Report to the Governor, Legislature, and the Legislative Analyst's Office: Status Report on the Implementation of County Centralized Eligibility Lists

Executive Summary

The 2011 Budget Act (Senate Bill 87, Chapter 33) eliminated funding for the implementation of county Centralized Eligibility Lists (CELs). State-funded CELs ceased to exist as of July 1, 2011, except in a few counties that elected to continue operating a CEL on a voluntary basis.

This report is required by Item 6110-196-0001 of the 2010 Budget Act (Provision 11, Chapter 712, Statutes of 2010). Pursuant to the Budget Act, this report provides an update on the implementation of state-funded CELs, data on the number of children and families waiting for subsidized child care and development services in each county as of March 31, 2011, and county expenditure data.

The 2011 report shows there were:

- 135,744 families waiting for subsidized child care and development services.
- 193,140 children waiting for subsidized child care and development services.

Of the families waiting:

- 103,800 (76 percent) reported they needed subsidized care because they were working.
- 38,364 (28 percent) families reported they were actively seeking employment.

Of the children waiting:

- 122,388 (63 percent) were between the ages of zero to five.
- 134,697 (70 percent) needed full-time care.

Report to the Governor, Legislature, and the Legislative Analyst's Office: Status Report on the Implementation of County Centralized Eligibility Lists

Purpose

Pursuant to the 2010 Budget Act (Item 6110-196-0001, Provision 11, Chapter 712, Statutes of 2010), the California Department of Education (CDE) is submitting the following report on the implementation of the Centralized Eligibility List (CEL) in each county. This report includes, but is not limited to, the cost of implementation and operation and the number of children and families on the list for each county.

Centralized Eligibility List Implementation

Each county designed, maintained, and administered a state-funded CEL in accordance with California Education Code (EC) Section 8277 and the provisions of each year's budget act from 2005 until June 30, 2011.

County CELs:

- Enabled families to apply to one list that would be used by child care and development contractors seeking to fill program vacancies; and
- Provided the state with current data on the number of children and families waiting for subsidized child care and development services.

The 2011 Budget Act (Senate Bill 87, Chapter 33, Statutes of 2011) eliminated funding for the implementation of CELs. As a result of the loss of state funding:

- The CDE did not issue CEL contracts for fiscal year (FY) 2011–12.
- Agencies administering a CEL contract for FY 2010–11 were instructed to terminate the state-required CEL. Instructions included notifying all waiting families of the elimination of state funding and about the new process for accessing services.
- Child Development Division (CDD) contractors previously required to use the CEL pursuant to EC Section 8227(e) were informed that due to a lack of state funding, they were no longer required to use the CEL. These contractors are now required to adhere to Section 18106(e) of the California Code of Regulations, Title 5, which states:

Contractors shall maintain a current waiting list in accordance with admission priorities. Contractors may satisfy the requirement for maintaining a waiting list by participating in a county child care centralized eligibility list. Contractors shall contact applicants in order of priority from the waiting list as vacancies occur.

As a result of the loss of state funding, 16 of the 58 counties in California informed the CDE that they had secured local funding to continue to administer a local CEL (now referred to as "local child care waiting list") on a voluntary basis for those contractors that elected to participate.

Centralized Eligibility List Data

In accordance with EC Section 8227(d), each county collected and reported CEL data to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction prior to closing out their contract. Last year's legislative report included data reported on June 30, 2010. Due to the elimination of funding, the 2011 report reflects data reported on March 31, 2011, and only includes actively waiting children and families who are income eligible for subsidized child care and development services pursuant to EC Section 8263.1, unless otherwise noted.

Number of Families and Children Waiting on Centralized Eligibility Lists

The CEL data indicates there were 193,140 children and 135,744 families waiting on the CEL on March 31, 2011.

Significance of Centralized Eligibility List Data

The data displayed in this report underscore the continued need for subsidized child care and development services. Recent research on the economic impacts of Early Care and Education (ECE) in California conducted by the University of California, Berkeley Labor Center shows that the ECE industry not only benefits those children who receive services, but also the economy as a whole. According to the Economic Impacts of Early Care and Education in California report:<sup>1</sup>

As part of California's infrastructure for economic development, it is important to maintain the ECE system even during periods of recession and high unemployment. As explained by Mildred Warner, PhD, of the "Linking Economic Development and Child Care Research Project" at Cornell University, if the system atrophies during times of economic contraction, there will be a child care shortage during the recovery that will impede the workforce mobilization and productivity of many parents and hinder new economic growth (2009).

County-Specific Centralized Eligibility List Data

To access data on the number of families and children waiting on a specific county CEL as of March 31, 2011, please see Appendices B and E of this report.

Characteristics of Families Waiting on Centralized Eligibility Lists

The chart below lists the reasons families gave for seeking care. Of the 135,744 families actively waiting for care, the reported reasons for seeking subsidized child care services are as follows:

Reason for Seeking Care	Number of Active Families	Percent
Working	103,800	76%
Actively seeking employment	38,364	28%
Looking for part-day educational preschool program	35,767	26%
Education or training	23,322	17%
Incapacitated	3,460	3%
Seeking permanent housing	2,268	2%
Child protective services	780	1%

Note: Families could have indicated more than one reason for seeking care; therefore, percentages listed do not add up to 100 percent. See Appendix B for specific county information.

Report to the Governor, Legislature, and the Legislative Analyst's Office: Status Report on the Implementation of County Centralized Eligibility Lists

Characteristics of Children Waiting on Centralized Eligibility Lists

Of the 193,140 children actively waiting on the CELs, the age groups of children were as follows:

Age Group	Number of Active Children	Percent
Zero to three years of age	58,492	30%
Three to five years of age	63,896	33%
Five years of age or older	70,752	37%
Note: Age was calculated as of March 31, 2011. See Appendix D for specific information.

A total of 122,388 (63 percent) of children waiting for subsidized child care and development services were between the ages of zero to five.

Of the 193,140 children waiting, the reported time base for care is as follows:

Time Base Needed	Number of Active Children	Percent
Full-time care	134,697	70%
Part-time care	93,934	49%
Evening care	9,437	5%
Weekend care	6,624	3%
Note: Families could have indicated more than one time base for needing care; therefore, percentages listed do not add up to 100 percent. See Appendix E for specific information.

California Department of Education

Report to the Governor, Legislature, and the Legislative Analyst's Office: Status Report on the Implementation of County Centralized Eligibility Lists

Of the 193,140 children waiting for services, the reported number of children with exceptional needs and the number of children in foster care or in the care of an adult who is neither their biological nor adoptive parent is as follows:

Characteristics	Number of Active Children	Percent
Exceptional needs with either an Individual Family Service Plan (IFSP) or an Individualized Educational Program (IEP)	3,436	2%
Foster children or children in the care of an adult who is neither their biological nor adoptive parent	3,383	2%

Note: See Appendix E for specific information.

Inactive Data Records

In addition to showing that 193,140 children were actively waiting on the CELs as of March 31, 2011, data also indicate that 69,549 child data records were inactivated between January 1, 2011, and March 31, 2011. Of the inactivated data records:

- 9,918 (14 percent) were inactivated because they were enrolled in subsidized care.
- 59,631 (86 percent) were inactivated because they could not be reached (e.g., contact information had changed, and the family did not report updated contact information), they no longer needed care, or their information was no longer valid.

See Appendix F for specific information.

Report to the Governor, Legislature, and the Legislative Analyst's Office: Status Report on the Implementation of County Centralized Eligibility Lists

Funding

The 2010 Budget Act allocated $7.9 million for the statewide implementation of the CELs in FY 2010–11.

The 2011 Budget Act (Senate Bill 87, Chapter 33) eliminated funding for the CELs.

Cost of Implementation/Operation

CEL contractors were required to submit fiscal reports to the CDE Fiscal and Administrative Services Division (FASD). Based on these unaudited amounts as of September 30, 2011, a total of $7,332,264 was reported in expenditures for FY 2010–11. This amount may change as a result of completed audits. Local educational agencies (LEAs) who administered a CEL contract in FY 2010–11 may submit a revised expenditure report to FASD following the audit if necessary. Audits are due on December 15, 2011 (EC Section 41020), and revised expenditure reports are due by February 13, 2012. See Appendix A in this report for expenditure data.

Please see Appendix A for more information.
