of multiple languages—is a natural and effective learning strategy. We also believe that our students bring life experience, motivation, and clear goals that can accelerate their learning when properly supported.

[1] Education Code section 306, section (a), defines "English learner" for ELPAC and ELPI requirements by incorporating the definition of 20 U.S.C. 7801 (20)(A), i.e. "the term 'English learner', when used with respect to an individual, means an individual who is aged 3 through 21."

Language Assessment Upon Enrollment

As a WIOA partner, CICA assesses all students during the admissions process and monitors their progress through CASAS testing. The first assessment, administered during registration, is the placement exam, which evaluates students' reading, writing, listening, speaking, and grammar skills. This exam is scored with an internally developed rubric.

During orientation, students also complete CASAS reading and listening assessments. CASAS provides standardized progress testing designed to measure learning along a continuum, from beginning literacy and English language acquisition through the completion of secondary-level skills. Several test series monitor student progress, with difficulty levels ranging from below Level A through Level E. Administering CASAS at enrollment establishes a baseline, followed by post-testing after 70–100 hours of instruction to track student progress over time.

If a teacher determines that a placement is inaccurate, a reassessment may be requested. If the reassessment results in a different level placement, the placement team updates the student's record in PowerSchool and informs the teacher of the revised placement.

The placement rubric is updated annually based on teacher and student feedback. Updates are shared with the curriculum team to confirm alignment with CICA level objectives. Any additional feedback is integrated before the rubric is finalized for use in the upcoming school year.

Reclassification

CICA serves English Language learners who must be designated in CALPADS as Adult English Language Learners (ADEL). ADEL students do not participate in ELPAC testing and do not appear as English Language learners on the California Dashboard for purposes of the English Language Proficiency Indicator (ELPI). We track and report ESL advancement as determined by CASAS testing.

Enrollment

CICA's enrollment continually increased from its establishment in 2019 through the 2024-2025 school year. While interest in enrollment remains sky-high, CICA expects to see a flattening or potential decrease in enrollment this year due to compliance with newly clarified requirements for credentialing and class-size ratios. CICA's commitment to continuous improvement has required updates to enrollment policies and procedures that have temporarily reduced its total enrollment capacity for the 2025-2026 school year.

Five-Year Enrollment Rollout Plan

As of September 2025, CICA has 900 students enrolled and will implement a steady, sustainable growth plan over the next five fiscal years. CICA is in the process of reviewing teacher case loads and enrollment in order to enroll more students at CICA to meet the expected enrollment of 1500. Growth will remain aligned with the school's capacity to hire and develop additional K-12 credentialed teachers. The planned five-year enrollment rollout is as follows:

Academic Year	Students enrolled

2026-2027	1,650
2027-2028	1,815
2028-2029	1,997
2029-2030	2,196

- Enrollment Caps: Each class will have an enrollment cap of 25:1 to ensure compliance with Independent Study requirements under Education Code section 51745.6, subdivision (d).
- Monitoring and Rebalancing: CICA Principals will regularly monitor enrollment and class sizes, making adjustments as needed to maintain educational quality and compliance with capacity guidelines.

Admission Process

CICA has implemented a comprehensive admission process to prepare and place incoming students. This process includes registration, grade level placement, an overview of student expectations and services, and covers any technology-related needs. This enrollment process ensures students are fully supported from registration to their first day, setting them up for success at CICA.

Element B Measurable Student Outcomes and Element C Student Progress Measurements

CICA's Program Goals and Student Learning Outcomes

CICA has established three Schoolwide Learner Outcomes (SLOs):

- Academic Growth: Students demonstrate measurable achievement each term through standards-aligned assessments and performance tasks.
- Career Progress: Students make documented advancement toward their individualized education and career goals.
- Digital Communication: Students use technology effectively and responsibly for personal, academic, and workplace communication.

Many students enter CICA with significant gaps in English language proficiency, academic skills, communication, and technology use. These SLOs are designed to close those gaps and set students on a path to long-term college, career, and community life. To implement these goals in our classrooms and bridge individual goals to content standards, we embed Integrated English Language Development supports within the facilitation of learning across all content areas. We monitor progress through course and credit completion, common formative assessments, and CASAS progress monitoring data.

By offering adult education to students aged 22 and older who have not yet earned a U.S. high school diploma, we work to reduce educational inequity. Our programs are anchored in K-12 state standards shaped by the needs of our students and community and grounded in a deep commitment to equity and social justice. We emphasize technology fluency, workforce readiness, and supportive services that remove barriers to persistence and completion. At CICA, we believe in our students, we believe in our community, and we believe that it's never too late to achieve one's goals.

CICA Satisfactory Student Progress

CICA has established a Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) policy (BP 5120) to ensure that students are consistently advancing toward their academic and career goals. This policy applies to all students enrolled in high school education. To remain enrolled, students must meet SAP standards, which include maintaining a minimum GPA, earning required credits, making measurable progress in English language acquisition (for ELD students), and fulfilling the specific SAP criteria of their CTE programs. SAP is evaluated every six weeks, and students who do not meet the requirements may be placed on Academic Notice. Continued noncompliance will result in disenrollment.

Attendance and engagement are also key components of SAP evaluation, with manual attendance records retained for at least three years in accordance with California regulations. Students who do not meet SAP in their CTE program may appeal by submitting a written reflection and evidence of corrective actions. Approved appeals result in a probationary period during which students must meet SAP standards to maintain enrollment. The policy aligns with state and federal regulations and is reviewed regularly to ensure legal compliance and support for student success.

The Instructional Leadership Team: Stewards of CICA's Academic Goals

CICA's program goals are guided and supported by the Instructional Leadership Team (ILT), a cross-functional leadership team that ensures academic excellence and coherence. The ILT is composed of the Chief Academic Officer, principals, teacher leaders, the Director of Professional Learning, the CASAS Coordinator, and the Director of Curriculum. Meeting biweekly, the ILT reviews student learning data, designs responsive professional learning, and incorporates teacher feedback to continuously improve instruction. The team works to align goals, accountability measures, and instructional priorities, providing instructors with a roadmap of how these efforts intersect to form CICA's core academic vision.

Common Core Standards

CICA is committed to providing a rigorous, standards-based education that meets the unique needs of adult English language learners while ensuring students progress toward California State Standards across all subject areas. Our curriculum design and instructional practices are systematically aligned with the California Common Core State Standards for English Language Arts and Mathematics, the Next Generation Science Standards, and the California History-Social Science Standards. We integrate English Language Development (ELD) standards with content area instruction, utilizing sheltered instruction strategies and culturally responsive teaching practices that honor students' diverse linguistic and cultural backgrounds. Teachers employ scaffolded approaches to make grade-level content accessible, incorporating visual supports, collaborative learning structures, and native language resources when appropriate to support comprehension and academic language development. Through regular assessment of both English proficiency growth and content mastery, we continuously monitor student progress, adjusting instruction to meet learners where they are while maintaining high expectations for academic achievement.

Core Subjects

CICA offers students access to an A-G curriculum in English Language Arts, Mathematics, Science, History/Social Studies, and a range of electives.

English Language Arts

The English Language Arts sequence moves students through a progressive sequence from foundational grammar and language skills to advanced writing, research, and literary analysis. Rooted in Common Core standards, the curriculum emphasizes critical thinking, effective communication, and collaboration. Students engage with diverse fiction and nonfiction texts from various cultures centered on Social-Emotional Learning themes. Students develop skills in reading comprehension, argumentation, and narrative writing. The program culminates in advanced coursework focused on research proficiency, source evaluation, and multimedia presentations, preparing learners for academic and professional communication success.

Mathematics

Mathematics courses build essential numeracy and problem-solving skills through a sequence aligned with the California Common Core standards, beginning with Pre-Algebra and progressing through Algebra 1 and Geometry. Students gain proficiency in fractions, decimals, ratios, proportions, equations, and geometric concepts, with an emphasis on applying mathematical reasoning to real-world contexts such as financial literacy. Instruction develops critical thinking and multiple forms of representation—numerical, graphical, verbal, and symbolic—preparing students for higher-level math and everyday applications.

History and Social Science
The History-Social Science courses provide students with a comprehensive understanding of civics, U.S. history, world history, government, economics, and ethnic studies. Instruction integrates literacy and critical thinking while connecting academic content to students' lived experiences. Students explore foundational principles of democracy, historical events, cultural diversity, and economic systems, emphasizing analytical skills through document analysis and inquiry-based learning. The curriculum prepares students to engage as informed citizens, fostering cultural awareness, social justice, and active participation in society.

Science
The Science courses offer foundational courses in Earth Science and Life Science, fulfilling graduation requirements while building scientific literacy and critical thinking. Earth Science introduces students to the dynamics of Earth and space systems, climate, natural phenomena, and human environmental impact. Life Science covers biological concepts such as chemistry, biodiversity, population dynamics, genetics, and environmental interactions. The curriculum emphasizes conceptual understanding and real-world application of scientific principles.

Visual and Performing Arts
The Visual and Performing Arts courses introduce students to fundamental concepts in stage performance, music theory, and vocal technique. Courses cover stage presence, character development, and the structure of the music industry, alongside foundational music theory, history, and vocal training. Students develop confidence and skills for performance and gain an understanding of music's cultural significance, preparing those interested in careers in music, theater, or entertainment.

Electives
CICA's Elective offerings allow students to strengthen literacy, communication, critical reading, and public speaking skills. Courses like Reading for Pleasure foster a love of reading through engagement with socially relevant themes, enhancing comprehension and analytical abilities. Public Speaking electives build students' rhetorical knowledge, speech planning, and presentation skills while promoting ethical communication and confidence. These courses enrich students' academic experience and prepare them for effective expression in various personal and professional contexts.

English for Work and Life Series
The English for Work and Life Series supports students at all stages of English acquisition, from emerging literacy to intermediate fluency. Courses emphasize systematic instruction in phonics, vocabulary, grammar, and real-world communication. Students progress from recognizing letters and sounds to composing organized paragraphs and participating in workplace and academic conversations. Through engaging, high-interest content and digital literacy tasks, learners gain the language and confidence needed to succeed in academic, personal, and professional settings.

Curriculum Adoption
In 2025, Highlands followed an articulated curriculum adoption process to procure Savvas, a standards-aligned curriculum for CICA courses. We received guidance from our UMass Global partner, which has extensive experience with curricular materials that best serve English Language Learners. The process was guided by UMass Global experts and included EdReports recommendations, analysis of materials used by surrounding districts, vendor demonstrations, and structured teacher feedback. We sought teacher feedback around our top choices and delivered our final proposal to the board, which approved our recommendation. We selected Savvas for its single, user-friendly platform for teachers and students, high ratings on EdReports, and adoption by large districts such as TRUSD, EGUSD, and LAUSD. To support strong implementation, the start of classes was delayed to August 14, 2025, allowing teachers to gain familiarity and comfort with the new curriculum. Teachers met in PLCs to build their knowledge of the standards-aligned curriculum. The Savvas adoption includes access to both an online digital curriculum, teacher edition textbooks, and student workbooks.

Supports for English Learners Level 0-1

ABCEnglish: A curriculum provided by an external agency, ABCEnglish offers literacy-level lessons ideal for students who are new to learning English. Lessons are presented through accessible slides and worksheets designed for classroom delivery.

Burlington English: An online English language learning platform offering both teacher-led lessons with presentations and printable materials, as well as self-paced student lessons accessible by phone or computer. The program integrates reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills, and includes thematic content, short stories, citizenship, and Workplace English and CASAS practice modules.

EL Civics Curriculum: Thematic packets intended to support English Language Learners with English language acquisition, civic participation, and workforce skills. Aligned to ESL objectives from CASAS and NRS ESL levels.

Standards-Based Instruction

To ensure alignment with educational standards and to support student achievement, CICA's curriculum has been developed, adapted, or adopted in accordance with the following:

- California Common Core State Standards (CCSS)
- WIOA English Literacy
- Literacy (EL) Civics Objectives
- Comprehensive Adult Student Assessment Systems (CASAS) Reading Standards
- CASAS Competencies

Instructional Methods

As an independent study school, CICA provides flexible, individualized learning supported by a range of online curricular resources. The nature of independent study and learning allows students to progress as quickly as they like with self-paced learning opportunities. Teachers meet with each student a minimum of once per week – synchronously via Zoom or in person- to monitor progress, review work, and adjust support. While most coursework is asynchronous, English Learners receive targeted, synchronous support (Zoom and in person) using content-based instruction (CBI). Instruction includes both designated English language development and integrated approaches aligned with Common Core State Standards.

Independent Study Legal Compliance
The Charter School will comply with all applicable independent study laws and regulations, including but not limited to Education Code Sections 51745, et seq.; 47612.5; 47634.2; Title 5, California Code of Regulations, Sections 11700-11705; and 19850-19854. These laws require, that the Charter School will operate pursuant to an adopted independent study Board policy; each student will have a master agreement as required by law; and the Charter School will receive an approved funding determination by the State Board of Education as a condition of funding.

Assessment to Advance CICA Goals

CICA Employs Multiple Measures to Monitor Learning and Inform Instruction.

- Formative Assessments: These include ongoing evaluation through teacher observation, projects, presentations, and performance tasks.
- Summative Assessments: End-of-unit and semester evaluations measuring mastery of learning objectives. These assessments are part of the core curriculum.
- Portfolio Assessments: Student-led self-assessment using assignments of choice to demonstrate learning in students' focal areas. The ILT is currently mapping the implementation of the portfolio project.
- Student Surveys: Self-perception data helps us to understand the student experience.
- CASAS Testing: Comprehensive Adult Student Assessment System, a competency-based adult assessment program validated by the U.S. Department of Education for use in adult education conducted after 70-100 hours of instruction time. The assessment is administered every 6-8 weeks.
- CAST: California Science Test, a state assessment mandated for those in high school.
- CAASPP: California Assessment of Student Performance and Progress, a state assessment mandated for those in high school grade 11.
- EL Civics Assessments: Administered three times per program year
- ELD Level Placement Test: Placement at enrollment
- ELD Level Exit Test: Administered to determine readiness to advance to the next ELD level

Professional Development That Drives Improvement
High-quality professional learning at CICA is about creating a learning system, not just training. It is more than training staff in best practices; it is about creating a culture of curiosity that acknowledges the uncertainty that is inherent in teaching and learning. Central to our revised professional learning program is creating a practice of inquiry at the leadership level that focuses its interest on the practitioners working most closely with the students. What are teachers learning about their students' learning? Where are teachers' gaps in knowledge and capacity? These are the questions that inform the design and goals of the professional learning offerings.

CICA leadership works in partnership with CICA principals and teacher leaders through the ILT to take a partnership approach to designing professional learning. Core beliefs about practitioner-based learning that inform the CICA approach to professional learning include:

- Teaching is complex and uncertain work that requires an inquiry stance to ensure that students' needs are at the center.
- Adult learning thrives on agency and relevance with clear goals and progress markers
- For instruction to be changed and improved, the learning experience of students must be visible
- Educators (teachers and leaders) are professionals engaged in important work, and they deserve a level of professional support and care that takes their work seriously.
- Pursuing collective goals is essential to supporting systems transformation

Professional Development Focusing on Language Acquisition

Central to CICA professional development is continuously developing strong instructional strategies to meet the needs of our ELLs. Supporting English Language Learners effectively requires ongoing professional learning and reflection. All CICA educators engage in continuous inquiry about how to better serve our multilingual learners.

Language-Responsive Teaching Practices

Our professional learning focuses on developing instructional strategies that make content accessible while maintaining high expectations. This includes training in visual supports, collaborative learning structures, and formative assessment techniques that help teachers understand what students know and can do.

Cultural Responsiveness and Asset-Based Thinking

We work to examine our own assumptions about language learning and ensure that our instructional practices build on students' cultural and linguistic strengths. This includes learning about our students' educational backgrounds and understanding how different cultural approaches to learning can inform our teaching.

Data-Informed Decision Making

As part of our inquiry-based PLCs, we develop systems for collecting and analyzing data about student language development that go beyond test scores. This includes documentation of student growth in academic discussions, writing development over time, and students' own reflections on their learning progress through portfolios.

Our commitment to English Language Learners extends beyond language acquisition to encompass the full development of students as confident, capable learners who can succeed in their chosen academic and professional pathways. Ultimately, we measure our success not just by English proficiency gains, but by our students' ability to use their multilingual skills to contribute meaningfully to their communities and achieve their educational goals.

CICA Professional Learning Structures

Bi-Weekly Friday PD

Our bi-weekly Friday afternoon professional learning sessions are designed as both collaborative inquiry spaces where educators engage in job-embedded learning directly connected to their daily practice, and also an opportunity to receive specialized instructional support that they or the Instructional Leadership Team (ILT) has requested. These sessions follow a flexible structure that can shift between collective inquiry—examining student work and learning data to collaboratively problem-solve around specific instructional challenges—and targeted professional development that addresses identified needs such as trauma-informed pedagogy, advanced strategies for supporting students with interrupted formal education, or innovative approaches to integrated content-language instruction.

Teachers work in cross-disciplinary teams when engaging in inquiry cycles, analyzing how their students are navigating rigorous academic content and sharing effective practices for maintaining high expectations while providing comprehensive support. When focused on specialized instruction, sessions might feature expert facilitators, peer observations with feedback, or deep dives into research-based strategies that teachers have specifically requested to strengthen their practice. This dual approach ensures that professional learning is both responsive to emerging classroom needs and proactive in building the specialized expertise our diverse adult learner population requires, while maintaining our commitment to practitioner-centered learning that directly impacts student success.

Bi-Monthly Principal PLC

Led by the Chief Academic Officer, principals analyze school-level data, align support systems for ELLs and students with interrupted formal education, and develop coordinated systems responses. This principal learning community operates as a space for collaborative problem-solving where school leaders can examine challenges, share effective practices, and develop coordinated approaches to supporting their unique adult learner populations. Sessions focus on analyzing school-level data to understand how students are progressing toward their educational goals, discussing instructional leadership strategies that support teachers in serving English Language Learners and students with interrupted formal education, and developing systems-level responses to emerging needs within their school communities. The Chief Academic Officer facilitates these meetings using the same inquiry-based approach that guides teacher professional learning, encouraging principals to bring real dilemmas from their practice, examine multiple perspectives, and test solutions collaboratively. This structure ensures that leadership decisions are grounded in evidence and aligned across both school sites, while providing principals with the professional support and intellectual partnership they need to lead effectively in the complex landscape of adult education. The PLC also serves as a space for principals to reflect on their own growth as instructional leaders and to coordinate their efforts in supporting teacher development and student success.

Twice Weekly Teacher PLCs

Teachers engage in professional learning community work twice weekly, with sessions strategically designed to strengthen both instructional planning and data-informed decision making. One session each week is dedicated to collaborative planning time where teachers work in grade-level or content-area teams to design learning experiences that integrate rigorous academic content with the specific supports their English Language Learners and students with interrupted formal education need to succeed. These co-planning sessions allow educators to share strategies, align expectations across courses, and ensure that assessment practices accurately capture student growth while maintaining high standards. The second weekly session follows protocols and practices that focus on collaborative examination of student work and performance data to understand learning patterns, identify instructional adjustments, and develop targeted interventions. During these data inquiry sessions, teachers bring actual student artifacts—writing samples, project work, assessment results—and engage in structured conversations that move beyond simply identifying which students are struggling to understand why certain approaches are or aren't working and what specific instructional moves might better support student learning. This dual structure ensures that teachers have dedicated time for both proactive planning and reflective analysis, creating a continuous cycle of improvement that keeps student learning at the center of all professional practice.

Teacher Coaching

CICA is launching Phase 1 of on-the-ground coaching by October 15, 2025. This will include the opportunity to observe instructional models, to co-plan with professionals with expertise in supporting students with interrupted formal education, and to engage in guided reflection on the impact of instruction.. Principals, the Director of Professional Learning, the Curriculum Coordinator, and teacher leaders will participate in a rigorous train-the-trainer model to enable sustained on-the-ground support of teachers' ongoing development.

The Role of Data and Assessments in Informing Instructional and Systems Improvement

Assessment is a core to instructional improvement at CICA. Not only does assessment tell us where our students are in their learning, but patterns in the data reveal where we need to focus our professional learning efforts. CICA is committed to creating a system that is responsive to what we are learning about our students and their needs. Leadership is curious about what is happening between the teacher and the student and rests its instructional improvement design on the data that comes from the classroom.

Formal Assessment and Improvement

The ILT will review CASAS data to understand students' academic progress and to track areas where we need to improve our instructional approach. In addition, the ILT will use CAASPP and CAST data to understand the general themes in improvement and then support teachers to use more granular classroom data to understand what is getting in the way of students making progress.

Informal Assessments and Improvement

Working in their PLCs teachers will use classroom-based data– both qualitative and quantitative to determine the areas of their practice where they would like more support. This is one source of the design for the content input on PL Fridays. The ILT will use classroom observation data to help determine the focus of improvement efforts.

Student Climate Surveys and Systems Improvement

Centering the students' experience as core to our approach to improving the learning experience The CICA instructional improvement process involves looking at both student mastery data and student perception data. One important source of student perception data is the student climate surveys. While we do not rely on this self-report data to give us the whole picture of the student learning experience, the data provides valuable insights into CICA's social and emotional conditions for learning. Annual anonymous surveys are administered in multiple languages (e.g.

English, Arabic, Spanish, Persian, Armenian, Pashto, Russian, Turkish, Ukrainian, Vietnamese, Chinese). Students access surveys via QR codes, push notifications, in-class support, and the Brain app; paraeducators provide language assistance. Survey domains include relationships, classroom climate, resources, goals/progress, safety/facilities, CTE/workforce, and curriculum/instruction.

Students have access to completing these surveys via QR codes, push notifications sent to their cell phones, with the support of their teachers in their classrooms, and via the Brain app. Teachers encourage and support student participation by engaging students in lessons that have practice surveys. Paraeducators are also utilized to provide language support during this process. The purpose of these surveys is to understand the following:

- Relationships
- Classroom Climate
- Classroom Support and Access to Resources
- Goal Setting & Student Progress
- Safety, Maintenance, and Facilities
- Workforce and CTE Programs
- Lessons, Instruction, and Curriculum

CICA students are asked to read each statement and indicate their level of agreement with the statement from the following options:

Student Academic Supports

Many of our students have little prior education in their native language and, for many of them, they come in with low levels of English, CICA provides extra support to ensure students' academic success. Teachers are available to meet with students by appointment to support students who are struggling academically.

Paraeducators

Paraeducators who work with credentialed teachers play an important role in supporting translation for our Level 0 students. There are wide variations in English learner levels and growth patterns among these students. Paraeducators work with our credentialed teachers to provide the individualized support needed to address varied student needs and learning patterns. They provide crucial language scaffolding by offering clarification in students' native languages when needed and creating more opportunities for meaningful language practice. Additionally, paraeducators who share students' cultural backgrounds create a more comfortable environment that reduces the anxiety often experienced by newcomers. While teachers focus primarily on academic instruction, paraeducators can provide crucial social-emotional support that newcomers need to navigate their new educational environment successfully. To improve student support with the CICA systems and academic support, CICA is looking to rebuild its paraeducator staff.

Literacy Support
During the 2025-2026 school year, CICA has budgeted for staff to provide literacy support to help English learners. This will focus on building literacy through phonemic awareness, phonics, vocabulary building, pronunciation, and writing skills.

Tutoring Program
CICA is currently redesigning a tutoring program for students. In prior years, the tutoring was delivered online. Based on feedback from students and staff, online tutoring did not effectively meet the needs of our student population. Key challenges, detailed below, included a lack of digital literacy skills, low student engagement, and limited availability of support. The new tutoring program will be responsive to these findings. As of this material revision, the CAO of HCCTS is conducting a review of potential tutoring approaches and Phase 1 of implementation will occur by October 25, 2025.

CICA Students & Devices

All CICA students are provided Chromebooks and hotspots so they are able to access their online learning tools, including their online curriculum.

Challenges for Students Accessing Online Tutoring

- Cultural Barriers: Afghan Women
    - Afghan women have the most urgent needs of all the populations we serve
    - Afghan women will not work one-on-one with male tutors
    - Afghan women typically have low technical skills
    - Afghan women typically have low literacy skills
    - In-person, woman-to-woman support by Dari- and Pashto-speaking academic staff is needed for this population
- Technology Accessibility
    - Students with low tech skills may not be able to access online tutoring that requires an online login
    - Students without internet access at home
    - Students without computers or laptops at home
    - Most online tutoring is chat-based
- Linguistic Barriers
    - Top 5 languages are: Dari, Pashto, Ukrainian, Russian, and Spanish
    - English-speaking tutors cannot effectively support students with low English proficiency

Instructional Days and Minutes Calculations
As a traditional independent study school, CICA ensures it meets instructional time requirements by documenting daily student engagement, evaluating work products for time value, and offering synchronous and asynchronous learning opportunities. Time value-earned depends on the certified teacher's judgment of individual work products and the time value that the teacher deems appropriate based on the teacher's assessment of the pupil's individual needs and capacities.

Engagement with the instructional program and time-value earned per student is tracked by the Assigned Work Record. The Assigned Work Record contains a record of daily engagement and documentation of the time value of each completed assignment. Students may only earn time value by engaging on days indicated as instructional days in the HCCTS Academic Calendar.

Graduation Requirements
A diploma requires 180 high school credits: 110 Academic (including 10 Workforce Readiness credits) and 70 Elective/CTE credits. Transfer and verified employment credits may apply. Once 180 credits are verified, students may apply for the diploma and are invited to the graduation ceremony.

Counselors develop graduation plans, conduct regular check-ins with progress reports, and—beginning 2024–25—advise on A–G pathways for college readiness.

Statutory compliance:

- AB 101 (Ethnic Studies): Offer a one-semester course; required for students graduating in 2029–30 and beyond (subject to appropriations).

- AB 2927 (Personal Finance): Offer a one-semester course by 2027–28; required for students graduating in 2030–31 and beyond.

Counselors help ensure students meet graduation requirements by developing graduation plans and conducting regular check-ins. During check-ins, counselors update students on their academic progress, including credit attainment and requirements remaining to meet graduation requirements. Each student is provided with an academic progress report. Beginning in the 2024–2025 school year, we have adopted A–G approved courses to expand college readiness opportunities for our students. As part of this effort, counselors engage students in conversations about their aspirations for higher education as they approach the high school program.

Subject to appropriations by the State, the Charter School will comply with requirements under AB 101 to offer a one-semester course in ethnic studies and require that students complete the same as a graduation requirement commencing with students graduating in the 2029-30 school year.

The Charter School will comply with requirements under AB 2927 to offer a one-semester course in personal finance by the 2027-28 school year and require that students complete the same as a graduation requirement commencing with students graduating in the 2030-31 school year.

Attendance Policy
CICA maintains SOPs compliant with Board Policies and EC §§ 51749.5–51749.6. Daily engagement with assignments and synchronous instruction is tracked and retained for at least three years. With the approval and oversight of the District, CICA will establish and maintain attendance SOPs compliant with Board Policies and EC § s 51749.5 and 51749.6. At all times, students' daily engagement with assignments and synchronous instruction will be tracked and recorded, and the records will be maintained for a minimum of three years. The time value of all attendance awarded will be at the judgment of a certified teacher. In any instance where in-person attendance is a requirement, such as participation in CTE programs, in-person attendance will be recorded by a certified teacher, and attendance records retained for a minimum of three years.

Engagement with the instructional program and time-value earned per student is tracked by the Assigned Work Record. The Assigned Work Record contains a record of daily engagement and documentation of the time value of each completed assignment. Students may only earn time value by engaging on days indicated as instructional days in the HCCTS Academic Calendar.

The Need for California Innovative Career Academy
The area covered by the Twin Rivers Unified School District has tremendous educational needs. While some of these needs were met in the past by the adult education program of Twin Rivers Unified School District, with budget cuts, most of these opportunities have gone away for those who do not have a U.S. high school diploma. This has greatly impacted student access to dropout recovery, as well as programs serving ex-offenders and immigrants. All of these groups not only have a direct need for services, but by helping them, CICA also helps the state of California by reducing welfare services, reducing recidivism, increasing the tax base, and increasing the cohesiveness of our society.

The Need for Dropout Recovery
Research has demonstrated that within a school year, a student drops out of high school every 9 seconds in the United States (Lehr, Johnson, Bremer, Cosio, & Thompson, 2004). Further, according to the California State Legislature, "Research suggests that fewer than 70 percent of 9th grade pupils in California, and in some school districts, fewer than 50 percent, graduate from high school" (Carter, 2011).

The Need to Educate Ex-Offenders
High school dropouts are much more likely to become incarcerated, and many families in the Twin Rivers district are affected by having a family member who is an ex-offender. California Innovative Career Academy will be able to help rehabilitate these ex-offenders and provide them with real job skills. By being able to provide for their family through legal employment, children of ex-offenders will have better role models and be more likely to break the cycle of crime.

Benefits and Potential Impact on Twin Rivers Unified School District
CICA will have a positive benefit to the Twin Rivers Unified School District. Given that CICA will serve adults, no students will come from existing Twin Rivers traditional K-12 schools. Further, by educating the parents of students in the Twin Rivers traditional K-12 schools, these younger students will likely have greater academic success. By authorizing CICA as an independent charter school, Twin Rivers Unified School District will not take on any additional risks or insurance costs of the charter school.

Workforce Readiness
The Workforce Readiness program equips students with essential career skills and technical knowledge across multiple pathways, preparing them for success in the modern workforce and further education. The Workforce Readiness course emphasizes digital literacy, career exploration, employability skills, and professional communication, supported by practical experiences such as resume building and mock interviews.

CTE Programs
CICA is currently in the process of developing the CTE program. To grow capacity and course offerings, our CTE program is entering a redesign. During the 2025-26 school year, we are thoughtfully using labor market data, community partnerships, and teacher input to shape offerings that will set our learners up for success. The plan emphasizes clear pathways, flexible schedules, strong language supports, and meaningful work-based learning. Courses will be carefully vetted and released in phases based on sustainable capacity and resources.

CICA will have seven CTE programs in the 2025-2026 school year:
1. Culinary Arts
2. Digital Literacy and Multimedia
3. Early Childhood Education (ECE)
4. Medical Services
5. Microsoft Office Specialist (MOS) Certification
6. Personal Finance
7. Real Estate

Transferability of Courses
Governing Law: If the proposed charter school will serve high school pupils, the manner in which the charter school will inform parents about the transferability of courses to other public high schools and the eligibility of courses to meet college entrance requirements. Courses offered by the charter school that are accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges may be considered transferable, and courses approved by the University of California or the California State University as creditable under the "A to G" admissions criteria may be considered to meet college entrance requirements. (California Education Code § 47605 (c) (5) (A) (iii).)

Information about WASC accreditation can be found at CICA's website. CICA is currently WASC-accredited through June 30, 2030.

Technology
Technology is integral to academic success and workforce readiness. Given varied digital literacy levels, CICA provides structured exposure to tools (Microsoft Office, Google Classroom, web-based reading programs, tutorials) and models tech use in instruction. The IT Department (five FTE) supports teachers and students and has standardized classroom access across sites.

Equipment available upon request: Chromebooks, headphones/earbuds, projector screens.

CICA seeks to truly integrate technology into students' lives via classroom lessons, relevant examples, classwork, projects, and practical experience communicating in the modern world. Technology standards and objectives are integrated into the curriculum and are clearly defined for the teachers. Across varying sites, the teachers incorporate technology into their lessons. Teachers use educational learning videos, tutorials, web-based reading programs, Microsoft Office, and Google Classroom. Teachers model the use of technology in their classrooms and show students how to access and utilize Google Docs, emails, etc. CICA's goal is to have all teachers using and adapting technology to accommodate the students' levels and needs.

In recent years, CICA has overcome a complex challenge with technology. Previously, not all of the students, teachers, and sites had the same level of access to technology, nor was the same level of technological access possible at all sites. The IT Department has resolved the disparity issues among classrooms, and currently, all classrooms have access to the same equipment.

Through consistent exposure to digital tools across courses and targeted instruction in digital literacy, the program ensures that students develop the technological competencies necessary for academic advancement, workplace readiness, and full participation in modern society. Technology, academic success, career goals, and social engagement are all important for students, and we believe that in order for students to be fully successful in the 21st century, they must become digitally literate.

Student Services

CICA has the unique opportunity to work with adult learners who have faced many challenges and require both academic and personal support to successfully meet their academic and career goals. In the 2025-26 school year, the support staff was greatly reduced, and CICA continues to work to rebuild some of those services. At the time of this material revision, there is an Intervention Coordinator position being developed to support partnerships with community agencies. These agencies provide essential support well beyond what CICA can offer including dental services, food, housing support, etc.

Orientation/Student Onboarding
Student Services holds an orientation at the beginning of each year to support students in becoming fluent in the CICA system and help them make informed decisions about their academic plan. In August 2025, orientation was extended to cover new attendance requirements, a five-period bell schedule, and the Savvas curriculum.

Navigators
Dedicated staff are needed to ensure every student understands all of the services available to them. With students who speak over 39 languages, often with limited English proficiency, Navigators serve a critical role by communicating with students and providing academic and career support and access to community resources. CICA Navigators speak English, Farsi/Dari, Spanish, Russian, Armenian, and Pashto, and travel to all campuses to present on services and programs. In June 2025, the Navigators were released from their positions. As of the writing of this material revision, HCCTS is working to rebuild the Navigator program for implementation in January of 2026.

Student Advisory Council
CICA is in the foundational stage of assembling a student advisory council. In September and October, the Chief Academic Officer will meet with students who are recommended by their teachers as possible advisory members. The first student advisory council meeting is set for mid-November and will meet quarterly. The intention for this group is to support increased agency, belonging, and leadership, as well as bring the student perspective to CICA initiatives. The quarterly meetings provide consistent opportunities for students to share their experiences, identify challenges, and contribute to solutions that enhance the educational environment for all newcomers, ultimately supporting their academic success and social-emotional well-being.

Community Partnerships
CICA serves a very high-need student population and has developed multiple partnerships with external organizations to address those needs. Since opening in the 2019-2020 school year, 13 partnerships have been established. These partnerships expand the school's reach within the community and increase student access to the tools necessary to achieve their goals. Partnership refers to a collaborative relationship between Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools (HCCTS) and an external agency that supports students by facilitating access to essential services. These partnerships may be formalized through a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) or remain informal and often involve the exchange of resources, services, and information aligned with shared goals to improve student outcomes and well-being. In some cases, partnerships include agreements related to shared locations, supporting educational efforts by expanding access to instruction and services in settings where students already utilize essential resources.

These partnerships include the following organizations:

- SALAM Islamic Center
- SHRA
- La Familia Counseling Center
- CalAsian Chamber of Commerce
- Lao Family Community Development
- Department of Human Assistance
- Sacramento Employment and Training Agency (SETA)
- Mack Road Partnership

Many of these community partners provide support that is beyond the scope of CICA services. This includes connecting students to dental services, food banks, clothing, etc.

Student Support and Counseling
We are proud to have highly trained, compassionate counselors who support every student. Our counselors provide assistance and information on many issues, including:

- Family issues
- Personal issues
- Conflict management
- Substance abuse and recovery
- Student support groups
- Homeless services
- Accessing government programs
- FAFSA
- Parenting and family resources

Our students face many challenges and have many barriers to completing their education and accomplishing their goals. At CICA, our counselors understand our students' needs and assist them by addressing barriers because we want our students to complete their classes and graduate. We believe that by meeting our students where they are, they are more likely to continue and complete their programs to graduate.

Plans for Specific Populations

English Learner (EL) Services and Newcomer Supports:
CICA provides comprehensive support for newcomer students and English language learners. CICA student services staff provide comprehensive orientation services to new and veteran students to support them in being able to "read their environment" and develop a fluency in navigating the CICA system. The academic supports are listed in the educational philosophy section. CICA also provides native language support when available, along with cultural transition assistance. Specialized programming for recently arrived immigrant students, including orientation to U.S. school systems, technology setup support, accelerated English language acquisition, academic skill building, and social-emotional support to ease cultural transitions. We provide translation services and family engagement programs to support the entire family's integration into our school community. Teachers adapt content, assignments, and assessments to match students' language levels, ensuring they can access and engage with core academic material. English learners receive targeted language support embedded within subject-area instruction, allowing them to build both academic and linguistic skills simultaneously. This approach supports students in progressing toward English fluency while also earning high school credits toward graduation.

Plan for Students Who Are Academically Low Achieving
Independent Study labs allow students to complete required work in a self-paced fashion, allowing them additional time to master a subject before proceeding. Further, courses that are more set-paced will be designed to incorporate multiple modalities of learning to assist all students to success, including those who may be academically low achieving in a traditional school setting. This includes the use of more frequent one-on-one meetings and first language support to ensure content accessibility. Instructional pacing and support will be responsive to student needs, creating an inclusive environment where all learners have a pathway to mastery.

Plan for Students Who Are Academically High Achieving
Independent Study labs will allow students who are academically high-achieving to learn in an accelerated manner, so that they can complete their diplomas quickly. Because CICA serves adults aged 22 and older who do not possess a U.S. high school diploma, we often enroll immigrants with professional expertise from their home countries. For example, a student from Russia who previously worked as a doctor before immigrating to the U.S. would benefit from an accelerated rate in a life science class. The flexibility of the independent study model honors prior knowledge and experience, enabling students to move efficiently through material they already understand. This approach helps students re-enter the workforce or pursue higher education without unnecessary delays.

Students with Disabilities
Overview
As a charter school, CICA does not plan to join a Special Education Local Plan Area (SELPA) and will remain a "school of the district" for SELPA purposes. CICA will make all necessary arrangements to serve students with disabilities and comply with all applicable federal, state, and school district mandates serving students with disabilities, including but not limited to § 504 of the Rehabilitation Act ("Section 504"), the Americans with Disabilities Act ("ADA") and the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 ("IDEIA"). CICA enrolls all eligible students and provides FAPE through 504 plans and appropriate accommodations in compliance with § 504, ADA, and IDEIA.

IDEIA applies to children with disabilities and does not apply to adult students over the age of 21.[2] California likewise requires special education services for students until age 21. CICA integrates IDEIA compliance principles as part of its mission to provide K-12 educational opportunities to adult students according to all applicable laws.

[2] 20 U.S.C. 1412(a)(1)(A): "A free appropriate public education is available to all children with disabilities residing in the State between the ages of 3 and 21, inclusive..."

Disabled students with or without a previous IEP may request a reasonable accommodation by contacting their teacher, counselor, or administrator. CICA does not require students to provide detailed medical records to document a disability. A doctor's note or other documentation of impairment, including records of academic impairment, may support an accommodation need. Students also have the right to refuse accommodation solutions offered by the school or propose a different alternative as part of the interactive process.

Any decision to deny or grant a request for reasonable accommodation by the SST shall be made in accordance with applicable federal and state law, including IDEIA, ADA, and the California Education Code. Reasonable accommodation can include, but are not limited to, modifications to school policies, practices, or procedures; auxiliary aids for classroom learning such as transcripts, readers, or modified equipment; altered testing conditions; presence of a student's trained service animal; or other measures necessary to ensure equal access to CICA's educational programs, as required by 304 C.F.R. 104.44. CICA may deny accommodation requests by a person with a qualifying disability and documented need if the requested accommodation imposes an undue financial, operational, or administrative burden, or fundamentally alters its educational program, provided no reasonable alternative can be found to meet the student's needs.

Element B Measurable Student Outcomes and Element C Student Progress Measurements

"The measurable pupil outcomes identified for use by the charter school. "Pupil outcomes," for purposes of this part, means the extent to which all pupils of the charter school demonstrate that they have attained the skills, knowledge, and attitudes specified as goals in the charter school's educational program. Pupil outcomes shall include outcomes that address increases in pupil academic achievement both schoolwide and for all pupil subgroups served by the charter school, as that term is defined in subparagraph (a) of Section 52052. The pupil outcomes shall align with the state priorities, as described in subdivision (d) of Section 52060, that apply for the grade levels served by the charter school." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(B).)

"The method by which pupil progress in meeting those pupil outcomes is to be measured. To the extent practicable, the method for measuring pupil outcomes for state priorities shall be consistent with the way information is reported on a school accountability report card." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(C).)

Measurable Goals of the Educational Program

CICA (California Innovative Career Academy) was founded to serve historically disadvantaged populations. It has always served a larger than 90% socially and economically disadvantaged student population. The founding philosophy of CICA demands that it offer extensive support beyond that which would normally be available to students in a traditional high school setting and far beyond that available in CAEP settings. To that end, all support services are available to all students. This, along with the radically different makeup of the CICA student population compared to most schools, has led CICA to set its performance targets for all students rather than for traditionally designated subgroups.

Alignment with State Priorities

STATE PRIORITY #1— BASIC SERVICES The degree to which teachers are appropriately assigned (E.C. §44258.9) and fully credentialed, and every pupil has sufficient access to standards-aligned instructional materials (E.C. § 60119), and school facilities are maintained in good repair (E.C. §17002(d))

Subpriority B: Standardized Tests (SBAC)
Goal	Implement two mandatory trainings on Smarter Balanced assessment for teachers and paraeducators.
Method	CICA will begin implementation of Smarter Balanced (SBAC) for 11th grade in the 2025-2026 school year. The designated LEA CAASPP coordinator will coordinate training and implementation.
Measurement	The designated LEA CAASPP coordinator will report CAASPP results to CICA and TRUSD.

Determining Academic Standing (Grade Level)
Upon admission to CICA, a student's grade level is determined based on the evaluation of transcripts of any previous schooling. Students enroll with a very wide variety of educational attainment, academic skills, credits, and English language proficiency. Students are placed in grade levels based on credit attainment.

Grade Level
Grade 9	0-49 credits
Grade 10	50-99 credits
Grade 11 (proposed addition)	100-149 credits
Grade 12	150-200 Credits

Assessment
CICA uses a variety of formative and summative assessments to evaluate our students. During enrollment, students participate in placement testing to determine English proficiency, including CASAS testing. Students participate in content knowledge and skills-based assessments in their lessons. CASAS assessments are administered to all students every six to eight weeks. EL Civics assessments are administered each term.

Element B Measurable Student Outcomes and Element C Student Progress Measurements

The evaluation of student learning has four goals in the following priority:

1. To assist student learning as a diagnostic tool by determining which specific content areas a student has not mastered so they can improve their learning in that specific area.
2. To use aggregated measurements of student learning as part of the measurement of how the school as a whole is performing.
3. To determine if a student has met or exceeded the necessary level of competency to gain formal recognition, such as to complete a level or receive a diploma, licensure, or certification.
4. To determine if the student is underperforming in relation to their peer group and evaluate if intervention supports are required.

Key Measurement Methods

Measurement Outcome	Method of Measurement	Frequency of Assessment
CASAS Gains	CASAS Reading, Listening, and Math assessments	Every 6 to 8 weeks
English Language Proficiency Progress	Internally developed ESL Level placement / exit test	At Enrollment, End of Term
EL Civics Assessments	CASAS approved assessment plans (COAAPS)	Three times each year in the following months: November, March, June
High School Content Mastery	Course assessments and course grades Savvas imbedded assessments	At the end of every high school course Savvas: mid-unit assessments; formal and informal evaluations
ELA and Math Achievement	Smarter Balanced (CAASPP) Savvas imbedded assessments	CAASPP: Once in grade 11. Savvas: mid-unit assessments; formal and informal evaluations
Science Achievement	CAST Savvas imbedded assessments	Once in high school grades 10 or 12. Savvas: mid-unit assessments; formal and informal evaluations

English Language Proficiency Placement
CICA assesses all students as part of the enrollment process through CASAS testing to establish a baseline for academic achievement. Additionally, students of limited English proficiency will participate in an English Learner Assessment (ELA) placement test to determine English proficiency.

Element B Measurable Student Outcomes and Element C Student Progress Measurements

State Testing

In compliance with California Education Code requirements, CICA will offer the CAASPP Smarter Balanced Assessments Consortium (SBAC) to all students in 11th grade. CICA also offers California Science Tests (CAST) to all 12th-grade students who have not previously taken the science test in high school. Testing will be coordinated by the Assessment Coordinator with academic staff and test proctors. Because CAASPP testing is new to CICA, the determination of the details of testing windows and procedures will be an ongoing process by academic and assessment staff.

Student Growth

CICA uses the Comprehensive Adult Student Assessment System (CASAS), a competency-based adult assessment program validated by the U.S. Department of Education for use in adult education. While CICA is a K-12 institution, there are few assessment programs designed to evaluate the growth of adult students. Consequently, CASAS is an essential tool for the evaluation of student progress at CICA. The test series used by CICA is listed below.

Test Series
CASAS Reading STEPS
CASAS Listening STEPS
CASAS Reading GOALS 2
CASAS Math GOALS 2

Students receive CASAS testing every 7 weeks. Testing is conducted via a kiosk application installed on CICA chromebooks. Testing can only occur in a proctored environment and is conducted by test proctors or teachers.

All students receive CASAS reading tests. CASAS Math assessments are administered to all students enrolled in math courses to evaluate the effectiveness of the instruction they receive.

Schoolwide CASAS outcomes include average point gain, measurable skills gains, and pre and post testing rates. Below are the average point gains for the previous three program years.

Average Point Gain per Program Year
	2022-2023	2023-2024	2024-2025
ELL
CASAS Reading	5.8	3.9	6.2
CASAS Listening	8.4	4.7	6.2
ABE
CASAS Reading	5.0	4.9	5.6

Element B Measurable Student Outcomes and Element C Student Progress Measurements

CASAS Math	2.5	4.9	6.4

The data shows consistent improvement in student outcomes. particularly in the 2024–2025 school year. For ELL students, both CASAS Reading and Listening scores rebounded after a dip in 2023–2024, each rising to 6.2 points—the highest gains observed over the three-year span—indicating renewed effectiveness in language instruction. In the HS program, CASAS Math scores saw the most notable growth, more than doubling from 4.9 to 6.4, which suggests that recent changes in math curriculum or support have had a strong impact. ABE Reading scores also increased steadily, climbing each year from 5.0 to 5.6, pointing to sustained literacy development. These trends highlight encouraging progress in both foundational literacy and numeracy across programs.

Measurable skills gains represent the number of students progressing in an Educational Functioning Level as defined by the National Reporting System (NRS), the federal accountability system. Measurable skills gains are an important indicator of both English language and academic progress.

CICA	68.9%	69.8%	73.0%
CA State Average	44.36%	44.8%	TBD

CASAS pre and post tests are essential for measuring student progress but also serve as an important measure of student engagement.

Percentage of Learners with Pre and Post CASAS Test

The data above reflects a clear upward trend in the percentage of students who received both a pre- and post-test over the past three years. In 2022–2023, 57% of students received both tests. This increased to 66% in 2023–2024 and rose again to 71% in 2024–2025. This steady improvement demonstrates CICA's growing commitment to data-driven instruction and collective efforts to ensure more students are assessed consistently, allowing CICA to better capture and respond to their academic development.

Teachers, counselors, and proctors at CICA work diligently to ensure that all students complete both the CASAS pre- and post-tests; however, reaching 100% participation remains a challenge.

To address this, CICA is implementing several strategic measures, including hiring additional proctors, expanding staff training, purchasing more laptops to support testing, and developing a more structured and comprehensive testing schedule. Additionally, the recent hiring (August 2024) of a dedicated CASAS Coordinator has provided focused leadership to further strengthen the assessment processes. Through these efforts, CICA is committed to increasing the percentage of students completing both assessments in the coming years.

EL Civics Civic Objective and Additional Assessment Plan Data (COAAP)

Integrated English Literacy and Civics (IELCE/EL Civics) programs provide English learners with literacy instruction while developing the civic knowledge and workforce skills needed to participate fully in U.S. society. Assessments are developed according to COAAPs supplied by CASAS and reported to the state via TOPSpro Enterprise.

For the past five years, CICA administered EL Civics assessments through Google Forms, collating results via automated Google API scripts. While cost-effective, this approach became unsustainable as the dataset expanded. In 2025, CICA piloted the use of Edcite, which streamlined reporting, improved assessment quality, and enabled more detailed tracking of student outcomes.

Program Data

Results from the past two program years demonstrate both the scale of participation and consistently strong pass rates:

- 2023–24: Students attempted 1,455 assessments, with 1,045 passes (72% pass rate). Themes included Employment, Personal Finance, and DMV readiness.
- 2024–25: Participation expanded significantly, with 2,837 assessments attempted and 2,027 passes (71% pass rate). Themes included Employment, Health and Nutrition, and Education.

These results indicate both growth in student participation and stable success rates, demonstrating that English learners are not only engaging in EL Civics instruction but are mastering key competencies in employment readiness, financial literacy, health, and civic education. The expansion from 1,455 to 2,837 attempted assessments in just one year reflects increased system capacity, improved reporting structures, and the successful adoption of Edcite as a platform.

High School Graduation

Graduation is the most powerful marker of student success at CICA. For our adult learners, graduation is more than a diploma—it represents years of determination, resilience, and perseverance in the face of significant challenges. Many students have overcome interrupted education, displacement, language barriers, and personal hardships to reach this milestone. At CICA, graduation is treated as a holiday: a joyful celebration for students, families, and staff alike.

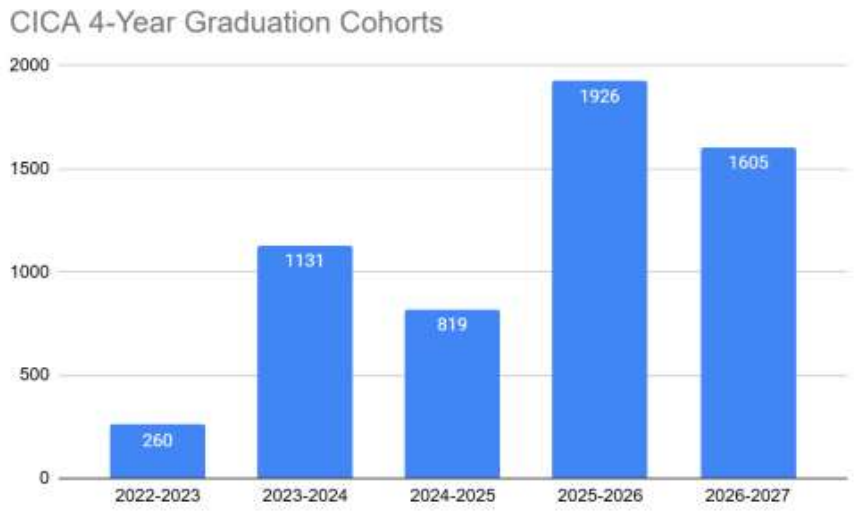
Because its students complete credits throughout the year, CICA offers multiple graduation ceremonies annually—in both summer and winter—so every student has the opportunity to "walk the stage" in front of their community. Each year, the ceremony has grown in size and prominence, with venues expanding to accommodate the increasing number of graduates.

CICA Cohort Graduation

CICA faces unique challenges in relation to traditional 4- and 5-year cohort graduation rates. Before 2021, English learners were designated as primary students in grades 1–2. In 2020–21, all CICA students were redesignated as high school students to better reflect their adult status. This redesignation dramatically increased the size of the 4-year cohort, even though over 80% of entering students began with limited secondary education skills and required extended time in grade 9 to develop English and academic foundations.

Conversely, some students—such as immigrants arriving with stronger English proficiency and prior academic backgrounds—graduate much more quickly. For example, Winter 2025 graduates averaged 2.5 years of enrollment, well outside the traditional 4-year window. These dynamics lead to artificially low cohort rates that do not accurately represent student success.

The chart below illustrates these complexities:



CICA 4-Year Cohorts: While the 4-year cohort count grew from 260 (2022–23) to 1,605 projected in 2026–27, only a fraction of actual graduates appear in these rates. In 2024–25, for instance, just 76 of 300+ graduates were captured in the 4-year outcome.

CICA 1-Year Graduation Rate

To better reflect the reality of adult education, CICA also tracks and reports the 1-Year DASS Graduation Rate, which measures the percentage of 12th graders completing a diploma within the same program year.

- Growth: The 1-year rate nearly doubled in 2024–25, reaching 43.2%, compared to 22.6% in 2023–24.

- Raw Numbers: Graduates reported in CICA's LCAP also increased steadily from 200 (2022–23) to 323 (2024–25).

CICA students must work to overcome a wide variety of barriers to participate in education and achieve academic success. An adult learner is engaged with responsibilities and demands that pay no respect to their academic journey, making them inherently at very high risk of not completing their education. In every sense, these are alternative students. In recognition, CICA continues to track and report the 1-year graduation rate. The 1-Year graduation rate is calculated as follows:

$$\frac{\text{\# graduates as reported in CALPADS - (all students without 90 days cumulative enrollment)}}{\text{All students enrolled in 12th grade for the program year - (all students without 90 days cumulative}}$$ enrollment)

This metric, combined with raw graduate counts, provides a more accurate picture of CICA's impact, capturing the success of students who accelerate or extend their time beyond traditional cohorts. The upward trend in both rate and number of graduates demonstrates the effectiveness of CICA's academic model and support systems.

ELL Level Progress

English Language learners progress through courses designed to advance their English Language skills while allowing them to engage with increasingly in-depth standards-aligned content.

Graduation outcomes are directly tied to English Learner advancement. Reaching Level 3 (Intermediate) in ELD marks a pivotal milestone: students transition into the full high school program, where they engage with core academic standards while continuing to receive integrated English language support. This bridge ensures that English acquisition and diploma attainment are inseparable parts of student success.

Alternative School Status

CICA is fully accountable to the California Department of Education (CDE) to ensure that students meet state standards. California adopted the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) in 2013, creating the California School Dashboard to monitor performance across schools. However, these traditional accountability measures were designed for K–12 systems and often fail to capture the unique realities of adult and alternative learners.

To address this gap, the CDE created the Dashboard Alternative School Status (DASS) system, which provides alternative schools with more appropriate accountability metrics. When CICA opened its main hub in Sacramento in August 2019, it adopted DASS and has consistently complied with its requirements. In November 2024, CICA worked with Twin Rivers Unified to finalize a set of DASS-aligned metrics. While CICA was notified in December 2025 that it would lose official DASS status, the school remains deeply committed to accountability. We continue to track these measures internally—now reported as CICA Academic Achievement Metrics—to ensure transparency, rigor, and continuous improvement.

Teacher-Designed Formative Assessments

CICA teachers employ a wide range of informal and formative assessment strategies to monitor student learning and ensure mastery across subjects, including reading and vocabulary, writing and grammar, speaking and pronunciation, listening, digital literacy, mathematics and consumer economics, science, history/social science, government and law, health, and independent living.

Formative assessments are integrated into daily instruction and provide timely feedback to guide both teaching and learning. Common tools include:

- Benchmark assessments to measure progress against standards
- Oral and multimedia presentations to assess communication and digital skills
- Written assignments such as journals, essays, research projects, and book reports
- Performance-based tasks, including independent projects, portfolios, and demonstrations
- Traditional measures such as tests, quizzes, grammar diagnostics, and comprehension checks
- Daily learning artifacts such as homework, workbook activities, and applied practice

Through this comprehensive approach, teachers are able to monitor progress continuously, adjust instruction responsively, and ensure that students are building the knowledge and skills required for academic advancement and real-world success.

Grading and Progress Reporting Systems

CICA maintains a rigorous and transparent grading and reporting system designed to hold students to high standards while providing multiple opportunities for mastery. The school uses a traditional A–F grading scale, with GPA points assigned as follows: A = 4.0, B = 3.0, C = 2.0, D

= 1.0, and F = 0.0. Although teachers may add plus or minus designations, these do not alter the GPA value. To ensure deep learning and persistence, CICA requires that students earn at least a "B" (80%) or higher to receive credit for a course. Students who earn below a "B" must revise or redo work and demonstrate mastery before credit is awarded.

Grades are issued at multiple points—upon course completion, partial completions, or at the end of the term—ensuring timely feedback to students and counselors. In addition to letter grades, teachers provide narrative feedback and individualized support, fostering a growth mindset and continuous improvement.

Evaluation Methods

CICA uses a multi-method evaluation system to measure whether students meet academic expectations and mastery standards. Methods include:

- Teacher-designed assessments (benchmarks, unit tests, projects, and presentations)
- Student self-assessments and reflection
- Publisher-embedded assessments (e.g., Savvas, Burlington English, CASAS-aligned resources)
- Portfolios of student work (writing samples, research projects, digital artifacts)

High school course completion is directly tied to end-of-unit and end-of-course assessments, with a minimum passing threshold of 80%. This ensures both rigor and consistency across the curriculum.

Plan to Collect, Analyze, Use, and Report Academic Performance and Other Data
CICA uses assessment data in four primary ways. First, assessment serves as a diagnostic tool to identify content areas a student has not yet mastered. This allows instructional staff to gain a clear understanding of each student's gaps in content knowledge and skill development, enabling targeted intervention and personalized instruction.

Second, aggregated student learning data are used to evaluate overall school performance. A dedicated team of professionals at CICA analyzes a broad range of academic indicators, including enrollment trends, placement assessments, demographic data, CASAS assessments and gains, course grades, graduation rates, and student retention. By examining student outcomes over time, the school is able to assess performance by teacher, course, program, and schoolwide, and compare results to those of similar institutions.

Third, assessment data informs decisions regarding student progression and formal recognition, such as level completion, graduation, licensure, or certification.

Finally, assessments are used to identify students who may be underperforming relative to their peer group, prompting review of placement and potential intervention supports. In cases where a student is not adequately progressing in a course, reassignment to a remedial course or additional instructional support from teachers, paraeducators, or specialists may be required to ensure the student is able to complete course materials and meet academic expectations.

This cycle is led by the Instructional Leadership Team (ILT) and supported by counselors, paraeducators, and assessment staff, ensuring that data directly shape instruction and student support.

Retention
CICA addresses student retention through the development of school-based student engagement systems and strong partnerships that support teaching, learning, and student achievement. These student engagement systems coordinate efforts to strengthen two-way communication between students and the school. Retention is supported by a team of professionals, including counselors and academic staff. This collaborative approach enhances student relationships and contributes to increased achievement and retention.

Program Audit
CICA provides TRUSD with a comprehensive annual performance report that includes, at a minimum, the following data:

- A summary showing student progress toward the pupil outcomes using data from the assessment instruments.
- A summary of major decisions and policies established by the HCCTS Board of Directors during the year.
- Data on the level of student involvement in CICA and summary data from an annual student satisfaction survey.
- Data regarding the number of staff working at CICA and their qualifications.
- A copy of the CICA health and safety policies and/or a summary of any major changes to those policies during the year.
- An overview of CICA admissions practices during the year and data regarding the numbers of students enrolled, the number on waitlists, and the number of students expelled and/or suspended.
- Analyses of the effectiveness of CICA's internal and external dispute mechanisms and data on the number and resolution of disputes and complaints.

Local Control and Accountability Plan (LCAP) CICA develops its Local Control Accountability Plan (LCAP) in accordance with the template adopted by the State Board of Education. The LCAP serves as the school's comprehensive planning and accountability tool, integrating academic goals, fiscal priorities, and stakeholder input. Previous to the adoption of a state board template, CICA will follow the basic methods used for the School Accountability Report Card. The plan includes measurable pupil outcomes aligned to the state priorities outlined in California Education Code § 52060(d), as well as local priorities identified by CICA to address the specific needs of adult learners. These priorities encompass academic achievement, student engagement, school climate, access to a broad course of study, and workforce readiness. The LCAP is updated annually through a collaborative process that engages students, staff, and community partners. Each year, CICA presents both the annual update to the LCAP and the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) budget overview for parents at a public meeting of the Board of Directors, no later than February 28. This presentation ensures transparency, provides opportunities for feedback, and demonstrates the school's commitment to continuous improvement and fiscal responsibility.

Element B Measurable Student Outcomes and Element C Student Progress Measurements

Element D Governance

"The governance structure of the charter school, including, but not limited to, the process to be followed by the charter school to ensure parental involvement." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(D).)

California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) operates as a directly funded independent charter school under Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools, a California nonprofit public benefit corporation, in compliance with applicable California law and federal law. CICA commits to maintaining its nonprofit status in good standing and "active" status throughout the term of its Charter.

The Charter School is governed by the Highlands Community Charter and Technical School's Board of Directors (the "Board"), which is the governing authority for CICA and is ultimately responsible for ensuring that the school remains faithful to its mission, operates in compliance with its charter, and maintains fiscal viability. The Board functions in accordance with its bylaws, California nonprofit law, and applicable provisions of the Education Code. While the Board maintains fiduciary responsibility and ultimate decision-making authority, it delegates day-to-day management to CICA's Executive Leadership Team.

CICA operates autonomously while maintaining a cooperative relationship with Twin Rivers Unified School District (TRUSD), with supervisory oversight as required by statute and other contracted services as negotiated between CICA and TRUSD. Pursuant to California Education Code § 47604(d), TRUSD will not be liable for the debts and obligations of CICA, operated by a California public benefit corporation, or for claims arising from the performance of acts, errors, or omissions by CICA as long as TRUSD has complied with all oversight responsibilities required by law.

Governance Procedures and Operations

Meeting Requirements and Procedures

All meetings of the CICA Board of Directors are conducted in full compliance with the Ralph M. Brown Act and Education Code § 47604.1(c). Meetings are open to the public, and each agenda includes an opportunity for community input regarding the California Innovative Career Academy.

Agendas are posted prominently at the school's main office and on the CICA website at least 72 hours in advance of regular meetings and 24 hours in advance of special meetings. Emergency meetings may be called without standard notice when immediate action is required, consistent with the Brown Act.

Meetings are held at the principal office of CICA or at other publicly accessible, non-discriminatory locations within California as designated by Board resolution or meeting notice.

Teleconferencing is permitted, provided that the public may attend from all listed locations and all votes are conducted by roll call. Pursuant to AB 2449 (effective through January 1, 2026), Board members may also participate remotely under specific conditions without disclosing their physical location, provided public access requirements are maintained.

Approved minutes are posted to the CICA website within 72 hours and are made available to the public upon request. The Board meets regularly—typically monthly during the school year—and adopts an annual calendar of meetings, with adjustments made as needed to accommodate holidays or other scheduling conflicts.

Decision-Making Procedures

CICA retains General Counsel to ensure Brown Act compliance in all CICA board activities, including decision-making procedures. Board members have also been provided with Brown Act reference materials and may participate in yearly meetings held by California Charter Schools Association ("CCSA") and/or Charter Schools Development Center ("CSDC"), which feature ethics presentations, including Brown Act and conflict of interest reviews. All Board members are encouraged to participate in such presentations.

A majority of all voting Board members constitutes a quorum for all business transactions except adjournment. Every action taken or decision made by a majority of Board members present at a duly held Board meeting is considered an act of the Board, subject to more stringent provisions of the California Nonprofit Public Benefit Corporation Law, including, without limitation, those provisions relating to:

- Approval of contracts or transactions in which a director has a direct or indirect material financial interest,
- Approval of certain transactions between corporations having common directorships,
- Creation of and appointments to committees of the board, and
- Indemnification of directors.

Meetings may be held by telephone or other telecommunications equipment pursuant CICA Bylaws and in accordance with the terms and provisions of the Ralph M. Brown Act, California Government Code Sections 54950, et seq., as said chapter may be modified by subsequent legislation.

Board Composition and Membership

Board of Directors

Sharon Rocco (Corporate Vice-President)

Sharon Rocco was born in Oregon and moved to California in 1959. In 1967, Rocco moved to Manila, Republic of the Philippines, and graduated high school from Brent Episcopalian Boarding School in Baguio City. In 1969, she returned to Sacramento, California and completed college at California State University, Sacramento with a Bachelor's degree in Social Work and Corrections. Sharon began her career in 1975 with the California Department of Corrections as a Parole Agent and served both in rank and file and administrative positions until she retired in 2005. Sharon was elected to Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools' Board of Directors in July 2015.

Mary DeChance (Corporate Treasurer)

Mary DeChance is an educational leader who began her career as a Resource Specialist and later made meaningful impacts as a Principal, District Director of Special Education, District Director and Interim Coordinator for Early Childhood Education. Mary most recently was Faculty Lead at National University serving from 2005 until her retirement in 2016. Mary holds a BA in Behavioral Science and a Master's Degree in Special Education from the National University. Mary was appointed to the Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools board in November 2020 where she will be a welcome addition to the nine-person board.

Mike Reid (Corporate President)

Mike Reid is a Board Member for Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools. He has been an educator for over 38 years and has served in various roles throughout his career, including teacher, Vice-Principal, Principal, and Schools Superintendent. He has had the opportunity to assist and be recognized for three California Distinguished Schools.

His work in charter schools spans over nine years, during which he oversaw the development of a new charter school and served as the Learning Analyst for another. He also served as a consultant for the state of Hawaii for nearly three years, focusing on school academic improvement.

Board Member Selection Process
The Board of Directors shall consist of a minimum of three and a maximum of eight members; however, following the resignation of any director serving as of September 20, 2024, the maximum number of members shall be reduced to seven. To mitigate the occurrence of tie votes, the Board endeavors to maintain an odd number of members. Furthermore, school districts or county offices authorized to oversee HCCTS schools are entitled to appoint one voting representative to the Board.

Candidates for Board membership are sought from diverse professional backgrounds, including education, finance, law, public policy, human resources, and community leadership. Ideal candidates demonstrate alignment with CICA's mission, a commitment to its success, and the ability to provide expertise or resources in support of the school.

People who work for the school (or have close family ties to someone who does) cannot serve on the Board. Each director serves a 3-year term and stays in the role until a new director is chosen. If a director leaves—due to resignation, death, legal issues, or missing three meetings—the Board can fill that spot by majority vote. Chartering authorities can fill or remove their own representatives.

In accordance with Education Code § 47604.2(b)(2), the Board may, upon receipt of a qualifying petition, choose to include at least one student member. If appointed, the student member may be granted preferential voting rights as provided by law.

Board members may resign at any time by submitting written notice. However, no resignation shall be effective if it would reduce the Board below the minimum required membership, unless the Attorney General is notified. Should a vacancy arise due to resignation, death, legal disqualification, or failure to attend three consecutive meetings, the Board may fill the position by majority vote. Chartering authorities retain the right to appoint or remove their own representatives. Reductions in the Board's authorized size will not prematurely terminate current directors' terms.

CICA will not make contracts or approve actions where a director or key employee have a potential financial interest in the contract or action that precludes CICA from approving the same pursuant to Section 1090, the PRA, or other statutory, regulatory, or common law preclusions of conflicts of interest. It also will not loan money or property to any director or officer, except it can advance money for work-related expenses that will be reimbursed. Lastly, CICA promises to protect and cover legal costs or damages for its directors, officers, employees, and certain others if they face lawsuits or legal actions related to their role, as allowed by law. If someone asks for this protection, the Board will quickly decide if they qualify and approve it if they do.

Officers of the Corporation: Roles, Responsibilities, and Appointments
The Corporation is required to have a Chair of the Board, President, Secretary, and Treasurer, with the option to appoint additional officers as needed. Officers are appointed by the Board, report to the Board, and may have duties outlined in employment contracts. One person can hold multiple officer roles, except that the same person cannot be both Chair/President and Secretary/Treasurer. Officers may be removed by the Board or resign with written notice. Vacancies are filled following the same process as original appointments. The Chair leads Board meetings; the Vice-Chair fills in when the Chair is absent. The President (also called Executive Director) manages the Corporation's daily operations. The Secretary keeps records of Board meetings and official documents, while the Treasurer manages the Corporation's finances, provides reports, and may be required to give a bond to ensure proper handling of funds.

All Board Members are required to complete annual training in the Brown Act, conflict of interest compliance, sexual harassment prevention, mandated reporting, and any other state-mandated governance trainings. This ensures that directors remain fully informed of their legal responsibilities, ethical obligations, and best practices for charter school governance.

Roles of the Board

The Board of Directors is responsible for managing the Corporation's activities and has the authority to make key decisions. This includes hiring and removing staff, setting their duties and pay, relocating offices, operating in or outside California, borrowing money, using a corporate seal, and seeking outside funding to support and expand the organization's services. All actions must follow applicable laws and the Corporation's governing documents. For more information, see the bylaws in the appendix.

The Board may initiate and carry out any program or activity that is not in conflict with or inconsistent with any law and which is not in conflict with the purposes for which charter schools are established, and consistent with the Articles of Incorporation. The Board may execute any powers delegated to it by law, and shall discharge any duty imposed by law upon it, and may delegate to an employee of the Charter School any of those duties except for budget approval or revision, approval of the fiscal audit and performance report, and the adoption of Board policies. The Board, however, retains ultimate responsibility over the performance of those powers or duties so delegated. Other key and Executive employee roles and positions seen in the following organizational charts are described below.

Executive Leadership

The Executive Leadership Team at California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) provides the vision, expertise, and operational management necessary to sustain a high-quality learning environment that advances student achievement. Working under the authority of the Board of Directors, the Executive Cabinet—which includes the Executive Director, Deputy Directors, Director of Executive Services, Chief Business Officer, Director of Accountability and Assessment, and Director of Human Resources—oversees the development, implementation, and continuous evaluation of the school's core systems and policies.

The Cabinet is responsible for ensuring excellence across all operational and instructional domains, including finance, assessment, curriculum and instruction, facilities, human resources, compliance, and organizational accountability. Through collaborative leadership and data-driven decision-making, the Executive Leadership Team ensures that CICA remains faithful to its mission, responsive to student and community needs, and aligned with state and federal accountability requirements.

Governance Structure

CICA affirms that its Board of Directors serves as the sole governing authority of the Charter School. The Board holds ultimate responsibility for the governance and oversight of CICA, with each member carrying a fiduciary duty to safeguard the long-term success and sustainability of the organization. The Board is charged with addressing all major governance and operational matters in accordance with applicable laws, Board policies, and the terms of the Charter. Key responsibilities include overseeing the school's financial health, ensuring proper expenditure and accountability of public funds, establishing general and curriculum-related policies, approving and monitoring the annual budget and financial procedures, and engaging in strategic planning and fundraising efforts. The Board is also responsible for the selection, evaluation, and, if necessary, dismissal of the Executive Director, as well as the approval and oversight of personnel policies. In addition, the Board works to build broad-based support and strategic partnerships that further the mission of the school. To fulfill its oversight role, the Board meets regularly to review academic and operational data, financial reports, and compliance documentation. Through these processes, it ensures alignment with the school's mission, holds leadership accountable, and monitors key performance indicators to drive continuous improvement.

CICA has adopted a conflict of interest code that complies with the Political Reform Act, Corporations Code Conflicts of Interest rules, and any charter school-specific conflicts of interest regulations. Notwithstanding any rule, regulation, provision, or Corporation Bylaw to the contrary, CICA's Board of Directors and the Charter School shall at all times and in all respects comply with all conflict of interests laws generally applicable to the District's Board of Trustees, including but not limited to Government Code section 1090 and the Political Reform Act. The Board further acknowledges and abides by governance requirements under the Brown Act, Public Records Act, and other applicable state laws. The responsibilities of the CICA Board as further outlined in the Bylaws include but are not limited to:

- Uphold the Vision of the Charter School.
- Oversee the implementation of the CICA's charter.
- Provide notice and hold meetings in compliance with the Brown Act.
- Create and implement goals for the Charter School.
- Ensure compliance with applicable law, such as the Public Records Act, and policies such as the Conflict of Interest Code.
- Provide oversight of instructional programs and materials.
- Approve and provide input for student policies.
- Monitor management of school liabilities, insurance, health, safety, and risk-related matters.
- Receive and review quarterly financial reports and the yearly financial audit.
- Work with the Executive Director to set goals.
- Enact policies to support the successful operation of CICA.
- Attend ethics training (AB 2158).

Board Committees

To deepen partner input into governance, the Board of Directors may form standing or ad hoc committees, in accordance with bylaws and applicable law. Committees may include representatives from staff, students, or community partners where appropriate, ensuring the school's governance remains inclusive and mission-aligned.

Educational Partner Involvement

Educational Partner Involvement Plan and Process
CICA affirms that the perspectives of students, staff, and community partners are essential to strong governance and continuous improvement. As an adult-serving charter school, student voice is central to shaping program design and school culture. The Board and leadership team actively solicit, value, and incorporate feedback from educational partners to ensure decisions remain responsive to the needs of CICA's diverse learning community.

As part of its continuous improvement efforts, California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) conducts Educational Partner (EdPartner) events throughout the year, beginning each fall with the distribution of staff and student climate surveys. Starting in the 2024–2025 school year, both surveys are administered via SurveyMonkey to enhance anonymity and encourage honest, constructive feedback.

The staff survey is distributed first and has seen steadily increasing participation, with 346 CICA staff and 13 Equity Initiatives staff responding in 2024–2025—up from 223 respondents the previous year—resulting in a participation rate of 92.76%. The survey includes questions across several key areas: mission, vision, and schoolwide goals; communication and leadership; workplace culture and environment; onboarding and support; compensation and benefits; digital tools and technology; professional development and growth; and curriculum and instruction. These categories are designed to assess organizational strengths and identify areas for growth. Survey results are presented to the HCCTS Board of Directors and shared with all staff through infographic posters displayed at every school site to promote transparency and engagement.

The student climate surveys are sent out to all students in eleven different language options. In the 2024-2025 school year, the survey was hosted on Survey Monkey which allowed for ease of use for students as well. Teachers are encouraged to have their students take the survey during class to increase participation.

CICA's student survey was available to students in 12 languages, including English, Spanish, Russian, Ukrainian, Dari, Pashto, Arabic, Chinese, Vietnamese, Armenian, Turkish, and Hmong, and resulted in 3,610 student responses, compared to 2,169 last year. In February 2024, CICA held the Reading with Relevance event to gather information on the curriculum and its impact. CICA engaged 36 educational partners during this event and had them participate in the Reading with Relevance Book Fair Impact Survey afterward.

During the Black History event in February 2024, CICA focused on engaging educational partners and collecting feedback. The Black History Month Assembly Feedback Form from February 2024 garnered 27 responses from educational partners.

During the Building a Community School Lunch and Dinner sessions, CICA concentrated on gathering suggestions for improvements in the domains of wellness, health, social-emotional support, additional academic opportunities, CTE, and community enhancements. CICA held discussions with educational partners, which resulted in 22 summarized responses on the Building a Community School survey.

In March 2024, CICA hosted a meeting with principals to gather their insights on the key challenges and opportunities for growth. Following the discussions, participants were requested to complete the Principal Feedback Survey, which provided subsequent data from 6 principals.

In April 2024, CICA sent out the Leadership Survey to collect the directors' feedback on the following categories: communication, job and role clarity, work environment, recognition, relationships, curriculum, and professional development. CICA has gathered responses that highlight the enhancements across the categories, alongside some challenges. Seven of the directors participated in the Survey.

In April 2024, CICA facilitated a Your Voice Matters event for CTE programs at the Grand Avenue campus. CICA engaged 42 educational partners and gathered feedback on strengths, improvement areas, and solutions.

In the 2023-2024 school year, CICA hosted four (4) educational partner events titled Your Voice Matters, compared to one in the previous year. The purpose of visiting more sites was to get more feedback from students with different needs at various school locations. For the 2023-2024 school year, CICA gathered educational partner feedback from a total of 830 including 26 responses from students who enrolled in the Equity Initiatives program at the “Your Voice Matters” events compared to 270 in the 2022-2023 school year. Combined with the all-staff climate surveys and student surveys, the principal meeting, leadership feedback survey, and other educational partner events, CICA engaged 4,926 while gathering educational partner feedback.

Each educational partner event had a facilitator and notetaker who led the discussion in three areas: school strengths, opportunities for growth, and possible solutions for improvement. The responses were recorded in Google Forms. CICA analyzed the data to identify growth areas and build the LCAP goals and actions. CICA found a high level of consistency in climate surveys and educational partner responses. After careful review, CICA used this feedback to determine where to increase and decrease spending.

CICA encourages students and staff to attend, speak, and present at Board meetings; CICA requests that students and staff complete various surveys. CICA proactively reaches out to students regularly to encourage them to meet with the counselors to continue discussing their goals and needs; and CICA is proudly responsive to the feedback CICA receives.

CICA encourages and teaches the students how to maintain direct influence over the direction of their educational process. Students have equal say, and sometimes, greater say, in their learning according to their academic needs. Teachers collaborate with students, other teachers, staff, administration, and community partners to determine what new programs and resources would be most beneficial to student achievement and well-being.

In planning to draft the LCAP, leadership consults with teachers, administrators, other school personnel, partners, and students in developing the annual update. This feedback is provided during EdPartner events. Following these events, the data is reviewed, proposals for a new funding formula are created and presented to the board of directors as well as the executive cabinet. Goals are then amended based on recommendations provided from the school community. Amended plans are then presented for feedback to staff, students, and all other interested parties at regularly scheduled meetings. All stakeholders are invited to submit public comments and final plans are approved at a public board meeting. CICA will consider TRUSD recommendations and comments when drafting its LCAP. The Charter School shall present a report on the annual update to the LCAP and the local control funding formula budget each year as part of a nonconsent item at a regularly scheduled Board meeting.

Additionally, CICA uses the school website to keep the students informed of all upcoming activities, important calendar items, and Board meeting minutes. CICA promotes student involvement by encouraging students to contribute to and drive website content through the sharing of their personal stories which are connected to the website via an Instafeed of social media content.

Element E Employee Qualifications

"The qualifications to be met by individuals to be employed by the charter school." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(E).)

California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) is committed to recruiting and retaining professional, effective, and qualified personnel for all administrative, instructional, instructional support, and non-instructional roles. All employees must align with the school's instructional philosophy, mission, and vision and demonstrate the expertise and commitment necessary to support student success.

In accordance with Education Code §47605(e)(1), CICA shall remain nonsectarian in its employment practices and operations. The Charter School shall not discriminate against any individual (employee or pupil) based on actual or perceived disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, nationality, race or ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, immigration status, or any other characteristic contained in the definition of hate crimes set forth in Penal Code §422.55, or based on association with an individual who has any of the aforementioned characteristics.

Employee Positions And Qualifications

Hiring and Selection Process

CICA recognizes that excellent schools are built on excellent employees. All positions are filled through a recruitment and hiring process that ensures alignment with CICA's mission, compliance with state and federal law, and adherence to Board-adopted personnel policies.

- Job Descriptions: Every position is defined by a detailed, Board-approved job description outlining required qualifications, duties, and reporting structures.
- Applicant Screening: Human Resources (HR) prescreens all applicants via EdJoin.org to verify minimum qualifications. Only qualified applicants are advanced for interviews.
- Interviews and Recommendations: Panels may include administrators, staff, or community representatives, and applicants are evaluated using a structured rubric.
- Final Approval: HR and hiring managers recommend candidates to the Executive Director, who makes final hiring decisions.
- Nepotism Policy: Consistent with Board Policy 4212.8, relatives may not participate in hiring or evaluation processes where family members are involved.

Recruiting Qualified Teachers

CICA recruits well-qualified educators to our community by posting vacant teaching positions on the recruitment website www.edjoin.org, a third-party employment entity used throughout California and the greater United States as a central advertising location for many different educational organizations. Additionally, we attend the annual Teacher Recruitment Fair held each spring at Sacramento State University in order to meet with new teachers beginning their careers. This allows us to market our charter school as a competitive organization in which to work. We also send out recruitment flyers to additional institutes of higher education in the surrounding area, per the school's staffing needs.

Employees
CICA recognizes that to have an excellent school, it must have excellent employees. CICA will draw upon the pool of excellent adult education teachers previously employed by Twin Rivers Adult Education. Proposed salaries and benefits for administrators, certificated faculty, and classified staff have all been modeled after the Twin Rivers' salary scales and employee contracts.

Employee Overview
All employees of CICA are committed to developing the social, civic, character, and academic potential of each student. All staff members possess experience and expertise appropriate for their position according to the CICA adopted personnel policies, and federal and state statutes applicable to charter schools. Selection and appointment of employees at CICA will be the exclusive prerogative of CICA.

CICA does not discriminate against any applicant on the basis of his/her race, creed, color, national origin, age, gender, gender expression, gender identity, disability, or any other basis prohibited by Education Code § 220. It is the responsibility of our Executive Director to oversee the school facilities, selection and employment of CICA personnel, evaluation, promotion, termination, or discipline of CICA personnel, and the preparation and submission of reports as directed by the Board, to include regular goals and forecasts as directed. The CICA Executive Director manages the day-to-day operations of CICA by preparing and submitting required budgets and reports as required by a charter school. Our Executive Director develops partnerships for providing educational services by CICA, interacts with CICA accountants and attorneys, and performs other duties lawfully assigned by action of the Board. Our CICA Executive Director must minimally possess a bachelor's degree or any experience directly related to the field of work equivalent to a four-year degree and program administration and planning experience, preferably with experience in management as an executive officer.

Independent Study Compliance Coordinator
The CICA Independent Study Compliance Coordinator is responsible for overseeing the Independent Study (IS) Program and program compliance, including attendance accounting, documentation, and reporting. This is a classified administrative position. The CICA Independent Study Compliance Coordinator should possess a BS or BA degree from a recognized college institution, or a degree of a similar nature that is in alignment with the job of being an Independent Studies Supervisor. Background knowledge of Independent Study and its components related to State and local measures for accountability is essential. The Independent Studies Coordinator must have thorough knowledge of the school's SIS (Student Identification Systems, e.g., PowerSchool) and its use for guiding Independent Studies, as well as the ability to function independently and effectively. In this position, it is essential to meet critical timelines and reporting timelines associated with Independent Study. This person must also have the ability to use technology effectively with regard to communication, record keeping, and staff presentations associated with Independent Studies. The CICA Coordinator can communicate effectively and clearly both orally and in writing with a diverse staff and student population.

Counselor (Independent Study)
CICA Counselor will provide academic, college/career, and social-emotional counseling tailored to adult learners in an Independent Study environment. The Counselors identify and counsel students with special needs and behavioral, social, and school adjustment problems. CICA Counselors refer students to other community resources, support groups, and social service agencies as appropriate. At a minimum, CICA Counselors possess a Bachelor's Degree in Education or School Counseling with a 7-12th grade level certification, two (2) years of experience as a high school counselor, and a valid Pupil Personnel Services Credential with an academic school counseling emphasis.

Teachers (Independent Study)
CICA will comply with all applicable state and federal laws regarding teacher credentialing and qualifications. In accordance with Education Code §47605(l)(1), all CICA teachers must hold a valid California teaching certificate, permit, or other credential appropriate to their assignment, as issued by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC). Credential documentation will be maintained on file at CICA headquarters and made available for inspection by Twin Rivers Unified School District, which retains the right to review hiring decisions to ensure compliance with federal and state mandates.

CICA teachers must hold the California teaching certificate, permit or other document required for the teacher's certificated assignment pursuant to Education Code § 47605(l)(1).
CICA hires only qualified teachers. Teachers are responsible for creating and sustaining a learning environment that supports California state standards and reflects CICA's educational philosophy, with a strong emphasis on meeting the unique needs of adult learners. Teachers hold a minimum of a bachelor's degree from a degree-granting institution and a valid authorization to serve as a California credentialed teacher from the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC). Additionally, all teaching staff are qualified under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), also known as the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), formerly known as the No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB). Accordingly, CICA teachers have:

1. A bachelor's degree from a degree-granting college or university.
2. A California State teaching credential, or a University Intern Credential while actively working toward completion of a California State teaching credential, or other Designated Subjects credentials.
3. Demonstrated subject matter competence.

Teacher Credentialing
HCCTS affirms that all classroom instruction must be provided by teachers who hold valid California teaching credentials, and that paraeducators may not serve as the teacher of record. In prior years, teachers at CICA held adult education credentials as recommended by the CTC and the San Diego County Office of Education. In February 2025, the CTC decided to enforce K-12 teaching credentials.

CICA has already implemented the following to improve compliance and accountability. In the 2024–2025 school year, HCCTS significantly changed its credentialing and staffing procedures. The school established a credentialing support team of internal staff and credentialing consultants and reviewed more than 300 staff profiles. Individual credential pathway plans were developed, and 269 one-on-one consultations were held with teachers. HCCTS launched a partnership with UMass Global to create an intern credential pathway with tuition coverage for staff and offered reimbursement for credential exam fees and coursework through Board Policy 4112.3: Teacher Credentialing Reimbursements. All staff with noncompliant assignments were notified, and instruction in July 2025 was suspended to allow credential corrections before the next school year.

Board Policy 4112.2 now requires all certificated staff to hold valid and appropriate credentials at the time of hire and to submit timely proof of renewal. In alignment with updated guidance from the CTC and CDE—and following the loss of DASS status—HCCTS has transitioned away from Adult Education credentials. All teachers are now required to hold single-subject or multiple-subject credentials.

To support compliance, HCCTS created a centralized credentialing dashboard and updated its use of Frontline to track credential status, staff evaluations, and assignment alignment.

Per Board Policy 4112.2, certificated employees must:

- Hold the appropriate credential for their assignment upon hire;
- Maintain active credentials and complete renewals as required;
- Adhere to applicable state and federal regulations;
- Submit proof of credential validity and renewal to Human Resources within required timelines.

For more information from the Board Policy 4112.2: Credentialing Requirements Communications, see the appendix.

Information Technology/Data Technician

CICA's IT technicians provide critical technology support for students and staff by diagnosing computer problems, monitoring systems, installing software, and maintaining digital tools. They also train staff and students to use instructional and administrative technology effectively.

Additionally, Catherine Thirkill (CASAS Coordinator) has been accepted into the next Sacramento COE cohort.

CICA has developed and adopted Board Policy 4331 – Administrative Credential Reimbursement, which outlines the reimbursement procedures for participation in approved credentialing programs. Additional details are provided in the appendix.

Evaluations

In the 2024–2025 school year, CICA adopted Board Policy 4115: Personnel Evaluation and Supervision, establishing a comprehensive evaluation system designed to promote continuous improvement, accountability, and alignment with the school's mission and goals. The policy applies to all certificated and classified staff and sets forth clear expectations for professional conduct, job performance, stakeholder engagement, and compliance with applicable laws and policies.

Evaluations are conducted annually and may include classroom observations, self-assessments, formal performance appraisals, and collaborative goal-setting, depending on the employee's role. Supervisors are responsible for providing timely, constructive feedback, maintaining accurate documentation, and supporting employee growth through individualized development plans. All evaluation records are treated as confidential and maintained in personnel files in accordance with state and federal privacy requirements. (See Appendix for full Board Policy 4115: Personnel Evaluation and Supervision.)

To support this process, CICA uses Frontline, an integrated platform for payroll, employee evaluation, and professional learning management. Frontline enables the secure storage of all employee evaluations, monitors performance trends over time, and standardizes evaluation practices across the organization. The system also issues automated reminders to supervisors regarding evaluation deadlines, ensuring timely completion. All employees are required to review and electronically acknowledge their evaluations within the system, reinforcing accountability and transparency.

Instructional Paraeducators
Instructional paraeducators at California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) play a vital role in supporting certificated teachers by providing instructional assistance, linguistic support, and translation services for students. To ensure all paraeducators meet minimum qualifications, CICA requires a high school diploma or equivalent, successful completion of an English proficiency exam with a score of 70% or higher, and the ability to communicate effectively with diverse student populations. In alignment with state and federal requirements, CICA verifies educational qualifications and exam results during the hiring process and maintains documentation to ensure compliance.

Applicant Screening
All job applicants at CICA go through a rigorous pre-employment screening process to ensure they meet all requirements and qualifications for the role they are applying for. CICA uses the website Edjoin to post job openings. This is also where new applicants apply for positions. Within Edjoin, Human Resources is able to filter applications based on minimum qualifications before forwarding candidates to hiring managers. Only employees who meet these requirements are eligible for interviews. In alignment with Board Policy 4111, as part of the pre-employment job application, candidates must disclose any family relationships with existing employees to ensure that no relatives are involved in hiring decisions or placed in reporting relationships.

HCCTS Hiring and Anti-Nepotism Policy
To safeguard against nepotism or favoritism, HCCTS adopted Board Policy 4212.8, which prohibits relatives from participating in hiring or evaluation processes involving family members. Interviewers must complete disclosure forms, and all job postings, evaluations, and offers are now centrally tracked and reviewed by the HR department to ensure consistency and equity across the organization.

Organizational Chart & Job Descriptions

HCCTS maintains an up-to-date organizational chart that reflects current roles and reporting lines (See Org Chart). The organizational chart is reviewed and updated at least annually. During the 2024-2025 school year, HCCTS drafted and revised a total of 25 job descriptions. The purpose is to ensure role clarity for all employees and ensure there is consistency between the work performed, role requirements, and appropriate pay.

Hiring Process

1. Position Authorization (Requisition Control) The hiring process at California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) is designed to ensure consistency, transparency, and alignment with organizational needs and compliance standards. It begins with the submission of a Position Control Form (PCF) whenever a position needs to be backfilled or newly created. The PCF includes essential details such as the job description and a designated leadership contact and is reviewed weekly by the Executive Cabinet.

2. Posting and Sourcing. Upon approval and required signatures, the Human Resources team posts the position on EdJoin.org and other recruitment channels and also leverages partnerships with university preparation programs to broaden applicant pools.

3. Screening. Once posted, hiring managers review applicants within EdJoin by evaluating qualifications in relation to the job description. Candidates are categorized as prescreened, interviewed, or removed, providing a clear record of each applicant's status. Notes from prior interviews are required for third interview requests and must be documented either via email or directly in the EdJoin system. For current staff changes, such as promotions or changes in FTE, an EE Update—rather than a PCF—is submitted to accurately reflect the employee's new assignment. Altogether, this structured process supports effective hiring decisions while maintaining clarity, documentation, and compliance across the organization.

4. Multi-step Interviews and Performance Tasks.
   Qualified candidates proceed through multiple interviews (phone and panel). For instructional roles, candidates complete a demo lesson (live or video) to assess content knowledge, pedagogy, and responsiveness to feedback; stakeholder participation (e.g., administrators/teachers, and, when feasible, students or parents) may be included, with the Principal retaining final hiring authority.

Employee Positions

See appendix for the 2025 Organizational Chart.

Professional Development

In the 2024–2025 school year, CICA adopted Board Policy 4131: Professional Development to support the continuous growth of all staff. Professional learning is mission-aligned, equity-centered, and outcomes-focused, with explicit attention to legal and regulatory requirements. Offerings include in-service training, workshops, online modules, and compliance sessions. In accordance with Education Code 47605.1(f) and our WIOA partnership, HCCTS may conduct professional development at any location in California.

The Executive Director oversees alignment to the mission, vision, and strategic goals; the Chief Academic Officer (or designee) coordinates systemwide implementation. Department leaders and site teams co-design contextualized, job-embedded sessions that meet local needs while advancing CICA's strategic priorities. All staff are expected to engage actively in PD and apply their learning in practice. Participation is supported by funding priorities and travel reimbursement per Board Policy 350.

Annual Professional Development

Professional Development

In the 2024–2025 school year, CICA adopted a Professional Development Policy to support the continuous growth of all staff: 4131 BP Professional Development. The policy aligns professional learning with CICA's mission, vision, and strategic goals, with a focus on improving student outcomes and meeting legal and regulatory requirements.

CICA offers a variety of professional development opportunities, including in-service training, workshops, online modules, and compliance-focused sessions. In accordance with Education Code 47605.1(f) and its WIOA partnership, CICA may conduct professional development at any location in California.

The Executive Director oversees alignment and implementation, while leadership identifies needs and encourages staff participation. Employees are expected to engage actively and apply their learning. Funding is provided in line with organizational priorities, and travel is reimbursed per Board Policy 3350. CICA evaluates professional development effectiveness through staff feedback, performance data, and evidence of improved practice, with a commitment to equity and access for all staff.

In 2024-2025, CICA offered extensive internal and external professional development, covering topics like CPR, active shooter response, equity, SEL, and leadership. CICA provides two all-staff mandatory Professional Development opportunities throughout the year: three days in August and two days in May. All staff training includes Title IX training, Mandatory Reporter & Child Abuse Prevention Training, Sexual Harassment Prevention Training, FERPA, Workplace Violence Prevention Training, and Comprehensive School Site Safety Training.

Teachers and paraeducators receive training on assessments such as the California Science Test (CAST) and English Literacy and Civics (EL Civics) assessments, end-of-level assessments, and CASAS assessments. Additionally, teachers and paraeducators receive training on any curriculum updates and curriculum instructional strategies. Teachers in the process of getting their credential or who have their preliminary credential are assigned a mentor teacher and must meet with them regularly.

CICA recognizes the critical role of targeted professional development in fostering staff effectiveness and advancing organizational goals. While CICA offers all-staff professional development days to promote schoolwide alignment and collaboration, a dedicated portion of these days is intentionally reserved for department-specific professional development. This approach ensures that staff receive training that is both relevant to their roles and responsive to the unique needs of their departments.

To coordinate these efforts across departments, the Chief Academic Officer—or their designee—works collaboratively with department directors or lead team members to plan and implement tailored professional development sessions. This decentralized model promotes professional learning that is contextualized, job-embedded, and aligned with departmental objectives, while still supporting the broader mission and strategic priorities of CICA. For more information on department professional development, see the appendix.

Plan for Achieving and Maintaining Student Population Balance & How to Reach This Goal

(Racial/Ethnic, Students with Disabilities, and English Learners)

Element G Balanced Enrollment

California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) strives, through its recruitment and admissions practices, to achieve a racial and ethnic, special education, and English Learner balance among its students that reflects the general population residing within the territorial jurisdiction of the District. CICA maintains an open enrollment policy and does not discriminate based on any protected characteristic, including disability, gender, gender identity/expression, nationality, race/ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, immigration status, or association with a protected class (Ed. Code §§220, 47605(e)). Students are considered for admission without regard to ethnicity, national origin, gender, gender expression, gender identity, disability, sexual orientation, or any of the characteristics listed in Education Code §220. These characteristics include actual or perceived disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, nationality, race or ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, immigration status, or association with an individual who has any of these characteristics, as defined in Ed. Code § 422.55 of the Penal Code.

CICA will implement a coordinated advertising and recruitment strategy to ensure that all students are informed about the educational opportunities available. These efforts are ongoing throughout the year and are designed to reach a broad and diverse audience. In alignment with CICA's commitment to serving students from all ethnic and cultural backgrounds, a variety of advertising methods are used to promote equitable access and inclusive outreach.

Each year, CICA analyzes enrollment trends in order to optimize efforts to recruit and retain students. An informal designated committee, comprised of various stakeholders from the instructional, administrative, and operational areas of the school, meets regularly to develop a plan. Using both quantitative and qualitative feedback from the previous year—including student satisfaction surveys and non-mandatory exit interviews—the team identifies enrollment trends and their root causes, determines potential solutions, and generates strategies to implement and monitor those solutions in the following year.

Externally, CICA addresses retention and attrition through the development of student engagement systems and strategic partnerships that support teaching, learning, and student achievement. The school's student recruitment strategy includes, but is not limited to, the following elements to ensure a student population that reflects the District's diversity:

- An enrollment process with a clearly defined timeline that supports broad-based recruitment and application opportunities.
- Development of promotional and informational materials designed to appeal to a range of racial, ethnic, special education, and English Learner groups represented in the County.
- Distribution of materials to a variety of community organizations, including religious institutions, libraries, recreation centers, local businesses, middle schools, and faith-based groups that serve diverse populations.
- Production of promotional and informational materials in multiple languages, including but not limited to Farsi, Spanish, Russian, and Arabic, to ensure accessibility for limited English proficient populations.
- Use of advertising platforms that provide information to individuals whose primary language is not English.
- Publicizing enrollment and recruitment through local newspapers, online media, and social media platforms, with continuous updates to reflect evolving technologies and communication trends.

- Presentations at multicultural events, including community fairs and other local gatherings.

Marketing: Advertising and Sponsorship to Increase Student Enrollment

Board Policy 1325, adopted in the 2024-2025 school year, establishes clear guidelines for how HCCTS/CICA uses marketing and sponsorships solely to inform prospective students about public, tuition-free educational opportunities and to advance equitable access to our programs. All advertising expenditures must align with the school's mission and strategic goals and demonstrate a meaningful return on investment. Advertising is intended to raise awareness of HCCTS programs, highlight the benefits of enrollment, and promote the school's values to prospective students in the broader community.

Annual Marketing Plan prepared by staff, aligned to mission and enrollment targets, and reviewed with the Executive Director; major spending and any sponsorships follow procurement rules and board-approved thresholds.

Advertising budget is reviewed annually; any campaign exceeding the internal threshold (e.g., $100,000) requires explicit Board authorization.

All materials must reflect our non-discrimination and open-enrollment assurances and may not request or imply a requirement to provide student records prior to admission (e.g., IEP/504).

Advertising efforts must clearly communicate the educational opportunities HCCTS offers—including adult high school diplomas, career preparation, and hands-on skill development—and use platforms that are cost-effective and aligned with the school's target audiences. All advertising must also comply with legal and ethical standards and adhere to brand identity guidelines to build recognition and trust within the community.

Additionally, advertising effectiveness is monitored and reviewed annually to ensure alignment with HCCTS's enrollment and engagement objectives, with quarterly reporting to the Executive Director and an annual summary to the Board. Board Policy 1325 codifies the outreach rigor and equity safeguards common to high-performing charters—multilingual, community-based recruitment; documented, transparent admissions; and routine Board oversight—while adding HCCTS's budget controls and ROI monitoring to ensure responsible stewardship of public funds. For full policy language and implementation procedures, see the appendix.

Element H Admissions Policies and Procedures

"Admission policies and procedures, consistent with [Education Code § 47605] subdivision." (e). (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(H).)

Admission and Enrollment Requirements

California Innovative Career Academy is nonsectarian in its programs, admission policies, and all other operations. CICA will not discriminate on the basis of actual or perceived disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, nationality, race or ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, or any other characteristic that is contained in the definition of hate crimes set forth in Section 422.55 of the Penal Code, or association with an individual who has any of the aforementioned characteristics [Ed. Code § 47605(e)(1)]. CICA shall comply with all applicable laws governing minimum age requirements for registration in charter schools. The school shall not use any test, assessment, or interview to determine a student's eligibility for admission. However, following registration, all students may be administered diagnostic assessments, dubbed "placement tests," solely for the purpose of determining appropriate instructional placement. These assessments are used to inform grade-level placement and have no bearing on a student's eligibility for admission.

CICA admits all students who meet the following criteria:

- Demonstrate a desire to enroll in the academic program
- Fall within the categories the school is legally authorized to serve
- Meet the eligibility requirement of being age 22 or older under the exclusive WIOA agreement
- Students do not have a U.S. high school diploma
- Submit a timely application

Required Documents

- Proof of Identification
- Proof of California Address (may be covered by proof of identification)
- CICA Online Registration, which includes but not limited to the following:
    - Emergency Consent and Contact Information
    - National School Lunch Program Form (NSLP)
    - Home Language Survey
- CalJOBS Registration (Any forms required by a WIOA partner

Enrollment Period

Initial applications are accepted at any time during the school year. The CICA admission process consists of the completion of an online student registration form. The admission process also includes students to participate in orientation, grade level placement, and academic planning.

Education Exclusively in Partnership with the Workforce Investment Opportunity Act (WIOA)
Per Ed. Code §§ 47612.1 and 47605.1(f)(1), CICA provides instruction exclusively in partnership with the Workforce Investment Opportunity Act of 1998 through its partnership agreement with the Sacramento Employment and Training Agency (SETA) or other WIOA organization. As such, CICA only legally serves students who are receiving WIOA-funded services and does so under the terms of a Partnership Agreement. CICA will provide a copy of the Partnership Agreement to the District on or before July 1, 2019.

The SETA or other WIOA service provider will provide CICA students with the services specifically outlined in and attached hereto under "Tab 9—Workforce Agreements." CICA will provide the District with documentation that confirms SETA or other WIOA service provider is qualified and authorized to provide such services contemplated in the Partnership Agreement.

Not Possessing a U.S. High School Diploma
Students who have a U.S. high school diploma (also known as a "regular high school diploma") will not be admitted to Highlands Community Charter School. Students who possess a GED, CHSPE, foreign credential, or any other alternative degree that is not fully aligned with the academic standards of the State of California may be admitted.

CICA Proposed Lottery Process
If CICA receives registrations in excess of its enrollment capacity, the lottery process will be used to select admitted students. CICA will conduct a public random drawing facilitated by PowerSchool Enrollment School Choice, a third-party platform. The drawing will take place in a public setting at our Howe Campus, located at 1111 Howe Ave, Sacramento, CA 95842. The lottery will be held up to two weeks before the start of the school year. Notice of the random drawing will be provided through written postings at the school site and on the school's website.

The lottery is open to the public, and prospective students are encouraged to attend; however, they are not required to be present at the time of the drawing to be eligible for admission. Results will be communicated to prospective students.

The lottery will be conducted using student numbers assigned to each prospective student. As numbers are drawn, they will be displayed for everyone in attendance to see. Once all available seats for a specific grade level, site, and schedule preference (regular daytime or evening) have been filled, the designated staff member will announce that any additional students drawn will be placed on the waitlist. Students will be added to the waitlist for that grade level, site, and schedule preference (regular daytime or evening) in the order their numbers are drawn.

Waiting List Priorities
A waiting list will be implemented when the number of applications exceeds the enrollment capacity for a specific grade level, site, and schedule preference (regular daytime or evening). In the event of a lottery, admission will be offered to prospective students based on lottery results until capacity is reached. Once capacity is met, all remaining names drawn will be placed on a waiting list in the order they were selected.

New applicants who register after the lottery deadline will be offered a seat if space is available in their grade level, site, and schedule preference (regular daytime or evening), or they will be added to the waiting list in the order the application was received. As seats become available, they will be offered to students starting with the lowest numerical ranking on the waiting list.

Notifying Students of a Seat Offering
Once a seat becomes available for an applicant who has the lowest numerical ranking on the waiting list, the student will be contacted by the Registration department to confirm their seat. Any admitted students who decline an offered seat or who fail to confirm by the deadline will lose their position to the next applicant on the waiting list. The waiting list is kept on file at the school and is valid for the duration of the school year.

Documenting the Fair Execution of Lottery and Waitlist Procedures
Copies of lottery results and waiting list(s) are readily available for inspection at the school office. These records will be maintained by the Registration department.

Communicating to All Interested Parties
Applications are available digitally online on the CICA website. CICA advertises the open application period to the surrounding communities and also communicates the timeline, rules, and procedures for the lottery process if necessary. Typical methods for these communications include, but are not limited to, web advertising, newspaper and magazine ads, radio ads, home mailers, and flyers.

Element I Annual Financial Audits

"The manner in which annual, independent financial audits shall be conducted, which shall employ generally accepted accounting principles, and the manner in which audit exceptions and deficiencies shall be resolved to the satisfaction of the chartering authority." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(I).)

Accreditation

CICA has achieved a full six-year WASC accreditation through June 2030 with a mid-cycle visit scheduled during the 2026-2027 school year.

Annual Audit Procedures

Contracting with an Independent Auditor

California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) conducts an annual independent fiscal audit in compliance with Education Code § 47605(c)(5)(I) and 47605(m). All financial records are maintained in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP), and audits are conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the State Controller's K–12 Audit Guide.

In the 2024–2025 school year, the CICA Board of Directors adopted Board Policy 3581 – Data Retention and Record Management, which provides a comprehensive framework for the classification, retention, and secure disposal of records by staff, contractors, and affiliates. The policy applies to all administrative, financial, personnel, student, and instructional records, including communications in paper, digital, audio, or video format. This policy ensures that all audit-related documentation is properly maintained and readily accessible. For additional details, refer to the appendix entry for BP 3581.

Audit Timeline Overview

In alignment with Board Policy 3100 – Budget Development and Oversight, audit procedures are embedded in the school's annual budget cycle and financial governance structure. Each spring, the Executive Director and Chief Business Official (CBO) recommend an independent auditor for approval by the Board of Directors. Following the close of the fiscal year, the CBO finalizes and closes the books, compiles the necessary financial documentation, and coordinates with the independent auditor to conduct the audit.

Upon completion, the auditor prepares a report, which is formally presented to the Board of Directors. The Executive Director and CBO review any audit findings or exceptions and coordinate the necessary corrective actions. In accordance with statutory deadlines, the finalized audit report is submitted to the charter authorizer (Twin Rivers Unified School District), the Sacramento County Superintendent of Schools, the State Controller's Office, and the California Department of Education (CDE) by December 15 of each year. For additional detail, see appendix reference BP 3100.

Audit Completion Timeline

The audit is expected to be finalized within six months of the fiscal year's end. The Board of Directors formally reviews each year's audit findings and takes appropriate action to ensure full compliance with state and federal requirements.

Selection Criteria for Independent Auditors
The selected auditor must be a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) with experience in public school and charter school finance and must be listed as an approved audit provider by the State Controller. CICA is solely responsible for all associated audit costs. Where applicable, the audit scope will include federal compliance elements outlined in Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circulars and related federal guidelines.

Resolution of Audit Findings
Any audit exceptions or deficiencies are first reviewed by the CICA Audit Committee, which provides formal recommendations to the Board of Directors. The Board submits a written report to the charter authorizer describing how identified findings have been addressed, along with supporting documentation. In cases where findings remain unresolved at the time of submission, the report includes a corrective action plan and projected timeline for resolution. CICA aims to address all audit findings within six months. Disputes regarding the resolution of audit findings will follow the dispute resolution procedures set forth in this charter.

Upon receipt of the draft audit and management letter, the CEO/CBO prepares a written Corrective Action Plan (CAP) that, for each finding, identifies the root cause, required remedial actions, responsible owner, resources, and a target completion date.

Audit Committee Review & Board Action
The CICA Audit Committee reviews the CAP and forwards recommendations to the Board of Directors for approval. The CAP remains on the Board's agenda for status reporting each meeting until all items are closed.

Authorizer Notification & Documentation
Within 30 days of Board acceptance, CICA submits to the charter authorizer a written report describing how each finding has been addressed or will be addressed, with supporting documentation. If any item is not yet resolved, the submission includes the Board-approved CAP and projected completion dates.

Timelines & Monitoring
CICA aims to fully resolve audit findings within six months of audit issuance. Progress is monitored against milestones; if delays arise, management provides revised timelines and interim controls to the Audit Committee and Board.

Material Weaknesses/Significant Deficiencies

Any material weakness or significant deficiency triggers immediate Board notification, expedited remediation steps, and—if warranted—the engagement of external advisors to strengthen internal controls.

Public Access and Appeals
Audit reports are public records and will be made available upon request. Any audit appeals or requests for summary review will be submitted to the Education Audit Appeals Panel (EAAP) in accordance with applicable law.

Element J Suspension and Expulsion Procedures

"The procedures by which pupils can be suspended or expelled from the charter school for disciplinary reasons or otherwise involuntarily removed from the charter school for any reason. These procedures, at a minimum, shall include an explanation of how the charter school will comply with federal and state constitutional procedural and substantive due process requirements that are consistent with all of the following:
For suspensions of fewer than 10 days, provide oral or written notice of the charges against the pupil and, if the pupil denies the charges, an explanation of the evidence that supports the charges and an opportunity for the pupil to present the pupil's side of the story.
For suspensions of 10 days or more and all other expulsions for disciplinary reasons, both of the following:
(I) Provide timely, written notice of the charges against the pupil and an explanation of the pupil's basic rights.
(II) Provide a hearing adjudicated by a neutral officer within a reasonable number of days at which the pupil has a fair opportunity to present testimony, evidence, and witnesses and confront and cross-examine adverse witnesses, and at which the pupil has the right to bring legal counsel or an advocate.
(iii) Contain a clear statement that no pupil shall be involuntarily removed by the charter school for any reason unless the parent or guardian of the pupil has been provided written notice of intent to remove the pupil no less than five school days before the effective date of the action. The written notice shall be in the native language of the pupil or the pupil's parent or guardian or, if the pupil is a homeless child or youth, or a foster child or youth, in the native language of the homeless or foster child's educational rights holder. In the case of a foster child or youth, the written notice shall also be provided to the foster child's attorney and county social worker. If the pupil is an Indian child, as defined in Section 224.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the written notice shall also be provided to the Indian child's tribal social worker and, if applicable, county social worker. The written notice shall inform the pupil, the pupil's parent or guardian, the homeless child's educational rights holder, the foster child's educational rights holder, attorney, and county social worker, or the Indian child's tribal social worker and, if applicable, county social worker. The written notice shall inform the pupil, the pupil's parent or guardian, the homeless child's educational rights holder, the foster child's educational rights holder, attorney, and county social worker, or the Indian child's tribal social worker and, if applicable, county social worker of the right to initiate the procedures specified in clause (ii) before the effective date of the action. If the pupil's parent or guardian, the homeless child's educational rights holder, the foster child's educational rights holder, attorney, or county social worker, or the Indian child's tribal social worker or, if applicable, county social worker initiates the procedures specified in clause (ii), the pupil shall remain enrolled and shall not be removed until the charter school issues a final decision. For purposes of this clause, "involuntarily removed" includes disenrolled, dismissed, transferred, or terminated, but does not include suspensions specified in clauses (i) and (ii).
(iv) A foster child's educational rights holder, attorney, and county social worker and an Indian child's tribal social worker and, if applicable, county social worker shall have the same rights a parent or guardian of a child has to receive a suspension notice, expulsion notice, manifestation determination notice, involuntary transfer notice, and other documents and related information." Education Code § 47605(c)(5)(J).

School Climate And Student Discipline System

Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools (HCCTS) has adopted 5144.1 Suspension and Expulsion Board Policy to promote student learning and maintain a safe and supportive learning environment—whether in-person or remote. The policy is closely aligned with California Education Code § 48900 et seq. and is reviewed annually for updates. Disciplinary actions, including suspension, expulsion, or involuntary removal, are applied fairly and consistently and are clearly outlined in the Student Handbook. Students and families receive written notice of these policies upon enrollment. The policy prohibits corporal punishment and outlines due process protections for all students, including those with disabilities or Section 504 plans. Involuntary removal requires written notice in the student's native language and an opportunity for a hearing. Students remain enrolled during the hearing process unless suspended or expelled for misconduct. For more information about Board Policy 5144.1, see the appendix.

CICA Discipline Philosophy

California Innovative Career Academy prides itself on meeting student needs and developing action plans to address extenuating circumstances as they arise, recognizing that many students come to the organization due to hardships that have prevented the fulfillment of their educational goals. By addressing the needs of each student directly, barriers to student success are removed.

CICA implements a philosophy that all students deserve a second chance by providing services that include individual one-on-one student counseling, a drug and alcohol rehabilitation and prevention support group called Clear Connections that meets twice a week, and a Positive Direction support group that meets once a week which focuses on a different student success theme per month. We also provide services that address criminal history and homelessness if these occurrences impede student attendance. Additional addressing of student needs include a transportation plan for adults who do not have vehicle access to and from school, a clothing and food closet for those students who are lacking basic necessities, and free child care for those students who are not able to attend class due to young children between the ages of 2 and 5 who are not school age eligible.

CICA encourages the utilization of these services to prevent student disenrollment, suspension, or expulsion when applicable. Should a disciplinary action be required, Student Success Team meetings (SSTs) and 504 plan meetings (when applicable) are organized to review the student's individual extenuating circumstances. Counselors, teachers, directors, and other assigned personnel assist in addressing student needs by creating an action plan for both the staff and the student.

School-Wide Positive Behavior Intervention and Support

The Student Success Team (SST) is a problem-solving and coordinating structure that assists students, teachers, staff, and community partners to develop positive solutions for maximizing student potential. It provides an opportunity for school staff, the adult student, community agencies, and other important people to present their concerns about an individual student. The SST focuses in-depth on one student at a time and invites the adult student to participate in finding solutions. Through discussion and study, they plan a positive course of action and assign responsibilities, as well as monitor the results of a student. This process informs individual actions for students, including referral to the formal SST process and class-wide actions to address issues such as use of class resources, behavior management, and classroom modifications.

The following is implemented during the time of behavioral intervention:

- Asset-Based Delivery: The SST always starts with a discussion of a student's strengths/assets and develops solutions that build on these strengths
- Problem Solving: The SST gathers background information regarding the student in the areas of school, home, family, health, and collaboratively brainstorms solutions to address areas of concern.
- Service Coordination: An action plan is developed for interventions, with support implemented and designed to address the students' needs; team members are assigned responsibilities for action items.
- Monitor Results: Action items are monitored, and a follow-up SST meeting is scheduled to review the results/outcomes of interventions, make adjustments, and continue to strategize positive solutions to ensure student success.

The coordination of interventions at school, home, and the community improves student learning and provides focused, positive support to teachers, students, and staff. An SST can help students who are facing significant concerns relating to:

- Academics
- Attendance problems
- Behavioral/emotional issues
- Consideration for 504 services
- Retention
- Health issues (including substance abuse)
- Social adjustment

Tiered Behavior Intervention

Members of a Student Support Team:

- The Adult Student is always invited to participate in the decisions of their own education and goal setting.
- Designated administrator
- Teacher(s)
- Resource personnel or specialists, such as community outreach consultants, social workers, probation officers, community resources representatives, or mental health consultants
- Others invited as appropriate

All SST team members are active contributors, and the process defines special roles that some members of the team must fill to achieve the greatest positive outcome. Team members may change roles from one SST meeting to the next. However, during any meeting, each team member's role is clearly defined before the meeting begins and then maintained throughout that meeting.

Facilitator
This person facilitates the work of the team and is the SST coordinator/leader. The success of the team depends largely on this person, who guides the flow of the meeting and coordinates logistics before and after the meeting.

The facilitator directs but does not dominate the SST meetings, eliciting the most helpful contributions of the group and, most importantly, keeping a positive tone at the meeting. The facilitator directs the process with respect for all members and accommodates the needs of the group. The facilitator reassures and supports the efforts of colleagues and students.

Recorder
The recorder is responsible for documenting the SST meeting discussion, including students' strengths, concerns, interventions, action items, and results. The recorder does this by using the Student Success Plan form or the Student Success Plan Follow-up Form.

Team Member
An effective team member is a positive contributor to the work of the team. The team members participate but do not control the flow of the meeting. Members come prepared with information about the student. Contributions that address difficult problem areas are positive, looking at constructive solutions, rather than characterizing, blaming, or stereotyping. Interventions are linked to the student's strengths.

The Adult Student as a Team Member
The Adult student is a full-fledged member of the SST, and they are always included. At the SST the student can share his/her perspective and concerns, contribute critical problem-related information from home, and share effective and ineffective home interventions. Many times, the adult student can clarify questions for the team and participate in the implementation of strategies developed by the whole team.

Outreach to Students
When connecting with students, care must be taken to ensure the most positive experience possible. Reaching out to and engaging the student is a key element in making the SST process successful. This effort involves much more than sending a written notice of a meeting or making a simple phone call. It involves extending oneself as a representative of the school and serving as a bridge for the student to the classroom and the larger school environment.

Adult students often resist this engagement. The barriers they present to any involvement may mask deeper fears or concerns. Being a student with school or social concerns can cause the student to have feelings of defensiveness or guilt. Many students may feel they will be unfairly attacked or made to feel worse than they already do in an SST meeting. They may have had former experiences with school meetings that were not successful, or they were not kept well informed, and they may be reluctant to trust another meeting at school.

The person performing the outreach/engagement role must be sensitive to these issues. Information about the purpose of the meeting must be presented with an emphasis on the shared concerns and responsibilities. An explanation of the SST process must be provided, emphasizing that the process is a collaborative strategy that builds upon the student's strengths to attain the highest degree of success for the student. The student must also be allowed to ask any questions or share any concerns s/he may have with the upcoming meeting.

Adult students may also have time, work, child care, or transportation issues that prevent participation in the meeting. The SST process must include support for students to accommodate these very real issues. Any support provided has both symbolic and concrete meaning to students and contributes to the success of the meeting for both students and team members.

Restorative Justice Practices
Student Success Team Follow-up Practices: The action plan created at the SST meeting is only as good as the follow-up practices that ensure its implementation.

Steps for Implementation:

Case Management

It is very important to clearly define in the Student Success Plan who is responsible for each "action item" and to designate the administrator in charge of monitoring the implementation of the plan. This creates an accountability system that is monitored and reviewed when the team comes together again for the Follow-up SST meeting(s).

Case manager tasks may include:

meeting with the student and with the teacher regarding the action plan, making phone calls and/or sending reminder notes to team members regarding action items, and/or helping students and their families follow through with referrals to on-site and community-based services.

Feedback to the Referral Source

The administrator, or a designated member, provides the referral source with feedback promptly after the initial SST meeting. Even when the referral source is unable to attend the SST meeting, it is beneficial to involve them in some ownership of the plan, particularly classroom strategies, modifications, and adaptations.

Student/Family Support

Working with students to be a part of the plan and to undertake actions on their own behalf is an important part of the follow-up. Students are empowered to take ownership of their action plans, with ongoing check-ins offered as needed. During the SST meeting, the student is an equal partner in developing the action plan. The assigned administrator or another staff member who has a relationship with the student may want to check in with the student periodically to offer support toward implementing action items.

Follow-Up SST Meetings / Ongoing monitoring of student progress

At the end of every initial SST, a follow-up SST meeting date is set, preferably within 4-6 weeks. At the follow-up SST meeting action items are reviewed and student progress is discussed. The follow-up SST meeting is documented on the Student Success Plan

Follow-up Form. The action plan may need to be modified and additional interventions added depending on student progress.

Communicating, Teaching, and Modeling: Suspension Alternatives through Professional Development

Staff shall enforce disciplinary rules and procedures fairly and consistently among all students. CICA staff are trained and annually review de-escalation strategies for students in crises. These strategies focus on developing relationships with students, identifying and avoiding, when possible, triggers for undesirable behavior, and stabilize students who have been triggered safely through the use of de-escalation techniques.

Discipline includes but is not limited to advising and counseling students, conferring with parents/guardians[3], during assigned time for supervised academic support or restorative conferencing, either virtually or in person., community service, use of alternative educational environments, suspension, expulsion, and involuntary removal.

Corporal punishment shall not be used as a disciplinary measure against any student. Corporal punishment includes the willful infliction of or willfully causing the infliction of physical pain on a student. For purposes of this Pupil Suspension and Expulsion Policy, corporal punishment does not include an employee's use of force that is reasonable and necessary to protect the employee, students, staff or other persons or to prevent damage to school property.

Suspended or expelled students shall be excluded from learning opportunities, meetings, and optional program events during the period of suspension or expulsion.

A student identified as an individual with disabilities or for whom CICA has a basis of knowledge of a suspected disability pursuant to the IDEIA or who is qualified for services under Section 504 is subject to the same grounds for suspension and expulsion and is accorded the same due process procedures applicable to regular education students except when federal and state law mandates additional or different procedures. CICA will follow all applicable federal and state laws when imposing any form of discipline on a student identified as an individual with disabilities or for whom CICA has a basis of knowledge of a suspected disability or who is otherwise qualified for such services or protections in according due process to such students and shall notify the District of the same.

No student shall be involuntarily removed by the Charter School for any reason unless the student has been provided written notice of intent to remove the student no less than five schooldays before the effective date of the action. The written notice shall be in the native language of the student, and shall inform him or her of the right to initiate the procedures specified below for suspensions, before the effective date of the action. If the student initiates the procedures specified below for suspensions, the student shall remain enrolled and shall not be removed until the Charter School issues a final decision.

[3] The Charter School shall ensure that a homeless child or youth's educational rights holder; a foster child or youth's educational rights holder, attorney, and county social worker; and an Indian child's tribal social worker and, if applicable, county social worker have the same rights as a parent or guardian to receive a suspension notice, expulsion notice, manifestation determination notice, involuntary transfer notice, involuntary removal notice, and other documents and related information. For purposes of this Policy and its Procedures, the term "parent/guardian" shall include these parties.

As used herein, "involuntarily removed" includes disenrolled, dismissed, transferred, or terminated, but does not include suspensions or expulsions pursuant to the suspension and expulsion procedures described below.

In-School Suspension

Authorization and Implementation of In-School Suspensions

In-school suspension at CICA is structured through enrollment in the school's targeted support track within the Independent Study Program. This track includes mandatory advisor check-ins, access to credit recovery resources, and scheduled tutoring—either in person or virtually—as appropriate. CICA offers in-school suspension as a means of reducing time missed from learning for behavioral issues. Should the need for in-school suspension arise due to a violation of student conduct violations, as defined by the California Innovative Career Academy's Student Handbook, in-school suspension will be served through the enrollment of and attendance in the California Innovative Career Academy Alternative Education/Independent Study Program. An assigned advisor will work with the student to arrange a schedule for the student to engage in credit recovery and after-school tutoring as needed to ensure she is able to keep up with his/her school work while on suspension. Grounds for in-school suspension shall not exceed grounds for expulsion as defined by the Student Expulsion policy. Notification procedures and the maximum number of days for in-school suspension per incident as well as academic year are the same as out-of-school suspensions.

To ensure that CICA adequately provide safety for students, staff, and visitors to the school and serve the best interests of students, in-school suspension will not be offered to any student who:

- Caused, attempted to cause, threatened to cause, or participated in an act of hate violence,
- Engaged in harassment, threats, or intimidation against a pupil or group of pupils or school district personnel, or
- Made terrorist threats against school officials or school property, or both.

Out-Of-School Suspension Procedures

Suspension Authority
CICA will ensure that the process for investigating incidents and collecting evidence will be fair and thorough before a student is suspended. A student may only be suspended by the Executive Director's and/or Chief Academic Officer, or in the case of the Executive Director and Chief Academic Officer's absence or inability to carry out proper suspension procedures, an assigned designee.

Conference
Suspension will be preceded, if possible, by a conference conducted by the Executive Director's and/or Chief Academic Officer or an assigned designee with the student and, whenever practical, the teacher, supervisor or Charter School employee who referred the student to the Executive Director's and/or Chief Academic Officer and Instruction or assigned designee.
The conference may be omitted if the Executive Director's and/or Director of Curriculum and Instruction or an assigned designee determines that an emergency situation exists. An "emergency situation" involves a clear and present danger to the lives, safety, or health of students or charter school personnel. If a student is suspended without this conference, the student will be notified of the student's right to return to school for the purpose of a conference.

At the conference, the student will be informed of the reason for the disciplinary action, including the other means of correction that were attempted before the suspension, and the evidence against him or her and will be given a meaningful opportunity to present his or her version and evidence in his or her defense. This conference will be held within two school days, unless the student waives this right or is physically unable to attend for any reason, including, but not limited to, incarceration or hospitalization. No penalties may be imposed on a student for failure to attend a conference with Charter School officials. Reinstatement of the suspended student shall not be contingent upon attendance by the student at the conference.

Student Notification
Students will have due process rights with regard to suspensions and expulsions. At the time of the suspension, an administrator or designee will make a reasonable effort to contact the student by telephone or in person. Initial contact will be followed by a written notice. This notice will state the specific offense(s) committed by the student. In addition, the notice will also state the date and time the student may return to school.

Maximum Suspension
The length of the suspension will be determined by the Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or an assigned designee based on the severity of the offense(s), as evidenced by witness statements, physical evidence, and other relevant factors. For students with IEPs, the students SST team will consult with the Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or an assigned designee on additional factors that are relevant to the decision. The length of suspension for students may not exceed a period of 5 consecutive days per suspension. The total number of days for which a student may be suspended from school shall not exceed 20 school days in any school year.

Meaningful Education for Suspended Students
A student on suspension will be provided meaningful access to education during the term of the suspension. An advisor of the suspended student will collect and provide the student with classroom material and current assignments to be completed at home during the length of the suspension. Missed tests will also be coordinated to be completed either at home or upon return. Written notification listing all required assignments will be given to the student and all needed materials will be left in the front office.

In accordance with Education Code § 47606.2(a), upon the request of a parent, a legal guardian or other person holding the right to make education decisions for the student, or the affected student, a teacher shall provide to a student in any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, who has been suspended from school for two (2) or more school days, the homework that the student would otherwise have been assigned.

In accordance with Education Code § 47606.2(b), if a homework assignment that is requested pursuant to Section 47606.2(a) and turned into the teacher by the student either upon the student's return to school from suspension or within the timeframe originally prescribed by the teacher, whichever is later, is not graded before the end of the academic term, that assignment shall not be included in the calculation of the student's overall grade in the class.

Suspension Pending the Outcome of an Expulsion Process

Upon a recommendation of expulsion by the Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or Administrative Panel, the student or representative will be invited to a conference to determine if the suspension for the student should be extended pending an expulsion hearing. This determination will be made by the Executive Director and/or Chief Academic Officer or Administrative Panel upon either of the following: 1) the student's presence will be disruptive to the education process; or 2) the student poses a threat or danger to others or property. Upon either determination, the student's suspension will be extended pending the results of an expulsion hearing. The maximum number of days a student may be suspended is thirty days (30) unless the expulsion hearing is postponed for good cause, in which case the suspension could be extended further. Procedures for providing a student on suspension with meaningful access to education during the term of the suspension pending the outcome of an expulsion process is outlined above in the section titled, "In School Suspension."

Expulsion Procedures

Prior to making an expulsion recommendation, students will be provided adequate notice of the reason for disciplinary actions and a meaningful opportunity to be heard by invitation to a conference to determine if the student should be placed on suspension or if an existing suspension for the student should be extended pending an expulsion hearing. This determination will be made by the Executive Director and/or Director of Chief Academic Officer (or assigned designee) upon either of the following findings:

- The student's presence will likely be disruptive to the educational process
- The student poses a threat or danger to others or property.

Upon this determination, the student placed on suspension or will have his/her suspension extended pending the results of an expulsion hearing.

Students will be recommended for expulsion if at least one of the following findings may be substantiated:

- Other means of correction are not feasible or have repeatedly failed to bring about proper conduct.
- Due to the nature of the violation, the presence of the student causes a continuing danger to the physical safety of the student or others.

Authority to Expel

As required by Education Code § 47605(c)(5)(J)(ii), students recommended for expulsion are entitled to a hearing adjudicated by a neutral officer to determine whether the student should be expelled. The procedures herein provide for such a hearing and the notice of said hearing, as required by law. A student may be expelled either by the CICA Board following a hearing before it or by the CICA Board upon the recommendation of the Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or a neutral and impartial Administrative Panel may be assigned by the Board as needed. The Administrative Panel should consist of at least three members who are certificated and neither a teacher of the student nor a Board member of the Charter School's governing board. The Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or Administrative Panel may recommend expulsion of any student found to have committed an expellable offense, and the CICA Board of Directors shall make the final determination.

Mandatory Recommendation for Expulsion
Students must be expelled for any of the following acts when it is determined pursuant to the procedures below that the student:

A. Possessed, sold, or otherwise furnished any firearm, explosive, or other dangerous object unless, in the case of possession of any object of this type, the students had obtained written permission to possess the item from a certificated school employee, with the Executive Director's and/or Director of Curriculum and Instruction (or assigned designee's) concurrence. Possession of an imitation firearm is not an offense for which suspension or expulsion is mandatory.
B. Brandished a knife at another person.
C. Unlawfully sold a controlled substance listed in Health and Safety Code Section 11053-11058.
D. Committed or attempted to commit a sexual assault as defined in Penal Code Sections 261, 266c, 286, 287, 288, or 289 or former Section 288a of the Penal Code, or committed a sexual battery as defined by Penal Code Section 243.4.
E. Possession of an explosive.

If it is determined by the Board of Directors that a student has brought a firearm or destructive device, as defined in Section 921 of Title 18 of the United States Code, on to campus or to have possessed a firearm or dangerous device on campus, the student shall be expelled for one year, pursuant to the Federal Gun Free Schools Act of 1994. In such instances, the student shall be provided due process rights of notice and a hearing as required in this policy.

The term "firearm" means (A) any weapon (including a starter gun) which will or is designed to or may readily be converted to expel a projectile by the action of an explosive; (B) the frame or receiver of any such weapon; (C) any firearm muffler or firearm silencer; or (D) any destructive device. Such a term does not include an antique firearm.

The term "destructive device" means (A) any explosive, incendiary, or poison gas, including but not limited to: (i) bomb, (ii) grenade, (iii) rocket having a propellant charge of more than four ounces, (iv) missile having an explosive or incendiary charge of more than one-quarter ounce, (v) mine, or (vi) device similar to any of the devices described in the preceding clauses.
A decision to expel a pupil shall be based on a finding that other means of correction are not feasible or have repeatedly failed to bring about proper conduct, or that due to the nature of the act, the presence of the pupil causes a continuing danger to the physical safety of the pupil or others.

Discretionary Recommendation for Expulsion
Students shall be recommended for expulsion, unless the Executive Director or the Executive Director's designee determines that expulsion should not be recommended under the circumstances or that an alternative means of correction would address the following acts:

A. Causing serious physical injury to another person, except in self-defense.
B. Possession of any knife or other dangerous object of no reasonable use to the pupil.

C. Unlawfully possessing any controlled substance, as defined in Health and Safety Code Sections 11053-11058 except for either the first offense of possession of not more than one avoirdupois ounce of marijuana, other than concentrated cannabis, or the possession of over-the-counter medication for use by the pupil for medical purposes or medication prescribed for the pupil be a physician.
D. Robbery or extortion.
E. Assault or battery, as defined in Penal Code Sections 240 and 242, upon any Charter School employee.

Expulsion Procedures
Students recommended for expulsion are entitled to a hearing to determine whether the student should be expelled. Unless postponed for good cause, the hearing will be held within thirty (30) school days after the Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or an Administrative Panel or designee determines that the student has committed an expellable offense.

In the event an Administrative Panel hears the case, it will make a recommendation to the Board for a final decision whether to expel. The hearing shall be held in closed session (complying with all student confidentiality rules under FERPA) unless the student makes a written request for a public hearing three (3) days prior to the hearing.

Written notice of the hearing shall be forwarded to the student at least ten (10) calendar days before the date of the hearing. Upon mailing the notice, it shall be deemed served upon the student. The notice shall include:

1. The date and place of the expulsion hearing,
2. A statement of the specific facts, charges and offenses upon which the proposed expulsion is based,
3. A copy of CICA disciplinary rules which relate to the alleged violation,
4. Notification of the student's obligation to provide information about the student's status at CICA to any other school district or school to which the student seeks enrollment,
5. The opportunity for the student to appear in person or to employ and be represented by counsel or a non-attorney advisor,
6. The right to inspect and obtain copies of all documents to be used at the hearing,
7. The opportunity to confront and question all witnesses who testify at the hearing, and
8. The opportunity to question all evidence presented and to present oral and documentary evidence on the student's behalf including witnesses.

Reasonable accommodations, including language support for a student who has a primary language other than English will be made available at the hearing, upon request.

Special Procedures for Expulsion Hearings Involving Sexual Assault or Battery Offenses
CICA may, upon a finding of good cause, determine that the disclosure of either the identity of the witness or the testimony of that witness at the hearing, or both, would subject the witness to an unreasonable risk of psychological or physical harm. Upon this determination, the testimony of the witness may be presented at the hearing in the form of sworn declarations that shall be examined only by the CICA Board or the hearing officer. Copies of these sworn declarations, edited to delete the name and identity of the witness, shall be made available to the student.

1. The complaining witness in any sexual assault or battery case must be provided with a copy of the applicable disciplinary rules and advised of his/her right to (a) receive five days' notice of his/her scheduled testimony, (b) have up to two (2) adult support persons of his/her choosing present in the hearing at the time s/he testifies, which may include a parent, guardian, or legal counsel, and (c) elect to have the hearing closed while testifying.
2. CICA must also provide the victim a room separate from the hearing room for the complaining witness' use prior to and during breaks in testimony.
3. At the discretion of the person or panel conducting the expulsion hearing, the complaining witness shall be allowed periods of relief from examination and cross-examination during which s/he may leave the hearing room.
4. The person or panel conducting the expulsion hearing may also arrange the seating within the hearing room to facilitate a less intimidating environment for the complaining witness.The person or panel conducting the expulsion hearing may also limit time for taking the testimony of the complaining witness to the hours s/he is normally in school, if there is no good cause to take the testimony during other hours.
5. Prior to a complaining witness testifying, the support persons must be admonished that the hearing is confidential. Nothing in the law precludes the person presiding over the hearing from removing a support person whom the presiding person finds is disrupting the hearing. The person or panel conducting the hearing may permit any one of the support persons for the complaining witness to accompany him or her to the witness stand.
6. If one or both of the support persons is also a witness, CICA must present evidence that the witness' presence is both desired by the witness and will be helpful to CICA. The person presiding over the hearing shall permit the witness to stay unless it is established that there is a substantial risk that the testimony of the complaining witness would be influenced by the support person, in which case the presiding official shall admonish the support person or persons not to prompt, sway, or influence the witness in any way. Nothing shall preclude the presiding officer from exercising his or her discretion to remove a person from the hearing whom s/he believes is prompting, swaying, or influencing the witness.
7. The testimony of the support person shall be presented before the testimony of the complaining witness and the complaining witness shall be excluded from the courtroom during that testimony.
8. Especially for charges involving sexual assault or battery, if the hearing is to be conducted in public at the request of the student being expelled, the complaining witness shall have the right to have his/her testimony heard in a closed session when testifying at a public meeting would threaten serious psychological harm to the complaining witness and there are no alternative procedures to avoid the threatened harm. The alternative procedures may include videotaped depositions or contemporaneous examination in another place communicated to the hearing room by means of closed-circuit television.
9. Evidence of specific instances of a complaining witness' prior sexual conduct is presumed inadmissible and shall not be heard absent a determination by the person conducting the hearing that extraordinary circumstances exist requiring the evidence be heard. Before such a determination regarding extraordinary circumstances can be made, the witness shall be provided notice and an opportunity to present opposition to the introduction of the evidence. In the hearing on the admissibility of the evidence, the complaining witness shall be entitled to be represented by a parent, legal counsel, or other support person. Reputation or opinion evidence regarding the sexual behavior of the complaining witness is not admissible for any purpose.

Record of Hearing
A record of the hearing shall be made and may be maintained by any means, including electronic recording, as long as a reasonably accurate and complete written transcription of the proceedings can be made.

Presentation of Evidence
While technical rules of evidence do not apply to expulsion hearings, evidence may be admitted and used as proof only if it is the kind of evidence on which reasonable persons can rely in the conduct of serious affairs. A recommendation by the Administrative Panel to expel must be supported by substantial evidence that the student committed an expellable offense. Findings of fact shall be based solely on the evidence at the hearing. While hearsay evidence is admissible, no decision to expel shall be based solely on hearsay. Sworn declarations may be admitted as testimony from witnesses of whom the Board, Panel or designee determines that disclosure of their identity or testimony at the hearing may subject them to an unreasonable risk of physical or psychological harm.

If, due to a written request by the expelled student, the hearing is held at a public meeting, and the charge is committing or attempting to commit a sexual assault or committing a sexual battery as defined in Education Code Section 48900, a complaining witness shall have the right to have his or her testimony heard in a session closed to the public.

The decision of the Administrative Panel shall be in the form of written findings of fact and a written recommendation to the Board who will make a final determination regarding the expulsion. The final decision by the Board shall be made within ten (10) school days following the conclusion of the hearing. The Decision of the Board is final.

If the Administrative Panel decides not to recommend expulsion, the student shall immediately be returned to his/her educational program.

Written Notice to Expel
The Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or an Administrative Panel, following a decision of the Board to expel, shall send written notice of the decision to expel, including the Board's adopted findings of fact, to the student. This notice shall also include the following: (a) Notice of the specific offense committed by the student; and (b) Notice of the student's obligation to inform any new district in which the student seeks to enroll of the student's status with CICA.

The Executive Director and/or the Chief Academic Officer or an Administrative Panel, shall send a copy of the written notice of the decision to expel to the authorizer. This notice shall include the following: (a) The student's name; and (b) The specific expellable offense committed by the student.

Disciplinary Records
CICA shall maintain records of all student suspensions and expulsions at CICA. Such records shall be made available to the authorizer upon request.

No Right to Appeal
The student shall have no right of appeal from expulsion from CICA as CICA Board's decision to expel shall be final.

Expelled Students/Alternative Education
CICA shall ensure that students suspended from CICA are provided with an appropriate alternative educational program (class work and homework assignments, etc.) during the period of the student's suspension from school. Whenever a student is expelled from CICA, CICA shall notify the student and the student in writing of the student's duty to attend the public school district in which the residency of either the parent or legal guardian is located. CICA shall also notify the public school district in which the residency of either the parent or legal guardian is located whenever a student is expelled from CICA.

Rehabilitation Plans
Rehabilitation Plans, Criteria, and Expulsion
Students who are expelled from CICA shall be given a rehabilitation plan upon expulsion as developed by the Board at the time of the expulsion order, which may include, but is not limited to, periodic review as well as assessment at the time of review for readmission. The rehabilitation plan should include a date not later than one year from the date of expulsion when the student may reapply to CICA for readmission.

Readmission
The decision to readmit a student or to admit a previously expelled student from another school district or charter school shall be in the sole discretion of the Board following a meeting with the Executive Director or designee and the student and guardian or representative to determine whether the student has successfully completed the rehabilitation plan and to determine whether the student poses a threat to others or will be disruptive to the school environment. The Executive Director or designee shall make a recommendation to the Board following the meeting regarding his or her determination. The student's readmission is also contingent upon CICA capacity at the time the student seeks readmission.

Notice to Teachers
The Charter School shall notify teachers of each student who has engaged in or is reasonably suspected to have engaged in any of the acts listed in Education Code § 49079 and the corresponding enumerated offenses set forth above.

Element K Employee Retirement Systems

"The manner by which staff members of the charter schools will be covered by the State Teachers' Retirement System, the Public Employees' Retirement System, or federal social security." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(K).)

Retirement Systems for Certificated, Classified, and Other Staff Members

All full-time certificated employees at California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) participate in a qualified retirement plan, including, but not limited to, the State Teachers Retirement System (STRS) or the federal Social Security system based on their eligibility to participate. CICA teachers participate in STRS. Non-certificated/classified staff participate in a 401a defined contribution plan.

CICA employees may be eligible to participate in school-sponsored retirement and benefit plans, as outlined in policies adopted by the Board of Directors. In the event that the Internal Revenue Service enacts regulations prohibiting nonprofit entities from participating in publicly funded retirement systems such as the California State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS), employees will instead be enrolled in Social Security and/or an alternative employer-sponsored retirement plan approved by the CICA Board. Prospective employees are informed of their retirement system options during the application process and advised that employment with CICA may affect their eligibility for continued participation in a previous retirement system. The Executive Director is responsible for ensuring appropriate retirement coverage is arranged for all staff. To support recruitment and retention of highly qualified personnel, CICA offers a competitive compensation and benefits package that reflects market conditions and professional experience.

STRS reporting is conducted in collaboration with Charter Impact, CICA's contracted fiscal services provider specializing in payroll taxes and CalSTRS compliance. While contributions and deductions are processed through CICA's internal payroll department, Charter Impact oversees all reporting, auditing, and submission of required documentation to CalSTRS. The CICA Finance Department performs regular reconciliations to ensure accuracy and alignment with STRS liability reporting cycles.

Element L Public School Attendance Alternatives

"The public school attendance alternatives for students residing within the school district who choose not to attend charter schools." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(L).)

Informing Students of Public School Attendance Alternatives

No student may be required to attend California Innovative Career Academy (CICA). Students who reside within the District who choose not to attend CICA may attend school according to District policy or at another school district or school within the District in accordance with existing enrollment and transfer policies of their district or county of residence. Each student enrolled in CICA is informed on admissions forms that the students have no right to admission in a particular school of a local education agency (or program of any local education agency) as a consequence of enrollment in CICA, except to the extent that such a right is extended by the local education agency. This information is also communicated to families through orientation materials and enrollment staff, who are available to answer questions and provide support in multiple languages as needed.

Element M Rights of District Employees

"The rights of an employee of the school district upon leaving the employment of the school district to work in a charter school, and of any rights of return to the school district after employment at a charter school." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(M).)

No public school employee will be required to work at CICA. Employees of the District who choose to leave the employment of the District to work in the Charter School will have no automatic rights of return to the District after employment by CICA unless specifically granted by the District through a leave of absence or other agreement or policy of the District as aligned with the collective bargaining agreements of the District.

All employees of CICA will be considered the exclusive employees of CICA and not of Twin Rivers (TRUSD), for the purposes of the Education Employment Relations Act, unless otherwise mutually agreed in writing. Employment by CICA provides no rights of employment at any other entity, including any rights in the case of closure of CICA.

CICA has a board approved Employee Handbook which outlines employee rights as well as employee responsibilities. The Employee Handbook for 2024-2025 is linked in the appendix.

Employee Representation

Governing Law: The petition does not contain a declaration of whether or not the charter school shall be deemed the exclusive public school employer of the employees of the Charter School for the purposes of Chapter 10.7 (commencing with Section 3540) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code.
--California Education Code § 47605 (c) (6).

CICA shall be deemed the exclusive public school employer of the employees of CICA for the purposes of the Education Employment Relations Act ("EERA"). CICA shall comply with the EERA.

CICA is independent from Twin Rivers Unified School District, and any District employees who choose to work at CICA shall resign their status as employees of Twin Rivers Unified School District or other school district and all of their rights and benefits thereof. All persons employed by CICA shall not be deemed to be employees of Twin Rivers Unified School District for any purpose whatsoever. CICA employees shall have no employment rights of any kind with Twin Rivers Unified School District.

CICA will develop and maintain an Employee Handbook detailing the rights and responsibilities of all CICA employees and shall comply with all anti-discrimination and sexual harassment employment laws applicable to public agencies. On or before the first day of operation, and by August 1 of each subsequent year, CICA shall provide Twin Rivers Unified School District with two (2) copies of the Employee Handbook. CICA shall annually update and revise the Employee

Handbook to reflect changes in the law and/or policies. CICA shall be solely responsible for the hiring and compensation of CICA employees, including but not limited to, salary, health benefits, sick leave, vacation, and retirement benefits. Twin Rivers Unified School District shall have no obligation to provide beginning teacher support or assessment to any CICA teacher or employee.

Governing Law: Except for the requirement that a pupil be a California resident, subdivision (b) of Section 47612 shall not apply to a charter school program that provides instruction exclusively in partnership with any of the following:

- The federal Workforce Investment Act of 1998 (29 U.S.C. Sec. 3101, et seq.).
- Federally affiliated Youth Build programs.
- Federal job corps training or instruction provided pursuant to a memorandum of understanding with the federal provider.
- The California Conservation Corps or local conservation corps certified by the California Conservation Corps pursuant to Sections 14406 or 14507.5 of the Public Resources Code.

-- California Education Code § 47612.1.

Governing Law: Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the jurisdictional limitations set forth in this section do not apply to a charter school that provides instruction exclusively in partnership with any of the following:

- The federal Workforce Investment Act of 1998 (29 U.S.C. Sec. 3101 et seq.).
- Federally affiliated Youth Build programs.
- Federal job corps training or instruction provided pursuant to a memorandum of understanding with the federal provider.
- The California Conservation Corps or local conservation corps certified by the California Conservation Corps pursuant to Sections 14507.5 or 14406 of the Public Resources Code.
- Instruction provided to juvenile court school pupils pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 42238.18 or pursuant to Section 1981 for individuals who are placed in a residential facility.

-- California Education Code § 47605.1 (f).

Element N Mandatory Dispute Resolution

"The procedures to be followed by the charter school and the chartering authority to resolve disputes relating to provisions of the charter." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(N).)

Disputes Arising from within CICA

It is the intent of Twin Rivers Unified School District and CICA that complaints and disputes be resolved quickly and informally in an atmosphere of cooperation whenever possible.

Complaints regarding the operation of CICA, which do not involve Twin Rivers Unified School District liability or issues of student health or safety, will be forwarded to CICA for processing according to procedures adopted by CICA, prior to being addressed by Twin Rivers Unified School District. CICA procedures shall include reasonably expeditious timelines and a full opportunity for parents/guardians of any students who are minors directly affected to express their concerns. Twin Rivers Unified School District will not address the dispute if CICA can fully resolve the problem unless CICA requests Twin Rivers Unified School District's involvement.

Disputes between CICA and Twin Rivers Unified School District

CICA recognizes that it cannot bind Twin Rivers Unified School District to a dispute resolution procedure to which Twin Rivers Unified School District does not agree. The policy below is intended as a starting point for a discussion of dispute resolution procedures. CICA is willing to consider changes to the process outlined below as suggested by Twin Rivers Unified School District. CICA and Twin Rivers Unified School District will be encouraged to attempt to resolve any disputes with CICA amicably and reasonably without resorting to formal procedures.

In the event of any dispute between CICA and Twin Rivers Unified School District, excluding revocation of the Charter but including audit exceptions and deficiencies, the complaining party shall prepare a written statement of the dispute, which shall be simultaneously submitted to Twin Rivers Unified School District's Superintendent or designee, and the Executive Director of HCCTS. The Executive Director and the Superintendent or designee shall meet and confer within five (5) business days from the date of receipt of the written statement and attempt to resolve the dispute. In the event the matter is not resolved, the parties shall identify two members of their respective governing boards who shall meet with the Superintendent or designee, and the Principal within ten (10) business days and attempt to resolve the dispute. If this meeting fails to resolve the dispute, either party shall, within five (5) business days following the meeting, submit the matter first to the Sacramento County Superintendent of Schools. The parties agree to be bound by the County Superintendent's decision and shall indicate as such when submitting the matter to the County Superintendent. If the County Superintendent declines to hear the matter, the parties may agree to submit their dispute to a mutually agreeable mediator for resolution in accordance with any procedure determined and prescribed by the mediator and agreed to by the parties. Review by the County Superintendent or mediator to be held no later than forty-five (45) business days of receipt of the initial dispute statement. If the parties are unable to resolve the matter before a mutually agreeable mediator, they may pursue any other remedy available at law. The cost of the mediator shall be equally split between the parties.

CICA shall timely notify Twin Rivers Unified School District of any and all complaints filed against CICA by its employees, students, parents, and vendors, involving violations of the Charter, the MOU, state or federal law, or alleged financial mismanagement.

Revocation Protocol

CICA and Twin Rivers Unified School District agree that the dispute resolution procedure set forth above shall not apply to any matter that could lead to revocation of the Charter. Prior to revocation of the Charter, Twin Rivers Unified School District shall provide CICA with written notice of its belief and an opportunity to meet with and respond to Twin Rivers Unified School District within a reasonable time, which shall be not less than five (5) business days, prior to issuing a written notice to "cure and correct," unless Twin Rivers Unified School District determines in writing that the violation constitutes a severe and imminent threat to the health or safety of the pupils in accordance with Education Code § 47607(g) and its implementing regulations. Thereafter, if Twin Rivers Unified School District determines that revocation is warranted, it shall comply with the procedures set forth in Education Code § 47607.

Potential Civil Liability Effects

Governing Law: Potential civil liability effects, if any, upon the charter school and upon the school district. (California Education Code § 47605(h).)

CICA shall be operated by a California nonprofit public benefit corporation. This corporation is organized and operated exclusively for charitable purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and California Revenue and Taxation Code Section 23701(d).

Pursuant to Education Code § 47604(d), an entity that grants a charter to a charter school operated by a non-profit public benefit corporation shall not be liable for the debts or obligations of CICA or for claims arising from the performance of acts, errors, or omissions by CICA if the authority has complied with all oversight responsibilities required by law. CICA shall work diligently to assist Twin Rivers Unified School District in meeting any and all oversight obligations under the law, including monthly meetings, reporting, or other District-requested protocol to ensure CICA shall not be liable for the operation of CICA.

Further, CICA and Twin Rivers Unified School District shall enter into a memorandum of understanding, wherein CICA shall indemnify Twin Rivers Unified School District for the actions of CICA under this charter.

The corporate bylaws of CICA shall provide for indemnification of the Twin Rivers Unified School District's Board, officers, agents, and employees, and CICA will purchase general liability insurance, Board Members and Officers insurance, and fidelity bonding to secure against financial risks.

As stated above, insurance amounts will be determined by recommendation of Twin Rivers

Unified School District and the Twin Rivers Unified School District insurance company for schools of similar size, location, and student population. Twin Rivers Unified School District shall be named an additional insured on the general liability insurance of CICA.

The CICA Board will institute appropriate risk management practices as discussed herein, including screening of employees, establishing codes of conduct for students, and dispute resolution.

Element O Charter School Closure Procedures

"The procedures to be used if the charter school closes. The procedures shall ensure a final audit of the charter school to determine the disposition of all assets and liabilities of the charter school, including plans for disposing of any net assets and for the maintenance and transfer of pupil records." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(O).)

The following procedures shall apply in the event CICA closes, regardless of the reason for closure. Closure of CICA shall be documented by official action of the Board of Directors of CICA. The action shall identify the reason for closure and designate an entity and individual(s) responsible for closure-related activities. The CICA Board shall promptly notify Twin Rivers Unified School District (TRUSD), within ten (10) business days, of the closure and the effective date of the closure. Closure initiated by the CICA Board shall not take effect before the end of the normal school year in June unless agreed to in writing by TRUSD.

The entity responsible for implementing the closure procedures shall be experienced in the dissolution and closure of public educational programs and shall comply with all legal requirements regarding the confidentiality of student records. The Chair of the Board of Directors shall serve as the official contact for purposes of implementing the closure protocol set forth in the Charter and its plan for maintaining and transferring student records, payment of debts and liabilities, and distribution of remaining assets.

The CICA Board of Directors shall also notify the Sacramento County Office of Education, the School's SELPA, the retirement systems in which the School's employees participate and the California Department of Education of the closure, as well as the effective date of the closure. This notice shall include the name(s) and contact information of the person(s) to whom reasonable inquiries may be made regarding the closure; the students' school districts of residence; the manner in which parents/guardians (in the case of a minor) and adult students may obtain copies of student records, including specific information on completed courses and credits that meet graduation requirements; and student contact information, which shall also be promptly provided to TRUSD.

The CICA Board of Directors shall also develop a list of students in each grade level and the classes they have completed, together with information on each student's district of residence, which the Board shall provide to the entity responsible for closure-related activities. The CICA Board of Directors shall ensure timely notification to the parents and students of the School of the closure and provide information to assist them in locating suitable alternative programs. This notice shall be provided within ten (10) business days following CICA's decision to close the School.

As applicable, CICA will provide parents, students, and TRUSD with copies of all appropriate student records and will otherwise assist students in transferring to their next school. CICA will ask TRUSD to store original records of CICA students. If TRUSD is unable or unwilling to store the records, CICA will work with the Sacramento County Office of Education to determine a suitable alternative location for storage. All transfers of student records shall be made in compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act ("FERPA"), 20 U.S.C. § 1232g.

All state assessment results, special education records, and personnel records shall be transferred to and maintained by the entity responsible for closure-related activities in accordance with applicable law.

As soon as is reasonably practical, CICA shall prepare final financial records. Within six (6) months following the date of closure, CICA shall also have an independent audit completed. The audit shall be paid for by CICA using its Reserve Fund and shall be conducted according to standards for public school audits by a qualified Certified Public Accountant experienced in public school audits, selected by CICA. The audit shall be provided to TRUSD promptly upon completion. The final audit shall include an accounting of all financial assets, including cash and accounts receivable; an inventory of property, equipment, and other items of material value; an accounting of liabilities, including accounts payable, any reduction in apportionments as a result of audit findings or other investigations, loans, and unpaid staff compensation; and an assessment of the disposition of any restricted funds received by or due to CICA.
CICA shall complete and file any annual reports required pursuant to Education Code § 47604.33.

Upon closure of CICA, all assets of CICA, including but not limited to all leaseholds, personal property, intellectual property, and all ADA apportionments and other revenues generated by students attending CICA, after payment of debts and liabilities and refunds to applicable agencies, shall be distributed in accordance with CICA's Articles of Incorporation to another California public educational entity. Any assets acquired from TRUSD will be promptly returned to TRUSD upon closure. The distribution shall include the return of any grant funds and restricted categorical funds to their source in accordance with the terms of the grant or applicable state and federal law, including the submission of final expenditure reports and final performance reports. Donated materials and property shall be returned in accordance with any conditions established when the donation was accepted.

On closure, CICA shall remain solely responsible for all liabilities arising from the operation of the School. As CICA is operated by a nonprofit public benefit corporation, should the corporation dissolve upon closure, the Board shall follow the procedures set forth in the California Corporations Code for the dissolution of a nonprofit public benefit corporation and file all necessary documents with the appropriate state and federal agencies.
As specified by the Budget in the Appendix, CICA will utilize its Reserve Fund to undertake any expenses associated with the closure procedures identified above.

Hi Matthew,

Regarding the deadline of tomorrow that cannot be achieved for a report issuance. Currently we are working through final review of workpapers and final drafting of the report and then it will need to go to our national office for their review and approval due to the prior period restatement. I have met with the team just now and we will be moving folks off other projects this week and next so that Highlands is the only priority on everyone's list until it's completed. With that being said it's possible we could issue as soon as next week at the end of the week but I would realistically expect that it's more likely we would have a final draft to you around end of next week with a final review and approval from you and the national office completed the following week and issuance at that time during the week of April 28th. Unfortunately, we had significantly underestimated the time it would take for us to work through the comments, recommendations, and concerns from the various SCO, State Auditor's Office, and the attendance reviews that have been ongoing or were completed as we needed to be careful to address everything noted that may be relevant to the audit.

Thank you,

RE: Demand for Delivery of 2023-2024 Audit on Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools

This letter shall serve as a formal demand, on behalf of Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools ("Highlands" or the "School"), that Eide Bailly deliver its long overdue audit on the School, which has been outstanding since December 10, 2024. The audit covers the 2023-24 fiscal year. We are fast approaching eight (8) months past the deadline and Eide Bailly has yet to produce an audit report. Although a draft report was previously sent to the School, a final report was not issued. Your firm has told my client a number of different dates for when the audit report would be produced, but all of those dates have come and gone. Your latest communication to the School indicates that you will produce a final audit on September 1, 2025, but this is unacceptable for the reasons explained below.

Eide Bailly's continued failure to deliver an audit report has become an existential threat to Highlands that could cost Highlands hundreds of millions of dollars. This risk is not an exaggeration. Specifically, the Twin Rivers Unified School District (the "District") has served Highlands with a Notice of Violation for failing to produce a timely audit report. Without Eide Bailly's prompt delivery of its audit report, Highlands cannot cure the District's Notice of Violation. Should the School be unable to cure the Notice of Violation, the Governing Board of Twin Rivers Unified School District could revoke the charters of both schools operated by our nonprofit. We want to make clear to you that such an outcome would lead to catastrophic financial damages to Highlands and, in turn, damages for Eide Bailly if deemed the cause. A revocation would cause thousands of students to be tossed onto the street in the middle of the school year. This would not only be tragic for the students but would create a major public relations nightmare for your firm. Even the consideration of revocation would cause a very public airing of the failure by your firm to deliver a report at an open meeting of the District school board in front of the media. Every major media outlet in Sacramento is already covering this story.

In addition to the potential revocation and the total loss of state funding that would result from revocation, Highlands has received notice from the California School Finance Authority ("CSFA") that it stands to lose millions of additional dollars in funding. These funds are allocated to the School under the Charter School Facility Grant (SB 740) that reimburses Highlands for facilities leases.

The reason for this potential loss in funding is because the School is not in "good standing" while it has an unresolved Notice of Violation. The Notice of Violation pertains to your firm's failure to deliver an audit report for 2023-24. The inability to resolve the Notice of Violation is a direct consequence of Eide Bailly's failure to produce an audit for 2023-24 as required under our client's contract with you.

Time is of the essence for Eide Bailly to produce its long overdue report. Accordingly, to prevent any further financial loss to the School, Highlands respectfully demands that Eide Bailly deliver its audit report no later than August 15, 2025. We understand that you wanted an opportunity to have further review of your draft audit in light of the State Auditor's report, but you have had more than enough time to complete your due diligence, and our client has responded to all of your records requests. There simply is no excuse for these continued delays that are harming not only Highlands, but the general public that we serve.

For the avoidance of any doubt, this demand is not intended to influence Eide Bailly's potential findings, whatever they may be. The School is merely seeking the publication of Eide Bailly's audit report for 2023-24, with whatever findings you deem professionally appropriate, in an effort to prevent a further significant financial loss for the School through revocation or loss of SB 740 facilities reimbursement funding.

Failure to comply with this demand will force Highlands to pursue any and all legal remedies available, including but not limited to filing a complaint with the California Board of Accountancy for Eide Bailly's breach of professional responsibilities. A failure to provide the report will leave the School with no alternative because the School must demonstrate to its authorizing school district that it is taking all reasonable steps to ensure production of an audit report.

Regardless of any other issues between our client and Eide Bailly relating to prior audit periods, we urge you not to expand the issues of potential liability for your firm by continuing to fail to produce the audit report for 2023-2024.

Should you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me directly at (916) 646 –1400. Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Re: Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools
Request for Delivery of Final 2023-2024 Audit Report

Dear Mr. Hartman,

Thank you for your response regarding our request for the delivery of Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools' ("Highlands") 2023-24 audit. Since receiving your letter, dated August 15, 2025, our client has reviewed its own documentation on Eide Bailly's requests for information relating to the 2023-24 audit and found that, as of June 30, 2025, it had addressed every request on Eide Bailly's audit portal to the extent possible. The outstanding items in the portal include three duplicate requests, one request for information not in Highlands' possession or control, and two items regarding which our client submitted requests for clarification through the portal on June 26, 2024, and November 14, 2024, but received no response from Eide Bailly. Therefore, we must respectfully dispute your assertion that our client failed to respond to requests or otherwise contributed to Eide Bailly's delayed delivery of the final audit report.

Status of Responses to Information Requests

Specifically, in your previous letter, you stated that "Eide Bailly has undertaken substantial efforts to obtain the information necessary to support an unqualified opinion to no avail." Highlands staff provided the last set of documents, which the portal describes as revised P2 Attendance Reports requested June 27, 2025, on June 30, 2025, more than two months ago. (See Exhibit A, attached.)

Regarding the six outstanding requests listed in the portal, three requests concerned the same "2023-2024 certification regarding Arts and Music in Schools funds," a certification completed in the Principal Apportionment Data Collection ("PADC") portal of the California Department of Education ("CDE"). Our client believes that these requests are duplicative of

Request ID # 85, to which Highlands responded on May 1, 2024, and which Eide Bailly's team marked as "Accepted." For two other outstanding items ("Audit Planning Questionnaire" and "Net Asset Testing"), our client requested clarification but did not receive a response. (Exhibit A, lines 178-179, ID ## 7, 30.)

The final outstanding item in the information portal pertains to the State Audit Report and requests "State Auditor Independent Study Ratio calculations." The State Auditor has not shared the details of their Independent Study Ratio calculations with our client, so this request seeks records that Highland does not possess. While the audit itself is a public record, state law requires strict confidentiality that limits the State Auditor's ability to comment on any item not published in the State Audit Report. We have sought supporting evidence used by the State Auditor for their findings through a California Public Records Act request on August 19, 2025. (See Exhibit B, attached.) We have not received any responsive records at this time, and we cannot guarantee that the Auditor can or will make them available.

With that said, our client maintains that it has provided your audit team with access to all the Highlands records reviewed by the State Auditor. Highlands has diligently responded to all requests through the audit portal, as well as additional informal requests made via email. Based on the portal records, your team has had every opportunity to request and review additional information or records necessary to make its own professional judgments about compliance. Therefore, we conclude that the delayed delivery of Eide Bailly's audit cannot result from a lack of responsiveness on the part of our client.

Audit Disclosures

Separately, your team reached out to our office to see if there are any updates to our legal disclosures to the audit team. Among other things, the request sought updated information about any pending or threatened litigation, claims, and assessments with which we have been engaged but to which we have not devoted substantive attention. Since you have directed us to send all correspondence to you, we are providing our update to you here as opposed to responding directly to your audit team. We trust that you will pass this information on to your team immediately so that there are no further delays in the production of the audit report.

After the publication of the State Audit Report, the CDE issued a notice of exception to the school for the dollar amounts identified in the Report (see Exhibit C, attached). The school is vigorously contesting these claims. In the case of Highlands, the school filed a request for administrative review with the Education Audit Appeals Panel ("EAAP") and now intends to file a formal appeal. In the case of CICA, the school has filed a formal appeal with EAAP.

Given the precedent-setting nature of the legal and factual issues involved, we cannot accurately assess the likelihood of success for these appeals. If Highlands were to lose all issues identified in the state audit and the state refused a reasonable settlement, the anticipated loss would equate to $7,435,445 for CICA and $178,965,128 for Highlands, or a total of $186,400,573. The school would remit the disallowed apportionment through withholding from future apportionment funding over a period of eight years. CDE has confirmed, however, that the exceptions cited in the attached letters do not account for the ADA revisions that Highlands submitted earlier this year. (See Exhibit D, attached.)

In addition to these claims related to the State Audit Report, please find attached a letter that our client dated August 15, 2025, which pertains to a claimed disallowance of WIOA-AEFLA funds for two prior fiscal years. (Exhibit E.) CDE has sought repayment of these funds as well, a total of $1,713,157. Highlands plans to seek a resolution with CDE directly on an informal basis. At this time, we cannot know for certain whether we can resolve the disallowance issue entirely. In a worst-case scenario, Highlands may need to repay all the WIOA-AEFLA funds claimed.

Highlands also received the results of a mold testing report on August 26, 2025, regarding the presence of mold at one of its school sites. Our client is still investigating the extent of the issues. One employee has filed a workers' compensation claim related to this issue. We expect that workers' compensation insurance will cover this claim. We are not aware of any other litigation on this issue, and at this early juncture, it is not possible to know the amount of potential financial risk. However, we disclose it out of an abundance of caution and in the interest of transparency in case there may be future unasserted claims relating to this issue from this or any other individual.

In addition to the above claims, we know of two active workers' compensation claims and four workers' compensation claims in the process of resolution and closure, all handled through WCF Insurance. We also know of one active litigation case for wrongful termination filed by a former employee, which will go to mediation in November, as well as two other pre-litigation employment matters. Jonathan Kim of Murphy, Pearson, Bradley, & Feeney, P.C., represents Highlands on these insured employment-related claims. Currently, we know of no other threatened or pending litigation against our client.

Request for Resolution

We wish to emphasize that we share your interest in a positive and collaborative resolution to this matter. We do not seek to influence the content of the audit or any findings. Yet, our primary goal and priority must remain the protection of our client's best interests. Without receipt of the final audit report from Eide Bailly, Highlands risks millions of dollars in potential penalties. That liability will increase with each month of additional delay. Therefore, we must renew our request that Eide Bailly complete its contractual obligation to provide our client with the timely independent audit that Highlands expected to receive eight months ago.

Because Eide Bailly previously provided Highlands with a draft copy of its audit report, we have reason to believe that the team has completed its work. While we understand that the audit team previously wished to perform additional testing because of the state audit, our client has responded to all requests as fully as possible. Given the information available to us, we find the ongoing delay in delivery difficult to understand. Please advise immediately as to any specific records or information not yet produced by our client that your audit team now finds necessary for completion of their work.

Highlands has collaborated patiently with your team for over a year because it agrees that an unqualified audit would be ideal if that is possible. If Eide Bailly believes it cannot produce an unqualified audit in short order, our client wishes to ask for more clarity on the language that would appear in a qualified audit. We would also ask for a reasonable timeline in which your team would feel comfortable issuing an unqualified audit. This information will help our client to better determine how to proceed. Please advise so that our client may make an informed decision.

We appreciate your efforts to get this audit wrapped up, and we look forward to collaborating with you to ensure that your team can deliver Highlands' final audit report without further delay. Please do not hesitate to reach out should you have any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

Good afternoon Doc,

It was a pleasure speaking with you today about your adult education credential educators. To clarify authorizations here is a summary:

- single subject and multiple subject credentials: do not authorize teaching in an adult setting
- adult education credentials: authorize the holder to teach the subjects named on the credential in courses primarily for adults (not authorized to teach K-12)

One of the academic subjects that can be verified and listed on an adult education credential, and that most of the HCCTS candidates have, is Elementary and Secondary Basic Skills (ESBS). That subject authorizes the candidate to teach basic K-8 education, arithmetic, reading, GED, citizenship to adults.

Based on the conversation held with your reviewer and educator, it is possible that a confusion/breakdown in language or terminology caused the concern. Mr. Cooc holds a preliminary AE:ESBS (along with Social Science and English) credential so he is authorized to teach math in an adult setting.

I've attached the CTC's CL-697B leaflet, which outlines the requirements and authorizations for an adult education credential, for your reference.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have additional questions.

Happy Friday!

Nancy Mora

Please read. We may need this for JLAC and TRUSD in the future. There is disagreement between whether or not our teachers need a single-subject or adult ed credential. We have been instructed by San Diego County Office of ed to use Adult ed credentials.

HIGHLANDS_Resolution for Credentialed Teachers RIF (4-29-25)(9389715.1)

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF HIGHLANDS COMMUNITY CHARTER AND TECHNICAL SCHOOLS APPROVING REDUCTION IN FORCE FOR CREDENTIALED TEACHERS

WHEREAS, Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools ("HCCTS") is a California nonprofit public benefit corporation that currently operates two California public charter schools: (i) Highlands Community Charter School and (ii) California Innovative Career Academy (collectively referred to as the "Schools");

WHEREAS, in reliance on the most current information provided to the Board from the HCCTS Executive Director and management team, the HCCTS Board of Education ("Board") understands that HCCTS will be required to undergo very significant reductions in enrollment from approximately 13,000 to approximately 3,300 students, resulting in very significant reductions in revenue and operations, for the 2025-26 school year ("FY 2025-26");

WHEREAS, this anticipated considerable reduction in the Schools' enrollment and operations will significantly reduce HCCTS' staffing needs, and significantly reduces available funds to compensate School employees;

WHEREAS, the Board is responsible for prudent budgeting and for utilizing School funding for public school purposes that best benefit the education of students in its schools, in accordance with legal requirements including Education Code section 47633(c) and Article 16, Section 6, of the California Constitution;

WHEREAS, in making decisions about operational staffing needs, the Board is also cognizant of its fiduciary duty to act, in good faith, in a manner that each director believes to be in the best interests of HCCTS and with such care, including reasonable inquiry, as an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would use under similar circumstances, as set forth in Corporations Code section 5231;

WHEREAS, in light of the very significant anticipated reduction in the Schools' enrollment and revenue beginning in FY 2025-26, and based on the information, opinions, reports, statements, and/or data prepared or presented by the officers of the corporation and independent accountants and/or auditors, the Board has determined it is necessary for HCCTS to implement a Reduction in Force ("RIF") for Credentialed Teachers, reducing HCCTS' total Credentialed Teachers from 240.43 FTE to 52.51 FTE (see EXHIBIT A) with an anticipated last day of work of June 30, 2025 for separating employees;

WHEREAS, the Board does not take the decision to reduce staff lightly; however, based on the most current and reliable information available to the Board from the Executive Director and School team, the Board is faced with such a significant overall reduction in the Schools' enrollment, revenue, and organizational size in FY 2025-26, that the organization must undergo the RIF described herein in order for the Board to fulfill its fiduciary responsibilities and for

"ensuring progress toward the mission, faithfulness to the charter, and fiscal viability" as set forth in the Schools' charters; and

WHEREAS, the Board seeks to delegate to the HCCTS Executive Director and/or designee to execute the necessary RIF as set forth herein in accordance with applicable law and organizational policies, including sending 60-day notices to impacted personnel pursuant to the California Worker Adjustment and Retraining Act set forth at California Labor Code section 1400, et. seq..

NOW, THEREFORE, this Board does hereby find, resolve, and order as follows:

Section 1. The foregoing recitals are true and correct, and incorporated herein.

Section 2. The Board hereby approves the RIF for Credentialed Teachers described herein, reducing HCCTS' total Credentialed Teachers from 240.43 FTE to 52.51 FTE with an anticipated last day of work of June 30, 2025 for separating employees.

Section 3. The Board has determined, based on the most current and reliable information available to the Board, that this RIF is necessary and in the best interests of HCCTS in light of the very significant enrollment and revenue reductions for the Schools beginning in FY 2025-26.

Section 4. The HCCTS Executive Director and/or designee, acting alone or together, is(are) hereby authorized and directed to execute the RIF as described herein in accordance with applicable law and organizational policies, including sending 60-day notices to impacted personnel pursuant to the California Worker Adjustment and Retraining Act set forth at California Labor Code section 1400, et. seq., and to take or cause to be taken all such other actions as may be required to fulfill the purposes of the foregoing resolutions.

COMMUNITY CHARTER AND TECHNICAL SCHOOLS

4112.3 BP Teacher Credentialing Reimbursements

Board Policy

Purpose

Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools (HCCTS) is committed to supporting its certificated staff in obtaining and maintaining the necessary teaching credentials required to fulfill their roles effectively. This policy establishes guidelines for credentialing program payments and reimbursements, ensuring compliance with applicable laws and fostering professional development.

Scope

This policy applies to all eligible certificated employees of HCCTS who are required to obtain credentials or additional credentials or renew credentials as a condition of their employment.

HCCTS' goals are to retain and develop quality teachers while ensuring compliance with California teacher credential requirements and, where possible, empower teachers to earn and maintain the most effective credential for their role.

There are two financial assistance components to this policy for eligible employees:

- Direct Payment for Intern Program to Obtain Single Subject Credential. In order to incentivize eligible employees to obtain their Preliminary Single Subject Credential, HCCTS will directly pay the costs of required pre-service coursework and tuition costs for the employee to enroll in and complete a CTC-approved Single Subject Teaching Credential educator preparation program (internship pathway) selected by HCCTS, subject to reimbursement by the employee for failure to successfully progress through the pathway; and
- Reimbursement for Induction, Other Credentials. Once an educator has obtained their Preliminary Single Subject Credential, and for other educators who are required to obtain additional credentials or renew credentials as a condition of their employment, the costs associated with the induction program and/or to obtain an additional credential or renew their credential, will be paid for by the employee and reimbursed by HCCTS provided that the employee fulfills certain pre-determined criteria.

Eligibility

To qualify for direct payment for pre-service coursework and an intern program to obtain a Single Subject Teaching Credential pursuant to this policy, employees must:

- Hold a permanent or probationary certificated position at HCCTS.
- Be approved by HCCTS for participation for prepayment by HCCTS to obtain a Single Subject Teaching Credential as a part of their employment.
- Successfully complete preservice requirements, enroll in, attend, achieve necessary milestones and complete an HCCTS-approved Single Subject Teaching Credential educator preparation program (internship pathway).

To qualify for reimbursement of costs associated with an induction program and/or to otherwise obtain an additional credential or renew their credential, employees must:

- Hold a permanent or probationary certificated position at HCCTS.
- Attend one of the HCCTS-approved credentialing programs (as applicable).
- Provide proof of successful completion of credentialing requirements, including coursework, exams, and/or other mandated requirements.
- Submit a reimbursement request within the specified timeline and in compliance with HCCTS procedures.

Repayment for Failure to Complete
In the event an employee does not successfully complete their credentialing pathway within the timeframe set forth in the program schedule or fails to meet the required milestones of the program, elects to terminate their employment prior to completion, or is terminated for cause prior to completion, the employee will be required to reimburse HCCTS for all costs paid and/or reimbursed by HCCTS, unless the failure is due to extenuating circumstances approved in writing by the School.

The employee's reimbursement terms and schedule will be detailed in a reimbursement agreement that is approved by the HCCTS Executive Director and consistent with this Board Policy and the employee's credential pathway requirements.

Conditions and Limitations for Financial Assistance
- Financial assistance is subject to budget availability and may be prorated or capped annually or as needed at the discretion of the Executive Director and the Board.
- Payment of expenses provided by outside funding sources (e.g., grants) are not eligible for additional financial assistance from HCCTS.
- Employees who voluntarily terminate their employment within one year of receiving the financial assistance may be required to repay a 50% portion of the financial assistance amount.

Eligible Expenses
HCCTS will pay and/or reimburse, as applicable, expenses related to obtaining and/or renewing a credential as set forth herein, including but not limited to:

- Tuition fees required for coursework at accredited institutions approved by HCCTS.
- Coursework fees for state-mandated professional preparation programs.
- Required exams and tests for the HCCTS-approved subject matter pathway with a maximum of one (1) attempt per required exam or test.
- Other expenses as approved by the Executive Director or designee.

Reimbursement Process
Employees seeking reimbursement must follow the procedures outlined below:

1. Obtain supervisor approval before incurring expenses.
2. Submit a completed reimbursement request form with the following documentation to their supervisor:
    - Proof of payment (receipts, invoices, etc.).
    - Evidence of successful completion (credential copy, test results, transcripts, etc.).
3. Requests must be submitted within 60 days of successful completion.
4. Reimbursements will be processed within 30 days of approval, subject to availability of funds.

Compliance and Oversight
The Credentialing Department will be responsible for implementing of this policy and ensuring compliance with all applicable laws and regulations.

Policy Review
This policy shall be reviewed at least annually by the Board to ensure alignment with HCCTS goals and any changes in credentialing requirements.

4212.8 BP Anti-Nepotism and Employment of Relatives - December 5, 2024 (2)

HIGHLANDS
COMMUNITY CHARTER AND TECHNICAL SCHOOLS

4212.8 BP - Anti-Nepotism and Employment of Relatives

Board Policy

Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools (HCCTS) upholds the principles of fairness, transparency, and integrity in employment practices. To prevent conflicts of interest and eliminate favoritism, this policy establishes strict boundaries regarding relatives within HCCTS employment, supervision, and evaluation processes. This policy aims to protect HCCTS' integrity and promote a professional, unbiased working environment.

Purpose and Scope

This policy applies to all HCCTS employees, including full-time, part-time, temporary, and contracted staff, as well as members of the Board of Directors. It governs hiring decisions, promotions, evaluations, transfers, disciplinary actions, and other personnel-related decisions involving employees with relative relationships.

Definitions

- Nepotism: Favoritism in employment or personnel decisions based on relationships rather than on merit or qualifications.
- Relatives: For purposes of this policy, "relatives" are defined to include spouses, registered domestic partners, children, siblings, parents, step-relatives, and in-laws (mother-in-law, father-in-law, daughter-in-law, and son-in-law).
- Conflict of Interest: Consistent with the California Government Code Section 1090, a situation in which an employee's relationships may improperly influence their employment-related decisions, leading to actual or perceived bias.

Policy Provisions

1. Prohibition on Supervisory Relationships
   No HCCTS employee shall be employed in a position where they directly or indirectly supervise, evaluate, or have decision-making authority over a relative. This restriction is essential to maintain impartiality in supervisory relationships.
2. Restrictions on Employment Decisions Involving Relatives
   Employees are strictly prohibited from participating in any hiring, promotion, evaluation, disciplinary, or related process involving a relative. Such processes must be delegated to an impartial third party or the Human Resources Department.
3. Employment of Relatives within the Same Department
   Relatives may work within the same department only if no direct or indirect reporting or supervisory relationship exists. Approval in writing from the Executive Director is required, and the Executive Director may impose restrictions or deny such employment to protect HCCTS' operations, safety, and security.
4. Disclosure Requirements
   Employees must disclose if any other employee is a relative or candidate for employment to both their supervisor and Human Resources. Failure to disclose relationships may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination. Disclosures are required to assess and address potential conflicts in advance.
5. Corrective Actions for Conflicts of Interest
   When a conflict of interest is identified, HCCTS will implement corrective actions, which may include:

- Reassignment to a different department, supervisor, or role.
- Modification of duties to eliminate conflicts.
- HCCTS may require one or both employees to accept a transfer or resign to resolve the conflict.

6. Marriage or Relatives Developed Post-Hiring
   If a relationship arises after hiring (e.g., through marriage or cohabitation) and creates a direct supervisory relationship or potential conflict, HCCTS may reassign one employee to an alternative role. If a reassignment is not feasible, one or both employees may be required to resign.
7. Pre-Existing Relationships
   Employees with pre-existing relationships in supervisory or evaluative roles prior to this policy's enactment must disclose these relationships to Human Resources. Where conflicts exist, impartial evaluators may be assigned to maintain unbiased operations.
8. Board of Directors and Administrative Staff Restrictions
   Members of the Board of Directors and administrative staff are prohibited from participating in employment decisions affecting relatives. Board members must abstain from voting on or discussing items related to the employment or financial interests of a relative in compliance with conflict-of-interest laws. Any employee hired after November 2024 may not be a relative of a Board Director due to a majority Board of Directors' ability to approve future employment-related issues.

Exceptions and Appeals
Requests for exceptions to this policy must be submitted in writing to the Executive Director and reviewed in consultation with the Human Resources Department and legal counsel. Exceptions will only be granted if no conflict of interest exists and the school's integrity remains intact. Employees may appeal nepotism-related decisions through the standard grievance process outlined in the HCCTS Employee Handbook.

Confidentiality and Non-Retaliation
All information disclosed under this policy is confidential. Employees who disclose potential conflicts of interest or raise related concerns will not be subject to retaliation. Any retaliation will result in disciplinary action.

Compliance
This policy adheres to all applicable laws, including the California Government Code, Education Code, and statutes governing conflict of interest in educational institutions. HCCTS will ensure this policy is regularly reviewed and updated to reflect legal changes.

Enforcement and Disciplinary Actions
The Executive Director and the Human Resources Department are responsible for enforcing this policy. Violations may result in disciplinary actions, including reassignment, suspension, or termination of employment. The Executive Director holds final authority for interpreting and applying this policy, subject to Board review.

2025.03.24 CICA Instructional Minutes

Ryan DiGiulio
Chief Business Official
Twin Rivers Unified School District
5115 Dudley Blvd

Re: Response to TRUSD's February 19, 2025 Request for Information Regarding CICA Instructional Minutes

Dear Mr. DiGiulio:

In accordance with Education Code section 47604.3, we strive to promptly respond to all reasonable inquiries from Twin Rivers Unified School District ("District") as our charter authorizer. On February 19, 2025, HCCTS received a written request from the District for information and records regarding CICA instructional minutes, instructing HCCTS to provide within 10 calendar days a timeline for when HCCTS would expect to provide the requested information and records. On February 20, 2025, which was within 10 calendar days, HCCTS staff informed the District that we would provide responsive information and records by April 25, 2025. On February 21, 2025, the District requested that we respond by March 24, 2025, and we agreed to the revised timeline. Accordingly, HCCTS now responds to the District's February 19, 2025 requests.

1. Status Update on Legal Counsel Review

The District requested the following: "In the enclosed November 26 letter, you state that HCCTS submitted updated pacing guides to its legal counsel on November 7, 2024 "to evaluate the extent of the time combination of the time value of pupil work products or the value of the work product and participation in synchronous instruction, as applicable by grade level, as outlined in EC Section 51747.5; 51749.6." The District requests an update regarding the status of this review."

HCCTS has continued to work on its pacing guides and consult with legal counsel as needed. Please see our discussion under item 2 below for additional context about the pacing guides.

2. Documentation Reflecting Compliance with Instructional Time Requirements

The District requested the following: "Please include with your updated documentation that demonstrates the minimum number of instructional days and minutes are being met as required by California Education Code and/or applicable California Code of Regulations for each grade level served."

Charter schools are required to provide at least 175 days of instruction per year. (5 C.C.R. § 11960(b).) The enclosed school calendar reflects that CICA is scheduled to provide more than 175 instructional days in the 2024-25 school year at 204 days.

Charter schools must also offer a minimum number of minutes of instruction per year in accordance with the grade levels they serve. Charter schools are required to offer at least 64,800 annual instructional minutes to pupils in grades 9-12. (Ed. Code, § 47612.5.) Unlike school districts, charter schools are not subject to minimum daily instructional minute requirements.

Pursuant to CICA's charter petition, a student's grade level is determined based on their past transcripts, CASAS assessment performance, and age at the time of admission. Students at CICA are placed at the high school grades 9, 10, and 12. As further context, all courses at CICA are standards-based. Students are expected to meet the applicable grade level standards before being promoted to the next grade level. When a student completes a course at CICA—i.e., satisfactorily completes sufficient pupil work products or both satisfactorily completes sufficient pupil work products and participates in synchronous instruction in accordance with Education Code section 51747.5, the student has met the same course standards that a student in an equivalent site-based program would be required to meet. Thus, a full course load at CICA has an equivalent time value and, therefore, constitutes the same minimum instructional minutes as in a site-based program under Education Code section 47612.5.

Enclosed are the school's internal pacing guides for core curriculum courses offered by CICA, which are each one semester long. A full course load at CICA consists of five courses per semester. As evidenced by the enclosed pacing guides, the average time value assigned for successful completion of each course is approximately 125 hours (i.e., tutorial completion hours combined with guided notes completion hours). Accordingly, where a student enrolls in and successfully completes a full course load for two consecutive semesters, CICA would have offered, and such student would have completed approximately 75,000 instructional minutes per year, which is above the 64,800 annual instructional minute requirement.

We look forward to sharing our plans for the 2025-26 school year in the near future. Please let me know if the District requests other forms of documentation demonstrating compliance, do not hesitate to contact me at 559-217-3901 or via email at bill.mcguire@hccts.org for any follow-up questions.

Thank you,

Bill McGuire
Executive Director

Subject: NOC/RFI - CTE Truck Driving Program
TRUSD Additional Requests for Information re HCCTS' 12/20/24 Response

Dear Ms. Carreon,

On February 3, 2025, HCCTS received a notice of concern/request for information from TRUSD regarding the CTE Truck Driving Program.

On December 16, 2024, the HCCTS HR Department, in collaboration with Pat Keller, a private investigator contracted by HCCTS, began investigating the HCCTS Truck Driving Program. As part of this investigation, Jasmine Gibbs, the Director of HR, together with Mr. Keller conducted interviews with HCCTS truck driving employees, former HCCTS students, employees from Local 185 Union, the Sacramento Police Department, and others.

On March 27, 2025, HCCTS completed the investigation and prepared the following letter in response.

If you would like to discuss the report in greater detail or have any additional questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me at 559-217-3901 or via email at bill.mcguire@hccts.org

Thank you,

Bill McGuire
Executive Director

1. CTE Truck Driving for Non-Students

Work Calendars
Attached you will find Mr. Ivaniuk's employment contracts, which show time and days worked for the 2018-19, 2019-20, 2020-21, 2021-22, and 2022-23 school years.

Class Schedules
Attached you will find the HCCTS bell schedules for the 2018-2019, 2019-20, 2020-21, 2021-22, and 2022-23 school years. The bell schedules utilized in the 2014-17 school years were the same ones utilized for the following two years, 2017-18 and 2018-19.

Non-Student Schedules
During the first two meetings with Sergey Ivanyuk, Truck Driving Program Coordinator, he stated that the non-students would attend class on weekends and they would stop by during the week to take tests. After further investigation, it was discovered that non-students attended the truck driving classes any time during the day. In the interview with Sergeant Nicholas Fox of the Sacramento Police Department held on February 5, 2025, he stated that: "At some point, they were told they could only come in the mornings between 6:00 AM and 8:00 AM". Mr. Fox was unaware of any officers attending the HCCTS Truck Driving Program on the weekends. Due to the number of inconsistencies in interviews and documentation, we are unable to verify the schedules of non-students.

Sergey Ivanyuk is the person responsible for managing the program and creating and keeping all of the administrative records. During the investigation, he provided many documents that were inaccurate, including data discrepancies that cannot be verified.

In response to the following requests:

> A summary of the instances where non-students "stopped by throughout the week" for tests. As part of this summary, include information about whether non-students ever scheduled the visits in advance, how they knew when Mr. Ivaniuk would be available, whether HCCTS students were ever present during these visits, and whether the visits ever took place within Mr. Ivaniuk's HCCTS work hours. HCCTS does not have this information.
> Outline the support Mr. Ivaniuk provided to non-students to assist them in acquiring their license (i.e., 15 hours of "behind-the-wheel" training, study materials for road and/or written tests, instruction to prepare for the road and written tests, etc). HCCTS does not have this information.

Outline the process Mr. Ivaniuk followed when administering tests and include the approximate duration for these assessments. This outline should include information about assessments for pre-trip, general knowledge, drive/road, brake, and skills tests as described in the comments section of the student lesson documents provided by HCCTS. HCCTS does not have this information.

2. Data Discrepancies Between Students and Non-Students

On January 14, 2025, HCCTS Leadership submitted a written directive to Sergey Ivanyuk, the Truck Driving Program Coordinator, to stop serving non-students in the Truck Driving Program. While HCCTS reported the discontinuation of serving non-students effective January 6, 2025, it wasn't until January 14, 2025, that HCCTS stopped the participation of all non-students in all its programs and is only serving enrolled HCCTS students, to the best of my knowledge.

3. Partnerships and Scholarships

HCCTS alumni enrolled in the truck driving program through the Doc Smith Legacy Foundation Scholarship Program (DSLF). To start the process, alumni would submit an application to the foundation, and it would be reviewed by Mike Reid (former HCCTS Chief Operations Officer), current President of the Doc Smith Legacy Foundation and HCCTS Board member, as well as Murdock Smith (former HCCTS Executive Director). If the scholarship application was approved by Mike Reid and Doc Smith, then the DSLF agreed to cover the tuition expenses for the student. Two HCCTS alumni students were granted scholarships to attend the Truck Driving program. According to a statement by Mike Reid via email on March 13, 2025, a transfer of $3800 was made from DSLF to HCCTS for these alumni students. During an interview with Lee Farrand, Director of CTE, she stated: "To my knowledge, no money has ever been exchanged for those students."

According to our financial records and Matthew Lemos, HCCTS Chief Business Official, one fiscal exchange occurred between the DSLF and HCCTS, and it was not related to scholarships.

Partnerships and Local Union 185

On February 25, 2025, in a phone interview with Doyle Radford Jr, the Business Manager at Local 185 Union, the following work was provided to

HCCTS by Local 185 in the 2019-2020 school year:

- Pre-apprentice work, including parking lot slurry and stripping
- The Northern California Construction Training (NCCT) provided demolition work
- Over the last few years, Local 185 purchased some delineators and about $800 in tools that they donated to the HCCTS Truck Driving Program

The union then stopped providing labor to HCCTS over liability concerns in the event someone may be injured.

Please note the distinction between Doyle Radford Senior and Doyle Radford Junior. Doyle Radford Sr was a former HCCTS board member from May 8, 2014 to July 13, 2023. Doyle Radford Jr is a business manager at Local 185 and Doyle Radford Senior's son.

Partnerships and Sacramento Police Department and Sacramento County Sheriff's Office

During the investigation process, Sergey Ivanuyk, the Truck Driving Program Coordinator, stated that no fiscal exchanges occurred between HCCTS and the Police Department or the Sacramento Sheriff's Office. On February 5, 2025, in the phone interview with Sergeant Nicholas Fox from the Sacramento Police Department (SPD), Mr. Fox confirmed that nobody from the SPD paid any money to HCCTS or any HCCTS employees for the driving instructions. The following Sacramento Police Officers attended the training:

- Nicholas Fox
- Andrew Ryan
- Brock O'Shaunessy
- Tyler Curtis
- Fredrick Osmond
- Steve Colombo (Discontinued on January 10, 2025)
- Amber Hickey
- Alexis Grove: He was attending the program when the directive to stop was given

Following the review of canceled DMV checks, the investigator was able to locate a $98.00 check that had been used by Amber Hickey, a Sacramento Police Department officer, in April 2024 for her Commercial Licence Permit. A review of the DOT medical payment records showed that in July 2022, HCCTS paid for a Sacramento Sheriff's deputy's DOT medical and urine test (in the amount of $167. Sergey Ivaniuk, Truck Driving Program Coordinator, admitted he would have been the one that issued the DMV check to her and then stated: " I don't know what happened, but we never covered them."

Ivanyuk continued to say he never gave checks to law enforcement and then said, “I don’t recall why I did it. But yes. That’s me. I did it.”

The investigation into the truck driving program will conclude with disciplinary action. HCCTS has had a new MOU to be provided to the sheriff’s office and police department as other government agencies to provide services in which liability and compensation issues are resolved.

RE: Notice of Complaint/Request for Information for CTE Truck Driving Program - TRUSD Requests regarding HCCTS' 11/1/24 Response

Dear Mr. McGuire:

As the authorizing entity for the Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools' ("HCCTS"), the Twin Rivers Unified School District ("District") is required to provide oversight of HCCTS regarding compliance with its approved Charter, the Memorandum of Understanding between the District and HCCTS regarding the Charter School's operations and oversight, and laws applicable to their charter school operation.

As a reminder, per Education Code section 47604.3, HCCTS "shall promptly respond to all reasonable inquiries" from the District and "shall consult with" the District "regarding any inquiries." We believe that timely responses by HCCTS to the concerns identified in this Notice is critical to fulfilling our oversight function/responsibilities as authorizer and HCCTS' cooperation is mandated.

On September 6, 2024, the District received a complaint alleging that HCCTS allows non-students to participate in the CTE Truck Driving certification courses. In its Notice of Complaint/Request for Information dated October 3, 2024, the District requested a response to multiple items by no later than 5:00 p.m. on November 1, 2024. HCCTS responded on November 1, 2024 at 3:34 p.m.

Outlined below is a summary of the District's findings and additional actions required based on our review of HCCTS' response.

1. CTE Truck Driving for Non-Students

TRUSD Findings

- HCCTS stated "The teacher of the truck driving program volunteered to teach them on the first and third Saturdays of the month seasonally each year." However, in the RFI CTE Truck Driving Program forms provided by HCCTS the District found only three "Lessons" that occurred on a Saturday and of those three, only one fell on the first or third Saturday.

While these forms may include notes for dates in which students did not attend class, many of the notes do indicate in-person training, specifically as seen in the comments and rating columns.

Information Request – Action Needed

- Confirm that the teacher who volunteered back in 2014 has remained with the program through 2023-24 and/or confirm that all teachers of the CTE Truck driving program that provided instruction to non-students also volunteered their time.

- Explain the discrepancies between HCCTS' assertion that trainings were conducted on the 1st and 3rd Saturday and the documentation which shows trainings mainly taking place Monday – Friday.

2. Data Discrepancy Between Students and Non-Students

TRUSD Findings

- HCCTS stated that 49 non-students in the last 10 years have utilized the truck driving facilities. However, in the 49-page response, HCCTS provided proof of 48 students, with one student listed on two pages (Celest McPeak).

- The District had been made aware of 12 additional students who participated in the CTE Truck Driving course during the 2023-24 school year, which were not included in HCCTS' response.

Information Request – Action Needed

- Please provide documentation for the additional 49th student that was missing in the November 1 response and confirm whether each of the individuals listed in the table below were students or non-students. Include in your response documentation for teacher instruction/in-person training days for the students listed below.

2. Partnerships

TRUSD Findings

- The District noted multiple categories for each non-student including "labor union", "VOA", and "Scholarship". In the November 1 response, HCCTS provided an explanation for the Local #185.

- HCCTS stated that Board Member Doyle Radford tapped the Local #185 union in early days (2014), but this union is referenced as recently as 2021.

Information Request - Action Needed

- Please provide an explanation for the labor unions identified other than Local #185. Include any documentation which reflects agreements and/or partnerships.

- Describe what each designation means, specifically what is "VOA" and what is meant by "scholarship". Include in your response, records/documentation of all moneys collected for the CTE Truck Driving program for non-student participation.

- Since Mr. Radford is no longer on the Board, please clarify your current connection to the Local #185 and outline the agreement regarding free training in return for in-kind improvements/facility repairs for the 2023-24 school year. Include in your response documentation for the improvements and/or repairs that HCCTS received during the 2023-24 school year.

Within 10 calendar days from the date of this letter, please provide a timeline for when HCCTS expects to provide the information and records responsive to this request. Please contact Sharilyn Warta (sharilyn.warta@trusd.net) if you need any clarification regarding the above items.

Your response should be directed to the District for my attention. Thank you for your attention to this correspondence and anticipated cooperation.

Subject: Notice of Complaint/Request for Information for CTE Truck Driving Program - TRUSD Requests regarding HCCTS' 11/1/24 Response

Dear Ms. Carreon,

On December 2, 2024, HCCTS received a follow-up response from TRUSD regarding the CTE Truck Driving program. We have prepared the following letter in response.

If you have any additional questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me at 559-217-3901 or via email at bill.mcguire@hccts.org

Thank you,

Bill McGuire

Volunteer Teacher
Since 2014, there has been only one truck driving teacher at the HCCTS truck driving program, Sergey Ivaniuk who confirmed that he volunteered his time to provide instruction to the non-students.

Non-Student Instructional Days
According to the information provided by Sergey Ivaniuk, Truck Driving Coordinator, in the meeting held on October 18, 2024, with the Director of Accountability and Assessment, Melissa Roberson, the direct instruction and classes for non-students were only held on the first and third Saturday of the month seasonally since 2014. Upon further investigation during the December 4, 2024 meeting between the Director of Accountability and Assessment, Melissa Roberson, Sergey Ivanyuk revealed that while the direct instruction was held on the weekends, students stopped by during the week to take tests. He also stated that he could not turn the students away. According to Sergey, there is no additional documentation regarding the non-student participation in the Truck Driving program.

Non-Student Data Discrepancy
HCCTS informed TRUSD that 49 non-students had utilized the truck driving program since 2014 because that was the information provided by Sergey Ivanyuk on October 18, 2024. As identified by TRUSD, 49 was an error since one student's name occurred on the list twice, so HCCTS should have reported 48.

Following the most recent request from TRUSD which contained an additional list of students and non-students, Sergey revealed that due to poor record keeping, he was unable to verify the total number of non-student participants who had utilized the truck driving program. He did however confirm that of the 12 names on the “Unofficial Class A Awards” document sent by TRUSD to HCCTS, 10 of them were non-students, one was a student at CICA, and one was a student at Highlands. Please see below.

Name	Program Type	Status at the Time of Participation
[redacted]	Law Enforcement	Non-Student
[redacted]	Law Enforcement	Non-Student
[redacted]	Highlands Student	Student

[redacted]	Scholarship	HCCS Alumni/ Graduate
[redacted]	Law Enforcement	Non-Student
[redacted]	Law Enforcement	Non-Student
[redacted]	Law Enforcement	Non-Student
[redacted]	Local 185	Non-Student
[redacted]	Local 185	Non-Student
[redacted]	Local 185	Non-Student
[redacted]	Law Enforcement	Non-Student
[redacted]	CICA Student	Student

As stated above, there is no additional documentation available. As a result of identifying this gap, HCCTS has taken corrective measures to improve record keeping.

Partnerships

	Agreement	Documentation	Notes
Volunteers of America (VOA)	Verbal	None	Ward Allen reached a verbal agreement, where VOA promised rent and facilities in exchange for the truck driving training of individuals from VOA who didn't have a high school diploma. As a result, our program moved to 10620 Shirra Avenue, Sacramento, CA 95655. However, a few months later, VOA demanded $110,000 for the space. We had no intention of making any payments, and since they also stopped sending us students, we decided to move.
Local 185	Verbal	Non-Executed Draft	An explanation was provided in the previous letter.
Sacramento Police Department	Verbal	None	HCCTS former Board Member, Sondra Betancourt led the efforts in this partnership.

Sheriff's Office	Verbal	None	HCCTS former Board Member, Sondra Betancourt led the efforts in this partnership.

HCCTS had no fiscal exchanges from Labor 185, VOA, or the sheriff's office. As of today, there have not been improvements for the 23-24 school year from Labor #185, and starting January 6, 202,5 HCCTS will no longer serve non-students in the CTE Truck Driving Program.

Scholarship

All the individuals that fall under this category are former students who graduated from Highlands and returned to finish the Truck Driving Program.

The information above was provided by Sergey Ivaniuk, the Truck Driving Program Coordinator, and the Truck Driving program.

2.4 If Agent finds a prospective sublessee for all or a part of the Property, Sublessor hereby authorizes Agent also to represent and act as the agent for such sublessee and Sublessor consents to such dual agency. If a Cooperating Broker finds such a sublessee, then Agent shall act as agent for Sublessor only, the Cooperating Broker shall act as agent for the sublessee only, and the Cooperating Broker shall not be Sublessor's agent, even though the Cooperating Broker may share in the commission paid by Sublessor to Agent. A Cooperating Broker shall not be an agent or subagent of Sublessor or Agent. Sublessor hereby agrees that Agent may represent and act as the agent for the Master Lessor, and Sublessor consents to such multiple agency.

2.5 Sublessor understands that Agent may also represent other lessors and lessees/sublessees with regard to competing properties.

3. PROPERTY; MASTER LEASE.

3.1 The term "Property" shall include all of the following which are owned by Sublessor, currently on or in the Property, and are permitted to be transferred under the Master Lease: permanent improvements, electrical distribution systems, power panels, buss ducting, conduits, disconnects, lighting fixtures, telephone distribution systems (lines, jacks and connections), space heaters, air conditioning equipment, air lines, carpets, window coverings, wall coverings, partitions, doors, suspended ceilings, and built-ins, such as cabinets.

3.2 Sublessor shall fully and timely perform all of Sublessor's obligations under the Master Lease and maintain the Master Lease in good standing.

3.3 Within 5 business days after the commencement of the Term hereof, Sublessor shall provide Agent with the following:

(a) A true, correct and complete copy of the Master Lease including any amendments or prior assignments;

(b) A duly completed and fully executed Estoppel Certificate on the most current form published by the AIR;

(c) A duly completed and fully executed Property Information Sheet on the most current form published by the AIR (modified by changing the reference to "Owner" in such form to Sublessor);

(d) Copies of other documents containing any limitations on Sublessor's right, ability and capacity to consummate a sublease; and

(e) If available to Sublessor, copies of building plans for the Property.

3.4 Agent shall have no responsibility for maintenance, repair, replacement, operation or security of the Property, all of which shall be Sublessor's sole responsibility. Unless caused by Agent's gross negligence, Agent shall not be liable for any loss, damage, or injury to the person or property of Sublessor, anyone in possession of the Property or any sublessee or prospective sublessee, including, but not limited to, those which may occur as a result of Agent's use of a lock box.

4. COMMISSION.

4.1 Sublessor shall pay Agent a commission ☑ in the amount of 7.5% ☐ in accordance with the commission schedule attached hereto ("Agreed Commission") for a sublease of the Property, whether such sublease is consummated as a result of the efforts of Agent, Sublessor or other persons or entities. Such Agreed Commission is payable when:

(a) A sublease for the Property or a portion thereof is executed; or

(b) The Master Lease is voluntarily or involuntarily terminated or Sublessor is relieved of future liability for rent under the Master Lease, whether by cancellation, Master Lessor's exercise of any of its rights under the Master Lease or otherwise; or

(c) Sublessor (i) removes or withdraws the Property from the market; (ii) acts as if the Property is not available for a sublease; (iii) treats the Property as not available for a sublease; (iv) breaches, terminates, cancels or repudiates this Agreement; (v) renders the Property unmarketable; (vi) changes the Master Lease (including, without limitation, reduction of the term of the Master Lease) or changes the physical condition of the Property, which such changes adversely impact the value, use, desirability, leasability or marketability of the Property; or (vii) terminates, cancels, repudiates, surrenders, breaches or defaults of its obligations under the Master Lease.

4.2 If Master Lessor's consent or approval of a sublease is required, then Sublessor shall, at Sublessor's sole cost and expense, use Sublessor's reasonable best efforts to obtain such consent or approval, and Agent shall not be entitled to the Agreed Commission for such sublease unless Master Lessor's consent or approval is obtained or waived by Sublessor and sublessee.

4.3 In calculating the Agreed Commission, all forms of consideration payable to Sublessor shall be considered, including, without limitation, Rent, goodwill and key money. If Sublessor is released from future rent liability under the Master Lease, the Agreed Commission shall be calculated on the basis of the total Rent which otherwise would have been due from Sublessor for the remaining term of the Master Lease.

5. ALTERNATIVE TRANSACTION. Agent shall also be Sublessor's sole and exclusive agent for an assignment of Sublessor's interest in the Master Lease ("Alternative Transaction") and represent Sublessor in such Alternative Transaction, under the terms and conditions of this Agreement. If, during the Term hereof, an Alternative Transaction is entered into, then Sublessor shall pay Agent the Agreed Commission.

6. EXCLUDED AND REGISTERED PERSONS.

6.1 Sublessor shall, within 5 business days after the date hereof, provide Agent, in writing, with the names of those persons or entities registered with Sublessor by any other broker under any prior agreement concerning subleasing of the Property ("Excluded Persons", see Paragraph 6.5). If any such names are so provided, then the Commission paid to Agent with respect to consummation of a transaction with an Excluded Person shall be limited as follows: if such transaction is concluded within the first 30 days of the commencement of the Term hereof, then Agent shall be paid a commission equal to the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by Agent in the marketing of the Property during said 30 days; or if such transaction is concluded during the remainder of the Term hereof, then Agent shall be entitled to one-half of the Agreed Commission. If no names are provided as specified, it shall be conclusively deemed that there are no Excluded Persons.

6.2 Agent shall, within 5 business days after the expiration of the Term hereof, provide Sublessor, in writing, with the names of those persons or entities with whom Agent either directly or through another broker had negotiated for a sublease of the Property during the term hereof ("Registered Persons", see Paragraph 6.5). Those persons or entities who submitted written offers or letters of intent for a sublease of the Property shall, however, automatically be Registered Persons. If Agent fails to timely notify Sublessor of the existence of any other Registered Persons, then it shall be conclusively deemed that there are no other Registered Persons. If Agent wishes to register the client of a Cooperating Broker, Agent must obtain and submit to Sublessor written approval of such registration signed by such Cooperating Broker. The parties are aware that the registration of certain individuals and/or entities might create a Dual Agency, and Sublessor hereby consents to any such Dual Agency.

6.3 If, within 180 days after the expiration of the Term hereof, Sublessor enters into a contract with a Registered Person for consummation of a sublease of the Property, then Sublessor shall pay Agent the Agreed Commission for such sublease upon the consummation of such sublease.

6.4 If, within 180 days after the expiration of the Term hereof, Sublessor enters into another sublessor-agency or listing agreement with a broker other than Agent for any transaction concerning the Property, then Sublessor shall provide to Sublessor's new broker the names of the Registered Persons, and provide in such new agreement that the new broker shall not be entitled to receive any of the compensation payable to Agent hereunder for consummation of a sublease of the Property with a Registered Person.

6.5 In order to qualify to be an Excluded Person or a Registered Person the individual or entity must have: toured the Property, submitted a letter of interest or intent, and/or made an offer to lease the Property. In addition, Excluded Persons may only be registered by a broker who previously had a valid listing agreement covering the Property, and such broker may only register individuals and entities actually procured by such listing broker.

7. SUBLESSOR'S REPRESENTATIONS.

7.1 Sublessor represents and warrants as follows:

(a) Each person executing this Agreement on behalf of Sublessor has the full right, power and authority to execute this Agreement as or on behalf of Sublessor;

(b) Sublessor has the full right, power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement, to consummate a sublease of the Property and to perform Sublessor's obligations hereunder;

(c) The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by Sublessor or Agent will not breach any provision of the Master Lease;

(d) Sublessor is not the subject of a bankruptcy, insolvency, probate or conservatorship proceeding;

(e) There are no effective, valid or enforceable option rights, rights of first refusal, rights of first offer or any other restrictions, impediments or limitations on Sublessor's right, ability and capacity to consummate a sublease of the Property, except as disclosed in writing pursuant to Paragraph 3.3(d).

8. SUBLESSOR'S ACKNOWLEDGMENTS. Sublessor acknowledges that it has been advised by Agent to consult and retain experts to advise and represent it concerning the legal and tax effects of this Agreement and the subletting of the Property, as well as the condition and/or legality of the Property, including, but not limited to, the environmental aspects. Agent shall have no obligation to investigate any such matters unless expressly otherwise agreed to in writing by Sublessor and Agent. Sublessor further acknowledges that in determining the financial soundness of any prospective Sublessee or security offered, Sublessor will rely solely upon Sublessor's own investigation, notwithstanding Agent's assistance in gathering such information.

9. MISCELLANEOUS.

9.1 This Agreement shall not be construed either for or against Sublessor or Agent, but shall be interpreted, construed and enforced in accordance with the mutual intent of the parties ascertainable from the language of this Agreement. Signatures to this Agreement accomplished by means of electronic signature or similar technology shall be legal and binding.

9.2 All payments by Sublessor to Agent shall be made in lawful United States currency. If Sublessor fails to pay to Agent any amount when due under this Agreement, then such amount shall bear interest at the rate of 15% per annum or the maximum rate allowed by law, whichever is less.

9.3 In the event of litigation or arbitration between Sublessor and Agent arising under or relating to this Agreement or the Property, the prevailing party shall be paid its attorney's fees and costs by the losing party. The term, "Prevailing Party" shall include, without limitation, one who substantially obtains or defeats the relief sought, as the case may be, whether by compromise, settlement, judgment, or the abandonment by the other party of its claim or defense. The attorney's fees award shall not be computed in accordance with any court fee schedule, but shall be in an amount to fully reimburse all attorney's fees reasonably incurred in good faith.

9.4 Sublessor agrees to indemnify, defend (with counsel reasonably acceptable to Agent), and hold Agent harmless from and against any claim or liability asserted against Agent as a result of the failure of Sublessor to make a full and complete disclosure pursuant to law and paragraph 3.3 or as a result of the fact that any of the representations made by Sublessor (see paragraph 7) were not true at the time that this Agreement was signed.

9.5 Sublessor hereby releases and relieves Agent, and waives Sublessor's entire right of recovery against Agent, for direct or consequential loss or damage arising out of or incident to the perils covered by insurance carried by Sublessor, whether or not due to the negligence of Agent.

9.6 Sublessor agrees that no lawsuit or other legal proceeding involving any breach of duty, error or omission relating to the services to be performed by Agent pursuant to this Agreement may be brought against Agent more than one year after the expiration of the Term of this Agreement (see paragraph 1.4) and that the liability (including court costs and attorney's fees) of Agent with respect to any such lawsuit and/or legal proceeding shall not exceed any fee received by Agent pursuant to this Agreement; provided, however, that the foregoing limitation on liability shall not be applicable to any gross negligence or willful misconduct of Agent.

10. ARBITRATION OF DISPUTES.

10.1 ANY CONTROVERSY ARISING UNDER OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE DETERMINED BY BINDING ARBITRATION TO BE CONDUCTED BY: ☑ THE AMERICAN ARBITRATION ASSOCIATION OR ☐ ____ USING THE COMMERCIAL RULES ESTABLISHED BY SUCH ORGANIZATION OR IF NONE THE AMERICAN ARBITRATION ASSOCIATION'S COMMERCIAL RULES. 12. Disclosures Regarding the Nature of a Real Estate Agency Relationship. When entering into an agreement with a real estate agent a Sublessor should from the outset understand what type of agency relationship or representation it has with the agent or agents in the transaction.

(i) Sublessor's Agent. A Sublessor's agent may act as an agent for the Sublessor only. A Sublessor's agent or subagent has the following affirmative obligations: To the Sublessor: A fiduciary duty of utmost care, integrity, honesty, and loyalty in dealings. To a potential buyer/lessee and the Sublessor: a. Diligent exercise of reasonable skills and care in performance of the agent's duties. b. A duty of honest and fair dealing and good faith. c. A duty to disclose all facts known to the agent materially affecting the value or desirability of the property that are not known to, or within the diligent attention and observation of, the Parties. An agent is not obligated to reveal to either Party any confidential information obtained from the other Party which does not involve the affirmative duties set forth above.

(ii) Agent Representing Both Parties. A real estate agent, either acting directly or through one or more associate licensees, can legally be the agent of both Parties in a transaction, but only with the knowledge and consent of the Parties. In a dual agency situation, the agent has the following affirmative obligations to both Parties: a. A fiduciary duty of utmost care, integrity, honesty and loyalty in the dealings with either Party. b. Other duties to the Sublessor as stated above in subparagraph (i). When representing both Parties, an agent may not without the express permission of the respective Party, disclose to the other Party that the Sublessor will accept rent/purchase price in an amount less than that indicated in the listing or that the buyer/lessee is willing to pay a higher rent/purchase price than that offered.

The above duties of the Agent do not relieve Sublessor from the responsibility to protect its own interests. Sublessor should carefully read all agreements to assure that they adequately express its understanding of the transaction.

DISCLOSURE REGARDING REAL ESTATE AGENCY RELATIONSHIP

(As required by the Civil Code)

When you enter into a discussion with a real estate agent regarding a real estate transaction, you should from the outset understand what type of agency relationship or representation you wish to have with the agent in the transaction.

SELLER'S AGENT

A Seller's agent under a listing agreement with the Seller acts as the agent for the Seller only. A Seller's agent or a subagent of that agent has the following affirmative obligations:

To the Seller: A fiduciary duty of utmost care, integrity, honesty and loyalty in dealings with the Seller.

To the Buyer and the Seller:

(a) Diligent exercise of reasonable skill and care in performance of the agent's duties.

(b) A duty of honest and fair dealing and good faith.

(c) A duty to disclose all facts known to the agent materially affecting the value or desirability of the property that are not known to, or within the diligent attention and observation of, the parties.

An agent is not obligated to reveal to either party any confidential information obtained from the other party that does not involve the affirmative duties set forth above.

BUYER'S AGENT

A Buyer's agent can, with a Buyer's consent, agree to act as agent for the Buyer only. This includes a Buyer's agent under a buyer-broker representation agreement with the Buyer. In these situations, the agent is not the Seller's agent, even if by agreement the agent may receive compensation for services rendered, either in full or in part from the Seller. An agent acting only for a Buyer has the following affirmative obligations:

To the Buyer: A fiduciary duty of utmost care, integrity, honesty and loyalty in dealings with the Buyer.

To the Buyer and the Seller:

(a) Diligent exercise of reasonable skill and care in performance of the agent's duties.

(b) A duty of honest and fair dealing and good faith.

(c) A duty to disclose all facts known to the agent materially affecting the value or desirability of the property that are not known to, or within the diligent attention and observation of, the parties.

An agent is not obligated to reveal to either party any confidential information obtained from the other party that does not involve the affirmative duties set forth above.

AGENT REPRESENTING BOTH SELLER AND BUYER

A real estate agent, either acting directly or through one or more salesperson and broker associates, can legally be the agent of both the Seller and the Buyer in a transaction, but only with the knowledge and consent of both the Seller and the Buyer.

In a dual agency situation, the agent has the following affirmative obligations to both the Seller and the Buyer:

(a) A fiduciary duty of utmost care, integrity, honesty and loyalty in the dealings with either the Seller or the Buyer.

(b) Other duties to the Seller and the Buyer as stated above in their respective sections.

In representing both Seller and Buyer, a dual agent may not, without the express permission of the respective party, disclose to the other party confidential information, including, but not limited to, facts relating to either the Buyer's or Seller's financial position, motivations, bargaining position, or other personal information that may impact price, including the Seller's willingness to accept a price less than the listing price or the Buyer's willingness to pay a price greater than the price offered.

SELLER AND BUYER RESPONSIBILITIES

Either the purchase agreement or a separate document will contain a confirmation of which agent is representing you and whether that agent is representing you exclusively in the transaction or acting as a dual agent. Please pay attention to that confirmation to make sure it accurately reflects your understanding of your agent's role. The above duties of the agent in a real estate transaction do not relieve a Seller or Buyer from the responsibility to protect their own interests. You should carefully read all agreements to assure that they adequately express your understanding of the transaction. A real estate agent is a person qualified to advise about real estate. If legal or tax advice is desired, consult a competent professional. If you are a Buyer, you have the duty to exercise reasonable care to protect yourself, including as to those facts about the property which are known to you or within your diligent attention and observation. Both Sellers and Buyers should strongly consider obtaining tax advice from a competent professional because the federal and state tax consequences of a transaction can be complex and subject to change.

Throughout your real property transaction you may receive more than one disclosure form, depending upon the number of agents assisting in the transaction. The law requires each agent with whom you have more than a casual relationship to present you with this disclosure form. You should read its contents each time it is presented to you, considering the relationship between you and the real estate agent in your specific transaction. This disclosure form includes the provisions of Sections 2079.13 to 2079.24, inclusive, of the Civil Code set forth on page 2. DISCLOSURE REGARDING REAL ESTATE AGENCY RELATIONSHIP

CIVIL CODE SECTIONS 2079.13 THROUGH 2079.24 (2079.16 APPEARS ON THE FRONT)

2079.13. As used in this section and Sections 2079.7 and 2079.14 to 2079.24, inclusive, the following terms have the following meanings:
(a) "Agent" means a person acting under provisions of Title 9 (commencing with Section 2295) in a real property transaction, and includes a person who is licensed as a real estate broker under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 10130) of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Business and Professions Code, and under whose license a listing is executed or an offer to purchase is obtained. The agent in the real property transaction bears responsibility for that agent's salespersons or broker associates who perform as agents of the agent. When a salesperson or broker associate owes a duty to any principal, or to any buyer or seller who is not a principal, in a real property transaction, that duty is equivalent to the duty owed to that party by the broker for whom the salesperson or broker associate functions. (b) "Buyer" means a transferee in a real property transaction, and includes a person who executes an offer to purchase real property from a seller through an agent, or who seeks the services of an agent in more than a casual, transitory, or preliminary manner, with the object of entering into a real property transaction. "Buyer" includes vendee or lessee of real property. (c) "Commercial real property" means all real property in the state, except (1) single-family residential real property, (2) dwelling units made subject to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1940) of Title 5, (3) a mobile home, as defined in Section 798.3, (4) vacant land, or (5) a recreational vehicle, as defined in Section 799.29. (d) "Dual agent" means an agent acting, either directly or through a salesperson or broker associate, as agent for both the seller and the buyer in a real property transaction. (e) "Listing agreement" means a written contract between a seller of real property and an agent, by which the agent has been authorized to sell the real property or to find or obtain a buyer, including rendering other services for which a real estate license is required to the seller pursuant to the terms of the agreement. (f) "Seller's agent" means a person who has obtained a listing of real property to act as an agent for compensation. (g) "Listing price" is the amount expressed in dollars specified in the listing for which the seller is willing to sell the real property through the seller's agent. (h) "Offering price" is the amount expressed in dollars specified in an offer to purchase for which the buyer is willing to buy the real property. (i) "Offer to purchase" means a written contract executed by a buyer acting through a buyer's agent that becomes the contract for the sale of the real property upon acceptance by the seller. (j) "Real property" means any estate specified by subdivision (1) or (2) of Section 761 in property, and includes (1) single-family residential property, (2) multi-unit residential property with more than four dwelling units, (3) commercial real property, (4) vacant land, (5) a ground lease coupled with improvements, or (6) a manufactured home as defined in Section 18007 of the Health and Safety Code, or a mobile home as defined in Section 18008 of the Health and Safety Code, when offered for sale or sold through an agent pursuant to the authority contained in Section 10131.6 of the Business and Professions Code. (k) "Real property transaction" means a transaction for the sale of real property in which an agent is retained by a buyer, seller, or both a buyer and seller to act in that transaction, and includes a listing or an offer to purchase. (l) "Single-family residential property" or "single-family residential real property" means any of the following: (1) Real property improved with one to four dwelling units, including a leasehold exceeding one year's duration. (2) A unit in a residential stock cooperative, condominium, or planned unit development. (3) A mobilehome or manufactured home when offered for sale or sold through a real estate broker pursuant to Section 10131.6 of the Business and Professions Code. (m) "Sell," "sale," or "sold" refers to a transaction for the transfer of real property from the seller to the buyer and includes exchanges of real property between the seller and buyer, transactions for the creation of a real property sales contract within the meaning of Section 2985, and transactions for the creation of a leasehold exceeding one year's duration. (n) "Seller" means the transferor in a real property transaction and includes an owner who lists real property with an agent, whether or not a transfer results, or who receives an offer to purchase real property of which they are the owner from an agent on behalf of another. "Seller" includes both a vendor and a lessor of real property. (o) "Buyer's agent" means an agent who represents a buyer in a real property transaction. (p) "buyer-broker representation agreement" means a written contract between a buyer of real property and a buyer's agent by which the buyer's agent has been authorized by the buyer to provide services set forth in subdivision (a) of Section 10131 of the Business and Professions Code for or on behalf of the buyer for which a real estate license is required pursuant to the terms of the contract.

2079.17(a) As soon as practicable, the buyer's agent shall disclose to the buyer and seller whether the agent is acting in the real property transaction as the buyer's agent, or as a dual agent representing both the buyer and the seller. This relationship shall be confirmed in the contract to purchase and sell real property or in a separate writing executed or acknowledged by the seller, the buyer, and the buyer's agent prior to or coincident with execution of that contract by the buyer and the seller, respectively. (b) As soon as practicable, the seller's agent shall disclose to the seller whether the seller's agent is acting in the real property transaction as the seller's agent, or as a dual agent representing both the buyer and seller. (d) The disclosures and confirmation required by this section shall be in addition to the disclosure required by Section 2079.14. An agent's duty to provide disclosure and confirmation of representation in this section may be performed by a real estate salesperson or broker associate affiliated with that broker.

2079.18 (Repealed pursuant to AB-1289, 2017-18 California Legislative session)

2079.19 The payment of compensation or the obligation to pay compensation to an agent by the seller or buyer is not necessarily determinative of a particular agency relationship between an agent and the seller or buyer. A listing agent and a selling agent may agree to share any compensation or commission paid, or any right to any compensation or commission for which an obligation arises as the result of a real estate transaction, and the terms of any such agreement shall not necessarily be determinative of a particular relationship.

2079.22 Nothing in this article precludes a seller's agent from also being a buyer's agent. If a seller or buyer in a transaction chooses to not be represented by an agent, that does not, of itself, make that agent a dual agent.

2079.23 (a) A contract between the principal and agent may be modified or altered to change the agency relationship at any time before the performance of the act which is the object of the agency with the written consent of the parties to the agency relationship. (b) A lender or an auction company retained by a lender to control aspects of a transaction of real property subject to this part, including validating the sales price, shall not require, as a condition of receiving the lender's approval of the transaction, the homeowner or listing agent to defend or indemnify the lender or auction company from any liability alleged to result from the actions of the lender or auction company. Any clause, provision, covenant, or agreement purporting to impose an obligation to defend or indemnify a lender or an auction company in violation of this subdivision is against public policy, void, and unenforceable.

2079.24 Nothing in this article shall be construed to either diminish the duty of disclosure owed buyers and sellers by agents and their associate licensees, subagents, and employees or to relieve agents and their associate licensees, subagents, and employees from liability for their conduct in connection with acts governed by this article or for any breach of a fiduciary duty or a duty of disclosure.

HIGHLANDS
COMMUNITY CHARTER AND TECHNICAL SCHOOLS

September 26, 2025

Ryan DiGiulio
Chief Business Official
Twin Rivers Unified School District
5115 Dudley Blvd
McClellan Park, CA 95652

Subject: Notice of Violation Pursuant to Education Code 47606 for California Innovative Career Academy

Dear Mr. DiGiulio,

On June 12, 2025, Twin Rivers Unified School District ("TRUSD") provided Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools ("HCCTS") with a formal Notice of Violation. We recognize the seriousness of the issues outlined and we acknowledge that, under prior leadership, HCCTS failed to meet expectations in several important areas. Mistakes were made, and those mistakes have eroded trust.

Since that time, CICA has undergone a profound transition. With new leadership and outside experts engaged in finance and compliance, we have embraced accountability and implemented sweeping reforms. HCCTS is also in the process of bringing on a new board of directors to lead the school in improved governance and systems of accountability. Changes include:

- New systems for financial oversight and internal controls,
- Stronger credentialing processes in partnership with UMass Global,
- Clearer academic and attendance standards, with daily monitoring,
- Adoption of more than 100 new board policies to strengthen compliance and transparency, and

- A material revision to CICA's charter which outlines these and other changes.

We are committed to working in close partnership with TRUSD to demonstrate that these changes are not temporary fixes, but lasting improvements. Our goal is to move forward with a constructive relationship, grounded in transparency and shared accountability, to ensure CICA is in full compliance and able to continue serving our students.

We respectfully submit the enclosed materials as HCCTS' formal response to the Notice of Violation. If you have additional questions or would like further information, please do not hesitate to contact me directly at (617) 823-9341 or jonathan.raymond@hccts.org.

Thank you for your attention and for your ongoing oversight as we work to build a stronger, more accountable HCCTS.

Thank you,

Jonathan Raymond
Executive Director
Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools

I. BACKGROUND

California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) recognizes and respects TRUSD's role as our authorizer, as outlined in MOU Amendment No. 3 signed on January 23, 2024. This amendment clearly defines the district's oversight responsibilities, including the approval of new facilities, ensuring safe learning environments, and providing supervisorial guidance.

We acknowledge that the Notice of Violation issued on June 12, 2025, falls squarely within TRUSD's responsibilities. We take this notice with the utmost seriousness. Under past leadership, California Innovative Career Academy (CICA) fell short of meeting expectations in several areas. Mistakes were made, and we own that.

Today, under new leadership, CICA is fully committed to addressing every issue raised. In many cases, corrective actions have already been completed; in others, substantial progress is underway. Where issues remain outside of our direct control, we have taken every step possible to mitigate them and are actively working toward full resolution.

This response provides a clear account of the corrective actions already taken, the progress still in motion, and the timelines by which remaining matters will be fully resolved. Our commitment is to demonstrate that CICA is not only curing past deficiencies but building a sustainable, compliant, and transparent system for the future.

II. VIOLATIONS OF THE CHARTER

A. CICA Grade Levels

Education Code section 47604(a)(4) provides in part: "After receiving approval of its petition, a charter school that proposes to expand operations to one or more additional sites or grade levels shall request a material revision to its charter and shall notify the chartering authority of those additional locations or grade levels."

- There are no exemptions for the requirement to submit a material revision request to change grade levels.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of our oversight responsibilities to address CICA' s failure to submit the required Material Revision request to change grades.

Education Code section 47605(a)(4) makes clear that a charter school seeking to expand operations to additional sites or grade levels must submit a material revision to its charter and notify its authorizer. CICA recognizes that there are no exemptions to this requirement and acknowledges that it did not submit a material revision when grade levels were changed beginning in the 2020–21 school year.

In the 2020-2021 school year, leadership at HCCTS shifted from grades 1, 2, and 12 to grades 9, 10, and 12 for the following reasons:

- Create clarity in the community that HCCS was a high school
- Align more closely with traditional high school programs
- Allow English Language Learners the opportunity to earn high school credits and make progress toward their high school diploma
- Show student progress as students move between grade levelsCreate clear pathways for international high school students and high school students to graduation
- To improve graduation rates

While HCCTS communicated with TRUSD staff regarding these changes (Exhibit A) and believed the adjustments had support, the formal requirement for a material revision was not pursued at that time. We recognize this was a failure of process, and we take responsibility for not following the proper procedures.

Since then, CICA has taken corrective action. In June 2024, HCCTS began preparing a comprehensive material revision. That revision reflects:

- The addition of grade 11, as requested by TRUSD (Exhibits B & C),
- The removal of grades 1 and 2, and
- The continued offering of grades 9, 10, and 12.

The proposed material revision was completed and board approved on September 18, 2025, see Exhibit D, after which it will be submitted to TRUSD for consideration. This action is intended to fully align CICA's charter with current practice, CDE guidance, and TRUSD oversight. The proposed revision is attached here as Exhibit E.

Accordingly, this issue will be fully resolved once TRUSD acts on the submitted material revision. If the TRUSD Board does not approve the revision, HCCTS will comply by returning to the grade levels specified in the existing approved charter.

CICA regrets that this process was not followed in the past. Under new leadership, we are committed to full compliance, clear communication, and a constructive working relationship with TRUSD to ensure that changes moving forward are properly authorized and transparent.

B CICA Locations

MOU Amendment No. 3 provides in part: "The terms of the MOU are intended by the District and Charter School to become part of the standards and procedures set forth in the Charter School's Charter approved by the District ("Charter"). Along with the Charter, this MOU will govern the relationship between the District and the Charter School regarding the operation of the Charter School. To the extent the terms of the MOU is/are inconsistent with any terms of the Charter, the MOU shall control. In addition, if the Charter is silent on an issue addressed by the MOU, the MOU shall control. As such, any violation of MOU by Charter School that also constitutes grounds for revocation per Education Code section 47607 will be treated and enforced by the District in the same manner, subject to Education Code Section 47607 and applicable implementing regulations, as it would any other violation constituting a ground for revocation."

- October 3, 17 and November 7, 2024 HCCTS Board approved sites/locations that were not included on MOU Amendment No. 3.
- On multiple occasions the District notified HCCTS of the requirement to submit a material revision request, before occupying a new location. HCCTS failed to comply.
- HCCTS June 1, 2025, newest "tentative" location list still includes sites not approved for operation for HCCS.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of our oversight responsibilities to address CICA's failure to submit the required Material Revision request before adding new facilities.

MOU Amendment No. 3 governs the approval and operation of CICA's facilities and makes clear that any new locations require District authorization through a material revision. CICA acknowledges that in the past, locations were opened or relocated without first completing the formal material revision process required by the MOU. This was a failure of compliance, and we take responsibility for it.

These missteps were not intentional, but they reflect a lack of attention to detail under prior leadership. Historically, CICA relied on a more informal process with the District regarding the addition, relocation, or consolidation of sites. In some cases, leadership believed that moves — such as opening an additional suite within an existing facility or relocating to a site nearby — did not constitute a "new" location requiring a material revision. That interpretation was incorrect, and we recognize that now.

The District's request for an updated site list on June 1, 2025, coincided with a period of significant transition at CICA, including organizational restructuring and site consolidations.

While those circumstances contributed to delays in providing a finalized list, they do not excuse the failure to comply with the MOU requirement.

CICA has since taken corrective steps. A material revision updating all current operating locations was prepared and HCCTS Board approved on September 18, 2025 for submission to TRUSD. Moving forward, CICA will strictly comply with the requirement to submit a material revision for any facility location change, ensuring that the District is fully informed and that all operations are authorized.

This issue will be fully resolved once the TRUSD Board approves the submitted material revision. If the Board does not approve certain sites, CICA will immediately limit operations to District-approved locations.

Under new leadership, CICA is committed to transparency, accuracy, and compliance in its facilities reporting and to maintaining a constructive partnership with TRUSD on all matters related to school sites.

III. ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF THE LAW

A. HCCTS Annual Independent Audit Report

The Charter School is in violation of Education Code sections 47604.33 and 47605, and its own Charter, for failing to complete and submit its 2023-24 annual independent audit report to the District.

- HCCTS requested an extension to the December 15, 2024, deadline for submitting its 2023-24 audit report.
- The District granted an extension until January 15,2025, but HCCTS failed to meet this deadline and has subsequently missed multiple additional extension deadlines, including March 31, 2025, and April 18,2025.
- To-date HCCTS' audit report has not been submitted to the District.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of TRUSD oversight responsibilities to address HCCS' failure to submit the 2023-24 annual independent audit report.

Education Code sections 47604.33 and 47605, as well as the HCCTS charter, require timely completion and submission of an annual independent audit report. HCCTS acknowledges that the 2023–24 audit has not yet been submitted to TRUSD and that multiple deadlines were missed.

HCCTS contracted with Eide Bailly to conduct the 2023–24 audit (Exhibit F). While a draft was provided on May 9, 2025, the process has been significantly delayed due to a combination of external and internal factors (Exhibit G). These included:

- Eide Bailly's 2022–23 audit being selected for review by the State Controller, which diverted capacity and slowed the 2023–24 work;

- Errors identified in the draft related to unduplicated pupil counts, which required national-level review and corrections; and

- Additional testing required following the release of the California State Auditor's report, which heightened risk assessments.

HCCTS has consistently provided documentation requested by the auditor and followed up on promised delivery timelines as demonstrated in Exhibit J which details an extensive list of document requests fulfilled by HCCTS staff. However, the final report has not yet been released by Eide Bailly. Legal counsel has formally demanded its completion (Exhibit H) and HCCTS continues to press for immediate resolution (Exhibit I).

To date, Eide Bailly has not indicated any significant findings in the draft report. While the delay has been deeply frustrating, HCCTS has acted in good faith throughout the process, and the draft report demonstrates that we have been cooperative and responsive.

Moving forward, HCCTS will ensure timely completion of audits by:

- Holding vendors accountable through stricter contracts and oversight; and

- Engaging with TRUSD earlier in the process to provide status updates and transparency.

We will provide TRUSD with the completed audit report immediately upon its release by Eide Bailly. We regret the delays and are committed to ensuring this problem does not repeat.

Attached you will find the following documents:

4. Exhibit I: 2025.9.11 YM&C Follow-up letter to Eide Bailly
5. Exhibit J: Document requests from Eide Baily fulfilled by HCCTS

B. HCCTS Credentialing & Misassignments

HCCTS agrees that all teachers must hold valid teaching credentials and that paraeducators should not serve as classroom teachers without them. We acknowledge that, under prior practice, CICA relied on adult education credentials based on guidance previously received from outside agencies (Exhibit K). While this approach was followed for years without audit findings, it did not meet current expectations from CDE and CTC, and we take responsibility for correcting it.

Beginning in 2024–25, CICA laid off teachers who did not hold the required credentials and re-staffed classes with appropriately credentialed teachers (Exhibit L). We also undertook a full review of our credentialing and staffing systems to ensure alignment with updated guidance and long-term compliance (Exhibit M).

Key corrective actions include:

- Credentialing Review: Examined over 300 staff profiles and held 269 individual consultations with certificated staff to create personalized compliance pathways.

- Support Systems: Established a credentialing support team of staff and consultants; built a centralized credentialing database; and partnered with UMass Global to provide flexible, remote intern credential pathways (Exhibit N and Exhibit O), and are hiring mentor teachers (Exhibit P,Exhibit Q, and Exhibit R)

- Financial and Professional Support: Adopted Board Policy 4112.3 (Exhibit S) to reimburse staff for exam fees and coursework; approved a K–12 Teacher Retention Incentive (Exhibit T); and aligned hiring timelines with CTC testing windows and permit options.

- Hiring Reforms: Suspended instruction in July 2025 to allow time to re-staff with fully credentialed teachers before the school year; implemented structured hiring and rehire processes tied to credential readiness; and issued updated teacher agreements.

- Governance Safeguards: Adopted new board policies requiring all certificated staff to hold valid credentials at hire and renewal, mandating use of Frontline to track compliance, and prohibiting nepotism in hiring through Board Policy 4212.8 (Exhibit U).

Through these actions, CICA has corrected past practices and put in place systems that ensure all teachers moving forward will hold valid K–12 credentials. Instruction has resumed with properly credentialed staff, and we are committed to ongoing monitoring and support to keep CICA fully compliant.

This issue is now resolved, and CICA has turned the page with stronger systems that protect both compliance and instructional quality.

C. CICA Instructional Minutes

California Education Code 47612.5 mandates that charter schools provide a minimum number of annual instructional minutes equivalent to those required of traditional public schools.

- According to HCCTS' email correspondence, before March 2025, CICA did not have a process or documentation to ensure compliance with minimum instructional minutes.
- By correspondence dated October 30, 2025, the District notified HCCTS that the requirement to meet minimum instructional minutes was outlined in Education Code 47612.5 and CICA's Charter.
- In the October 30 correspondence, the District requested the documentation that CICA uses to ensure the minimum number of instructional days and minutes are being met.
- HCCTS' November 26, 2024 included a statement that they would immediately take action to ensure compliance with minimum instructional minutes.
- On March 24, 2025 HCCTS provided a 20-page response to the District's October 30th request.
- HCCTS' March 24 response has resulted in more questions than answers. Additionally, the initial request in the District's October 30th communication regarding the verification that CICA is complying with the minimum instructional minutes remains unanswered.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of our oversight responsibilities to address CICA's failure to ensure the minimum instructional minutes have been met and the resulting disallowed ADA collected.

As a traditional independent study school CICIA ensures it meets instructional time requirements by documenting daily student engagement, evaluating work products for time value, and offering synchronous and asynchronous learning opportunities. Pacing guides offer guidance to teachers for assigning work and assigning time-value to the work completed, with the goal of ensuring that the time-value completed should be equivalent to a seat based program. However CICA is not a course-based independent study school and the actual time value-earned depends on the certified teacher's judgment of individual work products and the time-value that teacher deems appropriate based on the teacher's assessment of the pupil's individual needs and capacities.

Engagement with the instructional program and time-value earned per student is tracked by the Assigned Work Record (Exhibit W). The Assigned Work Record contains a record of daily engagement and documentation of the time-value of each completed assignment. Students may only earn time value by engaging on days indicated as instructional days in the HCCTS Academic Calendar (Exhibit V)

It is the nature of traditional independent study that the actual time-value earned by a student can vary depending on the pupil. CICA pacing guides therefore constitute general recommendations for time-value earned per assignment, rather than prescriptions. A student may well earn more or less time value for a given course or assignment depending on the nature of their engagement of the course. The purpose in sharing pacing guides is to demonstrate that any student fully engaged has ample opportunity to participate in the equivalent of the required 64,800 minutes (Exhibit X).

Staffing challenges have since necessitated the adoption of a new calendar by the Board with the start date of August 14, 2025 (Exhibit V).

D. HCCTS Exclusive Partnership Agreement

"Instruction must be provided exclusively in partnership with Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) programs."

- During its 2024–25 oversight review, the District discovered that HCCTS had allowed individuals who were non-students to participate in its Career Technical Education (CTE) Truck Driving program.
- The practice began in 2014 at the direction of a Board member, was supported by the Executive Director, and continued with Board approval through 2024-25.
- The WIOA partnership agreement requires instruction to be provided exclusively in partnership with WIOA.
- Providing instruction to non-students as part of HCCTS' partnership with the Volunteers of America, Local 185 Union, Sacramento County Sheriff's Office, and the Sacramento Police Department, violates this agreement.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of our oversight responsibilities to address the breach of the exclusive partnership agreement and all resulting funds tied to the agreement.

HCCTS acknowledges that past practices in the Truck Driving program violated the requirements of our Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) partnership agreement, which stipulates that instruction must be provided exclusively in partnership with WIOA programs. Beginning in 2014, and with the support of prior leadership, non-students were allowed to participate in the program through informal arrangements with outside organizations.

HCCTS takes full responsibility for this lapse. Under current leadership, the practice has been ended and corrective steps have been taken to ensure compliance. Specifically:

- A formal investigation was completed by the Director of HR in 2024–25 (Exhibit Y)
- Disciplinary action was taken against an employee.
- A stop notice was issued in December 2024 prohibiting non-student participation. (Exhibit Z)
- Between December 2024 and January 2025, HCCTS discontinued informal partnerships with Local 185, the Sacramento Police Department, and the Sacramento County Sheriff's Office.
- On January 6, 2025, HCCTS officially ended all non-student participation across programs. (Exhibit AA)
- The Truck Driving program was suspended and will remain paused until HCCTS can ensure full compliance with WIOA requirements, its charter, and the MOU.

These actions have fully cured the issue. Moving forward, HCCTS has strengthened oversight of program partnerships, reinforced compliance training for staff, and adopted new safeguards to ensure all instruction aligns exclusively with WIOA requirements. This reflects our commitment to correcting past mistakes, complying with all partnership agreements, and ensuring that every program we operate directly serves our enrolled students.

Attached you will find the following documents showing progress made by HCCTS regarding the truck driving program:

- Exhibit Y: 2025.03.28 Letter from HCCTS detailing investigation into the Truck Driving program

- Exhibit AA: 2024.12.02 Truck Driving Program Follow-up

IV. FISCAL MISMANAGMENT

A. HCCTS San Diego Location

Engaged in fiscal mismanagement.

- The condominium advertises being able to "watch the ballgame from your balcony" and is the highest priced unit in the facility.
- The decision to engage in this exorbitant real estate transaction, even though students were not in or around the area is questionable.
- Compounding the issue is the fact that the admin facility lacks any direct connection to educational services or student benefit demonstrating a fiscal mismanagement.
- The District is issuing the NOV as part of our oversight responsibilities to ensure that HCCTS address the fiscal mismanagement.

HCCTS acknowledges that the decision to lease a condominium office in San Diego was a misstep that does not align with our mission or our responsibility to ensure all expenditures directly benefit students. While the space was briefly used by a remote employee and originally intended to support exploration of expansion opportunities, the location did not provide meaningful educational value. We recognize that this was poor judgment under prior leadership and understand the District's concern that this constituted fiscal mismanagement.

HCCTS has since vacated the property and taken corrective steps to minimize the financial impact. We engaged Newmark Realty on March 27, 2025, to sublease the space, revised the listing in June 2025, and remains prepared to accept any commercially reasonable offer. While it is not possible to control the timing of sublease offers, HCCTS is committed to recouping as much value as possible and bringing this matter to resolution (Exhibit AB and Exhibit AC).

This decision reflects mistakes of the past. Moving forward, HCCTS has implemented stronger financial controls and multi-level approval processes to ensure that all facility and spending decisions are directly tied to student learning and educational services. These safeguards are designed to prevent similar errors and to reinforce our commitment to fiscal responsibility, transparency, and compliance.

VI. SUMMARY

This response provides evidence that CICA has either already fully cured or has taken every possible step to cure all of the concerns raised by the District and will continue to vigorously pursue resolution of the few items that are outside of the school's control.

McClellan Park, California

RESOLUTION NO. 1612

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE TWIN RIVERS UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT
Approving Issuance of a Final Decision to Revoke the Charter of California Innovative Career Academy

WHEREAS, the Twin Rivers Unified School District ("District") initially approved the petition for the establishment of California Innovative Career Academy ("CICA") charter school on June 25, 2019, for a five-year term running through June 30, 2024, and per Education Code section 47607.4, CICA's Charter was automatically extended by operation of law through June 30, 2027. CICA is operated and governed independently by Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools ("HCCTS") and its Board of Directors;

WHEREAS, the District and CICA entered into a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") on or about February 25, 2020, to document the arrangement and agreement between the parties regarding CICA's program, operation, structure, and obligations. Subsequent amendments to the MOU extended its term through June 30, 2027, and made clarifications regarding the process for approval of any new facility locations, facility safety expectations, and supervisorial oversight;

WHEREAS, as the charter authorizer of CICA, the District is responsible for overseeing CICA under Education Code 47604.32. This oversight responsibility includes monitoring whether CICA is operating in compliance with the conditions, standards, or procedures set forth in its Charter and MOU, meeting or pursuing the pupil outcomes identified in its Charter, failing to meet generally accepted accounting principles, or engaging in fiscal mismanagement, and complying with the law (Education Code section 47607(f));

WHEREAS, as a result of CICA's failure to remedy several areas of concern despite its receipt of multiple information requests and notices of concern from the District, and/or its failure to implement viable remedial plans to address these concerns, and since the District concluded that grounds for revocation existed, including material violations of the conditions, standards, or procedures of its Charter and MOU, failure to meet generally accepted accounting principles, or engaged in fiscal mismanagement, and violations of law, the District determined that the point has been reached where it was necessary to initiate the first step in the formal revocation process with the issuance of a Notice of Violation per Education Code section 47607 and Title 5, Cal. Code of Regulations, section 11968.5.2 ("Section 11968.5.2");

WHEREAS, on June 17, 2025, the Board unanimously approved issuance of a Notice of Violation ("NOV") to CICA pursuant to Education Code section 47607 based on findings that CICA materially violated the conditions, standards, and procedures of its Charter, failed to meet generally accepted accounting principles or engaged in fiscal mismanagement, and violated the law;

WHEREAS, the NOV also provided CICA with a reasonable opportunity to respond to and/or remedy the violations by September 26, 2025, and placed CICA on notice that if the violations were not addressed, the District may pursue further steps towards revocation of the Charter;

WHEREAS, at the conclusion of the remedy period, on September 26, 2025, CICA provided its response to the NOV, however, the supporting evidence was not provided to the District until September 29, 2025;

WHEREAS, District staff evaluated the response from CICA and all documentation produced with the response, and after conducting a thorough, objective, and data-driven review, District Staff determined that CICA failed to refute to the District's satisfaction, or remedy all of the violations identified in the NOV, and that significant violations continue to exist, including material violations of the conditions, standards, or procedures of its charter, fiscal mismanagement, and violations of law;

WHEREAS, based upon the substantial evidence demonstrating CICA's failure to refute and/or remedy multiple violations identified in the NOV, District staff recommended that the Board approve issuance of the a Notice of Intent to Revoke and notice of facts in support of revocation ("Notice of Intent to Revoke") to CICA pursuant to Education Code section 47607 and Section 11968.5.2, and the Board approved issuance of a Notice of Intent to Revoke at its meeting on November 4, 2025, supported by substantial evidence presented therewith, and further scheduled a public hearing on the issue of whether substantial evidence existed to revoke the Charter;

WHEREAS, on December 2, 2025, the Board of Trustees held a public hearing in compliance with Education Code section 47607, and took testimony from CICA representatives and the public on the issue of whether substantial evidence existed to revoke CICA's Charter based on the facts and conclusions in the Notice of Intent to Revoke;

WHEREAS, during a special Board meeting on January 27, 2026, District Staff presented their analysis of the measures taken by HCCTS to refute and/or remedy the violations identified in the Notice of Revocation. While the Board thoughtfully considered Staff's analysis and recommendation regarding revocation, it ultimately did not accept Staff's recommendation and no action was effectively taken regarding CICA's revocation; and

WHEREAS, the Board has convened on January 30, 2026, to consider whether to approve the issuance of a Final Decision to Revoke the Charter of CICA.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED AND ORDERED AS FOLLOWS:

1. The Board finds the above-listed recitals to be true and correct and incorporates them herein by this reference.

2. In support of its Final Decision to Revoke CICA's Charter, the Board adopts the facts and findings contained in the Notice of Intent to Revoke and its exhibits, as initially set forth in the NOV, and as stated herein, as its written factual findings, supported by substantial evidence specific to CICA, and incorporates such findings into this Resolution as though set forth fully herein; and in support of its decision to issue a Final Decision to Revoke CICA's Charter, the Board further finds that:

(A) Substantial evidence demonstrates that the violations initially identified in the NOV, and demonstrated in the Notice of Intent to Revoke and exhibits thereto, and as further stated herein, have in fact occurred;

(B) CICA failed to refute, remedy, or propose remedial action sufficient to remedy all of the violations identified in the NOV;

(C) The violations set forth in the NOV and Notice of Intent to Revoke, have not been sufficiently remedied by CICA, and attempts at further corrective actions taken by CICA, although considered by the Board, failed to sufficiently remedy the violations identified in the NOV and substantiated in the Notice of Intent to Revoke, and/or promised unsubstantiated and unreliable future performance and resulting uncertainty regarding future compliance.

3. The Board hereby approves issuance of a Final Decision to Revoke the Charter of California Innovative Career Academy revoking CICA's Charter effectively immediately. The Superintendent or designee is hereby authorized and directed to notify the Sacramento County Board of Education and California Department of Education regarding the revocation approval and to take any such other actions needed to effectuate the purpose of this Resolution.

2. RECOGNITION Elementary and K-8 Spring Expanded Learning Athletics Program

The Board proudly recognized the accomplishments of the Expanded Learning Spring Athletics Program, as presented by Travis Burke. The season featured flag football, track and cross country, and competitive cheer, with strong participation and continued program growth. Champions were celebrated from Madison, FC Joyce, Northlake, and WPCS Regency, and a highlight video showcased the achievements across all events.

3. RECOGNITION Secondary Spring Sports

The Board recognized the accomplishments of Twin Rivers Unified School District's Secondary Athletics Programs. Micah Simmons presented the spring sports champions and shared a video highlighting secondary athletics. Three middle school teams earned championships in boy's basketball, boy's volleyball, and girl's soccer. At the high school level, twelve teams advanced to postseason play in sports, including boys' volleyball, girls' soccer, softball, swim, track and field, golf, and co-ed tennis. Notable achievements included a co-ed tennis team qualifying for CIF playoffs for the first time, finishing as league champions and placing among the top doubles teams in the section.

Trustee Reichelt inquired whether cheerleading is part of the winter sports season or the spring sports season?

Micah Simmons clarified that, although cheerleading is a sport that lasts all year with most activities during fall and winter, the championship events usually happen in spring, particularly in March.

Trustee Jefferson congratulated all student athletes, sharing pride in their accomplishments and appreciation for the opportunity to offer sports programs. She emphasized that athletics provide a valuable and positive outlet for students.

4. RECOGNITION - Dual Enrollment Graduates

The Class of 2024 was also represented, including graduates from Highlands, Grant Union, and Rio Linda High Schools. Several students earned both Associate of Arts and Associate of Science degrees, marking a significant academic milestone. The presentation concluded with words of encouragement and appreciation, emphasizing the lasting impact of these students' achievements on the District and its future dual enrollment efforts.

Dr. Martinez unveiled a special tribute honoring the District's dual enrollment graduates, marking the occasion as a moment of inspiration and pride. He emphasized the significance of the students' achievements and expressed a desire to ensure their efforts are remembered and celebrated within Twin Rivers Unified School District. The unveiling featured a permanent display titled Twin Rivers College Scholars, showcasing the names of graduates along with the year they earned both their associate degree and high school diploma. L. HEARING OF PUBLIC (If Needed)

1. PUBLIC HEARING AND REVIEW - Local Control and Accountability Plan

Before the presentation, Board President Elkarra read a statement noting that, following a review with the Sacramento County Office of Education (SCOE) on June 16, 2025, the LCAP draft was amended to include additional required descriptive elements. He clarified that these revisions did not affect the goals, actions, or planned expenditures outlined in the Local Control and Accountability Plan.

Travis Burke presented an update on the 2024–2027 Local Control and Accountability Plan (LCAP), noting recent amendments made following a review with SCOE to align with updated Education Codes related to the Learning Recovery Emergency Block Grant and Equity Multiplier Fund. These changes involved adding required descriptive elements without altering goals, actions, or funding. He highlighted continued progress across academic achievement, college and career readiness, and school culture, with improvements in student performance metrics and engagement. The District also refined its stakeholder input process, focusing on deeper student feedback and plans to increase parent and staff participation next year.

Trustee Jefferson requested clarification into Mr. Wesley's role.

Marci Bernard clarified that the new Director of School Advancement will initially focus on the MLK pathway but will also support broader efforts to strengthen and expand successful practices across all District pathways. The position is designed to lead Districtwide initiatives aimed at advancing school improvement and student success.

Travis Burke reported increased parent engagement through higher event and training attendance, particularly among underserved and diverse groups, despite a decline in survey participation.

Trustee Jefferson inquired about the types of support offered to parents beyond events, specifically requesting examples of the trainings provided to families within the District.

Travis Burke clarified that the Family and Community Engagement Team offers a variety of parent-focused training programs designed to strengthen school partnerships and student support. One key initiative is a parent cohort series that provides guidance on parenting strategies, school engagement, and college readiness. The District also collaborates with the Roberts Family Development Center to support parents of African American students, focusing on culturally relevant engagement and leadership in school governance. Participants in this group have attended events at Sacramento State and contributed valuable input to the LCAP process. Additional efforts have expanded to include support for newcomer and refugee families, as well as emerging partnerships with the Special Education Department to develop programming for parents of neurodiverse students.

Trustee Vogt commended the increase in parent engagement but expressed concern about the decline in LCAP input. She encouraged leveraging existing events and cohorts to boost participation in the LCAP process and emphasized the importance of aligning engagement efforts with meaningful feedback.

Travis Burke responded in agreement, noting it was a valuable suggestion and acknowledged the potential to engage thousands of families through existing events to strengthen LCAP input.

Travis Burke provided updates on LCAP Goals 4 through 7, highlighting expanded parent engagement efforts, including growth in the Native Education Program and Parent University. He reported continued progress in maintaining safe, clean facilities, with improved safety and connectedness metrics supported by targeted staffing and resources. Academic gains were noted for students with disabilities, supported through professional development, materials, and specialized staff. Under the Equity Multiplier initiative, new sites were added to receive focused support for English learners, with local data showing promising progress in English language arts outcomes.

Trustee Sandoval praised the District for offering English classes to parents, noting their positive impact on student success and expressing appreciation for the visibility and accessibility of the program across schools.

Trustee Jefferson inquired about the two schools that did not qualify for Equity Multiplier funding this year and what factors contributed to the change in their eligibility status.

Travis Burke clarified that these schools did not meet the eligibility threshold for Equity Multiplier funding this year but will continue to receive support under a three-year plan. Future eligibility will be reassessed with updated data in January.

Travis provided updates on LCAP Goals 8 through 10, which focus on expanding English language arts support, improving college and career readiness at alternative sites, and reducing suspension rates. He highlighted continued staffing and intervention efforts at key schools and noted next steps, including final adoption on June 24 and follow-up with SCOE for potential non-material state-level adjustments.

5. PUBLIC HEARING AND REVIEW Special Education Local Plan Area

Before the presentation, Board President Elkarra read a statement noting a revision to the local plan. Specifically, in Section E, on page E-4 of 14, the question regarding whether SELPA's average SLP caseload is 55 was addressed. The correct answer was clarified as “No.”

Marci Bernard provided an overview of the proposed 2025–2026 Special Education Budget and SELPA plans, outlining key sections, required services, and the need for a public hearing. She also noted the inclusion of annual assurances and policy updates as part of the SELPA submission process.

Kate Ingersoll presented the 2025–2026 Special Education budget, highlighting a projected increase in state funding and a total expenditure of $101.5 million. She noted that a significant portion will remain unfunded and covered by the District. The Board will hold a public hearing on the budget and service plans, with final approval scheduled for June 24 and submission to the state by June 30.

President Elkarra called the Public Hearing at 8:42 p.m. for comments regarding the Special Education Local Plan Area.

Clark Knudtson commented on his concerns about items reported in SELPA's SLP caseload figures. He also questioned how part-time staff and preschool assessment-only roles are accounted for in the calculation of average caseloads.

President Elkarra closed the Public Hearing at 8:42 p.m.

6. PUBLIC HEARING and REVIEW 2025-2026 Proposed Adopted Budget

Ryan DiGiulio and Kate Ingersoll presented the 2025–2026 Proposed Budget. Ryan highlighted state economic uncertainties, declining enrollment trends, and the protection of education funding under Proposition 98. He noted a modest increase in special education funding and reductions in discretionary grants, while emphasizing the need for early planning around the 2030 expiration of Proposition 30. Despite statewide challenges, Twin Rivers remains in a growth region, with stable reserves and continued investment in student services. The budget will return to the Board for approval the following week. Kate Ingersoll reported a positive budget outlook for 2025–2026, supported by increased LCFF revenue and ADA growth, including the expansion of Transitional Kindergarten (TK). One-time funds are being used for facilities and staffing, with reserves meeting Board targets. While revenue is projected to increase, some reductions are planned as temporary grants expire. Multi-year projections remain stable, and the District is preparing to sustain key services, including those tied to TK, as one-time funding phases out.

Ryan concluded the budget presentation by emphasizing that despite state and federal economic uncertainties, Twin Rivers is presenting a balanced budget for 2025–2026 and the following two years. He credited sound fiscal stewardship and Board support for enabling the District to maintain stability without issuing layoff notices, unlike many other districts. While caution is warranted due to the use of one-time funds at the state level to cover deficits, the District remains well-positioned and committed to monitoring and adjusting as needed. Ryan noted that final budget adoption is scheduled for next week, with any necessary revisions to follow in August and finalized actuals reported in September. He expressed pride in the District's ability to maintain a wide range of student services under a strong financial plan.

President Elkarra expressed concern about potential federal funding cuts, particularly related to political efforts targeting DEI programs, and asked about the possible impact on the District’s budget.

Ryan stated that the District is monitoring two areas of concern regarding potential federal funding cuts. The first involves restricted programs, such as Title III, which would not affect the unrestricted general fund but could limit specific services tied to those funds. The second concern is the broader impact on state-funded programs like nutrition and Medi-Cal, which could strain the state budget and potentially affect Proposition 98 funding for education. He emphasized the uncertainty at this time and assured the Board that updates will be provided as more information becomes available.

Trustee Vogt inquired about the status of the District's facility plan in light of recent volatility related to the bond. She asked whether contingency measures are in place to address potential challenges and ensure continued progress on planned projects.

Ryan DiGiulio reported that the District is actively using Measure J and K Series A funds, with project updates available in the upcoming Board communication and on the CBOC webpage. He confirmed that contingency planning is in place, with bond sales for Series B expected this summer, pending market conditions, and noted a small remaining portion of Measure G funds.

Trustee Reichelt asked for clarification on the meaning of "interfund transfers out" within the budget.

Ryan Digiulio explained that "interfund transfers out" refers to moving money from the general fund to other restricted-purpose funds outside of it, such as those highlighted earlier in the presentation.

Dr. Martinez thanked Ryan, Kate, and their teams for a comprehensive budget presentation and acknowledged their efforts in navigating complex financial conditions. He noted that while the budget is stable, several external factors, such as the lingering effects of wildfires, tariff impacts, and fluctuating consumer activity, create economic uncertainty at the state and national levels. Dr. Martinez emphasized the importance of continued monitoring and expressed confidence that the District will be able to make necessary adjustments as economic trends become clearer in the coming months.

President Elkarra called the Public Hearing at 9:13 p.m. for the 2025-2026 Proposed Adopted Budget.

There were no public comments.

President Elkarra closed the Public Hearing at 9:13 p.m.

Ryan DiGiulio and legal counsel Bill Schuetz presented the findings leading to the issuance of a Notice of Violation for the California Innovative Career Academy (CICA), clarifying that this action represents the first step in the charter revocation process and does not constitute immediate revocation. The notice outlines multiple violations, including material changes to grade levels and school sites without prior approval, outstanding audit documentation, credential misassignments, failure to provide instructional minutes and days for the 2024–2025 school year, and breach of an exclusive partnership agreement by allowing non-students into a CTE program. Additionally, fiscal mismanagement concerns were raised regarding high-value administrative expenditures. The charter has until September 26 to respond and remedy these violations. The Board was advised that, while CICA has previously responded to District communications, the severity and persistence of these issues warrant formal action at this stage. Approval of the Notice of Violation was recommended.

Trustee Sandoval requested clarification on whether issuing the Notice of Violation is the initial step in the charter revocation process.

Bill Schuetz clarified that issuing a Notice of Violation is the first formal step in the revocation process, triggered by unresolved issues. He emphasized that it does not revoke the charter and that the school will have time to remedy the violations before further Board action is considered.

Trustee Jefferson asked whether the District was responsible for overseeing the areas cited in the charter school's violations.

Ryan DiGiulio explained that the charter school is responsible for meeting legal and charter requirements, while the District provides oversight and issues a Notice of Violation if those responsibilities are not met.

Trustee Vogt asked legal counsel whether, if new violations arise after the Notice of Violation is issued, the District must wait for the current remedy period to expire before issuing a new notice or taking further action in the revocation process.

Bill Schuetz confirmed that additional Notices of Violation can be issued if new issues arise, and they may proceed concurrently without waiting for the current remedy period to end.

Bill McGuire, Executive Director of Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools, commented and thanked the Board for the opportunity to speak and acknowledged the challenges of the state audit process, which both Twin Rivers and Highlands have undergone. He expressed appreciation for the District's oversight team and affirmed Highlands' commitment to correcting identified issues. Mr. McGuire emphasized the school's ongoing partnership with Twin Rivers, highlighted the large population of immigrant adults they serve, many of whom are parents of TRUSD students, and shared that leadership will soon transition to Jonathan Raymond. He concluded by reaffirming their dedication to transparency, improvement, and maintaining a strong relationship with the district.

3. PRESENT and APPROVE the Issuance of Notice of Violation to Highlands Community Charter School

Ryan DiGiulio and Bill Schuetz presented a new Notice of Violation for Highlands Community Charter School (HCCS), citing multiple compliance issues similar to those identified with CICA, including unapproved grade level and site changes, missing audit reports, credential misassignments, lack of instructional minutes, and a breach of partnership agreements. An additional violation unique to HCCS involved the use of a non-instructional site at a baseball field, where the school contributed $25,000 for upgrades and remains obligated under a lease through 2026. The charter has until September 26, 2025, to remedy the violations, and staff recommended approval of the notice.

4. APPROVE Employment Agreement Between Twin Rivers Unified School District and Marcia (Marci) Bernard for Associate Superintendent School Leadership

Trustee Baker asked whether a job posting had been issued.

Dr. Martinez explained that Ms. Bernard has been serving in the role for over 14 months, and this action reflects her official appointment. He stated that, as Superintendent, he has the authority to appoint individuals to a position without the need for a job posting.

Trustee Baker commended Ms. Bernard's performance but opposed the appointment, stating the position should have been open for internal candidates to apply.

Trustee Reichelt stated that her opposition was not about Ms. Bernard's qualifications, but that the position should have been opened to other District employees out of respect.

Trustee Vogt supported the appointment, emphasizing respect for Ms. Bernard's ongoing work and stating that any interest in opening the position should have been raised earlier.

Trustee Bastian expressed appreciation for Ms. Bernard's dedication and hard work, congratulating her on the appointment and sharing enthusiasm for her continued leadership.

5. PRESENT AND APPROVE 2025-2026 Twin Rivers Unified School District Board Meeting Schedule

President Elkarra reported that the Board Calendar Committee, consisting of himself, Trustee Bastian, and Trustee Reichelt, met to review scheduling options for the upcoming year. After discussing three initial proposals and evaluating the timing and volume of agenda items throughout the year, the committee unanimously recommended two calendar options. Option 1 includes one meeting per month, with two meetings in June; Option 2 includes two meetings in both January and June, with a minor date adjustment in February to better space meetings. The committee also reviewed key action items aligned with each meeting and requested additional information from Dr. Martinez regarding public comment procedures and other considerations.

Dr. Martinez provided follow-up information requested by the Board Calendar Committee regarding public participation and access. He shared that the District averages about four public comment cards per meeting, with occasional spikes depending on agenda topics, such as the January 14, 2025, meeting, which saw 14 comments related to charter renewal and negotiations. Additionally, there were five Special Board meetings held during the year, each convened for specific purposes, including Board appointments, governance training, personnel contracts, and facilities projects. Dr. Martinez also addressed community access points beyond Board meetings, noting that families and stakeholders regularly engage through school sites, District departments, direct outreach to the Superintendent and Board members, and weekly communications via email, Parent Connect, and social media. These channels help resolve many concerns before they reach the Board level and support transparency and accessibility throughout the District.

President Elkarra noted that one of the concerns discussed during the Committee meeting was the limited time allocated for District employee organizations to speak during Board meetings, particularly when meetings occur only once a month. He shared that a revised policy is being developed to address this issue, and a proposal to increase the allotted time for employee organization comments at regular meetings will be brought to the Board for a vote.

Dr. Martinez confirmed that the current policy allows two minutes per public comment and explained that the proposed revision would formally allocate four minutes specifically for employee associations during regular Board meetings.

Trustee Reichelt noted a discrepancy between draft versions of the proposed Board meeting calendar, pointing out that Draft 2 listed February 17th, while the current version still reflects February 24th.

Dr. Martinez confirmed that February 17th would work for the District and thanked Trustee Reichelt for identifying the discrepancy. He requested that the meeting date be updated in the minutes for both Option 1 and Option 2 of the proposed calendar.

Trustee Vogt raised concerns about the decision-making process used by the Board Calendar Committee, questioning the elimination of a third meeting schedule option without broader input from other Board members or stakeholders. She emphasized that while committees are representative, they should not make final decisions independently. Trustee Vogt also referenced prior discussions regarding the costs associated with holding additional Board meetings, such as staff time, utilities, and other resources, and requested a clear breakdown of those expenses, along with information on how any related savings have been utilized.

Dr. Martinez clarified that if the District were to increase the number of Board meetings to two per month on a regular basis, it would likely require hiring additional personnel within the Superintendent's Office to manage the increased workload.

Trustee Bastian summarized the Board Calendar Committee's collaborative process, highlighting community feedback favoring informal engagement over formal meetings, discussion of staffing needs if meeting frequency increases, the potential policy revision to allow more time for labor partners, and a review of public and virtual comment data. The committee also considered workload patterns using the Governance Calendar and proposed using placeholder dates for potential second meetings when needed.

Trustee Vogt raised concerns about the lack of broader stakeholder input and emphasized the need for increased transparency and oversight. She questioned the omission of a compromise meeting option and the absence of a clearly defined placeholder ("ghost") meeting in the proposed calendar.

Superintendent Martinez clarified that the intent of the placeholder or "ghost" meeting discussed in the committee meeting was not to bring it forward as an official meeting for Board approval. Instead, it was intended as a flexible, informal planning tool rather than a formally scheduled meeting, as official approval would require the meeting to take place.

Trustee Baker expressed concern about the composition of the Board Calendar Committee, noting that while community input was gathered, Trustees Sandoval, Jefferson, and Vogt were not included. He felt this resulted in a lack of representation from a portion of the District in the committee's discussions and recommendations.

Trustee Reichelt affirmed her support for the two proposed calendar options, explaining that the committee had meaningful discussion on meeting efficiency, public comment data, and scheduling needs. She noted the committee was not presented with the third option mentioned by others and clarified that placeholder meeting dates were discussed as internal planning tools, not formal approvals.

Trustee Vogt reiterated concerns about the lack of broad stakeholder input in the calendar committee process, questioning whether labor partners or Trustees representing other areas, such as Trustees Sandoval, Jefferson, or Baker, were consulted. She emphasized that limited meeting frequency can delay important decisions and expressed that stakeholder expectations for increased transparency and responsiveness may not have been fully considered in the committee's recommendations.

Trustee Reichelt explained that her understanding of stakeholder input was based on reviewing past attendance data at Board meetings, particularly during a typical, non-negotiation year. She noted that most meetings averaged between five and eight public comment cards, which she felt provided sufficient opportunity for community input. However, she acknowledged Trustee Vogt's point, agreeing that holding more frequent meetings might encourage greater public participation.

Trustee Vogt emphasized that having more meetings increases accessibility, allowing stakeholders more opportunities to participate if they cannot attend a single scheduled meeting.

Trustee Reichelt noted that many concerns are addressed through direct communication with Trustees, which was considered when evaluating the need for additional meetings.

Trustee Jefferson voiced opposition to the proposed calendar options, stating she felt excluded from the process and that her request for two monthly meetings was not considered. She emphasized the importance of stakeholder access and expressed concern that the current schedule limits public participation.

Trustee Bastian emphasized that the Committee thoroughly reviewed data and community input, supporting the recommended calendar options as a balanced and collaborative outcome.

Trustee Vogt highlighted that a single monthly meeting may limit community participation due to scheduling conflicts and emphasized the need for more opportunities for stakeholder input.

Trustee Bastian encouraged stakeholders to contact Trustees directly, noting she is readily available and responsive outside of Board meetings.

President Elkarra noted that Board members forward community concerns to the Superintendent promptly, ensuring timely resolution through established communication protocols.

Trustee Vogt clarified that Board business is not conducted through text messages.

President Elkarra noted that concerns are sent to the Superintendent and are typically resolved before reaching Board meetings, supporting the committee's data-informed approach.

Trustee Baker asked if the District tracks how many people watch Board meetings on YouTube.

Trustee Vogt stated that limited access to participation is an equity concern for her.

Trustee Baker suggested reconvening the Committee with expanded representation to gather additional stakeholder input, particularly from underrepresented areas of the district.

President Elkarra announced that the Calendar Committee will be reconvened with updated membership to ensure broader representation. The revised Committee will include President Elkarra, Trustee Bastian, and Trustee Vogt.

President Elkarra encouraged trustees to gather input from their communities before the upcoming vote on the meeting calendar.

Superintendent Martinez acknowledged the Board's feedback and stated he will bring back a revised calendar with two Board meetings per month, along with a more comprehensive hybrid option for consideration.

Trustee Bastian noted that if the District moves to two meetings per month, it will be important to assess the cost implications, including the potential need for additional staff support.

Trustee Vogt supported reviewing staffing needs to accommodate two monthly meetings, recognizing the increased workload.

Superintendent Martinez invited Board members to submit any additional data requests as soon as possible, noting the short turnaround due to the upcoming Juneteenth holiday.

Board members requested information on meeting lengths during months with one versus two meetings, as well as previously provided data from periods when two monthly meetings were regularly held.

6. SCHEDULE Annual Organizational Meeting of the Twin Rivers Board of Trustees

This item was moved to the June 24, 2025, Board meeting pending approval of the Twin Rivers Unified School District Board Meeting Schedule.

Trustee Sandoval requested that a professional Parliamentarian preside over the upcoming organizational meeting. She formally motioned for this arrangement to be implemented.

Dr. Martinez explained that a Board roll call vote is not required for the motion and that a simple majority of four votes is sufficient for approval. He confirmed that the threshold was met and stated he would look into the request.

7. FIRST READING - Revised Board Policies

Board polices were presented for first reading and will be brought back for approval at the next meeting.

N. BOARD/SUPERINTENDENT COMMUNICATION

Trustee Sandoval requested that an item be agendized for the next Board meeting to consider the removal of Trustee Baker as the Board's representative to the California School Boards Association (CSBA). She clarified that the item is intended for a vote, not discussion.

Trustee Baker clarified that he holds an elected CSBA regional position, not one appointed by the Board, and noted the District no longer qualifies for an automatic seat.

O. BOARD COMMENTS

Trustee Sandoval shared highlights from recent school events, including promotions at Smythe Middle School, Morey Avenue, Smythe Elementary, and Fairbanks. She praised strong parent participation and noted a group of Smythe students traveling to a robotics convention, where they are also learning life skills like travel preparation and safety. She commended the District's new initiative to provide potty training for transitional kindergarten (TK) students, calling it forward-thinking. She also celebrated three former Smythe Elementary students receiving $1,000 scholarships and shared an inspiring encounter with a Fairbanks 6th grader aspiring to become an attorney, who was already aware of Twin Rivers' dual enrollment opportunities. Trustee Sandoval expressed pride in the District's students and the quality of this year's promotion events.

Trustee Bastian reflected on a busy and meaningful end-of-year season, attending multiple kindergarten promotions, middle school ceremonies, and high school graduations. She expressed gratitude for being part of students' journeys and praised the District for its impact on the community. She shared a personal moment overhearing a parent praise Twin Rivers while at the dentist's office, highlighting the District's positive influence. Trustee Bastian thanked staff for making graduation events special and expressed appreciation for the birthday wishes she received, noting her pride in spending her birthday with the Twin Rivers community.

Trustee Reichelt shared highlights from a busy few weeks attending open houses and promotions at various schools, including Hillsdale, Ridgepoint, Frontier, Foothill Oaks, Miles P. Richmond, and Allison. She expressed joy in seeing students' hard work and the pride of families during these events. She also attended high school graduations at CCAA, Highlands, and Foothill, as well as the adult education graduation at Miles P. Richmond, and several 8th grade promotions. Trustee Reichelt recounted a special moment where a local community member provided a $20,000 scholarship to a Highlands High student of color. Additionally, she attended the Madison Dual Language end-of-year presentation, where students delivered speeches in their second language about impactful global figures. She expressed pride in the students and appreciation for the District's efforts.

Trustee Vogt congratulated all graduates and shared her appreciation for attending various promotion and graduation ceremonies across grade levels. She acknowledged the excitement and support shown by students, families, and staff. Trustee Vogt also took a moment to recognize retiree Lisa Liss for her significant contributions to the District, including founding Project Dream, which positively impacted thousands of students through initiatives such as the shoe giveaway, the Band-Aid Project, and student trips. She praised Ms. Liss's lasting influence and dedication. Additionally, Trustee Vogt expressed gratitude to staff currently supporting summer programs and site operations, acknowledging their continued efforts to meet student needs.

Trustee Baker shared that he attended several graduation ceremonies, including those at Foothill, Highlands, Rio Linda, CCAA, and Pacific, and thanked District staff for their support in making the events successful. He and Trustee Vogt also attended the Madison Dual Language presentations and praised the student work. Trustee Baker reported on his attendance with Trustee Jefferson at the California School Boards Association (CSBA) Delegate Assembly in Sacramento. He thanked Trustee Vogt on behalf of the assembly for participating in recent advocacy efforts in Washington, D.C. He noted CSBA's support for several legislative items, including AB 1381 (educational workforce housing loans), AB 1021 (streamlining workforce housing), and AB 1224 (extending long-term substitute authorization). He also reminded Trustees about opportunities for student performers at the upcoming CSBA conference in Sacramento.

Trustee Jefferson shared highlights from several graduations, with a special focus on Grant High School's ceremony, which featured a new seating configuration and concluded with a drone show. She praised the layout of the students in the bleachers and parents on the field, and expressed appreciation for the display of elementary school flags representing Grant's feeder schools. She also attended the FC Joyce promotion, where staff honored their late principal with a butterfly release, commemorative student cords, and plans to plant memorial trees. Trustee Jefferson thanked all staff involved in organizing the graduation events.

Trustee Reichelt added that she and Trustee Baker attended the Foothill pool opening, which had previously been a topic of controversy. She noted that the event was successful, with students enjoying themselves and the pool operating well.

President Elkarra shared that he would save his full remarks for the next meeting but expressed appreciation for attending several graduations alongside fellow Board members, highlighting Northlake's first 8th grade graduation as a small yet meaningful and historic event. He thanked everyone involved.

Superintendent Martinez expressed his appreciation to staff for staying late and supporting the meeting, especially with over 75 facilities projects currently in progress across school sites. He acknowledged that the evening included some passionate conversations and differing opinions, which are a natural part of working together as a governing team. He encouraged the Board to embrace respectful dialogue, reminding everyone that it's okay to disagree and that they'll move forward together with continued collaboration and shared purpose.

Board President Jefferson emphasized the importance of acting based on duty and compliance rather than emotion when trust or governance is in question. She acknowledged the efforts of Highlands and Twin Rivers staff to address issues and commended their ongoing work. She reaffirmed that the Board's responsibility is to ensure all schools under the Twin Rivers umbrella, whether district or charter, operate as responsible stewards of public resources and remain committed to equitable, lawful, and high-quality education. However, she noted that violations still exist.

Trustee Baker commented that Highlands Community Charter had been issued several violations and remains out of compliance. The school will be given additional time to correct these violations or provide demonstrative evidence of progress toward compliance. He noted that the process allows multiple opportunities for Highlands to address the issues through detailed plans and documented steps toward resolution.

Trustee Vogt sought clarification on Highlands Community Charter operations at sites and the use of WIOA funds. She emphasized the importance of maintaining a structured oversight process for Highlands, and stated her priorities are clear, to make sure every school is in compliance with the law, and using public dollars responsibly.

Jonathan Raymond, Executive Director of Highlands Community Charters and Technical Schools, acknowledged past leadership mistakes but emphasized ongoing improvements at Highlands. He urged the Board to consider what is in the best interest of students.

Sky Fuller, teacher, described how engaged parents help improve student achievement and community connection. She urged the Board to continue supporting these educational partnerships that foster lifelong learning and success.

[redacted], a student, urged continued support for Highlands and its positive impact on students and the community.

Dean Bodholdt, teacher, highlighted that Highlands is more than a school. It is a community where adult learners rebuild their futures through equity, care, and opportunity.

Patrick Kennedy, Sacramento County Supervisor in District 2, emphasized Highlands Charter School's vital role in serving refugees, English learners, and jobseekers through community partnerships and workforce programs. N. BOARD COMMENTS

Trustee Baker shared that it's been a difficult week for the Twin Rivers community following the loss of three respected individuals. Grounds Supervisor Paul Torgerson, passed away earlier in the week, followed by the passing of dedicated District parent and community advocate [redacted], who was actively involved in efforts to keep Sierra View open. Most recently, the District learned of the passing of Amy Findlay, Vice President of the Foothill Farms Neighborhood Association, paraeducator at Foothill Oaks Elementary, and long-time community member and leader. He requested that the meeting close in memory of Paul Torgerson, [redacted], and Amy Findlay.

Trustee Reichelt reported she attended several school and district events, including an after-school talent show at Foothill Oaks where students enthusiastically showcased their talents, primarily through dance, for their peers and families. She also attended the Harvest Festival at Woodridge, which saw strong family participation and community engagement. Additionally, she visited the Career Technical Education Fair, noting the enthusiasm of high school students presenting programs to future freshmen and the excitement of eighth graders exploring opportunities available in high school.

Trustee Bastian expressed heartfelt condolences to the families of Amy Findlay, [redacted], and Paul Torgerson, recognizing their dedication and lasting impact on the Twin Rivers community. She also shared personal gratitude to colleagues, staff, and community members for their support following an accident involving her son, thanking everyone for their prayers, visits, and compassion during this difficult time. She shared that she attended several District trunk-or-treat and harvest festival events, commending staff and administrators for creating joyful experiences for students. Additionally, she expressed community concerns about hexavalent chromium in the water within the Walerga–Elverta area and thanked District staff for collaborating with the local water district to find solutions. She concluded with a message of gratitude and a reminder to appreciate one another and every moment shared.

Trustee Vogt expressed condolences for the recent losses within the District and thanked staff for supporting colleagues and families during this difficult time. Appreciation was given to employees who work behind the scenes to keep school operations running smoothly and to those who provide ongoing care and resources to families in need. She commended Nutrition Services and leadership for ensuring families continue to receive support during school breaks.

Trustee Sandoval acknowledged the District's response to the recent SNAP benefits cut by providing food support to affected families, noting community appreciation for these efforts. She also emphasized the ongoing collaboration to address District issues and highlighted a recent partnership with the Aztec dance community to support Dia de los Muertos ceremonies at Rio Linda High School. These efforts not only involve students in creating floral arrangements but also teach respect and cultural traditions, ensuring the continuation of important community practices.

President Christine Jefferson reflected on a busy October, attending numerous Trunk or Treat events and harvest festivals across the District, including Kohler, Babcock, Castori, and Village, where large numbers of families, including those from low-income backgrounds, participated. She shared that the "Mystery Machine," affectionately called the Happiness Van, brought joy to attendees and documented some moments on her social media. She confirmed that the Board meeting closed in memory of [redacted], Amy Findlay, and Paul Torgerson.

G. HEARING OF PUBLIC (If Needed)

1. PUBLIC HEARING for the Material Revision of the Highlands Community Charter School's Charter of Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools

Ryan DiGiulio explained the process for the material revision requests and noted that the Board would not take action at this meeting. He reported that Highlands submitted a material revision request on October 10th to address charter violations for serving unauthorized grade levels and operating at unauthorized locations. HCCS proposed to serve grades 9 through 12 and reduce operations to 14 sites. Representatives from HCCS presented on the proposed changes. Board action is anticipated for the January 13, 2026 regular board meeting.

President Jefferson called the Public Hearing at 6:00 p.m.

Jonathan Raymond, Executive Director, presented a material revision request for Highlands Community Charter Schools (HCCS), seeking approval to operate at 17 locations throughout Sacramento County, consisting of 14 student-serving sites and 3 administrative support locations. He requested approval to remove grades 1 and 2 and add grades 9, 10, and 11 to better meet student needs as requested by TRUSD, restructuring the current credit-based system (grades 9, 10, and 12) into four distinct grade levels with grade 11 serving students with 101-149 credits. Mr. Jonathan explained that implementation would include creating grade 11 in PowerSchool, modifying the master schedule, contracting with Charter Impact for transition support, and implementing CAASPP testing for grade 11 students, while if the revision is not approved, HCCS would implement alternative actions by Spring 2026 including moving current grades 9 and 10 students to grade 12 and creating grades 1 and 2. He highlighted new program offerings including Digital Literacy, Personal Finance, Real Estate, Microsoft Certifications, Culinary, Medical Services, and Early Childhood Education, and reported that HCCS has updated credential qualifications to implement single-subject credentials rather than adult credentials and has implemented curriculum and assessment improvements as recommended by TRUSD, including CAST and CAASPP testing, SAVVAS curriculum aligned to Common Core State Standards, Professional Learning Communities, and 15 days of professional development for academic staff throughout the school year.

Trustee Vogt announced that one public comment.

Laura Kerr, representing the Charter School Development Center, spoke in support of Highlands Community Charter Schools, providing support of Executive Director Jonathan Raymond and his team based on her previous collaborative work with them at Sacramento City Unified. Ms. Kerr urged the Board to approve the material revision and deny the revocation.

President Jefferson closed the Public Hearing at 7:27 p.m.

2. PUBLIC HEARING for the Material Revision of the California Innovative Career Academy's Charter of Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools

President Jefferson called the Public Hearing at 7:29 p.m.

Melissa Robertson, Director of Accountability and Assessment presented a material revision request for California Innovative Career Academy (CICA), seeking approval to operate at 17 locations throughout Sacramento County consisting of 14 student-serving sites and 3 administrative support locations. Ms. Robertson requested approval to add grade 11 to the current structure of grades 9, 10, and 12, creating four distinct grade levels based on credit accumulation (grade 9: 0-50 credits, grade 10: 51-100 credits, grade 11: 101-149 credits, grade 12: 150-180 credits), with implementation including creating grade 11 in PowerSchool, modifying the master schedule, contracting with Charter Impact for transition support, and implementing CAASPP testing for grade 11 students. She stated that if the material revision is not approved, CICA will conform to the existing charter and MOU sites by Spring 2026 and continue offering grades 9, 10, and 12. Ms. Robertson highlighted new program offerings including Digital Literacy and Multimedia, Medical Services, Microsoft Office Specialist Certification, Personal Finance, Real Estate, Culinary Arts, and Early Childhood Education, and reported that CICA has updated credential qualifications to utilize K-12 credentials rather than adult credentials and has implemented CAST and CAASPP testing, SAVA's curriculum aligned to Common Core State Standards, Professional Learning Communities, and 15 days of professional development for academic staff.

There were no public comments.

President Jefferson closed the Public Hearing at 7:39 p.m.

3. PUBLIC HEARING - Revocation of the Highlands Community Charter School Charter Operated by Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools

President Jefferson called the Public Hearing at 7:41 p.m.

Melissa Robertson, Director of Accountability and Assessment, presented the school's response to the Notice of Intent to Revoke the charter for Highlands Community Charter School (HCCS), expressing appreciation for District staff's collaboration and outlining significant reforms already implemented including changing the board, administrative team, over 100 policies and procedures, auditor, legal counsel, bringing in a charter school business firm for validation, replacing teachers with adult education credentials, and consolidating operations in Sacramento County. Ms. Robertson addressed each violation, reporting that HCCTS Board approved a material revision on September 18, 2025, to modify grade levels and consolidate sites (submitted to TRUSD September 26, 2025), with lease agreements provided November 20, 2025; submitted drafts of the 2023-24 Eide Bailly audit on May 12 and October 10, 2025, with full correspondence provided October 26 and 31, 2025, and outlined settlement options to resolve state audit concerns; implemented a five-period bell schedule effective August 14, 2025, providing 65,889 instructional minutes exceeding the 64,800 minimum requirement by 1,089 minutes, with reduced class sizes capped at 30 students; corrected credential assignments and partnered with University of Massachusetts to ensure proper teacher credentials; discontinued truck driving program partnerships on January 14, 2025, with all related employees laid off June 30, 2025, and program not reopened for 2025-26 school year; terminated the Marysville lease on November 30, 2024, with final buyout of $31,579.80 completed January 21, 2025, resulting in $88,316 savings; and terminated the San Diego lease with final documentation provided to TRUSD November 18, 2025.

President Jeffeson called the Public Hearing at 8:02 p.m.

Teresa Cummins, Deputy Director, presented the school's response to the Notice of Intent to Revoke the charter for California Innovative Career Academy (CICA), addressing each violation. Ms. Cummins reported that CICA is currently serving students in grades 9, 10, and 12, and is proposing to add grade 11 as reflected in the material revision submitted to TRUSD on September 26, 2025, which would restructure the credit-based system into four distinct grade levels, and if not approved, CICA will continue offering grades 9, 10, and 12. She stated that CICA prepared a material revision on September 18, 2025, listing all student sites reflecting operations only in Sacramento County at fewer sites due to declining enrollment, submitted to TRUSD September 26, 2025, and if not approved, CICA will operate at locations outlined in MOU Amendment No. 3 executed January 23, 2024. Ms. Cummins reported that CICA provided drafts of the 2023-24 audit on May 12 and October 10, 2025, with full correspondence provided October 31, 2025; created an assigned work record form and process for independent study where credentialed teachers verify student work and assign time values, with evidence including SAVVAS pacing guides, training materials, and Master Agreement trainings in multiple languages submitted September 26, 2025; resolved credential assignments with verification built into staffing work; discontinued truck driving program partnerships on January 14, 2025, with all related employees laid off June 30, 2025, and program not reopened for 2025-26 school year; and terminated the San Diego lease with final documentation provided to TRUSD November 18, 2025.

Ryan DiGiulio and William Schuetz, presented staff findings and recommendations regarding the revocation of the charter of California Innovative Career Academy (CICA), outlining the revocation process, which included the previous staff findings which determined CICA remedied one violation, but failed to refute or remedy to the District's satisfaction all of the violations identified in the Notice of Violation. The District's charter oversight responsibilities were reviewed and included a requirement to visit each site annually, monitoring compliance with required reports, monitoring the fiscal condition, and determining if any conditions for revocation exist. The grounds for revocation state that the District must find, through a showing of substantial evidence, that the charter school committed a violation of the charter or of law, failed to meet or pursue pupil outcomes, or failed to meet generally accepted accounting principles or engage in fiscal mismanagement. While staff findings presented to the Board during the November meeting determined that CICA failed to remedy or refute all violations to the District's satisfaction, this presentation provided an update based on a review of additional information submitted by the charter after the conclusion of the remedy period, between October 1, 2025 and January 9, 2026. This review found that CICA has successfully refuted or remedied all violations; providing evidence that grade levels were approved in the original petition, submitting plans to return to authorized locations, submitting the overdue audit report with plans to change audit firms, improving credentialing practices, the implementation of attendance compliance monitoring systems, terminating external partnerships and the CTE Truck Driving program, and adopting or revising board policies to address fiscal mismanagement. District staff recommended that the Board decline to revoke the charter.

Trustee Elkarra inquired about the renewal for CICA and Highlands Community Charter school.

Ryan clarified that, their period ends at the end of June 2027, so the process will begin months before then, typically starting in the fall.

Trustee Elkarra inquired whether negotiations regarding the Settlement had already begun.

Ryan clarified that, they have had ongoing conversations with EAP, and they are awaiting the final process.

Trustee Elkarra, further inquired on the potential exposure liability to the District.

Ryan clarified that, based on the legal oversight provided, the District should not have exposure, though there could be potential liability if certain findings are made and the issue is not remedied.

Trustee Vogt inquired whether the material revisions presented on January 13th were the full extent of the information provided to the Board.

Ryan clarified that the material revisions addressed only the first two notices of violation and were proposed as a remedy, but since the Board did not approve them, they reverted to the prior charter to achieve compliance.

Trustee Vogt clarified that they were given a presentation on attendance minutes and policies to address the attendance issues identified by staff. She also inquired whether anything additional has been presented since then.

Ryan clarified that it's an ongoing obligation and that their plan has not been amended.

Sharilyn Warta, further clarified that for CICA, additional documentation and site visits demonstrated that attendance improvement plans were in place and being implemented, and based on this evidence, staff concluded that the issues had been remedied.

Jonathan Raymond, Executive Director for Highlands Charter Community and Technical Schools, acknowledged the challenges of the past two years. He expressed appreciation for the Board of Trustees, Superintendent Martinez, and staff, highlighting the positive outcome of building an open, collaborative partnership with the District. He emphasized his commitment to running the organization with the highest standards of integrity while serving the community.

Teresa Cummings Chief Operating Officer thanked the Board, Superintendent Martinez, and Twin Rivers staff for their collaboration, professionalism, and thorough review of CICA's operations. She updated that CICA is now operating in the facilities outlined in MOU Amendment Number 3, and provided all required documentation for instructional minutes and independent study programs. She respectfully requested the Board to approve a final decision declining to revoke CICA's charter, emphasizing that past issues have been addressed sustainably. She highlighted their commitment to providing high-quality, integrity-driven education and second-chance opportunities for students.

Trustee Vogt inquired whether there is a standard for the program regarding online assignments and instructional minutes.

Eric Chapman, Chief Academic Officer, clarified that, instructional minutes are now standards-aligned, carefully vetted to meet six hours daily, and supported by teacher planning, PLCs, and professional development, ensuring program-wide consistency across all instructors.

Trustee Vogt inquired if there is a standard that assign a value consistently and what is that standard.

Eric Chapman clarified that yes, there is a standard: instructional time is aligned with curriculum and standards.

Trustee Elkarra inquired if the negotiations regarding the settlement has begun.

Eric Chapman, clarified that they did submit an offer to the Controller's Office and the Department of Finance, who have responded and requested further evidence.

Rebecca Wu shared an online comment expressing support for keeping Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools open but that the school must demonstrate transparency and accountability before it can continue operating.

[redacted], student from Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools, expresses her concerns over the potential closure of the school. She emphasizes the school's positive impact on her life.

[redacted] a former student of Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools, describes how the school transformed her life.

[redacted] an alumnus, and former employee of Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools, emphasizes the transformative impact the school had on his life and family, providing him with education, support, and a sense of community.

Kathy Chao Rothberg, representing Lao Family Community Development Corporation highlights Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools as a unique and valuable school, praising its long-term support for immigrant and refugee families in the region.

[redacted], a community representative, praises Highlands for supporting her and her family by recognizing foreign diplomas and providing essential classes, enabling her to graduate and secure employment.

Sam Chaisiri, a four-year teacher at Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools, encourage the Board to reconsider revoking the school's charter, emphasizing the profound impact Highlands has on students' lives.

Dr. Martinez, Superintendent clarified that a "yes" vote means the revocation would stop and Highlands would continue operating, while a "no" vote would approve revocation and end the school's charter.

Trustee Elkarra inquired on how the revocation would affect the ongoing settlement negotiations, noting that responses are expected in the coming weeks.

William Shuetz clarified that the vote tonight is limited to whether the charter adequately addressed the identified violations, and does not cover other concerns outside the Board's scope. Regardless of the outcome, the District will continue its oversight to ensure the school remains accountable and compliant.

Ryan DiGiulio and William Schuetz presented an overview of District staff's final findings related to the charter revocation of Highlands Community Charter School since the initial findings in which staff had determined that HCCS failed to refute or remedy to the District's satisfaction all of the violations identified in the Notice of Violation. They included a summary of the revocation process timeline, staff's review methodology, and compliance outcomes, an overview of the school's plans to correct violations, and corrective actions taken by the school. Based on a data-driven review of the documentation and evidence submitted after the conclusion of the remedy period, District staff determined that all violations have been remedied to the district's satisfaction and recommended that the Board decline to revoke the charter.

Trustee Vogt inquired whether Highlands Community Charter School had submitted any new information since the January 13th meeting regarding attendance tracking. She also requested clarification on the standard used to evaluate instructional minutes.

Sharilyn Warta clarified that between October and January Highlands Community Charter Schools has submitted substantial additional evidence, including updated schedules and reports, showing instructional minutes exceeding minimum requirements, with ongoing updates and compliance team monitoring of attendance and instructional minutes.

Trustee Baker inquired about the required instructional minutes for Highlands Community Charter School.

Sharilyn clarified that the minimum annual instructional minutes for Highlands Community Charter School is the same standard required of Twin Rivers Unified School District, .

Teresa Cummings, Deputy Director and Chief Operating Officer, addressed the Board and thanked the Board of Trustees, Superintendent Martinez, and District staff for the opportunity to present. She acknowledged staff's work in addressing and curing the identified violations, expressed appreciation for the District's accountability standards, and affirmed the school's commitment to maintaining a high bar for student outcomes. She concluded by respectfully requesting that the Board approve issuance of a final decision declining to revoke the charter.

Rebecca Wu expressed her desire for continued dialogue focused on supporting students and the community. She emphasized the importance of accountability, transparency, cooperation with oversight agencies, and addressing past financial and reporting issues in order to move forward effectively.

Bill Knowlton acknowledged the Board's responsibilities to the community. He stated that the evidence shows the school has taken corrective action and is moving in the right direction and expressed support for continuing the charter.

Dr. Addie Ellis, a community member, professor, and consultant, addressed the Board emphasizing the importance of Highlands Community Charter School in providing adult learners with pathways to earn a high school diploma and support their families.

Julie Wakelee, Reverend spoke on behalf of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern California, describing the importance of Highlands Community Charter School to the Arden Arcade community, particularly its integration with local schools and support services such as the River City Food Bank.

Tu Tao, CTE Workforce Coordinator at Highlands Community Charter and Technical School, addressed the Board to emphasize the school's role in providing no-cost educational and workforce training opportunities that support students' academic advancement, economic mobility, and integration into the local workforce.

President Jefferson stated that the Board of Trustees is accountable to both the organization and their constituents and expressed that the concerns in the notice of violations have not yet been remedied to her satisfaction.

Trustee Baker stated that his vote was cast in opposition and echoed the comments of the Board President Jefferson, noting that his constituency is also not satisfied.

Trustee Vogt stated that the vote was not about whether the population served by Highlands Community Charter deserves support, but about whether sufficient evidence had been presented to demonstrate that the notices of violations had been cured.

Re: Notice of Appeal of Revocation of California Innovative Career Academy to Sacramento County Board of Education

Dear Members of the Sacramento County Board of Education:

On January 30, 2026 the Twin Rivers Unified School District Board of Trustees ("TRUSD" or the "District" or "District Board") voted to revoke the charter for the California Innovative Career Academy ("CICA"), a charter school operated by Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools ("HCCTS" or "Highlands"). CICA and HCCTS timely submit this appeal of the District's revocation decision pertaining to CICA to the Sacramento County Board of Education, pursuant to California Education Code section 47607.

Background

The California Supreme Court has held that a charter school has a property interest in its charter that is protected by due process of law. (See Today's Fresh Start, Inc. v. Los Angeles County Office of Education (2013) 57 Cal.4th 197, 215.) Due process requires reasonable notice before governmental action may deprive an individual of a significant property interest. (Bergeron v. Department of Health Services, 71 Cal. App. 4th 17, 23.) Due process also requires the opportunity to be heard "at a meaningful time and in a meaningful manner." (See Armstrong v. Manzo, 380 U.S. 545, 552 (1965).) In the case of an action by an administrative agency to deprive an individual of a property interest, due process requires written findings supported by facts that support the conclusions—"the orderly functioning of the process of review requires that the grounds upon which the administrative agency acted be clearly disclosed and adequately sustained." (See Topanga Assn. for a Scenic Community v. County of Los Angeles (1974) 11 Cal.3d 506, 516.) In 2021, the California Education Code was amended to add extra layers of due process, solidifying the default assumption that a charter school will be allowed notice and a chance to cure all claimed bases for revocation.

HCCTS operates two charter schools governed by one governing board—Highlands Community Charter School (HCCS) and California Innovative Career Academy (CICA). From August 2014 to the present, HCCTS has served approximately 64,058 students between its two schools. Currently, CICA, HCCTS' remote learning school, serves 826 students and has 371 students on its wait list. HCCTS's students are, by design, exclusively adults, many of whom are immigrants to the United States who are attending the school to learn English while pursuing a high school diploma and at the same time gaining valuable career skills to make themselves employable. CICA serves a large, underserved immigrant population and is crucial to helping these vulnerable students and their families succeed in Sacramento County. It benefits not only the immigrant community, but the rest of our local community as well, to ensure that these families have a pathway to learn English, access resources, and gain the skills needed to become employable in this country. Education for this community can lift individuals and whole families out of poverty, reducing reliance on government assistance in the future.

Educating the parents also ensures that they, in turn, can actively participate in their children's education. Studies have shown that a parent's education has a positive impact on future educational and career outcomes for the child. (See Dubow EF, Boxer P, Huesmann LR. Long-term Effects of Parents' Education on Children's Educational and Occupational Success: Mediation by Family Interactions, Child Aggression, and Teenage Aspirations. Merrill Palmer Q (Wayne State Univ Press). 2009 Jul;55(3):224-249. doi: 10.1353/mpq.0.0030. PMID: 20390050; PMCID: PMC2853053; see also Matt Dickson, Paul Gregg, Harriet Robinson, Early, Late or Never? One of the local communities most in need of assistance from CICA is the Afghan immigrant community. Women from Afghanistan often were denied even a basic education in their home country and require specialized support and education to learn English as a second language because they often do not know how to read or write in their native language, despite being adults. These families were relocated to the United States by our federal government due to assistance they provided to the United States Military during the War in Afghanistan. The program covered Afghans employed by or on behalf of the U.S. government/ISAF, including translators, interpreters, contractors, and engineers for a minimum of one year since October 7, 2001. These Afghans worked in collaboration with U.S. Military forces during the war in Afghanistan, which made them targets of violence by the Taliban. Applicants for this visa to come to the U.S. had to file a petition (Form I-360) and obtain Chief of Mission (COM) approval, often facing a lengthy, multi-year process. CICA is proud to support these individuals and their families as they adjust to life in the United States.

Since its inception, CICA has also served a significant number of local residents who needed a second chance to get a high school education. They did not complete this education for a myriad of reasons, and as a result have been denied the opportunity to obtain jobs that would pay them a living wage. These CICA students include single parents, people who have faced homelessness, justice system-involved individuals, and people who have overcome significant adversity and still never gave up on their dream of getting an education.

The Twin Rivers Unified School District ("TRUSD") is the charter authorizer for CICA. . In June 2025, the California Office of the State Auditor issued an audit report accusing CICA of various compliance violations, including issues related to alleged fiscal mismanagement by members of HCCTS' prior leadership team. Notably, the State Audit report does not allege fraud—rather, it alleges unwise use of funds and various other compliance issues such as problems with attendance tracking processes and improper use of Adult Education Teaching Credentials. The State Auditor also accused TRUSD of failing in its oversight responsibilities as CICA's authorizer, which contributed to the compliance issues that CICA faced. The issues raised in the State Audit had not previously been raised by the professional auditing firm that HCCTS had retained to conduct its annual audit for the 2022-2023 audit year, although the State Auditor claimed the issues were present during that timeframe. As a result of the school's independent audit not raising these concerns, the HCCTS Board at the time was therefore not put on notice about these concerns—it had reasonably relied on the professionals it had hired to assess for compliance.

News coverage around the State Audit and its allegations against Highlands Community Charter School and CICA was widespread and created a political incentive for elected officials—like the members of the Twin Rivers Unified School District Board of Trustees—to distance themselves from the charter school. It became politically strategic to express disapproval of CICA, even though the current CICA executive team does not contain any of the same people who caused the alleged compliance problems. Even prior to the State Auditor releasing their report, CICA changed its Executive Director to someone who is a statewide expert in business services – a former head of the California School Business Officials Organization ("CASBO"). He spent a year working with the HCCTS Board to adopt over a hundred new policies to move CICA into alignment with best practices. The current CICA leadership team, which began working at the school in July of 2025, and the new Board of Directors members see these charter schools as valuable assets to the community and have been working tirelessly to correct any deficiencies caused by the prior executive director and team. Despite this, in the public perception, HCCTS remains associated with the mistakes of its past. It is important to note that although CICA has moved to best practices in its operations in order to avoid any doubt about compliance on a going forward basis, some of the contentions of the State Auditor related to attendance accounting and credentialing may not be correct as a matter of law. This is the subject of two appeals filed with the Education Audit Appeals Panel by both Highlands Community Charter School and CICA.

The reforms put in place by the new management team have been recognized by outside agencies. The State Auditor has also been tracking improvements at the CICA and CICA believes that it will soon be in a position where the State Auditor finds the school in full compliance with its recommendations. Even the TRUSD staff ultimately concluded that CICA had fully cured all issues raised in the Notice of Violation, as further outlined below.

Notice of Violation

On June 17, 2025, the TRUSD District Board approved issuance of a Notice of Violation ("NOV") alleging that CICA committed material violations of the conditions, standards, and procedures of its Charter, failed to meet generally accepted accounting principles and/or engaged in fiscal mismanagement, and violated the law in the following ways:

Alleged Violations of the Charter:

- Grade Level Changes – adding grades 9 and 10 without first requesting a material revision of the charter and notifying the District, where the school's charter only included grades 1, 2, and 12.
- Location Changes – adding additional locations which were not previously approved without first providing notice and requesting a material revision, and without providing fully executed copies of lease agreements.

Alleged Violations of the Law:

- Failure to Submit Annual Audit Report – failing to complete and submit a 2023-24 annual independent audit report to the District, violating Education Code sections 47604.33 and 47605.
- Credential Misassignments – using instructors with Adult Education Credentials to teach adults in its K-12 program, which the District contends violates Education Code section 47605(l).
- Failure to Track Minimum Instructional Minutes
- Violation of WIOA Exclusive Partnership Agreement – allowing individuals who were not enrolled students to participate in the school's Career Technical Education ("CTE") Truck Driving program.

Alleged Fiscal Mismanagement:

- San Diego Administrative Location – improper expenditure of public funds on luxury office condominiums.

California Innovative Career Academy

All of these claims allege conduct that either predated the current CICA executive leadership team or relate to claims of failure by the current team to resolve issues that originated with prior leadership to the District's satisfaction. It is undisputed that no one in the current CICA executive team was involved in the alleged fiscal mismanagement related to school sites. Further, the District was aware of and complicit in the changes in instructional sites. These issues stemmed from a mutual misunderstanding of the law because the District did not require a material revision to be submitted to implement these changes and had just acquiesced or agreed to them at the staff level. As a result, the District effectively sat on issues for years that it now deems consequential enough to justify revoking a charter.

In so doing, the District violated the law of equitable estoppel:

> The vital principle is that he who by his language or conduct leads another to do what he would not otherwise have done shall not subject such person to loss or injury by disappointing the expectations upon which he acted. Such a change of position is sternly forbidden. It involves fraud and falsehood, and the law abhors both.

(City of Long Beach v. Mansell (1970) 3 Cal.3d 462, 488.) In City of Long Beach v. Mansell, the California Supreme Court confirmed that estoppel can apply against government agencies when equity demands it. (See id.) The Court describes the elements of equitable estoppel as follows:

> (1) the party to be estopped must be apprised of the facts; (2) he must intend that his conduct shall be acted upon, or must so act that the party asserting the estoppel had a right to believe it was so intended; (3) the other party must be ignorant of the true state of facts; and (4) he must rely upon the conduct to his injury.

Here, the District was aware that CICA was operating additional sites and acted such that CICA had a right to believe that CICA was permitted to utilize the additional sites without going through the formal material revision process. CICA was ignorant of the true state of facts—that the law required the school to request a material revision—and CICA relied upon the District's conduct to its injury where the District later sought to revoke CICA's charter for not having requested the material revisions sooner.

The District's delay in acting on these issues also violates the doctrine of laches. In administrative law, the proponent of a laches defense must establish (1) "unreasonable delay" and (2) "acquiescence" in the act about which the other party complains or "prejudice" resulting from the delay. (Conti v. Board of Civil Service Commrs. (1969) 1 C3d 351, 359, 82 CR 337, 342; see Gates v. Department of Motor Vehicles (1979) 94 CA3d 921, 923-926, 156 CR 791, 792-794.) Here, the District unreasonably delayed by allowing these issues to remain unchallenged for years, with tacit or even direct approval from District staff, only to then accuse CICA of waiting too long to fix them.

The NOV provided a remedy period up to and including September 26, 2025. Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 11968.5.2 states:

> (c) Upon receipt of a Notice of Violation, the charter school's governing body as described in the school's charter, if it chooses to respond, shall take the following actions:
>
> (1) Submit to the chartering authority a detailed, written response addressing each identified violation which shall include the refutation, remedial action taken, or proposed remedial action by the charter school specific to each alleged violation. The written response shall be due by the end of the remedy period identified in the Notice of Violation.
> (2) Attach to its written response supporting evidence of the refutation, remedial action, or proposed remedial action, if any, including written reports, statements, and other appropriate documentation.

CICA timely responded on September 26, 2025 with a letter addressing each of the alleged violations and explaining how each had been refuted or remedied. CICA also provided documentary evidence to either refute the claims or, where applicable, demonstrate that a remedy has been implemented. Contrary to later assertions by the District Board, CICA did submit exhibits to the District on September 26, 2025. Then, after the fact, the District contacted CICA and communicated that it was unable to access the exhibits (due to technical issues on the District's end), resulting in CICA re-providing the exhibits a few days later in a different format.

Following the June 2025 Notices of Violation, the District's staff asked CICA to submit a material revision request for sites and grades, which CICA did submit on September 26, 2025. CICA indicated that its plan to cure these issues all along was to submit a material revision to bring the charter into alignment on both site locations and grade levels (as applicable for each school[1]), but that it would align both sites and grade levels with the existing charter language if

[1] The language in CICA's charter is different from the language in HCCS' charter in that CICA was allowed to serve all grade levels, so CICA did not have the same grade levels concern. Although the grade levels issue was raised in CICA's NOV and CICA proposed a material revision to clarify this even further, District staff later confirmed that it had been refuted on the basis of the existing charter language on grade levels.

the material revision was denied. Notwithstanding CICA demonstrating an appropriate and lawful response, the District Board voted to issue a Notice of Intent to Revoke ("NIR") for CICA on November 4, 2025. A public hearing on the issue of revocation was held on December 2, 2025, along with public hearings on the issuance of the material revisions for both HCCS and CICA at the same meeting.

District staff had reviewed the material revisions and recommended approval, but the District Board denied them anyway on December 2, 2025. This denial was in bad faith, since the District Board had been presented the CICA plan to cure these issues and at no time expressed a concern about approving a material revision. It was fully aware that its staff was meeting regularly with CICA to get to mutual agreement on material revision language. To date, the District Board has still refused to approve a material revision for CICA site locations.

Notwithstanding the District Board's bad faith denial of the material revisions recommended by its own staff after an extensive negotiation process, CICA still fully cured the site issue by going to extraordinary lengths to vacate all non-approved sites prior to the revocation date in accordance with the plan previously outlined to the District Board. This was an extremely fast timeline and posed numerous operational challenges, but CICA ensured that no non-approved sites remained prior to the revocation vote.

On January 27, 2026, the District Board met to consider a recommendation from District staff and District legal counsel that the charter for CICA not be revoked based on a finding by District staff and legal counsel that the school has fully cured all issues in the Notice of Violation. By a vote of 6 to 1, the District Board rejected the recommendation to not revoke the charter, but took no further action to revoke CICA at that meeting.

The District Board then convened on January 30, 2026, on which date it voted to revoke the Charter of CICA. CICA and HCCTS now appeal the revocation to the Sacramento County Office of Education ("SCOE") because neither the law, the facts, nor substantial evidence support revocation under California law or under SCOE's relevant Board Policy.

Standard of Review

California Education Code section 47607, subdivision (i), states:

> (1) If a school district is the chartering authority and it revokes a charter pursuant to this section, the charter school may appeal the revocation to the county board of education within 30 days following the final decision of the chartering authority.

(2) The county board of education may reverse the revocation decision if the county board of education determines that the findings made by the chartering authority under subdivision (h) are not supported by substantial evidence. The school district may appeal the reversal to the state board.

(Ed. Code, § 47607(i).)

Sacramento County Office of Education Policy: 2400 BP, Section: 2000 Administration defines "substantial evidence" for these purposes as evidence that:

a. Demonstrates that the violation was material.
b. Supports revocation when viewed as a whole, in light of all relevant information.
c. Demonstrates that the violation actually occurred.
d. Was not cured by the charter school during its reasonable opportunity to remedy the violation.

Further, Sacramento County Office of Education Policy: 2400 BP, Section: 2000 Administration states, "If revocation is recommended by the Superintendent, the recommendation shall include each reason for revocation with the substantial evidence supporting that reason enumerated."

California Code of Regulations Title 5, section 11968.5.4, subdivision (a), states:

(a) Within 30 calendar days of receipt of a Final Decision revoking the school's charter, the charter school's governing body as described in the school's charter, shall approve and deliver a written Notice of Appeal to the county board of education that:

(1) Includes a copy of the Notice of Violation, Notice of Intent to Revoke and the Final Decision issued pursuant to this article except that the charter school shall not be responsible for providing these documents if the chartering authority did not provide them to the charter school as required in section 11968.5.2;

(2) Includes evidence of the final vote of the chartering authority, if available;

(3) Includes all evidence relied upon by the chartering authority in determining whether substantial evidence existed that the charter school failed to remedy one or more violations identified in the Notice(s) of Violation;

(4) Includes all evidence and correspondence submitted by the charter school's governing body as described in the school's charter in response to the chartering authority's Notice of Violation and Notice of Intent to Revoke;

(5) Includes minutes of any public meeting at which the chartering authority considers or makes its decision to revoke the school's charter, if available;

(6) Includes a written statement explaining why the charter school does not believe the district chartering authority's factual findings are supported by substantial evidence; and

(7) Identifies any procedural omissions or errors the charter school alleges to have occurred in the revocation process.

(Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 11968.5.4.)

California Code of Regulations Title 5, section 11968.5.4, subdivision (b), states:

If the county board of education does not issue a written decision that explains whether, in the county board of education's judgment, the district chartering authority's factual findings are supported by substantial evidence within 90 calendar days of receiving a Notice of Appeal that includes the documents listed in subdivision (a) of this section, the district chartering authority's decision is upheld, pending any further appeal.

(1) In determining whether the district chartering authority's factual findings are supported by substantial evidence, the county board of education shall consider whether the district chartering authority provided the charter school's governing body as described in the school's charter a Notice of Violation, a reasonable opportunity to remedy the identified violation(s), a Notice of Intent to Revoke, a public hearing, and Final Decision, pursuant to Articles 2 and 2.5 and Education Code sections 47607(f) through (h), inclusive.

(2) If the charter school submits a response to the Notice of Violation pursuant to section 11968.5.2(c), the county board of education shall, in determining whether the district chartering authority's factual findings are supported by substantial evidence, consider whether the charter school complied with the procedures set forth in that section.

> (3) The county board of education shall also consider whether an alleged procedural deficiency negatively impacted the charter school's ability to refute or remedy the alleged violation or the chartering authority's ability to comply with its procedural obligations or authorizing duties.

(Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 11968.5.4.)

The District Chartering Authority's Findings Are Not Supported by Substantial Evidence

The District Board's findings are not supported by substantial evidence, where the evidence presented by both CICA and the District's own staff confirmed that CICA had, in fact, remedied all of the violations identified in the NOV for CICA, and where the District's staff recommended against revocation for this reason. Further, no other evidence of non-remedy of the alleged violations was presented on the record at the public hearing on revocation of the charter.

In the agenda for the District's January 27, 2026 Board Meeting, District staff stated the following on this topic:

> The Final Decision whether to revoke the Charter of CICA is limited to a determination of whether substantial evidence supports a finding(s) that the Charter School has failed to refute or remedy the violations identified in the Notice of Violation to the District's satisfaction. Consistent with Education Code section 47607, a chartering authority shall not revoke a charter, unless it makes written factual findings supported by substantial evidence, specific to the charter school, that support its findings.
> Based upon District Staff's analysis of the documented measures taken by HCCTS to refute and/or remedy the violations identified in the Notice of Revocation, District Staff have determined that all the violations identified in the Notice of Revocation have been refuted or remedied to the District's satisfaction. As a result, District Staff recommends that the Board terminate the revocation process by approving issuance of a Final Decision declining to revoke the CICA Charter, and the District will continue to implement a heightened level of oversight over CICA and closely monitor its progress and compliance. (Emphasis added.)

District staff's reasoning for this determination is outlined in the document "TRUSD NOV Staff Findings Presentation.CICA," which was presented to the District Board at the January 27, 2026

Board Meeting. In this presentation, District staff set forth findings explaining why they concluded that CICA had either refuted or remedied each of the alleged violations in the NOV.

Grade Levels Not Approved – Refuted

District staff's report presented the following findings indicating why this issue was remedied:

- CICA's petition differs from HCCS' petition regarding grade levels.
- The CICA petition says the school may serve students in grade 9-12 and 8th grade and below.
- With this evidence, CICA has refuted the violation

Locations Not Approved – Remedied

District staff's report presented the following findings indicating why this issue was remedied:

- HCCTS Board has been taking action to terminate or buy-out leases.
- CICA is moving to locations that are approved by the District and will not add any new locations without prior approval by the District through the Material Revision process.
- HCCTS has adopted or revised multiple Board Policies, including BP 7150.5 "School Site Opening and Closure Policy"

Further, the June 17, 2025 Notice of Violation stated: "The MOU Amendment No. 3 includes the express requirement for CICA to submit a written request" to the District if the "Charter School seeks to establish operations at one or more additional locations(s) or move any of its existing location(s), including satellite facilities or resource centers..." and "To date, no material revision request has been submitted for these locations and CICA continues to operate at these locations in violation of the MOU Amendment No. 3 and Education Code section 47605(a)(4)." (Emphasis added.) Education Code 47605(a)(4) states:

> After receiving approval of its petition, a charter school that proposes to expand operations to one or more additional sites or grade levels shall request a material revision to its charter and shall notify the chartering authority of those additional locations or grade levels. The chartering authority shall consider whether to approve those additional locations or grade levels at an open, public meeting. If the additional locations or grade levels are approved pursuant to the standards and criteria described in subdivision (c), they shall be a material revision to the charter school's charter. (Emphasis added.)

CICA had both notified the District of the additional sites and requested the material revision during the cure period of up to and including September 26, 2025. All of the evidence before the District Board confirms that these events occurred, and the fact that the District Board refused to approve the material revision has no bearing on whether CICA had notified the District and requested the revision. By notifying the District and requesting the revision by September 26, 2025, CICA remedied the issue. Additionally, CICA has provided the requested copies of lease agreements, which the District claims that it had requested in an April 23, 2025 Notice of Concern/Request for information.

We do note that CICA has not just technically fully remedied this matter but has substantively fully remedied it by moving all operations to only site locations approved in MOU Amendment Number 3, which was approved by the District Board and incorporated into the charter. This was done prior to the revocation vote and the District Board was informed on the record at their meeting on January 27, 2026 that this had occurred.

Failure to Submit Audit Report – Remedied

District staff's report presented the following findings indicating why this issue was remedied:

- On 01/02/2026 HCCTS submitted the 2024 Annual Independent Audit report.
- HCCTS has committed to submitting future reports in a timely manner.
- HCCTS is pursuing a different audit firm to ensure this issue is not perpetuated.

Further, it is important to emphasize that the audit report for the 2023-2024 audit year was delayed because the independent auditing firm that HCCTS had hired to conduct the audit refused to release its report after it learned about the State Audit in the summer of 2025. It is not the case that CICA or HCCTS failed to retain an auditing firm to conduct the audit, nor is it the case that CICA was in possession of the final audit report and simply failed to provide it to the District. CICA was in possession of a draft audit report from the independent auditor, which it had provided to the District. The auditor substantially modified the draft report following the State Audit report and this was provided to the District as noted by District staff in their findings that this issue had been fully remedied.

Credential Misassignment – Remedied

District staff's report presented the following findings indicating why this issue was remedied:

- TRUSD has verified evidence that HCCTS has changed staffing practices.
- HCCTS staff have become more knowledgeable about credentialing compliance.
- HCCTS' subsequent actions show a credible shift towards compliance.

Further, the November 2025 Notice of Intent to Revoke, which was approved by the District Board, even confirmed that the credential misassignment issue had been remedied. Specifically, it stated, in relevant part:

> The District's review of HCCTS' response, the evidence provided, and information collected through the annual oversight activities reflect clear and convincing evidence that HCCTS has changed staffing practices and reformed to comply with the law. The District staff have seen evidence that the HCCTS staff have become more knowledgeable about credentialing options to ensure compliance. HCCTS subsequent actions show a credible shift to K-12 appropriate credentialing.

The District Board unanimously voted to adopt this November 4, 2025 Notice of Intent to Revoke, which included this statement as to the credentialing issue, and no evidence was presented in the record to dispute that the credentialing issue had in fact been remedied. Therefore, it defies reason for the District Board to conclude, also unanimously, that "The violations set forth in the NOV and Notice of Intent to Revoke, have not been sufficiently remedied by CICA" in the District's January 30, 2026 "Final Decision to Revoke" letter. This could only be an arbitrary and capricious decision that is unsupported by substantial evidence.

Failure to Track & Meet Instructional Minutes – Remedied

District staff's report presented the following findings indicating why this issue was remedied:

- CICA has taken corrective actions to improve attendance policies and procedures as evidenced by the student calendar, staff trainings, student engagement logs, and class rosters.
- Serious efforts to improve practices related to student attendance enforcement and engagement have been made.
- Collaborating with Charter Impact to support with attendance monitoring and reporting.

There was no evidence entered into the record contravening these findings. This is particularly notable since some of the very whistleblowers who raised concerns initially were present at the District meeting and did not dispute District staff's findings that these issues that they initially raised were fully remedied.

California Innovative Career Academy

Violation of Exclusive Partnership Agreement – Remedied

District staff's report presented the following findings indicating why this issue was remedied:

- HCCTS submitted evidence that the external partnerships have been terminated.
- Non-WIOA students were dis-enrolled.
- HCCTS has terminated the CTE Truck Driving program.
- Staff who were assigned to the Truck Driving program have been re-assigned or are no longer with the organization.

Further, it is not reasonably disputable that the Truck Driving program did not exist by September 26, 2025, therefore no non-students could have still been enrolled in it. This was proven by documentary evidence provided by CICA in its Response to the Notice of Violation. Evidence was also presented in the record that between December 2024 and January 2025, CICA discontinued informal partnerships with Local 185, the Sacramento Police Department, and the Sacramento County Sheriff's Office related to the Truck Driving program, including written confirmation of these facts from law enforcement officials. CICA therefore had, beyond a reasonable doubt, cured this issue, and no reasonable fact finder could have found substantial evidence to the contrary. To revoke on this basis could only be an arbitrary and capricious decision that is unsupported by substantial evidence.

Fiscal Mismanagement – San Diego Location – Remedied

District staff's report presented the following findings indicating why this issue was remedied:

- Lease Termination/Buy-Out on 11/18/25
- Adopted or Revised Policies to Address Root Issues of Fiscal Mismanagement:
  - BP 3410 RE. Allowability of Costs
  - BP 3110 RE. Debt Management
  - BP 3310: Purchasing and Vendor Selection
  - BP 7150.5: School Site Opening and Closure Policy
- Updated the Fiscal Policies and Procedures Manual

There was no evidence entered into the record contravening these findings. Therefore, to revoke on this basis could only be an arbitrary and capricious decision that is unsupported by substantial evidence.

Not Only is There No Substantial Evidence in Support of the District Board's Findings, But the Evidence on the Record Provides Clear and Convincing Evidence that All Notice of Violation Issues were Remedied

By the January 27, 2026 Board Meeting, "District Staff [had] determined that all the violations identified in the Notice of Revocation have been refuted or remedied to the District's satisfaction." (See District Staff's January 27, 2026 Presentation.)

Given this, the District Board's unsupported "findings" that the violations had not been refuted or remedied, with no explanation of which violations remained and no citations to the facts, were not supported by substantial evidence. Education Code 47607(h) provides that "The chartering authority shall not revoke a charter, unless it makes written factual findings supported by substantial evidence, specific to the charter school, that support its finding." Since the District Board has not done so, revocation of the charter violates the revocation provisions of the California Charter Schools Act and is therefore unlawful.

Additionally, the District Board's decision does not meet the standard for "substantial evidence" set forth in the Sacramento County Office of Education's Board Policy on the topic. As discussed above, Sacramento County Office of Education Policy: 2400 BP, Section: 2000 Administration defines "substantial evidence" for these purposes as evidence that:

a. Demonstrates that the violation was material.
b. Supports revocation when viewed as a whole, in light of all relevant information.
c. Demonstrates that the violation actually occurred.
d. Was not cured by the charter school during its reasonable opportunity to remedy the violation.

Here, the evidence before the District does not "[s]upport revocation when viewed as a whole, in light of all relevant information." CICA relied on guidance from the District, its authorizer, in good faith on issues such as the District allowing CICA to add additional sites without the District first approving a material revision through the formal process. The District was well aware of most of the issues it identified in the June 17, 2025 Notice of Violation for years before issuing the Notice. Then, when CICA acted to demonstrate that it had cured each of the identified issues and followed the District's instructions about what was needed to address each concern, the District Board still voted against CICA at every turn—both voting against the material revisions and, ultimately, voting to revoke the charters. For these reasons, when viewed in light of all relevant information, the evidence before the Board does not support revocation.

California Innovative Career Academy

Additionally, the evidence before the District did not demonstrate that any of the violations "[w]as not cured by the charter school during its reasonable opportunity to remedy the violation." At the December 2, 2025 public hearing on revocation, no evidence was presented on the record to support the proposition that CICA had not cured the violations. By that point, District staff, and CICA staff, were in agreement that CICA had remedied all of the issues. District staff later confirmed this in their presentation at the January 27, 2026 District Board Meeting where staff proposed that the District should discontinue revocation of both HCCS and CICA. This is yet another reason that the District Board's later decision to revoke both charters was not supported by substantial evidence.

In this case, it is also likely that a court would find the District's actions to be arbitrary and capricious due to the utter lack of foundation to support them and nothing but contrary evidence being on the record. An administrative decision is considered arbitrary and capricious if it "was not supported by a fair and substantial reason." (See Abshear v. Teachers' Retirement Board (1991) 231 Cal.App.3d 1629, 1639.) Because clear and convincing evidence was presented to confirm that all of the allegations had either been refuted or remedied, the District Board's "findings" to the contrary were arbitrary and capricious. The District cannot now, through mere assertions, contravene the record it established through the revocation process.

Procedural Errors and/or Omissions Occurred in the Revocation Process which Negatively Impacted the Chartering Authority's Ability to Comply with its Procedural Obligations and Authorizing Duties

Conclusory Findings

By issuing conclusory "findings" with no explanation of why the facts before the District Board led to the District Board's conclusion that CICA "failed to refute, remedy, or propose remedial action sufficient to remedy all of the violations identified in the NOV," the District Board committed a procedural error and omission that negatively impacted its ability to comply with its procedural obligations and duties as an authorizer.

In American Indian Model Schools v. Oakland Unified School Dist. (2014) 227 Cal.App.4th 258, 278, the court states, in relevant part:

> Subdivisions (e) and (f)(2) of section 47607 make it clear that the decision to revoke the charter must be supported by substantial evidence. … [Code of Civil Procedure section 1094.5, the state's administrative mandamus provision, "contemplates that at minimum, the reviewing court must determine both whether substantial evidence > supports the administrative agency's findings and whether the findings support the agency's decision" and implicit to this statute "is a requirement that the agency which renders the challenged decision must set forth findings to bridge the analytic gap between the raw evidence and ultimate decision or order"].)

Here, the "analytic gap" between the "raw evidence" before the District Board and the "ultimate decision or order" is not bridged in any respect by the District Board's purported "findings." The extent of the District Board's comment on the topic is as follows:

> The violations set forth in the NOV and Notice of Intent to Revoke, have not been sufficiently remedied by CICA, and attempts at further corrective actions taken by CICA, although considered by the Board, failed to sufficiently remedy the violations identified in the NOV and substantiated in the Notice of Intent to Revoke, and/or promised unsubstantiated and unreliable future performance and resulting uncertainty regarding future compliance.

This is akin to saying the violations have not been remedied because the violations have not been remedied, and the proposed corrective action is insufficient to ensure future compliance because it is insufficient to ensure future compliance. These "findings" provide no information about why the District Board feels that the violations have not been remedied, which is especially concerning given that the District's staff concluded that the violations had been remedied. The District Board's purported "findings" directly contradict the record of the revocation proceedings. The "findings" also provide no information about what, exactly, about the proposed corrective action was insufficient or unreliable. A reviewing entity, such as the County Office of Education, has no way to access the reasoning behind the District Board's decision to revoke the charters with such circular, conclusory "findings" that essentially just repeat a standard of review.

Failure to Identify with Specificity Which Issues Were Not Remedied or Refuted

Additionally, it is impossible to discern from the District Board's "findings" which specific alleged violations the District Board believes were not refuted or remedied, let alone which ones were not refuted or remedied by a substantial evidence standard. It defies reason that the District Board would have found that all of the alleged violations have not been refuted or remedied because there is no information in the record to support lack of remedy for any issue and even apart from that, some of them are just not reasonably disputable. It is undisputed on the record that the charter school cured all items, as this was the only information provided at the public hearing on the charter school revocation on December 2, 2025, and no contrary testimony or documents were provided at this public hearing. In fact, the charter school's presentation on January 27, 2026 had the same conclusion and only added that CICA had moved out of all non-compliant sites prior to the public hearing. This fact demonstrated full implementation of CICA's plan to remedy the violation on that point, which only strengthened CICA's argument that substantial evidence existed of its full compliance rather than any lack of compliance.

Lack of Any Evidence in Support of District Board's Findings, and Presence of Clear and Convincing Evidence of Charter School's Compliance, Demonstrates Arbitrary and Capricious Decision by District Board

In some cases, the District Board's decision is so lacking in logic or reason that it is clearly arbitrary and capricious. For example, it is undisputed in the record that the Truck Driving program no longer exists and thus the allegation that non-WIOA students were still enrolled in it is completely unsupported. It is also undisputed in the record, and confirmed in the District's own November 4, 2025 Notice of Intent to Revoke, that CICA had cured the alleged credentialing issue, as the schools no longer use adult education credentials for K-12 assignments. At the very minimum, the District Board's findings needed to explain which specific violations it believed had still not been remedied and why. To date, the District Board has not explained, and CICA is still unsure, which specific violations the District Board still believes are uncured.

Further, the District Board may not rely on the fact that it "incorporates by reference" the findings from the Notice of Violation, because those "findings," by definition, occurred before the end of the required cure period and therefore cannot have included findings about whether or not CICA had refuted or remedied the alleged violations by the proposed cure date of September 26, 2025. Ed. Code, § 47607(h) states, in relevant part:

> Before revoking a charter for failure to remedy a violation pursuant to subdivision (f), and after expiration of the school's reasonable opportunity to remedy without successfully remedying the violation, the chartering authority shall provide a written notice of intent to revoke and notice of facts in support of revocation to the charter school …
> … The chartering authority shall not revoke a charter, unless it makes written factual findings supported by substantial evidence, specific to the charter school, that support its findings.

This process requires that there has been a reasonable opportunity for the charter school to refute or remedy the alleged violation, and a subsequent failure to refute or remedy the alleged violation, before the chartering authority may revoke the charter. It is impossible for the chartering authority to make findings on this point at the same time it issues a Notice of Violation because, by definition, this would deprive the charter school of a reasonable opportunity to refute or remedy the noticed violations. If revocation could rely on findings that existed at the time of the Notice of Violation, it would render the opportunity to cure, and the rest of the due process rights afforded to charter schools under the Ed. Code, § 47607 process, meaningless.

These errors negatively impacted the District's ability to comply with its procedural obligations as a chartering authority because the District is obligated to make findings after the cure period set forth in the NOV about whether CICA has timely refuted or remedied the alleged violations. (See Ed. Code, § 47607(h).) The District may not avoid its obligation to make such findings—which must be supported by substantial evidence—by simply making a conclusory statement that it made the findings. The District also may not avoid its obligation to make such findings by simply referring back to the findings set forth in the NOV, which have nothing to do with whether or not the allegations in the NOV were refuted or cured during the mandatory cure period. The whole point of the multiple steps in the revocation statute is to provide the charter school with multiple opportunities to demonstrate that it has fully refuted or remedied the issues. The District Board's procedural errors therefore also infringed upon the charter school's due process rights.

The District's Failure to Act on Some Alleged Violations for Years Led the Charter School to Believe the District Accepted These Operational Decisions

The District spent years fully aware of many of these alleged violations and either gave tacit, or in some cases, direct, approval. The District evidenced its approval of grade level changes and site changes in part through its annual site visit reports and failure to object when the charter school was operating transparently on these issues. This, understandably, led CICA to believe that the District approved of these aspects of its educational program. To revoke CICA for these issues now, after openly allowing this same conduct, demonstrates bad faith on the part of the District. Instead of giving notice of alleged violations along with a meaningful opportunity to correct, as required by law, the District allowed these alleged violations to exist for years before notifying the charter school of them and refused to allow the school to change course. This conduct on the part of the District negatively impacted the District's ability to fulfil its duties as an authorizer. But more importantly, it does not support revocation when viewed as a whole, in light of all relevant information.

Lack of Findings of Independent Audit Firms Materially Impacted the Charter School's Ability to Both Understand and Comply with Requirements as Articulated by District

California Innovative Career Academy

Initially, the independent auditor of the charter school, Eide Bailly, did not raise any material concerns pertaining to compliance with attendance accounting laws. Not only did they issue a clean audit report for the 2022-23 fiscal year, but they subsequently issued a clean draft audit report for the 2023-24 fiscal year. These were relied upon by the HCCTS Board as evidence of CICA's legal compliance and were provided to the District. It was only after the State Auditor made its findings that Eide Bailly raised any concerns.

CICA raises this issue here because it is relevant to the County Board's policy defining substantial evidence, BP 2400, which requires that the District's findings:

- Supports revocation when viewed as a whole, in light of all relevant information.
- Demonstrates that the violation actually occurred.

Here, revoking a school for relying upon the professional advice and determinations of an auditor on the State Controller's approved list of K-12 auditing firms is unreasonable and undercuts the entire statutory scheme surrounding auditing. Further, what findings are in the independent audit reports do not support the contention that violations of law occurred. Finally, charter school board members have the right to reasonably rely on professional experts in the performance of their duties. California Corporations Code § 7231(b) states:

> In performing the duties of a director, a director shall be entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, in each case prepared or presented by:
> (1) One or more officers or employees of the corporation whom the director believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented;
>
> (2) Counsel, independent accountants or other persons as to matters which the director believes to be within such person's professional or expert competence; or
> (3) A committee upon which the director does not serve that is composed exclusively of any or any combination of directors, persons described in paragraph (1), or persons described in paragraph (2), as to matters within the committee's designated authority, which committee the director believes to merit confidence, so long as, in any case, the director acts in good faith, after reasonable inquiry when the need therefor is indicated by the circumstances and without knowledge that would cause such reliance to be unwarranted.

Nonprofit board members told by a professional auditing firm that there were no findings of legal violations relating to attendance accounting cannot reasonably be expected to correct items that they were told did not exist. Furthermore, there is no evidence that the District Board weighed this evidence that no violation relating to attendance accounting may have occurred. Eide Bailly's auditors are approved by the State Controller to conduct these audits based on their specialized expertise, and this specialized expertise should be weighed against a lack of specialized K-12 attendance accounting audit experience on the part of the State Auditor's team.

Additionally, CICA is currently in the process of appealing the State Audit decision and has every legal right to do so. It cannot be held to account for something that has not yet been adjudicated. Furthermore, notwithstanding its objections to the findings of the State Auditor's report that are apportionment significant, CICA has adopted new policies and procedures that align with the State Auditor's conclusions going forward. Thus, by any measure the evidence before the District Board does not support revocation when viewed as a whole, in light of all relevant information.

Procedural Errors and/or Omissions Occurred in the Revocation Process which Negatively Impacted the Charter School's Ability to Refute or Remedy the Alleged Violations

To the extent that the District Board argues that its "findings" are the findings from the June 17, 2025 Notice of Violation, which the District Board incorporated by reference, this constitutes a procedural error and omission in the revocation process which negatively impacted the charter school's ability to refute or remedy the alleged violation, because findings made on June 17, 2025 did not take into account whether or not the charter school had refuted or remedied by September 26, 2025. Relying on the pre-September 26, 2025 findings would, by definition, deprive CICA of an opportunity to refute or remedy the alleged violations because it would mean that, regardless of subsequent actions by CICA to refute or remedy, the District intends to revoke CICA's charter based on the June 17, 2025 information alone. Relying on the findings in the June 17, 2025 Notice of Violation would therefore also constitute a negative impact on the charter school's ability to refute or remedy, in addition to constituting a negative impact on the District's ability to complete its procedural obligations (as discussed above).

Statements Made by Trustees Reflect an Unlawful Purpose for Revocation Vote

The revocation or non-renewal of a charter by a school district authorizer is a quasi-judicial proceeding. An administrative decision is considered quasi-judicial when the decision is "made as a result of a proceeding in which by law (1) a hearing is required, (2) evidence is required to be taken, and (3) discretion in the determination of facts is vested in the inferior board." (Eureka Teachers Assn. v. Board of Education (1988) 199 Cal.App.3d 353, 361.)

Although there is no published case on point for this exact issue, the unpublished case Oxford Preparatory Academy v. Chino Valley Unified School Dist. (2019) 37 Cal.App.5th 413 addresses this topic and provides an analysis of published authority to reach the conclusion that a school district's denial of a charter school's petition to renew its charter was quasi-judicial. The Oxford Preparatory Academy court states:

> When reviewing the Academy's renewal petition, the District applied standards set by existing state law and regulations to the facts presented in the petition and gathered by the District itself. It held a public hearing to gauge community support, allowed speakers to make their case, and then made specific factual findings regarding the Academy's ability to operate the charter school successfully. The District's board then passed a 62-page resolution detailing the specific evidence supporting each of its factual findings, which in turn, supported its ultimate decision to deny the renewal petition. Although the District was required to consider its overarching public policy goals in reaching its decision, it was not crafting a new policy to be applied in future cases.

(Id. at 425-426.) This process, described in the Oxford Preparatory Academy case, closely mirrors the process for evaluation of charter revocation, which the District Board conducted in the instant case. The District Board held a public hearing, heard evidence, and then was tasked with determination of the facts and application of existing law to those facts. (See Eureka, supra, 199 Cal.App.3d at 361.) The process for revocation of an existing charter, therefore, has all the hallmarks of a quasi-judicial proceeding.

After the revocation vote for this school took place, one or more District Board Trustees made the remark that this vote reflected the fact that their constituents were not satisfied that all of the concerns had been remedied. For example, as to CICA, at approximately 3 hours and 25 seconds into the January 27, 2026 TRUSD Board Meeting, Trustee Jefferson stated: "The concerns raised in the Notice of Violation have not been remedied to my satisfaction, nor to that of my constituency. Um, we got a lot of people in the community that I, that elected me to this seat, that um, sent me here, and um, it's a lot of stuff that wasn't remedied, and so, my vote, that's where, I think my no vote comes from."

This is improper in a quasi-judicial proceeding for a number of reasons. First, to the extent this comment was intended to support the resolution that was approved, it should have been made during the proceeding rather than after the fact. Second, comments from constituents that were not made as part of the proceedings, and to which the school could not therefore respond, reflect improper ex parte communications that denied the school due process. Third, these comments reflect the fact that Trustees considered political factors associated with constituent feelings, rather than the facts and evidence before them, as the only stated reason for their vote. Here, the constituents did not have an opportunity to review all of the thousands of pages of information provided to the District relating to these issues, and thus any such comments were uninformed and were improperly weighed by the District Board. Imagine if in criminal proceedings a judge, after hearing all of the evidence, decided to rule based upon feelings of county voters rather than the evidence of guilt or innocence that was on the record. This would be an improper violation of due process rights for the defendant, just as it is for the charter school here.

Additionally, Trustee Jefferson's comments reflect an improper misapplication of the law applicable to charter revocation. The relevant legal standard for the District Board is whether the charter school has failed to refute the claimed violation "to the chartering authority's satisfaction" or failed to "remedy" the claimed violation, period. (See Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 11968.5.2(d)(1).) There is no obligation to "remedy" the violation "to the chartering authority's satisfaction"– the regulation does not allow for a subjective assessment by the District Board (or its constituents, for that matter) about the remedy.

Conclusion

Against the recommendation and findings of its own staff, the District Board voted to revoke the charter for CICA, issuing "findings" that did not identify which specific violations it still considered not to have been timely remedied or refuted or why it believes this is the case. For this reason, the District Board did not make findings, based on substantial evidence, to support its decision, as required by law. Additionally, this process contained serious procedural violations that undermined the entire revocation process, both by negatively impacting the District's ability to complete its procedural obligations as an authorizer and by negatively impacting the charter school's ability to refute or remedy the alleged violations during the cure period. The weight of the evidence, and the seriousness of the procedural defects, require reversal of the District's revocation decision.

The Sacramento County Office of Education provides an important check to ensure that District Board Members' individual political considerations do not take precedence over following the law and the charter school's due process rights. HCCTS' two charter schools serve as an important resource for the community and are relied upon by numerous vulnerable students and local organizations that serve the public good. Here, there is no question that the District Board erred both in process and in substance. Here, the inconvenient truth for the District Board is that CICA cured the issues specified in the June 17, 2025 Notice of Violation, and that the current leadership of CICA has re-routed the school and corrected mistakes from the past. Public perception generated by media reports about HCCTS is not a lawful justification to ignore evidence on the record and take these schools away from the community that needs them.

CICA therefore respectfully requests that the Sacramento County Board of Education reverse the District Board's decision to revoke the CICA charter. Attached to this Notice of Appeal are relevant documents and evidence pertaining to the revocation.

Sincerely,

Mike Reid,
Board Chair

Twin Rivers Unified School District Response to California Innovative Career Academy's Charter Revocation Appeal

April 21, 2026

A. Introduction

The Notice of Appeal regarding the Revocation of California Innovative Career Academy's Charter by the Twin Rivers Unified School District ("TRUSD" or "District") Board's on January 30, 2026, was submitted to the Sacramento County Board of Education c/o the Sacramento County Office of Education on February 27, 2026. By correspondence dated March 30, 2026, the Sacramento County Office of Education ("SCOE") confirmed timely submission of California Innovative Career Academy's ("CICA" or "Charter School") charter revocation appeal documents in both paper and electronic formats.

SCOE further notified the District and CICA that the public hearing for consideration of CICA's appeal will be scheduled for the Sacramento County Board of Education's ("SCBOE") regular meeting on May 19, 2026, at 6:30 p.m., and following the public hearing, the SCBOE may take action on the appeal. In considering CICA's revocation appeal, the SCBOE will determine whether substantial evidence in the record supports TRUSD's revocation findings.

In the March 30, 2026, correspondence, SCOE also indicated that by April 20, 2026, CICA and TRUSD may submit written arguments no longer than 25 pages, with page citations to the appeal documents, as to whether the charter revocation met the substantial evidence standard required by Education Code Section 47607. By email correspondence dated April 14, 2026, SCOE extended this deadline and confirmed that CICA and TRUSD have until the end of the day on April 21, 2026, to submit written arguments regarding the CICA charter revocation appeal.

While the submission of "written arguments" is not a part of the county level charter revocation appeal process outlined in Title 5, Calif. Code Regs., section 11968.5.4, and it is unclear whether SCOE has the authority to impose this step and corresponding deadline as part of the revocation appeal process, the District respectfully submits its "written arguments" in response to CICA's appeal in conformity with the parameters specified by SCOE ("TRUSD Response").

B. Procedural History

The District Board of Trustees ("Board") initially approved the petition for the establishment of CICA in 2019. Specifically, on or about June 25, 2019, the Board conditionally approved the petition for a five-year term from July 1, 2019, through June 30, 2024 ("Charter"). Pursuant to Education Code section 47607.4, CICA's Charter was automatically extended through June 30, 2027, by operation of law.

On or about January 16, 2020, the District and CICA entered into a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") to document the arrangement and agreement between the parties regarding CICA's program, operation, structure, and obligations. Subsequent amendments to the MOU approved by the Board extended its term through June 30, 2027. On or about January 23, 2024, the District and CICA agreed to Amendment No. 3 of the MOU ("MOU Amendment No. 3"), which among other things, confirmed the District's authorization of specified locations CICA had established for its operations and made other clarifications regarding the process for approval of any new facility locations, facility safety expectations, and supervisorial oversight.

MOU Amendment No. 3 provides in part:

> "The terms of the MOU are intended by the District and Charter School to become part of the standards and procedures set forth in the Charter School's Charter approved by the District ("Charter"). Along with the Charter, this MOU will govern the relationship between the District and the Charter School regarding the operation of the Charter School. To the extent the terms of the MOU is/are inconsistent with any terms of the Charter, the MOU shall control. In addition, if the Charter is silent on an issue addressed by the MOU, the MOU shall control. As such, any violation of MOU by Charter School that also constitutes grounds for revocation per Education Code section 47607 will be treated and enforced by the District in the same manner, subject to Education Code Section 47607 and applicable implementing regulations, as it would any other violation constituting a ground for revocation."[1] (Emphasis added.)

CICA is operated and governed independently by Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools ("HCCTS"), a California nonprofit public benefit corporation, and its Board of Directors.

Following multiple and varying requests for information and notices of concern over a twelve-month period, the District determined that HCCTS either failed to remedy multiple areas of concern despite its receipt of multiple information requests and notices of concern from the District or makes promises of future improvements without offering viable plans that either have been implemented or are capable of being implemented by HCCTS. As a result, and since the District viewed CICA's material violations of the conditions, standards, or procedures of its Charter and MOU, violations of law, engagement in fiscal mismanagement, as grounds for revocation, the District determined that the point has been reached where it was necessary to initiate the first step in the formal revocation process, with the issuance of a Notice of Violation per Education Code section 47607(g) ("Section 47607") and Title 5, Cal. Code of Regulations, section 11968.5.2 ("Section 11968.5.2").

On June 17, 2025, the District's Board of Trustees unanimously approved the issuance of a Notice of Violation to California Innovative Career Academy Charter School (CICA), operated by Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools (HCCTS). On June 18, 2025, the District delivered the Notice of Violation to HCCTS specifying a reasonable remedy period of up to and including September 26, 2025, for CICA to provide a written response to the Notice of Violation with supporting evidence addressing each identified violation.

At the conclusion of the remedy period, on September 26, 2025, CICA provided a partial response to the Notice of Violation ("CICA Response"), which excluded the exhibits and a complete Material Revision Request. The CICA Response exhibits were provided to the District on September 29, 2025, and the Material Revision Request was submitted on October 10, 2025.

[1] "Charter School" as used in the MOU Amendment No. 3 collectively refers to Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools and CICA.

District Staff evaluated the CICA Response and all documentation produced by CICA. After conducting a thorough, objective, and data-driven review, District Staff determined that CICA sufficiently addressed one of the violations, but failed to refute to the District's satisfaction, or remedy all of the violations identified in the Notice of Violation, and found that significant violations continue to exist.

Consequently, District Staff recommended that the Board issue a Notice of Intent to Revoke and notice of facts in support of revocation to CICA ("Notice of Intent to Revoke") pursuant to Section 47607 and Section 11968.5.2. Based on the findings and recommendation of District Staff, on November 4, 2025, the District's Board unanimously approved the issuance of the Notice of Intent to Revoke based upon its determination that CICA failed to refute, take remedial action, or propose remedial action specific to each of the alleged violations constituting the following grounds for revocation: (1) CICA committed a material violation of the conditions, standards, or procedures set forth in its Charter; (2) CICA violated any law; and (3) CICA engaged in fiscal mismanagement.

In accordance with Section 47607(h), a Public Hearing was held on December 2, 2025, on the issue of whether substantial evidence existed to revoke CICA's Charter. As part of the Public Hearing, CICA was given the opportunity to present to the Board, and public comments were heard.

During a special District Board meeting on January 27, 2026, District Staff presented their analysis of the measures taken by HCCTS/CICA to refute and/or remedy the violations identified in the Notice of Revocation as of that date. While the Board thoughtfully considered District Staff's analysis and recommendation regarding revocation, it ultimately did not accept Staff's recommendation and no action was effectively taken regarding CICA's revocation at that meeting.

The District Board subsequently convened on January 30, 2026, to consider whether to approve the issuance of a Final Decision to Revoke CICA's Charter and unanimously approved issuance of a Final Decision to Revoke CICA's Charter effectively immediately. In support of its Final Decision to Revoke CICA's Charter, the Board adopted the findings of fact contained in the Notice of Intent to Revoke and its exhibits, as initially set forth in the Notice of Violation (NOV), and as stated in the Board adopted Resolution, as its written factual findings, supported by substantial evidence specific to CICA, and incorporated such findings into this Resolution as though set forth fully therein. In support of its decision to issue a Final Decision to Revoke CICA's Charter, the Board found that:

> (A) Substantial evidence demonstrates that the violations initially identified in the NOV, and demonstrated in the Notice of Intent to Revoke and exhibits thereto, and as further stated herein, have in fact occurred;
> (B) CICA failed to refute, remedy, or propose remedial action sufficient to remedy all of the violations identified in the NOV;
>
> (C) The violations set forth in the NOV and Notice of Intent to Revoke, have not been sufficiently remedied by CICA, and attempts at further corrective actions taken by CICA, although considered by the Board, failed to sufficiently remedy the violations identified in the NOV and substantiated in the Notice of > Intent to Revoke, and/or promised unsubstantiated and unreliable future performance and resulting uncertainty regarding future compliance.

The Board authorized and directed the Superintendent or designee to notify the Sacramento County Board of Education and California Department of Education regarding the revocation approval and to take any such other actions needed to effectuate the purpose of the Resolution and notice of the revocation was provided to the SCBOE via SCOE and California Department of Education with correspondence dated January 30, 2026.

Should the SCBOE conclude that substantial evidence in the record supports the District's findings as to all, or any one of the grounds for revocation, that determination compels the SCBOE to affirm/uphold the District's revocation decision.

C. Standard of Review on Appeal

Pursuant to Section 11968.5.4, the SCBOE shall within ninety (90) calendar days of receiving CICA's Notice of Appeal, issue a written decision that explains whether, in the SCBOE's judgment, the District's factual findings are supported by substantial evidence and the District's decision regarding revocation is upheld, pending any further appeal.

> (1) In determining whether the district chartering authority's factual findings are supported by substantial evidence, the county board of education shall consider whether the district chartering authority provided the charter school's governing body as described in the school's charter a Notice of Violation, a reasonable opportunity to remedy the identified violation(s), a Notice of Intent to Revoke, a public hearing, and Final Decision, pursuant to Articles 2 and 2.5 and Education Code sections 47607(f) through (h), inclusive.
> (2) If the charter school submits a response to the Notice of Violation pursuant to section 11968.5.2(c), the county board of education shall, in determining whether the district chartering authority's factual findings are supported by substantial evidence, consider whether the charter school complied with the procedures set forth in that section.
> (3) The county board of education shall also consider whether an alleged procedural deficiency negatively impacted the charter school's ability to refute or remedy the alleged violation or the chartering authority's ability to comply with its procedural obligations or authorizing duties.

Therefore, the SCBOE's first charge is to determine whether substantial evidence exists in the record that CICA violated the law, violated material terms of its Charter, and engaged in fiscal mismanagement. "Substantial evidence" has been defined by the courts as "'relevant evidence that a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion....'" (Hosford v. State Personnel Bd. (1977) 74 Cal.App.3d 302, 307, quoting Gubser v. Department of Employment (1969) 271 Cal.App.2d 240, 245) Under this standard, the SCBOE "must view the evidence in the light most favorable to the board's findings and indulge all reasonable inferences in support thereof." (Hosford v. State Personnel Bd., at p. 307.)

Pursuant to Section 47607, a charter may be revoked by its chartering authority if the chartering authority finds, through a showing of substantial evidence, that the charter school did any of the following:

> (1) Committed a material violation of any of the conditions, standards, or procedures set forth in the charter.
> (2) Failed to meet or pursue any of the pupil outcomes identified in the charter.
>
> (3) Failed to meet generally accepted accounting principles, or engaged in fiscal mismanagement.
> (4) Violated any law.

The District Board revoked CICA's Charter on the following grounds: (1) CICA committed a material violation of any of the conditions, standards, or procedures set forth in its Charter; (2) CICA engaged in fiscal mismanagement; and (3) CICA violated any law. As a result, if the SCBOE determines that there is substantial evidence in the record to support the District's findings in support of revocation for one or more of the above-listed grounds for revocation, it compels the SCBOE to affirm the TRUSD Board's final decision to revoke CICA's Charter.

SCBOE's second charge is to determine whether substantial evidence in the record exists to demonstrate that CICA remedied the violations at issue in the Notice of Violation by the close of the remedy period. The District issued a Notice of Violation on June 17, 2025 which afforded CICA until September 26, 2025 (over 3 months) to remedy the violations. Following review of the evidence submitted to the District in CICA's Response to the Notice of Violation, District Staff determined that the violations had not been remedied.[2] The District Board thereafter approved issuance of a Notice of Intent to Revoke on November 4, 2025.

In accordance with Section 11968.5.2, the Notice of Intent to Revoke was not issued until after the District determined CICA failed to successfully remedy the violations within the reasonable time period it was allotted to do so. In other words, the District Board already concluded by approval of the issuance of the Notice of Intent to Revoke, that CICA failed to sufficiently remedy all of the violations identified in the Notice to Violation by the expiration of the remedy period.

Although CICA submitted additional materials between September 26, 2025 and January 9, 2026, after expiration of the remedy period, which CICA asserts are additional remedial actions the District was obligated to consider, the relevant inquiry is whether the violations were remedied by the expiration of the established remedy period (See Section 11968.52). Even if the District were required to consider them, the submissions made by HCCTS after the September 26, 2025, remedy period deadline, largely consisted of revised plans, evolving explanations, and assurances of future compliance, did not demonstrate that the violations were remedied.

[2] District Staff found that only one of the violations in the Notice of Violation (the one regarding credential requirements) had been remedied.

Applicable law does not provide a standard through which the success of remedial actions should be judged nor does it require the District Board to consider remedial efforts taken after the reasonable opportunity to remedy period expired.

SCOE's own BP 2400 cited by CICA in its Appeal concurs with this conclusion stating:

2. "Substantial evidence," within the meaning of Education Code section 47607, shall be evidence that:
   a. Demonstrates that the violation was material.
   b. Supports revocation when viewed as a whole, in light of all relevant information.
   c. Demonstrates that the violation actually occurred.
   d. Was not cured by the charter school during its reasonable opportunity to remedy the violation. (Emphasis added.)

Moreover, even if the SCBOE were to consider the full record through January 9, 2026, the evidence still reflects that CICA failed to remedy the violations and the fiscal mismanagement grounds for revocation of its Charter.

The issue before the SCBOE is therefore narrow and well-defined. The question is not whether CICA made efforts toward compliance, nor whether alternative conclusions could be drawn. The question is whether substantial evidence in the record supports the District's findings that CICA failed to remedy the violations and fiscal mismanagement findings identified in the Notice of Violation.

The record demonstrates that CICA did not.

Across multiple violations, the evidence reflects a consistent pattern: CICA acknowledged noncompliance, proposed plans contingent on future approvals or future actions, and, in several instances, continued the very conduct that gave rise to the violations. While District Staff, in some instances, recommended that progress toward compliance could support a determination that the violation was remedied, the District Board, consistent with its statutory authority, determined that actual, demonstrable remediation had not been achieved.

Under Education Code Section 47607, that determination is the legally operative one. The District Board is not required to accept assurances of future compliance in place of evidence of actual remediation. Rather, it must determine whether the violations were, in fact, remedied. Here, the District Board reasonably concluded, based on substantial evidence, that they were not.

1. New Board Members

For all of the violations at issue, HCCTS asserts that the removal of all prior Board members constitutes a cure or remedy. It should first be noted that HCCTS failed to secure an entirely new Board of Directors. Additionally, that assertion is fundamentally flawed because changes in governance structure, standing alone, do not correct the underlying operational, fiscal, and compliance failures that gave rise to the violations. While replacing the HCCTS Board may constitute a forward-looking governance change, it does not retroactively remedy prior decision-making failures, remedy deficient internal controls, or restore missing documentation and accountability.

Indeed, replacing the HCCTS Board of Directors does not address the absence of effective oversight, the lack of transparency in prior decision-making, or the failure to ensure compliance with CICA's Charter and applicable legal requirements. Nor does it remedy the fact that unauthorized, unsupported, or unreasonable expenditures were made.

Further, the wholesale replacement of the HCCTS Board introduces additional concerns regarding institutional capacity and continuity of oversight. Newly seated HCCTS Board members necessarily require significant time to become familiar with the organization's operations, fiscal systems, legal obligations, and compliance framework. Effective governance is developed through sustained onboarding, training, and experience, and cannot be immediately assumed upon appointment. As a result, the asserted "remedy" not only fails to correct past violations, but also creates a period of heightened risk in which the organization may lack the experienced oversight necessary to ensure compliance. At best, this approach is speculative as a corrective measure; at worst, it introduces additional instability and oversight risk at a time when heightened accountability is required.

Accordingly, HCCTS' reliance on starting over with a new Board of Directors as a purported remedy is insufficient, unsupported by the administrative record, and inconsistent with the purpose of the statutory remedy process, which requires demonstrable correction of identified violations, not merely structural change without evidence of actual remedial action.

2. New Executive Leadership

HCCTS similarly asserts that the appointment of new executive leadership effectively cures or remedies the identified violations. That assertion is equally unavailing. While changes in executive leadership may be appropriate as a prospective governance measure, they do not negate the organization's responsibility for ensuring that violations are corrected within the applicable remedy period, nor do they erase the underlying noncompliance that occurred under prior administration.

The statutory cure framework requires CICA, not any individual administrator, to demonstrate that identified violations have been remedied with verifiable evidence of compliance. Accordingly, the replacement of executive leadership does not establish that fiscal mismanagement has been corrected, or that required internal controls have been implemented and operationalized, or that deficient oversight practices have been remedied. Furthermore, it does not provide evidence that past noncompliance has been reconciled, reviewed, or brought into conformity with CICA's Charter and appliable legal requirements.

To the contrary, new leadership inherits both the obligations and the deficiencies of the organization at the time of transition. While new administrators may be positioned to implement corrective action moving forward, their appointment does not retroactively cure violations that occurred during prior years, nor does it substitute for documentation demonstrating that remedial actions were actually implemented and effective within the required remedy period.

Moreover, reliance on leadership turnover as a "cure" improperly shifts the focus away from the central inquiry under Education Code section 47607, whether CICA itself remedied the violations within the prescribed remedy period. Allowing leadership changes to serve as a substitute for demonstrated compliance would undermine the purpose of the statutory accountability framework and permit ongoing noncompliance to be excused through personnel changes alone.

Accordingly, HCCTS' reliance on the appointment of new executive leadership as a purported remedy is insufficient as a matter of law and unsupported by the administrative record. The District's findings remain grounded in whether the violations were actually remedied, not whether new personnel were installed after the fact.

3. Violation of Charter - Location Changes

As stated above, the District was under no obligation to consider evidence submitted after the September 26, 2025, remedy period had lapsed, and Staff findings adopted by the Board in support of revocation are set forth in the Notice of Intent to Revoke. (CICA Appeal, pp. 1459-1460.[3]) Even so, a review of CICA's additional submissions further substantiates those findings and confirms that the violation was not remedied.

Substantial evidence in the record supports the District's finding that CICA committed a material violation of the Charter and MOU Amendment No. 3 by expanding operations to additional locations and/or relocating existing locations, including satellite facilities or resource centers, without obtaining an approved material revision. Substantial evidence also supports the District's finding that this violation was not remedied.

HCCTS expressly acknowledged the violation, stating: "This was a failure of compliance, and we take responsibility for it." (CICA Appeal, p. 6649.) This admission alone constitutes substantial evidence supporting the District's finding.

The record further reflects that HCCTS was aware of the need to address the violation as early as June 2024. (CICA Appeal, p. 7065.) The District issued a Notice of Violation on June 17, 2025, and required submission of all materials, responses, and evidence by September 26, 2025.

Between September 26, 2025 and January 2, 2026 CICA submitted three (3) material revision requests. The first material revision request was submitted on September 29, 2025, although an incomplete submission was received on September 26, 2025 (CICA Appeal, p. 5009); the second submitted on October 10, 2025 (CICA Appeal p. 6447); and the third submitted on January 2, 2026. (CICA Appeal p. 5492.) This clearly illustrates that CICA expended significant time and energy, trying to get approval for the ongoing violation instead of taking actual action to come into compliance.

On December 2, 2025, CICA provided a response to the District's Notice of Intent to Revoke stating, "CICA drafted a detailed plan which outlines how CICA will return from the sites where we are currently serving students back to MOU Amendment No. 3 sites." (CICA Appeal, p. 5316.) CICA's Response acknowledges that CICA was operating at unapproved locations (i.e. "where we are currently serving students"). This statement references one of the many plans/promises of future compliance recorded in the evidence. The decision to continue operating at unapproved locations provides substantial evidence that the charter school failed to remedy the violation.

It is important to note that the Notice of Violation was issued on June 17, 2025 and CICA's first day of school was not until August 14, 2025. CICA had nearly two months to identify student-serving locations that complied with the terms of the approved Charter and MOU Amendment No. 3 before the start of the 2025-26 school year. Instead, HCCTS leadership chose to perpetuate the violation by utilizing locations that were not approved. CICA made the decision to submit a remedy plan that would require an approved material revision rather than taking action to ensure compliance. These actions provide strong indicators that the organization simply did not take the violation seriously.

As of the date of this TRUSD Response, the District does not have evidence that CICA has vacated from the unapproved locations. The most recent communication from the revocation evidence regarding the locations at which CICA is operating was provided to the District on January 2, 2026, as part of the third material revision. (CICA Appeal pp. 5497-5498.) In this document CICA indicated that the it was "seeking to continue" at thirteen (13) sites. Outlined below are the thirteen sites CICA was operating at as of January 2, 2026. The table also shows which sites were approved in accordance with MOU Amendment No. 3.

During CICA's presentation regarding its material revision request on January 13, 2026, HCCTS representatives stated that the material revision was their remedy plan, stating, "This Material Revision cures the Notice of Violation of the Charter regarding locations." HCCTS representatives also assured that, "If the Material Revision is not approved CICA will occupy only the locations listed in MOU Amendment No. 3." (CICA Appeal, pp. 6362.) Once again CICA provided promises of future compliance rather than actual compliance. At that point (January 13, 2026), CICA had run out of time to be able to return to approved locations, hoping that their assurance of future compliance would be an acceptable remedy.

During the January 27, 2026, District Board meeting, HCCTS representatives stated that "CICA returned to the locations approved in MOU Amendment No. 3" (CICA Appeal, p. 5484.) However, the District had not received any evidence that CICA vacated the unapproved locations and that compliance had been achieved, even at that time, which was more than seven (7) months after the Notice of Violation was issued and four (4) months past the September 26th remedy deadline.

On January 27, 2026, District Staff confirmed that rather than returning to the approved locations, HCCTS assured that "CICA is moving to locations that are approved by the District…" (CICA Appeal, p. 2915.)

Taken together, CICA's admission, its continued operation at unapproved locations, promises of compliance without actions, and the absence of any evidence that the Charter School had ceased operating at unapproved locations, constitute substantial evidence supporting the District's finding that CICA committed a material violation of its Charter and failed to remedy that violation.

4. Violation of Law – Failure to Submit Annual Independent Audit Report

While the remedy period lapsed on September 26, 2025, and the District's operative findings regarding this violation are those contained in the Notice of Intent to Revoke (CICA Appeal, p. 1461), the following also addresses CICA's post-remedy period submissions. As shown below, those additional submissions do not alter, and in fact further support the conclusion that the violation was not remedied.

Substantial evidence in the record supports the District's finding that CICA committed a violation of law for failure to submit the independent audit report. Substantial evidence also supports the District's finding that this violation was not remedied.

HCCTS expressly acknowledged the violation, stating: "Highlands acknowledges that the 2023–24 audit has not yet been submitted to TRUSD and that multiple deadlines were missed. (CICA Appeal, p. 5148.) This admission alone constitutes substantial evidence supporting the District's finding.

The District's decision to proceed with revocation of CICA's Charter is supported by substantial evidence demonstrating that CICA failed to remedy the violation of law - the requirement to submit a valid independent financial audit. Although the Charter School ultimately submitted a 2023–24 report on January 2, 2026, the auditor (Eide Bailly) issued a disclaimer of opinion, indicating an inability to obtain sufficient appropriate evidence to form any conclusion regarding the reliability of the financial statements.

Eide Bailly provided a letter dated December 31, 2025 (CICA Appeal, p. 5727- 5729) in which the auditor clearly indicated that the 2023-24 report does not constitute a compliant audit and confirms the absence of any reliable financial review. In the auditor's letter to the HCCTS Board of Directors, Eide Bailly stated:

> "Our responsibility is to conduct an audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and to issue an auditor's report. However, because of the matter described in the Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion section of our report, we were not able to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for an audit opinion on these financial statements." (CICA Appeal, p 5728.)

An audit, by definition, culminates in an opinion supported by sufficient and appropriate evidence. Here, the auditor explicitly disclaimed that CICA did not provide such evidence and, therefore, no opinion could be rendered. As a result, the report provides no assurance as to the accuracy, completeness, or reliability of the CICA's financial statements.

In effect, the report submitted is equivalent to not completing an audit at all. The auditor did not validate the financial records, did not reach any conclusions regarding their fairness, and did not provide the fundamental assurance required under law. Instead, the report affirmatively establishes that the auditor could not perform the core function of an audit. Under these circumstances, the District reasonably concluded that CICA failed to meet its statutory obligation to submit the 2023-24 independent audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards.

Compounding these concerns, the audit expressly conveyed the auditor's "substantial doubt" about the organization's "ability to continue as a going concern." (CICA Appeal, p. 5727.) These findings reflect a fundamental breakdown in fiscal management and internal controls, leaving the District without any reliable basis to assess the Charter School's financial condition. Education Code section 47607 requires that revocation decisions be supported by substantial evidence, defined as evidence that is reasonable, credible, and of solid value. Here, the record contains substantial evidence that CICA did not satisfy its legal obligation.

While HCCTS' remedy plan included a commitment for timely submission of the audit report in the future, CICA has failed to follow-through with this commitment. As of the date of this TRUSD Response, HCCTS has not submitted their 2024-25 audit, which was due December 15, 2025. While the District understands that the March 30, 2026, correspondence from SCOE indicated that our arguments in response to the appeal are to be confined to the appeal record, and no new evidence will be considered, this fact clearly illustrates that the TRUSD Board appropriately found that CICA failed to sufficiently remedy this violation of law. As identified by District Board President Jefferson during the November 4, 2025, Board meeting, "There has to be a process where we can get Highlands Charter into compliance because this has been ongoing for more than a year." (CICA Appeal, November 4, 2025, Board Meeting Video, Minute Marker 2:13:01.)

Accordingly, the District has determined that CICA failed to refute this violation to the satisfaction of the District or remedy this violation. Moreover, the District acted within its oversight authority and duty to protect public funds and ensure compliance with applicable law. Accepting a no-opinion audit as sufficient would be inconsistent with legal requirements and impair our ability as authorizer to conduct meaningful fiscal oversight.

5. Violation of Law – Failure to Track Minimum Instructional Minutes

Substantial evidence in the record supports the District's finding that CICA failed to demonstrate compliance with tracking and meeting minimum instructional minutes, as required by California Education Code Section 47612.5, and that this violation was not remedied.

The record reflects that, prior to the issuance of the June 17, 2025 Notice of Violation, CICA did not maintain a system to track or verify instructional minutes. On September 9, 2024, Melissa Roberson, HCCTS acknowledged this deficiency, stating: "Due to the nature of independent study, CICA does not currently have an instructional minute's report." (CICA Appeal, p. 2168), indicating that HCCTS believed CICA to be exempt from the requirement to ensure annual minimum instructional minutes were met. It further demonstrates that CICA lacked a mechanism to track and meet requirements.

Subsequent submissions prior to June 17, 2025, reflect shifting and inconsistent approaches to instructional minute compliance monitoring. On March 24, 2025, and in subsequent submissions, CICA showed indicators that it may have transitioned from the approved traditional independent study model to a course-based independent study model. (CICA Appeal, p. 33.) In its March 24, 2025, response to the District's February 19, 2025, Request for Information Regarding CICA Instructional Minutes, HCCTS stated that pacing guides demonstrated each course included approximately 125 hours of work and that a full course load consisted of five courses per semester. (CICA Appeal, p. 840.) This explanation did not define how instructional time was calculated on a daily basis or include how time value was assigned to student work, or how total instructional minutes were tracked across instructional days. CICA simply had not established a clear or verifiable methodology for meeting the required instructional minutes for the non-classroom-based program.

On October 31, 2025, after the remedy period had lapsed, CICA submitted updated pacing guides significantly different than the previously submitted evidence (September 29, 2025). In this submission they included planning guides, curriculum maps, work samples, learning report examples, master agreements, and more. (CICA Appeal, pp. 5319- 5322.) None of the documents submitted provided the daily time value of pupil assignment. This information is required in order to track student attendance and ensure compliance with the minimum annual instructional minutes for non-classroom-based charters.

Ongoing inconsistencies are evidenced in CICA's academic calendar. CICA submitted multiple versions of the 2025–2026 student calendar, each containing errors or omissions. After the District requested clarification on October 8, 2025, the Charter School submitted revised versions on October 8 and another on October 13, 2025, acknowledging prior inaccuracies and indicating that a final version would be presented to its Board. These series of errors were documented in the Notice of Intent to Revoke. (CICA Appeal, p. 1448.) An accurate student calendar is absolutely required to calculate instructional minutes, and these inconsistencies constitute substantial evidence that CICA still lacked a stable and reliable foundation to ensure compliance after the expiration of the remedy period.

In November 2025, shortly before the issuance of the Notice of Intent to Revoke, CICA submitted an Attendance Standard Operating Procedure (SOP), asserting that the charter school "meets the statutory minimum of 64,800 instructional minutes offered per year" (This document was not included in the evidence submitted by CICA with its appeal, but a link to the SOP is included in their evidence on page 6359).[4] The SOP went on to state, "A credentialed teacher must make the determination of the actual time value of work submitted." (SOP, p 9). However, the SOP did not specify the actual number of hours of time-value for assignments each day. There is not a single mention of the minimum number of hours that teachers were determining that students must meet each day. This is a critical omission as instructional minutes for non-classroom-based charters are calculated, in part by the daily time-value of assignments multiplied by the instructional days. At a minimum CICA could have included a simple statement such as "Daily instructional work must equate to approximately __# hours of assigned work per day." This would have enabled the District to multiple that number by the total number of students days to determine if the minimum number of annual instructional minutes could be met. Without defined time equivalencies tied to instructional days, it is impossible to calculate whether minimum instructional minutes were met.

On January 2, 2026, over three months after the expiration of the remedy period, CICA submitted a narrative describing efforts to remedy the violation. However, CICA again failed to provide a defined methodology for calculating daily instructional time that was necessary to demonstrate that assigned work met required annual instructional minutes. (CICA Appeal, pp. 5319- 5322.)

During the January 27, 2026, District Board meeting, Trustee Vought inquired regarding this matter stating: "It was our understanding, or my understanding there was not a standard, that it was subjective and left up to the individual instructors to assign value to different minutes to assignments…" HCCTS's Chief Academic Officer replied:

> "We are very deeply standards aligned, um there is a curriculum map that we've shared with you…and have been vetted deeply across instructional minutes, but also standards. And there's also grade-level standard professional development, and we have a deeply centered and thoughtful team that does the calibration around how we vet out the instructional minutes, as their time-value is assigned to each, um instruction, each um, assignment. And then those assignments have to meet or exceed six hours. And that's how we're accruing attendance. It's very, very deeply vetted, very, very deeply protocoled. And also, teachers are offered 45 minutes every day to do planning, PLC time every afternoon, and then twice a month they have professional development sessions…" (CICA Appeal, January 27, 2025, District Board Meeting Video, Minute Marker 2:35:35.)

The above quote from HCCTS's Chief Academic Officer includes the one and only mention of a defined daily instructional expectation ("…meet or exceed six hours"). This information was not mentioned in any submission or written response and was completely omitted until that comment on January 27, 2026. It is not included in the Attendance SOP, pacing guides, teacher training materials, or anywhere in CICA's 7,301 pages of evidence.

The record reflects that District Staff believed the promises of compliance through observations of improved attendance practices, a review of the attendance improvement plan, and verification of an internal attendance compliance team provided enough assurances of future compliance to consider the violation remedied. (CICA Appeal, January 27, 2026, Board Meeting Video Record, Minute Marker, approx. 2:26:21); (CICA Appeal, p. 7170.) Staff's observations and recommendations were directly tied to attendance tracking and reporting practices. However, Staff did not confirm that CICA provided evidence that it was meeting the minimum instructional minute requirements and the District Board's decision to revoke was supported by the fact that CICA had not provided the necessary evidence of actual compliance.

Taken together, CICA's admission that it lacked an instructional minute's tracking system, its shifting and inconsistent explanations of compliance throughout the duration of process, and the lack of documented defined time-value methodology, constitute substantial evidence supporting the District's finding that the violation was not remedied even after the expiration of the remedy period.

6. Violation of Law – Violation of WIOA Exclusive Partnership Agreement

The District Board's final decision to revoke for violation of the WIOA exclusive partnership agreement is grounded in Staff's findings contained in the Notice of Intent to Revoke, which documents the District's findings as of the close of the remedy period and were incorporated by the Board in support of its decision. These findings constitute the evidentiary basis for the District's action. These findings constitute the evidentiary basis for the District's action. The pertinent Notice of Intent to Revoke language may be reviewed on page 1451 of the CICA Appeal and is provided below for SCBOE's reference and consideration.

> The CICA Response acknowledges that prior practices violated the requirements of the WIOA, which mandates that instruction be provided exclusively in partnership with WIOA programs. In the CICA Response, HCCTS restated actions taken prior to the issuance of the NOV and asserted a commitment to correcting past errors and ensuring future compliance. However, the three (3) exhibits submitted were identical to those previously provided to the District and did not offer any new or substantive evidence to refute or remedy the violation.
> Due to the absence of additional supporting documentation, the District finds that this violation remains unremedied. Furthermore, the District notes material inconsistencies between statements provided by the CTE Instructor and representations made in the CICA Response. Accordingly, the District has determined that HCCS failed to refute or remedy this violation to the satisfaction of the District.

7. Engaged in Fiscal Mismanagement – San Diego Administrative Location

While the remedy period lapsed on September 26, 2025, and the District's operative findings regarding this violation are those contained in the Notice of Intent to Revoke (CICA Appeal, p. 1467), CICA's post-remedy period submissions further demonstration that the violation was not remedied.

Substantial evidence in the record supports the District's finding that HCCTS engaged in fiscal mismanagement by securing a site at 406 9th Avenue, Suite 310, San Diego, CA 92101 ("San Diego site"), which constituted a significant and inappropriate expenditure of public funds. The location is described as a 1,068-square-foot condominium that "Includes a dedicated balcony with unparalleled views of Petco Park," a Major League Baseball stadium. The record further reflects that this facility was not accessible to CICA students. (CICA Appeal, pp. 7057–7061.)

CICA expressly acknowledged the violation by stating that the decision "was a misstep that does not align with our mission or our responsibility to ensure all expenditures directly benefit students." (CICA Appeal, p. 7074.) This admission alone constitutes substantial evidence supporting the District's finding.

The record further reflects that the District Board articulated concerns regarding both the nature of the expenditure and the lack of a plan to address this misuse of public funds. During the December 2, 2025, Board meeting, Trustee Elkarra stated: "I understand it was to expand into the San Diego region, but my understanding is that this was, like, a penthouse, like, overseeing the baseball stadium. It was a very expensive suite, you know, why not just rent an office space somewhere in San Diego? Why, you know, spend so much money…" (CICA Appeal, December 2, 2025, Board Meeting Video, Minute Marker 2:43:29.)

Separately, Trustee Baker directly raised the issue of financial remediation, asking "How the tax payers are going to get that money back…", and further stating that this was an essential question he was "...going to need to be addressed." (CICA Appeal, December 2, 2025, Board Meeting Video, Minute Marker 1:31:42.) In response to Trustee Baker's question regarding recovery of funds, HCCTS legal counsel stated: "They're not. They're not gonna get it back." (CICA Appeal, December 2, 2025, Board Meeting Video, Minute Marker 1:32:07.) This response demonstrates that HCCTS declined to pursue or even consider a path to possibly recoup the improperly expended public funds. As a result, HCCTS failed to identify a remedy reasonably calculated to address the fiscal violation.

Although HCCTS leadership asserted that they could not "go back in time" to address past expenditures, the record shows they understood that corrective action may include efforts to recover previously expended funds. HCCTS acknowledged taking such steps in other contexts, stating:

> "I can tell you, though, that with regard to some expenses, the school has sent letters. Asking for money to be returned to the school. And specifically, that relates to the trip to Hawaii and the trip to Paris that occurred. Jonathan personally sent the letters to the individuals who went on those trips, demanding they return that money." (CICA Appeal, December 2, 2025, Board Meeting Video, Minute Marker 1:34:04.)

These actions demonstrate HCCTS recognized that seeking repayment is a viable means of addressing improper expenditures. However, HCCTS leadership did not propose or pursue a comparable remedy to address the funds expended on the San Diego site.

The District informed CICA of its failure to remedy the violation as described in the November 4, 2025, Notice of Intent to Revoke: "The District notes that considerable public funds were expended on a facility that has not been used to serve HCCTS students, and no evidence has been provided to demonstrate that these expenditures have been appropriately addressed, mitigated, or remedied. Although the District recognizes the actions taken to reduce ongoing costs, this violation remains unresolved." (CICA Appeal, p. 1452.)

On January 2, 2026, CICA provided a remedy plan with an explanation of the evidence they had submitted to address the violation. (CICA Appeal, pp. 5555-5557.) The remedy plan focused exclusively on the San Diego lease agreement and promises of future compliance through updates to HCCTS board policies. CICA did not present corrective actions directed at restoring misused public funds or otherwise mitigating the fiscal impact.

During the January 27, 2026, District Board meeting, District Staff presented its findings and recommendation regarding this fiscal mismanagement basis to revoke. (CICA Appeal, p. 2917.) Staff found that CICA had terminated or bought out the lease (addressing the cessation of future expenses), adopted or revised board policies (which included requirements already outlined in law), and updated the fiscal policies and procedures manual (promises of future compliance).

District Staff represented that they believed the violation could be considered remedied because HCCTS addressed the issue of ongoing expenditures and promised to comply with law moving forward. However, Staff did not find that CICA had addressed the misspent funds. The District Board ultimately disagreed with Staff's recommendation related to this fiscal mismanagement ground to revoke, concluding that the fiscal harm had not been addressed, and that CICA failed to remedy the violation because no attempt was made to return the misused public funds.

HCCTS's chosen course of action was limited to a two-month early lease termination which failed to address the core issue identified by the District - the improper expenditure of public funds and the absence of accountability for those funds. HCCTS' failure to explore any potential avenue for restitution or mitigation substantially supports the Board's determination that the violation remained not sufficiently remedied.

Accordingly, the District Board's determination to revoke CICA's Charter is supported by substantial evidence and reflects a rational and appropriate exercise of its oversight responsibility to ensure fiscal accountability and protect against the inappropriate use of public funds.

D. Conclusion

The record before the SCBOE contains substantial evidence supporting the District's findings in support of revocation.

For each violation, there is substantial evidence on the record that CICA violated law, its Charter/MOU, and engaged in fiscal mismanagement, and failed to remedy those violations within the required remedy period (June 17, 2025 – September 26, 2025). In multiple instances, CICA continued to operate out of compliance, failed to provide required documentation, or relied on assurances of future compliance rather than demonstrating that compliance had been achieved and violations remedied.

CICA's assertions that progress, intent, or future plans should be deemed sufficient to find that its violations have been remedied is inconsistent with the statutory framework. Education Code section 47607 requires that violations be remedied, not merely addressed through proposed actions or deferred commitments. The District Board properly applied this standard and concluded that based upon substantial evidence, CICA violated the law, its Charter, and engaged in fiscal mismanagement, and that CICA failed to sufficiently remedy these violations.

While District Staff identified areas of improvement and, with some of the violations recommended that progress made by CICA could support a finding that the violation had been remedied, the District Board did not accept Staff's recommendation and ultimately determined that the violations were not remedied. That determination and final decision to revoke was within the District Board's lawful authority and discretion and is supported by substantial evidence in the record.

Even when viewed individually, the violations provide substantial evidence supporting revocation. Taken together, the violations demonstrate a broader pattern of noncompliance, including:

- Continued operation at unapproved locations;
- Failure to produce a valid independent audit;
- Misuse of public funds without meaningful corrective action; and
- Failure to establish or document compliance with instructional minute requirements.

These are not technical or minor deficiencies, but fundamental failures affecting fiscal integrity, legal compliance, and the District's ability to provide effective oversight.

CICA was afforded both notice and ample opportunity to remedy these violations. Rather than demonstrating compliance within the remedy period, CICA elected to pursue alternative strategies, seeking approval after the fact, revising plans, and offering assurances of future compliance. In doing so, CICA assumed the risk that such efforts would not be sufficient for the District Board to decline to revoke CICA's Charter, which the District Board ultimately concluded that it did not based on substantial evidence.

Should the SCBOE conclude that substantial evidence in the record supports the District's findings as to all, or any one of the grounds for revocation, that determination compels the SCBOE to affirm/uphold the District's revocation decision. Therefore, the District respectfully urges the SCBOE to affirm/uphold the District Board's decision to revoke CICA's Charter.

SACRAMENTO COUNTY OFFICE OF EDUCATION
ANALYSIS OF HIGHLANDS COMMUNITY CHARTER SCHOOL AND CALIFORNIA INNOVATIVE CAREER ACADEMY CHARTER REVOCATION APPEALS

I. INTRODUCTION

On January 30, 2026, the Twin Rivers Unified School District ("District") Board of Trustees ("Board") revoked the charters of the Highlands Community Charter School ("HCCS") and California Innovative Career Academy ("CICA") (collectively "Charter Schools"). Both HCCS and CICA are operated by Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools ("HCCTS"), a nonprofit public benefit corporation. On February 27, 2026, the Charter Schools timely filed appeals from the revocations to the Sacramento County Board of Education (County Board), under Education Code section 47607, subdivision (i).

On appeal, the County Board's scope of review is limited to determining whether the revocation findings made by the District Board are supported by substantial evidence. (Ed. Code, § 47607, subd. (i).)

The Education Code identifies three potential outcomes for charter revocation appeals:

- The County Board "may reverse the revocation decision if the county board of education determines that the findings made by the chartering authority under subdivision (h) are not supported by substantial evidence." (Ed. Code, § 47607, subd. (i)(2).)
- The County Board may affirm the revocation if it finds that the findings of the District Board are supported by substantial evidence. (Ed. Code, § 47607, subd. (i)(2).)
- If the County Board does not issue a decision on the appeal within 90 days of receipt, the Charter School may appeal the revocation to the State Board of Education (SBE). (Ed. Code, § 47607, subd. (i)(3)) If the County Board does not issue a decision within 90 days, the District's decision is upheld, pending any further appeal. (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 11968.5.4, subd. (b).)

If the County Board upholds a revocation or does not issue a decision on the appeal, the Charter School may appeal to the SBE. If the County Board reverses a revocation, the District may appeal to the SBE. (Ed. Code, § 47607, subds. (i)(2),(3).)

If the County Board (without further appeal) or SBE reverse the revocation, the Charter School would return to authorization by the District. (Ed. Code, § 47607, subd. (k).)

II. SUMMARY OF ANALYSIS

The threshold question for the County Board is whether the District's revocation of the charters was supported by substantial evidence. The County Board may uphold the revocations if it finds that the revocations were supported by substantial evidence; it may reverse the revocations if it finds that they were not supported by substantial evidence.

In Napa Valley Unified School District v. State Bd. of Education (2025) 110 Cal. App. 5th 609, 625 the court explained:

> Under the substantial evidence test, our review begins and ends with a determination of whether there is substantial evidence, contradicted or uncontradicted, to support the findings. We do not reweigh the evidence and are bound to indulge all presumptions and resolve all conflicts in favor of the administrative decision. Substantial evidence is relevant evidence that a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion.

After issuing several requests for information and Notices of Concern to the Charter Schools over many months, the District initiated the formal revocation process by issuing a Notice of Violation (NOV) in June 2025 for material violations of the charter and Memorandum of Understanding (MOU), failure to meet generally accepted accounting principles, engaging in fiscal mismanagement, and violations of law. The Notice of Violation provided the Charter Schools with a remedy period up to and including September 26, 2025 (HCCS 28-6500; CICA 36-6428)[1]. The District concluded that the Charter Schools had not remedied the violations by the end of the remedy period. The appeal record includes adequate evidence to support this conclusion (Id.; HCCS 1254-1270, 6505-6525, 2483-2500; CICA 1439-1455, 6433-6453, 2884-2901). As a result, on November 4, 2025, the District Board issued a Notice of Intent to Revoke and moved forward with the legally required revocation proceedings, including holding public hearings on the revocations and taking final action on the revocations within the legally required time periods (HCCS 1254-1274, 8212-8217, 8170-8190; CICA 1439-1472, 7152-7157, 7110-7130).

After the District Board adopted the Notice of Intent to Revoke, the Charter Schools continued their efforts to remedy their violations after the remedy deadline through January 2026. At the January 27, 2026 Board meeting on the final revocation decisions, District staff recommended that the Board decline to revoke the charters based on staff's findings that the Charter Schools had successfully refuted or remedied all violations after the conclusion of the remedy period (HCCS 8206-8207; CICA 7146-7147). However, the District Board declined to adopt the staff's recommendations and, on January 30, 2026, adopted resolutions revoking both Charter Schools based upon the findings and supporting evidence submitted with its November 4, 2025 Notice of Intent to Revoke, in which it determined that the Charter Schools had not sufficiently remedied its violations by the end of the remedy period (HCCS 6503-6504; CICA 6431-6432).

The evidence in the appeal record shows that the District provided the notices and procedures required by Education Code section 47607, subdivision (h) before revoking the Charter Schools. The issue that arises is whether the District was required to consider the remedies performed by the Charter Schools after the close of the remedy period on September 26, 2025 to refute or remedy its violations. If not, the record contains substantial evidence to support the charter revocations.

However, if the District was required to consider the remedies performed by the Charter Schools after the close of the remedy deadline, then the County Board will need to determine whether the record contains substantial evidence, contradicted or uncontradicted, that is adequate to support the District Board's revocation decision.

III. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

A. Background of Charter Schools

[1] All references to the record are to the documents submitted with the HCCS and CICA appeals.

HCCS is a classroom-based charter school currently serving 613 students, with 1,668 students reported on its waitlist (HCCS 2, 4). Its charter states that it will service grades 1, 2, and 12 (HCCS 56). HCCS serves adult students from a wide range of age, ethnic, cultural and language backgrounds, specifically targeting high school dropouts, parents, immigrants, refugees, veterans, former foster youth, and ex-offenders (HCCS 2-4, 59-60). It offers a Career Technical Education (CTE) curriculum to its twelfth graders (HCCS 56-61, 75-78). The HCCS Charter identifies a main campus at 1333 Grand Avenue, Sacramento, CA 95838, and also identifies 23 other locations, consisting mostly of local businesses, agencies, and places of worship in Sacramento (HCCS 227-228). Its charter was originally authorized by the District in 2014, and its current charter term expires on June 30, 2027 (HCCS 1524).

CICA is a remote learning school currently serving 826 students, with 372 students reported on its waitlist (CICA 2-3, 37). It serves "adults 22 years of age and older, who do not have a U.S. high school diploma" (CICA 52, 1824). CICA seeks to serve unserved and underserved adults, many of whom are immigrants to the United States who are attending school to learn English, while pursuing a high school diploma and gaining career skills to make themselves employable, through a CTE curriculum (CICA 55-56). The CICA charter also identifies its location as 1333 Grand Avenue, Sacramento, CA 95838. Its charter was originally authorized by the District in 2019, and its current charter term expires on June 30, 2027 (CICA 1824).

Although not specifically the subject of the charter revocations, the Charters Schools acknowledge that, in June 2025, the California Office of the State Auditor issued an audit report accusing HCCS and CICA of compliance violations, including issues related to alleged fiscal mismanagement by members of the Charter Schools' previous leadership team. The Charter Schools assert that, even before the State Audit report was released, they had changed their Executive Director and hired a new leadership team in July 2025, who have been working to correct deficiencies caused by the prior executive leadership and move the Charter Schools into alignment with best practices. Furthermore, two appeals are pending with the Education Audit Appeals panel related to attendance accounting and credentialing and associated penalties (HCCS 4-5, 6515, 6861-6907; CICA 4-5, 7160, 7184).

B. District Revocation Proceedings

1. Allegations in June 2025 Notice of Violation

In June 2025, the District issued a Notice of Violation to HCCTS, alleging violations committed by both HCCS and CICA (HCCS 28-6500; CICA 36-6428). The Notice of Violation followed numerous Requests for Information and Notices of Concern previously issued to the Charter Schools over many months (See, e.g., HCCS 239-273, CICA 326-331 [August 2024 - March 2025 Correspondence Re Need for Material Revision to Serve Grade Levels Not Authorized by Approved Charters]; HCCS 294-302, 357-362, 394-397, 429-441, 497-508, CICA 353 - 370, 426-428, 574-575, 589-595, 658-659 [June 2024, August 2024, September 2024, January 2025, April 2025 Notices of Concern and Requests for Information Re Facility Location Discrepancies and MOU Compliance]; CICA 568 -573 [September 2024 Request for Information Re Enrollment Reports]; HCCS 510-568, CICA 697- 705 [March 2025, April 7, 2025, April 24, 2025 Requests for Information and Notices of Concern Re Independent Financial Audit Report]; HCCS 597-651, CICA 727 - 786 [October 2024 Request for Information Re Instructional Minutes; January 2025 Student Attendance Review]; CICA 1027 [April 2024 Notice of Concern Re Marysville 2 (Baseball Field) Location]; HCCS 572-574, 593-594, CICA 1098-1099, 1115-1119 [January 2025, March 2025 District Correspondence Re CALPads Reporting Errors]; HCCS 883 - 895, CICA 1316-1317, 1124-1125 [October 2024, December 2024, February 2025 District Complaint/Request for Information Re Non-students Participating in CTE Truck Driving Certification Courses], etc.).

The June 2025 Notice of Violation stated that "HCCTS has either failed to remedy multiple areas of concern despite receipt of multiple information requests and notices from the District or makes promises of future improvements without offering viable plans that either have been implemented or are capable of being implemented by HCCTS. As a result and since the District views [the Charter Schools'] material violations of the conditions, standards, and procedures of its Charter and MOU, failure to meet generally accepted accounting principles, or engaged in fiscal mismanagement, and violations of law as grounds for revocation, the District has determined that the point has been reached where it is necessary to initiate the first step in the formal revocation process contained in the Education Code, which is the issuance of a Notice of Violation..." (HCCS 44; CICA 44).

Unless otherwise indicated, the violations discussed below were alleged equally against both HCCS and CICA. The Charter Schools assert that all the violations allege conduct that either predated their current executive leadership team or relate to claims of failure by the current team to resolve issues that originated with prior leadership to the District's satisfaction (HCCS 6; CICA 6).

a. Alleged Violation of Charter

i. Grade Level Changes

The Notice of Violation alleged that both the HCCS and CICA Charters stated that they would offer grades 1, 2 and 12, but that the Charter Schools also enrolled students in grades 9 and 10 without requesting a material revision to the District, in violation of Education Code section 45604, subdivision (a)(4), which requires that "[a]fter receiving approval of its petition, a charter school that proposes to expand operations to one or more additional sites or grade levels shall request a material revision to its charter and shall notify the chartering authority of those additional locations or grade levels" (HCCS 31; CICA 39).

ii. Location Changes

The Notice of Violation alleged that both HCCS and CICA added locations not listed in their Charters, or the January 23, 2024 MOU between the parties which added additional locations, in violation of an MOU provision that the Charter Schools "submit a written request to the District if the 'Charter School seeks to establish operations at one or more additional locations(s) or move any of its existing location(s), including satellite facilities or resource centers…'" (HCCS 31; CICA 39). The MOU contains a provision incorporating its terms into that of the Charters (HCCS 1520-1523; CICA 1824-1827). The Notice of Violation also alleged that the Charter Schools failed to provide fully executed copies of lease agreements at the request of the District in violation of Education Code section 47604.3 (HCCS 32; CICA 40).

b. Alleged Violation of Law

i. Failure to Timely Submit Annual Independent Audit Report

The Notice of Violation alleged that HCCS and CICA failed to submit their annual independent audit report for Fiscal Year 2023-2024 by December 15, 2024, in violation of Education Code section 47605, subdivision (m), which requires charter schools to "transmit a copy of its annual, independent financial audit report for the preceding fiscal year...to its chartering authority...by December 15 of each year." Although the District requested the 2023-2024 audit report multiple times, as of June 2025, the audit report had not been submitted (HCCS 32; CICA 40).

The Notice of Violation also alleged that CICA's failure to timely and adequately respond to the District's inquiries regarding its audit report and operations at facilities violated Education Code section 47604.3 (HCCS 32; CICA 40).

ii. Credential Misassignments

The Notice of Violation alleged that the Charter Schools assigned a teacher with an Adult Education credential to teach subject matter in a general K-12 setting, relying on erroneous information from the San Diego County Office of Education instead of consulting with the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (HCCS 32-33; CICA 41).

iii. Failure to Track Minimum Instructional Minutes

The Notice of Violation alleged that HCCS maintained average class sizes as high as 227 students, and that, during a site visit, students were observed arriving and leaving without intending to remain for instruction and were sent home with packets without attending the full instructional day due to limited classroom capacity. The Notice of Violation further noted that the Charter school discarded attendance records. Therefore, the District believed that Charter School students did not receive the 80 percent (80%) of classroom-based instructional minutes required for classroom-based schools (HCCS 33).

The Notice of Violation against CICA alleges that CICA confirmed in writing on September 9, 2024 that it "does not currently have an instructional minutes report" (CICA 41). After two written requests from the District for documentation showing how CICA tracked instructional minutes, the District noted the following concerns:

- Potential material changes to a Course-Based Independent Study delivery, which would require HCCTS Board approval under Education Code section 51749.5. The District did not believe the pacing guides contained all the required information that the HCCTS Board of Directors would need to certify the minutes under a course-based model.
- The hours listed for each course were not totaled and, in some cases, did not meet minimum instructional minute requirements as outlined in Education Code section 51747.5.
- No explanation for how requirements are met during weeks with less than five school days.
- No explanation whether all students are required to carry a full workload, which is required to determine whether the minimum instructional minutes were being met.
- Errors in the number of hours shown for certain courses, lack of time valuations for the "Guided Notes," and no explanation for how this course would total 103.2 hours as claimed.

- Discrepancies in the total hours and an explanation for the discrepancies are required to fully show the minimum instructional minutes are being met for English C and Pre-Algebra A.

- Discrepancies in the instructional calendar provided by the Charter Schools and in the agenda materials for the HCCTS May 15, 2025 Board meeting (CICA 42)[2].

iv. Alleged Violation of WIOA Exclusive Partnership Agreement

The Notice of Violation alleged that HCCS and CICA allowed individuals who were not enrolled students to participate in its CTE Truck Driving program, violating the legal requirement that instruction be provided exclusively in partnership with Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) programs, as contained in the WIOA Exclusive Partnership Agreement (HCCS 33-34; CICA 42-43).

c. Alleged Fiscal Mismanagement and Failure to Meet Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

The District alleged that HCCS and CICA committed fiscal mismanagement and failure to meet generally accepted accounting principles by securing and maintaining a site with public funds at 406 9th Avenue, Suite 310, San Diego, CA, listed as a luxury condominium with a balcony view of Petco Park, even though it serves no students in the area (HCCS 34-35; CICA 43).

The District also alleged that HCCS committed fiscal mismanagement and failure to meet generally accepted accounting principles by maintaining a site at 1431 C Street, Marysville, CA, listed in its MOU as a location for CTE programs. The District verified that the site was a baseball field, not provided for student use, for which HCCTS donated $25,000 for upgrades, including $12,500 to sponsor a privately operated professional baseball team (HCCS 34).

In response to several Notices of Concern by the District, HCCTS and the City of Marysville entered into a termination agreement for the baseball field. However, HCCTS under the agreement was still obligated to pay $33,639.80 in lease payments annually through April 30, 2026. HCCTS also sold publicly funded equipment valued at $52,494.34 to the City for $1.00 under the November 30, 2024 termination agreement (HCCS 34). The District alleged that the ongoing lease payments, the disposal of publicly funded equipment at a nominal price, and the initial misrepresentation of the site's intended use constitutes fiscal mismanagement (HCCS 35).

d. Notice of Violation Remedy Period

The Notice of Violation provided the Charter Schools a remedy period of "up to and including September 26, 2025" to provide the following responses set forth in California Code of Regulations, title 5, section 11968.5.2, subdivision (c):

(1) "Submit to the chartering authority a detailed, written response addressing each identified violation which shall include the refutation, remedial action taken, or proposed remedial action by the charter school

[2] The Charter Schools' receipt of state apportionment for instructional minutes was and is the subject of proceedings with the State of California. (HCCS 4-5, 6515, 6861-6907; CICA 4-5)

specific to each alleged violation; the written response shall be due by the end of the remedy period identified in the Notice of Violation; [and]"

(2) "Attach to its written response supporting evidence of the refutation, remedial action, or proposed remedial action, if any, including written reports, statements, and other appropriate documentation" (HCCS 35; CICA 34-35).

The Notice of Violation further stated that "while the District appreciates and acknowledges HCCTS' responsiveness to various requests for information and notices of concern in other areas over the past twelve months, HCCTS has either failed to remedy multiple areas of concern despite its receipt of multiple information requests and notices of concern from the District or makes promises of future improvements without offering viable plans that either have been implemented or are capable of being implemented by HCCTS." (HCCS 35; CICA 44)

2. Notice of Intent to Revoke

On November 4, 2025, after the expiration of the remedy period, the District staff recommended that the Board take action on a Notice of Intent to Revoke. Staff concluded that the Charter Schools failed to remedy all but one of the violations identified in the District's June 2025 Notice of Violation:

> District staff have evaluated the [the Charter Schools'] Response[s] and all documentation produced by [the Charter Schools]. After conducting a thorough, objective, and data-driven review, District staff determined that [the Charter Schools] ha[ve] sufficiently addressed one of the violations, but ha[ve] failed to refute to the District's satisfaction, or remedy all of the violations identified in the NOV, and significant violations continue to exist, including material violations of the conditions, standards, or procedures of its charter, and violations of law. Consequently, District staff recommends that the Board issue this Notice of Intent to Revoke and notice of facts in support of revocation to [the Charter Schools] (HCCS 1239; CICA 1440).

The Board approved the issuance of the Notice of Intent to Revoke by a 6-0 vote, with one Board member absent (HCCS 8184-8185; CICA 7124-7125).

Following is a summary of the District's November 4, 2025 evaluation of whether the Charter Schools remedied the violations identified in the June 2025 Notice of Violation:

Violation	Charter School Response	District Determination
Charter Violations
1. Grade Level Change	HCCS acknowledged offering grades 9 and 10 beginning in 2020-2021 without seeking a material revision to the charter. HCCS submitted a request for material revision to the District under Ed. Code, §§ 47605, subd. (a)(4) and 47607 and indicated it would return to grade levels specified in the existing charter if the District disapproved of the material revision (HCCS 1242, 6507-6509, 6564, 7784, 5302; District Notice of Intent to Revoke Exh. B (HCCS 1483-1518)).	Not remedied. The request for material revision was submitted after the remedy period ended on September 26, 2025, depriving the District an opportunity to evaluate it before a recommendation was required on the Notice of Violation. While HCCTS states that it will align grades with the charter, it is currently serving students outside the charter, and its response failed to provide any plans, timelines, or actions that will be taken to transition from the current structure to the approved grade levels (HCCS 1242; CICA 1443; Notice of Violation Exh. B (HCCS 1483-1518) and TRUSD Mar. 26, 2025 letter (HCCS 1516)).
2. Location Changes	The Charter Schools acknowledged that they opened or relocated sites without seeking a material revision, as required by Education Code and MOU Amendment 3. Submitted a request for material revision to address this violation and indicated it would limit its operations to District-approved sites if the Board does not approve certain sites (HCCS 1243, 6509-6511; CICA 1444, 6435-6436, 6439).	Not remedied. The request for material revision was submitted after the remedy period ended on September 26, 2025, depriving the District an opportunity to evaluate it before a recommendation was required on the Notice of Violation. HCCS knowingly and willfully disregarded multiple Notices of Concern and District communications by repeatedly approving and occupying new locations despite its receipt of directives and warnings from the District. The Charter Schools are currently operating at locations that have not been approved by the District and failed to provide details regarding how the leases will be terminated for the locations or the corrective actions that will be taken to ensure continued compliance. The District also contends that HCCS failed to provide lease agreements in response to the District's April 23, 2025 Notice of Concern/ Request for Information regarding HCCS's sites (HCCS 1243-1244, 1742-1753; CICA 1444-1445; Notice of Violation Exh. C (HCCS 1519-1753); TRUSD April 23, 2025 Notice of Concern/ Request for Information (HCCS 1742-1753)).
Violations of Law
1. Failure to Submit 2023-2024 Annual Independent Audit Report	The Charter Schools acknowledged their obligation to provide FY 2023-2024 audit reports by December 15, 2024 under Ed. Code, § 47605, subd. (m) and that the audit reports have not been submitted and that multiple	Not remedied. The Charter Schools had not submitted the required audit report by the end of the September 26, 2025 remedy period, over nine months after the statutory deadline. The District issued a number of requests for the audit report

	deadlines were missed. Blames third party vendors for delay in finalizing the audit report and they will provide the completed audit report immediately upon its release from Eide Baily (HCCS 1245; CICA 1445-1446).	and Notices of Concern. The District found that " the delay is a direct and foreseeable consequence of internal failures in governance, fiscal oversight, and academic accountability" (HCCS 1245-1246; CICA 1446; Notice of Violation Exh. D (HCCS 1754-1813); TRUSD April 24, 2025 Notice of Concern (HCCS 1795-1796)).
2. Credential Mismanagement	HCCS and CICA laid off teachers not holding the required credential, conducted a credential review of its staff, and established support systems, hiring reforms, and governance safeguards (HCCS 1247-1249; CICA 1448-1450).	Remedied to the satisfaction of the District (HCCS 1248; CICA 1450; Notice of Violation Exh. E (HCCS 1814-2261)).
3. Failure to Track Minimum Instructional Minutes	HCCS: Cites corrective actions, including attendance tracking and enforcement, attendance policies, re-engagement strategies, and employee training (HCCS 1246). CICA: Cites compliant practices in documentation of student engagement, work product evaluation, and assessment of time-value through pacing guides (CICA 1448). HCCTS asserted there were numerous flaws with the state audit process which led to the conclusion that the Charter Schools owed a significant amount of apportionment to the state for disallowed ADA. Therefore, both Charter Schools have filed appeals with the Education Audit Appeals Panel (EAAP) (HCCS 6515, 6816-6907).	HCCS: Not remedied. HCCS failed to address unlawful practices directly witnessed by a District observer. HCCS failed to address the core issue that "students cannot be required to attend at least 80% of the time when classroom capacity does not accommodate all students listed on a teacher's roster," as "[t]he HCCS Response failed to include documentation verifying classroom capacity, student-to-teacher ratios, or teacher rosters/records necessary to confirm that enrollment does not exceed facility limitations" (HCCS 1246-1247). HCCS failed to address "observations of students being sent home with packets and others arriving and leaving intermittently without remaining for instruction" and "provided no evidence that these practices have been corrected, communicated to staff, or are being actively monitored for compliance" (HCCS 1247). HCCS submitted three versions of its student calendars, all of which contained discrepancies (HCCS 1247). The District found that HCCS's submission of revised board policies, without evidence of implementation, was insufficient to demonstrate corrective action (HCCS 1247). As the Charter School is partially relying on the pending Education Audit Appeal

		Panel (EAAP) decision to fully cure and/or remedy this violation, the District cannot determine that this violation has been remedied or cured without the final EAAP determination (HCCS 1247; Notice of Violation Exh. E (HCCS 1814-2261)). CICA: Not remedied. The District found the following deficiencies in the documentation submitted by CICA: • "[T]he pacing guides lack clarity regarding instructional sequence and expectations, and there is insufficient information describing how time values are determined for assignments or instructional activities." • "[T]he methods used to evaluate and score student work are not clearly defined, making it impossible to verify whether students are meeting stated learning objectives." • CICA submitted three versions of its student calendars, all of which contained discrepancies. • CICA student agreements lacked clarity and were not provided in the student's primary language (CICA 1448).
4. Violation of WIOA Partnership Agreement	The Charter Schools acknowledged the past violation of the WIOA partnership agreement by allowing non-students to enroll in the Truck Driving program. The Charter Schools issued a stop notice and ended this practice after investigating, taking disciplinary action against the responsible employee, discontinued the informal partnerships with the local agencies involved, suspended the Truck Driving program until the Charter Schools could ensure full compliance, and discontinued all non-student participation as of Jan. 6, 2025 (HCCS 1250; CICA 1450-1451).	Not remedied. The District found the documentation submitted in support of the remedy to be insufficient. "The three (3) exhibits submitted were identical to those previously provided to the District and did not offer any new or substantive evidence to refute or remedy the violation. Due to the absence of additional supporting documentation, the District finds that this violation remains unremedied" (HCCS 1250; CICA 1451; Notice of Violation Exh. E (HCCS 1814-2261); "Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools - Student Attendance Review: Commissioned by Twin Rivers Unified SD," (HCCS 1842-1946); HCCS "2025-2026 Academic School Calendar," attached as Exh. AI to HCCS NOV response (HCCS 7563-7564)).

Fiscal Mismanagement
1. San Diego Administrative Location	The Charter Schools acknowledge that the decision to lease the San Diego condominium was a misstep, does not align with its mission or responsibility to students, recognizes that this was poor judgment under prior leadership, and understands the District's concerns that this was fiscal mismanagement. It has faceted the property and engaged a broker to sublease the space (HCCS 1250; CICA 1451-1452).	Not remedied. The District noted that no evidence was provided to support the contention that the condominium had been vacated, the lease remains active, and "considerable public funds were expended on a facility that has not been used to serve HCCTS students, and no evidence has been provided to demonstrate that these expenditures have been appropriately addressed, mitigated, or remedied." Therefore, "the District has determined that [the Charter School] failed to refute or remedy this violation to the satisfaction of the District" (HCC 1251; CICA 1452; Notice of Violation Exh. F, Correspondence from HCCTS to TRUSD regarding sites (HCCS 2262-2278)).
2. Marysville 2 Location	HCCS: HCCS responded that the lease of the baseball field was conducted by prior leadership and acknowledged that it did not constitute an appropriate use of public funds. HCCS terminated the lease, though it remained obligated to make payments through April 2026, and has attained net savings of $88,000 compared to the original lease terms. It also represented that this matter had been resolved to the fullest extent possible, given the inability of the current administration to prevent or unwind past decisions (HCCS 1251-1252).	Not remedied. HCCS continues to bear financial obligations under the lease. "The ongoing financial obligations associated with the lease, the disposal of equipment at a nominal price, and the initial misrepresentation of the site's intended use, collectively demonstrate a pattern of fiscal mismanagement and a failure to exercise appropriate stewardship of public funds. Therefore, the District has determined that HCCS failed to refute or remedy this violation to the satisfaction of the District." (HCCS, 1252; Notice of Violation Exh. G, TRUSD Feb. 19, 2025 Notice of Concern to HCCTS (HCCS 2367-2369); HCCTS response (HCCS 2370-2376); HCCS 2279-2376)).

3. Material Revision Request

On December 2, 2025, the District Board held public hearings on the charter revocations under Education Code section 47607, subdivision (h) and the Charter Schools' request for material revisions to obtain approval of the grade levels and site locations being operated in violation of the charters (HCCS 8193-8196, 8198, 6564, 7784, 5302; CICA 7132, 7134-7139, 5009, 6447, 5492).

On January 13, 2026, the Board declined to approve the Charter Schools' requests for material revisions (Jan 13, 2026 Minutes re CICA; Jan 13, 2026 Minutes re HCCS). The final decision on the revocation was scheduled for the January 27, 2026 Board meeting (HCCS 8200-8202; CICA 7140-7142).

4. Charter Revocation Hearings

a. January 27, 2026 Board Meeting

The Charter Schools' descriptions of the remedies implemented in response to the Notice of Violation are summarized below. Unless otherwise stated, these corrective actions were taken after the end of the September 26, 2025 remedy deadline.

Violation	Charter Schools' Position Remedy - Between Sept. 26, 2025 and Jan. 2026
Charter Violations

1. Grade Level Changes	After the District Board denied the material revision to add grade levels, HCCS reverted to only serving grades 1, 2, and 12, and ceased enrolling students into ninth (9th) and tenth (10th) grades (HCCS 8231-8232). The CICA charter states that the Charter School may serve grades up to eighth (8th) and 9-12 (CICA 7168).

Recommendation of District Staff

The District's minutes from the January 27, 2026 meeting reflect that District staff stated that CICA had cured the violations in the Notice of Violation to the satisfaction of District staff after the conclusion of the remedy period. Therefore, District staff recommended that the Board approve the issuance of a final decision declining to revoke the charter:

> While staff findings presented to the Board during the November meeting determined that CICA failed to remedy or refute all violations to the District's satisfaction, this presentation provided an update based on a review of additional > information submitted by the charter after the conclusion of the remedy period, between October 1, 2025 and January 9, 2026. This review found that CICA has successfully refuted or remedied all violations; providing evidence that grade levels were approved in the original petition, submitting plans to return to authorized locations, submitting the overdue audit report with plans to change audit firms, improving credentialing practices, the implementation of attendance compliance monitoring systems, terminating external partnerships and the CTE Truck Driving program, and adopting or revising board policies to address fiscal mismanagement. District staff recommended that the Board decline to revoke the charter (CICA 7146-7147; HCCS 8206-8207).

District staff made the same recommendation as to HCCS:

> Based on a data-driven review of the documentation and evidence submitted after the conclusion of the remedy period, District staff determined that all violations have been remedied to the district's satisfaction and recommended that the Board decline to revoke the charter (HCCS 8209-8211; CICA 7149-7150).

The District's conclusions that the Charter Schools had remedied the violations are included in the PowerPoint presented to the Board on January 27, 2026 (HCCS 2509-2523; CICA 2907-2921).

The motion to adopt the District staff's recommendations and issue a final decision declining to revoke both Charter Schools failed by a 1-6 vote by the District Board (January 27, 2026 meeting minutes, HCCS 8209; CICA 7149-7150). However, there was no motion or action taken by the Board to actually revoke the charters at the January 27, 2026 meeting.

b. January 30, 2026 Board Meeting

On January 30, 2026, the District Board held a special meeting to take action on resolutions to revoke the charters of HCCS and CICA (HCCS 8212-8213, 8215; CICA 7152-7153, 7155). The Board passed resolutions to revoke both charters by a 7-0 vote (HCCS 8215, 8218-8220; CICA 7155-7156). The District's revocation resolutions cite to the findings in the Notice of Intent to Revoke in support of the revocation:

> In support of its Final Decision to Revoke [the Charter Schools'] Charter, the Board adopts the facts and findings contained in the Notice of Intent to Revoke and its exhibits, as initially set forth in the NOV, and as stated herein, as its written factual findings, supported by substantial evidence specific to [the Charter Schools], and incorporates such findings into this Resolution as though set forth fully herein; and in support of its decision to issue a Final Decision to Revoke [the Charter Schools'] Charter, the Board further finds that:
> > (A) Substantial evidence demonstrates that the violations initially identified in the NOV, and demonstrated in the Notice of Intent to Revoke and exhibits thereto, and as further stated herein, have in fact occurred;
> > (B) [The Charter Schools] failed to refute, remedy, or propose remedial action sufficient to remedy all of the violations identified in the NOV;

> (C) The violations set forth in the NOV and Notice of Intent to Revoke, have not been sufficiently remedied by [the Charter Schools], and attempts at further corrective actions taken by [the Charter Schools], although considered by the Board, failed to sufficiently remedy the violations identified in the NOV and substantiated in the Notice of Intent to Revoke, and/or promised unsubstantiated and unreliable future performance and resulting uncertainty regarding future compliance.

The Charter Schools' appeals to the Sacramento County Board of Education followed. After the appeal was submitted, the Sacramento County Office of Education (SCOE) provided the Charter Schools and the District with an opportunity to submit optional written arguments, with page citations to the appeal documents, as to whether the charter revocations met the substantial evidence standard required by Education Code section 47607. (See,Twin Rivers Unified School District Response to HCCS and CICA Charter Revocation Appeal, April 21, 2026. Written Arguments of HCCS and CICA Re: Appeal of Revocation of Highlands Community Charter School to Sacramento County Board of Education, April 21, 2026.)

IV. APPLICABLE LEGAL STANDARDS OF REVIEW FOR REVOCATION APPEAL

Education Code section 47607, subdivision (i)(2) describes the County Board's scope of review of a district's charter revocation decision as follows: "The county board of education may reverse the revocation decision if the county board of education determines that the findings made by the chartering authority under subdivision (h) are not supported by substantial evidence."

A. Regulations Governing the Scope of Review

The regulations governing County Board consideration of charter school appeals from revocation contain the following three-part test:

> (1) In determining whether the district chartering authority's factual findings are supported by substantial evidence, the county board of education shall consider whether the district chartering authority provided the charter school's governing body as described in the school's charter a Notice of Violation, a reasonable opportunity to remedy the identified violation(s), a Notice of Intent to Revoke, a public hearing, and Final Decision, pursuant to Articles 2 and 2.5 and Education Code section 47607, subdivisions (f) through (h), inclusive.
>
> (2) If the charter school submits a response to the Notice of Violation pursuant to Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, section 11968.5.2, subdivision (c), the county board of education shall, in determining whether the district chartering authority's factual findings are supported by substantial evidence, consider whether the charter school complied with the procedures set forth in that section.
> (3) The county board of education shall also consider whether an alleged procedural deficiency negatively impacted the charter school's ability to > refute or remedy the alleged violation or the chartering authority's ability to comply with its procedural obligations or authorizing duties (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 11968.5.4, subds. (b)(1)-(3).)

B. The "Substantial Evidence" Standard

The "substantial evidence" standard is commonly used by courts to determine the legality of governmental agency action. Under the substantial evidence standard, the County Board does not decide the appeal based upon whether it would have revoked the charter if it were in the place of the District under the same facts and circumstances. Rather, the County Board may only reverse it if it concludes that the revocation was not supported by substantial evidence.

American Indian Model Schools v. Oakland Unified School District (2014) 227 Cal.App.4th 258, 286 (AIMS), the primary published case adjudicating a school district's charter school revocation, describes the scope of review:

> Courts "may not reweigh the evidence or substitute their judgment for that of the agency. They uphold an agency action unless it is arbitrary, capricious, lacking in evidentiary support, or was made without due regard for the petitioner's rights." (Sequoia Union High School Dist. v. Aurora Charter High School (2003) 112 Cal.App.4th 185, 195.)

Topanga Assn. for a Scenic Community v. County of Los Angeles (1974) 11 Cal.3d 506, 514-515, cited by the court in AIMS, stated that "the reviewing [entity] must determine both whether substantial evidence supports the administrative agency's findings and whether the findings support the agency's decision," and implicit to this statute "is a requirement that the agency which renders the challenged decision must set forth findings to bridge the analytic gap between the raw evidence and ultimate decision or order." (AIMS, supra, 227 Cal.App.4th 258, 278.)

County Board Policy 2400 ("BP 2400 Charter School Petitions") defines "Substantial Evidence" in the context of the "renewal, non-renewal, or revocation" of County Board approved charters:

> VII. Renewal, Non-Renewal, or Revocation
>
> D(2): "Substantial evidence," within the meaning of Education Code section 47607, shall be evidence that:
>
> a. Demonstrates that the violation was material.
> b. Supports revocation when viewed as a whole, in light of all relevant information.
> c. Demonstrates that the violation actually occurred.
> d. Was not cured by the charter school during its reasonable opportunity to remedy the violation.

The courts have recognized that an inherent part of the "substantial evidence" standard is the presumption in favor of the lower tribunal's decision. In Napa Valley Unified School District v. State Bd. of Education (2025) 110 Cal. App.5th 609, 625 the court explained:

> Under the substantial evidence test, our review begins and ends with a determination of whether there is substantial evidence, contradicted or uncontradicted, to support the findings. We do not reweigh the evidence and > are bound to indulge all presumptions and resolve all conflicts in favor of the administrative decision. Substantial evidence is relevant evidence that a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion.

"In administrative mandate cases, abuse of discretion is established if the agency has not proceeded in the manner required by law, the order or decision is not supported by the findings, or the findings are not supported by substantial evidence in light of the whole record." (Martis Camp Community Assn. v. County of Placer (2020) 53 Cal.App.5th 569, 593.)

V. EVALUATION OF THE CHARTER SCHOOLS' APPEAL

A. Application of Three-Part Test

1. Whether the District Provided the Legally Required Notices and Procedures in Connection with the Revocation Procedures

Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, section 11968.5.4, subdivision (b)(1) requires the County Board to determine whether the District provided the Required Notices and Procedures in Connection with the Revocation Procedures:

> In determining whether the district chartering authority's factual findings are supported by substantial evidence, the county board of education shall consider whether the district chartering authority provided the charter school's governing body as described in the school's charter a Notice of Violation, a reasonable opportunity to remedy the identified violation(s), a Notice of Intent to Revoke, a public hearing, and Final Decision, pursuant to Articles 2 and 2.5 and Education Code section 47607, subdivisions (f) through (h), inclusive. (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 11968.5.4, subd. (b)(1).)

The record demonstrates that, as required by Education Code section 47607, subdivisions (f) through (h), the District provided the Charter School with:

- A Notice of Violation dated June 12, 2025, which was adopted by the District's Board on June 19, 2025 (HCCS 28-1237; CICA 27 - 1438);
- More than a 90-day opportunity to remedy the identified violation(s) (from June 19, 2025 - September 26, 2025);
- A Notice of Intent to Revoke on November 4, 2025 (HCCS 1238-1270; CICA 1439 - 1468);
- A Public Hearing on December 2, 2025 (HCCS 8193-8194; 8198; CICA 7132; 7136-7139); and
- A Final Decision on January 30, 2026 (HCCS 8215, 8218-8220; CICA 7155).

The Charter Schools' appeal does not contend that the District failed to provide the notices and hearings as required by Education Code section 47607, subdivisions (f) through (h).

2. Whether the Charter Schools' Response to the Notice of Violation Complied with the Required Procedures

Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, section 11968.5.4, subdivision (b)(2) requires the County Board to determine whether the Charter Schools' response to the Notice of Violation met the procedural requirements:

> If the charter school submits a response to the Notice of Violation pursuant to section 11968.5.2(c), the county board of education shall, in determining whether the district chartering authority's factual findings are supported by substantial evidence, consider whether the charter school complied with the procedures set forth in that section. (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 11968.5.4, subd. (b)(2).)

Under Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, section 11968.5.2, subdivision (c), upon receipt of a Notice of Violation, the charter school's governing body, if it chooses to respond, shall take the following actions:

> (1) Submit to the chartering authority a detailed, written response addressing each identified violation which shall include the refutation, remedial action taken, or proposed remedial action by the charter school specific to each alleged violation. The written response shall be due by the end of the remedy period identified in the Notice of Violation. (Emphasis Added)
> (2) Attach to its written response supporting evidence of the refutation, remedial action, or proposed remedial action, if any, including written reports, statements, and other appropriate documentation.

Under Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, section 11968.5.2, subdivision (d), after conclusion of the reasonable opportunity to remedy, the chartering authority shall evaluate the charter school's response to the Notice of Violation and any supporting evidence, if submitted, and shall take one of the following actions:

> (1) If the chartering authority has substantial evidence that the charter school has failed to refute to the chartering authority's satisfaction, or remedy a violation identified in the Notice of Violation, continue revocation of the school's charter by issuing a Notice of Intent to Revoke to the charter school's governing body as described in the school's charter; or
> (2) Discontinue revocation of the school's charter and provide timely written notice of such action to the charter school's governing body as described in the school's charter.

The Charter Schools submitted their written response by the end of the remedy period identified in the Notice of Violation, on September 26, 2025.[3] However, the Charter Schools had not remedied or refuted all the violations identified by the Notice of Violation to the District's satisfaction by the September 26, 2025 remedy deadline. Among other things, the Charter Schools' legally required 2023-2024 independent audit report had not been submitted, the Charter Schools' tracking of instructional minutes remained an issue (and the subject of pending Education Audit Appeal Panel (EAAP) proceedings), the lease for the San Diego luxury

[3] Although the District asserted that it could not access the Charter Schools' attachments on September 26, 2026, it does appear that the Charter Schools' responses were submitted by September 26, 2026.

condominium was still active, and while HCCS had terminated the lease for the Marysville baseball field, it remained obligated to make lease payments through April 2026 (HCCS 1242-1252; CICA 1443-1452).

As a result, on November 4, 2025, the District took action to continue revocation of the Charter Schools by issuing a Notice of Intent to Revoke based on its findings that the Charter Schools did not adequately respond to the Notice of Violation by the end of the September 26, 2025 remedy period (HCCS 1239; CICA 1440). The District's Notice of Intent to Revoke stated that "HCCTS has either failed to remedy multiple areas of concern despite its receipt of multiple information requests and notices of concern from the District or makes promises of future improvements without offering viable plans that either have been implemented or are capable of being implemented by HCCTS" (HCCS 35; CICA 35; See, Section II(B)(2), pp. 5-8, above).

While the Charter Schools submitted a response to the District's Notice of Violation pursuant to Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, section 11968.5.2, subdivision (c) by the end of the remedy period on September 26, 2025, the record supports a finding that the Charter Schools had not remedied or refuted all the pending violations to the District's satisfaction by the end of the remedy period. Accordingly, as permitted by Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, section 11969.5.2, subdivision (d), the District Board took action to continue revocation of the Charter Schools by issuing a Notice of Intent to Revoke.

3. Whether a Procedural Deficiency Negatively Impacted the Charter Schools' Ability to Refute or Remedy the Alleged Violation

Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, section 11968.5.4, subdivision (b)(3) requires the County Board to determine whether any procedural deficiency negatively impacted the charter school's ability to refute or remedy the alleged violation:

> The county board of education shall also consider whether an alleged procedural deficiency negatively impacted the charter school's ability to refute or remedy the alleged violation or the chartering authority's ability to comply with its procedural obligations or authorizing duties. (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 11968.5.4, subd. (b)(3))

As noted above, the appeal record demonstrates that the Charter Schools had not remedied or refuted all the pending violations to the District's satisfaction by the end of the remedy period on September 26, 2025. Accordingly, as permitted by Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, section 11969.5.2, subdivision (d), the District took action to continue revocation of the Charter Schools by issuing a Notice of Intent to Revoke on November 4, 2025 and thereafter scheduling a public hearing on December 2, 2025, and a decision hearing on the revocation on January 27 and 30, 2026, as required by Education Code section 47607, subdivision (h).

a. Was the District Board Procedurally Required to Allow the Charter Schools to Correct their Violations After the September 26, 2025 Remedy Period Deadline

The issue that arises is whether the District was procedurally required to provide the Charter Schools with additional time after the September 26, 2025 deadline to remedy its violations.

Education Code section 47607 and Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, section 11968.5.4 do not require a school district to allow a charter school to remedy violations after the expiration of the remedy period set forth in the Notice of Violation, nor do they prohibit it from doing so.

The District Board's decision hearing on the revocation was scheduled on January 27, 2026. By this time, District staff had concluded that the Charter Schools had adequately remedied the infractions in the Notice of Violation based on actions taken by the Charter School after the conclusion of the remedy period on September 26, 2025, between October 1, 2025 and January 9, 2026. As stated in the Board minutes for the January 27, 2026 meeting:

> While staff findings presented to the Board during the November meeting determined that CICA failed to remedy or refute all violations to the District's satisfaction, this presentation provided an update based on a review of additional information submitted by the charter after the conclusion of the remedy period, between October 1, 2025 and January 9, 2026. This review found that CICA has successfully refuted or remedied all violations; providing evidence that grade levels were approved in the original petition, submitting plans to return to authorized locations, submitting the overdue audit report with plans to change audit firms, improving credentialing practices, the implementation of attendance compliance monitoring systems, terminating external partnerships and the CTE Truck Driving program, and adopting or revising board policies to address fiscal mismanagement. District staff recommended that the Board decline to revoke the charter (CICA 7146-7147; HCCS 8206-8207). (Emphasis Added)

Notwithstanding the District staff's January 27, 2026 recommendations, the District Board declined to adopt the staff's January 27, 2026 recommendations. Instead, finding that the Charter Schools' violations were not refuted or remedied to its satisfaction, it revoked the Charter Schools on January 30, 2026 (HCCS-8138-8220; CICA-7075-7157).

As the Education Code and regulations include no requirement to allow remedies after the close of the remedy period, the County Board may properly find that the District Board had the discretion to allow the Charter Schools to remedy its violations after the September 26, 2025 remedy deadline, but was not required to do so. While District staff recommended accepting the post deadline remedies, the District Board was not required to accept this recommendation.

If the County Board finds that the District Board was not required to consider remedies implemented after the September 26, 2025 remedy deadline, then it follows that the District Board's January 30, 2026 revocation resolution, which was based on the November 4, 2025 Notice of Intent to Revoke, contained substantial evidence to support revocation. The District's November 4, 2025 Notice of Intent to Revoke stated that "HCCTS has either failed to remedy multiple areas of concern despite its receipt of multiple information requests and notices of concern from the District or makes promises of future improvements without offering viable plans that either have been implemented or are capable of being implemented by HCCTS" (HCCS 35; CICA 35). (See, Section II(B)(2), pp. 5-8, above). The District's January 30, 2026 resolution memorializing the charter revocations confirms that when the District staff recommended issuing a Notice of Intent to Revoke on November 4, 2025:

> District staff evaluated the response from [the Charter Schools] and all documentation produced with the response, and after conducting a thorough, objective, and data-driven review, District Staff determined that [the Charter Schools] failed to refute to the District's satisfaction, or remedy all of the violations identified in the NOV, and that significant violations continue to exist, > including material violations of the conditions, standards, or procedures of its charter, fiscal mismanagement, and violations of law…[B]ased upon the substantial evidence demonstrating CICA's failure to refute and/or remedy multiple violations identified in the NOV, District staff recommended that the Board approve issuance of the a Notice of Intent to Revoke and notice of facts in support of revocation ("Notice of Intent to Revoke") to CICA pursuant to Education Code section 47607 and Section 11968.5.2, and the Board approved issuance of a Notice of Intent to Revoke at its meeting on November 4, 2025, supported by substantial evidence presented therewith…(HCCS 6503; CICA 6431).

If the County Board finds that the District was not required to consider remedies taken after the remedy deadline, then the District's Board had the right to demand that remedies be complete by the end of the remedy period on September 26, 2025, and to revoke the charters based upon the Charter Schools' failure to complete remedies by the end of the remedy period. In this case, the District's factual findings support its legal conclusion that the Charter Schools failed to remedy the violations set forth in the Notice of Violation. (See, e.g., American Indian Model Schools v. Oakland Unified School District (2014) 227 Cal.App.4th 258.)

B. If the Charter Schools Were Entitled to Correct Their Violations After the Original Remedy Deadline, Is there Substantial Evidence to Support a Conclusion that Violations Were Not Sufficiently Remedied

Alternatively, if the County Board finds that the District Board was required to consider remedies implemented by the Charter Schools after the remedy period but before the final revocation decision on January 30, 2026, then it must determine whether the record contains substantial evidence to support the Board's finding that the Charter Schools had failed to refute, remedy, or proposed remedial actions sufficient to remedy all the violations identified in the Notice of Violation. (See, District Revocation Resolution, HCCS 6501-6504, CICA 6429-6432.) Substantial evidence is relevant evidence, contradicted or uncontradicted, that a reasonable mind might accept to support a conclusion. (Napa Valley Unified School District, supra, 110 Cal. App. 5th at 625.)

The appeal record indicates that, as of January 27, 2026, District staff were satisfied with the Charter Schools' remedies. District staff's presentation noted that between October 2025 and January 2026, "HCCTS submitted a substantial amount of evidence showing compliance and providing confirmation that the organization has begun to take steps to remedy violations" (HCCS 2514, CICA 2912). However, members of the District's governing board expressed that the concerns in the Notice of Violations had not been remedied to their satisfaction (HCCS 8211).

If the County Board determines that there is relevant evidence to support the District Board's conclusion that the Charter Schools had not adequately remedied or refuted any of the violations to its satisfaction at the time of the Board's revocation decision, then it may uphold the District's revocation even if it finds that the District was required to allow remedies after the September 26, 2026 remedy deadline.[4]

Alternatively, if the County Board determines that the District Board's dissatisfaction with the Charter Schools' remedies as of January 30, 2026 was not supported by substantial evidence in the appeal record, then it may overturn the District's revocation decision if it also finds that the District Board was required to consider remedies implemented between the September 26 remedy deadline and its January 30, 2026 revocation decision.

C. Were there Other Procedural Deficiencies that Negatively Impacted the Charter Schools' Ability to Refute or Remedy the Alleged Violations

The Charter Schools' appeal asserts that the following procedural errors/omissions negatively impacted the District's ability to comply with its procedural obligations and duties as an authorizer:

1. Conclusory Findings

The Charter Schools contend that the District Board committed procedural errors and omissions "[b]y issuing conclusory 'findings' with no explanation of why the facts before the District Board led to the District Board's conclusion that CICA 'failed to refute, remedy, or propose remedial action sufficient to remedy all of the violations identified in the NOV…'" (HCCS 19; CICA 17). The Charter Schools contend that, as a result of the District staff's recommendation to decline to revoke the charter, and the District Board's vote to revoke, the "'analytic gap' between the 'raw evidence' before the District Board and the 'ultimate decision or order' is not bridged in any respect by the District Board's purported "findings." (citing, American Indian Model Schools v. Oakland Unified School Dist. (2014) 227 Cal.App.4th 258, 278.) (HCCS 20; CICA 18.)

This allegation does not constitute a "procedural deficiency" that "negatively impacted the charter school's ability to refute or remedy the alleged violation or the chartering authority's ability to comply with its procedural obligations or authorizing duties" (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 11968.5.4, subd. (b)(3)). The record shows that the Charter Schools were provided an opportunity to refute or remedy the alleged violations before the District adopted its findings and decision. Therefore, the District's findings could not have impacted the Charter Schools' ability to refute or remedy its violations.

[4] For example, the District Board could have determined that the remedies were not adequate because, although the Charter Schools had terminated the lease on the San Diego luxury condominium, the public funds expended on the property had not and would not be recovered; or although HCCS had terminated the lease for the Marysville baseball field, public funds were still being used to pay for the Marysville site through April 2026 and previous expenditures would not be recovered, or although the Charter Schools had made serious efforts to improve practices related to student attendance enforcement, the Charter Schools' instructional minutes tracking and attendance policy was still at issue pending the outcome of the state EAAP audit proceedings; or although the Charter Schools had "submitted plans to return to authorized locations," and "has been taking action to terminate or buy-out leases," it was not clear that this had been accomplished yet. Each of these issues were detailed in the Notice of Intent to Revoke, which was incorporated into the Board's final resolutions. (HCCS 6503-6504; 1239-1252; CICA 6431-6432, 1440-1452) And these remained issues as of January 27, 2026. (HCCS 6515, 6517, 6861-6907, 1251-1252, 2262-2278, 2279-2376; CICA 1452.)

2. Failure to Specify Which Issues the Charter Schools Were Unable to Remedy or Refute

The Charter Schools contend that "[i]t defies reason that the District Board would have found that all of the alleged violations have not been refuted or remedied because there is no information in the record to support lack of remedy for any issue and even apart from that, some of them are just not reasonably disputable." (HCCS 20; CICA 18)

Again, this contention is not a procedural deficiency that impacted the Charter Schools' ability to remedy its violations. Instead, it relates to whether the record contains "substantial evidence" to support the District Board's findings. In determining the existence of "substantial evidence," the whole record is considered. (Martis Camp Community Assn., supra, 53 Cal.App.5th at 593.)

3. The District's Failure to Act on Some Violations "For Years" Led the Charter School to Believe that the District Accepted those Violations

The Charter Schools assert that "[t]he District spent years fully aware of many of these alleged violations and either gave tacit, or in some cases, direct, approval…Instead of giving notice of alleged violations along with a meaningful opportunity to correct, as required by law, the District allowed these alleged violations to exist for years before notifying the charter school of them and refused to allow the school to change course" (HCCS 22; CICA 20).

The appeal record does not support the Charter Schools' assertion, as the record includes evidence of numerous District Requests for Information, Notices of Concern, and other inquiries to the Charter Schools over the years. (See e.g., CICA 745-746; 2018 FCMAT Audit Report noting several practices requiring correction (CICA 1327-1342); 2024-2025 District Correspondence Re need for material revision to serve grade levels not authorized by approved charters (CICA 326-331); June 2024, August 2024, September 2024, January 2025, April 2025 Notices of Concern and Requests for Information Re facility location discrepancies and MOU compliance (CICA 353-370, 426-428, 574-575, 589-595, 658-659); September 2024 Request for Information Re enrollment reports (CICA 568 -573); March 2025, April 7, 2025, April 24, 2025 Requests for Information and Notices of Concern Re Independent Financial Audit Report (CICA 697- 705); October 2024 Request for Information Re Instructional Minutes and January 2025 Student Attendance Review (CICA 727-786); April 2024 Notice of Concern Re Marysville 2 (baseball field) location (CICA 1027); January 2025, March 2025 District Correspondence Re CALPads reporting errors (CICA 1098-1099, 1115-1119); October 2024, February 2025 District Complaint/Request for Information Re non-students participating in CTE truck driving certification courses (CICA 1316-1317, 1124-1125), etc.)

Furthermore, given the gravity of the violations involving fiscal mismanagement and violations of the law, which the Charter Schools have acknowledged, it was the Charter Schools' responsibility to remedy these violations once they were raised or be subject to revocation. The District's oversight practices in previous years did not relieve the Charter Schools of the responsibility to remedy the violations nor interfere with its ability to do so. On appeal, the County Board's role is to determine whether the District complied with its procedural obligations for revocation and whether the record includes substantial evidence to support the District Board's decision to revoke.

VI. Conclusion

Under Education Code section 47607, subdivision (i), the County Board has the following three options regarding the Twin Rivers Unified School District governing board's decision to revoke the Highlands Community Charter School and California Innovative Career Academy:

- The County Board "may reverse the revocation decision if the county board of education determines that the findings made by the chartering authority under subdivision (h) are not supported by substantial evidence." (Ed. Code, § 47607, subd. (i)(2).)
- The County Board may affirm the revocation if it finds that the findings of the District Board are supported by substantial evidence. (Ed. Code, § 47607, subd. (i)(2).)
- If the County Board does not issue a decision on the appeal within 90 days of receipt, the Charter School may appeal the District's revocation to the State Board of Education (SBE). (Ed. Code, § 47607, subd. (i)(3).)

The threshold question for the County Board is whether the District's revocation of the charters was supported by substantial evidence. The County Board may uphold the revocations if it finds that the revocations were supported by substantial evidence; it may reverse the revocations if it finds that they were not supported by substantial evidence.

A California Court has described the substantial evidence test as follows:

> "Under the substantial evidence test, our review begins and ends with a determination of whether there is substantial evidence, contradicted or uncontradicted, to support the findings. We do not reweigh the evidence and are bound to indulge all presumptions and resolve all conflicts in favor of the administrative decision. Substantial evidence is relevant evidence that a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion." (Napa Valley Unified School District v. State Bd. of Education (2025) 110 Cal. App. 5th 609, 625.)

If the County Board finds that the District Board was not required to consider remedies implemented after the September 26, 2025 remedy deadline, then the District Board's January 30, 2026 revocation resolution, which was based on the November 4, 2025 Notice of Intent to Revoke, contained substantial evidence to support revocation.

Alternatively, if the County Board determines that the District Board's dissatisfaction with the Charter Schools' remedies as of January 30, 2026 was not supported by substantial evidence in the appeal record, then it may overturn the District's revocation decision if it also finds that the District Board was required to consider remedies implemented between the September 26 remedy deadline and its January 30, 2026 revocation decision.

If the County Board does not issue a decision on the appeal within 90 days of receipt, the District's decision is upheld, and the Charter Schools may appeal the revocation to the State Board of Education (SBE). (Ed. Code, § 47607, subd. (i)(2).)

County Board's Legal Scope of Review

Threshold Question:

- Whether the District Board's revocation of the HCCS and CICA charters was supported by substantial evidence. (Ed. Code, § 47607 (i)(2).)
- Not*: Whether County Board would have revoked on same facts if it were in the place of the District Board.*

Substantial Evidence

Legal definition of "substantial evidence":

- Relevant evidence that a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion
- Relevant evidence, contradicted or uncontradicted, to support the findings
- Reviewing entity may not reweigh the evidence or substitute its judgment for that of the deciding entity
- Indulge all presumptions and resolve all conflicts in favor of district's decision
- Uphold decision unless it is arbitrary, capricious, lacking in evidentiary support, or made without due regard for petitioner's rights

Potential Outcome: AFFIRM

- The District Board adopted a remedy deadline of September 26, 2025.
- After Charter Schools did not refute or remedy all violations by deadline, District issued Notice of Intent to Revoke (NIR) on November 4, 2025.
- The Board was not required to allow remedies after the deadline.
- The NIRs contain substantial evidence to support the revocations.
- Even if District Board was required to consider corrective actions taken after the remedy period, the record contains relevant evidence to support the Board's finding that all alleged violations were not sufficiently remedied by January 30, 2026.

Potential Outcome: REVERSE

If County Board determines both of the following:

- District Board was required to consider remedies after the September 26, 2025, remedy deadline;

AND

- The record does not contain relevant evidence to support the District Board's January 30, 2026, findings that the Charter Schools' violations had occurred, and that violation(s) had not been sufficiently remedied.

Then, the County Board may determine that substantial evidence does not support the revocation and may reverse.

MEETING OF THE

SACRAMENTO COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

AGENDA ITEMS FOR THE CHARTER REVOCATION APPEALS

SUBMITTED BY THE CALIFORNIA INNOVATION CAREER ACADEMY

AND THE HIGHLANDS COMMUNITY CHARTER SCHOOL

MAY 19, 2026

MS. SABENIANO: Next, we are going to proceed with the agenda items for the charter revocation appeals submitted by the California Innovation Career Academy and the Highlands Community Charter School.

I'm going to call both agenda items, and all proceedings -- including the public hearings and public comments -- will apply to both items.

After the board has heard from SCOE staff and the charter school representatives -- and the Twin Rivers Unified School District representatives, any pub- -- public comment will be taken at that point. And then following that, the board will ask questions and deliberate.

So, I will call -- oh, sorry. The public -- yeah. The public hearing will now open at 7:09 p.m. So, yes, go ahead. Take it away, SCOE staff.

MS. STINSON: Yes. Good evening, President Corona Sabeniano, trustees, Superintendent Gordon, colleagues, and guests. Tonight, the county board will consider the charter revocation appeals for the Highlands Community Charter School and the California Innovative Career Academy.

The board and the public have received the Sacramento County Office of Education analysis of this, so tonight I'm just going to begin with a summary overview of the appeals process and the legal standard of review for charter revocation appeals.

And after I'm done with my brief presentation, then the charter school appellants from Highlands Community Charter School and California Innovative Charter -- Career Academy, as well as from Twin Rivers Unified School District, will have an opportunity to present. And then we will have the public hearing, and the board will have an opportunity to ask questions.

So, just to -- just kind of a brief overview of where we are. So, as you know, the Twin Rivers Unified School District revoked the -- both charter schools -- adopted a final decision revoking both charter schools on January 30th of 2026. Both charter schools filed timely appeals with the Sacramento County Office of Education and Sacramento County Board of Education on February 27th.

And by law, the county board may affirm the revocations of the school district if they were supported by substantial evidence; they may overturn the revocations if they were not supported by substantial evidence.

Either party may appeal an adverse ruling to the State Board of Education, and the charter school may also appeal if the -- if the -- if the county board does not make a decision or is unable to take action on the item. Then -- then the charter school may appeal.

This is just some key dates in the revocation proceedings. In 2024-25 -- and these are all included in the record, just kind of highlighting there, just to give the key dates -- there were notices of concern and information requests that were submitted to both charter schools from the school district.

On June 17th, 2025, the school district board adopted a notice of violation and set a remedy period to expire on September 26th of 2 -- 2025. As of November 4th, 2025 -- the -- the charter schools submitted a response on September 26th, 2025.

The school district reviewed those responses and exhibits and determined at a hearing on November 4th, 2025, that the violations had not been refuted or remedied by the deadline, and the district board issued the notice of intent to revoke.

Then on December 2nd, there were public hearings held on the charter revocations. On January -- meanwhile, the charter schools continued to attempt to remedy.

On January 27th, 2026, the district staff recommended against revocation, finding that the charters had cured violations to the staff satisfaction after the remedy deadline. The district board, however, did not adopt the staff recommendations, and on January 30th of 2026, the district board adopted final decisions revoking both charters.

This is just a -- a very brief overview of the violations that were alleged in the notice of violations. Under the Charter Schools Act, a charter school may be revoked for a violation of the charter, for a violation of the law, or for fiscal mismanagement, or not following generally accepted accounting principles. So, these are the -- the grounds in which the notice of violation were issued.

The allegations relating to violation of the charters was for operating grade levels that were not in the charters, and also for operating locations that were not in the charter, or an approved MOU between the district and the charter schools.

The alleged violations of law were for failure to timely submit the annual independent audit report for the 23-24 school year, violations related to credential miss assignments, failure to provide and track minimum instructional minutes, and violation of the WIOA exclusive partnership agreement.

The allegations related to fis- -- fiscal mismanagement related to leasing a luxury condominium in San Diego, which was not used for students served by the charter, and also for leasing a Mary- -- a baseball field in Marysville, which was not used for students, including donated public funds for upkeeping that baseball field and -- and using other equipment.

That lease was -- as alleged in the notice of violation, that -- the lease was terminated; however, the charter schools were required to make lease payments through April 2026, which at some point, were bought out.

So, in terms of the county board scope of review, your legal scope is to really determine -- the key to this is whether the district board's revocation of the charter schools was supported by substantial evidence. It's a -- it's a legal standard of review.

That -- the issue is not whether the county board putting itself in the shoes of the school district would have revoked the charter if it were looking at the same facts and circumstances.

So, in terms of substantial evidence, the courts have defined -- there's a number of cases out there that talk about substantial evidence, and the courts have said that it's relevant evidence that a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion. It's -- they've also described it as relevant evidence that is contradicted or uncontradicted to support the findings.

So, it doesn't just have to be uncontradicted evidence in the record; there has to be some evidence in there that a reasonable person could rely on to support the findings.

And when you're using this and applying the substantial evidence standard, the reviewing entity, which -- which means the county board -- is not allowed to re-weigh the evidence or substitute its judgment for that of the deciding entity. Instead, it indulges all presumptions and resolves all conflicts in favor of the lower tribunal's decision, in this case, the school district's decision, and this is right out of the case law.

And normally, the decision is upheld unless it's considered arbitrary, capricious, la- --lacking in evidentiary support, or made without due regard for petitioner's rights.

So, as I mentioned before, there's potential outcomes that the board will be considering tonight and deciding upon.

If the board were to affirm the school district's decision, it could do so on these bases: the district board adopted this remedy deadline of September 26th.

After the charter schools did not refute or remedy all the violations by the deadline, the district issued the notice of intent to revoke on November 4th, 2025, and proceeded with the remaining procedures required by the education code, it -- the board -- if it were to find that the board was not required to allow remedies after the deadline, and that the notice of intent to revoke contained substantial evidence to support the revocations.

Alternatively, even if the district board was -- the -- if the county board -- even if the county board were to determine that the district board was required to take corrective actions after the remedy period, then this county board could still affirm if it concluded that the record contained relevant evidence to support the board's finding that all of the alleged violations had not been sufficiently remedied.

If the board -- the county board were to reverse the district's decision, it would need to do on these bases: if the county board determines both that the district board was required to consider remedies after the September 26-25 remedy deadline, and that the record did not contain any relevant evidence to support the district's findings that the charter school's violations had occurred, and that the violations had not been sufficiently remedied.

If both of those were found, then the -- the county board might be able to determine that substantial evidence does not support revocation.

I will be available to answer questions at the end of the public hearing, I just kind of wanted to outline the applicable standards.

So, now we will hear from representatives of the Highlands Community Charter School and California Innovative Career Academy. Followed by that, the Twin Rivers Unified School District will have an opportunity to address you. Thank you.

[inaudible]

MR. RAYMOND: Good evening, trustees and Superintendent Gordon. My name is Jonathan Raymond; I'm here along with Jerry Simmons and Darrell Steinberg. We're representing the students and staff of Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools.

I want to begin this evening with a story that's directly relevant to the issues before you this evening.

My first formal role in public education was serving as chief accountability officer for the Charlotte-Mecklenburg schools.

At the time, my oldest daughter was learning to read, and one day she picked up my business card, and she looked at me and she said, daddy, what does a chief accountability officer do? I smiled and said, honey, my job is to catch people doing good things.

It was a cute answer, I know. But as I've learned, there's real truth in that answer. Shortly after arriving in Charlotte, my mentor, the late Superintendent Thom Payzant, challenged me with a question that fundamentally has shaped my understanding of leadership and accountability.

He asked, what do you mean by accountability? Is it accountability, I got you, or is it accountability to get it right? And that definition really matters.

Because in education, where the stakes are so high for students and families, accountability cannot simply be about punishment. It must ultimately be about whether we are willing to do the hard work to get it right for our students.

And that's why tonight matters.

When Twin Rivers established September 26th, 2025, as the deadline to cure the notice of violations, they knew it was administratively impossible. They knew I had only recently been hired, and would not start in Sacramento until the middle of July. They knew that Highlands had laid off over 600 employees and that the organization was in trauma. And they knew there was no academic leadership structure, and that the opening of schools was only weeks away.

Under those circumstances, no reasonable organization could have fully cured every violation by that date. The deadline was arbitrary, it was unfair, and it came on the heels of a state audit that not only criticized Highlands, but that called out Twin Rivers itself for years of poor and lax oversight.

That is not accountability focused on getting it right; that is accountability focused on, I got you.

But then something important happened: Twin Rivers staff began working collaboratively with our team.

A spirit of partnership and problem solving began to emerge, and the public record reflects this clearly through numerous emails and communications, including Trustee Baker's public statement at the November 4th board meeting when he noted, and I quote, "The school will be given additional time to correct those violations or provide demonstrative evidence of progress towards compliance."

He further noted the process allows multiple opportunities for Highlands to address the issues through de- -- detailed plans and documented steps towards resolution.

The record further shows Highlands was given until January 2nd to provide evidence, documentation, and plans demonstrating compliance with the notice of violations. And we relied on these assurances.

And ultimately, that collaborative work between Twin Rivers and our staff led the Twin Rivers staff, the superintendent, and their legal counsel to recommend on January 26th that Highlands had cured the violations, and that revocation was not warranted.

To now argue otherwise, to suddenly claim Highlands failed because it had not cured by September 26th, is inconsistent with the record.

It's inconsistent with the spirit of collaboration that had followed, and it's inconsistent with the legislature's clear intent that schools be given a meaningful opportunity to improve and cure deficiencies.

But most importantly -- most importantly, it is not in the best interest of students, because Highlands is more than a school to the nearly 2,000 people that we now serve.

For many students, Highlands is a lifeline. It's a place where students feel respected, safe, and seen. It's where they learn English. They can earn a high school diploma and gain technical skills that can transform the trajectory of their lives and the lives of the families that they are part of.

These students deserve this school, and they should not be punished for the failures of prior leadership, none of whom remain affiliated with Highlands today.

In just 10 months -- 10 months, our team has worked relentlessly to restore integ- -- restore integrity, rebuild trust, strengthen our systems, raise expectations and standards, and make decisions that are grounded in the best interests of our students. We've earned the opportunity to continue this work.

So, let me be crystal clear. A vote to reverse Twin Rivers revocation allows Highlands to continue to stabilize, improving and innovating on behalf of our students. It allows their stories to continue to be shaped by their hopes and their dreams.

A vote against Highlands, or a failure to act, effectively dooms this school and disrupts the lives of nearly 2,000 students who depend on it.

And let me say this plainly. Your vote tonight is not about us up here. It's about these students right here. Stand up, students. Stand up. Stand up [inaudible].

It is about -- it is about whether we believe these students -- it's about whether we believe these students deserve an institution willing to fight for them, improve for them, and refuse to give up on them.

As I close, I want to leave you with one final commitment. Highlands will not seek reauthorization through Twin Rivers in the future. And I promise you this: If given the opportunity to continue this work, Highlands will become a school that this community, that this county, and that this state can be really proud in. Thank you.

MR. SIMMONS: Good evening -- good evening, board members. I'm Jerry Simmons and I serve as legal counsel for Highlands. I'm going to skip through some slides I have that were related to the legal standards, because Tracy did cover that -- your general counsel -- already.

However, I did want to make sure that we walked through each of the issues that were at stake in the notice of violations, and what the district staff found on each of those issues.

There was an issue about grade levels not being approved, and district staff found that Highlands had ceased the practice of enrolling students in the 9th and 10th grade; that it had in fact started enrollment in 1st and 2nd grade -- which were the grades contained in the charter -- that there was a commitment reached and agreed upon that before adding or changing grades -- that Highlands would submit a material revision request.

And that, if not approved, Highlands would continue to serve 1st, 2nd, and 12th grades as approved in their petition. So, staff found that issue was fully remedied.

Similarly, staff found that the locations issue was remedied, because the Highlands Board had been taking action to terminate or buy out leases that were not in the approved petition. And then, Highlands did move into only locations that were in the approved petition prior to the remedy date, and that was added to the record.

And further, Highlands did adopt and revise multiple board policies, including one related to school site opening and closure, to ensure this would never happen again.

There was also an issue with regard to failure to submit an audit report. This was ultimately submitted to the district on January 2nd, 2026. So, this issue was found to be remedied.

In terms of credential misassignment, this issue relates to the fact that the school had been using adult education credentials for many of its teachers. They are serving only adults, as I think all of you know, which is why they had chosen that credential.

This was questioned in the state audit, and so Highlands shifted, and laid off employees who had those adult ED credentials and replaced them with teachers who had high school credentials. The -- the district found that this was, in fact, also remedied.

Failure to track and meet instructional minutes was also found to be remedied. They found that there were corrective actions taken to improve attendance policies and procedures that were evidenced through revised calendars, bell schedules, staff trainings, and internal audits, and that the school was collaborating with its back office provider to support attendance monitoring and reporting.

There was also a question about violation of the exclusive partnership agreement where students who were not involved or enrolled in a Workforce Investment Act program had been allowed to enroll in the charter school.

Those students were disenrolled, and the program in question was terminated, and therefore, there was evidence on the record that this issue also had been fully remedied.

In terms of the fiscal mismanagement of the San Diego location, this was also found to be remedied due to a lease termination and buyout, and through adopted and revised board policies to prevent this sort of issue from ever happening again.

Similarly, with regard to the Marysville 2 -- which was the baseball facility referenced by your counsel -- this was also found to have been bought out, and also board policies adopted to resolve this issue and prevent it from occurring in the future.

There were a couple of issues that were different with regard to CICA than Highlands. I'm just going to mention those briefly.

In the case of CICA, there was no issue with grade levels, because the charter petition did authorize service of both 9 through 12, and 8th grade and below. So, essentially, a K-12 petition for CICA. So, with that evidence, staff found that the CICA had successfully refuted that alleged violation.

And then the Marysville 2 location was not applicable to CICA. That was only an issue that related to Highlands.

So, with that, I'm going to turn the balance of our presentation time over to Darrell Steinberg.

MR. STEINBERG: Thank you, Jerry. Madam President, members of the board, it's good to be before you. First time I've been on this side of the dais in a few decades. I respect the job that you do.

Process and due process matter. And while I believe strongly in Jonathan Raymond and his team's vision and the work they have done to begin turning Highlands around -- this is somewhat about that, but it's more about the flawed, and, frankly, illegal process that Twin Rivers conducted over the course of these months.

That leads to an inevitable conclusion that there is no substantial evidence on the whole record to support the board's decision to revoke.

The question has been raised numerous times; since the Twin Rivers board has final decision-making authority -- let's stipulate to that. Not the staff, the Twin Rivers Board.

Did the staff make a unilateral rogue decision, separate from the board, to give Highlands more time after September 27th of 2025? Or did they in fact authorize the staff to work with Highlands to give them more time to remedy the alleged violations?

I ask for your patience in going through a little bit of a detailed timeline in five minutes, because the timeline is dispositive here. It's what matters.

On November the 4th, 2025, the Twin Rivers board had a meeting. And at that meeting, they issued a notice of intent to revoke -- not a revocation, intent to revoke. At the same meeting, four out of the seven trustees are on the record saying, either explicitly or implicitly, that Highlands should be granted more time.

I have the transcript in front of me, and if we had time, or upon question from you, we've actually put some of the highlights of the meeting for you to watch.

But here's what President Jefferson said. "I want to see the work continue. It is my hope that we get there, but we are not there today."

She went on to say that, "We can get Highlands Charter into compliance. We can help them." Trustee one. Trustee two -- Trustee Baker said that, "We're giving them another 60 days to correct these violations."

Trustee Baker, "60 days to correct the violations." And by the way, Trustee Baker then makes the motion to pass the intent to revoke. So, Trustee Baker is saying, this is an intent. You get 60 more days.

Trustee Vogt. After the Twin Rivers legal counsel says, we're giving them more time, he says -- or Trustee Vogt said, "That would hold us to a finite, finite timeline, correct?" Correct.

And finally, Trustee Bastian said, "Tonight's vote is not about closing Highlands Charter. It's about giving more time to make it right. Is that the essence?"

Four board members gave the Twin Rivers staff the authority to go forward to continue working with Highlands. And then here is the key thing that happens after that. Three minutes.

December the 3rd of 2025, the lead staff for Twin Rivers, a woman named Sharilyn Warta, writes to Highlands and says, "You have until January 2nd to submit more evidence."

And she says -- and this is really key -- that, "We're giving you this time so that we can expand the record." Talking about the record -- substantial evidence on the record. So, it was Warta that says, "You need to submit evidence timely so that we can expand the record."

So, then what happens? They work together, of course. And the Twin River staff, after working with Highlands, concludes -- it's the only factual finding, by the way, on the completed record -- that Highlands, in fact, complied, and that there is no basis for revocation. It's clear that they said that.

What then does the board do?

The board, on January 27th, issues a resolution which relies on the November 4th, 2025 notice of intent -- notice of intent to revoke, which was the old record -- the pre-November 4th record. They rely on that when, again, on November 4th, this very same meeting, they ask for an expanded record to consider whether or not Highlands has actually come into compliance.

This is the essence of an abuse of discretion.

And so -- I've got a minute 38 left, and I want to sum it up with this: in determining whether there is substantial evidence in the record to support the board's decision, please ask yourself this; which record?

Is it the record prior to September of 2025 that the board relies on in making its ultimate decision on January the 27th? Or is it the record that the board itself asked for on November 4th to consider, again, whether or not Highlands was in compliance?

They gave direction to expand the record, and the same night, they contradicted themselves -- they contradicted -- I'm -- they contradicted themselves.

The expanded record that they requested has no evidence to make a conclusion that Highlands failed to comply. In fact, just the opposite.

In the -- in the January 27th revocation itself, they did not -- they did not provide any new allegations; they did not specifically rebut the staff. They simply said, we're relying on the old record, after they had asked to create a new record.

That's an abuse of discretion.

And I would argue -- respectfully, I think your counsel did a very fine job in presenting the options -- but it's one of the clearest cases of a lack of substantial evidence in a record that the very board asked for.

So, we ask you on clear process violation to grant the appeal. Thank you.

MS. STINSON: I will now invite the Twin Rivers Unified School District representatives to make their presentation.

MR. DIGIULIO: Good evening, Board President Corona Sabeniano, members of the board, as well as Superintendent Gordon. My name -- my name is Ryan DiGiulio.

I'm the chief business official for Twin Rivers Unified School District, and I'm joined here by our attorney, William Schuetz of Dannis Woliver Kelley, and we'll be presenting to you a review of the district's revocation process and findings for both the Highlands Community Charter School and the California Innovative Career Academy.

And I'd like to say that -- apologize we don't have more representation here, but we also have a board meeting occurring tonight, so -- but everybody sends their well wishes, and we'll get started.

MR. SCHUETZ: Good evening, board and Dr. Gordon. I appreciate the time. This is -- my name is Bill Schuetz, I'm with Dannis Woliver Kelley representing the district here tonight.

So, this first slide is just really timelines, which you've already gone through earlier with counsel's presentation.

As confirmed by SCOE in their analysis of the revocation appeals, Twin Rivers satisfied all required timelines and followed the revocation procedures outlined in the education code and applicable regulations.

So, following -- after multiple and varying requests for information and notice of concern over a 12-month period, the district issued a notice of violation on June 17th, which gave the charter schools until September 26th, over 3 months, to remedy the violations. Because they failed to remedy the violations and concerns that were brought to their attention before then.

By approving the issuance of the notice of intent to revoke, the district board concluded that the charter schools failed to sufficiently remedy all the violations identified in the notice of violation by the expiration of the remedy period.

Although the charter schools submitted additional materials and took other actions after expiration of the remedy period, the board was not obligated to consider remedial efforts taken after expiration of the remedy period.

Even if the district were required to consider them, the board found that attempts at further remedial actions after expiration of the remedy period failed to sufficiently remedy the violations and-or promised unsubstantiated and unreliable future performance. And these were adopted as part of the findings of the board.

So, the core question -- and -- and Counsel Stinson mentioned earlier that it's not, was progress made, or could a different decision have been reached, but it's, was there substantial evidence in the record? Does it support the findings?

On appeal, the county board scope of review is limited to determining whether the revo- -- revocation findings made by the district board are supported by substantial evidence on the record. And as reference, that's a deferential standard.

Substantial evidence has been defined by the courts as relevant evidence that a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion, and the evidence must be viewed in light most favorable to the district board's decision.

As recognized by staff in their analysis, an inherent part of the substantial evidence standard is a presumption in favor of the district board's decision.

So, should the board -- this county board conclude that substantial evidence in the record supports the district's findings regarding any one of the grounds for revocation, that determination compels the county board to affirm the district's revocation decision.

So, it was mentioned briefly earlier, but the final decision whether to revoke a charter is made by the authorizer's board, not by staff. The Twin Rivers board concluded that the charter schools had not sufficiently remedied the violations by the end of the remedy period.

While staff's recommendation regarding revocation was based on post-remedy period actions taken by the charter schools to address the violations, the district board was not required to accept staff's recommendation or consider any actions taken after the expiration of that remedy period.

So, Ryan's going to go through some of those violations for you right now.

MR. DIGIULIO: So, as we go through each individual violation, you'll see in the top left corner is the school that's impacted. So, for this one it's the Highlands Community charter. The violation itself, grade levels not approved. And then we'll go through kind of the factual background, and Bill will come back and talk about the staff findings and the ultimate board decision.

So, again, this applies to Highlands Community Charter School, and there was admitted wrongdoing here. Highlands said that they would take responsibility.

To cure or remedy this violation, Highlands submitted two material revisions; Highlands withdrew both material revision requests before the Twin Rivers board could make a determination.

As part of the proposed remedy, Highlands also submitted three different grade level transition plans. The final grade level transmission plan, submitted on January 9th, stated that they would not be in compliance with their petition until July 1st of 2026.

MR. SCHUETZ: So, following that process, staff determined that once implemented, that January 9th plan would remedy the violation. But the district board decision determined that Highlands continue to serve students in grades that are not approved, therefore it had not been remedied, and promises of future compliance were not acceptable.

MR. DIGIULIO: So, the next violation related to HCCS again; locations not approved. And the location was one operating at 10013 Folsom Boulevard. Highlands did admit wrongdoing and said they have failed to comply.

To remedy the violations, Highlands submitted three material revision requests. The first two were withdrawn before determination could be made. The final request was submitted on January 2nd of this year.

During the January 27th board meeting, Highlands offered conflicting information regarding this matter. They verbally stated that they had returned to approved locations, but their presentation had said that they submitted plans to cure the violation.

To date, the district has not received evidence, such as a termination agreement, that show Highlands is vacated from 10013 Folsom Boulevard.

MR. SCHUETZ: And then staff, during the January 27th, meeting determined that CICA was in process of moving to locations that are approved, but did not confirm that -- that the Highlands have provided evidence of compliance.

The Twin Rivers board determined that Highlands had not complied with -- within the remedy period, and that plans promising future compliance were insufficient.

MR. DIGIULIO: So, also for locations not approved, we have CICA here, and they were operating at six unapproved sites, as seen on the bottom right corner of the slide right there. You can see in red.

CICA did admit wrongdoing and failed -- and said they had failed to comply. To cure or remedy this violation, CICA submitted three material revision requests. The first two requests, again, were withdrawn. The final one was submitted on January 2nd.

During the January 13th material revision public hearing, CICA stated the material revision request cured the violation, and if the material revision request was denied, they would return to approved sites.

By stating that they would return if denied, CICA admitted to continued operation at the unapproved locations through January. The school, essentially, postponed compliance until time had expired.

To date, the district has not received any evidence, such as termination agreements or communications from landlords, that CICA has vacated from the unapproved locations.

MR. SCHUETZ: So, similar to HCCS, staff concluded that CICA was in the process of moving to locations that are approved, but the board's ultimate decision was that the violation had not been remedied, and that plans of future compliance were not acceptable.

MR. DIGIULIO: And now, for both schools, related to the failure to submit the 23-24 audit report. This applies to both schools.

Highlands assigns responsibility for this failure to Eide Bailly, the auditor. Highlands asserted they had been responsive and they had provided all the necessary documentation to the auditor.

The district received unreliable reports from Highlands and CICA. The reports do not constitute what is considered a compliant audit; to the contrary, they confirm the absence of any reliable financial information to solicit an opinion upon. The auditors state they were unable to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for an audit opinion.

There is, in quote, "Substantial doubt about the organization's," quote, "Ability to continue as a going concern," quote. And therefore, quote, "We do not express an opinion on these financial statements," quote.

MR. SCHUETZ: So, as -- as mentioned and reflected in this slide, copies of other reports were provided to the district on January 2nd. The board decision was that the violation had not been remedied within the fine remedy period.

MR. DIGIULIO: The next violation regarding CICA is a failure to track and meet instructional minutes. CICA submitted three different student calen-- calendars, stating the previous version had errors. The last version was submitted on October 13th of 2025.

Without accurate calendars, the district could not evaluate compliance with instructional minutes. Calculation required that they have a number of days and the hours assigned work per day. For example, the equation student days times daily minutes equals your annual instructional minutes.

Instead, CICA relied on attendance processes, procedures, pacing guides, curriculum, lengthy explanations on synchronous learning opportunities, and more, as opposed to the calculation. That information was helpful, but the violation was -- was for failure to ensure the school met the required annual instructional minutes.

CICA continuously said they met the required 64,800 minutes, but did not provide evidence. The record failed to describe any method that showed how they met the actual requirements.

Schools cannot simply say they comply; they must have evidence to prove it.

So, during the January 27th board meeting, a CICA representative vaguely described a method for calculating instructional minutes that is omitted from all previous evidence. This was the first and only mention of such a calculation in the record. The representative said assignments have to be met or exceed six hours.

Other than -- than in this instance, there is no mention of a practical method that could verify compliance with the required annual instructional minutes.

MR. SCHUETZ: So, staff noted that improvement in attendance practices in the collaboration with charter impacted their recommendation, but did not represent that CICA had provided evidence that they met the minimum number of required annual instructional minutes.

The board ultimately decided that the violation had not been remedied within the remedy period.

MR. DIGIULIO: So, for the next two items related to fiscal mismanagement, we're going to go through the same slide, and then we're going to provide some additional evidence on a second slide.

So, this one is for both schools. It relates to the San Diego condominium location, and they admitted wrongdoing on this as well and stated it was their responsibility.

The termination or buyout agreement addressed re- -- reoccurring expenses. The lease term was scheduled to end in January of 2026. The termination agreement ended the lease in November 2025, so it only mitigated two months of payments.

The remedy plan included the adoption of a school site opening and closure board policy. The policy states that school must obtain written approval from the authorizer prior to the opening of a new facility, which is a requirement already outlined in ED code.

On December 9th, as part of the remedy plan, Highland submitted additional adopted or revised policies. These essentially equated to a promise of future compliance. Recent evidence supports that this remedial measure was not effective in addressing the violation, in fact.

The district observed that during their March 26th board meeting, Highlands bypassed one of those newly adopted board policies altogether.

The agenda said that they were waiving BP 3310 for three contracts. BP 3310 is the purchasing of vendor selection policy that they submitted as part of the remedy fan -- remedy plan promising future compliance. Together, those 3 contracts came to more than $272,000.

Here we see that less than two months after the revocation process ended, Highlands is circumventing their own internal policies, which were intended as a fiscal safeguard.

MR. SCHUETZ: And staff acknowledged that the reoccurring costs had stopped, and Highlands had a plan that promised future compliance. But the Twin Rivers board, as shared in the next slide, more -- found that more than $266,000 was spent on a condo with no attempt to address misused public funds, and that violation had not been remedied within the remedy period.

MR. DIGIULIO: And further information on this location -- and this is evidence submitted by Highlands related to the condo -- the purpose for the facility, according to Highlands, was for one employee working remotely.

This doesn't make any sense, because the very nature of remote work means that the employee does not require a location funded by the organization. Otherwise, it's not remote work. So, it just doesn't add up in our -- in our minds.

Highlands' suite 310 was also the most expensive suite in the building, and it was advertised as having unparalleled views of the baseball park. So, the organization failed to address the misspent funds in this -- in this violation.

Although the lease was terminated, the public funds expended on this property will not be recovered. They did not make a single attempt to return or recoup taxpayer money. Highlands dismissed Twin Rivers board's concerns, saying that taxpayers are not going to get their money back.

The second fiscal mismanagement violation relates to HCCS; the Marysville 2 location, the baseball field. The charter school did admit wrongdoing, saying the decision does not reflect stewardship of public resources.

The remedy plan that they set forth included the adoption of a school site opening and closure board policy -- which echoes education code -- adoption or revision of board policy, updates to their fiscal policy, and a procedure manual.

Highlands signed a termination agreement that required ongoing payments through April 30th, 2026. While they decided to submit a lump sum payment of $33,639 dollars and eighty cents all at once, this does not change the terms of the agreement.

By signing the termination agreement, Highlands effectively committed to the ongoing violation through April of 2026. The termination agreement also gifted more than $52,000 in equipment to the City of Marysville for $1.

MR. SCHUETZ: So, staff acknowledged that the termination agreement -- that there was one, and that Highlands had adopted policies offering a plan for future compliance.

But the district board ultimately determined, as Ryan will show in the next slide, that there was no attempt to address over the $228,000 in misused funds, and that that violation hadn't been remedied during the remedy period.

MR. DIGIULIO: So, you can see on this slide, as this photo evidence provides, you know, there's agreement requiring Highlands to make improvements to a minor league baseball field in the city of Marysville.

That agreement required Highlands to pay for field maintenance and repair, structural repairs, updates to plumbing, electrical, and bathrooms, replace stadium seating, pay all taxes and levies, capital improvements to the facility as well, and replace the scoreboard. And there was actually more.

While most leases consider normal wear and tear, this lease said normal wear and tear will not be a consideration. In fact, it stated that Highlands must make improvements so as to negate the effects of ordinary wear and tear.

There were no attempts to address the misused public funds. There was no evidence that Highlands even attempted to open discussion with the City of Marysville about the questionable nature of this agreement.

MR. SCHUETZ: So, getting back to that core question before you, which is, does substantial evidence in the record support the district board's findings; our -- our position is it does.

HCCS and CICA have not provided evidence of vacating approved locations. Failed to submit 23-24 audit, failed to track and meet minimum annual instructional minutes. Some of these were -- were straight from that notice of violation. Currently serving grades that are not approved, and as these last two slides discussed, they haven't addressed the misspent public funds and the significant harm to the taxpayer.

So, the conclusion to us is substantial evidence in the record supports district's findings as to all the grounds for revocation.

So, in summary, the determination and final decision to revoke was within the district board's lawful authority and is supported by substantial evidence in the record. The County Board of Education must review the evidence in light most favorable to the district board's findings, and indulge all reasonable inferences in support of those findings and its decision.

Should the County Board of Education include

-- conclude that substantial evidence in the record supports the district's findings in support of revocation for one or more of the grounds for revocation, that compels the county board to affirm, uphold, the district's revocation decision.

The district, in conclusion, reflect -- respectfully urges the county board to affirm the district board's decision to revoke HCCS and CICA as charters.

MR. DIGIULIO: We thank you for your time and consideration of the facts for this case. Thank you.

MR. SCHUETZ: Thank you.

MS. SABENIANO: Thank you. We will now move on to public comments. If you have not filled out a speaker card, you can find that in the back of the room. The yellow card. Fill that out and turn it in to Wende Watson.

And I will turn it over to Assistant Superintendent Michael Kast, who will read the names for public comment.

MR. KAST: Yeah, so, we have quite a few speaker cards, so please bear with us. We are going to ask participants to line up at the front left doors right outside in the hallway and then come in one at a time when the podium opens.

When the last of those five comes to the podium, I will call another five names to come up, and then, with that, please excuse any mispronunciations. I respectfully will do my best for all the names, and I will start calling our first five public speakers.

Zarmina Wardak [ph], Hasam Buzgaya [ph], Melissa Roberson, Shira Miranda [ph], and Julianne Neal [ph], please come to the side door, and we will let you in one at a time. We do have four overflow rooms, so please give us just a minute to get this fus- -- first group up, please.

MR. BUZGAYA: Hello. Hasam Buzgaya. The Highland Charter took $180 million of taxpayers' money while not meeting legal and [inaudible] requirements, misreporting attendance, lacking documentation for student attendance, using teacher without proper credentials, questionable spending, and on and on and on. They listed everything.

Then we stood here while we were listening to their lawyers, and I'm astonished our mayor basically doing what -- in his self-called good lawyering, while they are representing a criminal by saying to the court, yes, our client admits to doing all this misdeeds, and they did them, and we want a second chance.

It's not one, it's not two, it's not three. It strikes at the core of education. Everything they did is wrong and misrepresented the -- what they should be doing, and they misused the public money, and it's bad for the immigrant community.

And most of these immigrants right here holding the papers up, and I asked a lot of them, don't know why they're here. Don't even know why they're here. And they can't speak or re- -- or represent themselves. Right? I challenge any of them to come up here and talk. They have addressed very -- every grievance, and they wouldn't do it again. They used to show up. I'm sorry. That's all I have to say.

MS. ROBERSON: Am I ready?

MS. SABENIANO: Yeah.

MS. ROBERSON: Okay. Good evening, board members. My name is Melissa Roberson. I'm the director of accountability for Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools. I have had the honor and privilege of working at Highlands for over 10 years. I started as a teacher.

I'm very passionate about the community that we serve, and I've worked very closely with Twin Rivers Unified School District throughout this process. I've been the recipient of the letters. I've been working very closely with -- with Ryan [ph] and Bill [ph], their legal counsel. I just want to set the record straight on a couple of items.

The first one is that we provided over 77 leases to Twin Rivers Unified School District, which showed the exact dates, the lease terminations, when the lease started, and when the leases ended. All of those leases have been provided, including for -- for the Folsom Boulevard. The leases were provided for Marysville, for San Diego. All of those leases have been provided.

I also want to acknowledge the material revisions to the charter. So during the time of collaboration, while we were working with Twin Rivers, we -- we withdrew the material revisions to the charter at their request. We drafted it originally to address two of the items that were noticed as a violation. We were addressing the locations, and we were addressing grade levels.

However, there had been other significant changes to both of the schools, and so we went in, and we updated the plan, every single thing that we had done differently. Ultimately, it was too much for their board to review, and therefore they requested that we take all of them -- all of that out and just focus on the locations that we were serving and the grade levels under the pretense that this charter could be approved.

I also want to speak about the SICA's instructional minutes. Oh, I'm sorry. Thank you.

MS. SABENIANO: Thank you.

MR. KAST: So I'd like to call up the next group of speakers to please line up. Shana Miranda, Julianne Neal, Zarmina Wardak. Some of those names are repeats. And then Oscar Aguilar [ph], Alejandro Romero [ph], and Daisy Calendrez [ph].

MALE 1: And [inaudible]

MR. KAST: We'll just go with them for now.

MS. MIRANDA: Good evening. My name is Shana Miranda, and I am an employee of the school. Over the years, I've witnessed many different leaders, many difficult moments. Past leadership have made many mistakes that deeply impacted this school and our community. But I have also witnessed the current leadership working tirelessly to repair the damage that they did not make.

What I want everyone to remember tonight is that this is more than just a school; this is about the future of our community. This school changes lives, and for many of our students and our families, this school is their safe place, their support system, and their hope for a better future.

I stand here today not for myself, but for the students of our community who depend on us. They need stability. They need support. They need adults willing to fight for their success. Allow us to do that. No school is perfect, but the work happening here matters. The impact this school has had and will continue to have is real. We can't change the past, but we sure have learned from it. And we will continue to do better.

I ask that we continue focusing on what we can control and what is best for our students. Great things are happening at Highlands. And thank you for this opportunity for m- -- to allow me to speak. Have a great evening.

MS. NEAL: Hello, my name is Julianne Neal. I am a fourth-grade teacher in the Twin Rivers District, and I am a proud, true member, Twin Rivers United Educators. I am also someone who lives in Area 3 as well as teach in Area 2.

So Highlands and CICA's operators engaged in a pervasive misuse of public education dollars. While they claim that new leadership has turned things around in the right direction, they are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars on expensive consultants for PR, lobbying strategy, and have not even been able to produce the valid audit for '23/'24 or '24/'25.

The TRUSD board of direction -- directors took the appropriate legal steps to revoke these charters, and there is no legal basis to reverse this decision. The revocation must be upheld. When considering the luxury apartment in San Diego above Petco Park, trips to Hawaii, trips to France, the baseball field in Marysville, all of the money that was misappropriated and not spent on student learning should be not just appalling to us as community members and educators, but to you as well as a board who's supposed to be responsible for students.

The violations revoke trust that we have in the community with $100,000 spent at consultants to bring buses out to bring people here to stand and say they're with that. Hiring a bus may be not the best use of funding either to come advocate for themselves. Extravagant expenditures still not there. There is no legal basis to reverse this charter revocation. TRUSD followed the legal process --

MS. SABENIANO: Time.

MS. NEAL: Thank you.

MALE 2: Okay. Speak into the mic, okay?

MALE 3: Hello, the board members. Thanks again for having me here. I think I met you guys before. English is my second language. And I'm so grateful with this -- this school that have taught me many, many things. A little bit of me. I -- I found Highlands in one of those really hard times in my life after losing everything. My English wasn't perfect as it is now. But little by little, I'm getting on top of those struggles. I have goals now. And I -- I only -- I only have to -- to give thanks to -- to my teachers and the beautiful staff who -- who is at Highlands and all the students that -- that we continue going until -- until the end because we are not going to give up. We are not going to give up. We -- we are here to continue this fight and hopefully -- hopefully you guys can change your -- your mind. Because Highlands is more than a school; it's like a family for many of us who has lost everything, and the only hope is to get better and succeed in life. In order to do that, I need to get my high school diploma, and -- and Highlands offered me that opportunity.

Once I get that, the high school, I will continue because one of these days, I'm going to be sitting in one of those chairs right there so I can -- I can -- so I can analyze and give my opinion. And you guys may -- may dimiss me -- diminish me because of my accent, of my skin color, but that's not what we learn in Highlands. Highlands, we are a big community, big family, and we are here to stay.

MS. SABENIANO: Time.

MALE 3: Thank you.

MR. ROMERO: Buenas tardes, honorables miembros del -- del buró. Mi nombre es Alejandro Romero. Soy estudiante de Highland. Vengo ante ustedes porque en sus manos está hoy la vida de -- de muchos estudiantes. Castigar a la escuela, retirando su licencia, no castiga a los antiguos administradores; nos castiga a nosotros, castiga a nuestras familias que se benefician del valor de la educación.

Muchos de los estudiantes actuales somos inmigrantes que salimos o -- y muchos de nosotros refugiados que salimos de nuestros países por guerra o pers- -- o persecución por no tener derecho a estudiar, por no tener derecho a hablar, a decir lo que queremos. Si cierran esta escuela no tenemos dónde ir y hay miles que están esperando para entrar [inaudible].

Bajo la nueva dirección de Highland, ya comenzó a cambiar y les pedimos a ustedes que fiscalicen, que vean que se gasta el dinero. Es lo importante. Pero por favor no destruyan nuestro futuro por los errores del pasado. Que el error de quienes pudieron haber abusado no se selle con el error de la clausura.

MS. ROMERO: Good evening, members of the board. My name is Alejandra Romero, and I'm a student of Highland. I'm here to ask you for not close our school. Our school is our family. It's not just students; it's family and a commun- -- a community of courage.

There are more than 4,100 students right now who come from different countries with the -- as refugees, as immigrants, or people who are hoping for another chance because they have been in jail. Please help us to sustain and keep up with our work. We are -- there are more than 4,000 persons who want to be enrolled in the program, and they can't.

Please, under the new administration on Highland, the school has been promoted and be success in making many changes. Please, please, we ask you for our future, not for thinking in our past. Ch- -- Highland's changes have helped us to have a more technology and better -- and better classroom time. I

-- I'm asking you to support our future.

MR. KAST: Thank you.

MS. ROMERO: Thank you.

MR. KAST: So we have Zarmina coming up, and then we're going to make a small change; I think we can safely make it. We're going to line the next group up in the center and I'll make sure we're tracking to make sure we get everybody's voices heard. The next group of speakers will be Daisy Calendres [ph], Gabriella Calendres [ph], Dr Addie Ellis [ph], Svetlana Evoka [ph], and Nate Garcia [ph]. Please come down the middle aisle, and we'll stop and make sure we have everybody accounted for. Thank you.

MS. WARDAK: Good evening, everyone. Good evening, everyone. My name is Zarmina. Originally, I'm from Afghanistan. I just want to say a short thing about my story with Highland. I started studying at Highland Community Charter School in 2022. When I started my studying with Highland, my English was so limited. My English was, like, just from zero.

When I started with Highland, and -- I had a lot of problems. I had so difficulties with the language barrier because English was a second language for me. And all the teachers -- when I started from the beginning, all the teachers gave me everything, like, give me this -- that much knowledge that I -- now I can speak in English. Like, not totally, but I can speak English. And they -- they helped me to improve my skills, improve my language, like, English.

With Highland, I was a mo- -- I'm a mom, I have four kids. With this responsibility, families, everything, I came to the Highland and I learned English, and I want to be -- continue with Highland. I am almost done, but Highland gives me opportunity to continue with all my responsibility.

Because Highland gave us chance to, as a mom, as a responsible person in the community, I - I continue my learning, I continue my studying, and I continue -- now I -- I'm a -- I feel I'm confident, I'm a strong person, and I will be -- continue my goals and my college and my all education. Thank you so much.

ABDUL: Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. Thank you very much for giving the opportunity. My name is Abdul [ph] [inaudible]. I'm from Afghanistan, and I'm a student at Highland Community Charter School. For many students like me, the school is more than just a school. Many of us came to the United States without opportunities for education because of war, poverty, family responsibility or difficult life situation.

Some of us arrived without the English and without knowing how to continue our education or build a future. At Highland, we found hope. We learned English, job skills, communications and how to become part of our community. Our teachers supported us with patience, kindness and respect, even though many of us balance school, work and family responsibility at the same time.

This school gives immigrants and adult learners a second chance to build better lives for themselves and their families. When you support adult education, you support stronger families, stronger communities and brighter future. Please continue supporting Highland and programs like this. Highland does not only give us classes; it gives us hope, opportunity in future.

Within less than two years, I've been able to stand before you guys and speak fluently in English, so this was the community of Highland and the -- the -- the leaders from Afghanistan. [inaudible] Please the women from Afghanistan are daring to come at the evening -- at the evening learning education.

While this might be a good incident, in Afghanistan they have been banned from education, and then there is another chance of mismanagement or violation. Even though it's not their fault, but they are missing their second chance. We request you to promote this program and give the ladies especially, the females, to establish a good future and good community. Thank you.

MS. EVOKA: Hello. My name is Svetlana [ph] and I'm from Ukraine. My family came five years ago, and now I'm an event host and a radio host with the Slavic community, also the Ukrainian community activist. I'm here to support Highlands as they supported me five years ago.

When we arrived, everything felt unfamiliar, and the educational system, medical system, housing, political, financial systems, and Highlands was the first place that made me feel safe, seen and successful. The teachers and staff helped me improve my English and connected me with the tutoring materials and educational resources on the U.S. history, political systems, financial literacy, digital literacy and job readiness.

They believed I could succeed in a new country, and it really helped me to move forward. Highlands gave me academic confidence, practical skills, and critical thinking that directly helped me find my first job in the United States. The school also introduced me to mentors who guided my career choices. I graduated three years ago, and I'm still thankful.

For immigrant families like mine, access to supportive school isn't just helpful; it's life-changing. Highlands doesn't just teach; it builds community, opens doors and helps students succeed in the United States. I support Highlands so it can continue serving students of all ages with courage and hope. Thank you for listening and for considering how important this school is to families building new lives here in the United States. Thank you.

MR. KAST: Next up is Nate Garcia. If the following people could please line up: Daisy Calendres, Gabriella Calendres, Dr. Addy Ellis [ph], Sadaf Habib [ph], Jonathan Richardson [ph], and Bill Knowlton. Please line up down the center aisle.

MR. GARCIA: Hi, trustees. How are you? My time in Highlands has fed my soul in a way that I really have a hard time expressing. In my role, I have unique pleasure of sitting down with students, hearing their stories, and elevating their voices.

Stories of harrowing escapes from war-torn countries. Stories of people that have spent decades behind bars. People that have been punched down on by society. And, you know, stories that would -- you know, would just kind of make you, you know, break down and cry.

They make my problems seem sort of small, And, you know, my life isn't even really that easy. I go -- I clock out, I go home, and I'm the sole caretaker of two disabled adult children. One of them, stage five kidney failure, needs a kidney.

But the moment I start talking to these students and sitting down with them and hearing them, that melts away. Because I hear about the one thing that they take away, and it's a common thread through all these students that they take away, and that's hope. Highland's greatest product is hope. Generational hope.

Our students are your students. Parents, they're their first teachers. You're the next ones who pick up for them. We want that to be a better transaction. And our students, even with the struggles that I have, each day they give me hope. Thanks.

MS. HABIB: Good evening, everyone. My name is Sadaf Habib, and I live at Sacramento region, and I am supporting Highlands. I proudly support Highlands Community Charter School and respectfully ask that the Twin Rivers Unified District reconsider and revoke its decision.

As a member of Afghan community, I have personally seen the life-changing impact in this school has on refugees, immigrants, and adult learners. I myself earned my high school diploma through Highlands, which gave me the opportunity to continue my education and attend college. And right now, I am a student at college and doing my paralegal studies.

Highlands is more than a school; it's a place of hope, opportunity, and second chance of many families of our community. Many Afghan women, newcomers, and working adults rely on this program to build a better future for themselves and their children. Closing or limiting this opportunity would deeply affect communities that already face many barriers. Thank you so much.

MR. RICHARDSON: Good even- -- good evening. My name is Jonathan Richardson. I'd like to share a little about my background. When I was in high school, I -- I couldn't focus on my work because I had a lot on my mind. I struggled to finish school, and for many years, all I could do was wish I ha- -- had received -- received my high school diploma, but now I feel like it's my time and I am so motivated.

Highlands gave me the hope and support I needed to finally finish school and earn my diploma. When I found out about Highlands, I registered right away from the very beginning.

It gave me a positive experience and the belief that I truly can achieve my goal. My entire experience have -- has been positive.

All my teachers make learning interesting and manageable. They keep it fun, and we laugh a lot. My classmates feel like my -- feel like my family to me, and we all get along so well. I am also surprised by how much I learned. Biology has been one of my favorite subjects, but I've gained so much from history, English and computer literacy as well.

I would hate to see Highlands close; it would be devastating not just for me but for all of us who have worked so hard toward our goals. I don't know if I would ever find teachers and classmates --

MS. SABENIANO: Time.

MR. RICHARDSON: -- like the ones I have here at Highlands Community Charter School. I think my classmates feel the same way. Thank you for letting me share my thoughts with you all. It has been a pleasure.

MR. KAST: Can the following speakers please come to the center aisle: Amad Abrahami [ph], Kathy Chow Rothberg [ph], Arizo Acbari [ph], Abdul Ahmedzai [ph], and Perima Azizi [ph]?

MR. KNOWLTON: Good evening, trustees. My name is Bill Knowlton, and I'm with the Mack Road Partnership [inaudible] property and business district in South Sacramento. I have a couple of things to say, and I -- and I'll be brief. First -- first of all, thank you for your service to our community. This i- -- - these jobs are not easy, and they're not glamorous a lot of times, and this is probably one of those times.

What is the right answer? We heard from one group of attorneys who said, this is the right answer, and then we heard from another group that said, this is the right answer, and both are absolute. I'm not an attorney, and I don't know if that's true. What I do know is that there's a human cost to the decision that you're about to make. That I do know. We work with this community every day. The struggles that we have as a community, a lot of it goes right to education.

There is nobody arguing that Highlands made really, really big mistakes. There's no argument there. But there's nobody sitting behind me that did this. There's not one person here that made that happen. There are a group of people who are saying, we have made these changes, substantial changes, and let's go down the road a little bit to see where this ends up. You can put whatever restrictions you want on going forward, but to say no makes a huge difference to this community.

So I would just ask you, think long and hard, really search your soul to say, what is -- what is the right thing to do? Always look at what's the next right thing. Thank you for hearing me.

MS. ROTHBERG: Good evening. My name is Kathy Chow Rothberg, and I am a refugee. I know why I'm here. I am a mother, I am a voter in District 3, I am a homeowner, I am a property owner, and I am a CEO, and a volunteer. I am here because I believe in public education. I grew up in the public education, and I was once an elected official like you as well, sitting in the dais, serving our community.

As a former city council member and a former mayor, I am here for the rights of children. I am here for the rights of young adults. I am here for the rights of parents. I am here for the rights of seniors. I am here for the rights of justice-involved adults. I am here for the rights of the homeless, those who are experiencing homelessness.

I am here for the rights of survivors, and I am here for the rights of refugees, immigrants, and I'm here for the wellness of teachers. I am here to speak about health, and the right to have education opportunity, and to have skills, and to have jobs, to have housing, to be part of society, to have health care and to have mental health care.

No one at Highland or SICA stole any of that money to use personally. They used the money to serve the community. Imagine that, how much money we have spent on homelessness and on the jails. It costs $127,000 to jail a person in our state a year. It costs $74,000 a year to put a person in a county jail. It costs $74,000 for one homeless person.

Highland is saving our community, educating our community members so that they can be a part of society. Thank you. You have a hard decision. Thank you for making the right choice. You heard all the evidence. Please make the right choice. Revoke [inaudible]. Revoke [inaudible]. Stand for our society. Thank you.

MR. KAST: Can the following five people please make their way up? Shapoola Hotak [ph], Eid Mohamed Nori [ph], Rebecca Snow [ph], Sayeed Freidenfeldt [ph] -- sorry, Caleb Freidenfeldt [ph] and Omar Kevin McColl [ph].

MS. ACBARI: Hello team -- board team members and every- -- everyone who is here today. My name is Arizo Acbari, and I am res- -- residing in Sacramento region, and I'm a victim advocate at Lao Family Community Development agency. So I'm here today to support Highland and revoke Twin Rivers decision.

I want to share and talk about the impact that Highlands have on our individuals and the families that we are serving. So we are like the peo- -- the -- we are helping through our c- -- through our -- through our organization, we are helping individuals and families from different backgrounds, especially who are in- -- involved, including survivor of domestic violence or survivors of any crime, also refugees and newcomers who really wants to rebuild their lives.

And one of the -- they -- they face a lot of barriers, and one of the biggest barriers they're facing is their language, which they -- they can -- they can -- they can go to Highlands and make the impact that Highlands have to remove this barrier from these individuals and family is that they go to -- they attend the English classes, and they are able to build their lives and contribute to the community.

They -- they are able to get work because most of the families that we are working with, they -- they have language barriers and also -- and also the -- the time is up? Okay. So w- -- when they are -- when they are learning English, so it means that they can contribute to -- to -- to the community and also get a good job, get housing, and also get a successful life. Thank you.

MR. FREIDENFELDT: Hey, thanks for having me. My name is Caleb Freidenfeldt, Area A representative of the PACE Committee, Political Action for Classified Employees, and CSEA.

So I was doing some studying yesterday. I was quite confounded by the amount of corruption that was going on with North Highlands. I'm from Grass Valley. I drove an hour and a half to be here.

And so the charter school lobby pushes legislation around one thing and one thing only: anti-regulation and anti-oversight. Speaking to members of the public, how does it feel that the anti-oversight efforts -- that this is the primary goal of charter schools is anti-oversight? They should be held accountable. And California char- -- California charter lobbying efforts' primary goal is to lobby against accountability.

So the charter school movement -- excuse me, this is a symptom of the charter school movement. Corruption and mismanagement is a feature. My brothers and sisters in CSEA are the embodiment of accountability. It is the core principle of our union. It protects our students. It protects the public trust. And North Highlands Charter has failed on both accounts. Thank you.

MR. McCOLL: Hi, everyone. My name is Omar. I am the resident of Elgrove and also representing refugee communities. In addition, I am working with Lao Family Community Development organization, which helping delivering service to the refugee communities.

So I am here to speak on behalf of the refugee communities who are left behind of the education, learning English, and a school diploma. I am here to speak on behalf of those refugee communities who left their countries to come here and make their lives better.

I am here to speak on behalf of those refugee communities that the schools and educations are banned on their country and they coun- -- struggled so many problems to come here and learn something.

So, as we know, language is the biggest barrier towards the employment, social adjustment, housing, and even parenting sometimes. So Highland Charter is not only an educational center; it was also a community center that was helping the refugee communities to get together, know each other's l- -- cultures, networking and introduce with different people from different countries. It means that it was helping their mental health as well.

So I'm here to request to give an opportunity for that single mom who doesn't know English and needs a high school diploma.

To give an opportunity for these students who are here, to give an opportunity for those students that they are not able to make it happen to come here, and finally to give an opportunity for Highland Charter. So please revoke this decision of the Twins River and give another opportunity for Highland Charter to continue. Thank you so much for your time.

MR. LAHOTAK: Good evening, everyone. My name is Shefiel Lahotak [ph], and I'm a community lead volunteer. So I'm -- I reside in District -- District 3, but I do have connection in broader Sacramento community, and like a bridge. So we connect the needy family where they need the services.

So I believe it's a good time that summer break is coming. We all have planning to go on a break, to go travel, to go somewhere. So when we make our planning, so we do provide everything. We have our document, we have our passports, we have everything prior we leave. But pretend and remind those days when the Afghan evacuated from Afghanistan.

I have a story. I used to work for a non-profit or a settlement agency. One of our clients, he gave us a story, which he has half of his clothes while he was crossing the wall to get into the airport and to come to the United States. So pretend that he has no document. He left all his education document.

He left everything over there, and whatever left behind at home, it's turned out and it's burned because it was a challenge for them, for their family, remaining family. So they have no document when they end up to Sacramento.

So we -- as a community, we lead them. We take them to Highland Charter to give them a succeed, a way. So Highland Charter is, wherever it's happened, that's Highland happened. But that's -- that's a key. That's a key to success. So we need -- we need the success. If you want to continue and have these community members who end up to Sacramento to succeed and to have an opportunity, so we need to keep opening this door.

And when we're closing Highland Charter door, it's not just mean that we're closing the Highland door, but we're closing thousands of other families who need income. I have two individuals, Syed [ph] and Mohamed [ph], who get his document, he succeed, he had a job. Syed, who didn't complete the Highland, so he didn't able to get the job. So we want to continue and have Highland Charter in the community. Thank you.

MR. MOHAMED: Distinguished board members and respected trustees and my peers, friendly like a family, and all the participants who have participated in this meeting today, good evening to you all.

This is Eid Mohamed, an immigrant from a war-torn country, Afghanistan, that everybody knows. I, as an immigrant, started school here, and I have somehow improved my English, the accent, the understanding that caused me to get a new job as a medical interpreter. This credit goes back to Highland Charter School. If I did not attend this school, how possible I could be employed as a medical interpreter?

So now my proposal is you guys have the capacity, the decision makers, the trustees. So please consider Highland Charter School. Like the coins, it has two sides. So the negative sides, everybody mentioned, yes, corruption this and that. Okay.

One, two, three, four persons may be corrupted or corruption, so why you are not prosecuting those corrupted people and now you're punishing the immigrant community, the people, the students, the parents who do not have their certificates from homeland? Now they have to get high school diploma plus learn English to have a brighter future.

So at the last not the least, but I'm mentioning that Mark Twain, who died 116 years ago, he said, be kind. Kindness is the language that deaf can hear and blind can see. So please kind to Highland. Thank you.

MR. KAST: Can the following five speakers please approach the center aisle: Michael Strillo Smith [ph], Nikki Ramon Tuxbury [ph], Sahar Ahmadi [ph], Adiba Hadi [ph] and Anna Mozgova [ph]?

MR. IBRAHIMI: Good evening, everyone. My name is Ahmed Ibrahimi [ph]. I'm a student's enrollment special at Highland Community Charter School and also serve as a board member of Afghan community in Sacramento. For many people, school is just a building, but for immigrant and refugee Highland is much more than that.

Highland is a second home. It is a place where people who lost hope began to believe in themselves again. Many of our students came to this country after surviving war, fear, poverty, and heartbroken situation in their home countries. Many parents never had an opportunity to go to school or earn a high school diploma before they were focused on survival.

Every day I see mothers and fathers walk into Highlands carrying a heavy responsibility. Some works long hours. Some are learning English for the very first time. Some bring their children with them because they have nobody else to help, yet they still come to school and determine and courage.

Highland changed lives. It gives dignity, confidence, education, and -- and hope to the peoples who have already faced so many struggle. For many Afghan families and immigrants, immigr- -- immigrant community, Highland is not just a school; it is a bridge to future. It helps refugees become independent, support their family, improve their English, continue their education, and become proud contributors to their countries.

Keep Highlands open means keeping a dream alive for a thousand California residents who simply wants a chance, a chance to learn. a chance to succeed, a chance to give their children opportunity themselves never had. Thank you so much for listening and support our community and our second home, Highlands.

PARIMA: Hello, my name is Parima [ph]. I am a mother. I have been studying English with Highlands for three years. I'm very happy to be a student at Highlands.

Being a student at Highlands, I've learned a lot of things, including I can communicate with my children's school, I can see the -- I can read the messages, I can read the flyers and understand them, and I can also speak English, but I got a little anxious here, so I'm not able to communicate in English

Please help us by not closing Highland because by closing Highland, you're going to close our future. When you're thinking about Highland, please think about the -- the future of us -- of -- of us students. Thank you.

MR. SMITH: Good evening. My name is Michael Strillo Smith, and I have been teaching at Highlands since April 13th. And with over 20 years of experience in public, private charter schools and as an arts educator in the public sector and nonprofit, I thought I had seen it all. Then I came to Highlands.

In just over one month, I've had the honor of meeting the most remarkable students. Each one brings a unique and powerful story. Some of those stories are heartbreaking, but what stands out most is their resilience. Their determination doesn't just inspire me, it humbles me.

We often say education is a fundamental human right. It's not just about academics; it is about dignity, opportunity, and hope. Yet many of our students come from places where access to education was never guaranteed, or those whose circumstances were interrupted at some point in their life. What unites them is this. They do not take this opportunity for granted.

Our students are balancing so much. They are working, supporting families, raising children, all while attending school full-time. I've met students determined to break generational cycles, to become role models, and to build better futures, not just for themselves, but for their communities. Without Highlands, these opportunities disappear.

I commute two hours each way from San Jose every single day for the privilege, the privilege of teaching at Highlands. It is that special. Our students want to be there. They believe in what we offer. As educators, we are not here to close doors; we are here to open them, to create opportunity and to ignite a love of learning.

These students, many of whom have endured sacrifices most of us could never imagine, deserve our support. They deserve our encouragement. And above all, they deserve the unwavering opportunity to continue learning in our classrooms. Thank you.

MS. TUXBURY: Good evening. It's an honor to stand here in front of you, you know? My name is Nikki Ramon Tuxbury. I'm the [inaudible] woman with all these foreigners I go to school with at 61.

I started 2018, I left over there at Grant. This time I came back, and I want to succeed because I'm doing something you guys are doing. I have -- I'm going through a non-profit to help people and I'm going to be on the board.

And -- and for you guys being here making your choices, I'm going to have to make those choices of the bad and the good. And through Highlands, I'm learning an education. I'm -- I'm learning different cultures while I'm there, you know?

Yeah, I understand we had bad apples; they're gone out of the barrel because I'm nosy, I want to see -- I want to see what they're doing. Why did they do this? Why does it ha- -- has nothing to do with Highland School; it's just the bad people. It's like the gamble. You place your bet; you're going to win or lose.

But what's the real meaning behind this is to help people succeed. They come from a different country. You don't want them sitting on welfare. You don't want them lying around. These people are very intelligent.

Some of them have education, but they can't move forward here unless they get a diploma. That's where you come in. And kike I said, it's a gamble. They are cleaning house. They are making those moves. Thank you.

MS. SABENIANO: Time.

MS. TUXBURY: Thank you.

MS. AHMADI: Good evening, everyone. My name is Sahar Ahmadi, and I'm the Sacramento region resident. I'm here today to support Highlands Community Charter School and to ask you to reconsider the Twin River decision.

I'm representing the Afghan community. Many members of our community need ESL classes so they can learn English, become employed, become self-sufficient, and build a stronger community.

So I'm here to ask you to give Highlands Community Charter second chance so that everyone in the community can be self-sufficient, have employ, pay taxes, and make the community stronger in power. Thank you.

MS. HADI: Good evening. My name is Adiba Hadi. As a refugee Afghan woman and someone who works closely with refugee and immigrant communities every day, I have personally seen the impact that Highlands Community Charter School has on people's lives.

Highland -- Highlands gives opportunity to many Afghan women that would not have had in Afghanistan: opportunities to receive education, learn English, gain job skills, and build independence for themselves and their families. For many women, this is their first real chance to persuade education in a safe and supportive environment.

Highlands serves refugees, immigrants, survivors of domestic violence and homelessness, working parents, seniors, young adults who do not -- who -- who did not complete their -- complete high school. These are individuals who are trying to rebuild their lives and continue to contribute to the community.

In Sacramento County, more than 550,000 people speak a language other than English at home, and over 122,000 adults do not have a high school diploma. Highlands helps build -- bridge the gap by providing education, English language support, and workforce -- -force opportunities at a time when the cost of living continues to rise.

This school is not just a building; it's hope for thousands of people who deserve a second chance. I respectfully ask you to consider the real human impact this decision will have on vulnerable communities who rely on Highlands every day. Thank you for your time.

MR. KAST: Can the next five speakers please line up down the center aisle: Maria Sandoval [ph], Yuri Ethmov [ph], Carla Rios [ph], Adam Graham [ph] and Annabelle Meza [ph].

MS. MEZA: Good evening respect to -- respected trustees. My name is Anna, I'm biology teacher at Highland School. I want to tell you who we are. Our school is much more than just education; it changes and saves people's life.

I am an immigrant and for my first year in the United States, I could not find friends. I became very withdrawn. I cried a lot because people didn't understand me and I felt invisible. It was very painful and lonely time for me.

But then I found Highlands and I graduated from this school. Here, people helped me to adapt. They helped me to understand the American system, learn English, get a profession and start working. Highlands became the steppingstone that helped me achieve the American dream.

Even in Ukraine, people heard about -- about Highlands. Many came to Sacramento because they knew there is a place where they will be welcomed and supported. America is a country where people can truly see and hear one another, and our school is a powerful example of that.

The teachers at Highland show me what real Americans are like. They are people with open hearts, a willingness to help each other. Today, I pass this spirit onto my students, and they pass it onto their families and their friends.

That is how we build different Sacramento, a city where people truly see and hear and -- each other. And I want to let you know that today I received my single subject teaching credentials. Thank you so much.

MS. SANDOVAL: Good evening. When I first came to this country, I remember trying to put gas on my car and not knowing -- knowing how because in my home country, an employ- -- an employee does it for you. When I asked one employee if they are going to help with this, respon- -- with this, his response was no. You have to do it yourself.

So I went back to and tried to figure out how to use a gas pump. But my English was not very good, and I had no idea what the gas pump said, so I was lost, and I tried to speak in English with one guy, but I was happy when he began to spend- -- speaking Spanish. After realizing that I was struggling, he decided to assist me, so I -- I turned him and said, you saved my life today, and I knew then I had to learn English.

Good evening, Highlands members, teachers, parents, and fellow students, and members of the board. My name is Maria Sandoval, and I'm a Student Leadership Council member from Howe Avenue site.

And today, I'm -- I'm -- I want to talk about the incredible journey that started when I joined Highlands. What -- what will happen if your children's school is closed? What will happen to those children's future without an education, without a job, without money? These are the questions being asked of the Highlands students if this could work to close down.

The students will not know where to go for help and no hope. Today it's difficult to see how many people like me are trying to forge their goals and dreams but with the closing of Highlands, you are destroying too many lives and bright futures.

There is some sadness and mixed emotions because it is difficult to leave a place that shaped too many lives and considered like home. This school means more than just a building. After 20 years of working and worrying about --

MS. SABENIANO: Time.

MS. SANDOVAL: Oh, sorry, I just want to finish with this. Just imagine, without Highlands, how many people like me will find themselves back at the gas station trying to use the gas pump without knowing what to do because can't read English. They will be lost just like I was once trying to ask for help, but -- but no one could understand me or help me. That would be truly catastrophic, sad, and painful. Thank you. Thank you for listening and good day.

MR. ETHMOV: Hello, everyone. My name is Yuri, and I am a student of Highland School. I am 41, and I came to the United States from Russia to build a new life here. When I came to the United States in October 2023, everyday American speech sounded like fast, unbreakable noise to me. I realized how much I needed to learn to truly survive and build a life here.

This is where the Highlands Community Charter School changed a lot for me. At Highlands, I didn't just start learning English grammar and pronunciation; I started learning about American society, American history, civics, and culture.

They didn't just teach me vocabulary; they taught me how to understand the American way of life. For instance, I learned idioms like to hit the ground running, which is exactly what immigrants try to do every single day.

I am deeply grateful to the United States. I am not just here to s- -- to receive. I am also to contribute. I work, I pay taxes, and I volunteer at the Rancho Cordova food locker to give back to the community and practice my English.

Even when I drive and see obstacles in the road like abandoned shopping carts or fallen pipes I stop to remove them, because I want to be a good neighbor and a responsible member of -- of American society. We are taking our very first steps on this new land, and we want to take them faster. Highlands Community Charter School is a bridge that helps us to do that.

Right now, I'm studying [inaudible] government in this school. I'm learning that in this country the people's voice truly matters. I hope our voices matter to you today. Please keep this school open. Investing [inaudible] is an invest- -- in -- as an investment in people who will make American stronger, richer, and more diverse.

Little bit -- little bit left. Can I explain finally? And finally, if you understood my speech today it means my time at Highlands has not been in vain. Thank you so much for your time.

MS. RIOS: Good evening everyone. My name is Carla Rios [ph]. I know why I am here. I'm here because I want to support Highlands. Highlands teach -- teach me how -- Highlands teach me nothing is import- -- nothing is impossible when you follow it. Highlands work with you nothing is impossible.

So Highlands help me to achieve my dreams. Highlands helped me to achieve my goals. And now I have my high school diploma. I have three careers. Highlands pay me three careers, and he pay me for manicure, he pay me for esthetician, and digital navigator. Now I feel from of Highlands, because Highlands help me to open my business. Now I can communicate with the others. I can communicate with people speak English, because English is my second language.

And then, I don't feel -- it's not embarrassed for me when something is difficult to communicate. But now I feel so proud of Highlands because he help me when I'm studying and I need a glasses. Highlands provide me glasses. When I need a computer, Highlands provide me computer, and they teach me how to use. And they teach me how to use social media. And now everything Highlands teach me help me to imp- -- improve my business. So I feel so proud of Highlands. Thank you so much.

MR. MESA: Good evening. My name is Anabel Mesa [ph]. I'm here because I was a student in Highlands Community Charter in the program of English as second language. When I came to the US, my family told me that I was never going to be able to work as civil engineer as I was in Mexico. So I knew about Highlands. And even when I was working as labor in construction, I just started to study in the afternoons.

They help me to improve my English and be able to communicate. The professors take the time to help me to revise my resume, and also, they gave me good advices for the interviews. I started working as the -- as a technician in different -- in a different company. And with the time I also did my exam for work -- for get my certificate as engineering training.

Currently, I'm working as civil engineer for the state. And I'm very concerned because many people is not going to be able to have this opportunity that I have if the program is ended. Also, the professors were very -- very helpful. They helped me to improve to different people that gave me advices how to success here in the US. Thank you so much.

MR. KAST: Can the five -- five following speakers please line up in the middle aisle: Laura Kerr [ph], Ali Hussein Amadi [ph], Sean Frame [ph], Horizona Hassani [ph], and Ali Euwar Hussan [ph]. Thank you.

MR. GRAHAM: Good evening. My name is Adam Graham. I'm the accountability coordinator at Highlands Community Charter Technical Schools. I started in 2019 as a teacher. I came here from Oregon, because I heard there was a school that was serving immigrants and refugees. And in my student teaching I had always thought there should be such a place, and I was amazed to discover that there was.

The best things I've ever done in my life were here in the last seven years I have worked for Highlands. It is unqualifiably the best experience I have ever had, the most service I have ever been to other people.

When Jonathan Raymond, Eric Chatman, and Theresa Cummins came on, I experienced a level of discussion of wide ranging and deep discussion, and understanding about what would be best for our students that I have never experienced before in my life.

Subsequently, we worked very, very hard with the staff at Twin Rivers to give them everything they need to clear these notices of violations. And it was not easy. There were a lot of them. They were very technical, very specific. And it was a very hard recommendation for anybody at Twin Rivers, I think, to make to clear those recommendation, but they gave us the all clear.

They recommended that they would not revoke the charter. The board didn't listen, didn't have any discussion. They just did what they were going to do in what I can only assume is a political process, that once again the powerful are being spared and the vulnerable are suffering the consequences. So I urge you to not let that happen today. Thank you very much.

MS. KERR: Chair and trustees, my name is Laura Kerr. I'm the chair of school developmental center. I want to thank you for the staff report and for your time and thoughtful consideration of this revocation. We sent in a letter and we think that this revocation should be reversed.

We've been following this process. I was there on January 30th when the board set aside the staff recommendation that had been endorsed by the CBO, the superintendent, their attorneys. And it said -- made some references to feeling the heat from constituents. And I get that. I definitely get that. But process really matters.

And tonight if you don't reverse the revocation regardless of all the procedural challenges, this isn't the end of the road for this community. And we think that they deserve another chance. If you do reverse the vocation, Twin Rivers can start the process again and do it right. Right?

And we think that this community deserves at the very least.

The most, I'm a Sacramento resident. And I understand that Highlands has made some mistakes. I think that the school plays a really important role in our community. I'm very proud of it. And so, I'd love to see the school continue, and I have a lot of faith in Jonathan Raymond. Theresa Cummins, and the team.

We know that they've been turning it around. They deserve our faith. And you know what, I was on the other side of the dias [ph] with him, and so it's -- it's fun to be on the side, and really to be here. Not fun I wouldn't say.

I would say I understand that Jonathan Raymond is -- and his team has a lot of integrity, and they want to make you proud. And they want to do it right. And you can trust them to do that. Thanks.

MR. KAST: Can the following five speakers please make their way up to the font aisle? Sohala Amadi, Anna Aguilar, Abdul Hussein Amadi, Sayada Masuma, and Megan McMullen.

MR. FRAME: Good evening trustees, Superintendent Gordon, President [Inaudible] Sabiano [ph]. My name is Sean Frame. I'm chief job steward for CSEA Chapter 480. I came here tonight with a great speech written about the incredible malfeasance I saw in the California State Auditor's Report about Highlands, and then I listened to these great speeches tonight, and I just want to say it's a very amazing thing to -- to -- to have your heart rendered this way.

I too stand with immigrants as does the Twin Rivers board that revoked this charter. It is a very cynical thing to make the case that those who would revoke this charter do not stand with immigrants.

Who let these immigrants down? Was it the Twin Rivers board? No. It was the criminals running Highlands Charter who let them down. That's who let this community down. That's who we should be talking about.

And when somebody has that level malfeasance they do not deserve a second chance. We want accountability for public funds. We want these students to get everything they deserve, not luxury suites and a baseball stadium, not a baseball stadium purchased with public funds, not trips to Hawaii and Paris. None of them got to go on those trips.

I've sat here all night and I've heard these amazing speeches, and it made more angry by the minute that that they were let down with your oversight or lack thereof. Four of you have received charter school money for your elections. One of you sitting right there smugly looking at his phone right now is taking money right now. Pay attention when people come here to talk. That's rude. That is rude.

I'm shaking because I'm so angry because the folks here deserve better. They deserve all of the services provided but with full public accountability. Uphold the revocation. Thank you.

MR. KAST: Could the next following five speakers please line up: Estaban Nunez, Ken Mendoza, Cabella Sulaman, Tyrone Shiff, and Sonia Bennett or Bonnet [ph].

MS. AGUILAR: Good evening trustees and County Superintendent Gordon. My name is Anna Aguilar. I am secretary of the Twin Rivers United Educators. Speaking on behalf of our union. And I also happen to be a parent in a constituent in Area 3, taxpayer, a voter of Area 3, and I work at a school in Area 2.

I urge you to uphold the revocation of the Highlands and seek a charter revocations. Fraud and misappropriation of education funds by charter operators have been in the news for several years, and still the state legislator has not taken action to put protection for students and taxpayers in place.

The TRUSD board acted responsibly. And you know our -- our relationship has -- had been contentious not too long ago.

And in this case we are standing arm in arm with our district, and they acted responsibly and legally to revoke these charters in the public's interest. Reversing this decision will send a message once again that fraud and misappropriation of our public school money is perfectly fine in the Sacramento County Board of Education.

Despite the claims of new leaders and reformers being put in place at these schools it's clear that the new leadership doesn't view the role of stewards of public money seriously. They have not even provided the legally required audit for the most recent fiscal year.

If they can't meet this most basic deadline of fiscal accountability this new leadership is no better than the old. Please do the right thing and uphold the TRUSD's decision to revoke both of these charters. Thank you.

MR. MENDOZA: Hello board members. My name is Kent Mendoza. I'm with Anti-Recidivism Coalition, a non-profit community based organization based out of Los Angeles and Sacramento in G Street. We are a reentry organization that supports people who a coming home in -- coming home from incarceration.

We work with people that value education, that understand what it -- it is to go through trauma who, you know, issues that put them in situations that were maybe a traditional might not be the best traditional pathway for them. Charter school like Highlands, like Highlands Charter School is a -- is a valued thing -- valuable thing that we need to have in our communities.

We need to continue to have this. I mean, it was just -- I've been here for the past two hours and just hearing everybody how beneficial something like Highlands has been, it's just -- it's shocking to hear that we're trying to remove that.

So, you know, as someone that has been to charter school myself and believe in second chances and was given a second chance, we should give Highlands a sec- -- second chance so we can continue to hear these amazing people getting better in their education and in their accents, you know.

I got better in my accent too, so I would love to see everybody continue to have those opportunity to blossom in -- in our economy and be contributing members of our society in Sacramento.

Thank you.

MS. SULLIVAN: Good evening. My name is Isabella Sullivan. I'm speaking to my -- on behalf of the Anti-Recidivism Coalition as well, but also as someone who personally understands what it means to need a second chance, but most importantly, to be held accountable, and deeply understand the importance of accountability.

I work every day with individuals who are trying to rebuild their lives after incarceration, trauma, homelessness, addiction, poverty, and years of being pushed out of traditional systems.

But this work is personal for me too. I know what it feels like to have your future reduce to your worst moment. I know what it feels like to try to re- -- rebuild your life while carrying barriers that most people never have to think about.

As someone who has maintained a 4.0 after incarceration and is enrolled to law school, one thing I have learned about pers- -- both personally and professionally is that education can completely change the direction of someone's life. For many students Highlands Charter School is not just a school. It is one of the last places willing to believe in them.

It serves working class adults, clients -- immigrants, refugees, justice impacted individuals, and people who have failed by the traditional education systems. And when we talk about shutting down a school like this, we have to remember who is truly impacted. It is not the entities who have caused the harm.

It is the students of all ages and backgrounds who are finally close to graduating, the parent trying to finish school or raising children, who is also me, to give them a better life. The person coming home from incarceration trying to build a future and find a purpose instead of returning to survival mode just like I did.

It is the people escaping oppression and unimaginable violence with hopes of a safer brighter future. I absolutely understand the concerns that brought us here tonight, and accountability manners, but I also believe deeply in rehabilitation, growth, and the opportunity to improve systems. Thank you.

MR. NUNEZ: Good evening. My name is Esteban Nunez. I'm here on behalf of the Sacramento Area Reentry Colloboration and the Anti-Recidivism Coalition. I'm here to express strong support for Highlands Community Charter and Technical Schools. Tonight we respectfully urge you to support the appeal to allow Highlands the opportunity to continue its reform process and continue serving the students that need it most.

Highlands provides essential educational and workforce opportunities to some of the most vu- -- vulnerable populations and members in our community, including those who are reentering society after incarceration.

Education is arguably one of the most effective improving tools to rehabilitate somebody, yet access to it for adults remains scarce. Highlands is filling a critical gap here in Sacramento County, so we respectfully ask that the board continue working in partnership with the school so that its students many of whom are rebuilding their lives after incarceration, homelessness, or other hardships as you've heard are not denied the opportunity they have worked so hard to earn.

For them this is more than education. It is a lifeline to a second chance. Your vote today preserves public safety and it's a necessary resource for this community. Thank you.

MR. SHIPP: So good evening. My name is Tyrique Shipp. I'm here with the Anti-Recidivism Coalition as well. I won't reecho what some of my colleagues just said. I'll just say I'm somebody who went to a charter school. I was one of those at-risk youth. I didn't speak well. I spoke with a lisp. I still do, but I'm somebody who was given that opportunity when nobody would give me the chance.

And I think that's what -- what everybody here is asking for, an opportunity. It's not about what somebody else did or what somebody else has done, but the opportunity for you all to work with this school and -- and bring it back up to shape and help our people. Right?

And I think if -- when somebody did that for me it changed my life. Currently, I am somebody who is getting their master's at the University of Southern California, and that's through a charter school.

If I didn't have that opportunity, if I didn't have a school willing to accept me and -- and -- and cut me off because of my -- because my background or where I came from or could -- because I couldn't speak, then I would have fail, and that is a public safety issue. And we have seen crime drop across California. And that's because of education mostly. And I think we need to invest in our education. Thank you.

MR. KAST: Can we please have the following five speakers? Please line up in the middle. Mariah Kendella, Angela Andres, Louis Gonzales, Fabian Gutierrez, and Jazmine Advincula [ph].

MS. BARNETT: Good evening boards and members. My name is Celia Barnett [ph]. I am on the student leader board on 33rd in Oak Park District School. And I am here tonight to save my school, because I have been attending -- I have been attending since the end of 2024. I think it's time to get my diploma.

I'm here advocating for you guys to please keep our schools open. I'm not the only one here tonight wants to get our di- -- our diploma, but I'm just asking you guys, I want to change my life. I have four children. I'm 68 years of age. I'm tired of pay -- pay musical chairs.

It will be 2027 probably when I graduate, but I'm not going to give up. I love you guys. You got to hear for us. I want to get my diploma so I can put it on the wall. I'm 68 years old.

It's time for me -- I -- I -- Highlands gave me -- I earned the certificate for food license. I can open my own cafeteria, my restaurant if I choose. They have helped me. I want to get my diploma, and I just want to thank you guys. Please keep the schools open, man.

MS. CAMBELLA: Hi everybody. My name is Marty Cambella [ph]. I am a 12 year SAC County educator veteran. I taught in four different school districts throughout the county. I've even collaborated and done some trainings here at the County Office of Ed.

My rule at Highlands is of a full-time mentor teacher. So the entire reason that my job exists and why I am here serving this community is because of the efforts to get our school into compliance with credentialing.

What I will share is that within the first three days of my job I met some of the most amazing teachers I have ever worked with, and I've worked with hundreds of teachers across the dis- -- across the county.

Our teachers are so remarkable that when I was meeting teachers in the credential program that just started out, I was meeting folks with double master's degrees, folks with master's in TESOL, the perfect, you know, educational backgrounds to serve our students.

I met a teacher that was a physician from his home county in a credential program. Right? I showed up and I thought, what am I here for? What is my job? Because these teachers have more experience than I do, they have more wisdom, and on top of all of that, I have worked again with hundreds of educators across the county. I have never met more dedicated teachers in my life.

These teachers were laid off a year ago. They were told, "We're done." They didn't have any job security. They didn't know what was going to happen to them, and then they were asked to come back and they did, and they're still here. Thank you.

MR. GUTIERREZ: Good evening. My name is Fabian Gutierrez, and I just come to talk about the main problem that we are having. Most of us that we speak two, three language we've been having issues in communication. If we don't communicate right then we cannot survive. We cannot get a job, we cannot get anything.

The main problem for us is not about the corruption or the school, its about communication, because through the communications, through Highlands we know that we have a build a bridge where we can communicate and we can get a better life. For example, I used to be an engineer in Mexico, but here I started studying at night then I can maybe come an electrician. I get my own company.

But now I can start getting more work for other people, helping the community. So my thought is if we have strong families, if we get a better life, we can have our sons understanding the problematic that they can have and then we can help them.

We can -- strong families can create strong communities, so we can start becoming a better communities in -- in our town. So Highlands is an opportunity that is like a bridge for us to start getting a better end. So I would recommend if you can help us to keep Highlands alive, because it's necessary for us. Thank you.

MS. ADVINCULA: Good evening President Solvineordo [ph] and board trustees. I'm Jazmine Advincula with the Sacramento Asian Pacific Chamber of Commerce in strong support of Highlands Charter. For more than a decade Highlands has served those most often left behind, immigrants, working adults, and families striving for stability.

This is not just a school system, it is a workforce pipeline and a bridge to economic self sufficiency. Sacramento residents rely on Highlands to learn English, finish high school, and gain job schools that directly support our local economy.

Under new leadership, Highlands has taken significant corrective actions including restructured governance for better accountability, implementation of stronger systems and installing new academic and operational leadership. These are not promises, they are measurable steps already underway. Shutting Highlands down will cause adult learners to lose access to education and job training overnight.

Employers including small businesses will lose a critical workforce pipeline. The ripple effects will be felt across Sacramento's economy and communities. We are asking you to recognize progress. Highlands is demonstrating the willingness to rebuild trust and to meet the standards expected of them. We urge you to allow a path forward that include strong oversight, continued reform, and the opportunity to get this right. Thank you for your time.

MR. KAST: Can the following five speakers please line up in the middle? Carla Patricia Ro- -- Rosso, Ali Hussein Amadi, Mariah Inez, Zena Williams, and Zabby Hula Alminua -- Alminure [ph]. Sorry.

MR. HERNANDEZ: Good evening, board members. My name is Louis Fernando Gonzales. I'm from Mexico. [Inaudible] I'm from Mexico, and I would like to give thanks to share my experience with Highlands.

I am an immigrant and one of the most problems we face is the language, and I had to face that problem, the language. I came -- I came Highlands through a friend. He -- he told me about Highlands. He was already a student at Highlands, and I start learning English for -- from Level seven.

And I remember my first teacher was Mohammad. His name is Mohammad. And he taught me all -- all -- all my -- my -- my English I know now. And he told me all English basic and how to make a good sentence.

Also, he became and inspiration for me, because he was a guy from Afghanistan and he speaks seven language including my language, and he inspired me because he -- he can speak seven languages and -- and inspired me to -- to start learning English.

And now, I'm still learning English for sure, but I'm able to speak with other people, people understand me now, and I can communicate with them. And also, I can write a good paragraph. I want to get my high school diploma, and I'm very committed to this goal.

CLERK: Time.

MR. HERNANDEZ: Oh sorry. Can I continue?

CLERK: [Inaudible].

MR. HERNANDEZ: I work -- yeah? Can I? [Inaudible].

MS. SABENIANO: No, just -- just finish your thought.

MR. HERNANDEZ: Huh?

MS. SABENIANO: Finish -- finish your last sentence.

MR. HERNANDEZ: Oh.

MS. SABENIANO: Yeah.

MR. HERNANDEZ: Thank you. I go to school for three years. I leave a home at 7 a.m. and return at home at 10 p.m. I'm very proud when I remember when I came to this country and I didn't know anything about English. I fe- -- I feel very grateful for Highlands and for the teacher, because they help me to became the person I want to be. After Highlands I would -- I would like to go to college and get my certificate for electrician, and thank you for hearing me.

MS. SABENIANO: Go head. You can start. Maybe if we can restart the time, Wendy.

MS. WILLIAMS: Good evening board members. My name is Zena Williams, and I am a graduate. I'm graduating this year, and I learn so much from Highlands. Proud of making it this far. Highlands have helped us earn our high school diploma. This journey wasn't always easy. Today I celebrate my growth and my hard work and future.

Please consider keeping Highlands open for the upcoming graduates. This is a great opportunity for adults to get their education and high school diploma. Thank you.

MR. KAST: Can our last two speakers please come to the center aisle? Sayade Najha Hizzada [ph], and Valerie Bryan.

MR. VIVIN: Chloe Vivin [ph]. I'm the last but not least. Do not only look at the empty half of the glass. Please also look at the full half. The full half is the students and pupil whose life has changed, who learned well and move closer to their dreams because of Highlands. Before making any final decision please consider the positive impact this school has had on hundreds of lives. For many of us Highlands has been a great tower of our future, our goal, and our dreams. Thank you.

MS. SABENIANO: [Inaudible].

MS. BRYAN: Good evening everybody. My name is Valerie Bryan. I am a teacher at Highlands. I teach the grades one, two, the newcomer foundations. I've been with Highlands for a little over two year. Before that I was 36 years in the public school system teaching.

I love kids, but I was done. I -- I like the adults now. I can talk to adults. Anyway, it has really opened my eyes being in the classroom with -- with them, yes, hearing their stories, hearing their struggles, everything that they have to learn.

Yes, I do teach them English, but I also teach them the daily knowledge and life skills that they need here in this country, especially for ethnic groups like the Afghans. Their culture is one hundred percent different from hours. And the other countries that people -- that immigrants come from, there are so many differences, and there is no one to teach them. That's the problem.

They don't have the money to go to school. They don't have the resources that we as parents provide our kids. We teach them the English. They apply it. Right now the subject in my room is health and pharmacy. How do they read a medicine bottle? How do they call doctor? It's a very important role we play.

We did not -- the teachers and parents and staff did not cause the problems that Highlands had. The school -- the students did not cause the problem, but they and all of us employees are paying for it. I'm with the other speaker who said much earlier tonight, go after the ones who actually committed the fraud. Go after them. They have the rubber stamp, not us. So please, do not revoke that charter.

Twin Rivers has -- they're just as deep in it as we are. At least we're trying to change. And this new administration -- I've worked with a lot of administrations over the years. This is one heck of a good one, and they work very hard, because their goal is the students. Please keep our charter. Thank you.

MR. KAST: And we have no more public speaker cards on that item.

MS. SABENIANO: Thank you. I will -- now the public hearing will close at 9:33 p.m. I'll turn it back to the board for any questions or comments. You can start off -- I just -- first of all, I just want to say thank you to all the speakers over here. I know it's late. It's after work, after hours, so just really appreciate you for taking the time to come here and to share your thoughts with us.

Maybe to our counsel and -- maybe can you speak a little bit? I have a question about -- on the record came up a couple times of what the record is, and I was hoping that maybe you can just kind of clarify that for us, or me, I guess.

MS. STINSON: Yes. The record is the appeal record that was submitted. As you know, there were about 16,000 documents, so that is the record. You look at the entire record as a whole deter- -- to determine whether the substantial evidence to support the revocation or not substantial evidence.

MS. SABENIANO: But --

MS. STINSON: Was that -- was that helpful? If not I could --

MS. SABENIANO: Yeah. I think maybe just -- sorry. Oh, a little -- just a little bit more information on -- so there was -- we have the date, right, in the presentation that you gave us and what the district spoke about. Sorry, let me find it. Oh yes, yes.

The September 26th date and then we have a November fourth. And it sounds like there was some information from the charter school representatives that spoke about an additional record and the change of when that record is. So maybe can you speak a little bit to that?

MS. STINSON: Yes. So I -- I wasn't quite clear if -- if they were referring to the record was the hearings before the -- before the Twin Rivers

School District board. That would certainly be part of the record. So the record includes all of the evidence that would have been submitted as part of this appeals. And you look at the entire record, not just one piece of it.

So for example, the record would be the notice of violations. The -- the board agendas, the board minutes, the board recordings I believe were included in part of it. There was the Notice of Intent to Revoke. The resolutions, that look at the entire record not just one piece of the record. And so, I think there might have been a reference to the board hearings. That's one piece of the record. It's not the entire record.

MS. SABENIANO: Okay.

MS. STINSON: Is -- was that --

MS. SABENIANO: Yes.

MS. STINSON: -- I mean -- and again, I'm happy to add to that if --

MS. SABENIANO: No it's okay.

MS. STINSON: -- that will clarify it.

MS. SABENIANO: Thank you. No thank you.

MS. STINSON: Okay.

MS. SABENIANO: Thank you. Let's see, Tracy Caigoy.

MS. CAIGOY: I also echo -- echo the sentiment of our -- our president. Thank you to all the speakers on both sides who came out tonight. It's late night and -- so thank you for your comments. I -- I do too have a question, Tracy, about tonight from Twin Rivers. A new set of evidence was essentially submitted.

The presentation that was presented at the January 27th meeting from the same staff stated that all the findings had been -- had been rectified, right. And so, I guess the question is here not taking into consideration the feelings and emotions here, but actually what it is that our job is here on the board and looking at what Ed code is. And I'm reading Ed code right now.

The County Board of Education may reverse the revocation decision if the County Board of Education determines that findings made by the chartering authority under Subdivision H are not supported by substantial evidence.

If I go to Subdivision or -- yeah -- if I go to H, it says, the chartering authority shall not revoke a charter unless it makes written factual findings supported by substantial evidence specific to the charter school that supports its findings.

And so, I guess it's just a question right now of which presentation do we go off of, because the presentation that was provided by staff on January 27 was what was entered into record.

This presentation that we got this evening is essentially provided to us after the revocation vote and after Resolution 1612 and 1613 were adopted. And so, I guess I'm just trying to clar- -- get clarification as to going back to that question of what is record, are we stopping -- in this situation here tonight -- are we stopping at January 30th when Resolution 1613 and 1612 were --

MS. STINSON: So what you --

MS. CAIGOY: -- adopted.

MS. STINSON: -- so the findings that you're looking at are the Twin Rivers School Districts Resolution, and the Twin Rivers School Districts Resolution that is the decision by the board. The Twin Rivers School Districts Resolution, that is the resolution that incorporated the Notice of Violation and Notice of Intent to Revoke as the findings. It did not incorporate the staff's report as the findings. That was the -- I mean, the staff's report I think you're referring to is the January 27.

There was a staff report expressing that the staff was satisfied or that they believe that the remedies were sufficient. That was the staff's recommendations, and then the board, of course, has a right to look at the record and its own and decide whether it believes that the -- that the -- the remedies were sufficient for the violations.

MS. CAIGOY: Okay. So then, I guess my second question is going back to what Ed Code states it says the chartering authorities shall not revoke a charter unless it makes written factual findings supported by substantial evidence.

When I look at Resolution 1612 and 1613 adopted by Twin Rivers Board on January 30th, it states, the board adopts the facts and findings contained the Notice of Intent to Revoke and it exhibits as initially set forth in the Notice of Violation or NOV. I guess my question is, this is not going back to Ed Code again, written factual findings supor- -- supported by substantial evidence.

And so, the way I am reading this, and so that's why I'm asking you if I'm misreading this, is that Twin Rivers had an obligation at the time of the adoption of these resolu- -- of revocation, which was on January 27th, to provide written -- written factual findings suspo- -- supported by substantial evidence referencing to a Notice of Violation that had multiple violations listed after the school had sent in substantial evidence clearing those violations, as also indicated in the staff report on January 27th.

I guess I am wondering is that same referencing to Notice of Violation the intent of the law was for the -- for the school to know why they were being closed. Right? I -- I just want to clarify.

MS. STINSON: Yes. So the -- the resolution is in writing. It adopts the written -- it -- it adopts the exhibits in the Notice of Violation and it also adopts the Notice of Intent to Revoke, and the Notice of Intent to Revoke explained a note of each of their -- each of the violations and each of the remedies that had been proposed as of September 26 or thereafter.

It was -- it was those remedies that I guess had been instituted as of November 4th. So what the resolution did, is it adopted the -- the Notice of Intent to Revoke as its finding. So I think -- I guess it was in writing. It was their findings. I guess the question is whether the board believes that that included substantial evidence.

MS. CAIGOY: So they do not have to write out the reasonings that they felt were not met?

MS. STINSON: The statutes is -- unfort- -- here is the problem with statutes, this is why people hire lawyers and whatnot, because if everything was black and white you wouldn't need lawyers, and so it's -- it doesn't specifically say you have to do it this way. It says you have to adopt written findings supported by substantial evidence. It doesn't say how you have to do that.

It's clear it has to be in writing, it's clear they have to be supported by substantial evidence, but it doesn't say you have to specify this, this and this. It doesn't give very prescriptive -- so again, that's going to be for the board to decide whether that's sufficient, but it doesn't -- it doesn't specify exactly how they have to do it.

MS. CAIGOY: So when looking at ED Code I -- I guess I'm -- I'm just wondering if really is the intent that the legislatures had made when they created this Ed Code, was it just to shut down schools. Right? And I -- I would say no. But when we talk about due process and we talk about what is the charter schools right in this situation, I am looking at these resolutions and it doesn't state substantial evidence of the findings as to why the board revoke the charter.

MS. STINSON: What it does is it incorporate the Notice of Intent to Revoke, and the Notice of Intent to Revoke was the document that went through each of the violations and explained why or what they -- why or what -- why or why not the district and the district board believe that they have in remedy. And so, that's what -- that's what it incorporated.

MS. CAIGOY: And so, then going back to what is considered the record it is all of the documents that I had written, right? The state audit report and notice of violations from June, the staff report, our staff report, the minutes, the agendas, the resolutions.

MS. STINSON: You look at every- --

MS. CAIGOY: That's everything, right?

MS. STINSON: -- you look at -- you look at the entire record.

MS. CAIGOY: Okay. Okay.

MS. STINSON: Yeah.

MS. CAIGOY: Thank you.

MS. SABENIANO: Oh, I'm going to go to Trustee Brown. I see him waving at me.

MR. BROWN: Thank you. Thank you. Thank you. I have one question. And that is, can we hear from Gerald Steinberg or Jo- -- Johnathan Raymond about the November 4th ruling as a district and how that happens? And also, we have new leadership, a new leadership team.

And the prior leadership failed to remedy the alleged violations. But how many violations have occurred under the new leadership that has met district staff's evaluation. And if you could sort of clarify the November 4th as a part of the record how the staff decided to -- to remedy the situation.

MR. STEINBERG: Thank you very much, Trustee Brown. I'll share the mic with Jonathan Raymond. Of course, been in the middle of all this per se I do want to respond to -- [inaudible] counsel said if -- at least to where I understood it, that it's not enough for the Twin Rivers board to simply say what they -- what they think based upon November 4th -- pre November 4th set of facts in the record.

The law is real clear. I'm going to read it. Implicit in this statute is a requirement that the agency, which renders the challenge decision must set forth findings to bridge the analytic gap between the raw evidence and the ultimate decision or order.

That -- that means you have to actually explain. You need to say why you're seeking to overturn your staff recommendation, why you're not considering the post September 27th evidence, why you're not considering the cure.

They did none of that. As Counsel said, however, the record includes and in fact is dominated with one specific set of factual set of findings, and that is the Twin Rivers staff findings that Highlands actually came into compliance. That's the record. That's the analytics, and that's the analytic gab that you need to look at.

Now, as to November 4th, this is the core of the issue. On November 4th the board issued a Notice of Intent to Revoke. They are right, and it was probably actually the right thing to do. I'll editorialize. Because they put Highlands on notice that you need the cure.

Now, I cited to one of the trustees who -- four trustees gave that direction, and one of them, Baker, actually made the motion to -- to have the board issue the Notice to Intent to Revoke, which meant what they were saying was you're on notice on warning, but we're going to give you 60 days.

And then, the staff, of course, follows up on December the 3rd. They not only say we want to -- we want you to work with us, but they actually come close to using the term record, record, which is what this is about, what Trustee asked about.

She says that -- Sheri Wertha [ph] from Twin Rivers -- "We are working to remain as flexible as possible regarding how your school submits evidence in response ot the identified violations." In other word, the board, and then the staff said, "We want to create a complete record that includes whether or not you have cured."

That's the only substantial evidence by the way, that exists on anything. Because on the 27th of January when the board actually makes the decision to revoke, they don't even discuss any of that. They go back and refer to November 4th and the pre November 4th. This is a clear abusive discretion. There is no substantial evidence, because they were deliberately inconsistent. And in terms of the presentation by the way from the find attorneys from Twin River, what I really heard was an effort tonight to invent this new record before you tonight. Right? But none of that was on the record when they actually made their decision and the board ruled, and that's the fundamental process and due process problems here. Jonathan.

MR. RAYMOND: Jonathan. Yeah. I just -- I want to address Trustee Brown's question about what we've been doing to cure. Well, first of all, you know, we work our tails off, you know, to cure with a skeleton team. And I want to give you just an example.

Twin Rivers knew for several years that Highlands was operating as a high school even though the -- the charter for Highlands required it to be really first grade, second grade, and 12. And so, they asked for a material revision, which is in essence a new education plan. You know, they asked for that when -- when I started. They asked for it June. I started in July. I didn't even have a chief academic office, who didn't start until August.

Nonetheless, we put a very detailed education plan as to how we would do this. We worked closely with them. So then -- then come December the -- the Twin Rivers team said, "You know what, it's -- it's -- it's too detailed for us, and we don't want to spend our winter break going -- going through it, so you need another plan." So we did. We came up with a plan to go back to being in compliance with the original charter.

So while they were on winter break, my team -- my team worked the whole Christmas break, they worked New Year's, they worked the weekend, so that when our students came back to school in January there was a first and a second grade, we call foundations. And that program today silver lining is, we've enrolled over 800 students in this program since January, since January.

We're probably the only charter school in California that's seen that dramatic growth, but that's just one example of what we did to be able to cure. We have exited leases. Now, my predecessors, they entered into long-term monthly year leases. Hard things to get out of, but my team has worked tirelessly to get out of these leases, to try the surplus vehicles.

And the public dollars, I don't have police powers, but you know that Hawaii trip that got -- that got referenced, we sent everyone who went on that a -- a demand letter, pay us back. And then, you know what we did, we took them to small claims court, the only policing power we could do.

So everything we have -- we have done to try to cure, we have cured, and that was the recommendation of the staff. And I even have conversations with Superintendent Martinez. He says, "You don't even have to have it all cured, you just need a plan to show us how you're going to cure." So we had plans, and we had also cures.

MR. KEEFER: I have a question --

MS. SABENIANO: Okay. Thank you.

MR. KEEFER: -- for chair.

MS. SABENIANO: Do you have any other questions [inaudible]?

MR. KEEFER: Yeah. I have a question for Jonathan Raymond?

MS. SABENIANO: Just want to make sure, Trustee Brown, do you have any other questions? No?

MR. BROWN: You know, basically, I just wanted to make a statement, not really a question. That is -- actually, all that is critical to know why did this big staff recommended that the board decline to revoke the charters based on staff findings? That the charter school has successfully refuted and remedy all violations at the conclusion of the remedy, period. And that's the only statement I would like to make at this time. Thank you.

MS. SABENIANO: Okay. Okay. Thank you. Go ahead.

MR. KEEFER: Yeah, I have a question for Mr. Raymond. I have a question for Mr. Raymond. So, Mr. Raymond, when you were hired or when you were preparing to be hired, when -- when was the notice to cure for the missing audit, when did you become aware of that?

MR. RAYMOND: That was in the original Notice of Violations that were issued by the Twin Rivers in -- in June. So, you know, when I came in shortly, you know, as -- as part of my honeymoon, there -- there were -- there was none. You know, we -- we had to at the time -- I want to explain the context here -- we had a preliminary clean audit from IBailey [ph] back in the spring.

And the state audit comes out at the end of June, and IBailey posed the audit saying they have to take another look at it. Well, that another look at it was months, months and months and months. We had to finally send them a -- a legal letter threatening to -- to bring legal action in order to get the audit from them. So we finally get the audit months and months later.

And yes, Twin Rivers kept asking for it. And we eventually got it, and they disclaimed on -- on that. They said that with the state auditor's finding of $180 million they could not make a determination. But that's the audit that -- and once we accepted that we gave it to Twin Rivers and that cured their Notice of Violation.

MR. KEEFER: So the -- in my documentation it says the notice was sent from Twin Rivers on April 24th, and you being a superintendent how important is having an audit and actually running a business?

MR. RAYMOND: Well, of course, it's very important to -- to have an audit. And, you know, if we can't get an audit finalized from an auditor, all we can do is continue to ask, continue to ask, and -- and, you know, luckily we have a -- a new audit firm who is going back and is doing the au- -- the audit for '24, '25, and we'll do the '25, '26 audit.

But, you know, I- -- Bailey, we asked them, asked them asked. You know -- you know, we couldn't get something that they wouldn't give us. They finally gave it to us, but I was -- to answer your question, I was made aware of it when I started in July.

MR. KEEFER: What was your communication with the board with -- with staff and the board of Twin Rivers regarding the audit? How did you personally invest time into seeking a cure for that?

MR. RAYMOND: Well, again, I was working with our CBO at time, working with our general co- -- counsel to do everything we could to get the audit from IBailey. In fact, that's when we had to draft a letter, you know, threatening to -- to move into legal action until we got the audit.

And in conversations with staff at Twin Rivers we -- we said, "We're doing everything we can," and they understood that. They -- they understood it, and which is why when we eventually got the audit before January 2nd, the deadline that they gave us, they -- they checked that off as having been remedied.

MR. KEEFER: Okay. Thank you.

MR. RAYMOND: You're welcome.

MS. SABENIANO: Any other questions or comments? Yes, Trustee Fong.

MR. FONG: Yeah. I wanted to thank all of the -- the parents and students and the staff that came here and gave their information on why the charter should stay alive.

But I do want to give Twin Rivers a chance to respond to Mayor Steinberg and Jonathan Raymond's comments about what they said just now on the questions. So if -- if you could, you know, you can give your response and put that on the record.

MR. SCHUETZ: Thank you. And just going back to an original question earlier, the resolution was adopted by the board did -- was based on substantial evidence on the record. The findings were made in the Notice of Intent to Revoke by staff, which the board adopted at that time.

And there is no obligation for the board to consider any remedial actions past that point, but they -- they did, and they considered they were sufficient, that's reflected in the resolution findings.

I -- I do -- and I believe general counsel in their staff analysis concurs with that. As education code and regulations include no requirement to allow remedies after the close of the remedy period, the county board may properly find that the district board have the discretion to allow the charter school to remedy its violations after the September 26 -- 25th deadline, but was not required to do so.

While district staff recommended accepting the post deadline remedies, the district board was not required to accept that rec- -- recommendation. So our -- our position is there was no obligation. There was substantial evidence -- evidence in the record as reflected in the -- at the time of the notice of intent to revoke, which the board adopted as its findings in support of revocation.

And substantial evidence, as mentioned a few times tonight, as a -- as a deferential standard. And even so your -- your existing policy, SCOE's own board policy 2400 cites -- cited by Highlands and us in our response to their appeal, substantial evidence with [inaudible] code 477605 -- 7 -- shall be evidence that demonstrates that a violation was material, supports revocation -- revocation when viewed as a whole in light of all relevant evidence -- information, demonstrates that the violation actually occurred, and was not cured by the charter school during the reasonable opportunity to remedy the violation.

So that's reflected itself in your policy which we believe actually supports furthermore that substantial evidence was found.

MR. DIGIULIO: I'd like to add too, there's been a lot of mention about current management, not old management. We understand that. And -- and it's not -- this isn't a determination based on who's in management and what certain management teams did. Education code requires you to make a determination based on the schools. So we have to consider evidence for the school as a whole.

MR. FONG: I have a question to our attorney. You know, if there was conflicting evidence provided by, you know, the people that want to keep the charter, do we have to by law resolve that in favor of Twin Rivers?

MS. STINSON: If -- what the court cases say is that there is conflicting evidence, then you resolve it in favor of the lower tribunal's decision that would be in favor of the district's decision.

MR. FONG: Okay. And in the findings, if the determination of substantial evidence supports the findings, even though they didn't write out each particular one, each specific violation in the resolution that they make reference to their notice of intent to revoke, is that good enough to say that there was substantial evidence in support of the findings?

MS. STINSON: Well the -- the notice of intent to revoke included a very extensive writeup of the violations and the -- and the -- and what the -- the district and the district board believed had not been remedied.

And I think as -- as Mayor Steinberg referenced that you do have to have findings that bridge the analytic gap between what the evidence is and the ultimate decision or order. I think the notice of intent to revoke was as -- was an attempt to do that.

Now there's of course the issue of did the district have to accept remedies after the September 26 deadline. I think if it didn't have to, it's very clear there's substantial evidence in the record. If it did have to or somehow gave -- if -- if the board were to find that somehow there was some requirement that it accept evidence after that, then you'd have to look at more.

I would say just so that the board knows it's there, in the notice of intent to revoke, there was language that was put there about for example the -- the San Diego condominium, that although it acknowledged that the district or that the charter schools had tried to mitigate the extent it could, that because the past monies had been expended and were not used on students, that money may never be recovered.

And same thing with the Maryland property, that it was -- we understand -- in other words what the district did is they acknowledged that -- that -- that the charter schools had done as much as they could. But they also acknowledged that it may never be resolved because the -- the public funds weren't actually retrieved. And that -- that was public funds that was used.

So those are things -- I just set that out there so you know that that's in the notice of intent to revoke. But again it's for this board to decide whether it feels that that's substantial evidence or not.

MR. FONG: So I -- I have another question related to -- even though it was alleged that the deadlines were -- for carrying the violations were, quote, described as arbitrary.

And the decisions that were made by the board members who wanted to give them 60 days more notice and extend their ability to provide evidence after the original deadline. Was it -- if that was -- can that be construed as abuse of discretion.

So like the -- the -- the reasons why we would overturn what the -- yeah, we -- we felt that there was abuse dis- -- of discretion and things were done arbitrarily. Now were -- were any of those instances where the deadlines that was set was arbitrary because there was no staff around to respond to Twin Rivers?

MS. STINSON: I -- I --

MR. FONG: And that, you know, four board members wanted to give them more time, but they -- they may have -- they -- they appeared to have said they wanted to give them more time. And the staff worked with them the day they had more time. And they produced setting a document saying that they remedy all of the violations.

But the board decided not to take that and staff recommendations. And wanted to use the -- the original notice of -- of revocation back in September and use that. Now is that an abuse of discretion?

MS. STINSON: So I think -- I think the abuse of discretion and whether it's arbitrary or capricious really goes to whether there's substantial evidence or not. Something is arbitrary and capricious if there's no evidence to support your action. If you -- if you don't have evidence in your record to support the decision you made, then you're making an arbitrary and capricious decision.

So it really goes to that. To me -- the issue of whether the district had to give additional time or not, that's a separate issue. That's an issue I think that's before this board, right.

The -- the statute doesn't say you have to give more than the remedy period. But that doesn't mean the board couldn't give more than the -- the remedy -- the board always has a right to give more time if they want. But I don't think the statute requires them to.

MR. FONG: Okay. Thank you. And I just wanted to say that all of the people who came and -- and spoke about wanting to be American citizens, wanting to learn English, wanted to have the opportunity to become part of the American society by going to an adult education program that provides that for them, I am all in favor of doing this for you.

It's just that companies and corporations are people. And even though the peop- -- the management has changed, the corporation violated a lot of things. And there were admissions to those violations. And for me to try to say that I'm going to overlook that and give them a second chance, I'm not the judge on this.

I have to go with what's in the law and what was done by the corporation regardless of the past management and the -- and the current management. You know, I -- I just kind of feel that that is the case here in -- in terms of what we're looking at. And I wish there was a way to provide an adult education program in Twin Rivers. So --

[talking over each other]

MR. FONG: So they -- the staff at Twin Rivers, you know, I hope you would find a way to provide for all of the people that -- the 4,000 people that want an adult education program and do it for them.

But in the case of this, I will not be supporting, you know, giving them a second chance. That's not what we're here for. We're here to apply the law to the situation.

MS. SABENIANO: Trustee Lef- -- sorry, Trustee Caigoy is first. And then Trustee Lefkovitz. Go ahead.

MS. CAIGOY: Oh, okay. Thank you. I'm sorry, all the attorneys sat down and I have a question for the attorneys. Okay. In regards to November 4th, I guess this is in -- this is regarding process. And so I read the transcripts. I watched the recordings. I even read the minutes and every single documentation that you guys sent to me.

And so I'm looking at-- I'm -- I'm think -- I'm -- the recording, going off of the recording now, the actual what happened in the November 4th meeting. And several of the trustees had asked about time, and what clarification on timeline, and clarification of the timeline of to re- -- when to remedy.

And then they were responded to by their own staff and attorneys, right. I'm -- I'm asking. That's -- okay. That's -- well --

MR. RAYMOND: [inaudible] I assume so.

MS. CAIGOY: Okay. All right. Fine. So, yes, I did watch the video. Thank you. And so anyways, staff and attorney, legal counsel, answered the questions that were brought up by multiple trustees around the timeline. Then after they got that clarification, there were no other questions. Then they voted to continue on with the revocation process.

On December 3rd, Twin Rivers emailed the school saying, hey, your new deadline is January 2nd. Schools don't communicate with the board. We authorize for charter schools. And they do not communicate with us.

So I guess my question is, if the district is communicating to the school, saying their new deadline is this, and what took place in the November 4th meeting with multiple trustees, verifying that they were going to indeed get additional time to remedy, and then they took action to continue on with the revocation process, I -- I -- I guess I'm -- I'm wondering, does that mean that -- I mean because I keep on hearing they don't have to, they don't have to take that into consideration.

However is that truly giving the school due process if the board, one, clarified the timeline, received responses from their own legal counsel and staff, that they indeed were provided more time and they were going to be given more time. It is in written record and response from the district saying that they indeed have more time.

So I -- I'm wondering, is that completely fair to say the -- to -- from the board's perspective, we're going to just throw out all evidence that's submitted by that new deadline that was established. I -- I -- I'm trying to figure out what did -- what's the -- is there an assumption or, you know, if I were the school, I would think if the board -- my authorizer is communicating with me, that is record.

I don't communicate with our charter schools. So I -- I -- I just need some clarification -- someone.

MR. RAYMOND: So thank you for that question, Trustee Caigoy. One of the things I wanted to point out to you is that there's actually a Title V regulation that we think is applicable to exactly this scenario that you're asking about right now.

And it's 11968.5.4B3. And it says, you, the County Board of Education, shall also consider whether an alleged procedural deficiency negatively impacted the charter school's ability to refute or remedy the alleged violation.

Again, the -- the County Board of Education shall also consider whether an alleged procedural deficiency negatively impacted the charter school's ability to refute or remedy the alleged violation.

And we believe that that's exactly the situation here. Because the district did in fact, as you noted on the record, we had a majority of the board say there would be more time.

There was an official communication from the district. That's just one communication, by the way, from the district. There were also in person meetings --

MS. CAIGOY: December 8th, right?

MR. RAYMOND: And there were -- and there were -- and they were -- so there were a variety of conversations going back and forth between the district staff and the charter school staff. That email that you referenced just being one of those communications indicating, you know, some ongoing collaboration, right, relative to expanding the record.

And so -- and so it did impact directly the charter school's ability. Because had the charter school known that it would not be afforded any additional time, the charter school maybe could have done some different things. It would have had options to do different things.

So for example, right, you know, it could have bought out the lease in San Diego and Marysville sooner. It could have done it. Why didn't it do that? Why did it instead submit a plan to do that?

It did that because it was trying to be cognizant of using additional taxpayer dollars to buy out a lease that it hoped it could find a subtenant for. And thus try to preserve as much of the taxpayer dollars as possible.

This management team didn't enter into that lease. It was trying to do its best to extricate the school from that situation without incurring any additional liability that wasn't necessary. So that's why for example it submitted a plan.

Now again, the district had said submitting a plan would be good. That would be sufficient as long as they thought that plan was, you know, cognizable, that it was reasonable, that that could be an effective answer. And in fact the Title 5 regulations also address that issue and allows specifically for a plan to be submitted.

And so that's why the school chose to take that particular course. And so the district now attempted to argue that all of what its trustees said, what its legal counsel said on the record, what staff said on the record, should all be disregarded and all of that process should be disregarded, right.

It is creating a -- a due process issue for the charter school. And it is also creating a detrimental reliance issue. The school detrimentally relied on that commitment and that promise that it had additional time.

MS. CAIGOY: Thank you for that. And I guess I do have an additional question. And anyone can answer that, so come on up, come on up. Based on the report that you all provided this evening, Twin Rivers, since these were not presented in January, I -- I guess the question is, you guys could -- you guys could essentially start the revocation process over tomorrow; correct? And then note all of these findings that you noted this evening.

MR. SCHUETZ: And those aren't new -- are new findings. They're a reflection of their status leading up to the notice of intent to revoke. And then reflecting some of the failures of their remedial action plan since, in between that revenue period ended until the actual decision board meeting.

So there was a period of things -- so just backing up, the -- the regulation and statutes provide by nature additional time. Doesn't mean the board had to consider actions taken past that remedy period expiration date in their final decision. So we have the notice of intent to revoke and the regulation has public hearing and then another set date before actual decision to revoke must occur.

So while there -- yes, there were actions taken during that period, the board concluded and even, you know, staff recognized, and even to this date we have things that have not been addressed sufficiently including locations that are being operated out of compliance with their MOU. We really don't know where they're operating.

They had a policy that we've recognized in our -- in our presentation tonight where they -- it was part of their plan submitted to address their fiscal mismanagement issues. And they're not even following that policy. They're bypassing it, which raises serious concerns about that continued violation.

But I want to get back, you know, really to -- and -- and the procedural errors argument that was raised, that was addressed by general counsel, county office in their analysis, that there was nothing to that. I mean we're hearing some new arguments tonight that were not reflected earlier in the notice of appeal.

But I want to get the board, you know, back hopefully to the -- the central question here which is not was progressed made or -- or could the -- a different decision have been made. It's whether the substantial evidence in the record support the district's findings.

And the district's board's resolution not only adopted the findings that were represented by staff in that notice of intent to revoke, but -- and found that substantial evidence demonstrates that the violations initially identified in that notice of intent to revoke. And that even though they didn't need to, the violations set forth in that notice of intent to revoke have not been sufficiently remedied by each charter.

And attempts to further corrective actions taken by the charter, although considered by the board, failed to sufficiently remedy the violations identified in the notice of violation and substantiated in those and intent to revoke, and/or promised unsubstantiated, unreliable future performance, and resulting uncertainty regarding future compliance.

That was in the board's decision, discretion to make. And despite recommendations from staff it was ultimately the board's decision. And they -- they did adopt that.

MS. CAIGOY: Yeah. So my question was regarding the November 4th meeting and the communication that came from the board.

MR. SCHUETZ: No. There was no -- I don't think there's any communication from the board -- [talking over each other]

MS. CAIGOY: There was -- so when I say communication, so communication could be multiple things, right --

MR. SCHUETZ: Okay --

MS. CAIGOY: -- it could be comments, it could be statements --

MR. SCHUETZ: Okay --

MS. CAIGOY: And so there were questions as to the timeline. I'm not sure if it was you or if it was you who answered the board's question around the extension of time.

MR. SCHUETZ: And I --

MS. CAIGOY: And --

MR. SCHUETZ: I -- if I may, I think that's

-- it was addressing the fact that the -- the process, the regulatory process has additional time built into it just by virtue of the process playing out. You have the decision issue [inaudible] intent to revoke. And if you look back at our timeline, you had a public hearing on December 2nd.

And then the final decision determination meeting wasn't until the -- the 30th. We had one on the 29th, which the board did not accept the district's recomm- -- the staff's recommendation. And they came back on the 30th and adopted the resolutions in support of the denial determination. So I don't know how -- what -- how that -- that may have been taken out of context along those lines, where the -- the process has time built into it by virtue where they could have taken actions to remedy it.

MS. CAIGOY: Time that was on record that they were going to have additional time. And so -- but there's communications from your district to the school from your staff. There was an email on December 3rd. And then there was a in person meeting on December 8th.

MR. SCHUETZ: Yeah.

MS. CAIGOY: To -- they met in person on December 8th. And they discussed this timeline. And the school was told that the new date to remedy was January 2nd. And you're telling -- and you're saying that that is not -- they don't have to take that into consideration? But it came from your district.

MR. SCHUETZ: And the board, you know, did -- did consider staff's recommendation and disagreed.

MS. CAIGOY: Okay.

MR. SCHUETZ: And that was within their discretion to do.

MS. CAIGOY: Got it. Thank you.

MS. SABENIANO: Okay. We're going to pause just for one second to take a vote to allow us to go past 10:30. Since we're close to that time. Is there -- is there a motion to extend the meeting?

[talking over each other]

MS. SABENIANO: Okay. Is there a motion to waive the four hour board meeting limit and extend the board meeting until the completion of our agendized business.

MS. CAIGOY: So moved.

MS. SABENIANO: Okay.

MR. FONG: Second.

MS. SABENIANO: Is there a second? Trustee Caigoy moved. And second by Trustee Fong. Any discussion? All those -- or roll call vote for that, please.

CLERK: On the motion to -- to extend the meeting, Trustee Lefkovitz?

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Yes.

CLERK: Vice President Keefer?

MR. KEEFER: Yes.

CLERK: Trustee Fong?

MR. FONG: Yes.

CLERK: Trustee Davis?

MS. DAVIS: Yes.

CLERK: Trustee Caigoy?

MS. CAIGOY: Yes.

CLERK: Trustee Brown?

MR. BROWN: Yes.

CLERK: County Board Member Dunbar?

MS. DUNBAR: Yes.

CLERK: President Corona Sabeniano?

MS. SABENIANO: Yes.

CLERK: Unanimous vote.

MS. SABENIANO: Okay. Thank you. And now we're going to go to Trustee Lefkovitz.

MS. CAIGOY: Oh, I wasn't done.

MS. SABENIANO: Oh, you were not done? Okay, sorry. Go ahead.

MS. CAIGOY: Okay. Thank you. Okay. So going to the definition of substantial evidence test, what's in our -- what's in our report. That has -- that came from a case that had nothing to do with a revocation. That was a -- that was a denial. That was a petition that came before the district that was denied and then appealed.

And so I'm wondering why we're using the substantial evidence test from something that has nothing to do with this case.

MS. STINSON: Because the courts define substantial evidence in a number of different contexts. They define it in administrative processes. And so there are cases where they've done it in the context of charters. There -- I think there's a case cited in our staff report that has to do with a revocation. There's also one that has to do with a denial.

But the substantial evidence is defined by the California courts and courts of appeal in a number of different contexts. And it's basic -- it's -- it -- they -- that's how they define substantial evidence. And it doesn't have to specifically be a revocation. Substantial evidence is a legal standard.

MS. CAIGOY: Got it. Okay. And I, you know, thank you for that, Tracy. Appreciate it. And thank you to both attorneys. Appreciate you both answering these questions. The question tonight is not regarding the $180 million that's in question. That's -- that's not what was in the notice of violation.

I just, you know -- and I agree with the sentiments that were said. It is egregious. It is disgusting. It was a misuse of public funds. And that was done by the prior leadership. I heard tonight that current leadership is in pending litigation with the prior leaders to recuperate some of the taxpayers' lost dollars.

And my question is, if the school were to close, what happens to pending litigation and current talks that are happening with the state regarding the recoupera- -- recouperation of that 180 million lost?

MR. SIMMONS: So if -- if the board does not act to reverse the revocation, then at this time the school is not -- both schools are not receiving any state funding because of the revocations that took place. So as a result there is, you know, a very limited capacity, both to settle with the state if that is an option that ever comes on the table, right, or to repay the state if ultimately at the end of the audit appeal process it's found that the school does owe those dollars, okay?

And then in terms of litigation against others, obviously the school is -- has a very limited capacity to engage in that sort of endeavor particularly given, you know, that right now all the -- all they're operating on is reserves. So I'm not going to speak on behalf of the Highlands board about what their strategies may be around those things, right. But I think that's a fair answer to your question. I would say also that, you know, to the extent -- and I think Jonathan made this clear on the record at the district, as did I on behalf of the board -- that the current Highlands board and administration does not support some of the financial decisions that were made by prior management teams.

So I think to the extent that the district or the county office wanted to join us in any way and provide assistance or come alongside us, that could be incredibly helpful regardless of, you know, this issue. I hear the public and its desire for accountability. I -- I hear that. But I think we're doing all we can do by ourselves.

So if the county office or the district wants to join us in some regard in that, I think there'd be openness to conversations.

MS. CAIGOY: But the 180 was not mentioned in the notice of violation. And right now we're supposed to be taking into account only the record, which is a notice of violation; correct?

MR. SIMMONS: That is correct.

MS. CAIGOY: Okay. Thank you.

MS. SABENIANO: Trustee Lefkovitz.

MS. LEFKOVITZ: I'm -- yeah, I'm still struggling a little bit with this extension and whether it was like -- I don't know if legal is the right word, but whether or not they actually had an extension by the board. I get the board didn't have to follow the staff.

But it's -- it's just confusing to me that it appears that the board -- that the board members were asking them or telling them they could submit more evidence. And then the staff sends them a letter saying you have until June -- January 2nd.

And I feel like that's a fundamental issue that if they actually had that time, and if we all agreed that that was allowed and expected, that that could -- that that would impact at least the board's consideration of evidence. So it's confusing to me that we -- we aren't coming to some consensus around that. It's just like you each decide whether you agree that's correct. Is -- is -- am I -- am I reading that correct? It's up to each of us to decide whether we think that extension was required or --

MS. STINSON: I -- I think so because I don't think I would -- I would tell you that it was -- that it was. And I think -- I think you've heard testimony from both sides about whether it was and whether they thought it was granted. So I think -- so I think that's for you all --

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Okay.

MS. STINSON: -- to decide. Yeah.

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Okay. And then I just have two questions. One is, can the board only consider for revocation those things in the notice of violation? And if it's not in the notice of violation, then it sounds like they can't be considered. Is that a correct understanding --

MS. STINSON: The notice of violation was the basis upon which the school district started the revocation proceeding. So yes, that's correct because that's the notice they gave. Here's the violations and here's what we're asking you to correct, so that is correct.

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Okay. So then in reading -- and I know this document really isn't supposed to be considered because it was received on April 21st after all of this -- after all the hearings. But the council sent us -- sent a letter to our board or to you that you shared about their I guess response to our staff report. And we got it. It was dated April 21st.

MS. STINSON: Yes. So what -- what I invited the parties to do is to submit written arguments. And I made it very clear it could not include new evidence. It -- I -- I was asked that it include citations to the record. But it was -- you have an opportunity if you'd like. You don't have to. But here's an invitation if you'd like to submit written arguments that are tied to the record and that new evidence would not be considered.

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Okay. Well I will say I had wished that that document had been read into the record on January 30th because it was actually helpful. And it did seem like contained a lot of information that was useful. But it did reference two things that I wondered if were in the record. And that was -- or were part of the notice of violation.

And that was an expectation that the leases would be -- the monies spent on the leases would be repaid. Like that wasn't any -- in any of the staff report, in any of the stuff that the staff outlined was in the notice of violation. So that one struck me as odd that that was included in that letter that the board is relying on or is including in their -- one of their reasons for revoking.

And then the other one for me was the notice of violation just said that the audit report had to be submitted. It -- it spoke nothing to the -- whether the audit report was, you know, what was found in the audit report. So do we literally take that as it just has to be submitted versus what was in the con- -- inside the audit report and what its findings were.

MS. STINSON: I think it would be tied to whatever the notice of violation had asked for. I don't know if the district has more of a response to that than I would. But --

[talking over each other]

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Yeah. It just [inaudible] --

MS. STINSON: -- it should be tied to the notice of violation.

MS. LEFKOVITZ: It just said an audit should be submitted. It didn't say an audit that had a clear audit was to be submitted. Go on.

MR. DIGIULIO: Just to clarify, we wanted a valid audit, right, so one that met all the requirements of an audit. And so it didn't meet the requirements when an opinion wasn't expressed. Just for clarification.

MS. LEFKOVITZ: But the word valid I don't think was included in the language.

MR. DIGIULIO: I understand. But there's an audit guide of what's required in an audit. So there are things -- I agree with you, there are things that weren't necessarily stated there that are required as part of law.

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Okay. Okay. And then you can stay there because I have another question. My question here is about curing. And I was wondering of the state law requires that the charter actually had to cure the problems or if they only had to see if reasonable plans and assurances because --

MR. SCHUETZ: I believe the standard is refute, remedy, or propose a plan that sufficiently remedies. Just subject to interpretation of what's a sufficient remedi- -- remedial action plan. And they -- they did submit part of their response to that notice of violation, a plan. But as was kind of outlined -- well first of all, initially it was determined that that notice of intent to revoke the [inaudible] plan was insufficient.

But they did other things along the way after that date. And -- and as you reflected in our presentation tonight, which is based on the record, it's nothing -- that was not new information. Multiple attempts at these plans throughout then were still repeatedly insufficient during that time period.

So that -- that's the standard from the regulation. I just want to mention briefly too, anything in our response was based on what was submitted as part of the appeal record by -- by the charter schools. And I believe we cited even to the record where it was. So I'd have to look at that specific item you referenced. But it -- it should be in the record somewhere.

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Okay. Thanks.

MR. RAYMOND: May I [inaudible]

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Yeah. Is that all right? Okay.

MR. STEINBERG: Counsel is correct that Title 5 of the code of regulations does not require the charter school to remedy the -- the -- the problem or to cure the problem, as you said. It requires proposed remedial action by the charter school. Proposed remedial action. Which they did and then of course the Twin Rivers staff said it not only submitted a plan, they actually cured.

But then there's the County Board of Education policy's definition of substantial evidence. And this is 2400 BP Section 2000. It says that definition of substantial evidence is if the violation, quote, was not cured by the charter school during its reasonable opportunity to remedy the violation. So then you go back to the facts of the case here. The board, Twin Rivers board, and the staff gave the school the opportunity to cure with the 60 day extension. And in fact the only evidence on the record again is with that additional 60 days, Highlands cured during its reasonable opportunity to remedy the violation. So it met that definition. It met the definition. And that's County Board of Education's definition, your board's definition of substantial evidence.

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Okay.

MR. KEEFER: I have a question on that.

MS. SABENIANO: You're next, Vice President Keefer.

MR. KEEFER: So I would ask Twin Rivers, was the audit cured now? Is it cured? Because I feel like I'm playing ping pong here. And --

MR. DIGIULIO: [inaudible]

MR. KEEFER: I mean --

MR. DIGIULIO: The entire part of an audit is to have an opinion rested on the financials. They cannot issue an opinion. So to us we do not have a complete audit. So it was not cured --

[talking over each other]

MR. KEEFER: So it's not cured. Okay. Thank you.

[talking over each other]

MR. KEEFER: That's all. That's it. Yeah.

MS. SABENIANO: Trustee Davis.

MS. DAVIS: Okay. Good evening, everyone. We got to hear from all of you tonight. And that was really amazing. It isn't really the decision that we're making, but I very much enjoyed it. I appreciate the gentlemen who picks up the garbage cans and the garbages. I'm really excited for you that got your credential today for your single subject.

I want you to know, each and every one of you that spoke, like I really heard what each and every one of you had to say. And I want to explain a little bit on our behalf of what we do up here. And it's a weird thing.

My name's Heather Davis. And I am in my third term. I've been elected three times. I can't imagine coming up and speaking. English is my only language. And I can't imagine coming and doing what you did. That was very brave. And it took a lot of courage. And as a board member, we're elected by the people of our districts and their voters. And that's what we are. I'm not a lawyer. I can promise you that. And so it gets complicated up here because they've just asked us, the voters have asked me to help with my board to make this decision and to figure it out. And it's a lot to navigate. I think we can all agree on that after this evening. And so I just want to speak to a couple of things as far as this decision goes. So whereas I understand what was brought before us for all of your plea, I want to speak to what I heard from both sides. Because some of it, in speaking to my board of colleagues, some of it is strange, right. Like why -- why like is Twin Rivers all of a sudden like so passionate now, when it was going on for a long time. Like where were they?

Like it's -- I mean it's not -- I don't mean that to be like -- I'm literally like -- I'm like sitting here just as a person, a voter, I'm mom. I'm wondering, what the heck was going on, number one. Number two, our board -- I -- I -- I don't want to speak on behalf of them, but I will anyway.

I feel that this next step of where we're going is that we want to be innovative, and we want to be open, and we want to be making change. And I can't imagine why we would like try to get in the way of stopping that. I'm not really sure that I know like if -- if there -- if the, you know, if these students are being served. Because I think like that this school happens to be serving students that no one else is serving, as far as I can tell maybe.

So to me, I think -- I think education should be all those things moving forward, innovative. I'm not sure. It feels -- this feels a little political to me, which seems uncomfortable. As -- as somebody -- like so this is how I'm going to break it down for you and where I'm at, guys, is this.

First of all I do want to say that I think where this board is going and what we are looking for is people who are willing to say, you know what, seems like things are turning around, so let's see what can happen. And I think that's what we're looking for, for me.

So with that said, I want to say this, that what I heard is that the board authorized staff, which I would hope that our board -- I mean our staff would if we had a direction that they authorized them, is -- is my -- the way I see it. They authorized High- -- to give Highlands more time.

And I think of it like this. If I'm a mom, which I am, I have three children. I've raised three children. And if one of them -- they've made mistakes, they're not perfect. If they went out and they made a mistake and did some things -- and I told them, you have a timeline to turn things around.

And then I started to see some serious -- and I think everybody can follow me on this -- and I started to see some serious change. I do think it would be abusive discretion of me to then come back and completely say, no, that is not what we meant, that isn't it.

So for me, if I'm having to make that decision based on the arguments of what I've heard tonight, and what I have seen, and what's been written, that to me is kind of how I'm -- I'm looking at this. And -- and -- and that's -- that's what I was hearing. And that's kind of where my mindset is at. So just to lend that I think, you know, thanks guys for everybody being here to late and for doing this. And yeah.

MR. FONG: [inaudible]

MS. SABENIANO: Sure. Yes. Trustee Fong.

MR. FONG: Yeah. I -- I just wanted to kind of remind the board that our decision is not to reweigh the evidence that was presented here. And our decision should be determined by the substantial evidence that supports the findings.

And the findings that were presented by the Twin Rivers, we -- there may have been some -- some -- some difficulties in terms of whether they gave them 60 days more time or not, or whether these students are being -- not being served by anybody else.

We need to look at what is the reasonable substantial evidence that a normal person would accept, that the evidence was there. So if you read the findings and the notice of revocation, all of those things are there. They were asked time and time and time over for many of these documents to -- to be given to them.

And it didn't come. And it didn't come on time. And even when it did come on time, there were shortcomings to it. So for us to try to reweigh the evidence, that's not what we're here for. We're here to just look at if they did the right things, they crossed their Ts, dot there is, and a document was presented to us with substantial evidence of their findings.

And that's what we're here for. Not -- not all this other stuff that was being brought up about, you know, oh, things were looking good, we should give them another chance. It's not that. It's not my opinion or my individual opinion. It's the legal things that we should be doing here and make that decision based on that.

MS. SABENIANO: Trustee Brown.

MR. BROWN: I agree with Trustee Fong that we have to look at the record. And if we look at the record, it will tell us that the new leadership was not on board when all these demands were made of Highlands. Am I correct about that?

And so we have to take that into consideration along with what happened on November 4th, where four of the board members wanted to give more time. And that's a part of the record.

But we're here to talk about what a reasonable man would do or a reasonable woman would do based on the facts. And a reasonable person would definitely not take away the ability of Highlands to do their job.

MS. SABENIANO: Okay. I also have struggled with this, I think just hearing the comments here tonight. I -- I'm a daughter of immigrants. English learner myself. My parents are English learners.

So I definitely hear what you all are sharing, the experience, and commend you for your passion for pursuing your education, for continuing even when things get difficult. And at the same time supporting your families and being there for your -- your families, your kids, and so forth. So just really want to commend you for that.

But I think for me, the evidence that we have, what -- for me what the record is, really is what was done, what the deadline was that September 26, what the Twin Rivers board gave. To me that was their deadline.

And if I had seen maybe more information provided between September 26 and November 4th, from the -- the charter, providing more information during that time to cure, rather than waiting till that meeting where the notice of revocation -- or the intent to revoke was approved, I think maybe I would weigh this a little bit differently, think a little bit differently about it.

But I don't see that in the record and the information that we have. And that was kind of my question when I asked our counsel earlier what our record was.

And I know Trustee Fong already read the piece about -- that we are required to look at what the district did. And I looked back to see. And the district's final vote was 7-0. So to me that speaks volumes that that is what the board that is the original authori- -- authorizer was looking at.

So our role here is really not to say the quality is not what it is, you know, the program, the curriculum is not providing the education that students need, or if there is a role for -- for Highlands in Twin Rivers or any other district. I think our question is very, very clear. Is there substantial evidence to revoke the charter. And I do see that in -- in the record.

I think for me also like part of our role is being accountable to the public and -- and those public funds. And for those reasons I'm not going to be able to support reversing the decision of Twin Rivers today.

And Trustee Caigoy, you have a question.

MS. CAIGOY: Yeah. So I'm just going back to -- because I keep on hearing the September 26th date. And ed code clearly states that the chartering authority shall notify the charter school of any violations of this section and give the school a reasonable opportunity to remedy the violation.

And a reasonable person, because I keep on hearing the definition of what is a reasonable person up here, but I can think of many ways of why that September 26th date was not reasonable. We just heard from the current charter school leader that he just came in after this notice of violation was issued.

Second, we heard that the board changed, the complete board, complete staff changed in August. School also started around that time. We have a room full of educators right now who know how busy that time of year is. Because the focus is supposed to be on the students.

I am not refuting that there have been bad choices, egregious disgusting choices. But that is not our job right now. Our job is to make sure that the board, the authorizing board, gave due process to the charter school. And that they followed ed code, that they followed law. Ed code is law.

And so I think that is also what our job is up here. And at this time that is what's before us, is that notice of violation that was issued and what they specify. If there was a detail that Twin Rivers meant to add in, they can start the process over tomorrow and add in those details. But the thought -- the -- to -- to say that we are taking out into account evidence that was not submitted at the time of the vote, ed code clearly states that we are supposed to go off of the record from the notice of violation to the revocation vote. Nothing after. And so that's -- I just want to say that and I just want to put that on record.

MS. SABENIANO: Okay. Any other comments or does someone want to make a motion? Question. Go ahead.

MS. CAIGOY: So can you state -- I have four copies of the same resolution in my folder. So can you just state what the -- what the options are here.

MS. STINSON: Yes. There are two potential resolutions for each of the charter schools. For the -- pardon me. For the California Career and Innovative Career Academy there is resolution number 26-16A which affirms the Twin Rivers Unified School District Board of Trustees decision to revoke the CICA charter.

And then there's proposed resolution number 26-16B, reversing the Twin Rivers Unified School District Board of Trustees decision to revoke the CICA charter. So those are the two resolutions for the California Career and Innovative Academy. And there's also two similar resolutions for the Highlands Community Charter School.

MS. CAIGOY: So I have four copies of 26-

16A.

MS. STINSON: Well --

[talking over each other]

MS. CAIGOY: Thank you.

[talking over each other]

MS. CAIGOY: And are we supposed to be making a motion for two separate motions? Or can we make one? What -- what's the deal?

MS. STINSON: [inaudible] pardon me. These are two separate agenda items. We held the public hearings together. So there should be -- there should be -- you should take action on one charter school first and then take a -- take action on the other separate.

MS. CAIGOY: Okay.

MR. FONG: Okay. I would like to move resolution 26-16A, which is to affirm Twin Rivers' decision to revoke California Innovative Career Academy.

MS. SABENIANO: Is there a second?

MR. KEEFER: Second.

MS. SABENIANO: Any discussion? Will you please call the roll?

CLERK: On -- on the motion to approve resolution number 26-16A, Trustee Lefkovitz?

MS. LEFKOVITZ: No.

CLERK: Vice President Keefer?

MR. KEEFER: Yes.

CLERK: Trustee Fong?

MR. FONG: Yes.

MS. DAVIS: No.

MS. SABENIANO: Yes.

CLERK: Motion -- motion fails.

MS. SABENIANO: Is there another motion?

MS. DAVIS: I'll put forth the motion to approve the resolution reversing the Twin Rivers Unified School District Board of Trustees decision to revoke the Highlands Community Charter School. So resolution number 26-17B. Is that correct, Tracy? Did I say all that correctly?

MS. STINSON: 26- -- for the California Innovative Career Academy, it's 26-16B.

MS. DAVIS: Can I put that together -- all at -- like both of these at the same time or --

MS. STINSON: We should do one at a time -- [talking over each other]

MS. DAVIS: Do you want me to do it separate? Okay.

MS. STINSON: Yes.

MS. DAVIS: All right.

MS. SABENIANO: Is there a second?

MR. BROWN: Second.

MS. SABENIANO: Okay. Any discussion? Please call the roll.

CLERK: This is on the motion to reverse resolution number 26-17B.

MS. STINSON: 26-16B.

CLERK: 26-16B. Sorry. On the motion to reverse --

MS. STINSON: The California -- this is for the California Innovative Career Academy, 16B.

CLERK: Reverse resolution number 26-16B. Trustee Lefkovitz?

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Yes.

CLERK: Trustee Keefer?

MR. KEEFER: No.

CLERK: Trustee Fong?

MR. FONG: No.

CLERK: Trustee Davis?

MS. DAVIS: Yes.

CLERK: Trustee Caigoy?

MS. CAIGOY: Yes.

CLERK: Trustee Brown?

MR. BROWN: Yes.

CLERK: County Board Member Dunbar?

MS. DUNBAR: Abstain.

CLERK: President Corona Sabeniano?

MS. SABENIANO: No.

CLERK: Pass -- passes, 4-1 -- 4-3.

MS. SABENIANO: Okay. And then moving -- so now we'll move on to Highlands Community Charter School. Is there a motion?

MS. DAVIS: So moved.

MS. SABENIANO: Which one?

MS. DAVIS: The 17 -- 26-17B. Is that right now?

MS. SABENIANO: Yeah.

MS. DAVIS: Do you want me to read that? Okay. Resolution reversing the Twin Rivers Unified School District Board of Trustees decision to revoke the Highlands Community Charter School.

MS. SABENIANO: Is there a second?

MS. DAVIS: Is that all right?

MR. BROWN: Second.

MS. SABENIANO: Any discussion? Will you please call the roll?

CLERK: Reversing resolution number 25-17B, Trustee Lefkovitz?

MS. LEFKOVITZ: Yes.

CLERK: Trustee Keefer?

MR. KEEFER: No.

CLERK: Trustee Fong?

MR. FONG: No.

CLERK: Trustee Davis?

MS. DAVIS: Yes.

CLERK: Trustee Caigoy?

MS. CAIGOY: Yes.

CLERK: Trustee Brown?

MR. BROWN: Yes.

CLERK: County Board Member Dunbar?

MS. DUNBAR: Abstain.

CLERK: President Corona Sabeniano?

MS. SABENIANO: No.

CLERK: Vote is 4-3 in favor.

MS. SABENIANO: Okay. Well thank -- thanks again everyone for being here. And drive home safe.
