Next Generation Science Standards Development Process

- July 2011: Framework for K-12 Science Education Released by National Research Council
- September 2011: California Selected as Lead State in the Development of NGSS, Based on Framework
- November 2011: First Meeting of State Review Team (SRT) comprised of Science Experts
- February 2012: Second Meeting of SRT
- May 2012: First Public Draft of NGSS Released
- October 2012: Third Meeting of SRT
- March 2013: Final Draft of NGSS Released
- April 2013: Final Draft of NGSS Released
- May 2013: Final Draft of NGSS Released
- June 2013: Final Draft of NGSS Released
- July 31, 2013: SSPI Presents to California SBE Recommended Science Standards Based on the NGSS
- August 2013: SSPI Presents to California SBE Recommended Science Standards Based on the NGSS
- September 2013: SSPI Presents to California SBE Recommended Science Standards Based on the NGSS
- October 2013: SSPI Presents to California SBE Recommended Science Standards Based on the NGSS
- November 30, 2013: California SBE Adopts, Rejects, or Modifies Recommended Science Standards
- December 2013: California SBE Adopts, Rejects, or Modifies Recommended Science Standards
- January 2014: California SBE Adopts, Rejects, or Modifies Recommended Science Standards
- February 2014: Implementation of New Science Standards

*Pending SBE’s action in November 2013