

District of Special Education Accountability Rule for Students with Disabilities

The California School Dashboard (Dashboard) reports data on how local educational agencies (LEAs) and schools are meeting the needs of California's diverse student population. For most student groups, the LEA in which a student resides will be the same LEA in which the student is receiving the majority of their instruction. However, students with disabilities (SWDs) often receive services outside their district of special education accountability (DSEA). The DSEA, which in most cases is also the district of geographic residence, may be unable to provide the full range of special education services that the student requires and will often enter into a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with another LEA to provide these services. Which LEA, then, is held accountable for the outcomes of the student, as reported on the Dashboard?

Current DSEA Rule

The DSEA rule is applied to all available state indicators for SWDs who receive special education services at another district or county office of education. The data for these students are "sent back" to the DSEA and included in the DSEA's Dashboard. This ensures the LEA receiving federal funding under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act for a student will be held accountable for the outcomes of the student.

Please note, at the school level, the school of attendance will continue to be held accountable for the student's performance. The following table identifies the responsible entities.

LEA Responsibility for SWDs on the Dashboard

State Indicator	School of Attendance	DSEA	District of Attendance	Charter School	Charter School Authorizer
All State Indicators	Responsible	Responsible	Not Responsible	Responsible	Not Responsible

Additional Resources

LEAs can confirm which of their students were sent to other entities to receive appropriate special education services elsewhere by downloading the DSEA extract from the California Longitudinal Pupil Achievement Data System (CALPADS). This extract will identify the most recent data on which students are flagged with the "DSEA" field. For further information on this extract, the CALPADS DSEA field, and scenarios for determining which LEA is responsible for reporting SWD data, visit the California Department of Education \(CDE\) CALPADS Communications web page and the CDE Reporting Data for SWDs web page.
