Adoption Process

Steps of Instructional Materials Adoption Process

The review of publishers' instructional materials programs involves three aspects:

- 1. Education content review
- 2. Social content review
- 3. Public review and comment

Adoption Process

Public Review and Comment

The adoption process ensures that the public has the opportunity to review and comment on resources considered for SBE adoption.

- Materials available for public review
- Written comments forwarded to the review panels, the IQC, and the SBE
- Public comment during deliberations process
- Three separate public hearings are held prior to adoption

Overview of the Evaluation Criteria

History-Social Science Framework
Adopted by the State Board of Education on July 14, 2016

- 1 Chapter 23
- 2 Criteria for Evaluating Instructional Materials: Kindergarten
- 3 Through Grade Eight

- 5 This document provides criteria for evaluating the alignment of instructional
- 6 materials with the History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public
- 7 Schools (2000) and the History-Social Science Framework for California Public
- 8 Schools. The content standards were adopted by the California State Board of
- 9 Education in October 1998. They describe what students should know and be
- 10 able to do at each grade level. The framework incorporates the standards and
- 11 includes instructional guidelines for teachers and administrators. The framework,
- 12 together with the standards, defines the essential skills and knowledge in
- 13 history-social science that will enable all California students to enjoy a world-
- 14 class education.

15

- 16 The instructional materials must provide guidance for the teacher to facilitate
- 17 student engagement with the content standards, framework, and curriculum at
- 18 each grade level and to teach students all the analysis skills required for the
- 19 grade spans. Students should be able to demonstrate reasoning, reflection, and
- 20 research skills. These skills are to be learned through, and applied to, the content
- 21 standards and are to be assessed only in conjunction with the content standards.

Criteria for Evaluating Instructional Materials: Kindergarten through Grade Eight

Evaluation Criteria

Five Criteria Categories

- 1. HSS Content/Alignment with the Standards
- 2. Program Organization
- 3. Assessment
- 4. Universal Access
- 5. Instructional Planning and Support

Evaluation Criteria

Five Criteria Categories

Expectations: To be adopted, programs must

- meet all criteria in Category 1;
- have strengths in each of Categories 2–5.

Understanding the Criteria

- Examples versus requirements
 - "e.g." or "such as" vs. declarative statements ("shall")
- Some criteria statements call for multiple things
- Often criteria call for something but do not specify exactly where it must be included (other times, it is very specific)
- If the criteria does not specify something, it is up to the publisher

Understanding the Criteria

- Reviewers will be told that it is their task to evaluate materials in the context of the criteria, not how they would teach the content if they were writing the program.
- It is common to have disagreements about the criteria; this is why we have panels of reviewers that include a majority of teachers.
- It is essential for publishers to be ready to address reviewer questions and concerns at deliberations.

Meeting the Criteria

- "How much is enough?"
- Be prepared for extensive public comment on specific topics in the standards and framework.
- We cannot provide a preliminary evaluation of your materials.
- Refer to the official FAQ for clarification on specific criteria statements.

Evaluation Criteria

Category 1

HSS Content/Alignment with the Standards

 Instructional materials include content as specified in the HSS Standards, including the Historical and Social Science Analysis Skills.

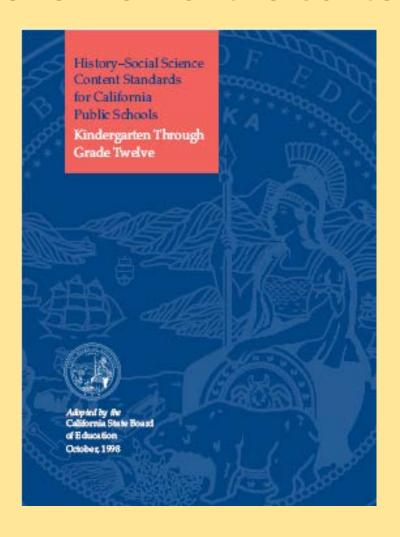

Evaluation Criteria

Category 1

- "History—social science instructional materials must support teaching aligned with the standards and framework.
 Materials that are contrary to or inconsistent with the standards, framework, and criteria are not allowed. Extraneous materials should be minimal and clearly purposeful." (criteria p. 828)
- Do not include references to national standards or standards from other states.

Overview of the Content Standards

- Adopted in 1998
- Organizational basis of the curriculum framework
- Another
 gatekeeper in this adoption
 process

Evaluation Criteria: Criterion 1.1

"Instructional materials, as defined in Education Code Section 60010(h), support instruction designed to ensure that students master all the History–Social Science Content Standards for the intended grade level. Analysis skills of the pertinent grade span must be covered at each grade level. This instruction must be included in the student edition of the instructional materials; while there can be direction in materials for the teacher to support instruction in the standards, this cannot be in lieu of content in the student edition. The standards themselves must be included in their entirety in the student materials, either at point of instruction or collected together at another location."

People Who Make a Difference

Students in grade two explore the lives of actual people who make a difference in their everyday lives and learn the stories of extraordinary people from history whose achievements have touched them, directly or indirectly. The study of contemporary people who supply goods and services aids in understanding the complex interdependence in our free-market system.

- 2.1 Students differentiate between things that happened long ago and things that happened yesterday.
 - Trace the history of a family through the use of primary and secondary sources, including artifacts, photographs, interviews, and documents.
 - Compare and contrast their daily lives with those of their parents, grandparents, and/or guardians.
 - Place important events in their lives in the order in which they occurred (e.g., on a time line or storyboard).

Overview of the Content Standards

Historical and Social Sciences Analysis Skills

The intellectual skills noted below are to be learned through, and applied to, the content standards for kindergarten through grade five. They are to be assessed only in conjunction with the content standards in kindergarten through grade five.

In addition to the standards for kindergarten through grade five, students demonstrate the following intellectual, reasoning, reflection, and research skills:

Chronological and Spatial Thinking

- Students place key events and people of the historical era they are studying in a chronological sequence and within a spatial context; they interpret time lines.
- Students correctly apply terms related to time, including past, present, future, decade, century, and generation.
- Students explain how the present is connected to the past, identifying both similarities and differences between the two, and how some things change over time and some things stay the same.

Also a standard

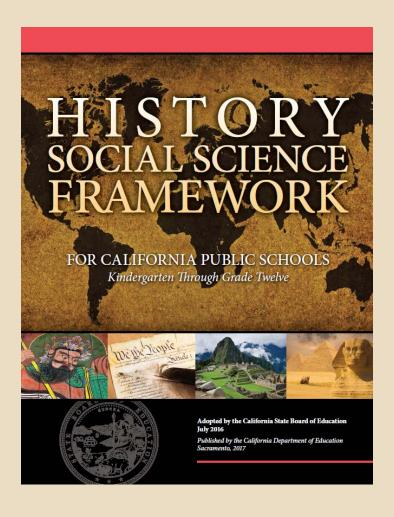

Overview of the Content Standards

- Standards must be met in full
- Examples ("e.g.") vs. lists of topics/concepts
 - 2.2 Students demonstrate map skills by describing the absolute and relative locations of people, places, and environments.
 - 1. Locate on a simple letter-number grid system the specific locations and geographic features in their neighborhood or community (e.g., map of the classroom, the school).
 - 2. Label from memory a simple map of the North American continent, including the countries, oceans, Great Lakes, major rivers, and mountain ranges. Identify the essential map elements: title, legend, directional indicator, scale, and date.

"Instructional materials reflect and incorporate the content of the History—Social Science Framework."

What does "reflect and incorporate" mean?

- This is a framework-aligned adoption.
- There is no framework map.
- This criteria statement will be evaluated by reviewers at the deliberations.
- Publisher citations on the criteria map should demonstrate how their materials are aligned to the framework.
- Publishers should attend carefully to the content of the framework and be prepared to address questions at deliberations.

- What about specific curricula and examples referenced in the framework?
 - Classroom examples
 - Curriculum units from the EEI or the CHSSP
 - Other third-party resources
- Publishers are not required to include these items in their programs unless specified.
- Publishers may include outside resources as long as they gain permission from the provider.

- Areas of divergence in the standards and framework
 - South Asia unit in grade seven
 - History of early Christianity
 - Newer historical interpretations
- Some topics must be included in overlapping grade levels (criterion 1.12 and FAQ questions 41–42).
- It is acceptable to acknowledge historical debates.
- Answers to these and other questions about the framework are in the Publisher FAQ on the CDE Web site.

Category 1

- Emphasis on Student Inquiry
 - "...utilizing the individual tools of each discipline to investigate a significant question and marshal relevant evidence in support of their own interpretations." (framework p. 9)
- Criteria statements 1.4, 1.5, 1.6, 1.7, others
- A significant instructional shift in the framework and this adoption

Category 1

- Alignment to other documents
 - Common Core for ELA/Literacy (1.13)
 - California ELD Standards (1.13)
 - California ELA/ELD Framework (1.13)
 - Environmental Principles and Concepts (1.15)
- The language of the criteria describes the degree of alignment required
- Similar language appears in categories 3 and 4 of the criteria

Category 2

Program Organization

 Instructional materials support instruction and learning of the standards and include such features as the organization and design of the programs and standards; chapter, unit, and lesson overviews; and glossaries.

Category 3

Assessment

 Instructional materials include assessments for measuring what students know and are able to do and provide guidance for teachers on how to use assessment results to guide instruction.

Category 3

Different types and purposes of assessment

- Entry-level
- Formative
- Summative
- Frequent opportunities to assess
- Focus on expository writing
- Rubrics

- Goal of the framework: support teaching of all students
- Criteria has limiting language on which groups must be supported in the submitted materials
- Strategies provided for a range of groups
- Emphasis is on a) identifying needs, and
 b) providing strategies to address those needs

Category 5

Instructional Planning & Support

 Information and materials contain a clear road map for teachers to follow when planning instruction and are designed to help teachers provide effective standardsbased instruction.

Social Content: Definition of Terms

Three definitions are critical in the review of instructional materials because they account for the most citations.

Adverse reflection:

Any description, depiction, label, or rejoinder that tends to demean, stereotype, or patronize those groups listed in the standards (i.e., male/female, ethnic and cultural groups, sexual orientation and gender identity, disabled persons, older persons and the aging process, entrepreneur and labor, and religion).

Social Content: Definition of Terms

Equal portrayal:

Instructional materials containing references to, or illustrations of, people must refer to both sexes approximately evenly, in both number and degree of importance, except as limited by accuracy or special purpose.

Proportion of portrayals:

Instructional materials containing references to, or illustrations of, people must portray accurately, to the extent possible, the roles and contributions of a fair proportion of diverse ethnic groups, especially those referenced in the statute (Section 60040[b]).

Social Content: Definition of Terms

Achievements:

When the developments in history; current events; or achievements in art, science, or any other field are presented, the contributions of men and women; people of lesbian, gay or bisexual orientation and transgendered persons; minority persons; and the disabled must be included when it is appropriate and historically accurate to do so.

Male/Female Roles

- Depictions, descriptions, or labels of male and female roles must not demean, patronize, or stereotype.
- Present equal illustrations, both in number and importance, of male/female figures.
- Present equal portrayal in occupations and range of careers.
- Represent equal presentation of male/female contributions and achievements.
- Present equal presentation in mentally and physically active, creative, problem-solving roles and success/failure in those roles.

FAIR Education Act of 2011

Education Code Section 51501:

The state board and any governing board shall not adopt any textbooks or other instructional materials for use in the public schools that contain any matter reflecting adversely upon persons on the basis of race or ethnicity, gender, religion, disability, nationality, sexual orientation, or because of a characteristic listed in Section 220.

Education Code Section 60040:

b.The role and contributions of Native Americans, African Americans, Mexican Americans, Asian Americans, Pacific Islanders, European Americans, lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender Americans, persons with disabilities, and members of other ethnic and cultural groups to the total development of California and the United States.

Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity

- No adverse reflections based on sexual orientation or gender identity are permitted.
- The contributions of LGBT individuals to the history of California and the United States are referenced in the framework and should be reflected in materials.
- Depictions of LGBT persons in text and illustrations, including similarities in roles, emotions, and socioeconomic status to others.

Brand Names & Corporate Logos

- 1. Omit illustrations of commercial brand names, products, or corporate or company logos, unless necessary to the educational purpose or incidental to a scene of general nature.
- 2. Do not use prominently any one brand or company.

Brand Names & Corporate Logos-Exemptions

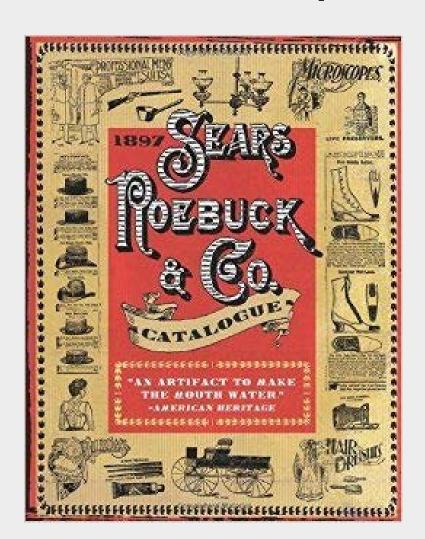

Guidelines for Exemptions: Some exemptions to the standards regarding brand names and corporate logos are allowable.

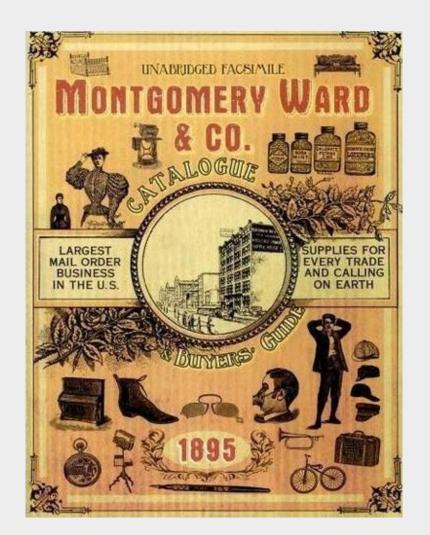

- Historical Purposes. The use of a corporate name or product in a historical reference is acceptable.
- Literature and References to Literature. Literature is generally exempt from a review for social content and includes previously published novels, short stories, poetry, essays, speeches, nonfiction, musical scores, and folktales.

Copyright Protection – Examples

- A publisher may have the corporate name or logo on the front of the book and on a page that provides copyright information.
- A publisher may use a corporate name to refer the reader to another document for further information.

Final Resolution

- Review panels will attach to their Reports of Findings any social content citations.
- Publishers may appeal a citation.
- Publishers may correct any cited issues in their materials and still be eligible for adoption.
- Instructional materials not adopted may still be added to the CDE Social Content Database, if they pass the social content review.
