Students learn best with teachers who are knowledgeable of their subject field and are well trained to deliver rigorous instruction and attend to the diverse needs of each student as an individual. Tajima, led by the principal, recruits highly qualified new and experienced credentialed teachers who demonstrate satisfactory progress toward full certification, fully meet the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) criteria, and are committed to the school's key program elements and beliefs. Recruitment of qualified candidates begins in November and is conducted via partnership with teacher pipeline programs; partnerships with university and non-university teacher pipeline programs; use of relevant online tools such as EdJoin and social media; and referrals from current staff within the school/Alliance. Applicants are carefully assessed through a rigorous selection process conducted by both the Alliance Staffing Team and school administrators. Once selected, teachers participate in New Teacher Orientation before the opening of school and professional development throughout the school year.

Ongoing Professional Development

During school level professional development, teachers are supported by their principal and the school's instructional leadership team to develop their practice. Professional development agendas include content-based sessions, site-based sessions, and a variety of instructional workshops designed to address needs evidenced by data.

In addition, Alliance-wide PD events and supplementary trainings provide targeted supports in a variety of ways. Below is a sample of current professional development opportunities available to teachers. These opportunities are subject to change as, in order to be most effective, professional development must be adaptable to address the needs of teachers and students.

Meeting the Needs of All Students

English Learners

Tajima believes that every student brings assets that enrich our classrooms and our school community, regardless of race, language, learning needs, and culture. To ensure each student's success, the school will provide guidance, resources, training and support to teachers, staff and parents to build an equitable, rigorous learning environment for our English Learner Scholars. Our practices are grounded on guidelines established by our Board-approved EL Masterplan.

Proper identification of ELs helps ensure that the school is meeting scholar's academic needs. State and federal regulations require that if the student's Home Language Survey indicates a language other than English is used at home, the student's English language proficiency level must be assessed.

State and federal guidelines require each English learner to be assessed annually to determine their progress in acquiring English language proficiency. This assessment is given within 30 calendar days of the beginning of the school year, or within 30 days of enrollment if the student enrolls later in the school year as prescribed by California Education Code. Alliance ensures that each English Learner is assessed annually within the prescribed timeline.

English Language Development Program

The California Department of Education (CDE) defines English Language Development (ELD) as a specialized program of English language instruction appropriate for the English Learners' (ELs) identified level of language proficiency. The ELD program at Tajima designed to promote second language acquisition of listening, speaking, reading, and writing in academic English. A broad range of instructional practices and strategies should be employed in supporting ELs to learn content area concepts as they learn the English language. All English Learners will be placed in a Designated ELD course based on English language proficiency level, years in the program and teacher recommendation. In addition, all English Learners will receive Integrated ELD in their content classes. All scholars classified as EL will:

- Be enrolled in daily Designated ELD instruction, Monday through Friday (time equivalent in secondary block scheduled sites)
- Will not be removed from other core content instruction in order to receive designated ELD instruction
- Can be placed in an Advisory class focused on supporting ELs but this advisory cannot replace an ELD course
- Will have full access to grade-level content in all disciplines, as well as access to Honors and AP courses
- Will be enrolled in grade-level ELA unless they are a Newcomer with less than one year of schooling in the US

Designated ELD

Designated English Language Development (ELD) courses are protected time during the regular school day that teachers are able to strategically target scholars' language needs. Designated ELD courses are based on ELD year (ELD 1,2,3,4) and placement is based on a scholar's proficiency level (Emerging, Expanding and Bridging). Instruction in these courses is designed, implemented and scaffolded to meet the needs of the group (emerging, expanding, bridging). These courses are aligned to the California English Language Development Standards (2012) and are University of California Office of the President (UCOP) approved.

Designated ELD instruction must reflect the California ELA/ELD Framework. Because secondary EL scholars are a diverse group of learners in terms of their educational backgrounds, native language literacy, and socioeconomic status, acquiring English proficiency requires the use of a variety of strategies. Designated ELD courses integrate all four language domains (listening, speaking, reading and writing) into instruction.

Integrated ELD

The mastery of content requires that teachers of ELs use appropriate ELD strategies to make content comprehensible and accessible. It requires instruction to be organized to support scholars while teaching cognitively demanding, grade-level content. Instruction in Integrated ELD is based on content Common Core State Standards and other content standards (i.e. NGSS and California History Standards) and is provided by content teachers utilizing appropriate strategies to ensure comprehensibility of instruction:

- All ELs will receive Integrated ELD in all content classes throughout their school day
- Integrated ELD teachers will receive professional development that focuses on topics such as ELD Standards, key features of Integrated ELD, the ELA/ELD Framework and strategies that support scholars to develop proficiency in reading, writing, listening and speaking within the content area
- Integrated ELD content courses are taught by teachers with the appropriate state authorizations

To maximize opportunities for language uses and content mastery teachers need to create a safe environment that promotes academic risk taking. Classroom instruction focuses on both language acquisition and helping scholars attain the knowledge outlined in the content area standards. Attainment and improvement of language and literacy are at the heart of instruction. Integrated classrooms are comprised of ELs with mixed levels and abilities; However, the common goal is to promote Academic language. Classrooms that foster language acquisition include:

1. Explicit instruction and use of language structures and vocabulary that are comprehensible to scholars
2. Integration of listening, speaking, reading and writing skills
3. Use of scaffolds in the learning environment (such as response frames, word banks, graphic organizers) in order to maximize the number of scholars able to access the content
4. Providing multiple opportunities in every class period for academic discourse using structured group roles, precision partnering and response frames.
5. Frequent checks for understanding and purposefully monitoring class during independent and or group work
6. Weekly scholar work analysis (formative assessments)
7. Literature within the scholar's appropriate Lexile level range, available in classroom and school libraries

Interventions

Tajima monitors and regularly assesses the progress of all English Learners, in both English language proficiency and content knowledge throughout the school year. Monitoring scholar progress identifies scholars who are not making appropriate progress and allows the school to provide additional support to enable ELs to reach English proficiency, as well as ensuring that the school is providing ELs meaningful access to grade-level core content instruction and remedying any academic deficits in a timely manner.

Tajima has established documented, monitoring systems that include periodic benchmarks to monitor ELs' progress over time, determine when scholars are not making appropriate progress, notify parents of progress and provide additional support to enable ELs to reach English proficiency and gain grade level content knowledge. The EL Progress Monitoring report is sent to families after each quarterly progress report and includes the following:

- Performance in grade level content classes
- Performance in ELD course
- Scholar Reading level and or SBAC performance

Students that are not meeting grade-level expectations will be provided with additional supports including but not limited to after-school tutoring, additional accommodations in content courses, additional support classes such as math and ELA support, review of ELD course placement, parent meetings, etc.

Staffing EL Programs

Recruiting, developing, and retaining excellent educators is essential to the success of our EL scholars. Tajima will hire teachers that maintain authorization to teach English Learners , and core-content teachers who are highly qualified in their field as well as trained to support EL scholars. These teachers must meet state requirements and have mastered the skills necessary to effectively teach in the EL program.

Teachers teaching departmentalized ELD courses must have (in addition to their teaching credential) a specific EL Authorization that is aligned to ELD in a departmentalized setting. Examples of aligned EL Authorizations include: ELA1, BA[13], R1WL/ELD, S22/S-22, R-3/R3B, S6/S-6, and S14, as long as the prerequisite credential is not a Designated Subjects Adult Education Teaching Credential, Child Development Instructional Permit, or a Child Development Supervision Permit.

Per the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing: "California statute requires that every teacher who provides instructional services to an English Learner be authorized to provide specialized instruction for those learners. To provide scholars with teaching personnel who hold appropriate credentials necessary to instruct English Learners, Alliance College-Ready Public Schools actively recruits and hires teachers who are fully EL Authorized. If candidates who hold an EL Authorization are not available, the Human Resources Department obtains the necessary documents from qualified candidates to apply for an Emergency EL Authorization Permit. These permit holders must hold either an active permit or full EL Authorization to continue in their assignment. Failure to take timely action may result in a change of employment status. Teachers who are new to Alliance and do not have the required EL Authorization are required to sign an EL Authorization Agreement indicating their intentions to complete the requirement.

[13] References the two-letter code for the specific language authorized, such as "BASP" for Spanish.

Annual progress toward the EL Authorization is monitored by the Credential Manager, but it is the teacher's responsibility to earn the authorization.

Identification and Assessment
The English Language Proficiency Assessment for California (ELPAC) is the assessment is given to all new students whose home language survey indicates that a language other than English is spoken in the home. The ELPAC is used to determine how well scholars speak, listen, read and write in English when it is not their primary language. There are two exams:

Initial ELPAC: initial identification of scholars as English Learners

Summative ELPAC: an annual summative assessment to measure an English Learner's progress and determine their English language proficiency ELPAC results are used to identify each scholar's proficiency level and to assess progress in acquiring English Proficiency according to the CA ELD standards. The ELPAC results are used to properly place ELs in the appropriate ELD course. The overall score and the domain specific scores are analyzed to determine the scholar's instructional needs to support and accelerate progress toward English proficiency.

Reclassification
Reclassification is the process when a scholar's English language proficiency level changes from English Learner to Reclassified Fluent English Proficiency (RFEP) (EC Section 313(f)). The goal is to prepare scholars for reclassification as quickly as possible and monitor their progress for four years after reclassification (20 U.S.C. § 6841[a][4][5]; 5 CCR § 11304).

English Learners are reclassified to fluent-English proficient based on the following multiple criteria, in alignment with California EC and the State Board of Education recommendations:

1. Assessment of language proficiency, using an objective assessment instrument, including but not limited to, the state test of English language development
2. Teacher evaluation, including but not limited to, a review of the scholar's curriculum mastery
3. Comparison of scholar performance in basic skills against an empirically established range of performance in basic skills based on the performance of English proficient scholars of the same age
4. Parent/guardian opinion and consultation

The chart below outlines the 2020-21 reclassification criteria used by all Alliance schools:

Reclassification Criteria
1. Assessment of Language Proficiency	ELPAC - Score of 4
2. Teacher Evaluation	ELA Grade of C (2.0) or higher (Fall Reclass Cycle – semester 1 or 2 of 2019-2020 school year Spring Reclass Cycle – Semester 1 (Fall 2020)

If the parent/guardian is not in agreement with reclassification, a meeting will be held with the parent and the Reclassification Team to address parent concerns and determine the best placement option for the scholar.</td></tr>

The EL Master Plan and reclassification criteria provided here will be revised based on input from various stakeholder groups and is subject to Board approval.
Scholars with disabilities, including those on the alternate curriculum, are to be provided the same opportunities to be reclassified as scholars without disabilities. Therefore, IEP teams may determine appropriate measures of English Language Proficiency (ELP) and performance in basic skills, and minimum levels of proficiency on these measures that would be equivalent to a native English-speaking peer with similar disabilities in the same grade level.

When scholars do not meet the four criteria for reclassification as established by the school, it is possible for the IEP team to consider reclassification based upon the process outlined in this plan which considers the impact of his/her disability on ELP. Note: If the IEP team believes that a scholar would still benefit from ELD support because he/she has not fully developed English language proficiency, reclassification may not be appropriate.

IEP teams are authorized to follow the process outlined in the EL Master Plan. In accordance with federal and state law, the IEP team may address the individual needs of each EL with a disability using multiple criteria in concert with the four reclassification criteria in EC Section 313(f). Other criteria may be used to supplement the four required criteria to ensure the most appropriate decision is made for each scholar. However, at no time does the IEP team have the authority to omit any of the four required criteria or substitute them with alternate criteria.

Monitoring Reclassified Students

After scholars have been reclassified as RFEP, the school will continue to monitor their progress for four years to ensure correct classification, placement and academic support as needed. (20 U.S.C. § 6841[a][4][5]; 5 CCR § 11304). If an exited English Learner is not progressing academically and monitoring suggests a persistent language need, the school will provide additional supports, including but not limited to tutoring, accommodations and support classes, including ELD courses. RFEP Monitoring reports will be mailed to families after each quarterly progress report. The accountabilities include:

- Monitoring the academic achievement of RFEP scholars in their core courses (ELA, Math, Science, Social Science)
- Notifying parents of their child's ongoing progress after reclassification
- Providing targeted intervention services for RFEP scholars who are not making adequate academic progress

Non-standard English Speakers

Recognizing that many students at Tajima may not be Standard English speakers, many of the same guidelines and programs listed above are followed to support their acquisition of Academic Standard English. The school's objectives are to have all students achieve proficient/advance performance in reading and writing as assessed by the English Language Arts California Assessment of Student Performance and Progress (CAASPP). Tajima school leaders and teachers engage in professional development to support struggling students. Specific strategies include:

1. Modeling Academic English
2. Explicit instruction and use of language structures and vocabulary that are comprehensible to scholars
3. Integration of listening, speaking, reading and writing skills
4. Use of scaffolds in the learning environment (such as response frames, word banks, graphic organizers) in order to maximize the number of scholars able to access the content
5. Providing multiple opportunities in every class period for academic discourse using structured group roles, precision partnering and response frames.
6. Frequent checks for understanding and purposefully monitoring class during independent and or group work
7. Weekly scholar work analysis (formative assessments)

In addition, the Alliance Home Office Data team provides data reports and analysis of (Tajima's student progress including improvement in English proficiency level, progress in English language arts and Alliance Interim data disaggregated by subgroups. Progress of Long-term English Learners (LTELs) and students At-Risk of becoming LTEL is monitored by the School's Leadership Team. At least once per semester, the School Leadership Team reviews the performance, progress, program placement and goals for meeting the reclassification criteria of LTELs and for students At-Risk of becoming LTEL to determine the effectiveness of the supports in place.

Program Evaluation

Evaluating EL program, practices and procedures involves systematic planning and implementation, aggregating and synthesizing various types of data, to learn about program success. Both formative and summative evaluation should be applied to questions about practices, services and procedures. The following chart outlines the EL program goals, evaluation questions and measures used to assess overall effectiveness of the EL program:

Gifted and Talented Students and Students Achieving Above Grade-Level

As all students are challenged to reach their intellectual potential within the instructional program, Tajima will not offer a formal, separate gifted and talented program. Instead Tajima will continue to identify students who are outstanding performers as measured through, but not limited to, college prep exams (such as the PSAT) and GPA. When reviewing college prep exams students must be considered college ready in both math and English starting in their 9th grade year. When reviewing GPA, students are identified as high achievers by achieving a 4.0 GPA or higher starting in their 9th grade year.

As students transition from grade level to grade level, their level of achievement is continuously monitored by counselors, teachers, and the school administrative team using grade level checks for GPA, and by reviewing their data each time they are provided with opportunities to participate in a college ready level assessment.

To support these students throughout the day, the staff may differentiate instruction based upon the individual needs of the students and will provide an opportunity to excel for those students who are achieving at high levels or demonstrate a specific ability or talent, as identified through student data or evidence of a pupil's capacity. Teachers will differentiate in the forms of acceleration, depth, complexity, and novelty and will differentiate the process, content, or product to meet the needs of gifted and talented students. Examples of instructional models which may be employed with gifted and talented students at Tajima are, but not limited to:

- Access to advanced placement and honors courses from grades 9 to 12
- Utilizing higher levels of questioning and thinking skills
- Ensuring there is a wide variety of materials at different skill levels that engage a wide variety of interest
- Field trips, and participation in partnered programs and college courses, to broaden experience base and capacity to be accepted into elite colleges
- Ensuring that the curriculum is sufficiently challenging

By using data from core assessments, teachers will be able to make the necessary modifications and adjustments to best support students who require additional academic challenge. All students at Tajima will be valued for their individualism and their interests and passions will be cultivated. Further, the teachers will work together to develop plans to best support students in driving forward their academic achievement and pursuits in relation to the students' learning profiles and specific talents. In order to ensure that the needs of all students are being met, the staff has utilized the Student Support and Progress Team (SSPT) process (monitored and led by the principal or his or her designee) for students who have been identified as consistently achieving well above the norms (as measured by formative, summative and standardized tests, as well as other measures, including teacher, staff or administrator-identified concerns), just as they would use the process for identifying students who struggle.

Students Achieving Below Grade-Level

In an effort to improve the performance for all students including low achieving or at risk of retention, Tajima monitors student performance and progress of these students throughout the year. Data is accessible at the student- and subgroup-levels; through school leaders, school leadership teams, which consist of department and grade level chairs, and classroom teachers monitor standards and student achievement in order to identify all students earning below a grade of C, flagging students at risk based on interim assessments, grades, and/or credit deficiencies. Advisory teachers review student data/progress reports of each of their advisory students. Parents review and sign 5-week progress and 10 week-report cards. The following takes place for those specifically identified as low achieving:

- To identify low-achieving students, incoming students are given diagnostic tests upon entry to the school. State assessment results and grades showing students who are not meeting, or nearly meeting standards are also used to assess student achievement levels.
- Where additional supports and/or interventions are required, the school's academic team will consult with the parent/guardian to share results and develop a plan to support and ensure growth

- The student receives supplemental support through remediation support classes in ELA and math in addition to regular courses. In the areas where the student is struggling most, the classroom teacher may employ the use of online digital content providers to support one-on-one instruction targeted to specific individual needs.

In order to ensure that the needs of all students are being met, the staff has utilized the Student Support and Progress Team (SSPT) process (monitored and led by the principal or his or her designee) for students who have been identified as consistently achieving below the norms (as measured by formative, summative and standardized tests, as well as other measures, including teacher, staff or administrator-identified concerns), just as they would use the process for identifying students who struggle.

Socioeconomically Disadvantaged/Low Income Students

Low-income students will be identified by eligibility for the federal lunch program. Between 2016-17 and 2018-19, approximately 97% of the students enrolled at Tajima have qualified for this program. As such, the overwhelming majority of all students enrolled at Tajima meet this subgroup identification. Our school program is designed to meet the needs of traditionally coming in behind grade levels through various supports and systems including, but not limited to the, use of standards based grading, scaffolded and differentiated learning, support classes, and after school tutoring. We believe all students can learn at high levels regardless of economic status. These students progress is monitored through a variety of ways including through interim assessments, college ready exams such as the P/SAT and Advanced Placement exams and state exams such as the California Assessment of Student Performance and Progress (CAASPP). In general, due to the large population of SED/low income students their level of performance mirrors the overall school level outcomes.

However, in order to ensure that the needs of all students are being met, the staff has utilized the Student Support and Progress Team (SSPT) process (monitored and led by the owner of the SSPT) for students within this subgroup who have been identified as needing additional supports (as measured by formative, summative and standardized tests, as well as other measures, including teacher, staff or administrator-identified concerns).

Students with Disabilities

Please refer to the District Required Language included at the beginning of Element 1.

Students in Other Subgroups

Foster youth, and related subgroups such as homeless students, are identified by school personnel through the registration and enrollment process and supported through coordinated activities with other entities/agencies, identified according to the needs of the specific situation. Once students have been identified, students will be indicated in PowerSchool, and the Alliance Home Office will work with the school staff (usually the School Operations Manager) to locate additional support services on a case by case basis. The students will be provided with tutoring, counseling, transportation and coordination of services as needed to best meet their individual needs using the COST Process (Coordination of Services Team) made up of an administrator, counselors, school psychologist, and other certificated personnel as relevant, such as a classroom teacher. A quarterly evaluation of academic performance for all students in this subgroup will be implemented by the administration and counselor to assess the level of response to services, and adjustments to curriculum will be made as necessary to nurture a positive environment.

“A Typical Day at Alliance Ted K. Tajima High”

A typical day at Alliance Ted K. Tajima High School begins and ends with a relational connection with adults and peers who care deeply about the holistic well-being of each student on campus. In between these moments that bookend the day, a typical day is full of challenging academic experiences delivered by caring teachers and staff. Throughout this day, any careful observer would note Tajima’s mission to create a nurturing environment that prepares all scholars for college and beyond through rigorous instruction and individualized supports serving the needs of scholars and their families.

The day begins for students with walking on campus and being greeted by multiple compassionate adults who welcome you with a smile. These adults include our campus aides who know each student by name and our school Principal who takes the time each morning to check in with scholars as they enter the building. Walking down the hallway with college banners hung from the rafters and scholars gathered in groups reviewing school work for the day, any visitor would feel the strong sense of college going purpose. Perhaps, as a visitor, you would stop in our college center on the first floor, which is always a hub of activity. There you would find scholars working alongside peer mentors and college counselors to apply to college, complete enrichment program applications, or simply discuss their future. Another stop may be the front office, where you would be greeted by bilingual staff who would cheerfully ask how they could be of help. Here you would notice the depth and breadth of resources presented on the front counter for our families and you would likely hear parents, scholars and staff in supportive conversations.

The place that students rightly spend the bulk of their day is in classrooms. These bright and cheerful classrooms would immediately stand out as places of student-focused learning. You would hear students discussing the work of the day. You would see teachers and students using technology to interact with the content and each other. You would see reading, writing and (most importantly) student thinking. You would see evidence of student work and teacher feedback displayed in the classroom, reflecting our core practices of standards based grading and mastery learning. If you took a moment to ask students what they were learning, they would likely cite the learning objective for the day and show you the strategically sequenced lesson activities they had been working on that day.

In between classes, students spend nutrition and lunch breaks in cheerful groups of their peers. Many of these groups are centered around a teacher in the classroom who has given up their lunch break to hang out with students for a variety of purposes. Outside in the quad you would see a variety of sports being played simultaneously with the Downtown Los Angeles skyline as a backdrop. Ultimately, the bell will ring and students will head back to class. Each class, like the last will challenge students to grow and affirm the value of their experiences that they bring to the classroom each day. Above all, anyone who come to visit our school would see a community of students and adults who feel safe and at home on the Tajima campus. A group of individuals who once were strangers to each other and who now are more like family.

ELEMENT 2: Measurable Pupil Outcomes and ELEMENT 3: Method by which Pupil Progress Toward Outcomes will be Measured

"The measurable pupil outcomes identified for use by the charter school. "Pupil outcomes," for purposes of this part, means the extent to which all pupils of the school demonstrate that they have attained the skills, knowledge, and attitudes specified as goals in the school's educational program. Pupil outcomes shall include outcomes that address increases in pupil academic achievement both schoolwide and for all pupil subgroups served by the charter school, as that term is defined in subdivision (a) of Section 52052. The pupil outcomes shall align with the state priorities, as described in subdivision (d) of Section 52060, that apply for the grade levels served by the charter school." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(B).)

"The method by which pupil progress in meeting those pupil outcomes is to be measured. To the extent practicable, the method for measuring pupil outcomes for state priorities shall be consistent with the way information is reported on a school accountability report card." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(C).)

MEASURABLE GOALS OF THE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

Charter School shall meet all statewide content and performance standards and targets. (Ed. Code §§ 47605(d)(1), 60605.)

Measurable Goals of the Educational Program

Tajima is committed to providing a consistent educational environment and experience for students that prepares them with the skills, experience, and knowledge to enter and succeed in college.

Annual goals set as a means of achieving this objective are outlined in the school's Local Control and Accountability Plan (LCAP). For further information on these goals, actions and performance targets, please see the LCFF State Priorities table provided in Element 1.

Measurable Pupil Outcomes: Summative Assessment Performance Targets

Performance Targets Aligned to State Priorities

Other Performance Targets
For all other measurable goals, please see the LCFF State Priorities table provided in Element 1.

Method for Measuring Pupil Progress Toward Outcomes: Formative Assessment
Assessments are a foundational component of the teaching and learning process. To ensure that all students have access to the learning experiences necessary for college persistence and career success, Tajima will employ high-quality, purposeful, actionable and strategically-sequenced assessments for learning and of learning.

Using the Common Core and CA Standards where applicable, Tajima has clearly defined what students should know in each core subject at each grade/course level. We will monitor the progress of all subgroups against target goals by disaggregating data for all assessments and grades through Illuminate, Schoolzilla and PowerSchool, our student information systems.

Up to three times a year in English, Mathematics and Science, Tajima implements standards aligned interim assessments. These assessments are built by the Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium, and are aligned to the Common Core State Standards and NGSS standards. Data from each interim is immediately available to Tajima staff and broken down at the student, item and standard level. Data is then used to identify common misconceptions and student supports. After each interim, teachers use the data to re-teach standards through daily instruction. The expectation is that students will improve in their mastery of standards over the course of the year to best position them to fully meet the performance expectations of Smarter Balanced.

Below is the current list of assessments used to monitor student progress towards college and career readiness standards. These assessments are subject to pending any changes in state-mandated assessments.

Assessment Type	Frequency	Grades/Content	Description
Interim Assessments	3x per year	Grade 9-11; ELA, Math, Science	Interim Assessments at Alliance align to the standards covered and suggested pacing in each grade/content. These assessments are aligned with the CCSS and SBAC and provide important information to teachers for planning, instruction and supports for students.
Reading Level Assessments	3x per year	All grades	Assessment to measure students' progress and performance on reading comprehension skills.
Smarter Balanced Summative Assessments	1x per year	Grade 11; ELA and Math	The Smarter Balanced Summative Assessments are comprehensive end-of-year assessments in English language arts/literacy (ELA) and Math that are aligned with the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) for English language arts/literacy (ELA) Mathematics.

California Alternate Assessment (CAA)	1x per year	Grade 11; Identified students only	Students with cognitive disabilities take the CAA Instead of the Smarter Balanced Summative Assessment. This test is modified to appropriately assess the ELA/Literacy and mathematics progress and performance of specific students designated to engage in a modified curriculum as specified in their IEP.
California Science Test (CAST)	1x per year	Grades 11	CA NGSS Summative assessment. Administered in the spring.
English Language Proficiency Assessments for California (ELPAC)	Initial and Annual; varies by student	All grades, English learners	The ELPAC measures provides both initial and annual assessment of an English Learner's proficiency in Reading, Writing, Listening and Speaking. This test will be the main assessment tool used to measure growth and progress for reclassification.
Physical Fitness Test	1x per year	Grade 9	Students participate in this State-required assessment on basic components of CA Physical Education Standards.

 All grade levels unless otherwise denoted*

Tajima tests independently of LAUSD. Assessments and standardized testing of students with disabilities is conducted using state and district guidelines for modifications and accommodations.

The assessment structure includes, in addition to other standards-based and performance-based assessment tools, comprehensive final exams in each of the core academic subjects, quizzes and tests, homework assignments, essays and research reports, and teacher evaluation of in class performance. These measurements are weighted and combined into a comprehensive educational program assessment to determine student achievement and promotion to the next grade level. The aggregate results are issued as a report card to the community evaluating the measurable goals and terms outlined in the charter.

Alliance interim assessments are administered online in order to prepare students for SBAC online assessments and represent the level of rigor required for students to meet the proficiency level (3 or 4) as measured on Smarter Balanced assessments. Every student has an SBAC ready computing device.

Data Analysis and Reporting

Data informs our decisions regarding the need to continue, modify, improve, add to or discontinue instructional strategies and programs to best meet the needs of our scholars and provide the intervention and support necessary to accelerate their progress. Data is also regularly shared with stakeholders throughout the year to inform them of school performance.

Below is a sample of data gathered and its use.

Type of Data Gathered	Role & Use of Data
Classroom observations	● To provide actionable feedback to teachers on the effectiveness of their classroom instruction. ● To inform the content used for common planning time and professional development needs (individual teachers, academic departments and school-wide).
Instructional walk-throughs	● To assess the degree of and consistency with which grade - appropriate standards-based instruction is taking place. ● To identify trends and best practices to inform school- and network-level professional development.
Individual scholar work analysis and classroom assessments	● To identify scholar misunderstandings and misconceptions. ● To adjust lesson plans and unit plans. ● To appropriately plan for reteaching standards missed by a majority of scholars.
Results from network and/or state assessments	● To assess the degree to which students are on track to meet network and state expectations for proficiency. ● To adjust classroom instruction and provide intervention and support for scholars who are off-track.
Scholar and parent surveys	● To assess the degree to which parents and scholars are satisfied that our school is meeting their needs and addressing the goals in our charter.

Grading, Progress Reporting, and Promotion/Retention

Academic Grades

Grades reflect a scholar's academic performance so scholars and families have clear indicators of the scholar's preparedness for college success and 21st century careers throughout a scholar's career at an Alliance school. The grading scale at each Alliance school campus is based on the degree to which scholars demonstrate proficiency on content standards.

Alliance-Wide Grading Scale

All Alliance schools use the following grading scale for academic courses and advisory. The grade scale below shows equivalent rubric scores to letter grades on individual assignments and semester grades.

Please note that Scholars with Disabilities are required by law to be given accommodations and/or necessary supports on assessments and assignments as stated in their IEP.

Rubric Score	Letter Grade[14]	Descriptor Below are optional performance descriptors - schools/teachers may use others
4.0	A	Above standard on grade-level course content
3.4	A-
3.2	B+	At standard on grade-level course content

3.0	B
2.7	B-
2.5	C+	Below standard on grade-level course content
2.3	C
2.0	C-
1.7	NP	Far Below standard on grade-level course content
Note: These 2 codes are only to be used as semester grades	D	Final semester grade option only for scholars who have a D grade as an option in their IEP. Use 1.5 - 1.99 for the semester average range.
	INC	A scholar is determined to not have completed enough content to receive a semester grade for a specific course.
Note: These 4 codes are only to be used on individual assignments	X	Excused missed assignment or standard not taught
	S	Grade pending accommodation / designated support
	Z	Assignment not submitted and/or blank (which includes only having a scholar's name on the paper) and is a grade of zero.
	E	Ethics violation and is a grade of zero.

Incomplete Grades
The grade of "I" (Incomplete) may only be given at the end of the semester when extended illness or other unusual circumstances warrant giving the student additional time to fulfill the course work. These grades must be removed within six weeks of the next semester, or they become an "NP".

Tajima issues student progress reports every ten weeks based on student proficiency on grade level/subject standards and expectations designated for the quarter. The student progress report is based on multiple measures including teacher assessments, portfolio/exhibits, and specific assessments to quantify student performance. Formative and summative assignments and assessments are used to determine student performance.

Student course grades to meet graduation requirements including A-G are A, B, C or NP (Not Proficient) grades. Student reports are issued and recorded through our data system. Parents of students performing below/far below proficient performance participate in a scheduled parent conference to discuss the parents' and the teachers' plan to improve their child's performance. Teachers and advisors meet together to analyze these reports and to make necessary adjustments in the program being offered to students who are showing a lack of progress.

Promotion and Retention of Students
Tajima is committed to helping students achieve the necessary skills to progress from grade to grade yearly and does not endorse social promotion. Because of the linguistic and socioeconomic barriers this student population may have faced, readiness to move to the next grade level is examined on an individual basis. Each student is assessed individually according to his/her total needs.

The school has clearly defined expectations for what students should know and be able to do at each grade level in each subject in an effort to equip all students with the academic skills that enable them to be ready for entrance to and success in college. Promotion and retention of students is based on multiple indicators of academic achievement that are laid out in the parent-student handbook, including:

- Assessment measures to determine if the student is advanced, proficient, partially proficient, or not proficient - assessment measures include the student progress report, degree of proficiency and teacher recommendations. Students whose average rubric score classification is “not proficient” on the final student progress report for the academic year are eligible for retention.
- Attendance – students with excessive absences (15 or more) may be eligible for retention.

The principal or administrative designee, in conjunction with school teaching and counseling staff, prepares a written determination to specify the reasons for retention. The written determination includes recommendations for interventions that are necessary to assist the student to attain acceptable levels of academic achievement. The written determination is provided to and discussed in a meeting with the student’s parents/guardians, teachers, and principal.

Students identified for retention will work closely with the counselor and are encouraged to participate in a remediation program that includes after-school activities, tutoring, and summer school. All students are also provided additional in-class support, which ensures that students who cannot participate outside of school hours are also supported. The student’s academic performance is reassessed at the end of the remediation program, and the decision to retain or promote the student is reevaluated at that time.

Appeals Process for Retention

The retention of a student is at the discretion of the principal or administrative designee. Parent/guardians shall be notified in advance of the enactment of the retention and can appeal a student's retention. A retention appeal shall be submitted in writing to the school’s designated support team and shall be heard if requested within five (5) school days of the notification of retention by the school. Upon consideration, the designated support team’s decision shall be final. The decision regarding the appeal will be made within five (5) school days of the appeal submission to the school’s designated support team. Parents/guardians will be notified of the decision in writing within three (3) school days following the decision.

Charter School

Alliance Ted K. Tajima High is a directly funded independent charter school that is operated by a nonprofit public benefit corporation. The affairs of the Charter School are managed and its powers are exercised solely under the authority of the Alliance Board of Directors ("Board," "Charter School's Board of Directors," or "Board of Directors"), whose responsibility for key operational matters includes but is not limited to: (1) the governance and operation of the Charter School in compliance with applicable law and the Charter; and (2) the Charter School's financial management, viability, and accountability, including but not limited to expenditures and accounting of all public funds received by the Charter School.

The Charter School operates under the charter authorization of the District. Charter School abides by the current published, communicated and defined District policy for charter schools. The Charter School is and will be solely responsible for the debts and obligations of the Charter School.

Board of Directors

The process and potential considerations for selecting Board members, including qualifications, will be determined from time to time based upon action by the Board, as authorized by governing law and the Bylaws.

The Board of Directors shall consist of not less than 5 nor more than 11 directors. The Board meets regularly, operating in accordance with the Brown Act, Education Code Section 47604.1(c), its Articles of Incorporation and its Bylaws.

As set forth in the Bylaws, the Board shall be a self-perpetuating board. Directors shall be elected or re-elected at a regular or special meeting of the Board. To provide for a Board with staggered terms, the directors, at the first regular meeting, shall divide themselves into three approximately equal Classes, designated as Class A, Class B, and Class C, with each Class to serve initial terms of one, two, or three-years, respectively. The Board shall maintain approximately equal distribution between the Classes by assigning duly-elected directors to either Class A, Class B, or Class C, each of whom shall thereafter serve an initial term equal to the term then remaining for their respective Class of directors. After an initial term, directors shall serve a term of three years. Unless the director dies, resigns or is removed from office, each director shall hold office for the term for which the director was elected and thereafter until the director's successor is elected. The Board may, from time to time, adopt resolutions providing for limits to the number of consecutive or non-consecutive terms or years that directors may serve on the Board. In the absence of any such resolution, duly adopted, directors may be re-elected for additional terms, provided that no director may be elected for an additional term that, when combined with the director's previous terms in office, would result in the director's serving as a director for more than 12 consecutive years.

Pursuant to Section 47604(c) of the California Education Code, each school district that has granted a charter for the establishment of a charter school operated by the corporation shall be entitled to designate a single representative to serve on the Board as a director. Unless the director dies, resigns or is removed from office, each director designated by a school district shall hold office for a term expiring on the third 30th of June occurring after the commencement of the director's term of office. The authorized number of directors shall be deemed increased by twice the number of directors serving that have been designated by a school district.

The Board, the Charter School's administrative staff, and their respective representatives are responsible for all aspects of the day-to-day operations of the Charter School, including, but not limited to, making necessary provisions for accounting, budgeting, payroll, purchasing, liability, insurance, and the like. In accordance with California law applicable to nonprofit public benefit corporations, some of the responsibilities of the Board may be delegated to committees of the Board or officers of the Corporation.

A quorum of the Board for the transaction of business is the majority of directors then in office. An act or decision done or made by a majority vote of the directors then in office at a meeting duly held at which a quorum is present is the act of the Board, unless a different number, or the same number after disqualifying one or more directors from voting, is required by law, by the Articles of Incorporation, or by the Bylaws, including but not limited to those provisions relating to appointment of committees and indemnification of directors.

All meetings of the Board shall be held at the principal office of the Corporation or at such other place as shall be determined from time to time by resolution of the Board, provided that, during any period that the Corporation is operating one or more charter schools within the State of California, all meetings of the Board shall be held at locations meeting the requirements of Section 47604.1(c) of the California Education Code.

For each meeting of the Board, the Corporation shall establish a two-way teleconference location at the school site of each charter school operated by the Corporation, in compliance with the requirements of Section 47604.1(c) of the Education Code, and may establish such additional teleconference locations as the Corporation deems appropriate. The Board shall post agendas at all teleconference locations and conduct teleconference meetings in a manner compliant with the Brown Act. Each teleconference location shall be identified in the notice and agenda of the meeting or proceeding, and each teleconference location shall be accessible to the public. The agenda shall provide an opportunity for members of the public to address the Board directly at each teleconference location. During the teleconference, at least a quorum of the members of the Board shall participate from locations within the boundaries of the jurisdictions of the charter authorizers that have approved the charter petitions of the charter schools operated by the Corporation. Participation in a meeting through use of teleconferencing pursuant to this subsection constitutes presence in person at that meeting as long as all members participating in the meeting are able to hear one another. All votes taken during a teleconferenced meeting shall be by roll call. Any abstention from a board vote will be noted in the board minutes. For the purposes of this subsection (i), “teleconference” means a meeting of the Board, the members of which are in different locations, connected by electronic means, through either audio or video, or both. Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit the Corporation from providing the public with additional teleconference locations.

The Board of Directors is responsible for providing fiscal accountability by approving and monitoring the budget. The Board helps ensure effective organizational planning by approving long-range goals and annual objectives, monitoring the general policies including but not limited to: compliance mandates, health and safety, use and maintenance of facilities, and overseeing that the Charter School resources are managed effectively. The day-to-day operations and management of the Charter School are provided by the officers of the Corporation, management staff responsible for school services and supervision and administrative staff.

A copy of the Articles of Incorporation, Bylaws, Conflict of Interest Code and the names of Board members are provided to District Charter Schools Division. Any changes made to these documents that materially alter the charter must first be approved through the District’s charter amendment process.

The Charter School complies with the Brown Act, Political Reform Act, and Government Code Section 1090, et seq., as set forth in Education Code Section 47604.1. The Charter School posts Board agendas for regular meetings at least 72 hours in advance at a visible location in the Charter School office as well as on the Charter School's website in English and Spanish or other dominant language as needed by the community served. The Corporation maintains a record book of meeting agendas and minutes. Copies of the Board agenda and minutes are posted on the Charter School website in both English and Spanish. All meetings of the Board of Directors are open to the public, excluding closed sessions as permitted by the Brown Act.

School Coordinating Council

The School Coordinating Council ("School Site Advisory Council" or "SCC") with a membership of 10 to 20 stakeholders representing various stakeholder groups, will be an advisory body to the Principal on the management of the school, including, but not limited to, school policies, the academic performance, and annual development of the LCAP and the budget. This council shall be composed of a majority of teacher and parent members and include a classified employee and certificated administrator. Members of the SCC are representatives from various stakeholder groups, with the majority being made up of teachers and parents who self-nominate to serve on the council. The SCC will help guide the decisions that best serve the families. Based on suggestions and recommendations from the SCC, the Principal will reflect this feedback in their decisions and operations. The SCC will meet at the Charter School site a minimum of four (4) times per year. Should topics or recommendations warrant a discussion with the Charter School Board of Directors, directors will attend SCC meetings. The SCC will strive to create a collaborative and transparent decision-making process that includes the input of all stakeholder groups. The Charter School Board of Directors shall have final authority on all Charter School related matters.

Parent/Community Town Hall Meetings

Approximately once a month, the Charter School holds meetings in a Town Hall Meeting format that all parents, community and staff members are welcome to attend. Topics for discussion or presentation include school-wide topics of interest related to achieving the goals of the Charter School and its students. Meetings are generally attended by the principal and administrative staff of the Charter School and, if the subjects to be discussed warrant it, members of the Charter School Board.

The school also maintains a website to keep parents and members of the community abreast of its events. All meetings are calendared in advance, with the goal of engaging all parents.

Business and Operations Assistance

Alliance provides for the Charter School certain back-office services, including budgeting/forecasting, accounts set up (insurance, benefits, attendance tracking), payroll, compliance, required reporting, vendor management and select service vendor contract negotiations, and purchasing. Alliance also supports the Board in its role of providing oversight and monitoring adherence to the Charter School's fiscal policies and any applicable law. The Los Angeles County Office of Education ("LACOE") receives and forwards public funds for the Charter School directly to the Charter School's operating account. Alliance maintains separate financial records for the Charter School and assures that all accounting complies with generally accepted accounting principles.

Parent Engagement

Parents have a right to choose to send their children to excellent high-performing schools and have a right and the responsibility to participate actively in ensuring the success of their child and the school. The Charter School understands the importance of active parent involvement in the education of their children.

Parents of the Charter School students are meaningfully and actively engaged in their children's education. Parents are responsible and accountable for supporting their children's learning at school and at home through their participation in understanding what it takes for children to achieve college-readiness, and by their active voice in achieving the goals of the school through volunteering. At the Charter School, it is anticipated that:

- Parents are actively engaged as members of the ongoing School Coordinating Council.
- Parents of participating Title 1 students participate in an Annual Charter School Title 1 meeting. The Charter School applied for and obtained the status Schoolwide Program.
- Parents are guaranteed access to the school, school leaders and classroom teachers to support their children's education.
- After the enrollment of a student, each parent and each student meet with the principal.
- Parents are provided multiple opportunities to develop awareness of college readiness benchmarks and what their children must achieve to be successful. Parents are supported in their participation in monitoring their child's individual learning plan towards college readiness.
- Parents are encouraged to participate in a minimum of four Parent Education Academies each year.
- Parents are encouraged to accept responsibility and accountability for committing to support the Charter School and to participate as parent mentors.
- The Charter School seeks to establish partnerships with effective parent engagement leaders such as Families in Schools which has a proven track record of meaningfully engaging the voice of parents and the community as partners in schools.
- Meetings are arranged with individual classroom teachers, with the student's instructional team and with the student's advisor.
- Parent-teacher conferences are held quarterly to share and discuss the progress and needs of each individual student.
- Parents are encouraged to participate in town hall meetings, training opportunities, coordinating council, so that each parent feels part of the school and understands their responsibility to the school.

The Charter School makes every effort to fully inform parents as to the curriculum offered and their child's progress. In addition to representation on the School Coordinating Council, Parent/Community Town Hall Meetings are held to address school related issues, including, but not limited to, parent/teacher/student relations. While we strongly encourage parents and guardians to engage in supporting the school, parent/guardian participation is not required and has no effect on a student's enrollment, grades, credits or ability to graduate.

Community Engagement

If Charter School is to be effective, it must be part of the community. To that end, the school employs a Parent Engagement Specialist who supports the leadership in representing the interests of the community.

- Members of the community at large are solicited to support the school in various functions.
- Community resources, such as parks, libraries, athletic and classroom facilities are part of the Charter School. The Charter School believes that by using community facilities, it becomes an integral member of the community in which it is located.

Application Form

Each student interested in enrolling at an Alliance school must submit an application form to the school before the application deadline. There must be one application for each child. Applications received after the deadline shall be placed on the waitlist in the order they are received.

Open Enrollment Period

The open enrollment period for the upcoming school year will start at the beginning of October of the current school year and last until the lottery takes place (as needed), and no later than May 30. Parents/guardians of students who submitted applications and interested parties will be provided information about the timeline and procedures to be followed during the open enrollment and lottery process upon request. This information will be made available verbally, online and in print form.

Lottery Procedures

The lottery will be held on Tajima's campus unless a larger venue is required. If needed, the lottery will take place on a weekday afternoon or evening or during the weekend to help ensure all interested parties can attend. The specific date, time and location will be determined one week following the application due date, and will be communicated to families and interested parties verbally or through written communications (e.g., text messages, emails, postings in school main office) as needed. Lottery procedures will be followed and related materials will be made available upon request. Interested parties are welcome to observe the random public drawing should one be necessary.

If the number of applicants exceeds the number of available seats on the application due date, a lottery will be hosted and the applicants will be randomly drawn to fill the available seats. The lottery will follow the school's lottery preferences. Applicants that are not accepted during the lottery will be placed on the waitlist in the order their names are drawn. All applications and a record of the order in which they are drawn will be kept on file at the Charter School. The Charter School may choose to conduct the lottery using an online enrollment system. The online enrollment system allows families to apply online and allows the school to run the lottery using a secure computer algorithm so that rules and lottery preferences are followed every time and families can be assured of an equitable process.

After the offered list is set, a waitlist shall be created and maintained. Should vacancies occur, admission will be offered to applicants on the waitlist in the order their names appear. The school can utilize the online enrollment system to manage the waitlist to ensure seats are offered to students in the order they appear on the waitlist.

Communication

The offered list and waitlist will be made available following the lottery (if needed) and upon request. Parents/guardians of applicants on the offered list and waitlist will be contacted by designated school office staff via phone and/or in writing. Multiple communications on different days will be attempted. Communication attempts will be logged by school staff.

Parents/guardians of applicants will have 5 school days from initial contact to respond to the designated contact person. The parents can respond via phone, in writing or by accepting the seat through the online enrollment system. If parents do not respond within the timeline, the applicant will be removed from the waitlist and the next applicant's parents/guardians on the waitlist will be contacted. We use an enrollment database system to log and document the fair execution of our lottery and waitlist.

Charter School shall establish and implement policies and procedures to ensure full compliance with federal and state laws and regulations regarding the discipline of students with disabilities. If a student is recommended for expulsion and the student receives or is eligible for special education, pending the completion of the expulsion process, Charter School shall identify and provide special education programs and services at an appropriate interim educational placement determined in coordination with the LAUSD Division of Special Education.

In the case of a student who has an Individualized Education Program ("IEP"), or a student who has a Section 504 Plan, Charter School shall ensure that it follows correct disciplinary procedures to comply with the mandates of state and federal laws, including IDEA and section 504 of the Rehabilitation Plan of 1973. As set forth in the MOU regarding special education between the District and Charter School, an IEP team will meet to conduct a manifestation determination and to discuss alternative placement utilizing the District's Special Education Policies and Procedures

Manual. Prior to recommending expulsion for a student with a Section 504 Plan, Charter School's administrator will convene a Link Determination meeting to ask the following two questions:

A. Was the misconduct caused by, or directly and substantially related to the student's disability?
B. Was the misconduct a direct result of the Charter School's failure to implement Section 504?

NOTIFICATION OF THE DISTRICT

Upon expelling any student, Charter School shall notify the Charter Schools Division by submitting an expulsion packet to the CSD immediately or as soon as practicable, which shall contain:

- Completed "Notification of Charter School Expulsion" [form available from the CSD website or office], including attachments as required on the form
- Documentation of the expulsion proceeding, including statement of specific facts supporting the expulsion and documentation that Charter School's policies and procedures were followed
- Copy of parental notice of expulsion hearing
- Copy of expulsion notice provided to parent stating reason for expulsion, term of expulsion, rehabilitation plan, reinstatement notice with eligibility date and instructions for providing proof of student's compliance for reinstatement, appeal process, and options for enrollment
- If the student is eligible for Special Education, documentation related to expulsion in compliance with IDEA including the Expulsion Analysis page of the pre-expulsion IEP
- If the student is eligible for Section 504 accommodations, documentation that Charter School conducted a Link Determination meeting to address two questions:
  A. Was the misconduct caused by, or directly and substantially related to the student's disability?
  B. Was the misconduct a direct result of Charter School's failure to implement Section 504 Plan?

Notwithstanding and apart from the documentation sent to the Charter Schools Division as indicated above, if the student is a resident of a school district other than LAUSD, Charter School must notify the superintendent of the student's district of residence within 30 days of the expulsion. Additionally, upon request of the receiving school district, Charter School shall forward student records no later than 10 school days from the date of the request as stated in Education Code section 49068 (a) and (b).

OUTCOME DATA

Charter School shall gather and maintain all data related to placement, tracking, and monitoring of student suspensions, expulsions, involuntary removals, and reinstatements, and make such outcome data readily available to the District upon request.

REHABILITATION PLANS

Pupils who are expelled from Charter School shall be given a rehabilitation plan upon expulsion as developed by Charter School's governing board at the time of the expulsion order, which may include, but is not limited to, periodic review as well as assessment at the time of review for readmission. Terms of expulsion should be reasonable and fair with the weight of the expelling offense taken into consideration when determining the length of expulsion. Therefore, the rehabilitation plan should include a date not later than one (1) year from the date of expulsion when the pupil may apply to Charter School for readmission. Charter School shall inform parents in writing of its processes for reinstatement and applying for expungement of the expulsion record.

READMISSION

Charter School's governing board shall adopt rules establishing a procedure for the filing and processing of requests for readmission and the process for the required review of all expelled pupils for readmission. Upon completion of the readmission process, Charter School's governing board shall readmit the pupil, unless Charter School's governing board makes a finding that the pupil has not met the conditions of the rehabilitation plan or continues to pose a danger to campus safety. A description of the procedure shall be made available to the pupil and the pupil's parent or guardian at the time the expulsion order is entered and the decision of the governing board, including any related findings, must be provided to the pupil and the pupil's parent/guardian within a reasonable time.

REINSTATEMENT

Charter School's governing board shall adopt rules establishing a procedure for processing reinstatements, including the review of documents regarding the rehabilitation plan. Charter School is responsible for reinstating the student upon the conclusion of the expulsion period in a timely manner.

GUN-FREE SCHOOLS ACT

Charter School shall comply with the federal Gun-Free Schools Act.

Student Discipline System

The Student Suspension and Expulsion Policy has been established in order to promote learning and protect the safety and well-being of all students at Tajima. Although the Charter School is exempt from Education Code section 48900 et seq., the policy, procedures and grounds for suspension/expulsion are based on Education Code 48900 et seq. schools also follow the District's Discipline Foundation Policy, including the school-wide positive behavior supports, alternatives to suspension (e.g., behavioral contracts, student detention, parent conferences, counseling), and restorative justice. At the beginning of each school year, the principal or administrative designee (e.g., assistant principal, dean of students) will provide professional development to school staff in order to communicate and model the school's discipline policy to the school community. The focus of the training will be around ensuring school practices are consistently applied and may address topics such as: school-wide behavior expectations, the school's philosophy around positive behavioral suspension & supports and/or restorative justice, and procedures for addressing student behavior issues in classrooms. Throughout the school year, administrators and staff will regularly review school-wide and subgroup discipline data to identify areas to improve upon its practices and provide additional training and support as needed to prevent and mitigate the need for future disciplinary measures.

Tajima develops, maintains, and implements a comprehensive student discipline policy. The discipline policy is not biased or discriminatory, and follows the principles of due process. In the case of a student who has an IEP, or a student who has a 504 Plan, the school will ensure that it follows the correct disciplinary procedures to comply with the mandates of applicable state and federal laws.

By signing the school's Parent-Student Handbook, students and parents acknowledge their understanding of and their responsibility to the standards set forth in the discipline policy. The discipline policy will define student responsibilities, unacceptable behavior, and the consequences for such.

Tajima believes in a student discipline philosophy that is progressive in nature, but also emphasizes positive behavior supports to provide students with opportunities to improve. These include, but are not limited to: positive recognition, restorative practices (e.g., restorative circles, mediation, regular conferencing), increased family and community collaboration, acknowledgement and reinforcement of appropriate behavior, clear definition of expectations, team-based implementation, and data-based decision making. The school will have access to a student discipline dashboard to track and monitor student suspensions and expulsions on a regular basis.

Students who violate the school rules are also subject to, but not limited to, the following progressive actions:

- Verbal warning
- Phone call to parent/guardian
- Loss of privileges (e.g. attending after school activities, interscholastic sports, special non-instructional activities held during the school day, one-to-one assigned technology)

- Detention
- Conference with student and parent/guardian
- Suspension
- Expulsion

Grounds for Suspension and Expulsion

Tajima has adopted the Los Angeles Unified School District Suspension and Expulsion Matrix as identified below (Education Code section 48915(b)). As such, a student may be suspended or expelled for prohibited misconduct, as outlined in the matrix, if the act occurs:

1) While on school grounds,
2) While going to or coming from school,
3) During the lunch period whether on or off the school campus,
4) During, or while going to or coming from, a school-sponsored activity.

Suspended students and students in in-school suspension shall be excluded from participating in all school and school-related activities unless otherwise agreed upon by the principal or administrative designee (e.g., assistant principal, dean of students) and the parent/guardian during the period of suspension. The maximum number of days for out-of-school or in-school suspensions will not exceed five (5) school days per incident and ten (10) school days in one academic year for students with Individualized Education Programs (IEPs) or twenty (20) school days in one academic year for general education students.

Expelled students shall be excluded from participating in all school and school-related activities.

As used in this section, "school property" includes, but is not limited to, electronic files and databases.

The offenses noted above are annotated excerpts from Education Code Section 48900. The school will use the above referenced grounds and procedures in determining suspension and expulsion.

Not Grounds for Suspension/Expulsion

Tajima's policy prohibits suspension and expulsion from being used as corrective measures in response to student misconduct of willful defiance as described in Education Code section 48900(k)(1).

Suspension Procedures

Rules and Procedures

The process for investigating incidents and collecting evidence for suspensions and expulsions will be fair and thorough. Suspension is preceded by a conference conducted by the principal or administrative designee (e.g., assistant principal, dean of students) with the student and the student's parent/guardian. The conference may be omitted if the administrative staff determines that an emergency situation exists. An "emergency situation" involves a clear and present danger to the lives, safety or health of students or school personnel. If the student is suspended without a conference, the parent/guardian is notified of the suspension, a request for a conference is to be made as soon as possible, and the conference is to be held as soon as possible.

Notice to Parents/Guardians

At the time of suspension (both out-of-school and in-school), the principal or administrative designee will contact the parent/guardian by telephone or in person. Whenever a student is suspended, the parent/guardian shall be notified in writing of the suspension and the date of return following suspension in the primary language of the guardian. This notice shall state the specific offense(s) committed by the student. In addition, the notice shall also state the date and time the student may return to school. The principal or administrative designee shall request to confer with the parent/guardian regarding matters pertinent to the suspension; parents/guardians are strongly encouraged to respond without delay as student violations of school rules may result in student expulsion from the school.

In-school suspensions will be served in either the school's main office or in an open classroom and will be supervised by a certificated staff member. During in-school suspensions, the student's teachers will provide coursework to be completed in the in-school suspension setting.

Length of Suspension

Suspensions (both out-of-school and in-school), when not including a recommendation for expulsion, shall not exceed five (5) consecutive school days per suspension. During the term of the suspension, Tajima shall provide the student with meaningful access to education. Missed assignments can be accessed virtually through class websites or arranged for pick-up or delivery with the parent/guardian. The student shall also be given the opportunity to take make-up tests if they were missed during the term of the suspension.

Upon a recommendation of expulsion by the principal or administrative designee, the pupil and the pupil's guardian or representative will be invited to a conference to determine if the suspension for the pupil should be extended pending an expulsion hearing. This determination will be made by the principal or administrative designee upon either of the following: 1) the pupil's presence will be disruptive to the education process; or 2) the pupil poses a threat or danger to others. Upon either determination, the pupil's suspension will be extended pending the results of an expulsion hearing. Students who receive an extended suspension may be offered an interim placement at an LAUSD school, another Alliance school, or coursework from the attending school. Students shall not be suspended for more than a total of twenty (20) school days in a school year, unless a suspension has been extended up to 30 school days pending an expulsion hearing.

Suspension Appeals

The suspension of a student is at the discretion of the principal or administrative designee. Parents/guardians shall be notified in advance of the enactment of the suspension and can appeal a student's suspension. A suspension appeal shall be submitted in writing to the Alliance Home Office Chief Schools Officer, and shall be heard if requested within five (5) school days of the notification of suspension by the principal or administrative designee. Upon consideration of the evidence presented in the appeal, the Chief Schools Officer's decision shall be final. The student shall be considered suspended until a meeting is convened to hear the appeal. The decision regarding the appeal will be made within one (1) school day of the appeal hearing. Parents/guardians will be notified of the decision in writing within three (3) school days. For students who are recommended for expulsion, any appeal of the suspension will be considered concurrently with the expulsion process.

Expulsion Procedures

Rules and Procedures

The process for investigating incidents and collecting evidence for suspensions and expulsions will be fair and thorough. Upon a recommendation of expulsion by the principal or administrative designee, the pupil and the pupil's parent/guardian or representative will be invited, by letter or by phone, to a pre-expulsion conference within five (5) school days. During the conference, they will have the right to respond to the allegation. If necessary, they will be given three (3) additional school days after the conference to respond. This conference will also provide an opportunity to determine if the suspension for the pupil should be extended pending an expulsion hearing. This determination will be made by the principal or administrative designee.

Authority to Expel

A student may be expelled by a three (3) member panel, known as the Expulsion Panel that is designated by the Board of Directors. The Expulsion Panel shall be selected by the Board Chair and will consist of Alliance College-Ready Public Schools and Alliance's affiliated schools' staff. The members of the Expulsion Panel shall meet the following criteria:

1) The members shall have no knowledge or previous familiarity of the student or situation, and
2) The members are not school employees.

Expulsion Hearing

A hearing to determine whether the student should be expelled is required for recommendation for expulsion. The hearing shall be held within 30 school days after the principal makes his/her expulsion recommendation. The hearing shall be presided over by the Expulsion Panel described above.

The principal or administrative designee provides written notice of the hearing to the student and the student's parent/guardian within ten (10) calendar days before the date of the hearing. The notice shall be in the primary language of the guardian. The notice will include information regarding reasonable accommodations and language support, presentation and cross-examination of witnesses and other evidence, representation by counsel or other advocates, and other due process protections and rights. As necessary, the notice will also provide special rules and procedures for incidents involving sexual assault and/or battery (e.g., provide complaining witness with a copy of applicable disciplinary rules and advisement of rights, postponement of expulsion hearing for one school day to accommodate the special physical, mental and emotional needs of complaining witness, provide a nonthreatening environment for complaining witness to speak freely and accurately of his/her experiences, breaks during testimony as needed, advisement of complaining witness and accused pupil to refrain from personal or telephonic contact). The documentary evidence packet shall be made available to the student and/or parents/guardians upon request.

An audio recording of the hearing and proceedings will be created and retained.

Presentation of Evidence

While technical rules of evidence do not apply to expulsion hearings, evidence may be admitted and used as proof only if it is the kind of evidence in which reasonable persons can rely in the conduct of serious affairs. A determination by the panel to expel must be supported by substantial evidence that the student committed an expellable offense. Also, in accordance to the LAUSD Suspension and Expulsion Matrix, for Category II and II offenses (Ed Code 48915(b)), the school must provide evidence of one or both of the following additional findings: (1) Other means of correction are not feasible or have repeatedly failed to bring about proper conduct, (2) Due to the nature of the act, the student's presence causes a continuing danger to the physical safety of the pupil or others.

Findings of fact shall be based solely on the evidence at the hearing. While hearsay evidence is admissible, no decision to expel shall be based solely on hearsay. Sworn declarations may be admitted as testimony from witnesses of whom the Expulsion Panel determines that disclosure of their identity or testimony at the hearing may subject them to an unreasonable risk of physical or psychological harm. The decision of the panel to expel must be supported by substantial evidence presented at the hearing that the student committed an expellable offense. Also, in accordance to the LAUSD Suspension and Expulsion Matrix, for Category II and II offenses, the school must provide evidence of one or both of the following additional findings: (1) Other means of correction are not feasible or have repeatedly failed to bring about proper conduct, (2) Due to the nature of the act, the student's presence causes a continuing danger to the physical safety of the pupil or others.

The decision of the Expulsion Panel shall be in the form of written findings of fact. The final decision by the panel shall be made within three (3) school days following the conclusion of the hearing.

If the Expulsion Panel decides not to expel and the student is still enrolled, the pupil shall immediately be returned to his/her educational program or be given the opportunity to transfer to another Alliance school with mutual agreement of the parent and the other Alliance school.

Written Notice to Expel

Following a decision of the Expulsion Panel to expel, the principal or administrative designee shall send to the student and parent/guardian written notice of the decision to expel. The notice shall be in the primary language of the guardian. This notice will include the findings of fact, recommendations, referral to alternative placement, recommended rehabilitation plan, recommended expulsion order and appeal procedures. This notice to expel a student will be sent by certified U.S. mail. Records of the proceeding will be made available at anytime upon request to the Principal.

Appeal of Expulsion

An expulsion decision may be appealed within 30 calendar days of the date of the Expulsion Panel's written decision to expel. The parent/guardian must submit the appeal in writing to the principal who will inform the School Board Chair. An Expulsion Appeal Panel shall be convened within 30 school days of receipt of the written appeal, at which time the student's parent/guardian must attend to present his/her appeal either verbally or in writing. Language support shall be provided upon request. The Expulsion Appeal Panel shall have three (3) members. The panel shall be selected by the School Board Chair. Panel members shall not be school employees (they may be Alliance Home Office employees or staff members from other Alliance schools), shall have no familiarity of the incident or student, and shall not be the same individuals that served on the Expulsion Panel. The scope of review of the panel shall be limited to whether there is relevant and material evidence which, in the exercise of reasonable diligence, could not have been produced or which was improperly excluded at the expulsion hearing. The decision of the Expulsion Appeal Panel shall be final. Parents will be notified of the Expulsion Appeal Panel's decision, in writing, within two (2) school days of the hearing. The notice shall be in the primary language of the guardian. In the event that Expulsion Appeal Panel reverses the expulsion, the student shall be immediately reinstated.

Alternative Placement

In the event of a decision to expel a student, the school will work cooperatively with student's home school district, the county and/or other schools to find alternative placement for the student.

Rehabilitation Plans

Pupils who are expelled from an Alliance school shall be given a rehabilitation plan upon expulsion as developed by the Expulsion Panel at the time of the expulsion order, which may include, but is not limited to, periodic review as well as assessment at the time of review for readmission. The rehabilitation plan should include a date not later than one (1) year from the date of expulsion when the pupil may reapply to the Alliance school for readmission.

Readmission

The school shall receive the documentary evidence from parents/guardians or LAUSD as per the student's rehabilitation plan in the findings of fact. This evidence will be reviewed to determine if the plan's requirements have been met to allow for readmission. Upon completion of the readmission process and pending the availability of open seats, the school shall readmit the pupil, unless the school's principal makes a finding that the pupil has not met the conditions of the rehabilitation plan or continues to pose a danger to campus safety. A description of the procedure shall be made available to the pupil and the pupil's parent or guardian at the time the expulsion order is entered and the decision of the Charter School, including any related findings, must be provided to the pupil and the pupil's parent/guardian within a reasonable time.

Reinstatement

Upon completion of the readmission process and a determination that the student has met the terms of the rehabilitation plan, the school shall reinstate the student upon the conclusion of the expulsion period.

ELEMENT 11: Employee Retirement Systems

"The manner by which staff members of the charter schools will be covered by the State Teachers' Retirement System, the Public Employees' Retirement System, or federal social security." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(K).)

Charter School shall comply in a timely manner with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations, as they may change from time to time, including but not limited to Internal Revenue Code section 414(d) and related regulations, governing Charter School's participation in, and/or coverage of its staff members by, the State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS), the Public Employees' Retirement System (CalPERS), and/or federal social security.

If Charter School participates in, or otherwise covers its staff members by enrolling or continuing their enrollment in, a "government plan" governed by section 414(d) (e.g., CalPERS), upon dissolution or final liquidation of Charter School, and/or its nonprofit public benefit corporation, notwithstanding any provision in Element 15 to the contrary, Charter School shall distribute its net assets in accordance with section 414(d), related regulations, and the government plan's requirements.

If Charter School participates in CalSTRS and/or CalPERS, Charter School shall continue such participation for the duration of Charter School's existence under the same CDS code, if mandated by applicable legal and retirement plan requirements.

Retirement Benefits

CalSTRS and CalPERS contributions are reported through the Los Angeles County Office of Education (LACOE). The Charter School will continue its participation (under its existing County-District-School (CDS) code) in these programs for the duration of its existence and operation.

STRS - All certificated employees who are eligible participate in the State Teachers Retirement System (CalSTRS). Eligible certificated employees deposit a percentage of their pre-tax creditable earnings in CalSTRS and the School matches this contribution. As of 7/01/2020, certificated employees contribute 10.205% (if subject to PEPRA) or 10.25% (if not subject to PEPRA) and Tajima contributes 16.15%. All withholdings from employees and the Charter School are forwarded to the STRS Fund as required. Employees accumulate service credit years in the same manner as all other members of STRS.

PERS - All classified employees who are eligible participate in the Public Employees Retirement System (CalPERS). Eligible classified employees deposit a percentage of their pre-tax creditable earnings in CalPERS and that the School matches this contribution. As of 7/01/2020, employees contribute 7% (if subject to PEPRA) or 7% (if not subject to PEPRA) and Tajima contributes 20.7%. All withholdings from employees and the charter school are forwarded to the PERS Fund as required. Employees accumulate service credit years in the same manner as all other members of PERS. Social Security payments are contributed for all qualifying PERS members.

OASDI, PARS and Others - Tajima participates in Old Age Survivor special Insurance (OASDI) for non-PERS/STRS eligible part-time employees. The Board of Directors retains the option to consider any other public or private retirement plans, such as the Public Agency Retirement System (PARS), and to coordinate such participation with existing programs as it deems appropriate.

ELEMENT 12: Public School Attendance Alternatives

"The public school attendance alternatives for pupils residing within the school district who choose not to attend charter schools." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(L).)

Pupils of Charter School do not have or gain any right to admission in a particular school of any school district, or program of any school district, as a consequence of applying to or enrolling in Charter School, except to the extent that such a right is extended by the school district.

A pupil who chooses not to attend Charter School may attend a public school within the pupil's school district of residence in accordance with applicable law and that school district's policies and procedures. The pupil alternatively may seek to enroll in another charter school in accordance with applicable law and the terms of the school's charter. If LAUSD is the pupil's school district of residence, an eligible pupil may pursue an inter-district transfer, if available, in accordance with the admission, enrollment, and transfer policies and procedures of the District, as they may change from time to time.

As a public charter school authorized to operate within the boundaries of the Los Angeles Unified School District, Alliance Ted K. Tajima High provides a quality alternative to attending District schools. Students may choose to attend other public schools in the district of residence or pursue an inter-district transfer in accordance with existing enrollment and transfer policies of LAUSD.

Alliance Ted K. Tajima High is a school of choice; no student is required to attend. This information is communicated to families through informational meetings.

ELEMENT 13: Rights of District Employees

"The rights of an employee of the school district upon leaving the employment of the school district to work in a charter school, and of any rights of return to the school district after employment at a charter school." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(M).)

Employees of the District who choose to leave the employment of the District to work at Charter School shall have no automatic rights of return to the District after employment at Charter School unless specifically granted by the District through a leave of absence or other agreement or policy of the District as aligned with the collective bargaining agreements of the District. Leave and return rights for District union-represented employees and former employees who accept employment with Charter School will be administered in accordance with applicable collective bargaining agreements and any applicable judicial rulings.

ELEMENT 14: Mandatory Dispute Resolution

"The procedures to be followed by the charter school and the entity granting the charter to resolve disputes relating to provisions of the charter." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(N).)

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Any claim, controversy or dispute between the District and Charter School arising out of, or relating to, this Charter, except for any claim, controversy or dispute related to the authorization, non-renewal, revision, and/or revocation of this Charter, ("Dispute") shall be resolved pursuant to the terms of this Element 14.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, each party shall bear and be solely responsible for all of its own attorneys' fees, costs and expenses associated with any Dispute, including, but not limited to, any written/oral communication, meeting, Issues Conference, mediation, arbitration, administrative and/or civil action (including all levels of appeal), and no party shall be ordered to pay, or be awarded, any other party's attorneys' fees, costs or expenses in connection therewith, regardless of who may be deemed the prevailing party. Any fees, costs and expenses charged by a mediator or arbitrator (including all associated administration fees, costs and expenses) shall be shared equally by the parties regardless of the outcome or award. To that effect, any order or award of attorneys' fees, costs and/or expenses, or mediator's or arbitrator's fees, costs or expenses (including any associated administration fees, costs and expenses), issued by a mediator, arbitrator, judicial officer (including all levels of appeal) or jury in any Dispute shall be deemed invalid as a matter of law and unenforceable by one party against the other party.

The procedures shall ensure a final audit of the charter school to determine the disposition of all assets and liabilities of the charter school, including plans for disposing of any net assets and for the maintenance and transfer of pupil records." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(O).)

REVOCATION OF THE CHARTER

The District may revoke the Charter pursuant to the provisions set forth in the Charter Schools Act of 1992, as they may be amended from time to time. Financial Close-Out

After receiving notification of closure, the California Department of Education (CDE) will notify Charter School and the authorizing entity of any liabilities Charter School owes the state, which may include overpayment of apportionments, unpaid revolving fund loans or grants, and/or similar liabilities. The CDE may ask the county office of education to conduct an audit of the charter school if it has reason to believe that the school received state funding for which it was not eligible.

Charter School shall ensure completion of an independent final audit within six months after the closure of Charter School that includes:

1. An accounting of all financial assets. These may include cash and accounts receivable and an inventory of property, equipment, and other items of material value.

2. An accounting of all liabilities. These may include accounts payable or reduction in apportionments due to loans, unpaid staff compensation, audit findings, or other investigations.

3. An assessment of the disposition of any restricted funds received by or due to Charter School.

This audit may serve as Charter School's annual audit if it meets all of the requirements of the annual audit.

Charter School shall pay for the financial closeout audit of Charter School. This audit will be conducted by a neutral, independent licensed CPA who will employ generally accepted accounting principles. Any liability or debt incurred by Charter School will be the responsibility of Charter School and not LAUSD. Charter School understands and acknowledges that Charter School will cover the outstanding debts or liabilities of Charter School. Any unused monies at the time of the audit will be returned to the appropriate funding source. Charter School understands and acknowledges that only unrestricted funds will be used to pay creditors. Any unused AB 602 funds will be returned to the District SELPA or the SELPA in which Charter School participates, and other categorical funds will be returned to the source of funds.

Charter School shall ensure the completion and filing of any annual reports required. These reports include but are not necessarily limited to:

1. Preliminary budgets
2. Interim financial reports
3. Second interim financial reports
4. Final unaudited reports

These reports must be submitted to the CDE and the authorizing entity in the form required. These reports should be submitted as soon as possible after the Closure Action, but no later than the required deadline for reporting for the fiscal year.

For apportionment of categorical programs, the CDE will count the prior year average daily attendance (ADA) or enrollment data of the closed Charter School with the data of the authorizing entity. This practice will occur in the first year after the closure and will continue until CDE data collection processes reflect ADA or enrollment adjustments for all affected LEAs due to the charter closure.

Disposition of Liabilities and Assets

The closeout audit must identify the disposition of all liabilities of Charter School. Charter School closure procedures must also ensure appropriate disposal, in accordance with the District Required Language provisions in Element 11 of this Charter, Charter School's governing board bylaws, fiscal procedures, and any other applicable laws and regulations, of any net assets remaining after all liabilities of Charter School have been paid or otherwise addressed. Such disposal includes, but is not limited to:

1. Charter School, at its cost and expense, shall return to the District any and all property, furniture, equipment, supplies, and other assets provided to Charter School by or on behalf of the District. The District discloses that the California Education Code sets forth the requirements for the disposition of the District's personal property and Charter School shall bear responsibility and liability for any disposition in violation of statutory requirements.

2. The return of any donated materials and property in accordance with any terms and conditions set when the donations were accepted.

3. The return of any grant and restricted categorical funds to their sources according to the terms of the grant or state and federal law.

4. The submission of final expenditure reports for any entitlement grants and the filing of Final Expenditure Reports and Final Performance Reports, as appropriate.

If Charter School is operated as or by a nonprofit corporation, and if the corporation does not have any functions other than operation of Charter School, the corporation shall be dissolved according to its bylaws.

Charter School shall retain sufficient staff, as deemed appropriate by the Charter School governing board to complete all necessary tasks and procedures required to close the school and transfer records in accordance with these closure procedures.

Charter School's governing board shall adopt a plan for wind-up of Charter School and, if necessary, the corporation, in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Code.

Charter School shall provide LAUSD within fourteen (14) calendar days of the Closure Action with written notice of any outstanding payments due to staff and the time frame and method by which Charter School will make the payments.

Prior to final close-out, Charter School shall complete all actions required by applicable law, including but not limited to the following:

a. File all final federal, state, and local employer payroll tax returns and issue final W-2s and Form 1099s by the statutory deadlines.

b. Make final federal tax payments (employee taxes, etc.)

c. Complete and submit all required federal and state filings and notices to the State of California, the Internal Revenue Service, and the Department of the Treasury, including but not limited to final tax returns and forms (e.g., Form 990 and related Schedules).

This Element 15 shall survive the revocation, expiration, termination, cancellation of this Charter, or any other act or event that would end Charter School's authorization to operate as a charter school or cause Charter School to cease operation. Charter School agrees that, due to the nature of the property and activities that are the subject of this Charter, the District and public shall suffer irreparable harm should Charter School breach any obligation under this Element 15. The District therefore reserves the right to seek equitable relief to enforce any right arising under this Element 15 or any provision of this Element 15 or to prevent or cure any breach of any obligation undertaken, without in any way prejudicing any other legal remedy available to the District. Such legal relief shall include, without limitation, the seeking of a temporary or permanent injunction, restraining order, or order for specific performance, and may be sought in any appropriate court.

In the event that the Charter School closes, the Alliance Home Office Chief Business Officer, supported by the Alliance Home Office Vice President of Accounting will serve as the Charter School's closure agent.

Additional Provisions

FACILITIES

Charter School shall comply with all geographic and site limitations and related requirements set forth in Education Code sections 47605.1, 47602(a), and 47605(a).

District-Owned Facilities

If Charter School is using District facilities as of the date of the submission of this charter petition or takes occupancy of District facilities prior to the approval of this charter petition, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities as a condition of the approval of the charter petition. If at any time after the approval of this charter petition Charter School will occupy and use any District facilities, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities prior to occupancy and commencing use. Charter School shall implement and otherwise comply with the terms of any and all applicable facilities use agreements between Charter School and the District.

The circumstances of Charter School's occupancy of District facilities may change over time such as, but not limited to, enrollment, programs, and the conditions of facilities, and the District has a vested interest in having an agreement that is appropriate for the situation.

For a Sole Occupant Agreement or any other use agreement that is not a Proposition 39 Single Year Co-location Use Agreement or a lease issued through the Notice of Intent and bid process, the term may be co-terminous with the approved Charter, as permitted by law. Charter School and the District shall negotiate any modifications of the agreement with the goal of such amendment or new agreement being considered by the LAUSD Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition. If Charter School and the District cannot execute an agreement in time for such to be considered by the Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition, the approval of the renewal of the charter petition shall be conditioned upon Charter School and the District executing an amendment to the existing use agreement or a new agreement no later than May 1st or within nine (9) months of the date of the Board of Education's approval of the renewal of the charter petition. During such time period Charter School shall be permitted to remain in occupancy of the District facilities under the terms and conditions of the immediately preceding, executed use agreement; provided, that if Charter School and the District cannot agree upon and execute an amendment or new use agreement by said deadline, Charter School shall vacate the District facilities on or before June 30th of said school year.

Charter School acknowledges and agrees that occupancy and use of District facilities shall be in compliance with applicable laws and District policies for the operation and maintenance of District facilities and furnishings and equipment. Charter School shall comply with all District health, safety, and emergency procedures and requirements and shall be subject to inspection by the District's Facilities Services Division, OEHS, and other District offices in the same manner as other LAUSD campuses. All District facilities (i.e., schools) will remain subject to those laws applicable to public schools.

In the event of an emergency, all District facilities (i.e., schools) are available for use by the American Red Cross and public agencies as emergency locations, which may disrupt or prevent Charter School from conducting its educational programs. If Charter School will share the use of District facilities with other District user groups, Charter School agrees that it will participate in and observe all District safety policies (e.g., emergency chain of information and participation in safety drills).

The use agreements provided by the District for District facilities shall contain terms and conditions addressing issues such as, but not limited to, the following:

- Use: Charter School will be restricted to using the District facilities for the operation of a public school providing educational instruction to public school students consistent with the terms of the Charter and incidental related uses. Separate and apart from its right as authorizer to observe and inspect any part of the charter school at any time pursuant to Education Code 47607(a)(1), the District shall have and reserves the right to inspect District facilities upon reasonable notice to Charter School.

- Furnishings and Equipment: The District shall retain ownership of any furnishings and equipment, including technology, ("F&E") that it provides to Charter School for use. Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, shall provide maintenance and other services for the good and safe operation of the F&E.

- Leasing; Licensing: Use of the District facilities by any person or entity other than Charter School shall be administered by the District. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement in the use agreement.

- Programs, Services, and Activities Outside Instructional Program; Third Party Vendors:

    (i) Any program, service, or activity provided outside the instructional program shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement, and, additionally, may require a license, permit, or additional agreement issued by the District. The term "instructional program" is defined, per Education Code section 47612 and 5 CCR section 11960, as those required educational activities that generate funding based on "average daily attendance" and includes those extracurricular programs, services, and/or activities that students are required to participate in and do not require the payment of any consideration or fee.

    (ii) Any program, service, or activity requiring the payment of any consideration or fee or provided by a third party vendor (defined as any person or entity other than Charter School), whether paid or volunteer and regardless of whether such may be within the instructional program, shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement and such third party vendor shall be required to obtain a license, permit, or additional agreement from the District.

Minimum Payments or Charges to be Paid to District Arising from the Facilities:

(i) Pro Rata Share: The District shall collect, and Charter School shall pay a Pro Rata Share for facilities costs as provided in the Charter Schools Act of

1992 and its regulations. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding facilities costs in the use agreement; and

(ii) Taxes; Assessments: Generally, Charter School shall pay any assessment or fee imposed upon or levied on the LAUSD facilities that it is occupying or Charter School's legal or equitable interest created by the use agreement.

- Maintenance & Operations Services: In the event the District agrees to allow Charter School to perform any of the operation and maintenance services, the District shall have the right to inspect the District facilities, and the costs incurred in such inspection shall be paid by Charter School.

  (i) Co-Location: If Charter School is co-locating or sharing the District facilities with another user, the District shall provide the operations and maintenance services for the District facilities and Charter School shall pay the Pro Rata Share. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such in the use agreement.

  (ii) Sole Occupant: If Charter School is a sole occupant of District facilities, the District shall allow Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, to provide some operations and maintenance services for the District facilities in accordance with applicable laws and LAUSD's policies on operations and maintenance services for facilities and F&E. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, the District shall provide all services for regulatory inspections which as the owner of the real property it is required to submit, and deferred maintenance, and Charter School shall pay LAUSD for the cost and expense of providing those services. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such services in the use agreement.

- Real Property Insurance: Prior to occupancy, Charter School shall satisfy requirements to participate in LAUSD's property insurance or, if Charter School is the sole occupant of LAUSD facilities, obtain and maintain separate property insurance for the LAUSD facilities. Charter School shall not have the option of obtaining and maintaining separate property insurance for the LAUSD facility IF Charter School is co-locating or sharing the LAUSD facility with another user.

Non-District-Owned Facilities

Occupancy and Use of the Site: Prior to occupancy or use of any school site or facility, Charter School shall provide the CSD with a current Certificate of Occupancy or equivalent document issued by the applicable permitting agency that allows Charter School to use and occupy the site as a charter school. Charter School shall not exceed the operating capacity of the site and shall operate within any limitations or requirements provided by the Certificate of Occupancy and any applicable permit. Charter School may not open or operate without providing a copy of an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD. If Charter School intends to move or expand to another facility during the term of this Charter, Charter School shall adhere to any and all District policies and procedures regarding charter material revision and non-material amendment. Prior to occupancy or use of any such additional or changed school site, Charter School shall provide an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD for such facility. Notwithstanding any language to the contrary in this Charter, the interpretation, application, and enforcement of this provision are not subject to the Dispute Resolution Process outlined in Element 14.

Facility Compliance: Prior to occupancy or use of any non-District-owned school site and/or facility, Charter School shall ensure that the site and/or facility complies with all applicable building codes, standards and regulations adopted by the city and/or county agencies responsible for building and safety standards for the city in which Charter School is to be located, federal and state accessibility requirements (including the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504), and all other applicable fire, health, and structural safety and access requirements. This requirement shall also apply to the construction, reconstruction, alteration of or addition to the facility. Charter School shall resolve in a timely manner any and all corrective actions, orders to comply, and notices issued by any authorized building and safety agency. Charter School cannot exempt itself from applicable building and zoning codes, ordinances, and ADA/Section 504 requirements. Charter School shall maintain on file readily accessible records that document facilities compliance and shall promptly provide such documentation to the CSD upon request.

Pest Management: Charter School shall comply with the Healthy Schools Act, Education Code section 17608, which details pest management requirements for schools.

Asbestos Management: Charter School shall comply with the asbestos requirement as cited in the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA), 40 C.F.R. part 763. AHERA requires that any building leased or acquired that is to be used as a school or administrative building shall maintain an asbestos management plan.

Best A-, VII or better] or the equivalent provided through a California Joint Powers Authority self-insurance program to protect Charter School from claims which may arise from its operations. Pupils of Charter School do not have or gain any right to admission in a particular school of any school district, or program of any school district, as a consequence of applying to or enrolling in Charter School, except to the extent that such a right is extended by the school district.

A pupil who chooses not to attend Charter School may attend a public school within the pupil's school district of residence in accordance with applicable law and that school district's policies and procedures. The pupil alternatively may seek to enroll in another charter school in accordance with applicable law and the terms of the school's charter. If LAUSD is the pupil's school district of residence, an eligible pupil may pursue an inter-district transfer, if available, in accordance with the admission, enrollment, and transfer policies and procedures of the District, as they may change from time to time.

Element 13 – Rights of District Employees

"The rights of an employee of the school district upon leaving the employment of the school district to work in a charter school, and of any rights of return to the school district after employment at a charter school." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(M).)

Employees of the District who choose to leave the employment of the District to work at Charter School shall have no automatic rights of return to the District after employment at Charter School unless specifically granted by the District through a leave of absence or other agreement or policy of the District as aligned with the collective bargaining agreements of the District. (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(O).)

REVOCATION OF THE CHARTER

Revocation proceedings are not subject to the dispute resolution provisions set forth in this Charter.

Pursuant to Education Code section 47607.3, a charter school identified for needing assistance and provided advice and assistance from the California Collaborative for Educational Excellence based on failure to satisfy state evaluation rubrics may be subject to revocation.

Financial Close-Out

After receiving notification of closure, the California Department of Education (CDE) will notify Charter School and the authorizing entity of any liabilities Charter School owes the state, which may include overpayment of apportionments, unpaid revolving fund loans or grants, and/or similar liabilities. The CDE may ask the county office of education to conduct an audit of the charter school if it has reason to believe that the school received state funding for which it was not eligible.

Charter School shall ensure completion of an independent final audit within six months after the closure of Charter School that includes:

1. An accounting of all financial assets. These may include cash and accounts receivable and an inventory of property, equipment, and other items of material value.

2. An accounting of all liabilities. These may include accounts payable or reduction in apportionments due to loans, unpaid staff compensation, audit findings, or other investigations.

3. An assessment of the disposition of any restricted funds received by or due to Charter School.

This audit may serve as Charter School's annual audit if it meets all of the requirements of the annual audit.

Charter School shall pay for the financial closeout audit of Charter School. This audit will be conducted by a neutral, independent licensed CPA who will employ generally accepted accounting principles. Any liability or debt incurred by Charter School will be the responsibility of Charter School and not LAUSD. Charter School understands and acknowledges that Charter School will cover the outstanding debts or liabilities of Charter School. Any unused monies at the time of the audit will be returned to the appropriate funding source. Charter School understands and acknowledges that only unrestricted funds will be used to pay creditors. Any unused AB 602 funds will be returned to the District SELPA or the SELPA in which Charter School participates, and other categorical funds will be returned to the source of funds.

Charter School shall ensure the completion and filing of any annual reports required. These reports include but are not necessarily limited to:

1. Preliminary budgets
2. Interim financial reports
3. Second interim financial reports
4. Final unaudited reports

These reports must be submitted to the CDE and the authorizing entity in the form required. These reports should be submitted as soon as possible after the Closure Action, but no later than the required deadline for reporting for the fiscal year.

For apportionment of categorical programs, the CDE will count the prior year average daily attendance (ADA) or enrollment data of the closed Charter School with the data of the authorizing entity. This practice will occur in the first year after the closure and will continue until CDE data collection processes reflect ADA or enrollment adjustments for all affected LEAs due to the charter closure.

Disposition of Liabilities and Assets

The closeout audit must identify the disposition of all liabilities of Charter School. Charter School closure procedures must also ensure appropriate disposal, in accordance with the District Required Language provisions in Element 11 of this Charter, Charter School's governing board bylaws, fiscal procedures, and any other applicable laws and regulations, of any net assets remaining after all liabilities of Charter School have been paid or otherwise addressed. Such disposal includes, but is not limited to:

1. Charter School, at its cost and expense, shall return to the District any and all property, furniture, equipment, supplies, and other assets provided to Charter School by or on behalf of the District. The District discloses that the California Education Code sets forth the requirements for the disposition of the District's personal property and Charter School shall bear responsibility and liability for any disposition in violation of statutory requirements.

2. The return of any donated materials and property in accordance with any terms and conditions set when the donations were accepted.

3. The return of any grant and restricted categorical funds to their sources according to the terms of the grant or state and federal law.

4. The submission of final expenditure reports for any entitlement grants and the filing of Final Expenditure Reports and Final Performance Reports, as appropriate.

If Charter School is operated as or by a nonprofit corporation, and if the corporation does not have any functions other than operation of Charter School, the corporation shall be dissolved according to its bylaws.

Charter School shall retain sufficient staff, as deemed appropriate by the Charter School governing board to complete all necessary tasks and procedures required to close the school and transfer records in accordance with these closure procedures.

Charter School's governing board shall adopt a plan for wind-up of Charter School and, if necessary, the corporation, in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Code.

Charter School shall provide LAUSD within fourteen (14) calendar days of the Closure Action with written notice of any outstanding payments due to staff and the time frame and method by which Charter School will make the payments.

Prior to final close-out, Charter School shall complete all actions required by applicable law, including but not limited to the following:

a. File all final federal, state, and local employer payroll tax returns and issue final W-2s and Form 1099s by the statutory deadlines.

b. Make final federal tax payments (employee taxes, etc.)

c. Complete and submit all required federal and state filings and notices to the State of California, the Internal Revenue Service, and the Department of the Treasury, including but not limited to final tax returns and forms (e.g., Form 990 and related Schedules).

This Element 15 shall survive the revocation, expiration, termination, cancellation of this Charter, or any other act or event that would end Charter School's authorization to operate as a charter school or cause Charter School to cease operation. Charter School agrees that, due to the nature of the property and activities that are the subject of this Charter, the District and public shall suffer irreparable harm should Charter School breach any obligation under this Element 15. The District therefore reserves the right to seek equitable relief to enforce any right arising under this Element 15 or any provision of this Element 15 or to prevent or cure any breach of any obligation undertaken, without in any way prejudicing any other legal remedy available to the District. Such legal relief shall include, without limitation, the seeking of a temporary or permanent injunction, restraining order, or order for specific performance, and may be sought in any appropriate court.

Additional Provisions

FACILITIES

Charter School shall comply with all geographic and site limitations and related requirements set forth in Education Code sections 47605.1, 47602(a), and 47605(a).

District-Owned Facilities

If Charter School is using District facilities as of the date of the submission of this charter petition or takes occupancy of District facilities prior to the approval of this charter petition, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities as a condition of the approval of the charter petition. If at any time after the approval of this charter petition Charter School will occupy and use any District facilities, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities prior to occupancy and commencing use. Charter School shall implement and otherwise comply with the terms of any and all applicable facilities use agreements between Charter School and the District.

The circumstances of Charter School's occupancy of District facilities may change over time such as, but not limited to, enrollment, programs, and the conditions of facilities, and the District has a vested interest in having an agreement that is appropriate for the situation.

For a Sole Occupant Agreement or any other use agreement that is not a Proposition 39 Single Year Co-location Use Agreement or a lease issued through the Notice of Intent and bid process, the term may be co-terminous with the approved Charter, as permitted by law. Charter School and the District shall negotiate any modifications of the agreement with the goal of such amendment or new agreement being considered by the LAUSD Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition. If Charter School and the District cannot execute an agreement in time for such to be considered by the Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition, the approval of the renewal of the charter petition shall be conditioned upon Charter School and the District executing an amendment to the existing use agreement or a new agreement no later than May 1st or within nine (9) months of the date of the Board of Education's approval of the renewal of the charter petition. During such time period Charter School shall be permitted to remain in occupancy of the District facilities under the terms and conditions of the immediately preceding, executed use agreement; provided, that if Charter School and the District cannot agree upon and execute an amendment or new use agreement by said deadline, Charter School shall vacate the District facilities on or before June 30th of said school year.

Charter School acknowledges and agrees that occupancy and use of District facilities shall be in compliance with applicable laws and District policies for the operation and maintenance of District facilities and furnishings and equipment. Charter School shall comply with all District health, safety, and emergency procedures and requirements and shall be subject to inspection by the District's Facilities Services Division, OEHS, and other District offices in the same manner as other LAUSD campuses. All District facilities (i.e., schools) will remain subject to those laws applicable to public schools.

In the event of an emergency, all District facilities (i.e., schools) are available for use by the American Red Cross and public agencies as emergency locations, which may disrupt or prevent Charter School from conducting its educational programs. If Charter School will share the use of District facilities with other District user groups, Charter School agrees that it will participate in and observe all District safety policies (e.g., emergency chain of information and participation in safety drills).

The use agreements provided by the District for District facilities shall contain terms and conditions addressing issues such as, but not limited to, the following:

- Use: Charter School will be restricted to using the District facilities for the operation of a public school providing educational instruction to public school students consistent with the terms of the Charter and incidental related uses. Separate and apart from its right as authorizer to observe and inspect any part of the charter school at any time pursuant to Education Code 47607(a)(1), the District shall have and reserves the right to inspect District facilities upon reasonable notice to Charter School.

- Furnishings and Equipment: The District shall retain ownership of any furnishings and equipment, including technology, ("F&E") that it provides to Charter School for use. Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, shall provide maintenance and other services for the good and safe operation of the F&E.

- Leasing; Licensing: Use of the District facilities by any person or entity other than Charter School shall be administered by the District. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement in the use agreement.

- Programs, Services, and Activities Outside Instructional Program; Third Party Vendors:

  (i) Any program, service, or activity provided outside the instructional program shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement, and, additionally, may require a license, permit, or additional agreement issued by the District. The term "instructional program" is defined, per Education Code section 47612 and 5 CCR section 11960, as those required educational activities that generate funding based on "average daily attendance" and includes those extracurricular programs, services, and/or activities that students are required to participate in and do not require the payment of any consideration or fee.

  (ii) Any program, service, or activity requiring the payment of any consideration or fee or provided by a third party vendor (defined as any person or entity other than Charter School), whether paid or volunteer and regardless of whether such may be within the instructional program, shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement and such third party vendor shall be required to obtain a license, permit, or additional agreement from the District.

- Minimum Payments or Charges to be Paid to District Arising from the Facilities:

  (i) Pro Rata Share: The District shall collect, and Charter School shall pay a Pro Rata Share for facilities costs as provided in the Charter Schools Act of 1992 and its regulations. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding facilities costs in the use agreement; and

  (ii) Taxes; Assessments: Generally, Charter School shall pay any assessment or fee imposed upon or levied on the LAUSD facilities that it is occupying or Charter School's legal or equitable interest created by the use agreement.

- Maintenance & Operations Services: In the event the District agrees to allow Charter School to perform any of the operation and maintenance services, the District shall have the right to inspect the District facilities, and the costs incurred in such inspection shall be paid by Charter School.

(i) Co-Location: If Charter School is co-locating or sharing the District facilities with another user, the District shall provide the operations and maintenance services for the District facilities and Charter School shall pay the Pro Rata Share. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such in the use agreement.

(ii) Sole Occupant: If Charter School is a sole occupant of District facilities, the District shall allow Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, to provide some operations and maintenance services for the District facilities in accordance with applicable laws and LAUSD's policies on operations and maintenance services for facilities and F&E. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, the District shall provide all services for regulatory inspections which as the owner of the real property it is required to submit, and deferred maintenance, and Charter School shall pay LAUSD for the cost and expense of providing those services. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such services in the use agreement.

- Real Property Insurance: Prior to occupancy, Charter School shall satisfy requirements to participate in LAUSD's property insurance or, if Charter School is the sole occupant of LAUSD facilities, obtain and maintain separate property insurance for the LAUSD facilities. Charter School shall not have the option of obtaining and maintaining separate property insurance for the LAUSD facility IF Charter School is co-locating or sharing the LAUSD facility with another user.

Non-District-Owned Facilities

Occupancy and Use of the Site: Prior to occupancy or use of any school site or facility, Charter School shall provide the CSD with a current Certificate of Occupancy or equivalent document issued by the applicable permitting agency that allows Charter School to use and occupy the site as a charter school. Charter School shall not exceed the operating capacity of the site and shall operate within any limitations or requirements provided by the Certificate of Occupancy and any applicable permit. Charter School may not open or operate without providing a copy of an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD. If Charter School intends to move or expand to another facility during the term of this Charter, Charter School shall adhere to any and all District policies and procedures regarding charter material revision and non-material amendment. Prior to occupancy or use of any such additional or changed school site, Charter School shall provide an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD for such facility. Notwithstanding any language to the contrary in this Charter, the interpretation, application, and enforcement of this provision are not subject to the Dispute Resolution Process outlined in Element 14.

Coverage may be held as a separate policy or included by endorsement in the Commercial General Liability or the Errors and Omissions Policy. Whether this coverage is separately issued or included by endorsement to another policy, such coverage shall be endorsed to name the Los Angeles Unified School District and Its Board of Education as named additional insureds and shall provide specifically that any insurance carried by the District which may be applicable to any claims or loss shall be deemed excess and Charter School's insurance shall be primary despite any conflicting provisions in Charter School's policy.

8. Employment Practices Legal Liability coverage with limits of $5,000,000 per occurrence and $5,000,000 general aggregate.

9. Excess/Umbrella Liability insurance with limits of not less than $10,000,000 is required of all high schools and any other school that participates in competitive interscholastic or intramural sports programs.

Coverages and limits of insurance may be accomplished through individual primary policies or through a combination of primary and excess policies and alternative methods of coverage as approved by the District. Where specifically required above, and with respect to any other coverage for which such endorsements and/or provisions are available, each policy shall be endorsed to name the Los Angeles Unified School District and Its Board of Education as named additional insureds and shall provide specifically that any insurance carried by the District which may be applicable to any claims or loss shall be deemed excess and Charter School's insurance shall be primary despite any conflicting provisions in Charter School's policy.

Evidence of Insurance

Charter School shall furnish to the District's Division of Risk Management and Insurance Services located at 333 S. Beaudry Ave, 28th Floor, Los Angeles CA 90017 at the outset of the Charter agreement and within 30 calendar days of the inception or effective date of any new policies, renewals, or changes, certificates of insurance evidencing such coverage and signed by authorized representatives of the insurance carrier. Certificates shall be endorsed as follows:

> "Charter school shall be required to provide LAUSD with 30 days prior written notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, if the insurance afforded by this policy shall be suspended, cancelled, reduced in coverage limits or non-renewed."

With respect to the coverages for which additional insured status is required as set forth above, the certificate(s) of insurance shall reflect Los Angeles Unified School District's and Its Board of Education's status as named additional insureds thereunder, and shall attach a copy of the endorsement(s) extending such coverage.

Facsimile or reproduced signatures may be acceptable upon review by the Division of Risk Management and Insurance Services. However, the District reserves the right to require certified copies of any required insurance policies.

Should Charter School deem it prudent and/or desirable to have insurance coverage for damage or theft to Charter School, employee or student property, for student accident, or any other type of insurance coverage not listed above, such insurance shall not be provided by the District and its purchase shall be the responsibility of Charter School.

Hold Harmless/Indemnification Provision

To the fullest extent permitted by law, Charter School does hereby agree, at its own expense, to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the LAUSD and the Board of Education and their members, officers, directors, agents, representatives, employees and volunteers from and against any and all claims, damages, losses and expenses including but not limited to attorneys' fees, brought by any person or entity whatsoever, arising out of, or relating to, this Charter agreement. Charter School further agrees to the fullest extent permitted by law, at its own expense, to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the LAUSD and the Board of Education and their members, officers, directors, agents, representatives, employees and volunteers from and against any and all claims, damages, losses and expenses including but not limited to attorneys' fees, brought by any person or entity whatsoever for claims, damages, losses and expenses arising from or relating to acts or omission of acts committed by Charter School and/or its officers, directors, employees or volunteers. Moreover, Charter School agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the LAUSD and the Board of Education and their members, officers, directors, agents, representatives, employees and volunteers, for any contractual liability resulting from third party contracts with Charter School's vendors, contractors, partners or sponsors.

FISCAL MATTERS

District Oversight Costs

The District may charge for the actual costs of oversight of Charter School not to exceed 1% of Charter School's revenue, or the District may charge for the actual costs of oversight of Charter School not to exceed 3% if Charter School is able to obtain substantially rent free facilities from the District. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the District may charge the maximum oversight fee allowed under the law as it may change from time to time. The oversight fee provided herein is separate and distinct from the charges arising under charter school facilities use agreements.

Cash Reserves

Charter School acknowledges that the recommended cash reserve is 5% of expenditures, as provided in section 15450, title 5 of the California Code of Regulations.

Third Party Contracts

Charter School shall ensure that all third party contracts, whether oral or written, for supplies, equipment, goods and/or services, for the direct or indirect benefit of, or otherwise related to the operation of, Charter School, require compliance with and otherwise conform to all applicable local, state, and federal policies, regulations, laws, and guidelines, including but not limited to licensing and permit requirements as well as requirements related to protection of health and safety.

Special Education Revenue Adjustment/Payment for Services

In the event that Charter School owes funds to the District for the provision of agreed upon or fee for service or special education services or as a result of the State's adjustment to allocation of special education revenues from Charter School, Charter School authorizes the District to deduct any and all of the in lieu property taxes that Charter School otherwise would be eligible to receive under section 47635 of the Education Code to cover such owed amounts. Charter School further understands and agrees that the District shall make appropriate deductions from the in lieu property tax amounts otherwise owed to Charter School. Should this revenue stream be insufficient in any fiscal year to cover any such costs, Charter School agrees that it will reimburse the District for the additional costs within forty-five (45) business days of being notified of the amounts owed.

Student Body Funds

Charter School shall supervise and manage any and all student body funds in a manner consistent with the provisions of Education Code sections 48930-48938. Charter School shall include and address student body funds in its financial reports, and ensure that such funds are included and addressed in Charter School's annual audit as a stand-alone item.

Audit and Inspection of Records

Charter School agrees to observe and abide by the following terms and conditions as a requirement for receiving and maintaining its charter authorization:

- Charter School is subject to District oversight.
- The District's statutory oversight responsibility continues throughout the life of the Charter and requires that the District, among other things, monitors the fiscal condition of Charter School.
- The District is authorized to revoke this Charter for, among other reasons, the failure of Charter School to meet generally accepted accounting principles or if Charter School engages in fiscal mismanagement.

Accordingly, the District hereby reserves the right, pursuant to its oversight responsibility, to audit Charter School books, records, data, processes and procedures through the District Office of the Inspector General or other means. The audit may include, but is not limited to, the following areas:

Charter School shall cooperate fully with such audits and shall make available any and all records necessary for the performance of the audit upon 30 days' notice to Charter School. When 30 days' notice may defeat the purpose of the audit, the District may conduct the audit upon 24-hours' notice.

Fiscal Policies and Procedures

Charter School shall establish, maintain, and implement sound fiscal policies and procedures, including but not limited to internal controls governing all financial and business-related activities.

Apportionment Eligibility for Students Over 19 Years of Age

- Not discriminate against any pupil on the basis of disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, nationality, race or ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, or any other characteristic that is contained in the definition of hate crimes set forth in section 422.55 of the Penal Code, including immigration status. (Ed. Code § 47605(e)(1); Ed. Code § 220.)
- Except as provided in Education Code section 47605(e)(2), admission to a charter school shall not be determined according to the place of residence of the pupil, or of his or her parent or legal guardian, within this state, except that an existing public school converting partially or entirely to a charter school under this part shall adopt and maintain a policy giving admission preference to pupils who reside within the former attendance area of that school. On an annual basis, upon request, Charter School shall submit a certification to the LAUSD Charter Schools Division (CSD) that certifies that Charter School has adopted and is implementing either the LAUSD Master Plan for English Learners and Standard Engish Learners or Charter School's own English Learner (EL) Master Plan. If Charter School chooses to implement its own EL Master Plan, the plan shall provide a detailed description of Charter School's EL program, and shall address the following:

- How Charter School's EL Master Plan provides all of its English Learners, including but not limited to Long Term English Learners (LTELs) with an effective English language acquisition program as well as meaningful and equitable access to Charter School's core academic curriculum
- How English Learners' specific needs will be identified
- What services will be offered
- How, where, and by whom the services will be provided
- How Charter School will evaluate its EL program each year, and how the results of this evaluation will be used to improve the program, including the provision of EL services

Each year, Charter School shall provide to the CSD a report on its annual evaluation of the effectiveness of its EL program. Upon request, Charter School shall provide a copy of its current EL Master Plan to the CSD.

Charter School shall administer the CELDT/ELPAC annually in accordance with federal and state requirements.

Charter School shall reclassify English Learners in accordance with federal and state requirements.

Charter School shall provide parent outreach services and meaningfully inform parents with limited English proficiency of important information regarding Charter School matters to the same extent as other parents.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Federal Law Compliance

Charter School shall adhere to all provisions of federal law related to students with disabilities including, but not limited to, section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004.

Special Education Program

Charter School shall ensure that no student otherwise eligible to enroll in Charter School shall be denied, directly or indirectly, admission due to a disability or to Charter School's inability to provide necessary services. Charter School acknowledges that policies and procedures are in place to ensure the recruitment, enrollment, service, and retention of students with disabilities at LAUSD-authorized charter schools, including Charter School.

Prior to LAUSD Board of Education approval of an initial Charter petition, and if a renewing Charter School intends to operate as a "school of the district" for special education services, Charter School shall execute a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") by and between LAUSD and Charter School regarding the provision and funding of special education services consistent with applicable state law and the LAUSD Special Education Local Plan Area ("SELPA") Local Plan for Special Education and shall be considered a "public school of the District" for purposes of Special Education pursuant to Education Code section 47641(b). However, Charter School reserves the right to make written verifiable assurances that it may become an independent local educational agency (LEA) and join a SELPA pursuant to Education Code section 47641(a) either on its own or with a grouping of charter school LEAs as a consortium following the requirements of Education Code section 56195.3(b). In this instance, Charter School will execute a MOU with LAUSD on provisions of special education as a member of a non-LAUSD SELPA.

SELPA Reorganization

The Los Angeles Unified School District is approved to operate as a single-District SELPA under the provisions of Education Code section 56195.1(a). As a single-District SELPA, the District has created two charter school sections (District-operated Programs and Charter-operated Programs) under the administration of one single Administrative Unit pursuant to a reorganization plan approved by the Board of Education on January 4, 2011 (149/10-11). Full implementation of the reorganized LAUSD SELPA commenced in the 2013-2014 school year requiring all District-authorized charter schools to elect one of the three options available under the LAUSD SELPA. Prior to an option election, all District-authorized charter schools were required to participate as a school of the District under the District-Operated Programs Unit. Prior to the beginning of the 2013-2014 school year, all District-authorized charter schools, other than those that had previously executed an Option 3 Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU"), were required to execute a new MOU setting forth the LAUSD SELPA option election for the remainder of the charter petition term. The Charter-operated Program schools do not have LEA status for the purposes of special education but will function in a similar role in that each charter school will be responsible for all special education requirements, including but not limited to services, placement, due process, related services, special education classes, and special education supports. Charter schools that have elected to participate in a District-operated programs option may apply for membership in the Charter-operated Program section of the SELPA. Charter schools accepted for participation in the Charter-operated Programs section receive support from a Special Education Director for the Charter-operated Programs.

Use of District's Special EducationPolicies and Procedures and Data Systems

All charter schools approved by the LAUSD Board of Education are bound by and must adhere to the terms, conditions and requirements of orders imposed upon the District pertaining to special education. All charter schools are required to use the District's Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual and Welligent, the District-wide web-based software system used for online Individualized Education Programs ("IEPs") and tracking of related services provided to students during the course of their education.
All charter schools are required to interface with My Integrated Student Information System (MiSiS) via a web based Application Programming Interface (API). MiSiS is a suite of applications which is designed to capture all student data.

1.2: Community Need for Charter School

Rise Kohyang High School (RKHS) is a Bright Star school, predominantly serve students living in the Koreatown region of Los Angeles, California. Bright Star Schools operates on the cluster model, with Rise Kohyang Elementary School serving transitional kindergarten (TK) through fifth grade, Rise Kohyang Middle School serving 6th - 8th grade, and Rise Kohyang High School serving 9th - 12th grades. Thus, students will have the option of a full TK-12th grade experience of high-quality education in Koreatown.

Koreatown is a dynamic neighborhood, filled with art, history and a diverse community. This rich diversity brings a set of challenges, which we are prepared to work in partnership with our community.

The chart below indicates the average income in Koreatown is $30,558, with 32.6% of households in their community making less than $20,000. Additionally, 68% of Koreatown residents are foreign born and 79.6% of residents older than age 25 have not attended institutions of higher education.

Studies continually indicate that students living in households at or below the poverty line are at a greater risk of academic failure than their peers who live in households above the poverty line, as noted in Eric Jensen's Teaching with Poverty in Mind. High school is the period of time in a child's life critical to social, emotional and academic development necessary to prepare capable and confident students relentlessly pursuing higher education. In turn, Bright Star Schools is committed to increasing access to resources and opportunities for our students.

To achieve this, RKHS will provide a rigorous academic program, tools for good decision-making and a culture of accountability, scaffolding and creativity. The program is designed to address the following:

1. To create a small school community with a focus on college prep and character education to address the unique challenges in the local community.
2. To create a successful and contiguous TK -12 programmatic option for students and families in this community
3. To partner with the LAUSD schools in our local community to raise our collective educational excellence, especially relative to high school graduation rates as well as familiarity & access to the college application, acceptance and matriculation processes.

RKHS believes it is the job of middle school to ensure when students are promoted from 8th grade, they are able to confidently complete the A-G requirements in high school, as necessary for college acceptance.

To achieve this, RKHS has built the educational program to focus on strong literacy and numeracy skills, as well as social-emotional preparation, development of identity, building confidence, empathy and leadership values. Rise Kohyang High School was founded in 2016 to help complete the vision of creating a TK-12 option for families in our Koreatown corridor.RKHS scholars will become lifelong learners who are empathetic self-advocates, who celebrate diversity, and are empowered to succeed in college and life.

Part of the innovation in our program is our systematic approach to Social Emotional Learning which was born from our partnership with 21st Century Thinking. Social Emotional Learning is embedded in our entire program including advisory, academics, and school culture. Self-regulation and coping strategies are emphasized through the curriculum and supported by our social emotional counseling program. The school is restorative in nature, focusing on positive behavioral management and mindfulness. The social emotional focus empowers our school to provide a rigorous academic program which includes AP course offerings from 9th grade with a 70% pass rate on the AP exam.

Our school also offers a full CIF Sports program which feeds into the overall culture of the school, and students have created a plethora of culturally relevant extracurricular clubs. They include over nine CIF sports for both male and females like Volleyball, Cross Country, Wrestling, Basketball, Soccer, Softball, Baseball, Swimming, Tennis, and Golf. Extracurricular activities are based on student interest and currently include Culinary Club, GSA, B2CM Mental Health, Videogame, Pre-Medical Society, Junior Statement Association, Anime/Art, Latin Dance, Black Student Union, Korean Culture, French Club, Associated Students, and many more.

All Bright Star schools will also support the foundational skill building of our students with outreach and education to families so that the support of students extends to the home environment, no matter what that looks like for each student. All Bright Star schools will work to develop the socio-emotional and coping skills to overcome the many life challenges they may face on their path to accessing higher education.

1.2b: Innovative Features of the Educational Program

Bright Star Schools have several innovative features incorporated throughout our programming, but there are three distinct programs that differentiate our approach from other local schools in order to reach the whole child. The following innovative features are incorporated at all Bright Star Schools (BSS), and already have demonstrated an impact on the educational program of RKHS:

- The Connections Program and Family Services
- Restorative Justice Programs
- Life Experience Lessons (LELs)

1. The Connections Program and Family Services: The Connections Program is our most comprehensive program created to meet the academic, social and emotional needs of our mainly low-income and minority students and their families. The program consists of three strategic initiatives:

    - Student Services
    - Family Services
    - Alumni Support

Bright Star Schools designed the Connections Program so every student has an ally on staff. Bright Star Schools counselors' primary purpose is to help their students prepare for and graduate from high school, be prepared to succeed in a four-year college or university and/or equipped with a viable post-secondary career plan. At RKHS, we have a cohort of Counselors who provide support and facilitate communication among students and their teachers, administrators, parents, coaches, and prospective colleges. Upon enrollment each student is assigned to a Counselor who will work closely with the student and family to inform them of the expectations and policies of the program, make them feel welcomed and assist in a successful transition to Bright Star's learning environment. The Connections Program focuses on three key components:

1. Family Services: At Bright Star we recognize that the families in our community may need additional support and education to help their students become successful learners. Parent education, parent volunteer opportunities, and parent engagement resources are provided by our Counselors to ensure that each family is provided with the resources and opportunities they need to be successful at our schools.
2. Student Services: The primary role of each Counselor is to ensure that each student receives academic counseling and support, college counseling and the social services necessary to assist them while at Bright Star Schools and beyond.
3. Alumni Support: In addition to school culture, Counselors have a strong impact on college acceptance rate, as well as college persistence rate. Through the Alumni Support and College Success program, Counselors work directly with students and families to help them select the college that is likely to be the best fit for them, including for their personality, economic needs and career goals. Additionally, we have used historical persistence data gathered directly from alumni to inform and drive our strategic initiatives. For example, when Counselors asked students why they left their university before completion, they found it was largely due to financial concerns. With this data, Bright Star Schools created an initiative that promotes Counselors to work directly with students and families prior to entering college to prepare them for the likelihood of experiencing said-challenge. Counselors will help students and families create contingency plans, so they are prepared to meet potential financial challenges and are less likely to drop out due to financial reasons.

In addition, The Connections Program provides every BSS student with individual guidance counseling, academic support, and social service referrals from their personal advocate, a fully PPS (Pupil Personnel Services) credentialed School Counselor. The section below will detail the impact both the counselors and the family services have on our student population.

Program Impact: Our parent satisfaction data is highly positive, with 98% of our parents positively rating the school and overall education their children receive. We believe that it is also necessary to educate the majority of our parents about America's higher education system so they can effectively plan for their student's future. We also see it as our responsibility to assist our families' in navigating their child's educational program to be able to successfully advocate for their child and families, to ensure successful outcomes for their child. RKHS values their trust in ensuring we provide quality education and supplementary services to ensure their child succeeds.

Additionally, RKHS is proud to have graduated its founding class in the 2019-2020 school year at a rate of 97.8%, which is above the LAUSD rate of 78% for 2019.

RKHS Grad rate
2019-20 (Graduated in June 2020)	98%

While there is no persistence data for this graduating class yet, RKHS looks forward to continuing to work alongside these students to navigate their post-secondary plans with support through the Alumni Support and College Success Team.

1. Restorative Justice Programs: Bright Star has implemented an ongoing effort to enact meaningful forms of correction and restorative practices on the campus. All Counselors and Deans have received extensive training in leading restorative justice circles and both routinely implement in their ongoing work with students.

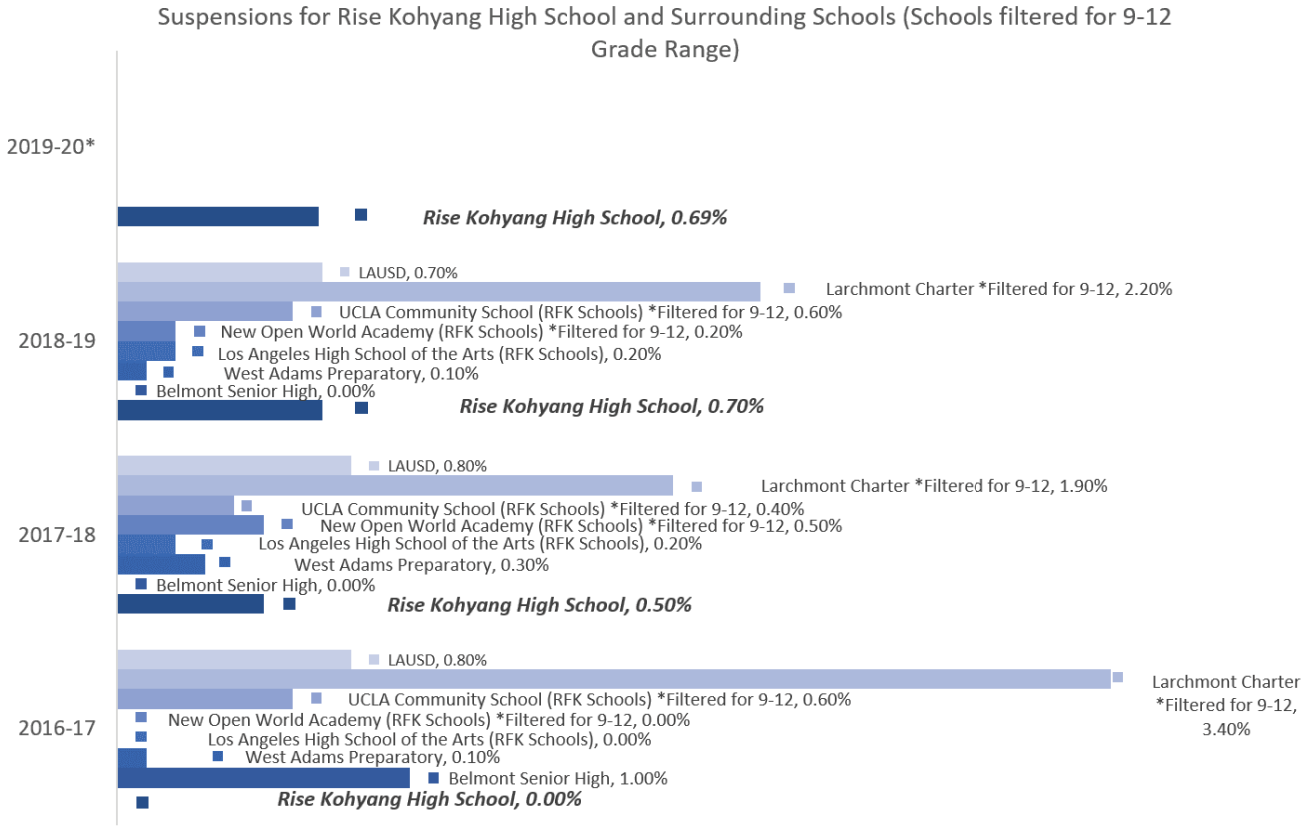
Training on restorative practices are offered to staff members through a variety of workshops on and off site. These trainings focus on the theory and practice of restorative justice in schools. When applicable, we utilize the services of Circle Ways to facilitate harm circles or restorative conferences with involved students, parents, staff and/or community members.

Other means of correction commonly used are:

- Opportunities for students to reflect on their behavior, including perceived or actual consequences for themselves and others
- Logical consequences that relate to the misbehavior
- When needed, formal restorative conferences with students and parents and other key stakeholders including administration, teachers, and counselors are facilitated by trained professionals
- Provision of any number of resources or referrals to community-based organizations offering youth programs or supports
- Opportunities for school-based counseling through our partnerships with Didi Hirsch Mental Health Services and the Phoenix House
- Push-in support services from campus support staff

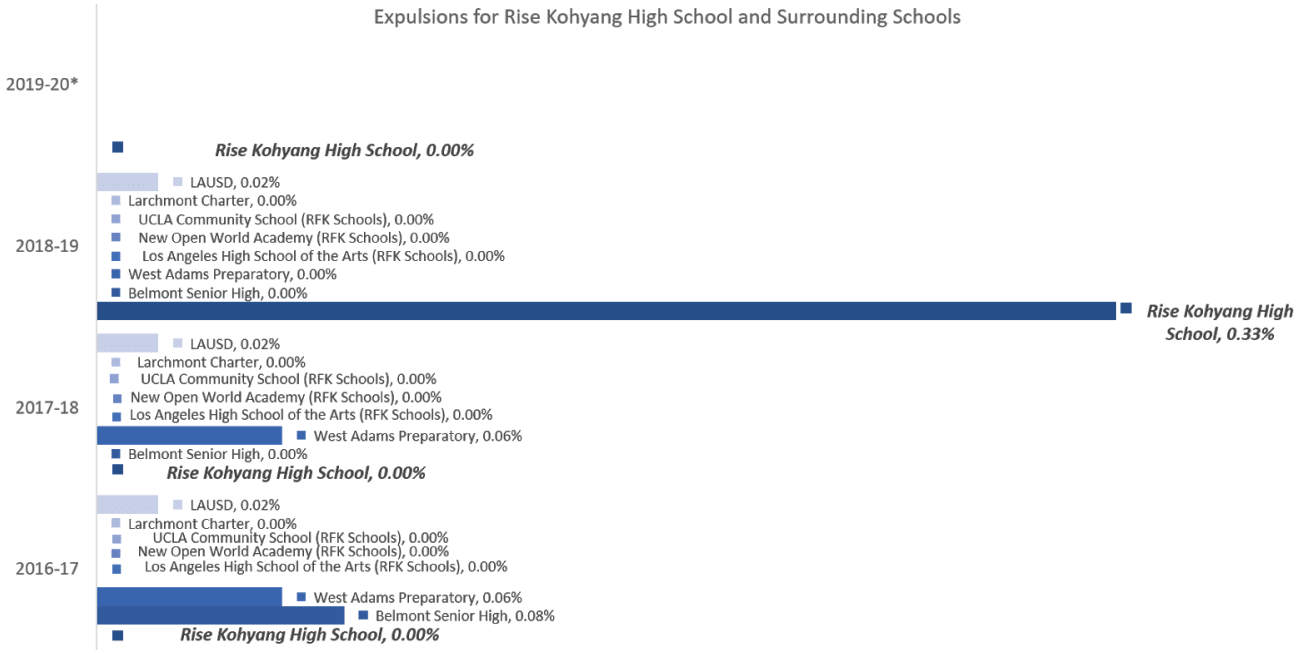
Listed below are the suspension and expulsion rates for RKHS over the last five years, compared to other local schools.

CHART: COMPARATIVE SUSPENSION RATES OVER THE LAST FIVE YEARS[2]



[2] Source: California Department of Education

CHART 1.5: COMPARATIVE EXPULSION RATES OVER THE LAST FIVE YEARS[3]



In reviewing these charts, it is important to note that prior to 2019-20, the suspension rates were lower than, or at par with local suspension rates. With 2019 being a unique year due to COVID closures on campus, it is difficult to properly assess how the year compares to previous years and to other schools.

Additionally, RKHS places great emphasis on building a school culture based on community, relationships and creating a level of consistency that helps to avoid the majority of discipline concerns, while also valuing the involvement of all stakeholders. We have done this through the implementation of several programs and initiatives, including:

- Mindful Reflection: Instead of simply punishing students for mistakes through a process like detention, we instead have adopted what we call Mindful Reflection- a place where students meet in small groups with an instructor to discuss the meaning behind their actions, set goals, monitor their own progress, and learning how to manage their behaviors through the use of mindfulness meditation.
- Relationship-Based Culture: All teachers and staff use numerous strategies to build healthy, collaborative relationships with students and their families.
- Family Engagement: Providing opportunities to interact with and learn from our school staff through on-site classes, technology support, workshops, additional support for parents of students with special needs, and numerous volunteer opportunities.
- Mentoring: Creating the opportunity for every student to have a student mentor in the grade level ahead of them. This has fostered a community of support and encouragement that provides students with a sense of belonging. Additionally, all students have an adult mentor who supports them through as they learn to have greater autonomy over their learning.
- Culture Walks: Continually monitoring the health of the school culture to ensure that expectations are being met by teachers and students. Culture Walks are conducted by Admin and teachers to ensure that everyone has a clear understanding of where the school needs, and where to increase our support.
- Culturally Relevant Student Activities: Through the use of ceremonies, student recognition programs, assemblies, field days, and celebrations for important events like Women's History Month, Latinx Heritage Month, and Black History Month. We engage students in fun and exciting events that also lead them to making better and more inclusive decisions.

1. Life Experience Lessons (LEL): Life Experience Lessons (LELs) have been a hallmark of Bright Star's program since we were founded. We believe students must be offered opportunities to enhance their education with real-life experiences if they are going to succeed in life outside the classroom. Each year, a majority of RKHS students participate in LELs. These trips are mostly paid for by Bright Star Schools. Parents are asked for a small donation as a way to ensure commitment, but it is important to note that no eligible child is ever turned away for not contributing to the donation. It is our goal that every student will have attended at least one LEL by the end of their time at RKHS.

Students are selected to attend the LELs through an application process, which includes a personal statement as to why the student believes he or she will benefit from the experience. The chart shows recent and upcoming LELs.

Successes and Challenges of RKHS's Educational Program

The following paragraphs will detail the school's strengths and areas for growth with a focus on the school's academic outcomes. The school has only one year of data and is therefore in the middle track according to the State's new renewal criteria as it does not have two years' worth of data on the California Dashboard.

While the majority of the narrative addresses academic outcomes we know that a school's ability to build a strong school culture and engage parents is critical to creating an effective educational program. Therefore, in addition to discussing the successes and challenges of student's academic outcomes the school will also discuss non-academic areas as well.

1.2c: Success of RKHS's Educational Program

RKHS has a diverse student body, with students from all over the world and having a range of life experiences. The most common primary language spoken by RKHS families is Spanish and Korean. As noted in Chart 1.7 below the vast majority of RKHS, students qualify for free and reduced lunch and are considered to be socio-economically disadvantaged. The upcoming section (section 1.3a: Student Population to be Served) details specific demographic breakdowns.

Regardless of the challenges our students face, all student populations are performing at high levels relative to their peers at surrounding schools.

In the table below, we share the CAASPP results school- wide and for significant student populations. Both performance metrics indicate that all groups are performing at high levels, especially when compared with surrounding schools.

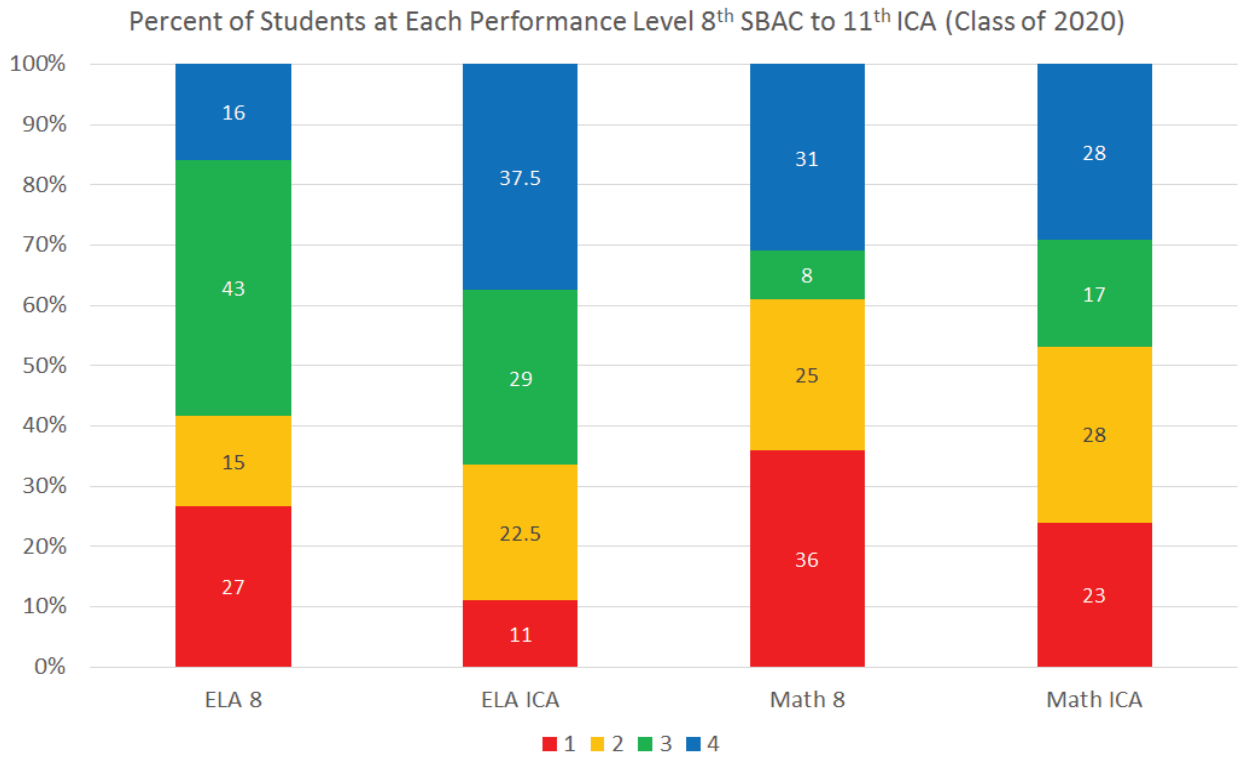
RKHS has measured internal growth from grade-level proficiency in 8th grade, to approximate 11th grade-level proficiency using the CAASPP created Internal Comprehensive Assessments in both Math and ELA for our 11th grade cohort. Eleventh graders took these assessments this Fall, and the chart below indicates the results:

CHART: THE PERFORMANCE LEVEL DISTRIBUTIONS FOR RKHS'"S 11TH GRADE COHORT, FROM 8TH GRADE SPRING TO 11TH GRADE FALL (SBAC 8 TO ICA 11) IN BOTH ELA AND

MATH.



The chart above reflects significant improvement in both the overall percent proficiency in both subjects, as well as a precipitous decline in the percent of students in the lowest performance band. The 11th grade ICA indicates that 66.5% of students are performing proficiently in ELA, compared to 59% proficient on their 8th grade SBAC; in Math, 45% of students are now performing proficiently, a net 7% increase from 8th grade (39%). In addition to this, one of our biggest areas of success is reflected in the dramatic decline of students in the lowest performance levels in both subjects. In ELA, there is a startling 56% change in the lowest performance level, with only 11% of students in this band compared to 27% in 8th grade. Similarly, in Math more than one third of students in the lowest performance level have improved an entire performance band (36% to 23%). We also recognize that the highest performance band level in ELA has more than doubled since students assessed in 8th grade. These growth indicators are seen across the board, at all performance levels and in both subjects. These improvements are now our expectations for desired growth on Spring SBAC assessments.

Our school is uniquely situated to measure performance of subgroups not just compared to the county/state at large, but internally. Our two main ethnographic subgroups are Latinx and Asian, the latter of which is predominantly of Korean heritage. We also have significant/measurable populations of students with IEPs and English Language learners, as well as socio-economically disadvantaged students (which is almost our entire student population). Because of this advantage, we are able to measure our progress on our own internal achievement gap data from enrollment to current. Below are two charts of SBAC 8 data compared to ICA 11, broken down by our two primary ethnicity groups; the first represents ELA growth and the second chart reflects Math growth.

CHART: THE PERFORMANCE LEVEL DISTRIBUTIONS FOR RKHS"S 11TH GRADE COHORT, FROM 8TH GRADE SPRING TO 11TH GRADE FALL (SBAC 8 TO ICA 11) IN ELA, BROKEN DOWN BY THE TWO MEASURABLE ETHNOGRAPHIC SUBGROUPS.

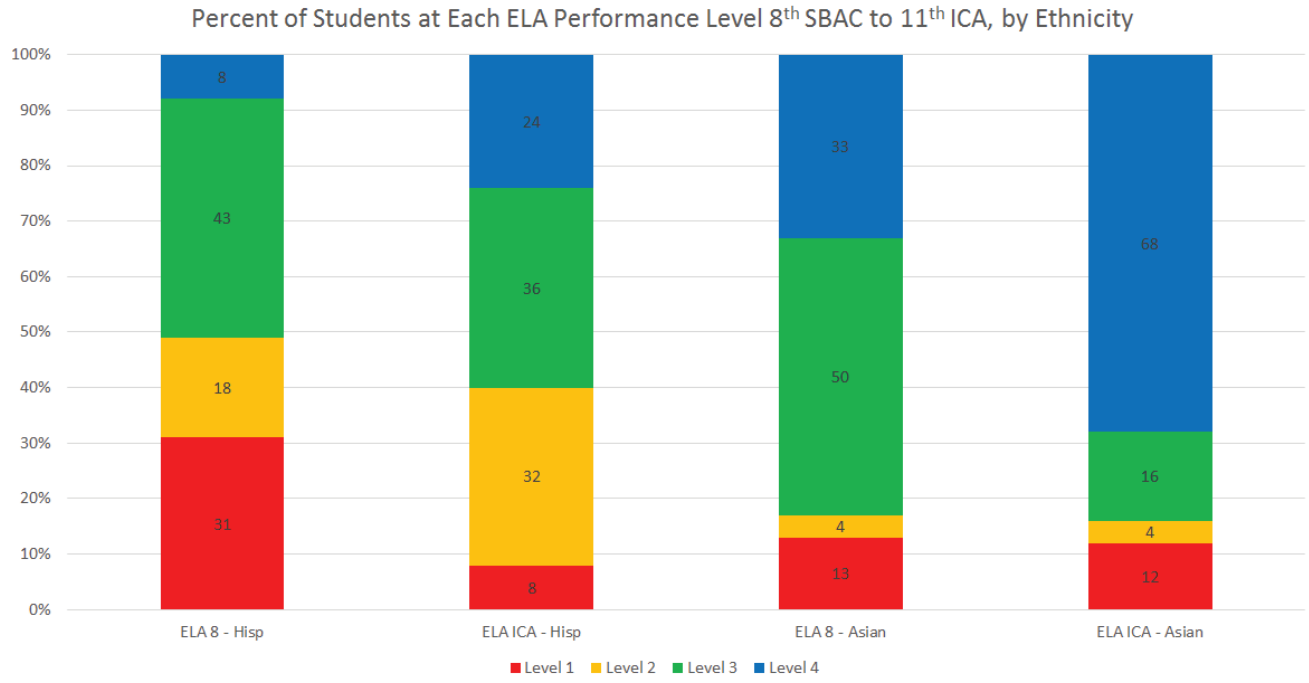


Chart. The performance level distributions for RKHS's 11th grade cohort, from 8th grade Spring to 11th grade Fall (SBAC 8 to ICA 11) in Math, broken down by the two measurable ethnographic subgroups.

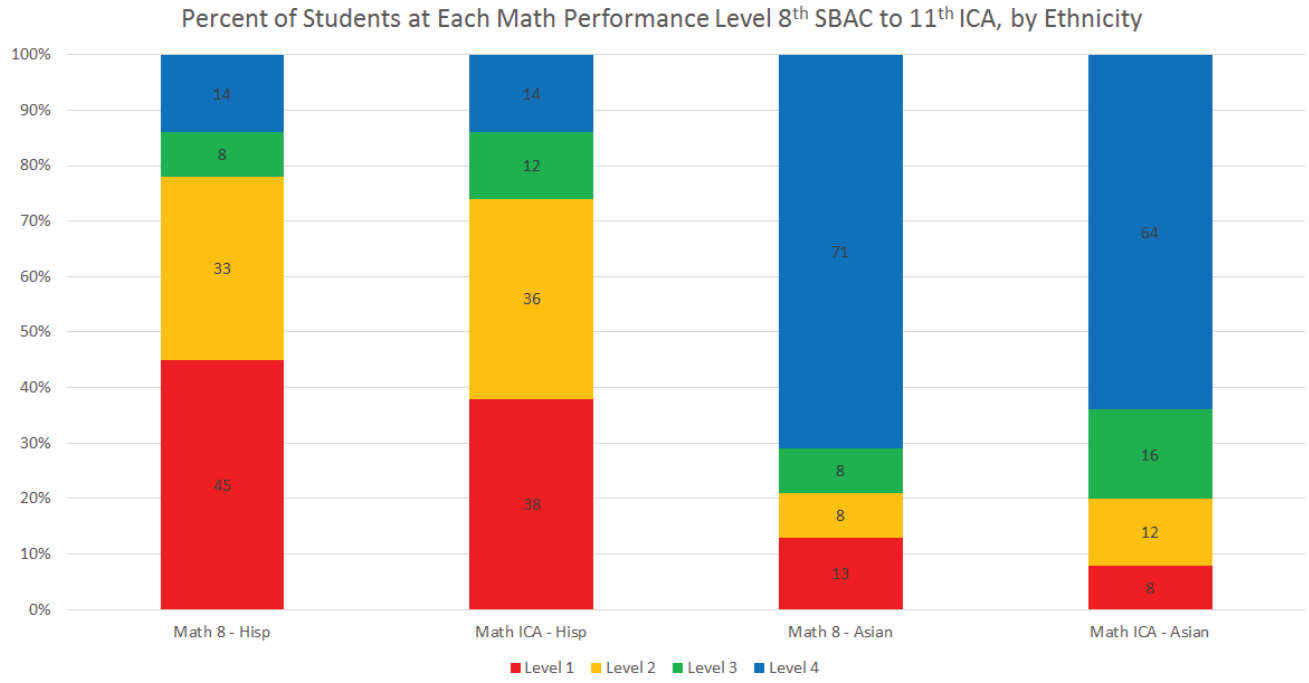

In both subjects, the 8th grade SBAC data indicates large gaps in overall achievement between the preparation received by these two subgroups prior to enrollment at our school. It is astounding to see these gaps of educational access persist at this level across in our own community; it does, however, make our charge to reduce the achievement gap that much more imperative.

In ELA, we can see significant progress in this regard. The achievement gap on the ICA relative to the SBAC 8 has improved by 25%, from a 32% gap in 8th grade to 24% in 11th. Additionally, in the lowest performance level for Latinx students there is a remarkable 74% improvement in the number of students assessed at this level, approximately matching the percentage of students at this level in the Asian subgroup (8% and 12% respectively). In Math, a modest 4% net change in proficiency is reflected, however a large gap remains in overall proficiency between these two subgroups. The lowest performance band decreased similarly across both subgroups, with a 16% improvement (net 7% decline) for Latinx students and a net 5% decline for Asian students for an overall lowest performance level at 8%.

Assessing proficiency of other subgroup populations, like English Learners and students with IEPs, continues to be a challenge with these types of assessments. We did observe an almost tripling in the proficiency rate of students with IEPs in ELA from 8th to 11th, however the rates for Math, as well as the proficiency in both subjects for English Learners remains quite low. However, student success for these student populations is highly dependent on implementation of individualized supports, for which standardized assessments are poor mediums. We believe a better indication of performance for these two subgroups is their On-Target percentage, meaning the percentage of students who are on track to meet their A-G / graduation requirements within four years. Our school's OT percentages indicate that EL's and students with IEPs are by and large successful in their A-G courses with the proper instructional supports in place; seventy-nine percent of students with IEPs and 83% of English Learners are on track for A-G completion and on-time graduation, compared with 93% of RKHS students. This reflects a much higher level of readiness across the board and a responsiveness to the high level of individualized support students receive in our academic program.

In the following section we will dig a deeper into how RKHS's educational program has supported students in EL reclassification and ELPAC passage rate. Each of these rates has been compared to the surrounding schools our students would have otherwise attended.

1.2d: Areas of Challenge Experienced and How RKHS has improved and/or Will Improve

There are three main areas of challenge RKHS has experienced in the last five years: English Language Development, Support for Students Within Subgroups, and Improving Math Scores. See below for information on how RKHS plans to improve, as well as anticipated areas of developing for the next five years.

1. English Language Development: Throughout the years, RKHS has experienced success in meeting the academic needs of our students, as evidenced in their performance on the CAASPP state exam. In 2018-19, 72% of RKHS students Met and Exceeded the performance standards in English Language Arts, which was higher than the Resident Schools Median of 26.75%. Additionally, 39% of RKHS's students Met and Exceeded the performance standards in Math, which was also higher than the Resident Schools Median of 16.33%.

   However, the data also showed opportunities for growth in the statistics for our English Language Learners. With respect to FEP reclassification, RKHS has experienced an influx of international students over the last three who are coming in at a proficiency level of 1. Although their language skills are steadily improving as evidenced by their performance in A-G courses and cohort on-target graduation data, the school still strives to accelerate the rate at which our students attain fluency skills. Additionally, our population of Long Term English Language Learners is 8.27%, which is higher than the district average of 6.2%%.

   Below we include the comparative data for Students who are Redesignated Fluent English Proficient (RFEP).

Students Redesignated FEP
	RKHS	LAUSD
2016-2017	0.0%	16.8 %
2017-2018	15.4 %	20.1 %
2018-2019	21.4 %	22.8 %
2019-2020	11.8 %	15.8 %

This data has led to RKHS placing an increased focus on our students with English Language Development needs. With our English Language Development Coordinator, we have created a plan to integrate support for all teachers in fully implementing SDAIE ("Specially designed academic instruction in English") in instruction of all students, including those with needs in English Language Development. Our English Language Development Coordinator, along with her ELD Instructional Assistant, will observe teachers daily, providing feedback on SDAIE integrated strategy implementation, as well as supporting students in the classroom. Additionally, we offer designated support for these students during our True Targeted Intervention (TTI) tutoring block in what is called the ELD Resource Lab. During this time, our ELD coordinator will meet with targeted groups to support in their efforts for reclassification.

2. Supports for Students Within Subgroups: After seeing a decline in performance for students with special needs in both Math and ELA, we have made several additions to the program to allow Resource and General Education teachers more opportunities to provide support to these students. Student benchmark and all assessment data is reviewed by teachers, administrators and counseling staff members on a consistent basis. We have designed supports specifically for our students that are at-risk of not meeting grade level standards mastery, and our other subgroups, including students with special needs. At RKHS, we have the following programs to address intervention, enrichment, and struggling/at-risk students:
    1. English Language Program: Identification, Assessment, and Placement:
        A. RKHS's English Language Master Plan includes a five step process for the identification of English Learners including: 1) Initial Identification, 2) EL Proficiency Assessment, 3) Primary Language Assessment, 4) Parent Notification, and 5) Program Placement. Bright Star provides ongoing training for administrators and teachers on the identification process.
    2. Instructional Program
        A. EL students are served through a variety of programs designed to meet their needs. These include ELD Programs (Levels 1- 4), Structured English Immersion and English Language Mainstream. These programs are built into the individual school's master schedule and take place within the school day. RKHS works with the Human Resources Department to ensure appropriate staffing and authorizations for teachers in these courses.
        B. Bright Star School and RKHS offer professional development throughout the school year to ensure teachers can effectively deliver EL/ELD instruction and provide support that meets the needs of all EL students.
            I. ELD Program- scripted curriculum- specific curriculum to promote second language acquisition of listening, speaking, reading, and writing. It has four distinct components: Distinct time from ELA, explicit daily oral language opportunities, explicit instruction in grammar and language functions, vocab development and reading comprehension
            II. English Language Development Class-students are in classes with our EO students and fluent English proficient students- students receive SDAIE until they reclassify.
                1. Program includes- differentiated instruction to prepare for reclassification or recoup from academic deficits
    3. Monitoring of Progress and reclassification

A. EL programs are monitored on an annual basis. The English Language Development (ELD) program at Rise Kohyang High School (RKHS) is fully-aligned with the California English Language Development Standards (Kindergarten through Grade 12). Students who are ELD level 1 and 2, as well as higher level students who are still level 1 and 2 in the reading component of the CELDT/ELPAC, receive an hour of specialized instruction per week during the Wednesday tutoring block in addition to daily period 4 support from the ELD Coordinator as indicated in our master schedule. These segments include language acquisition programs like Rosetta Stone as well as 1:1 language instruction support. In addition, we meet the needs of our English Learner population via Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE) across all content areas to foster their English Language Proficiency like KWL charts, choral reading, collaborative dialog, and graphic organizers.

EL Students' language development progress is frequently monitored through the tracking and evaluation of CELDT/ELPAC scores, common benchmark assessment (ACT Aspire), the Scholastic Reading Inventory (SRI), and listening and speaking activities/projects throughout all content areas. Teachers use this data to inform future language lessons and to form small group or partnerships for differentiated instruction.The academic progress for this subgroup is also monitored weekly through our on-track report, which measures the overall percentage of EL students who are on-track and compares it to the school as a whole (as well as to other subgroups). An example of this comparison is below:

A-G On Track	Week 1	Week 2	Week 3	Week 4
All RKHS	38.0%	70.7%	80.4%	90.7%
Not IEP or EL	40.8%	72.8%	84.7%	95.1%
IEP	33.0%	65.0%	66.7%	72.2%
EL	25.9%	57.9%	66.7%	81.5%
Asian w/o IEP	42.2%	74.2%	89.2%	94.5%
Latinx w/o IEP	42.0%	74.0%	76.6%	93.5%

Students who pass the yearly language monitoring assessment (CELDT/ELPAC) are then assessed with the Scholastic Reading Inventory (SRI). Students who meet the grade level for reading comprehension are then eligible for reclassification. This can also be demonstrated through meeting or exceeding standard on ELA SBAC.The detailed description of this process is written in our EL Master Plan.The RKHS team (including EL teachers, the English Department and administrators) reviews the data from internal and norm referenced assessments. The data from these assessments are used for student placement in EL programs, the determination of which programs are needed each school year, and reclassification. The data is used to make recommendations to the RKHS English Language Advisory Committee (ELAC) and School Site Council (SSC) for programmatic and budgetary decisions.

Other Supports for Subgroups Include:

- Instructional Aides (IAs): RKHS utilizes up to 5 instructional aids that help with push-in and pull-out services. The instructional aides also provide small group testing accommodations.
- Inclusion Specialists (ISTs): The Inclusion Teachers provide push-in and pullout supports for students. ISTs help teach the resource lab classes, these teachers re- teach and pre-teach concepts for struggling students in small groups of up to 10 students.
- True Targeted Intervention:

- Tutoring: We host embedded tutoring for students struggling in all academic classes: History, Science, ELA, Mathematics, World Languages, and Electives. We also offer additional support during this time for students with IEPs, and students needing additional ELD supports. In order to monitor student growth, we incorporate several metrics, including:
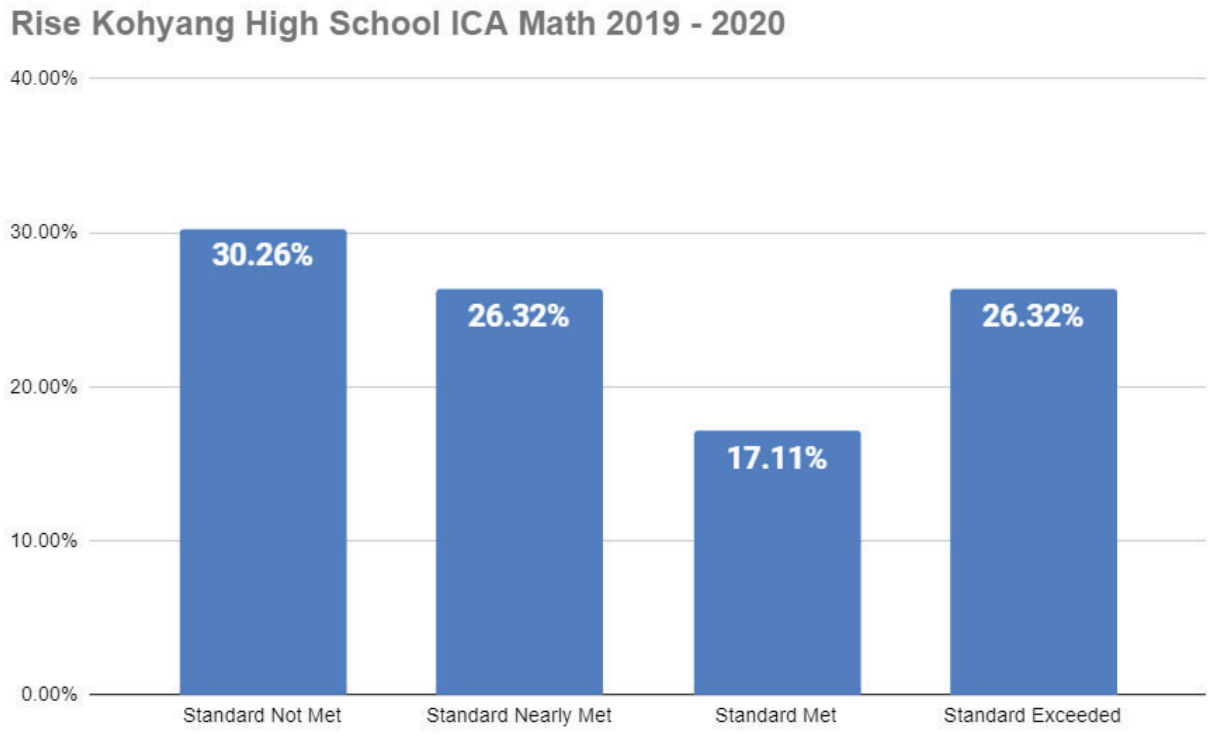
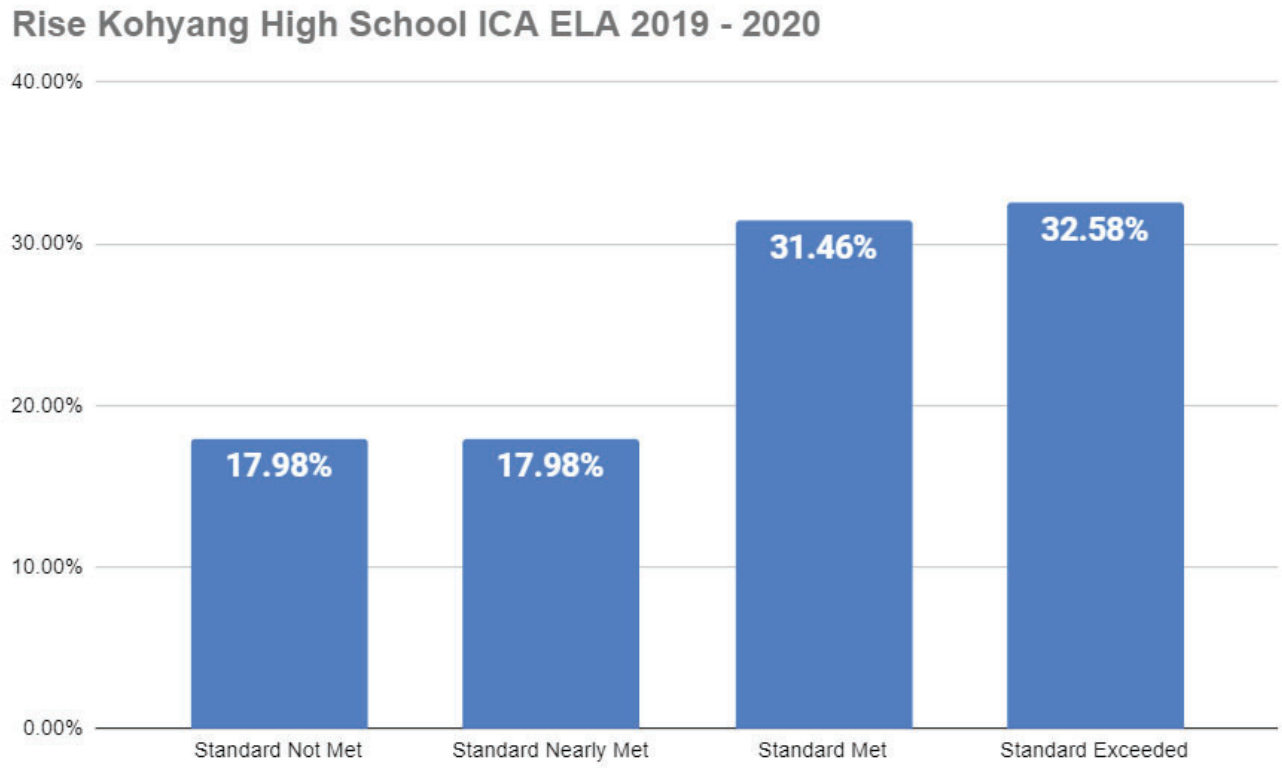
    - Each unit, RKHS admisiters a norm referenced district assessments to measure growth in ELA, Math, and NGSS-based Science standards
    - Student cognitive skill growth, using our project-based learning platform;
    - Student grades, the ACT Aspire benchmark assessment, and Smarter Balanced Interim Compliance Assessment exams also monitor content- specific growth.
- Clubs: Because we understand the power of students engaging with academic ideas in varied environments, we offer enrichment through our club programming. Some examples of clubs available to students are Culinary club, B2CM, GSA, Anime/Art, Videogame, Latin dance, Band, and many more.

- Home Visits: RKHS counselors and culture team will visit homes of students who struggle academically and behaviorally to put appropriate supports in place.
- The Connections Program: Each grade level has one counselor supporting the student's socio-emotional health and academic guidance.
- Restorative Practices: As a school we are committed to continuing and furthering our understanding of restorative justice. This year, we are delivering professional development to teachers focusing on reviewing and teaching trauma-informed practices in the classroom, as well as building inclusive classrooms and curriculum. This training is aimed at helping teachers understand student triggers and in an informed way learn how to better manage conflict in the classroom.

1. Improving Math Scores: Though we have seen success in Math instruction, we have faced some challenge with meeting some of the cognitive engagement expectations in Mathematics, which has led to a plateau in student performance. Students enter RKHS with a wide range of levels of content mastery from prior grade levels and different schools. In addition to teaching students new content, RKHS has identified the need to also revisit and reconstruct foundational concepts and understanding for students. Though students did not test on CAASPP last Spring due to the global pandemic, we assessed all 11th grade students using the Interim Comprehensive Assessments in both Math and ELA. Using this data, we can compare the performance from Spring 2018 to Spring 2019. In 2018 38% of students met or exceeded standard in Math; in 2019 52% of students performed proficiently, a net gain of 14%. However, we acknowledge that these are two different cohorts of students and further programming is being developed for Math instruction including common periodic assessments across the district and the Math coaching initiative.





Additionally, RKHS will continue to invest heavily in professional development and curriculum development for math. Teachers are supported in teaching through concept driven lessons, where students work collaboratively using the "Launch-Work-Wrap" approach to Math instruction. To ensure proper pacing for this instruction model, teachers create year-long

Scope and Sequence plans that engage students in these concept driven lessons, portfolios that incorporate student learnings, and rigorous end of unit assessments. RKHS has adopted the Agile Minds curriculum for all grade levels to help further engage students in the critical thinking and conceptual understanding process, rather than just focus on procedural mastery. The Agile Minds program was vetted through our teachers, researched thoroughly for its effectiveness in institutions with similar demographics and is in its fourth year of implementation. The improvements in SBAC scores and the June 2020 ICA provide evidence that the program is helping develop student understanding. To ensure the constant growth of teacher practice in these areas, RKHS teachers continue to engage in professional development provided by the school site, Bright Star Schools, and third-party providers. Teachers engage in subject specific lesson studies four times a year to norm on the delivery of instructional materials, reflect on their teaching pedagogy, and share best practices. RKHS also employs a math coach to support with weekly lesson observations in addition to an AP of Instruction who conducts weekly coaching sessions with teachers to address the aforementioned items and participate in the consistent reflection on practice needed to help support students.

RKHS's promotion goals are continually evaluated and revised to best support student learning. Current promotion goals include student performance in math class, supplemental software, and CAASPP-aligned Performance Tasks. By utilizing CAASPP Interim Assessments, teachers are able to continually monitor student proficiency and growth in order to identify areas of need as well as to provide specific interventions for individuals and groups of students.

Student Population to be Served

1.3: Charter School's target student population

As mentioned in Element 1.1., RKHS predominantly serves the community in the Koreatown neighborhood of Los Angeles, California. Koreatown sits within the boundaries of LAUSD's Board District 6. Chart 1.8 shows the demographic breakdown of our students, which also reflects what we anticipate future classes to look like.

We will also support the foundational skill building of our students with outreach and education to families so that the support of students extends to the home environment, no matter what that looks like for each student. All Bright Star schools will work to develop the socio-emotional skills to overcome any obstacles they may face on their path to accessing higher education.

Goals and Philosophy

1.5. School vision and mission statements

The following mission and vision statements are true for all Bright Star Schools.

Bright Star Schools' mission is to provide holistic, inclusive support for all students to achieve academic excellence and grow their unique talents so that they find joy and fulfillment in higher education, career, and life.

Bright Star Schools' vision is Bright Star students will become leaders who act with integrity and champion equity to enrich our communities and the world.

Additionally, Bright Star Schools strive to provide students with a well-rounded education, including a rigorous academic program that prepares students for college, and life experiences that exposes students to a broad world beyond their current environments. All of our programs are rooted in four core values:

- Integridad means we need to be the best versions of ourselves, to speak our own truth, and to advocate for those whose voices are not heard.

- Ubuntu means that our humanity is shared, that we value kindness, and that we support one another to become the people we strive to be.
- 고향 Kohyang means hometown and encourages us to build meaningful connections and strong community ties, because our hometowns are integral to our identities.
- Growth means having a mindset that allows us to achieve excellence and gain fulfillment through our pursuit of learning and development.

1.6. Define and describe briefly the characteristics of an "educated person" in the 21st century.

At Bright Star Schools, we believe an educated person is someone self-motivated, competent, and a lifelong learner who possesses the academic, technological, intellectual, emotional and character skills so they will be successful in college, and ultimately in the world beyond. Academically and technologically, these skills include:

- A mastery of the English language along with a mastery of at least one other language.
- A fundamental understanding and fluency in comprehension of mathematics, science, history, and the arts.
- The ability to think both critically and creatively through basic knowledge about the world, deep knowledge about subjects of interest, and skills for effectively using technology and gathering information.
- Deep knowledge and access to current tools (email, computers in classrooms, various programs such as Khan Academy, iStation, etc.), as well as ability to creativity problem solve and innovate will prepare students for the rapidly evolving world of technology.
- The ability to work cooperatively and to understand and respect cultural and socio-economic differences between all people.
- An understanding of global interdependence and ability to clearly see the need for greater social justice in the world.

An educated person in the 21st century also must have developed an ability to monitor and maintain emotional and physical fitness. A quality education also instills habits that help one to have control of one's life: to solve problems, to set and attain goals, to learn from experiences and to know when and how to follow social norms. Self-awareness involves recognizing one's strengths and limitations, knowing what one wants to achieve in life and being reflective about one's interactions and relationships with others.

An educated person participates constructively in society, for one knows that such participation is necessary for the benefit of society and for the individual as well. Such a person has developed a broad knowledge base and has acquired skills which allow one to enter the economic mainstream. Such a person works cooperatively to achieve constructive answers to difficult questions for the benefit of society. Such a person understands that every problem has some solution, although it often may not be a perfect solution.

An educated person understands that character counts, and that we live on a planet where everybody and everything is interconnected, often in ways that we cannot see or comprehend. Such a person knows that one's actions cause many further actions and reactions. Because of this, an educated person refers to and utilizes one's own belief and value systems prior to making important decisions about oneself and about others.

An educated person communicates effectively, both orally and in writing, and bases his thoughts and arguments on a thoughtful consideration of the evidence at hand. They are able to participate in the larger intellectual dialogue by creating their own thoughts and ideas, using others' ideas as a springboard to form their own. In order to do this in the 21st century, they must be a savvy user of technology and understand how to use the available tools to further their own learning, form opinions, interact with the world, and present the portrait of themselves as a thoughtful and responsible citizen.

1.7: How learning best occurs.

Our instructional practices and program design are largely informed by the following pieces of research and publications:

1. Robert J. Marzano's What Works in Schools and What Works in Classroom Instruction
2. David Conley's guidelines for "21st Century Learners," as published by Pearson in "Career Readiness and Employability"
3. Carol Dweck's Mindset: The New Psychology of Success
4. Doug Lemov's Teach like a Champion 2.0

We believe non-cognitive skills (or soft skills) are essential to the success of students. These practices are embedded in our advisory program, our Connections' Program, and throughout the core courses. Davis Conley's guidelines would provide strategies meeting the needs of RKHS students. For example, his guidelines are largely geared for low socioeconomic or 1st generation college attendees. His work centers on developing the social capital to navigate a higher education system and strategies such as forming peer studies groups and developing self-advocacy skills.

Accordingly, RKHS believes learning best occurs when students learn in an environment where they feel safe, where expectations for all students are clear and high and students are given the opportunity to make mistakes, learn from them, work hard and achieve their goals. Carol Dweck's Mindset reinforces the notion that all students can succeed academically when given the opportunity to learn through active participation in engaging activities. We further believe all students need to develop high standards of honesty, industriousness, enthusiasm, kindness, compassion and generosity. Students participate in a daily advisory program that explicitly teaches the values and character traits we want students to embody. Through direct instruction on character education, relevant readings, and monthly character education assemblies, our values are embedded within the very culture of the school.

Learning best occurs when learners start with their own knowledge and experience as the basis for learning. Students must feel that new ideas, information and skills are relevant, useful or important. They must be motivated by genuine interest or purpose, and should be challenged to work to high expectations. Students construct meaning through their learning experiences by doing more often than seeing or listening. Additionally, students learn best when they practice and apply new skills and concepts to real-life situations.

Learning best occurs when academic learning is coupled with social, emotional and physical development. When learning in a school culture is fun, exciting and essential, students feel more comfortable in their environment and are motivated to work harder to achieve academic goals, particularly evident in the work of Lemov and Conley.

Marzano emphasizes that learning best occurs when educational objectives are simple, measurable and attainable. Clear definitions of what students should know and be able to do in each academic content area at grade level determines the content of the curriculum, affects teaching strategies, provides a perspective for selecting and training teachers and helps parents understand what is expected of the children. Learning best occurs when class size and school size are manageable. Although there are no magic numbers or solutions for what is manageable, it is imperative that the members of the school community know one another as individuals.

Additionally, RKHS believes learning is most effective when parents understand and are involved in the educational goals of the school. RKHS has short-term, intermediate and long-term goals.

- The short-term goal is to provide a meaningful educational experience; one that impresses upon students the amount they can accomplish in a single year of dedicated hard work and the level to which they can enhance their self-confidence through achievement.
- The intermediate goal is to help students carry this sense of academic commitment and accomplishment throughout their high school experience.
- The long-term goal is to instill in our students the belief that they should and be able to attend college, and through this process, provide them the tools to do so.

- Investment in materials, tools, programs, and services ensuring accessible parent communication
- School events and programs purposefully created to introduce parents to school staff, the school's educational program, and encourage a parent's ability to advocate on behalf of their student.
- Staff members who play the role of liaison between school and family

1.9: How the school's goals will enable students to become and remain self-motivated, competent, and lifelong learners.

The fundamental goal of RKHS is to help its students become self-motivated, competent, life-long learners. RKHS strives to educate students so that they know and understand how they learn, and how they can continue learning in college and beyond, to ensure students are able to find joy and fulfillment in higher education, career, and life. Students understand how to learn from a classroom situation, from a group interaction, and how to learn on their own. At RKHS, we believe greatly that every student should have the opportunity to learn and master standards at their own pace, and given this chance, they will be able to use their learning in new and creative ways.

A major educational objective for RKHS is to educate all of its students so that they are able to compete for selective and limited positions and/or scholarships at colleges. Given the current funding crisis in higher education, we also explore alternative post-secondary options for students that lead to attainment of a viable post-secondary plan, which is developed by the student and counselor, in conjunction with their family.

An intense schedule ensures there is enough time to teach all materials covered by the California Common Core State Standards. The goal is to have no student fall behind. We will train students to employ effective study habits by providing them support in and after school so they can reach their full potential. If students put in the required time and effort, and are able to get additional support and resources they need to master materials, they can be successful in our academic program.

Students will work toward mastering the following skills when studying arts, literature, social studies, science, and math:

1. Developing Concepts & Innovation
2. Critical Thinking & Problem Solving
3. Collaboration & Teamwork
4. Media Literacy

Additionally, our goal is that students:

- Develop self-worth and respect for their heritage and the cultural heritage of others, and are able to respond to negativity or maliciousness with integrity and rationale.
- Strive to become proficient in both English, while preserving their native language.

- Work towards demonstrating cooperative social behavior with a sense of responsibility toward their school, home and community through our Connection Program, advisory and character building programs, and community service.
- Are exposed to career/post-secondary opportunities and should begin to develop personal and professional life goals through exposure to local leaders and our partnerships with local businesses and community organizations.
- Performance will increase as demonstrated by standardized, criterion-referenced and performance-based tests.

RKHS's curriculum is based on the California Common Core State Standards. In addition, RKHS offers many expanded options to meet the needs of all of its diverse students. These include a personalized learning curriculum, more instructional time on task, life experience lessons outside the classroom and exposure to college expectations and campus life.

Additionally, we offer a robust intervention program to our English Language Learners, as outlined in our EL Master Plan. We utilize our school counselors to develop truly effective adherence to a tiered intervention program. As part of the tiered intervention program, RKHS has an early warning system implemented by the counselors and teachers who operate in grade-level teams to evaluate students on a regular basis. Any student who appears to be struggling in one or more classes in any field (social - emotional or academic), will be identified to ensure all needs are met. In addition, the purpose of implementing an early warning systems program is to also ensure that RKHS is using restorative practices to help and support students in academic and social-emotional development.

Instructional Design

1.10: The educational program's overall curricular and instructional design, including how the school will structure and staff the educational program.

The educational philosophy, teaching methodology and subsequent instructional program at RKHS are informed by extensive research are aligned with Richard DuFour's work[4] and what he terms the "Henry Higgins" school mindset. This relies on high expectations for students with the understanding that if learning at high levels is the constant, then time and resources must be the variables. DuFour describes the "Henry Higgins School" as one in which the adults believe, "We believe that all students can and must learn at relatively high levels of achievement. We are confident that students can master challenging academic material with our support and help. We establish standards that all students are expected to achieve, and we continue to work with them until they have done so." This established, RKHS's focus is on accurately determining each student's current level of performance in the core content area by employing diagnostics assessments aligned to the Common Core State Standards, ELD standards and the Next Generation Science Standards.

Based off the observations from DuFour, and our observation , the schools where socio-economically disadvantaged students achieve mastery in the core subjects and experience academic success are those that offer:

- Extend the school day and have a longer calendar year.
- Offer an unyielding focus on ensuring students' literacy and numeracy skills in the earliest grades.
- Adopt teaching methodologies that have proven successful in urban settings.
- Set high expectations both behaviorally and academically.
- Employ frequent assessments and data driven professional development and coaching for teachers.
- Subscribe to masterful and specialized teachers.
- Involve parents and the community in the life of their scholars' education.
- Treat each child as an individual, assessing them at their baseline, setting high standards and ensuring that they meet their goals through structured support.
- Have a dedicated counselor assigned to a grade-level cohort of students and moves with them as they matriculate to each grade level
- Offer blended learning classrooms for students who require inclusive education

- Enable and encourage students to hold leadership positions
- Implement restorative practices, rather than strict disciplinary practices

The school focuses on skill development via Performance Tasks (PTs) which are administered in each class in order to assess student knowledge on ACT, SBAC, and SAT like questions. Goals for the performance tasks are set after analyzing the results from previous ACT practice exams. In addition, goals were also set based on the lowest performing target areas, such as: (1) Reading, (2) Math and (3) Science. Based on the school's previous data, the following are the specific targets that the school is focusing on:

- Reading
  - Key Ideas and Details (31%)
  - Analyzes explicit and implicit central ideas across a text
  - Infers meaning without explicit details
  - Analyzes ideas, events and individuals to make logical inferences
  - Identifies relationships based on context and cites textual details to support
- Math
  - Justification and Explanation (17%)
  - Integrating Essential Skills (21%)
  - Interprets spread of a distribution
  - Reasons abstractly and quantitatively by making sense of quantities and their relationships
  - Creates a representation of the problem at hand and attends to the meaning of the quantities and not just how to compute them
- Science
  - Interpretation of Data (34%)
  - Translates information into a table graph or diagram
  - Determines how the value of a variable changes relative to another
  - Find the highest/lowest value; order data from a table
  - Compare a value in a table from another in a graph
  - Performs extrapolation using a table or graph
- Evaluation of Models, Inferences, and Experimental Results (28%)
  - Determines which hypothesis or conclusion is or is not consistent with the data
  - Determines whether results of an experiment support or contradict a hypothesis, prediction or conclusion
  - Identifies strengths/weaknesses of theoretical models
  - Determines which models are supported or weakened by new information

The aforementioned learning targets provide teachers with a focus area that enables them to specifically hone in the areas of lowest performance and create lessons and assessments that tie to the standards and skills needed to be successful in the A-G requirements. Wednesday's PTs data is used to drive instruction. It allows teachers to target areas of student need by providing them with additional instructional in the above mentioned standards and skills so that they are better prepared for college entry examinations. The execution of weekly PTs also provides staff the opportunity to create cross-curricular lessons and assessments that reinforce these skills and standards.

RKHS has created several systems to ensure correct standards-based alignment in our curriculum and assessment. As a school, we have implemented both gradebook norms and assessment norms that operate as frameworks for classroom evaluation. Gradebooks at RKHS are a mastery-based evaluation of student learning and the best measure of mastery is rigorous, standards-aligned, summative assessment. It is our perspective that assessment can and should have a variety of formats (projects, performances, extended constructed response, a combination of written responses and multiple choice/technology enhanced questions, etc) as long as it is challenging to students, showcases relevant skills practiced in class, represents a range of depth of knowledge (DOK), and is of course, comprehensively standards-aligned. In order to assist teachers in the creation of their assessments, we have generated our RKHS Assessment Framework, seen below:

Our assessment framework does not require teachers to include both performance tasks and multiple choice/short response in their assessments, but does outline the criteria for use of both types of components. For PT's, projects, or extended CR's, teachers must provide students the rubric for their evaluation, require that students construct an argument, thesis or central idea along with evidence and analysis, as well as ideally incorporate student choice. Additionally, we require that multiple choice questions are pulled or adapted from AP, ACT/SAT, SBAC or NY Regents, have a recommended distribution of DOK levels, and result in an appropriate average class score. We include the distribution of DOK and the target scores to assist teachers with assessment calibration; if the average score falls below a certain threshold, teachers are required to reteach and reassess the content on the basis that the assessment indicates that either students did not learn the material, or the instruction was not properly aligned to the assessment. Finally, all assessment components must be aligned to the correct standards block, are appropriately accommodated for students with IEPs as well as English learners, and uploaded into our online data and assessment platform, Illuminate Education.

Additionally, RKHS has implemented a coaching initiative that provides weekly support to all teachers in all subject areas. With the integration of the Danielson Framework and evaluation philosophies, both teacher and coaches are able to establish clear action size goals that are implemented on a weekly basis. The coaching process is non-evaluative and offers support to meet the needs of all teachers. Through the coaching process, teachers are encouraged to rise to their potential and professional growth. Teachers are empowered to become instructional leaders to have an authentic impact on teaching practices in the classroom. The purpose of evaluations is to create a two-way accountability for ensuring the quality of instruction in all classrooms. Evaluations are conducted by the principal and provide a more complete picture of a teacher's practice.

- Expository Reading and Writing (CSU) ELA 12 - The goal of the Expository Reading and Writing Course (ERWC) is to prepare college-bound seniors for the literacy demands of higher education. Through a sequence of eight to ten rigorous instructional modules, students in this yearlong, rhetoric-based course develop advanced proficiency in expository, analytical, and argumentative reading and writing. The cornerstone of the course—the ERWC Assignment Template—presents a scaffolded process for helping students read, comprehend, and respond to nonfiction and literary texts. Modules also provide instruction in research methods and documentation conventions. Students will be expected to increase their awareness of the rhetorical strategies employed by authors and to apply those strategies to their own writing. They will read closely to examine the relationship between an author's argument or theme and his or her audience and purpose; to analyze the impact of structural and rhetorical strategies; and to examine the social, political, and philosophical assumptions that underlie the text. By the end of the course, students will be expected to use this process independently when reading unfamiliar texts and writing in response to them.

The students will become more positive of their ability to work with mathematical concepts and relationships that relate to the real world. They will learn how to think systematically and use the precise logic required for mathematical problem solving. This course builds on the student's understanding of previous mathematics in the study of problem solving and modeling real world situations mathematically. 1.11b: Innovative Curricular Components of the Proposed Educational Program

1. PERSONALIZED LEARNING: Our program embraces personalized learning to ensure that we meet the individual needs of all students, in all classes. This approach places a greater emphasis on students mastering standards to completion, in addition to completing rigorous projects that showcase student ability to use academic standards to solve, experiment, create, and innovate in core classes. Students are also instructed on habits of success to aid in their learning, and are assigned an adult mentor to assist students in discovering the work styles and time management options that will work for them.

2. RESEARCH BASED: Our approach is to use state-approved texts in our classrooms, utilizing them as a resource to create an internally-crafted curricula which is developed through the curriculum alignment process outlined below and is fully aligned with Common Core Standards.The process of curriculum development adopted by RKHS is a modification of the Understanding by Design (UBD) Backwards Mapping Model, which includes the mastering of standards. Teachers work from summative assessment (either self-crafted & vetted by administration, or a purchased assessment) that encapsulates the core learnings for the unit. Ideally, this assessment shows a real world application of the key learnings. Then, teachers work backwards to design the key learning experiences for student.

3. COLLEGE SUCCESS: Our program includes safeguards to ensure that students learn the material and skills they need not only to be accepted into universities and higher education, but also to be successful once they get there—as noted below in explanations of our grading system, independent reading requirement, and graduation requirements.

4. PROFICIENCY REQUIREMENT: Because we believe that students must truly be proficient in their subjects before moving on, we do not accept grades below a C. For students who are performing below grade level or who are historically low performers, please refer to Student Support and Progress Teams and our intervention programs in the Intervention and Enrichment programs section below.

    In addition to Student Support and Progress Teams and intervention programs, RKHS also offers remedial skills courses over the course of the summer taught by credentialed teachers to help build the bridge to proficiency:

    - Academic English - a designated English Language Development Program help EL students develop the literacy skills necessary to access the core curriculum

- Foundational Math – this is a supplementary math class to provide students with additional support in filling in missing skill sets along with intensive practice on performance tasks type assignments.

5. A RIGOROUS FOCUS ON LITERACY: Each year, students in the school's literature courses read at least four novels, plays, or full length non-fiction texts (e.g. memoirs) in class, along with 10-12 shorter texts (articles, case studies, short stories). In each of the core academic classes other than English, students read at least one short non-fiction text of the discipline directly related to the unit of study (journal article, case study). Students also participate in a rigorous independent reading program where they read a combination of choice books and required selections. The details of this program are outlined in the next section. As required by the Common Core, and as supported by David Conley's work on college readiness, students must be able to read critically across the disciplines in order to succeed in higher education. In order to develop students' ability to read for a specific discipline, all teachers explicitly teach reading comprehension and vocabulary acquisition strategies, such as those articulated in the report What Secondary Content Area Teachers Need to Know about Adolescent Literacy.

6. TUTORING: True Targeted Intervention Tutoring is run by content teachers, and provides support in all core classes. Teachers use data to select the students in most need for additional support, and invite them to their daily tutoring. Students in tutoring are provided support for topics being covered in class, in addition to building block skills that support the grade level standards. Students are assessed at the end of each unit to determine their need to remain in the tutoring class. Though most seats are reserved for students assigned by the teacher, additional students may join tutoring at any time for additional support. True Targeted Intervention (TTI) is our in school tutoring program that is both highly adaptive and embedded in the school day. The program is designed to support our SEL focus, creating an intervention system that both guarantees high attendance and high success. Data is monitored by teachers and the director of student services to support student academic progress. Teachers evaluate their gradebooks and assign students who are struggling or failing their course to TTI. For students who are failing in more than one subject area, students are assigned to TTI based on the A-G requirements. SSPTs and advisory support plans are also utilized to help students in other subjects in addition to after school tutoring voluntarily provided by instructors. Our TTI program has proven to be a very effective innovation since it provides students with the necessary support from the expert teacher during school hours. Therefore, students do not need to sacrifice their extracurricular commitments in order to receive academic support. The practice has been very successful at our school with our students passing over 90% of their courses every semester since our inception. Understanding that some students are more motivated by their extracurricular/sports activities than their course load, the program is designed to ensure all students can pursue their passions as they complete their college requirements.

7. CLUBS: We have several clubs and sports available during this time for students to participate. From our Culinary Club, yearbook, BC2M, soccer, JSA, GSA, Anime, videogame, student government, Lartin dance, Korean club, and BSU, we have a myriad of options available for students to gain enrichment outside of class.

8. ELD AND SPECIAL EDUCATION: RKHS has a robust and compliant Inclusion (Special Education) program aligned with the policies outlined by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 (IDEIA). RKHS serves a variety of students with disabilities with varying degrees of required supports through the Inclusion Program. There are two full time Inclusion Specialists, one school psychologist, and a director who supports our Inclusion Specialists. The students are provided access to the general education curriculum in the least restrictive environment through a variety of supports, including in class push-in, co-teaching, and academic success classes (Resource).

   Furthermore, general education teachers are provided with ongoing professional development and collaboration with Inclusive Educators in order to support students with disabilities in their classrooms. RKHS is committed to supporting all stakeholders in effective instructional practices and compliance to ensure full implementation of all IDEIA and District guidelines. RKHS has an assigned Inclusion Administrator that provides support through program development and implementation, compliance monitoring and professional development. Furthermore, as an Option 3 school, RKHS has access to shared resources with the Option 3 network that allows for even more robust professional development and access to services for our students.

1.11c: Intervention and Enrichment Programs

RKHS takes pride in monitoring the success of students and implements the following intervention and enrichment programs to maximize student achievement:

1. HOMEWORK POLICY: RKHS has based its guidelines for assigning homework on the guidelines put forth by the National Parent Teacher Association and the research of Harris Cooper and others. The research supports that quality homework assignments, within appropriate limits, show a strong positive relationship with increased academic achievement. The guidelines for time spent on homework each night (please note the inclusion of special daily office hours in the distance learning model as support) are roughly ten minutes per night per grade level. This policy is detailed in the family handbook and is discussed at summer orientations and at back to school night. Additionally, each teacher sends home communication to families regarding their classroom expectations.

   Homework at RKHS has three distinct and important purposes:

   - To give students time to practice the essential skills that they need to learn (having them practice the skills daily at home gives more time in class for teaching)
   - To develop independent study habits and provide students practice in time management so that students are prepared to study independently in college.
   - To ensure that as much time as possible can be spent on direct teaching, discussions, guided practice of skills and other learning experiences.

2. STUDENT SUPPORT & PROGRESS TEAMS (SSPT): While students in High School do not repeat grades, they may fall behind in credits and may not be on track to graduate within four years. SSPTs are also conducted for any student that struggles in general and is identified through monthly grade level meetings. At the monthly meeting teachers within the grade level bring relevant data (e.g. benchmark assessments, gradebooks, discipline referrals) and discuss students who are at risk of not being successful. If it appears that a student is experiencing challenges in multiple classes, the grade level team refers the student for an SSPT. The SSPT is facilitated by the student's counselor, who acts as the main point of contact for monitoring the implementation of interventions. Also present are the principal, the student's grade level teachers, parent, and student. If the tiered interventions are not producing the anticipated improvements and any signs of a disability are present, the student is referred for an assessment process. If a disability is not present, the SSPT team reconvenes to determine additional supports and the process continues as needed, typically each month.

   Students are typically referred by the classroom teacher, but any member of the school staff may request support from the SSPT for a student whose learning, behavior or emotional needs are not being met under existing circumstances. All SSPT meetings are documented, and student progress is reviewed in subsequent meetings. If a student is following the SSPT plan and achieving, then a successive meeting is not necessary; rather additional meetings are planned for students who continue to demonstrate that they are struggling.

3. RESPONSE TO INTERVENTION (RTI) MODEL
   At RKHS, RTI is a multi-tier approach to the early identification and support of students with possible learning and behavioral needs. Struggling students are identified by procedures established by RKHS, including CAASPP results, ELPAC results, student performance below 70% in a core subject area and/or a failing grade. These students are provided with interventions at increasing levels of intensity. These services are provided by a variety of personnel including paraprofessionals (i.e. teacher assistant) and teachers during a scheduled RTI during the students' Advisory period (see section 1.11a for a more information on Advisory).

   A. Components of Response to Intervention (RTI) model

The following four components are essential to early identification of students who may need support:

1. HIGH QUALITY, RESEARCHED BASED CLASSROOM INSTRUCTION: At RKHS, classroom teachers are expected to differentiate instruction to students through researched-based strategies and techniques. The Vice President of Curriculum and Instruction works closely with each site to assist in the implementation of current instructional practices.

   Classroom teachers are required to attend a two to three week-long professional development prior to the start of the school year. During these weeks, teachers explore the most current instructional practices. Throughout the school year, each site is responsible for the implementation of professional development opportunities with the concentration being in classroom instruction. RKHS requires the teachers to attend professional development sessions once a week and additionally, on five full-day professional developments throughout the year. Teachers also have the opportunity to attend professional development workshops and conferences throughout the year. Site leadership teams and school support team leaders (Head of Schools and/or Deputy Superintendent) regularly observe classrooms in order to inform professional development and coaching support.

2. ONGOING STUDENT ASSESSMENT: At RKHS, data drives classroom instruction. Students are consistently and regularly assessed through various tools that include Bright Starcreated benchmarks, teacher created tests, assignments, and quizzes for the organization. Students will receive feedback on their work at least once per week and complete a formal assessment no less than every five weeks. The information can be quickly assessed by the teachers and staff by using Illuminate, an online data and assessment management system. School personnel use Illuminate to monitor all student progress throughout the year. Teachers meet regularly through collaboration and Student Support and Progress Teams to review the data and make educational decisions.

3. TIERED INSTRUCTION: The use of a multi-tiered support based on student data allows teachers to differentiate the classroom structures to meet the needs of all students. A teacher assistant works with the classroom teacher in the implementation of tiered instruction through small group and one to one instruction. The classroom teacher and teacher assistant work together to deliver specific instructional strategies that will differentiate concepts for students considered at risk for academic failure.

4. FAMILY INVOLVEMENT: RKHS strongly believes that instruction is best delivered and retained when there is an active relationship between the home and school. Through the SSPT approach, families are involved in creating an individual learning plan for their students. Families are also encouraged, but not required, to volunteer at events at their child's school.

B. Response to Intervention (RTI) as a response to disproportionality: A key goal to RKHS's RTI model is to improve the outcomes for all students. Through the RTI model, instruction and intervention are aligned with students' needs. High quality instruction is delivered with good fidelity. The RTI model allows RKHS to monitor disproportionality, not based solely on a head count, but rather through a focus on differences in outcomes experienced by various groups.

C. RKHS's Response to Intervention model: As mentioned, the RTI model allows RKHS to monitor disproportionality, not based solely on a head count, but rather through a focus on differences in outcomes experienced by various subgroups of students. Teachers use frequent checks for understanding and weekly formative assessments to determine if students are grasping the material. Students who are struggling receive Tier I interventions. Interventions are gradually increased if the lowest tier does not prove effective.

1. TIER ONE: Powerful instruction begins with the adoption and use of an evidence-based curriculum. Effective teachers do not simply teach such a program page by page for all students. Rather, they differentiate the instruction so it is designed to meet the specific needs of students. We believe that there are five key components that are critical to effective and powerful instruction. They are:
    1. Essential skills and strategies are taught regularly and in a timely manner
    2. Differentiated instruction based on assessment results is provided
    3. Explicit and systematic instruction includes lots of practice, with and without teacher support and feedback.
    4. Opportunities are given to apply skills and strategies throughout the instructional day.
    5. Student progress is monitored regularly with re-teaching given as needed.

    At RKHS, teachers are required to incorporate these key components in their daily instruction. Furthermore, school-wide prevention efforts have been established to promote learning for all students. RKHS anticipates that the majority of students will respond to these strategies. The use of a multi-tiered instruction based on student data allows teachers to differentiate instruction for all students. A teacher assistant works with the classroom teacher in the implementation of tiered instruction through small group and one to one instruction. The classroom teacher and teacher assistant work together to deliver specific instructional strategies that will differentiate concepts for students considered at risk for academic failure.

2. TIER TWO: STRATEGIC INTERVENTIONS: As differentiation and frequent comprehension checks followed by reteaching should support the majority of students who might not master standards given the first attempt; Tier 2 intervention begs the attention for more data driven, targeted intervention. For students who have IEPS, assessments and key assignments will be accommodated. As Response to Intervention can hyperfocus with a multi-tiered system of supports (MTSS) or intense intervention system, if Tier 2 strategies for students with IEPs do not help support their learning, students will move to Tier 3.

    For students where Tier 2 seems to be effective, RKHS will conduct the following. Continued Tier 2 strategies will be monitored and tracked through the Student Support and Progress Team (SSPT) that will consist of the student, teachers and counselor. This will begin within the first quarter of the school, after the first unit or benchmark exam. Students who are in Tier 2 will receive more services, come for tutoring with the TTI program, and a meeting with the family where the expectations and academic goals for the student will be delineated.

    This progress towards specific goals with more instruction will be monitored weekly to ensure that the interventions are effective. Students will also be part of the delineation process for students to have more ownership of this learning. For all the students that Tier 2 can capture to stabilize and augment student achievement, if students in this tier continue to perform poorly, as RtI theory states, the student will advance to Tier 3.

3. TIER THREE: INTENSIVE INTERVENTIONS: Students enter the learning environment with different skill sets. An individual student's RTI is unique and dependent on many factors. To reach desired outcomes in school, some students may require additional or unique instructional strategies or interventions beyond those typically available. These students may have had interrupted (or limited) schooling, have a learning disability or medical need, have limited language skills, or need more processing time and support. For these students, create a unique schedule so that the student can receive additional support in the area of need through the SSPT process. This may be within a designated intervention class period in lieu of another course, in lieu of advisory, or on a pull out schedule. Students may receive additional supports using NewsELA, Khan Academy or a variety of teacher specific instructional supports housed within Blendspace and Google Classroom. Instructional specialist teachers may also request or purchase additional research based resources as necessary to serve student needs beyond the materials we've already purchased.

If the interventions do not work, RKHS will recommend that an IST or a school psychologist observe the student for a possible learning disability. If there is an evidence-based suspicion, RKHS will then follow the protocol per Bright Star Schools' and the LAUSD's criteria for eligibility in Special Education.

1.11d: Textbooks and Materials

RKHS uses textbooks and materials aligned with the school's mission and vision of helping students to master the Common Core Standards and the Next Generation Science Standards. The process by which curriculum materials will be selected will include the involvement of teachers and administrators who will evaluate materials for potential use in the school. RKHS will ensure that connections are drawn between different curricular areas and that all curricular choices and resources are part of a comprehensive school wide plan. The list of textbooks is located on the following page.

The materials and programs RKHS purchases will be evaluated periodically and may be changed or augmented as deemed necessary by the RKHS Principal.

In addition to the course list above, all students participate in an advisory block. The advisory block is an important component of the SEL focus for Rise Kohyang High School. During this time each day, students have the opportunity to engage with a credentialed teacher regarding the progress toward their post secondary path and their social emotional development. On Mondays, we use New Directions curriculum, a partnership we created with The University of Perth and 21st Century Thinking, to provide a structure where students engage in activities to promote their Social Emotional Wellness. The program aligns to the research based developmental milestones for students, so it looks different for every grade level. The program overall helps students regulate their emotions, process them, and learn how to respond to situations as they come up in their lives.

Currently, advisory teachers conduct one on one check-ins with students regarding their academic progress using RKHS' A0G Credit Tracker on a weekly basis. Students who are struggling in their courses or are seeing their grades drop can work with the advisory teachers to create plans for support. These plans can include a specific learning plan or something as simple as assisting students with signing up for office hours with the teachers whose classes are a struggle, signing up for one on one peer tutoring, or simply signing up for our true targeted intervention program. Additionally, students will engage in mindfulness activities in their advisories to help teach techniques for managing stress, centering themselves, and finding balance.

Students also engage in community circles, with topics including current events in their community, student chosen topics, or teacher generated topics. This information helps the school gauge how the students are feeling during various times throughout the year or as current events occur in the world around them. There is currently a dedicated day in advisory for college prep days, where students work on their Naviance objectives, or do StrengthFinders test, potential career tests, or other post-secondary inspired activities.

1.13: Describe the instructional methods and strategies that the charter school will use to deliver the curriculum.

The mission of RKHS relies on outcome-driven, effective teaching. In order to support teachers to make strong academic gains with students, instruction is closely monitored, continuously improved upon and data driven. As certain practices in teaching have proven to engender student academic success, consistency in instruction is employed across classrooms to ensure a structured, safe and high performing environment. Structured lessons allow for clear expectations from students and teachers, effective evaluation and improvement of teaching practice and most importantly, strong academic outcomes. We model our instructional methodologies and data driven practices after approaches utilized at high performing schools which have consistently and successfully led to strong academic and behavioral outcomes. RKHS subscribes to the following strategies in order to drive strong academic outcomes:

1. PERSONALIZED LEARNING: RKHS's curriculum is based on the Common Core Standards. All teachers analyze Common Core standards. The RKHS program embraces personalized learning to ensure that we meet the individual needs of all students, in all classes. This approach places a greater emphasis on students mastering standards to completion, in addition to completing rigorous projects that showcase students' ability to use academic standards to solve, experiment, create, and innovate in core classes. Students are also instructed on habits of success to aid in their learning, and are assigned an adult mentor to assist students in discovering the work styles and time management options that will work for them.

2. STANDARDS-BASED CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTION: RKHS's curriculum is based on the Common Core Standards. All teachers analyze Common Core standards and internal school standards, such as reading and writing assessments that correspond to their specific grade and content areas. Then, they frame their lessons to ensure they align with the scope and sequence of their Standards Map. The frequent use of standards-driven assessment data assists teachers and administrators to ensure content mastery occurs at the appropriate pace and in accordance with state standards.

3. ORGANIZED AND SYSTEMATIC APPROACH TO INSTRUCTIONAL DELIVERY: Consistent instructional approaches and strategies are part of our philosophy because effective classroom organization & management with strategic instructional planning are cornerstones of a well-ran educational program. We establish a system that sets clear teaching expectations every day; this ensures that all students learn their grade level standards and receive quality instruction.

    a. Scope and Sequence & Standards Mapping – all standards must be mapped out clearly and sequentially for learning to best occur with units that tie standards together.
    b. Unit Plan - Using the Understanding by Design format, teachers create 6-8 week unit plans, which outline the culminating project, and how instruction will be structured to guide students to success on the final project. Teachers then use student performance on the final projects to assess needs prior to creating the plan for the following unit.

i. Syllabus – Each course must have a delineated syllabus that describes the course, lists teacher expectations, student outcomes, unit titles, assignments, gradebook categories and breakdowns, along with teacher contact information.

c. Weekly Lesson Plans - Teachers are responsible for submitting lesson plans on a weekly basis. Plans are submitted to the staff Dropbox, and reviewed by the Principal and Assistant Principal of Instruction. The Principal and Assistant Principal are responsible for the evaluation of the lesson plans, and provide feedback to the teachers.

d. Common Whiteboard Configuration (WBC) - Teachers use a common whiteboard configuration. Supported by the work of Dr. Lorraine Monroe, founder of Frederick Douglas Academy in Harlem, NY, the WBC is an instructional accountability system that streamlines the content of the day's lesson. The WBC includes minimally:

i. The standard
ii. Homework
iii. Day's agenda
iv. "Do Now"
v. Important dates

This sets clear academic expectations of what students learn during that lesson and also serves as a visual cue for the teacher to manage his/her instructional pacing more effectively. Administrators also use the setup as a tool to identify how well the teacher follows the content, pacing and activities set forth in the lesson plan when they do their regular walkthroughs and evaluations.

4. SCHOOL-WIDE SYSTEMS AND STRUCTURES: We believe in implementing practices that maximize the amount of time a student is engaged in learning and that minimize the amount of time spent on non- instructional activities. Non-instructional activities include handing in homework, distributing class work, transitioning between classes, finding and retrieving class materials, etc. Administrators work with teachers to decrease any amount of time that is extraneous; the bell schedule reflects short passing periods; and returning teachers share with new teachers systems, strategies and procedures that have worked for them to maximize time on instruction. Throughout the school year, these systems are refined and new systems and structures are implemented as needed to achieve the same objective – utmost time spent on student learning.

5. ENGAGEMENT INTENSIVE STUDENT-TEACHER INTERACTION TECHNIQUES: Charlotte Danielson's Framework for Effective Teaching — and supporting research demonstrating its implementation leads to improved student outcomes—supports the concept that students learn best in a cognitively engaging environment with the following traits:
   a. The classroom operates at a steady and consistently brisk pace
   b. There is a high degree of teacher and student interaction
   c. Teachers use techniques that support a culture of high academic and behavioral expectations.
   d. We implement three components to ensure that teacher and student interaction is high:
      i. Kinesthetic Learning: Kinesthetic learning is an approach that uses physical activity to maintain student engagement and makes the learning process fun. Teachers strategically incorporate its use to teach students a new concept. It serves as a strong mechanism to provide physical movement during extended teaching blocks and extended school hours. Active student involvement also allows teachers to more effectively gauge the degree to which students are grasping the subject matter.
      ii. Checks for Understanding: By including frequent, consistent checks for understanding through strategies such as use of whiteboards, reciprocal teaching, and think pair shares, teaching gain invaluable insight into student learning and are able to adjust instruction while keeping students actively engaged in the learning process.
      iii. Proven Instructional Techniques: We will also use a variety of academic and behavioral techniques that reinforce student expectations. RKHS strategically selects two to three instructional techniques as a focus in professional development sessions such as reader's theater, Socratic seminars or community circles. Teachers engage in training and simulated role-plays, and they are observed and provided with feedback on their delivery throughout the school year by the administrator and fellow teachers.

6. SUBJECT SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONAL METHODOLOGIES AND RATIONALES
   a. Language Arts:
      i. Methodologies and Rationales: Students work toward mastering word analysis, reading with fluency and systematically developing their vocabulary through close reading, academic discourse, and analytical writing. The English Language Arts department, with the approval of the Principal, selects the actual reading texts, with a focus on selecting non-fiction, cross- disciplinary texts to supplement the literature. As students' progress through the school, they learn to form book clubs and to read more interactively, thinking through the text, its symbols, the author's intent, the characters, the historical context and other elements. Texts expand beyond novels to include poetry, lyrics, letters and non-fiction documents.

         We supplement the standards-based reading program with grade-level appropriate literature that ties into the thematic units to be covered in our Social Studies and Science curricula. Students are taught to make reading a daily part of their lives, and led to develop the habits of reflective readers and writers. Students are taught how to pick appropriate books, how to approach reading and how to analyze and learn from what they have read.

         Our English writing program is based on teaching students:

- The fundamental mechanics of the grammar of the English language;
- The writing process;
- The ability to think critically about complex ideas and to express their thoughts in writing.

         Writing instruction centers on discovering the student voice through expository narrative, persuasive essays, responses to literature and correspondences. Written and oral English language conventions are emphasized at every grade level. Teaching students how to listen and speak is another extremely important part of our program. Therefore, we reinforce correct oral English language skills in all their subjects. Even in Science and Math, students are corrected on their grammar. We also believe that public speaking is a necessary skill for our students and we teach it through modeling, correcting and oral presentation skills during portfolios and other projects.

      ii. Assessment Methods and Tools: At RKHS, we administer several assessments to ensure a complete understanding of students' knowledge and deficits in ELA. Students complete end of unit projects that are aligned to CA Common Core Standards and scored on rubrics assessing performance on each skill. Students are administered the Scholastic Reading Inventory to monitor growth in reading comprehension over the course of the school year. Students are assessed using the NWEA MAP Norm Referenced exams, to assess growth towards grade level content mastery. Students are also assessed using the Write Score writing exam to measure proficiency on the CA Common Core Standards for Writing, using an exam that is modeled after the CAASPP Performance Tasks. Students also take the ACT Aspire exam to monitor student growth in ELA as an organization. Lastly, students are administered the CAASPP in the final unit of the year to measure year-long growth.

         Teachers' daily lesson plans are aligned to a learning target derived for a larger common core standard. Teachers assess students daily through formal and informal means to ensure students are incrementally mastering the standards. Additionally, all teacher final projects are required to measure mastery of CCSS. Projects are created (through network wide collaboration) to mimic a SBAC performance task. Bright Star benchmark assessments are aligned to the Computer Adaptive Portion of the SBAC.

b. History/Social Studies

i. Instructional Methodologies and Rationales: Students at RKHS will expand their understanding of history by studying people and events of the past. We make sure our students learn geography and the important facts associated with geography. Additionally, there is a strong focus on reading strategies specific to historical documents and writing analytical essays responding to interpretative issues in history. Students routinely read primary source documents (at least one per unit) and answer document based questions at every grade level. Map skills and the ability to identify the places they study in history on maps is an essential component of this study. The social studies textbook series TCI's History Alive! has a Geography component that is supplemented with other map resources such as materials available from worldatlas.com on the internet.

Beyond geography, emphasis is placed on the everyday lives, problems and accomplishments of people; how developing social, economic and political structures are necessary to maintain a civilization and a standardized culture of living; as well as in establishing and spreading ideas that help transform the world forever—are some of the concepts that students learn. Students develop higher levels of critical thinking by analyzing the interactions among various cultures, emphasizing their enduring contributions and the link—despite time, between the contemporary and historical worlds. Through textbooks and resources like TCI's History Alive, Facing History and Ourselves, and Thinking Nation, students are encouraged to examine complex historical events and consider how they can make an impact in the world.

Fundamental to our students' understanding of history is the question of how is the past relevant to their lives today. In order for history to "come alive" they are able to relate it to their own lives, experiences and situations. Several specific methods are used to help our students tie people, places and events of history to their lives today. Students build timelines and make comparative charts for each culture that they study. Their building of knowledge and understanding are cumulative as each society or series of events is then added to those that have come before. This knowledge is tested through midterm and final exams that are cumulative in nature. In addition, students study the "rites of passage" from each society and compare them to the rites of passage that exist in our own societies and cultures. Our teaching of history is broken down into units aligned with California content standards. The literature and drama we embed into our novel-based Language Arts program highlight themes from these different units.

ii. Assessment Methods and Tools: Our History program utilizes the Thinking Nation, which utilizes Document Based Questions (DBQs) in order to assess students' understanding of historical events and the relevance to modern Civics. These assessments are graded by double-blind graders using a Common Core aligned rubric, and advanced placement rubric.

c. Mathematics

i. Instructional Methodologies and Rationales: We believe that successful instructional strategies are contextual and practice-based in Math. Teachers employ instructional approaches appropriate for the material they are teaching with a focus on including complex real world problems which require students to generate and defend their own answers, as required for the Common Core. One hallmark of teaching at RKHS is student engagement. Teachers endeavor to create interactive classrooms, both in teaching basic skills and posing probing questions to develop more complex, high-order thinking. Teachers are responsible for driving the student learning deeper than the mere accumulation of skills and knowledge to conceptual understanding. They are supported with training and coaching on incorporating call and response, whole body "hands on" learning and role-playing to respond to kinesthetic-tactile learners. One might find in a math class, students working in groups on mini whiteboards with their own Expo markers to solve a problem their teacher posed.

We believe assessment must be integrated into the instructional program, and is as fundamental to good instruction as lesson planning and teacher preparation. At RKHS, every instructional unit must have a clear final assessment to measure students' overall mastery of that unit. Additionally, every lesson must embed checks for understanding to inform the teacher about the student's skills and knowledge in order to help move the student towards mastery. Since units are connected to state standards, the assessments of those units align with state standards. This includes:

- Direct instruction and lecture
- Teaching models
- Problem solving
- Inquiry Based Investigation
- Demonstration, explanation and teacher-facilitated discussions,
- Cooperative learning groups
- Socratic Seminar and Class Discussion
- Student practice materials.

ii. Assessment methods and tools used include:

- Teacher-designed tests
- Bright Star org-wide Norm Referenced Tests
- Publisher-made tests and assessment
- NWEA Map Assessment
- Class participation
- Notebooks
- Homework
- Culminating Projects and Performance Tasks
- Smarter Balanced Assessment System summative and formative assessments.

d. Science

i. Methodologies and rationales: Science classes will be based on the Next Generation Science Standards and will include a focus on the cross-cutting concepts. Thus, every unit will be guided by an essential question that frames the specific content of the unit within the context of one of the following crosscutting concepts: patterns, cause and effect, scale proportion and quantity, systems and systems models, energy and matter, structure and function, and stability and change. For example, a Biology lesson on bacteria and viruses would need to craft an Enduring Understanding and Essential Question related to one of the above concepts. If the teacher were to choose cause and effect, he may choose an enduring understanding such as: "Humans change environments in ways that are either beneficial or detrimental for themselves and other organisms" and an Essential Question that would directly connect the content of bacteria and viruses to the Enduring Understanding: such as, "Has the widespread use of antibiotics and vaccines been beneficial or detrimental to the human immune system?" When the teacher focuses the lesson on the cross-cutting concept of cause and effect and funnels it through thoughtful "Enduring Understandings and Essential Questions," the unit and science instruction has greater real world relevance and forces students to move beyond just a procedural understanding of how science works. This further allows concepts to come to life through investigation and experimentation. Our teachers supplement the textbooks with materials from the Foss Series of Science kits, which are ready-made for student investigation and experimentation and other home materials. Our students will take courses studying standards outlined by the Common State Standards.

ii. Assessment Methods and Tools: Our Science program is assessed very closely to our Math program and utilizes the following features:

- Teacher-designed tests
- Bright Star org-wide Norm Referenced Tests
- Publisher-made tests and assessments
- NWEA Map Assessments
- Class participation
- Notebooks

- Homework
- Culminating Projects and Performance Tasks
- Smarter Balanced Assessment System summative and formative assessments

1.14: Instructional methodologies and curriculum, including instructional materials, to support implementation and ensure student mastery of the California content and performance standards

RKHS's curriculum is based on the Common Core State Standards (CCSS). All teachers analyze CCSS and internal school standards, such as reading and writing assessments that correspond to their specific grade and content areas. Then, they frame their lessons to ensure they align with the scope and sequence of their Standards Map. The frequent use of standards-driven assessment data assist teachers and administrators to ensure content mastery occurs at the appropriate pace and in accordance with state standards.

Students work toward mastering word analysis, reading with fluency and systematically developing their vocabulary through close reading, academic discourse, and analytical writing. The English Language Arts department, with the approval of the Principal, selects the actual reading texts, with a focus on selecting non-fiction, cross- disciplinary texts to supplement the literature. After a few months of analyzing ELA curriculum programs, the district adopted Springboard, a College Board curriculum that focuses on rigorous instruction. During the 2019-2020 school year, RKHS implemented Springboard for the first time. Teachers received PD on breaking down units, analyzing the two Embedded Assessments (EA) that appear in each unit, and learning about the common learning strategies that Springboard provides. As is the case in math, teachers also participate in ongoing professional development which includes lesson studies that are subject specific four times throughout the year. Highlighted in those sessions are peer observations, reflection on pedagogy, and identification/adoption of best practices throughout the district. As students' progress through the school, they learn to form book clubs and to read more interactively, thinking through the text, its symbols, the author's intent, the characters, the historical context and other elements. Texts expand beyond novels to include poetry, lyrics, letters and non-fiction documents.

We supplement the standards-based reading program with grade-level appropriate literature that ties into the thematic units to be covered in our Social Studies and Science curricula. Students are taught to make reading a daily part of their lives, and led to develop the habits of reflective readers and writers.
Students are taught how to pick appropriate books, how to approach reading and how to analyze and learn from what they have read.

Our English writing program is based on teaching students:

- The fundamental mechanics of the grammar of the English language;
- The writing process;
- The ability to think critically about complex ideas and to express their thoughts in writing.

Writing instruction centers on discovering the student voice through expository narrative, persuasive essays, responses to literature and correspondences. Written and oral English language conventions are emphasized at every grade level.

Speaking, listening and writing is integrated into objectives and lesson plans, in order to ensure mastery of ELD standards. We reinforce correct oral English language skills in all their subjects. Even in Science and Math, students are corrected on their grammar. We also believe that public speaking is a necessary skill for our students and we teach it through modeling, correcting and oral presentation skills during portfolios and other projects.

1.15. Student Use of Technology.

RKHS graduates will be savvy consumers and producers of media and will use technology in order to enhance learning. As such, RKHS has adopted a number of computer based learning tools and resources including:

- Springboard is a curriculum created by the College Board that focuses on challenging students to engage in rigorous instruction by learning to ask questions, engaging in various reading and writing genres and learning college-level strategies that can be implemented in their analysis of texts. The Embedded Assessments are differentiated throughout each unit and students have the opportunities to create projects such as plays, essays, narratives, character analysis and so forth, while implementing technology.
- NewsELA is a literacy program that offers nonfiction articles pulled from publications like the LA Times, USA Today, and other reputable news sources, and allows readers to select the Lexile level at which the article will be presented. In addition to being an amazing differentiation tool, NewsELA also offers assessments and collaboration tools to enhance students' interaction when using the platform.
- Khan Academy is a computer-based assessment and math skills program. Students at all ability levels will use Khan Academy for instruction and practice to both fill skill deficits and to enhance understanding and retention. Students routinely use Khan Academy both on and off campus.
- Write Score Writing assessments are a core component of RKHS's instructional programs. Write Score is a computer administered writing assessment and skill building program. Students will take two yearly writing assessments online and receive feedback through the Write Score Program. Write Score also offers teachers a catalogue of online resources directly aligned to data from their class' writing assessments, and teachers may integrate these lessons directly into class time or may assign to individual students as additional work.
- Google Classroom and Apps are used in all classes to assist students in conducting research and evidence collection for projects, word processing, spreadsheet creation/usage, and presentation software. Students use Google Classroom to access materials from their classes that teachers have uploaded. Students access Google Docs, Sheets, and Slides to write essays, complete writing assignments, build spreadsheets to track information in Math and Science, create presentations for final projects, and to collaborate with classmates on projects and assignments.
- Chromebooks are assigned to every student and are used in all classes. RKHS is a 1:1 technology school and ensures that all students have access to a laptop in order to complete all assignments.
- Online Instructional Strategies:
    - Padlet is used to review or reflect on lessons conducted by the teacher.
    - Zoom is used for distance learning instruction. Teachers are able to use breakout rooms and engage students in conversations.
    - Google Hangouts is another distance learning platform used by the teachers and students. Students are familiar with GH and have learned how to implement this during online learning.
    - Pear Deck is used by teachers to create engaging lessons with live feedback from students. Teachers can track student progress by asking questions and checking for understanding and adjusting the lesson to increase engagement.

1.16. Graduation Requirements

In order to graduate, all students must successfully complete 220 credits. Within those 220 credits, students must complete all of the A-G requirements and one PE course. Most semester long courses taken at RKHS will earn five credits and most yearlong courses will earn ten credits. Students must earn a grade of C to pass each course.

Seniors Schedules: Seniors must have a minimum of 5 semester classes each semester according to Education Code 46145, which reads: "Pupils in grade 12 shall be enrolled in at least 5 courses each semester . . ." RKHS enforces this code strictly. Furthermore, seniors must have at least 210 credits in order to participate in the graduation ceremony.

Transfer Students: For transfer students entering Rise Kohyang High School, credits from an accredited high school will be entered on transcript and applied towards graduation credits.

Class Matriculation/Grade Level Requirements
In order to progress through the grades, students must make adequate progress to be eligible for the next grade level. Students must earn 50 credits to b++++++++++++++++e considered a sophomore, 100 credits to be considered a Junior, and 150 credits to be considered a Senior. Credit recovery at RKHS is completed through our partnership with BYU Independent Studies, using courses that are WASC accredited and facilitated with our credentialed teachers and counselors. BSS also provides a summer school program where our students can make up credits they are missing. That being said RKHS enjoys a 95% course pass rate and has only a handful of students that need to participate in credit recovery over the summer or winter breaks.

1.17: How the school will ensure it provides sufficient credit recovery opportunities and support

Students and staff quarterly review all students' progress towards graduation requirements in order to ensure students are making adequate progress towards their goals.

For students with an IEP, the Inclusion Specialist Teacher (IST) and Counselor communicate the plan determined after each IEP meeting and 504 plan review,to all stakeholders to ensure that students' individualized accommodations (e.g. implications for instruction, lesson planning, assignment design, and grading) are implemented with fidelity. ISTs regularly push-in to support student learning in real-time during class and provide additional interventions.

To monitor graduation requirement completion, Counselors review student progress on the Graduation Requirements Tracker (GRT) at each annual and triennial IEP meeting and at least once each semester (for all students enrolled at the school) to ensure students meet the CDE's college/career indicator. All students who are not on track to complete the graduation requirements within their desired timeline can engage in a variety of opportunities for credit recovery. Opportunities include summer school, partnerships with independent study programs, and online credit recovery platforms.

For students with more significant needs, the IEP team may consider a path to high school graduation through completion of the California Minimum requirements.

1.18: Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) Accreditation.

RKHS obtained WASC accreditation in Spring of 2018. The first graduating class from RKHS graduated in Spring 2020.

1.19: How the charter school will inform parents, including parents with limited English, about the transferability of courses to other public high schools and the eligibility of courses to meet college entrance requirements.

Parents are notified about the transferability of courses and the eligibility of courses to meet college entrance requirements through the Student and Family Handbook Policy distributed at the start of the school year. This handbook is translated into English and Spanish; a large percentage of RKHS staff, including our Office Manager and Family Engagement Liaison, are bilingual and able to speak Spanish if a family has any questions or needs any clarification.

Additionally, all Bright Star schools prioritize having a low student-to-counselor ratio, which allows counselors to work closely with new students and their families to set up their course schedule. Every student who enrolls after 9th grade participates in an individual intake meeting that includes a review of their transcript and progress towards graduation. All students meet with their Counselor annually in order to review their Graduation Requirements Tracker (including transcript review and an official record of courses completed and credits earned).

Counselors monitor student performance and collaborate closely with school leadership to ensure sufficient intervention opportunities are available for students not on track for meeting graduation and/or college entrance requirements on their intended timeline.

Professional Development

1.25: Professional Development

Because teachers are at different levels within their careers, each one of their needs and motivations for improvement is different. Therefore, Bright Star conducts a survey at the beginning and end of each school year, as well as after each organization-wide professional development day, to ensure all teachers' professional growth needs are addressed, budgeted and met to the best of our resources. During the org- wide professional development days, which occur both at the beginning of the school year and during 4 days spread across the school year, RKHS attends Bright Star Schools' professional learning days. These professional development days, which provide opportunities for teachers to attend differentiated sessions by content area (i.e. Mathematics, ELA, Science, History, etc.) and professional specific goals (i.e. English language development strategies, restorative continuum practices, building relationships with students, etc.).

RKHS shall use both student achievement data and instructional data to develop the school site professional development plan. At the beginning of each school year, the Deputy Superintendent of Education will review the CAASPP data, diagnostic testing results (such as from state aligned interim assessments, and pretests on online math and reading programs) to determine the efficacy of the previous year's instruction and student and teacher needs. This information will be used to collaboratively develop the school wide goals with the school Principal, which will ultimately inform instruction. Additionally, teacher observation and evaluation data will be closely tracked in our HR reporting system to determine trends in teacher needs. We have a few positions to help in this endeavor: Deputy Superintendent of Education, Vice President of Curriculum and Instruction, Vice President of People Development, Instructional Coaches, and the Principal. These experienced educators will perform routine observations, provide feedback and prepare professional development workshops for the "Professional Learning Communities" (PLCs) as needed.

Additionally, professional development will be provided by the Bright Star Schools' Director(s) of Inclusive (Special) Education, Bright Star Schools' Director of Curriculum and Instruction, administrators from other Bright Star schools, teachers who demonstrate promising practices and external professional development providers (as needed).

Beginning of the year professional development for the first year of the school's renewal cycle will include:

- Workshops, by content area, in cognitive engagement and rigor
- Seminars in reading and writing across the curriculum;
- Rigorous unit and lesson planning to teach for conceptual knowledge;
- Curriculum mapping to the Common Core State Standards;
- Best practices in assessment and use of classroom level
- Promoting a safe and positive classroom culture.

Teachers new to RKHS have one week of orientation and development to learn the philosophy and structures of the school's culture, all school policies and procedures, and to begin devising their classroom culture and scope and sequence plans of their respective curricula. They get ample time to work with a content expert that supports them in learning the curricula and particular pedagogical approaches for their content area and/or grade level. Existing teachers join the new teachers to the organization the following week and have at least two weeks of professional development before school begins.

After our assessment week in fall and spring, there is a pupil-free day focused on data analysis. During this time, teachers and administrators gather and assess student data on achievement, student behavior, and exam scores. With this information, teachers amend their instruction accordingly and make student intervention placements, including additional follow-up meetings with families. After amending their instruction, teachers are encouraged to analyze the impact that changes had on student achievement.

Coming together for these data-analysis checkpoints throughout the year ensure our data cycles are student-focused and thorough.

Four (4) pupil free days have been scheduled into the academic calendar to allow for professional development throughout the school year. Those days will include a combination of student achievement data review, interactive workshops on high leverage instructional strategies, grade level and departmental meetings. During the grade level and department meetings, teachers collaborate on content-specific pedagogy and applications to their classroom. Additionally, teachers will be contracted to stay until 4 p.m. each day to allow for school-wide professional development and departmental meetings. Lastly, RKHS has minimum days each week in order to support staff and teacher professional development in alignment with school and educator goals. are scheduled every other month to allow for collaborative professional development with other Bright Star Schools.

After two weeks of teacher professional development, student orientation follows, allowing for the development of strong teacher-student relationships. By building strong staff and community and culture with our teachers, then sequentially building community among our students, our schools are able to reinforce the idea of collaboration at both the staff and school level.

During the school year, RKHS teachers meet collaboratively with their administrators and fellow colleagues for professional development on a regular basis (once or twice a month) around high impact instructional and classroom culture strategies. RKHS and district administrators lead interactive professional development sessions focused on Danielson Framework focus areas and other high leverage classroom best practices. In addition to these workshops, teachers are also given time to work collaboratively in order to support each other's growth (i.e. Reviewing student data, lesson plans, etc.). Additionally, teachers receive ongoing classroom practice feedback through our Teacher Evaluation & Development process, where administrators lead teachers through full observation cycles of pre- conferencing, observing, and post- conferencing around the Danielson Teaching & Learning Framework. Our principals also lead teachers through reflection and discussion around our Professionalism Rubric, which is based on the Danielson Teaching & Learning Framework Domain 4. Domain 4 includes important facets of teachers' work including lesson planning, assessment, parent and family communication, and collaboration with colleagues. These conversations allow for continual reflection and teachers that are continually growing in their instructional and professional practice.

At the end of the school year, teachers and administrators shall meet regularly by department, whole group and grade level to close out the year and prepare for the upcoming school year. Not including weekly professional learning community (PLC) time, returning teachers receive a minimum of 20 days of professional development; new teachers have 25 days throughout the school year allowing for adequate teacher support and growth.

Additionally, in 2016-2017, Bright Star's teacher retention rate significantly increased, moving from 72% to 89%. This is largely due to a wellness initiative Bright Star implemented in all schools which allowed teachers additional family leave, as well as weekly on site fitness classes at school, nursing pods in each school for mothers, and healthy snacks in the teacher's lounge. This initiative was covered by the LA Times6 in February 2017, where our Deputy Superintendent of Education is quoted: "It's time to stop perpetuating the myth of the teacher martyr and start creating working conditions that allow instructors to make teaching a lifelong career." Bright Star is committed to finding ways that allow instructors to maximize their impact in the classroom and will continue to seek funding for initiatives for family- friendly, wellness-based initiatives.

1.26: Describe how the school will recruit credentialed teachers who are qualified to deliver the educational program, including any innovative components of the program.

RKHS recognizes that capable teachers and quality teaching play an extraordinarily significant role in the academic achievement of students. Recruitment, professional development and support, and retention of the highest quality faculty will be of the utmost importance.

Bright Star Schools' local recruiting methods include word-of-mouth, employee referrals, LinkedIn Recruiter, advertisements in local papers and on education and non-profit based job boards (such as Edjoin), as well as through a strong partnership with Teach for America and participation in annual charter schools job fairs. Additionally, Bright Star recruits at most major colleges and universities in the Greater Los Angeles area with university credentialed programs, including but not limited to: Azusa Pacific University, California State University - Northridge, Claremont Graduate University, Loyola Marymount University, Pepperdine University, University of California - Los Angeles, University of Southern California, as well as all California State Universities. Recently, Bright Star Schools has added outreach to online credentialing programs such as Alliant University and National University.

On a national level, Bright Star Schools' most effective recruiting method comes from our strong partnership with Teach for America and EnCorps. In addition to Los Angeles, Bright Star recruits from the Nevada, New Mexico, Northern California and Twin Cities regions. Additionally, Bright Star contacts alumni networks of colleges and universities, as well as teaching-based organizations such as Teach for America and Building Excellent Schools.

Meeting the Needs of All Students

A Student Support and Progress Team (SSPT) will be automatically formed for each student who does not have sufficient credits to be classified as matriculating to the next grade level. SSPTs will also be conducted for any student that struggles in general and is identified through the process which is conducted at monthly grade level meetings. At the monthly meeting teachers within the grade level bring relevant data (e.g. benchmark assessments, gradebooks, discipline referrals) and discuss students who are at risk of not being successful, including if a student has been deemed at-risk of becoming a long- term English learner. If it appears that a student is experiencing challenges in multiple classes, the grade level team refers the student for an SSPT. The SSPT is facilitated by the student's counselor, who acts as the main point of contact for monitoring the implementation of interventions. Also present will be the principal, the student's grade level teachers, parent, and student. If the tiered interventions are not producing the anticipated improvements and any signs of a disability are present, the student is referred for an assessment process. If a disability is not present, the SSPT team reconvenes to determine additional supports and the process continues.

Students shall be typically referred by the classroom teacher, but any member of the school staff may request support from the SSPT for a student whose learning, behavior or emotional needs are not being met under existing circumstances. All SSPT meetings will be documented, and student progress is reviewed in subsequent meetings. During the creation of the initial plan, the team indicates on the SSPT document whether the data will be reviewed after four or six weeks. The SSPT lead will gather and review the data at that point. If a student is following the SSPT plan and achieving, then a successive meeting is not necessary; rather additional meetings are planned for students who continue to demonstrate they are struggling.

1.27: Meeting Needs of ELs

RKHS is required to timely identify potential English Learner students and provide them with an effective English language acquisition program that affords meaningful access to the school's academic core curriculum. Instructional plans for English Learners (EL) must be:

- Based on sound educational theory;
- Adequately supported with trained teachers and appropriate materials and resources;
- Periodically evaluated to make sure the program is successful and modified when the program is not successful.

On an annual basis (on or about October 1), RKHS shall submit a certification to the District certifying they will either adopt and implement LAUSD's English Learner Master Plan or implement RKHS's own English Learner Instructional/Master Plan. If RKHS chooses to implement its own EL plan, the instructional plan shall encompass the following, including but not limited to:

- How ELs' needs will be identified;
- What services will be offered;
- How, where and by whom the services will be provided;
- How the program for ELS is evaluated each year and how the results of this assessment will be used to improve those services (annual report of the assessments)

PROCESS FOR IDENTIFYING ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNERS
Upon being admitting to any Bright Star school, students receive an enrollment packet which includes the following Home Language Survey (HLS) questions:

- What language did the student learn when he or she first began to talk?
- What language does this student most frequently use at home?
- What language do you use most frequently to speak to this student?

- Which language is most often used by the adults at home?

The family's answers to these questions are used to determine a student's home language status as follows:

- English Only (EO): If the answers to the four questions on the HLS are "English", the child is classified as English Only.
- Possible English Learner (EL): If the answers to any of the first three questions on the HLS indicate a language other than English, or a combination of English and another language, the child is assessed to measure his or her level of English proficiency. However, if the parent's response to the first three questions on the HLS is English, and the response to the fourth question is other than English, then reasonable doubt may exist as to the student's home language. The school's administrator/designee must research the student's home language background using the following indicators, as well as consultation with the student's parent:
    - Parent/guardian requires an interpreter to communicate in English
    - Parent/guardian speaks to their child in a language other than English
    - The HLS is completed in a language other than English (including spelling the word "English" in another language; e.g. ingles)
    - Student initiates interaction with their parents/guardians in a language other than English
    - It is revealed that the child, while their parent/guardian is at work, is under the care of a person(s) who speaks a language other than English
    - Student, after having been enrolled in the Mainstream English Program designed for students with fluent-English proficiency for a reasonable length of time, demonstrates a
        - lack of comprehension regarding instruction and classroom/school routines conducted in English.

If there is evidence of significant non-English exposure, then the pupil must be administered the state English language proficiency assessment, currently known as the English Language Proficiency Assessments for California (ELPAC). The parent/guardian will be consulted by a certificated staff member regarding the need to administer the assessment, the results, and the subsequent program placement of the child.

State and federal regulations require that if the student's HLS indicates a language other than English is used at home, the student's English language proficiency level must be assessed. Students will be assessed within 30 calendar days at the beginning of the school year, or within 2 weeks if a student enrolls during the school year. In addition, parents must be notified of the assessment results and program placement within 30 calendar days of initial enrollment.

NOTE: In accordance with Education Code (EC), initially-enrolling students identified by the HLS as potential ELs may not be exempted from taking the state-adopted English language proficiency assessment. The purpose of the English language proficiency assessment is to officially determine a student's language proficiency level in English. It is also used on an annual basis to measure progress in acquiring English.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM FOR ENGLISH LANGUAGE ACQUISITION

All students are placed in the Mainstream English Program. English Language Learners are supported through a combination of modified instruction, additional academic support as needed, and specific strategies for acquiring academic English. Teachers provide sheltered instruction using "specially designed academic instruction in English" (SDAIE) techniques when students have difficulty understanding English. The school also promotes the success of English Language Learners by valuing the Spanish language as a critical resource and fostering a bilingual culture. English Language Learners act as mentors to Spanish Language Learners as part of class assignments in the Spanish courses.

Designated and Integrated ELD instruction

RKHS EL students receive both Designated and Integrated ELD instruction. Designated ELD instruction is its own classroom session and occurs at specific protected times during the school day and focuses on language skills.Designated instruction happens at specific protected timed during the school day and focuses on language skills. Our Designated ELD instruction uses the ELD standards to give EL students strategic language practice. RKHS employs a site-based ELD coordinator that provides ELD instruction. Students who are ELPAC levels 1 & 2 receive designated supports. These supports take place at the end of the day. The table proceeding demonstrates the differences between designated and integrated supports.

As the ELD Coordinator will also push in to General Education classes where teachers have to align ELD standards to their curriculum and lessons, assurance of students meeting the ELD standards will be comprised in multi-folds. Teacher lesson plans will be checked and feedback will be provided by the ELD coordinator based on the ELD standards. Secondly, with the students who receive language support in a stand alone class, their grades will be progress monitored in this class based on ELD standards. Morevoer, students at higher ELPAC levels will be closely monitored to ensure that they improve each year on the ELPAC until they are redesignated with data driven instruction and assessments based on ELD standards.

CHART: BRIGHT STAR SCHOOLS INSTRUCTIONAL DIFFERENCES BETWEEN INTEGRATED DESIGNATED ELD SUPPORTS

To ensure EL students receive the service needed, ELD instructors created a feedback cycle where they will lead professional developments with their school team, then individually follow up with each staff member to lead walkthroughs/observations. This ensures instructors are implementing strategies correctly. In the interim between meetings and observations, the complete list of professional development is accessible to instructors on an intra-organization platform. Some of the resources include previous presentations, professional resources for We all collaborate during the org-wide professional development.

English Language Proficiency Assessments

The ELPAC results are to be accurately and permanently recorded in the school's student information system. ELs with disabilities must be assessed with the initial or annual ELPAC. The results yield a three part process for RKHS:

- RKHS will review reports from initial and annual ELPAC results
- Analysis of high-level trends will be conducted
    - Based off these trends, professional development will be created for all teachers so they can be equipped with support for these students.

Additionally, progress will be monitored in biweekly meetings with ELD coordinators to review reports and adjust analysis as needed.

The following reports/data is monitored biweekly:

- Performance in grade-level core content areas
- student work samples, and
- General classroom teacher and ELD Coordinators collaborate using EL student Individualized Language Plans. These reports are used to review students' progress.

ELs with disabilities may be tested using the California Department of Education (CDE)-approved Testing Variations, Accommodations, and Modifications, which is updated annually. The Individualized Education Program (IEP) team must document in the student's IEP any accommodations or modifications used, and these must not deviate from those approved by CDE. All ELs with disabilities will be assessed with the ELPAC annually after they have been identified as ELs. ELs with moderate-to-severe disabilities are to be assessed in accordance with their IEP.

State and federal guidelines require each EL to be assessed annually to determine their progress in acquiring English language proficiency. This assessment is given within a test window prescribed by California Education Code.

The official ELPAC assessment results are provided to parents in a language they understand when the results become available from the test publisher. Information on how to interpret the ELPAC results is available in various languages. Parents may request a meeting to discuss the assessment results.

INITIAL LANGUAGE CLASSIFICATION/STATUS

A student's initial language classification or status is determined by their overall performance on the initial English language proficiency assessment, currently the ELPAC Initial Assessment. Based on the performance level, a student may be classified as following:

Novice English Learner [EL]: Students at this level have minimally developed oral (listening and speaking) and written (reading and writing) English skills. They tend to rely on learned words and phrases to communicate meaning at a basic level. They need substantial-to-moderate linguistic support to communicate in familiar social and academic contexts; they need substantial linguistic support to communicate on less familiar tasks and topics. This test performance level corresponds to the "Emerging" proficiency level as described in the 2012 ELD Standards.

Intermediate English Learner [EL]: Students at this level have somewhat developed to moderately developed oral (listening and speaking) and written (reading and writing) skills. This level captures a broad range of English learners, from those who can use English only to meet immediate communication needs to those who can, at times, use English to learn and communicate in meaningful ways in a range of topics and content areas. They may need some degree of linguistic support to engage in familiar social and academic contexts (depending on the student, the level of support needed may be moderate, light, or minimal); they may need substantial-to-moderate support to communicate on less familiar tasks and topics. This test performance level corresponds to the entire "Expanding" proficiency level and to the lower range of the "Bridging" proficiency level as described in the 2012 ELD Standards.

Initial Fluent English Proficient [IFEP]: Students at this level have well developed oral (listening and speaking) and written (reading and writing) skills. They can use English to learn and communicate in meaningful ways that are appropriate to different tasks, purposes, and audiences in a variety of social and academic contexts. They may need occasional linguistic support to engage in familiar social and academic contexts; they may need light support to communicate on less familiar tasks and topics. This test performance level corresponds to the upper range of the "Bridging" proficiency level as described in the 2012 California English Language Development Standards, Kindergarten Through Grade Twelve (2012 ELD Standards).

Push Ins:

- EL students are supported in the classroom by one-on-one support with an ELD instructional assistant. Before entering the classroom, the supporting teacher reviews the lesson plan for the day in order to point out where support will be needed as well what types of supports will be helpful. Typically, students are given one-on-one support during independent work time. Students are given supports such as sentence frames, guided reading, guided questions, model thinking, etc.
- Students also receive push-in support via their general ed teachers. As RKHS "pushes in" students, we also take notes on "missed opportunities" that come up during the lesson. For example, if a writing class assignment is given, without sentence frames for ELs, we take note of that lack of support and eventually communicate this observation with the general ed teacher. The feedback that is given, is expected to be applied to future lessons by the teacher.

Pull-Out

- EL students receive tutoring for their general ed classes during pull-out class, but it is geared towards integration. In a small group setting, students will be able to get more one-on-one support from the ELD coordinator or the ELD Instructional Assistant.
- ELD pull-out will help students practice skills with items such as note taking skills, how to have collaborative interactions, researching, pacing, etc.
- Students will work on their writing and reading skills by learning to skim articles, how to cite evidence, how to use proper punctuation, etc.
- Students will prepare for upcoming SRI or ELPAC assessments during our pull-out time together. Students will gain experience with the assessment through example questions.
- Students are given supplemental work during our pull-out time for their general ed classes that provides various modes for students to access the content (SDAIE strategies)
- Depending on areas of need, other supports such as technology has been incorporated. Bright Star provides students with electronic dictionaries as well as access to Rosetta Stone to improve their reading experience.
- Students use computers with microphones and headphones to improve English reading, listening, speaking, and orthographic skills
- Students are given accommodations during state testing whenever possible.

PROCESS AND SPECIFIC CRITERIA FOR RECLASSIFICATION

Once a student is identified as an English Language Learner (ELL), the student will continue to take the ELPAC, on an annual basis until the student is Reclassified as Fluent English Proficient (RFEP). The test will be administered within the time constraints that are mandated by the CDE.

ELLs are reclassified to fluent English proficient based on the following multiple criteria identified in the California Education Code and recommended by the State Board of Education (SBE). Chart 1.12 shows the minimum criteria to be considered for reclassification.

The administrator/designee at each school site is responsible for ensuring that ELLs who meet the eligibility criteria are reclassified in a timely manner. This process begins when the official results of the ELPAC are released, as well as at the end of each reporting period. Students who have met the reclassification criteria are identified and parents are informed of their proficiency in writing.

Process for Monitoring Progress and Effectiveness of supports for LTELS and for students beginning at Risk

RKHS has adopted College Board's SpringBoard 9-12 ELA/ELD Curriculum, specifically with LTELs in mind. SpringBoard is the College Board's comprehensive instructional program in English Language Arts. The SpringBoard ELD curriculum has been crafted specifically for California's ELA/ELD Standards to help students acquire the skills and knowledge needed for Advanced Placement and for success in college and beyond.

SpringBoard's ELD activities have ELD standards as the focal point and emphasize differentiated instruction to strategically support English learners as they learn ELA content.

The curriculum's formative assessments are given around grade-level complex texts and monitor both how students perform on the task and where they are on the ELD continuum for standards related to the task.

1.28: Meeting the Needs of Gifted and Talented Students and Students Achieving Above Grade Level

IDENTIFYING STUDENTS ACHIEVING ABOVE GRADE LEVEL
While we anticipate that most students' needs are addressed by the wide variety of school-wide supports already in place, RKHS is committed to working with students who are performing above grade level to help them achieve, grow and be continuously challenged. High-achieving students will be referred for a meeting if they meet the following criteria:

- Performing more than one level above his/her actual grade level, based off scores from NWEA, Summit, and CAASPP data
- Earning 4 on rubrics (or A on letter grades) of content learning standards in core content learning standards

A meeting with the parent, counselor, and the principal or designee is used to document goals and objectives to accelerate a student achieving above grade level. RKHS's Assistant Principal will monitor the progress of students achieving above grade level through implementation of its data driven systems. Weekly, interim and yearly assessments will be provided to all students and the data is aggregated by subgroups during grade level meetings and at the Bright Star Data Days. RKHS will examine student's performance and supports to help advance this group.

HOW RKHS WILL DETERMINE, MEET THE EDUCATIONAL NEEDS OF AND MONITOR THE PROGRESS OF GIFTED AND TALENTED STUDENTS
High achieving students will be provided differentiated instruction, which accelerates the pace and amount of instruction the student receives. In addition, we will customize a student's individual work folder with assignments and materials that accelerate their learning and address the goals and objectives. During, before and after school, and on Saturdays, an individual program is assembled for high achieving students to accelerate their learning, as well as customizing homework to meet student's objectives, and communicating progress with students, teachers, and parents. For example, students may be assigned accelerated and enriched assignments in their area of strength. Utilizing the components of Sandra Kaplan's "Depth and Complexity," assignments will be modified and extended as such.

Students may also engage in longer term cross curricular projects with students of similar ability level. Students will not be assessed for Gifted and Talented Education (GATE) eligibility.

HOW RKHS WILL IDENTIFY STUDENTS IN THIS GROUP
Teachers use a variety of in-house standards based assessments, along with Smarter Balance Assessment, Interim Assessment Blocks, and Interim Comprehensive assessment results to determine the students who need additional supports. Teachers receive extensive training on effective intervention strategies utilizing the RTI model targeted towards the areas of greatest need. Our emphasis on high expectations for all students, no excuses, hard work, structured school environment and more all help to create a school culture of success and support.

1.29: Describe how the charter school will meet the needs of students achieving below grade level.

Nevertheless, in some instances students who are achieving below grade level may require additional assistance and Tier III Interventions to catch up to their peers. As discussed above, strategies may include after-school tutoring, differentiated instruction and other program modifications and supports as determined by the classroom teacher. Teachers may modify classroom materials or strategies in coordination with the SSPT Team for students who are achieving below grade level, depending on the student's specific need, including such things as providing visual aids; adapt worksheets or assignment materials; providing directions in writing or in smaller, distinct steps; pre-teaching; modifying assignments (lower level or shorten); give extra cues or prompts; offer extended time or allow breaks; modify testing methods (e.g., read test questions aloud, change the setting of the test to a more quiet environment, etc.). Students may also receive small group pull out support and instruction embedding within the regular class day. Every effort is made to avoid pulling students from an elective period so that Tier III interventions are not perceived as a punishment.

In the event that struggling students fail to make satisfactory academic progress despite receiving Tier I, II, and III supports, and having exhausted all general education supports, the SSPT team may decide to refer the student for special education assessment, a 504 Plan, and/or reexamine a student's English Learner status.

HOW RKHS WILL IDENTIFY STUDENTS ACHIEVING BELOW GRADE LEVEL
RKHS begins by analyzing previous norm referenced common core assessments such as SBAC to help place students in appropriate classes, and identify skills the school should incorporate in its program to support the learning process. As the year progresses, student progress is monitored using our A-G tracker as well as the teacher gradebooks. The leadership team analyzes these trends on a weekly basis by course, by teacher, by grade, and by subgroup. Teachers identify individual students who have not sufficiently mastered standards and designate these students to either small group tutoring instruction or individual one on one support. At the 8 week mark of the first semester, teachers identify students who are struggling in 3 or more classes during their grade level meeting and nominate these students for the SSPT process. Follow up monitoring occurs and the plan is adjusted to continually meet the needs of the learners.

HOW RKHS WILL MONITOR THE PROGRESS OF STUDENTS ACHIEVING BELOW GRADE LEVEL
RKHS monitors the progress of students at-risk through implementation of its data-driven systems. Weekly, interim and yearly assessments are provided to all students and the data is aggregated by sub groups. RKHS examines at- risk students' performance and may refer to these students for Tier II interventions, such as small group clustering and re-teaching, in class differentiated materials or strategies, small group work with an Instructional Assistant, or daily tutoring (led by classroom teacher) to help advance this group. The Assistant Principal is primarily responsible for overseeing this monitor of progress.

Socioeconomically Disadvantaged/Low Income Students

1.30: Describe how the charter school will meet the needs of socioeconomically disadvantaged/low income students separate and apart from the needs of low achieving students.

As mentioned in Section 1.2, the vast majority of our families in the communities we serve are socio- economically disadvantaged. In the 2018-2019 CALPADS data, over 85% of Bright Star students qualify for free-reduced lunch. Because of this, the design of Bright Star schools is geared specifically towards the needs of socioeconomically disadvantaged students.

Our teachers and staff will also receive training on recognizing symptoms and behaviors indicative of a child's need for additional supports, including issues relating to hunger, extreme poverty, and individual families' challenges to meet their child's needs. Since we anticipate the majority of our students come from socio-economically disadvantaged backgrounds, Counselors will continuously monitor all students and identify supports (including access to our free/reduced meal plan, socio-emotional counseling, tutoring, and after school program, etc.) RKHS maintains and analyzes assessment records to ensure we are meeting the needs of this targeted population as measured by CA Department of Education for performance on state standardized assessments. In addition to ensuring socioeconomically disadvantaged students are academically prepared, we also assist with families in need of uniforms or school supplies. We fundraise to provide families that need assistance with purchasing uniforms or other school supplies like paper, pencils, backpacks, etc.

HOW RKHS WILL MEET THE NEEDS OF STUDENTS IN THIS SUBGROUP

We will provide the structural, programmatic, and curricular elements that enable teachers to bridge their students' academic gaps and demonstrate strong academic achievement at all grade levels - regardless of socio-economic status. Instructional methods and educational components at RKHS will be designed to address the needs of this population. Our Connections program is one of the greatest supports to our socio-economically disadvantaged students. While our Counselors all have Pupil Personnel Services (PPS) credentials, many also possess a Master of Marriage and Family Therapy (MFT) or a Master of Social Work (MSW). Counselors work collaboratively with the whole family to identify supporting agencies that provide services that assist families in overcoming the students' unique barriers to learning. This may include anything from arranging no-cost or low-cost counseling services for the student or family members, assisting families in applying for subsidized housing or other family aid services available to local residents.

Furthermore, we expose all students to multiple enrichment opportunities both during and after school, as well as take them on a number of LEL's that increase cultural awareness and provide for varied life experiences. Faculty and staff accompany students on a number of enriching trips such as Underwood Farms, the Gentle Barn, and Topanga Canyon's Shakespeare camps. RKHS also collaborates with community partners to coordinate events such as the Community Helper Living Museum, so students can make and develop greater connections to their community at large.

Students in Other Subgroups

1.31a: Foster Youth

The organization serves to meet the various needs of Foster Youth in accordance with AB 490 -- EC 48853.5. Bright Star Schools identifies Foster Youth through the enrollment process, self-disclosure or interaction with the Department of Child and Family Services or other welfare officers. The needs of Foster Youth are determined and met by working closely with educators, school personnel, social workers, probation officers, caregivers, advocates, juvenile court officers and community based organizations. A variety of services such as tutoring, mentoring, counseling and advising are provided on campus by school personnel and in partnership with community based organizations.

The progress of Foster Youth is monitored by teachers as an explicit subgroup. This data is then gathered on a quarterly basis by the school's Homeless and Foster Youth Liaison, who is also a Counselor. This liaison will determine the appropriate actions to take, if any are needed.

"A Typical Day"

1.32: "A Typical Day" at RKHS

At RKHS, we value transparency in the policies, structures, and systems that guide the makings of our school culture and academic program.

Our belief in the transparency of our school is three fold: 1) We are accountable to the public that we serve; 2) We have a responsibility to share the successes that result as a direct corollary to the best practices that we employ; and 3) We wish to open ourselves to useful feedback, so that we continuously improve the systems that serve our students. At RKHS we will always ensure that our doors are open to visitors who can share our pride in the great successes of our scholars and who can provide ongoing feedback on our educational program.

Before the School Day Begins
The doors of RKHS open to welcome our students at 7:30 am. At that time, every student is greeted with a smile, eye contact, and an affirmation that a great day of learning awaits them.

As students make their way into campus, they select their morning breakfast from a number of healthy options and may choose to enjoy breakfast on the courtyard with friends and staff members who are on supervision duty.

Academic Day
After breakfast, students begin their day with Advisory classes by 8AM which serve to prepare students for a successful day as well as incorporate character development activities on different days of the week. These activities come in the form of whole group social-emotional check-ins on Mondays, academic checks on Tuesdays, college awareness and readiness lessons on Fridays, and on Thursdays through community circles addressing topics that affect the RKHS community as well as our community at large. Additionally, once a week on Wednesdays, students go through various “steps” of New Directions, our social-emotional learning curriculum, tailored to our students by 21st Century Thinking with the intention of having students learn about the brain and how they can better control it to make educated decisions, particularly around conflict resolution, improve their mental and physical health, and be happier.

Upon conclusion of advisory, students then transition into their instructional periods of the day. The day has been designed to maximize opportunities for learning. Cross curricular literacy is very important at RKHS, so all classes incorporate reading and writing techniques to build a strong literacy core. For example, History in all grades will incorporate non-fiction informational texts that are analyzed in class in addition to standards-based lessons that contextualize the concepts read about in the literature. Each student takes Physical Education to develop a strong mind and body, and various sections of art and music are offered to allow students to express themselves through different mediums.

Classroom Systems
Walking from class to class, a visitor may notice that there is a school culture and school wide systems that uphold and support the high expectations set for students. All classrooms include signs that reinforce the school's values though individual Classroom Charters, a common board setup which includes a daily learning objective and how the teacher will measure whether the student successfully met the objective, a Do Now (or starting activity), and an agenda. All teacher instruction follows the "I do, we do, you do" format, incorporating engaging strategies, group work, and the latest techniques learned from professional development to increase and drive student performance. All teachers are trained to expect one hundred percent student participation, and use high-leverage strategies to keep students attentive. Transitions are smooth and without disturbance, maximizing efficiency and minimizing distraction. Students have been inculcated with training in systems as simple as raising hands, handing back papers and moving in lines, to complex systems involving respectfully offering feedback to peers during class.

The school day for all students comes to a close with our End of Day Advisory period. This is a short period of time dedicated to having the student government make daily announcements, for the school to distribute communication home, and for students to return their technology to laptops carts to ensure they are ready to go the following day.

After School
Given the amount of time and energy we have dedicated to creating a school environment designed to maximize learning opportunities and development during the day, we have placed significant emphasis on our after school offerings as well. We work vigilantly to ensure that every student who is in need of after school support is met with academic assistance of the highest level through teacher office hours. We offer a full CIF sports program, with nine different seasonal sports, for any student who meets the prerequisites to participate in. And we offer 21 clubs, sponsored by teachers and staff, so that students can express themselves and have a safe place to do so.

Element 2: Measurable Pupil Outcomes and Element 3: Method by which Pupil Progress Toward Outcomes will be Measured

"The measurable pupil outcomes identified for use by the charter school. "Pupil outcomes," for purposes of this part, means the extent to which all pupils of the school demonstrate that they have attained the skills, knowledge, and attitudes specified as goals in the school's educational program. Pupil outcomes shall include outcomes that address increases in pupil academic achievement both schoolwide and for all pupil subgroups served by the charter school, as that term is defined in subdivision (a) of Section 52052. The pupil outcomes shall align with the state priorities, as described in subdivision (d) of Section 52060, that apply for the grade levels served by the charter school." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(B).)

"The method by which pupil progress in meeting those pupil outcomes is to be measured. To the extent practicable, the method for measuring pupil outcomes for state priorities shall be consistent with the way information is reported on a school accountability report card." (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(C).)

Charter School shall meet all statewide content and performance standards and targets. (Ed. Code §§ 47605(d)(1), 60605.)

Charter School shall comply with all applicable laws and regulations related to AB 97 (2013) (Local Control Funding Formula) and AB 484 (2013), as they may be amended from time to time, including all requirements pertaining to pupil outcomes.

STANDARDIZED TESTING

Charter School agrees to comply with state requirements for participation and administration of all state-mandated tests, including computer-based assessments. Charter School shall submit and maintain complete, accurate, and up-to-date California Longitudinal Pupil Achievement Data System (CALPADS) data in accordance with the requirements of California Code of Regulations, title 5, section 861. Charter School hereby grants authority to the State of California to provide a copy of all test results directly to the District as well as Charter School. Upon request, Charter School shall submit, in the requested format (e.g., CD), a copy of the results of all state-mandated tests to the District.

Measurable Goals of the Educational Program

2.1: Describe the measurable goals and objectives of the school's educational program.

Please see Element 1.8: Description of the schools annual goals for this section.

Measurable Pupil Outcomes: Summative Assessment Performance Targets

2.2: Specific performance targets (pupil outcomes), for all pupils (i.e.,schoolwide) and for each subgroup of pupils identified pursuant to Education Code § 52052, that align with the eight (8) state priorities identified in Education Code § 52060(d).

Please see Element 1.8: Description of the schools annual goals for this section.

3.3: School's annual measurable goals using a standardized assessment for each grade not participating in CAASPP (SBA) and the school's plan for assessing student academic growth and achievement of the standards and measurable goals for the grade level.

RKHS administers the Interim Comprehensive Assessment to all grade levels and analyzes performance for each cohort each year. We also look year over year to understand growth or changes in performance over time. Using this data, plus 8th grade CAASPP data, we can track progress over a five year period for students in our network. We also filter the data by important subgroups and understand these more granular performance trends.

Listed in the table below are the growth targets for each grade level in ELA and Math respectively. Ninth and tenth grade goals for both Math and ELA are measured by proficiency on the Spring ICA. Twelfth grade ELA proficiency baseline is measured by students receiving B or higher in the standardized Expository Reading and Writing Course, or a C or higher in AP English Literature. Twelfth grade Math proficiency baseline is measured by students receiving B or higher in a Math course Algebra II or higher.

Other Performance Targets

3.4: All other measurable goals, including goals for any key features in the program, identify each goal, the annual assessment tool(s) or other means to be used to measure levels of performance regarding the goal, and specific annual performance target(s) or outcomes.

Please see Element 1.8: Description of the schools annual goals for this section.

Method for Measuring Pupil Progress Toward Outcomes: Formative Assessment

3.5: How the school will monitor and measure student progress toward mastery of state standards and the other goals identified above.

The assessment plan for RKHS is designed to be a tool for internal and external accountability as well as to improve instruction and student achievement. To best assure that the school is measuring what RKHS expects students to learn, assignments are aligned with Common Core state standards (as available) and the school's desired pupil outcomes and curriculum. All curriculum and assessments are standards-based as mentioned in Element 1. Ongoing assessments are used to meet the following objectives:

- To help teachers revise curriculum and instruction according to student needs.
- To help principal and Deputy Superintendent of Education effectively manage their staffs for effective outcomes.
- To give parents and students meaningful, useful feedback on student progress.
- To compare the school's progress to that of schools with similar student demographics.
- To monitor the school's progress in meeting its mission and revise its activities as needed.
- To be accountable for meeting student exit outcomes.

We believe that all children can learn at high levels and can be held to the same high standards regardless of their academic level when they enter our school. In order to ensure that all students reach these goals, we must be able to accurately measure how well students are mastering core skills, content and standards. To do this, we establish a baseline measure of student achievement using diagnostics and prior years' academic data and then continuously monitor and assess progress from that point. This allows teachers to gauge content mastery levels and adjust instruction as needed.

Specific Assessment Tools (frequency included):

1. Baseline Assessment: Baseline assessment is obtained using data from both internal and external assessments. At the beginning of the year, all students are administered a universal screener assessment for reading, called the Scholastic Reading Inventory, or SRI. Additionally, students are also given the NWEA Map Assessment, which is a Norm Referenced Test that provides data on student ability in Reading, Math, and Science. This allows the school to gather more specific data on student needs than that CAASPP data alone. These results are used to appropriately determine additional interventions and supports that will support student needs. Students' initial performance on these assessments is used as a baseline against which we can compare year-end results, and through which we measure longitudinal academic growth from year to year. In this way, the school can accurately interpret the results of these tests and the effectiveness of instruction during the year. Additionally, at the start of each school year, teachers closely examine student achievement on the previous year's CAASPP, paying special attention to claims and targets that need additional support. These comparative results, in addition to data from internal assessments, are used to improve instruction for the following school year.

2. In-House Assessments: There are two categories of assessment at RKHS:

    a. Formative Assessments that measure how well the students understand and have mastered the more normalized standards-based assessments. These assessments include the NWEA Map Norm Referenced Exam (administered three times a year- in August, February, and June) to measure growth in ELA, Math, and Science; the Scholastic Reading Inventory (administered monthly) to measure growth in reading comprehension; and Write Score (administered twice a year- in October and March) to measure growth in writing ability. We believe that everyone should be assessed in their writing several times a year in order to improve in their skill and become college-ready writers. School- wide writing exams are administered two-three times a year and mirror the Performance Tasks students will encounter on the CAASPP. Additionally, teachers use a range of informal assessments during the learning process in order to modify teaching and learning activities to improve student attainment. These formative assessments allow teachers to determine student progress on a defined sets of skills, as well as measuring overall students growth over the course of predetermined periods of instruction. Teachers use teacher-created assessments they further embed into the curriculum, unit tests, quizzes, as well as interim comprehensive assessments developed by the Smarter Balance Assessment Consortium, NWEA assessments and WriteScore.

    b. Summative Unit Assessments/Projects: Teachers create or compile course assessments or end of unit projects that take place at the end of each unit. They inform current instruction by providing feedback to the teachers as to whether or not the students have grasped that which has been taught.

3. Report Cards: Although information on student academic performance is provided to families weekly, formal Report Cards are published each semester.

Data Analysis and Reporting

3.6a: Outline the school's plan for collecting, analyzing, using, and reporting academic performance and other data.

RKHS uses intentional systems around data analysis to inform and improve teaching and student learning. In order to ensure students have met statewide performance content standards, the Principal oversees the collection and analysis of assessment data using our student information system Illuminate, along with Department Leaders. All teachers complete a data analysis of their student data every quarter.

Our data analysis begins with Interim Assessments (IA) developed prior to the school year by school leaders and teachers. IAs cover test content from the California content standards, and Common Core. Teachers administer IAs throughout the year and student performance results inform the modification of the annual scope and sequence and weekly lesson plans as needed.

Interim assessments will be scored and analyzed by teachers directly in the CAASPP system. Using the IAs, teachers will be able to re-teach standards to prepare students for content mastery. School leaders collect and compile the data. This also includes the analysis of student subgroups, not limited to inclusive education, and English language learners. Teachers conduct reflection on the IA scores to facilitate assessment analysis and create action plans. Teachers then meet with their department leader and/or Principal during the weekly one-two hour professional development, and/or teacher preparatory time, after interim assessments to closely analyze the data. This could also ensue tutoring groups after school as well as who stays for Catch-Up days to remediate on certain standards. Further, content teachers meet in org-wide professional development days in content cadres where content expert teachers facilitate error analysis and plans mini-reteach units/plans together. This helps create opportunities for teachers to reflect upon their own teaching and student learning.

Teacher analysis of Interim Assessments consist of three parts:

1. Teacher reflection on student performance expectations, teaching priorities, student strengths and weaknesses;
2. Detailed analysis of standards mastery through analysis of whole class mastery, small group, subgroup and individual mastery and analysis of errors and with instructional plan to address areas of concern;
3. Details for re-teaching.

In addition to teacher-created assessments and projects, we administer the Write Score writing performance task exam with the DBQ, and the Inspect Interim benchmarks. We review these results by grade level cohort, individual class, and individual student as an ongoing part of our staff Professional Development. This comprehensive approach to data analysis allows: teachers to know which standards need to be effectively re-taught or reinforced; school leaders to know the most appropriate professional development supports needed for teachers as a whole and teachers as individuals; and most importantly, the entire staff to develop and execute a data-driven action plan to ensure that every child learns.

These action plans identify:

- Skills/concepts to be retaught to the entire class
- Skills/concepts to be retaught to small groups during class
- Skills/concepts to be retaught to individual students with one-on-one teacher instruction or with the assistance of a peer or volunteer tutor
- Students in need of intense remediation and/or tutoring
- Adjustments to existing small groups
- Weaknesses in the curriculum to be revised for subsequent years
- Support and professional development for the teacher to strengthen areas of instructional weakness

Action plans will be revisited frequently in professional development meetings, grade-level and content- area team meetings to ensure that students are making adequate progress toward mastery.

3.6b: The role and use of data to inform curriculum, instruction, tiered intervention, and enrichment

As indicated, assessment data will be used to inform curricular decisions, teacher supports, and professional development needs, as well as identifying those standards that need to be re-taught, which require small group intervention, and which require individualized student supports. Assessment data will be used to evaluate the efficacy of our educational program over time, and, as needed, make changes to curriculum sources used or instructional strategies.

3.6c: The role and use of data to monitor and improve the charter school's educational program and operations by the staff, school site leadership, executive leadership, and governing board

In the 2018-19 school year, Bright Star created an internal org-wide dashboard that monitors academic, governance, operational progress for each Bright Star school. At the start of each school year, each school creates goals for each area based on student and school progress goals identified in their action plans, LCAP goals and any noted area for growth. Every quarter, schools update this dashboard and the progress towards the goal is closely monitored and shared with Heads of Schools, Bright Star executive leadership and ultimately, the Governing Board.

3.6d: Role And Use Of Data To Inform Stakeholders Of School Performance

RKHS also uploads all data requested by the California Department of Education (CDE) to complete a School Accountability Report Card (SARC). The Board of Directors issues an annual report that includes demographic data, academic achievement, financial reports and a summary of other significant developments and accomplishments over the course of each academic year. The school's leadership reports the results of state assessments to all community members including parents. The annual report is a public document, published on the school's website (www.brightstarschools.org) and delivered to the District, the Los Angeles County Office of Education, CDE and any other parties who request it.

Individual Student Progress Reporting & Communication
Students receive report cards at the end of each semester and receive updates every five weeks Student and teacher attendance and retention rates are also monitored, as these are closely related to student success. Student progress reports are the primary record of student progress, where assessment results are interpreted clearly, meaningfully and consistently. This information is also readily available on the online parent portal on Illuminate.

Progress reports create a succinct written record of student performance in all core content classes. Progress reports are one of several ways to keep parents in the communication loop about student performance, and ensure that communication around student progress is regular and consistent.

Ongoing communication between teachers, parents, and students is an essential component of RKHS. Parent conferences can be with teachers on an informal basis throughout the year, and on a formal basis three times per year to discuss students' academic progress and upcoming learning plans.

Every effort is made to identify students who are not performing well. Teachers and Counselors have grade level meetings weekly where SSPT students are discussed as well as other data and information. This informs tutoring, parent meetings, follow up meetings with administrators, intervention plans, etc.

Instructors meet throughout the year in Professional Learning Communities to discuss assessment results within subject areas, by grade levels, as a whole staff, and in dialogue with students, parents, and administrators. These conversations are used to improve curriculum and instruction as well as to evolve the assessment process itself.

3.7c: Promotion/Retention Policy And ProceduresClass Matriculation/Grade Level Requirements

At RKHS, each year the school strives to ensure that students are "on target" before taking state exams. RKHS utilizes multiple assessments and metrics, diverse and multiple opportunities to determine student mastery of content and readiness for the next grade level. RKHS uses the A-G tracker to identify progress of its students and students meet with their counselors each semester to determine whether courses need to be recovered and create the next year's course plan. In order to progress through high school, students must make adequate progress to be eligible for the next grade level. Students must earn 50 credits to be considered a sophomore, 100 credits to be considered a Junior, and 150 credits to be considered a Senior. Furthermore, seniors must have at least 210 credits in order to participate in the graduation ceremony, and 220 to graduate as outlined previously. In the event a senior does not graduate within the 4 year high school matriculation process, the student has the opportunity to complete missing units during summer school or take coursework in the fall at RKHS. RKHS updates families with the quarterly progress reports on their student's status.

Additionally, students are provided with a graduation tracker. The state does not require schools or districts to have a specific retention policy beyond the transition from 8th to 9th grade per the CDE website. If students do not complete the necessary credits required at a particular grade level, during their spring meetings with their grade level counselor, the student and the counselor create a plan to recover the credits. In some cases, the student will enroll in Bright Star Schools summer school program, in other cases, students can enroll in local junior college summer school programs. If the students do not pass a course but still is "on track" to graduate, they have the option to retake the course at our school in the following year. Parents are informed of graduation status via quarterly progress reports. Information for parents regarding the graduation process, including how to appeal should their student not be on track to graduate, is included in the Student and Family Handbook distributed at the beginning of each school year and is available online for reference.

7.1 : Schools Plan To Achieve and Maintaining LAUSD's Racial And Ethnic Balance Goal.

Charter School will implement a coordinated advertising and recruiting strategy that ensures all parents and families are notified about the educational opportunities we offer. These efforts will be carried out from November through August. Charter School is committed to serving all ethnic groups and maintaining LAUSD's Racial and Ethnic Balance goal of a 70:30 or 60:40 ratio, through the use of various advertising techniques to recruit students.

Each year, Bright Star Schools conducts an analysis of enrollment trends in order to optimize our efforts to recruit and retain students. A committee, comprised of various stakeholders from the instructional, administrative and operational sides of the school, meets regularly to complete a complex problem solving model. Using both quantitative and qualitative feedback from the previous year, the model allows the team to work together to clearly identify enrollment trends and their root causes, determine potential solutions, and generate strategies to successfully implement and track solutions in the upcoming year.

One of the most valuable sources of data for this exercise comes from non-mandatory exit interviews (of families that have transferred from Charter School to another school site) through which feedback is gathered by Charter School administrators from the students and parents who choose not to enroll or re-enroll at Charter School.Externally, Charter School will address retention and attrition through the development of school-based family engagement systems and strong partnerships that support teaching, learning, and student achievement. The enrollment team will oversee coordinated efforts to strengthen two-way communication between parents and the school. This includes projects that give parents immediate access to critical information, help them better navigate the school and communicate possible concerns.Recruitment Plan
Some of the methods include, but are not limited to the following:

- Distribution of informational materials to community organizations including community religious institutions, and other organizations that serve various racial and ethnic populations, such as the local area libraries, recreation centers, local businesses, schools and faith-based organizations.
- Presentations at various multi-ethnic events, including community fairs and festivals throughout the year as scheduled.
- Outreach meetings in several local regions to reach prospective students and parents in the fall and winter.
- Providing opportunities for parents to speak to our representatives outside popular shopping venues throughout local areas in the Spring.
- Development of promotional materials in various languages, mainly Spanish and Korean, to inform non- English speaking populations about our school in the summer and fall
- Work with a diverse group of parent ambassadors to reach out to their community ties and social circles throughout the year.
- Mail school and enrollment information to areas with high African-American and Latino populations in the winter.
- Host events in the fall and spring to give families the opportunity to tour the campus, meet staff, and learn more about the programs.

Our efforts are centered on providing equal opportunities to all residents of the District, regardless of racial and ethnic background. The backgrounds of our student body predominantly consist of Latino/a and also include backgrounds of African - American, Asian and Pacific Islander, among others. Charter School will keep on file materials of the efforts made to achieve racial and ethnic balance and the results achieved, as well as an accurate accounting of the ethnic and racial balance of students enrolled in the school. Charter School seeks to serve the families of Los Angeles, with a particular emphasis on reaching out to and recruiting in underserved communities. The local public school population has a high Latino/a demographic, as well as a high socio-economically disadvantaged population; as such, Charter School's target demographic seeks to serve that population.

7.2 How this plan will achieve and maintain the LAUSD's Racial and Ethnic Balance goal

As stated in our vision, Charter School seeks to narrow the achievement gap by offering all students, regardless of background, an excellent public education. As such, Charter School is committed to maintaining a racial and ethnic balance of its students that is reflective of the general population residing within LAUSD's territorial jurisdiction. In order to accomplish this, Charter School conducts the following recruitment efforts, outreach programs and activities:

- Maintain student demographic data to ensure accurate accounting of racial and ethnic balance of students enrolled in the school.
- Develop and distribute flyers or brochures, applications and other recruitment materials that reflect the diversity of the community in English and Spanish (the languages of the families in the surrounding neighborhood).
- Use various distribution channels to enable public relations efforts to reach a wide audience (ethnicity/race, socio-economics, parent education levels, etc.), including community presentations, flyers, the school website and/or sending out press releases to the local media.

Specific outreach regarding enrollment

To keep up with the changing community we live in, Bright Star has also created digital advertisements for our website and for recruitment purposes. To view these portals, see below.

7.3 Charter School's plan for achieving and maintaining the LAUSD's Special Education population percentages

To ensure the Charter School maintains LAUSD's Special Education population percentages, all of our outreach and recruitment materials specifically highlight our Inclusive Education program and that "All Abilities are Welcome!" If a parent asks about our special education program, every member on our recruitment team is well-versed in the offerings of our program and confirms that we serve students who have an IEP. If the parent asks for more specific information, we connect them to the Inclusive Education directors for a follow up call.

7.4 Charter School's plan for achieving and maintaining the LAUSD's English learner population percentages, including redesignated fluent English proficient pupil

To ensure the charter school maintains the LAUSD English Learner population percentages, the outreach and recruitment team translates all materials into the languages spoken by the majority non-English speaking community members in our local areas. In addition, at every outreach event we have Spanish and Korean speakers ready to connect with families of EL students. Our recruitment materials also specifically list how our small school environment is great for English learners.

The Charter School shall post on its web site the California Department of Education notice of these requirements and shall provide the notice to parents/guardians or students age 18 and older when the parent/guardian or student inquiries about enrollment, before conducting an enrollment lottery, and before disenrollment of a student. (Ed. Code §§ 47605, 47605.6)

Charter School shall adopt policy that is consistent with the model policy developed by the California Attorney General addressing the Charter School's response to immigration enforcement, notify parents/guardians of their children's right to a free public education regardless of immigration status or religious beliefs, prohibit the collection of information or documents regarding the immigration status of students or their family members, and fulfill other requirements of Education Code section 234.7.

PREGNANT AND PARENTING STUDENT ACCOMMODATIONS

Charter School shall provide specified accommodations to pregnant and parenting students, including, but not limited to, the provision of parental leave and reasonable accommodations on campus to a lactating student to express breast milk, breastfeed an infant child, or address other needs related to breastfeeding. The Charter School shall notify pregnant and parenting students and parents/guardians of the rights and options available to pregnant and parenting students. (Ed. Code §§ 222, 222.5, 46015.)

SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY NOTICE

If Charter School operates multiple school sites, this information shall be disaggregated by school site. (Ed. Code § 221.9.)

8.1: Admissions Policies and Procedures

Our school has open admission for any student who seeks to enroll in our academic program. Our recruitment efforts reflect our objective nature as a charter school and in no way favor or bias any demographic. When students with Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) enroll, it is the school's policy to collect any and all information pertaining to the student's IEP. Our school is committed to serving academically low-achieving and economically disadvantaged students to offer them a seamless path to success in college and life. Our school will serve a community where on average 80-95% of the students in our target population qualifies for free or reduced-price lunch according to federal guidelines. We are dedicated to making sure that all community members are equally aware of the alternative we are providing to students within the communities we intend to serve.

8.2: Student Recruitment

Our school outreach team conducts student outreach activities throughout the calendar year. A variety of techniques are utilized including home mailers, postering, flyering, local school visits, community-based organization visits, presentations at various multi-ethnic events, public business tabling (sitting outside markets and other businesses that allow us to pass out flyers to the public) and various advertising, including in Los Angeles-based English and Spanish publications. All promotional materials are in various languages, thus far Korean and Spanish, to inform non-English speaking populations about our school.In order to ensure we attract low-achieving, economically disadvantaged and students with disabilities, we conduct our outreach in the surrounding communities with similar demographics. Our marketing and recruiting materials highlight that our program is available to all students with a variety of needs and backgrounds. Our materials specifically highlight that we serve students with IEPs as well as English language learners. Our recruiting teams are trained to ensure all families are notified that our program currently serves a large population of economically disadvantaged students and that we accept students regardless of past academic performance. Information on the percentage of SPED, ELA, and Free and Reduced lunch students we serve and the supports we provide are given in details during winter and spring Information Sessions as well as the new student Orientation in July. Families who want more information about our SPED and ELA services are scheduled for a one on one call or meeting with one of our SPED Directors.

Once any student has been admitted, the school's policy is to collect information pertaining to the student's academic background, including report cards and IEP, if the student has one, so that we can provide all necessary and timely services.

8.3a: Lottery Preferences and Procedures: Identification and Rationale of Admission Preferences

If the Charter School receives a number of applications that exceeds the number of available spaces, a single public random drawing/lottery will be conducted. Exemptions and preferences will be offered in the following categories in accordance with reconciliation of state and federal laws.

LOTTERY PREFERENCES AND EXEMPTIONS

If there are more seats available than student applicants, then all student applicants will be offered a seat without being required to participate in the lottery drawing. In the case where there are not enough seats to accommodate all student applicants, inclusive of those with and without preferences will be included in a lottery drawing that includes preferences. This does not apply to existing students. The students who are drawn up to the number of seats available will be offered a seat, and the remaining applicants with preference will be placed at the top of the Charter School's waitlist. Preferences are stated below and shall not violate state and/or federal guidelines and shall be in compliance with the PCSGP Federal Start Up Grant requirements if the Charter School received PCSGP funding.

YEARS 1 AND 2 (IF PCSGP FUNDING IS RECEIVED)
In order to comply with the PCSGP Federal Start-up Grant regulations, if the Charter School received PCSGP funding it will apply the following preferences and exemptions during the first 2 years of its charter term[14]:

LOTTERY EXEMPTIONS

[14] Or, any year the school receives PCSGP funding. This footnote has been added to account for any extensions granted by the state which extend PCSGP funding beyond years 1 and 2 of the school's charter term.

Students currently attending the charter school are exempt from the Lottery process.

LOTTERY PREFERENCES

After all applicants with exemptions have been offered seats, all general applicants will be entered into a lottery drawing based upon the below lottery preferences, in the order listed.

1. Pupils who reside in the District[15]
2. Siblings[16] of a currently attending or admitted to the Charter School student, subject to verification by the Enrollment Team.
3. Children or wards of the Charter School's employees, limited to 10% of the Charter School's total enrollment.
4. Students at a non-charter elementary school or in the elementary school's attendance area if at least 50% of the elementary school students are eligible for free or reduced lunch (E.C. Section 47605.3).
5. Children or wards of Bright Star Schools employees, limited to 10% of the Charter School's total enrollment.
6. Other California residents[17]

YEARS 3 THROUGH 5 (OR ALL YEARS IF DO NOT RECEIVE PCSGP FUNDING)

If no PCSGP funding is awarded to the Charter School, then the below preferences and exemptions shall control and apply for the entire charter term (years 1-5). If PCSGP funding is awarded, then after the 2-Year[18] PCSGP Federal Start-up Grant period has expired, and during the final three years of the school's charter term, the Charter School will enroll with the following preferences and exemptions:

LOTTERY EXEMPTIONS

If there are more seats available than exempt student applicants, then all students with an exemption to the lottery will be offered a seat without being required to participate in the lottery drawing. In the case where there are not enough seats to accommodate all exempt student applicants, an initial lottery drawing will be held for the exempt students. Those students who are drawn up to the number of seats available will be offered a seat, and the remaining exempt applicants will be placed at the top of the Charter School's waitlist.

1. Currently attending Charter School students.

Applicants with Preference:

a. Pupils residing in District.

[15] In-District Students – in accordance with State law, Charter School will employ a single lottery with a higher weighting for students in this category. All students in the lottery living in the Los Angeles Unified School District boundaries will receive weighted drawing preference over students living outside the LAUSD boundaries.

[16] For the purposes of Enrollment Preferences, "sibling" shall be defined as a biological sibling or a child who has continuously lived with the currently enrolled student for at least 6 months and is supported by at least 1 of the same adults living in the household.

[17] Other California residents – all students in the lottery living within the State of California, but not within the boundaries of the Los Angeles Unified School District will receive no weighted drawing preference and will have their name submitted once in the lottery pool.

[18] Or, any year the school receives PCSGP funding.

b. Siblings[19] of a student currently attending or admitted to the Charter School.
c. Children or wards of Bright Star Schools employees , limited to 10% of the Charter School's total enrollment.

In order to align with the Charter School's value of serving the community we offer sibling preferences to align to our value of serving the entire family. Additionally, we have offered employee preferences in order to increase investment of employees who will not just work for Bright Star schools but also be parents of Charter School's students.

8.3b: Lottery Preferences and Procedures: The Manner in which the School Will Implement a Public Random Drawing in the Event that Applications for Enrollment Exceed School Capacity.

Our admissions process begins with the submission of a Lottery Application Form at any time during the year. Submitted applications are date-and-time stamped and student names are added to an application roster to track receipt. Applicants who submit a Lottery Application Form before the lottery deadline are counted to determine if Charter School has received a number of Lottery Application Forms which exceed available seats. If there are more applicants than available seats, the Charter School holds a public random drawing to determine enrollment. The public is notified of the random drawing through our website, flyers in public places (i.e. On campus, libraries, community centers, parks, etc.). Applicants who have submitted a Lottery Application Form are notified of the lottery via automated and/or personal telephone calls and/or email notifications. If there are more available seats in a grade level than there are applicants, all students who have submitted a Lottery Application Form will be offered a seat.

A. Summary of School's Application and Enrollment Process

1. Open Application Period – The open application period begins on the first day of the academic year prior to the academic year being applied for (usually in August) until two weeks before the Lottery. Applicants submitted after the Lottery deadline until the final day of the actual academic year being applied for (usually in June) will be added to the Waitlist. If there are seats available, the student will be offered a seat at the Charter School. Completion of a Lottery Application Form happens at any Bright Star school or online, requiring the same information. Optional attendance at an Information Session (multiple opportunities available throughout the winter and spring months).
2. Random Public Drawing (during late winter/early spring each year). Lottery (if necessary, in the event that applications for enrollment exceed school capacity).
3. Notification to families of outcome (offering of seat or wait list position)
4. Enrollment Packet Submission (to be completed by family within two weeks of receiving their seat offer).
5. Complete Registration forms in July.

B: The Timelines under which the Open Enrollment Period and Lottery will occur.

Please see above under the "Summary of School's Application and Enrollment Process" for timeline of enrollment and lottery activities.

[19] For the purposes of Enrollment Preferences, "sibling" shall be defined as a child who has continuously lived with the currently enrolled student for at least 6 months and is supported by at least 1 of the same adults living in the household.

C: The method the school will use to communicate to all interested parties and the rules to be followed during the lottery process.

Applications are available digitally online on the Bright Star Schools and school web pages and hard copies are available at all Bright Star school sites. Our school advertises the open application period to the surrounding communities and also communicates the timeline, rules and procedures for the lottery process. Typical methods for these communications include, but are not limited to, web advertising, newspaper ads, home mailers, fliers, and sign/billboard advertising. When a family submits an application they receive a follow up personal call and/or email to verify receipt and to list next steps which include an invitation to Information Sessions, the Lottery (including rules and procedures). Lottery procedures are also reviewed in detail at the Information Session and during lottery invitation emails and calls. Lottery rules and procedures can also be found on our website

D. The method the school will use to verify lottery procedures are fairly executed.

The lottery is coordinated and moderated by the Enrollment Team in a location open to the public (typically on Charter School campus) and advertised to the school community. The Enrollment Team is comprised of Bright Star school support team members who work directly with the charter school to support all charter school outreach and enrollment efforts. Given the native languages of the anticipated target community, all proceedings are conducted in English and Spanish. Korean translation is available as needed.

The lottery is open to the public and families are encouraged to attend, however, families are not required to be present at the time of the drawing to be eligible for admission. Results are live for those in attendance, and all who submitted a Lottery Application Form are emailed their individual results and follow up phone calls are made by the Enrollment Team and/or school Office Managers for admitted students.

Families who have been offered admission are notified of acceptance within a week of the lottery by the Enrollment Team and/or Office Manager and must accept enrollment for their student within two weeks of notification by confirming with the school staff or our Enrollment Team their intent to complete the enrollment process and/or submitting a completed Enrollment Packet.

Any families who decline an offered seat or who fail to confirm by the deadline will lose their position to the next applicant on the waiting list. The waiting list is kept on file at the school and is valid for the duration of the school year.

To ensure a fairly executed program, the lottery is made through a digital lottery management and enrollment program. All applications and preferences are entered and verified in the system ahead of time. The screen with the results is projected in a public space so all attendees can see. Additionally, the Enrollment Team reads the names individually, including the order of the wait list.

The time and location where the lottery will occur and the efforts the school will undertake to ensure all interested parties may observe the lottery.

The random public drawing (lottery) is held in a location open to the public (typically on Charter School campus), to ensure the space is large enough to accommodate all interested families and to ensure accessibility for interested families. The lottery process is open to the public. The public is notified of the random drawing through written notices posted at the school campus and on our website. Applicants who have submitted a Lottery Application form are notified of the lottery via automated and/or personal telephone calls, email notifications, and letters sent to home addresses.

The random public drawing (lottery) will be scheduled in late winter/early spring of each year, in the event that applications for enrollment exceed school capacity. The lottery will be held at a time that is determined to be convenient for the families in our school community to attend. This is typically between the hours of 6pm and 8pm on a weeknight, or between 8am-10am on a Saturday morning. The Enrollment Team and the school administrators conduct the drawing.

The procedures the school will follow to determine waiting list priorities based upon lottery results.

A waiting list is implemented when the number of applications exceeds the enrollment capacity at the Charter School. In the event of a lottery, admission to the school will be offered to applicants based on the results of the public random drawing until capacity is reached. All remaining names drawn after capacity for the Charter School is reached will be placed on a waiting list, in the order they are drawn, first based on preferences. .

New applicants who submit a Lottery Application Form after the lottery deadline will be offered a seat if space is available in the grade level they have applied for or added to the waitlist in the order that the application was received. In the case that a student applies after the Lottery and has an admission preference (outlined in 8.3a above), that applicant will be provided a numerical ranking in the waitlist in the priority order of preferences, and ahead of all applicants without an enrollment preference.

As seats become available in a grade level, the student with the lowest numerical ranking on the waitlist will be offered that seat. The waiting list is kept on file at the school and is valid for the duration of the school year.

The means by which the school will contact the parents/guardians of students who have been promoted off the waiting list and timelines under which parents/guardians must respond in order to secure admission.

Once a grade level seat becomes available for an applicant who has the lowest numerical ranking on the waiting list, the parent/guardian are notified of acceptance by the Enrollment Team and/or Charter School Office Manager within 48 hours via phone call, and email as a secondary option. The parent/guardian must accept enrollment for their students within two weeks of notification by calling or emailing the school staff or our Enrollment Team with their intent to complete the enrollment process and/or submitting a completed Enrollment Packet. Any families who decline an offered seat or who fail to confirm by the deadline will be removed from the Accepted Applicants list. If the student's family contacts the school after the deadline, they will have to reapply. If there are seats available, they will be offered a seat. If there are no seats available, they will be placed on waiting list.

The records the school shall keep on file documenting the fair execution of lottery procedures. Copies of all Lottery Application Form, lottery results and waiting lists are readily available for inspection at the school office. These records will be maintained by the Enrollment Team.

Attendance Accounting

Our Charter School will utilize an appropriate student information system for attendance tracking and reporting purposes and will utilize attendance accounting procedures that satisfy requirements for LAUSD, LACOE and CDE. Required reports are completed regarding daily attendance and submitted to the requesting agencies. This includes reporting enrollment and attendance figures to LAUSD as required by the District.

Bright Star Schools will provide to LAUSD the following information for each academic year:

Charter School shall provide for an annual audit that shall be conducted in compliance with applicable state and federal laws, including but not limited to the requirements of Education Code sections 47605(c)(5)(I) and 41020 as they may be amended from time to time. Charter School shall ensure compliance with the requirements of section 41020(f)(2), which makes it unlawful, absent an Education Audits Appeal Panel waiver, for a public accounting firm to provide audit services to a local educational agency if the lead audit partner, or coordinating audit partner, having primary responsibility for the audit, or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that local educational agency in each of the six previous years.

j. Other reports as requested by the District

9.1: Annual Financial Audits

Adequate cash flow for Charter School is ensured by maintaining a funds balance (reserve) of its expenditures as required by section 15450, Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations. The Chief Business Officer regularly prepares annual budgets with three year forecasts as well as monthly financial reports, including revenue and expenditure reports, balance sheets, monthly forecasts, and cash flow statements that the Board of Directors reviews during their board meetings. The Bright Star Schools accounting department maintains financial documents and supporting documentation such as receipts, invoices and credit card statements in a uniform and orderly fashion for easy accessibility by the auditor(s).

The above-mentioned plans and systems are used to provide information for an annual, independent financial audit. On an annual basis, the Finance Committee, in conjunction with the Chief Business Officer, is responsible for contracting services with an independent Certified Public Accountant who has been certified by the State of California Controller's Office on its list of education auditors with education finance experience to audit the school's financial statements in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) and in accordance with the provisions within the California Code of Regulations governing audits of charter schools as published in the State Controller's Guide. The Chief Business Officer is also responsible for working with the independent auditor to complete the audit and for ensuring the auditor sends the completed audit to the required agencies by the statutory deadline.

The Bright Star Schools Board Finance Committee reviews any audit exceptions or deficiencies and reports recommendations to the full Board as to how these have been, or will be, resolved. The Bright Star Schools Board acts upon these recommendations, and reports its action to Los Angeles Unified School District to the satisfaction of the District, and within an outlined timeline.

Element 10: Suspension and Expulsion Practices

"The procedures by which pupils can be suspended or expelled from the charter school for disciplinary reasons or otherwise involuntarily removed from the charter school for any reason. These procedures, at a minimum, shall include an explanation of how the charter school will comply with federal and state constitutional procedural and substantive due process requirements that is consistent with all of the following:

(i) For suspensions of fewer than 10 days, provide oral or written notice of the charges against the pupil and, if the pupil denies the charges, an explanation of the evidence that supports the charges and an opportunity for the pupil to present the pupil's side of the story.

(ii) For suspensions of 10 days or more and all other expulsions for disciplinary reasons, both of the following:

(I) Provide timely, written notice of the charges against the pupil and an explanation of the pupil's basic rights.

(II) Provide a hearing adjudicated by a neutral officer within a reasonable number of days at which the pupil has a fair opportunity to present testimony, evidence, and witnesses and confront and cross-examine adverse witnesses, and at which the pupil has the right to bring legal counsel or an advocate.

(iii) Contain a clear statement that no pupil shall be involuntarily removed by the charter school for any reason unless the parent or guardian of the pupil has been provided written notice of intent to remove the pupil no less than five schooldays before the effective date of the action. The written notice shall be in the native language of the pupil or the pupil's parent or guardian or, if the pupil is a foster child or youth or a homeless child or youth, the pupil's educational rights holder, and shall inform the pupil, the pupil's parent or guardian, or the pupil's educational rights holder of the right to initiate the procedures specified in clause (ii) before the effective date of the action. If the pupil's parent, guardian, or educational rights holder initiates the procedures specified in clause (ii), the pupil shall remain enrolled and shall not be removed until the charter school issues a final decision. For purposes of this clause, "involuntarily removed" includes disenrolled, dismissed, transferred, or terminated, but does not include suspensions specified in clauses (i) and (ii)."* (Ed. Code § 47605(c)(5)(J).)

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Charter School shall provide due process for all students, including adequate and timely notice to parents/guardians and students of the grounds for all suspension and expulsion recommendations and decisions and their due process rights regarding suspension and expulsion, including rights of appeal.

Charter School shall ensure that its policies and procedures regarding suspension and expulsion will be periodically reviewed, and modified as necessary, in order to conform to changes in state law.

Charter School shall ensure that its staff is knowledgeable about and complies with the District's Discipline Foundation Policy and/or current equivalent policy.. Charter School shall comply with the terms of the School Discipline Policy and School Climate Bill of Rights resolution adopted by the LAUSD Board of Education on May 6, 2013.

Charter School shall be responsible for the appropriate interim placement of students during and pending the completion of Charter School's student expulsion process and shall facilitate the post-expulsion placement of expelled students.

Charter School shall document and implement the alternatives to suspension and expulsion that Charter School utilizes in response to attendance-related concerns, e.g. truancy or excessive tardiness.

No student shall be involuntarily removed by the Charter School for any reason unless the parent or guardian of the student has been provided written notice of intent to remove the student no less than five schooldays before the effective date of the action. The written notice shall be in the native language of the student or the student's parent or guardian or, if the student is a foster child or youth or a homeless child or youth, the student's educational rights holder, and shall inform him or her of the basis for which the pupil is being involuntarily removed and his or her right to request a hearing to challenge the involuntary removal. If a parent, guardian, or educational rights holder requests a hearing, the Charter School shall utilize the same hearing procedures specified below for expulsions, before the effective date of the action to involuntarily remove the student. If the student's parent, guardian, or educational rights holder requests a hearing, the student shall remain enrolled and shall not be removed until the Charter School issues a final decision. As used herein,

"involuntarily removed" includes disenrolled, dismissed, transferred, or terminated, but does not include removals for misconduct which may be grounds for suspension or expulsion as enumerated in this section.

HOMEWORK TO SUSPENDED STUDENTS

For any student who has been suspended from school for two or more schooldays, Charter School shall provide student with the homework the student would otherwise have been assigned if requested by the student or student's parent/guardian. If a homework assignment is requested and turned in to the student's teacher either upon the student's return to school from suspension or within the timeframe originally prescribed by the teacher, whichever is later, but it is not graded before the end of the academic term, then that assignment shall not be included in the calculation of the pupil's overall grade in the class. (Ed. Code § 48913.5)

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Charter School shall establish and implement policies and procedures to ensure full compliance with federal and state laws and regulations regarding the discipline of students with disabilities. If a student is recommended for expulsion and the student receives or is eligible for special education, pending the completion of the expulsion process, Charter School shall identify and provide special education programs and services at an appropriate interim educational placement determined in coordination with the LAUSD Division of Special Education.

In the case of a student who has an Individualized Education Program ("IEP"), or a student who has a Section 504 Plan, Charter School shall ensure that it follows correct disciplinary procedures to comply with the mandates of state and federal laws, including IDEA and section 504 of the Rehabilitation Plan of 1973. As set forth in the MOU regarding special education between the District and Charter School, an IEP team will meet to conduct a manifestation determination and to discuss alternative placement utilizing the District's Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual. Prior to recommending expulsion for a student with a Section 504 Plan, Charter School's administrator will convene a Link Determination meeting to ask the following two questions:

A. Was the misconduct caused by, or directly and substantially related to the student's disability?
B. Was the misconduct a direct result of the Charter School's failure to implement Section 504?

NOTIFICATION OF THE DISTRICT

Upon expelling any student, Charter School shall notify the Charter Schools Division by submitting an expulsion packet to the CSD immediately or as soon as practicable, which shall contain:

- Completed "Notification of Charter School Expulsion" [form available from the CSD website or office], including attachments as required on the form
- Documentation of the expulsion proceeding, including statement of specific facts supporting the expulsion and documentation that Charter School's policies and procedures were followed

- If the student is eligible for Section 504 accommodations, documentation that Charter School conducted a Link Determination meeting to address two questions:
  A. Was the misconduct caused by, or directly and substantially related to the student's disability?
  B. Was the misconduct a direct result of Charter School's failure to implement Section 504 Plan?

Notwithstanding and apart from the documentation sent to the Charter Schools Division as indicated above, if the student is a resident of a school district other than LAUSD, Charter School must notify the superintendent of the student's district of residence within 30 days of the expulsion. Additionally, upon request of the receiving school district, Charter School shall forward student records no later than 10 school days from the date of the request as stated in Education Code section 49068 (a) and (b).

OUTCOME DATA

Charter School shall gather and maintain all data related to placement, tracking, and monitoring of student suspensions, expulsions, involuntary removals, and reinstatements, and make such outcome data readily available to the District upon request.

REHABILITATION PLANS

Pupils who are expelled from Charter School shall be given a rehabilitation plan upon expulsion as developed by Charter School's governing board at the time of the expulsion order, which may include, but is not limited to, periodic review as well as assessment at the time of review for readmission. Terms of expulsion should be reasonable and fair with the weight of the expelling offense taken into consideration when determining the length of expulsion. Therefore, the rehabilitation plan should include a date not later than one (1) year from the date of expulsion when the pupil may apply to Charter School for readmission. Charter School shall inform parents in writing of its processes for reinstatement and applying for expungement of the expulsion record.

READMISSION

Charter School's governing board shall adopt rules establishing a procedure for the filing and processing of requests for readmission and the process for the required review of all expelled pupils for readmission. Upon completion of the readmission process, Charter School's governing board shall readmit the pupil, unless Charter School's governing board makes a finding that the pupil has not met the conditions of the rehabilitation plan or continues to pose a danger to campus safety. A description of the procedure shall be made available to the pupil and the pupil's parent or guardian at the time the expulsion order is entered and the decision of the governing board, including any related findings, must be provided to the pupil and the pupil's parent/guardian within a reasonable time.

REINSTATEMENT

Charter School's governing board shall adopt rules establishing a procedure for processing reinstatements, including the review of documents regarding the rehabilitation plan. Charter School is responsible for reinstating the student upon the conclusion of the expulsion period in a timely manner.

GUN-FREE SCHOOLS ACT

Charter School shall comply with the federal Gun-Free Schools Act.

10.1: Discipline Foundation Policy

The Charter School does not consider suspension and expulsion to be effective means of improving school behavior or compliance with Charter School rules and policies. While they may become necessary in extraordinary circumstances, disciplinary issues at the Charter School are more often dealt with through a variety of other strategies. These include, among other things, counseling, airing of the issue with faculty and other students, discussion with the student and his or her parent/guardian, social worker or probation officer and ineligibility for particular privileges.

The Charter School uses a value-based system to develop and promote positive student behavior and supports. These supports include school-wide incentive programs, community-building activities and relationship-building practices at all grade levels.

Professional development is offered at all levels of the organization to support the importance of building healthy relationships, strong communities and development of restorative practices. Professional development is offered for all staff prior to the beginning of the school year, and organization-wide professional development events are facilitated five (5) times each year. Each year, a professional development plan is created in alignment with feedback from data and surveys of all stakeholders.

The contents in the student handbook are consistent with provisions in this petition, applicable Districts policy(ies), the School Climate Bill of Rights and all applicable law. The Principal shall ensure that students and their parents/guardians are notified in writing upon enrollment of all discipline policies and procedures.

Under the Charter School's Discipline Foundation Policy, students who do not adhere to stated expectations in the Charter School's student handbook for behavior and who violate the Charter School's rules will face consequences for their behavior.

Consequences may include, but are not limited to:

- Behavioral counseling
- Warning, verbal and/or written
- Individual conference with the teacher
- Loss of privileges (e.g. attendance at school functions- dances, games, etc.)
- Individual behavior contract
- Referral to the Principal, Assistant Principal or other school support staff
- Notices to parents by telephone or letter
- Parent conference, at school or during a home visit
- Formal restorative conferencing
- Suspension (for an offense enumerated below)
- Expulsion (for an offense enumerated below)

Any student who engages in repeated violations of the Charter School's behavioral expectations that cannot be dealt with through counseling and other tiered intervention strategies, will be required to attend a meeting with the Dean of Students and/or the School Principal and the student's parent/guardian. Such tiered interventions for behavior may include, but are not limited to, Ripple Effects (a social and emotional learning and behavior intervention online platform), one on one counseling, or targeted behavior interventions. The Dean of Student Conduct will prepare a specific, individual behavior contract outlining future student conduct expectations, timelines, supports and consequences for failure to meet the behavior expectations which may include, but are not limited to, suspension for offenses enumerated as suspendable below. Behavior contracts are consistent with provisions in this petition, applicable Districts policy(ies)/School Climate Bill of Rights and all applicable law and may be implemented.

Staff shall enforce disciplinary rules and procedures fairly and consistently among all students. Charter School staff are trained in and annually review de-escalation strategies for students at the Charter School. Biweekly, staff participate in professional development focused on teaching, communicating and practicing the school's discipline policy to ensure Charter School practices are consistent. These strategies focus on developing relationships with students, restorative practices, identifying and avoiding triggers for undesirable behavior (when possible), and safely stabilizing students through de-escalation techniques who have been triggered. Means of restoration following enforcement of consequences commonly used to build community and/or restore relationships are:

- Providing opportunities for students to reflect on their behavior, including perceived or actual consequences for themselves and others
- Logical consequences that relate to the misbehavior

In-School Suspension

The Charter School offers in-school suspension as a means of reducing time missed from learning for behavioral issues. School counselors work with students on in-school suspension and their family to arrange a schedule for the student to work on personalized learning assignments through personalized learning assigned by the teacher, as needed to ensure s/he is able to keep up with school work while on suspension. While a student is on in-school suspension, he or she will be supervised by the Charter School's Assistant Principal in the Charter School's administrative office. This ensures the safety of the general student body, staff and school campus visitors. Additional supports provided to the student and their family are counseling and an assigned, individualized social-emotional learning scope and sequence. The maximum number of days for an in-school suspension shall not exceed 5 days per incident or more than 20 days in an academic year.. The provisions defined below, including family notification, apply to in-school suspension as well as out-of-school suspension.

It is the Charter School's preference to keep students on campus as frequently as possible and to limit the number of suspensions issued. The Charter School reserves out of school suspensions, for when a student may be at risk to themselves or others on campus.

10.2: Suspension and Expulsion Policy and Procedures

Policy

This Pupil Suspension and Expulsion Policy has been established in order to promote learning and protect the safety and well-being of all students at the Charter School. In creating this policy, the Charter School has reviewed Education Code Section 48900 et seq. in order to establish its list of offenses and procedures for suspensions and expulsions. The language that follows closely mirrors the language of Education Code Section 48900 et seq. The Charter School is committed to annual review of policies and procedures surrounding suspensions and expulsions and, as necessary, modification of the lists of offenses for which students are subject to suspension or expulsion.

When the Policy is violated, it may be necessary to suspend or expel a student from regular classroom instruction. This policy shall serve as the Charter School's policy and procedures for student suspension and expulsion and it may be amended from time to time without the need to amend the charter so long as the amendments comport with legal requirements and are made in consultation with the Charter School Division. Charter School staff shall enforce disciplinary rules and procedures fairly and consistently among all students. This Policy and its Procedures will be printed and distributed as part of the Student Handbook and will clearly describe discipline expectations.

Corporal punishment shall not be used as a disciplinary measure against any student. Corporal punishment includes the willful infliction of or willfully causing the infliction of physical pain on a student. For purposes of the Policy, corporal punishment does not include an employee's use of force that is reasonable and necessary to protect the employee, students, staff or other persons or to prevent damage to school property.

The Charter School administration shall ensure that students and their parents/guardians are notified in writing upon enrollment of all discipline and involuntary removal policies and procedures. The notice shall state that this Policy and Procedures are available on request at the Principal's office.

Suspended or expelled students shall be excluded from all school and school-related activities unless otherwise agreed during the period of suspension or expulsion.

A student identified as an individual with disabilities or for whom the Charter School has a basis of knowledge of a suspected disability pursuant to the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 ("IDEA") or who is qualified for services under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 ("Section 504") is subject to the same grounds for suspension and expulsion and is accorded the same due process procedures applicable to general education students except when federal and state law mandates additional or different procedures. The Charter School will follow all applicable federal and state laws including but not limited to the California Education Code, when imposing any form of discipline on a student identified as an individual with disabilities or for whom the Charter School has a basis of knowledge of a suspected disability or who is otherwise qualified for such services or protections in according due process to such students.

C. Suspension Procedure

Suspensions shall be initiated according to the following procedures:

1. Conference

Suspension shall be preceded, if possible, by a conference conducted by the Principal or the Assistant Principal or Dean of Students, as a designee of the Principal, with the student and his or her parent and, whenever practical, the teacher, supervisor or Charter School employee who referred the student to the Principal or designee.

The conference may be omitted if the Principal or designee determines that an emergency situation exists. An "emergency situation" involves a clear and present danger to the lives, safety or health of students or Charter School personnel. If a student is suspended without this conference, both the parent/guardian and student shall be notified of the student's right to return to school for the purpose of a conference.

At the conference, the pupil shall be informed of the reason for the disciplinary action and the evidence against him or her and shall be given the opportunity to present his or her version and evidence in his or her defense, in accordance with Education Code Section 47605(c)(5)(J)(i). This conference shall be held within two (2) school days, unless the pupil waives this right or is physically unable to attend for any reason including, but not limited to, incarceration or hospitalization. No penalties may be imposed on a pupil for failure of the pupil's parent or guardian to attend a conference with Charter School officials. Reinstatement of the suspended pupil shall not be contingent upon attendance by the pupil's parent or guardian at the conference.

2. Notice to Parents/Guardians

At the time of the suspension, the Principal or the Assistant Principal or Dean of Students, a designess of the Principal, shall make a reasonable effort to contact the parent/guardian by telephone or in person. Whenever a student is suspended, the parent/guardian shall be notified in writing of the suspension and the date of return following suspension. This notice shall state the specific offense committed by the student. In addition, the notice shall state the date and time when the student may return to school. If Charter School officials wish to ask the parent/guardian to confer regarding matters pertinent to the suspension, the notice may request that the parent/guardian respond to such requests without delay.

3. Suspension Time Limits/Recommendation for Expulsion

The length of the suspension will be determined by the Principal based on the severity of the offense(s), as evidenced by a fair and thorough investigation including witness statements, physical evidence, and other relevant factors, such as contributing life events and circumstances, and whether other means of correction can adequately reduce the length or suspension. For students with IEPs, the Inclusive Education Specialist and/or Director of Inclusive Education will counsel the Principal on additional factors that are relevant to making the determination. The length of suspension for students may not exceed a period of 5 consecutive days unless an administrative recommendation has been made and agreed to by the student's parent/guardian. If a student is recommended for a period of suspension exceeding 5 continuous days, a second conference will be scheduled between the parent/guardian and the school to discuss the progress of the suspension upon the completion of the additional term of the suspension. A suspension exceeding 5 days would occur in the event that the Principal does not believe, based upon the offense and conference with student and family, that the student is willing or able to return without significant risk of harm to themselves or other students. The total number of days for which a pupil may be suspended from school shall not exceed 20 school days in any school year, unless for purposes of adjustment, a pupil enrolls in or is transferred to another regular school, an opportunity school or class, or a continuation education school or class, in which case the total number of school days for which the pupil may be suspended shall not exceed 30 days in any school year. In the event the student is suspended they are placed in an interim educational setting within the District.

Upon a recommendation of expulsion by the Principal or Principal's designee, the pupil and the pupil's parent/guardian or representative will be invited to a conference to determine if the suspension for the pupil should be extended, not to exceed a maximum of 20 school days, pending an expulsion hearing. In such instances when the Principal of the Charter School has determined a suspension period shall be extended, such extension shall be made only after a conference is held with the pupil or the pupil's parents, unless the pupil and the pupil's parents fail to attend the conference.

This determination will be made by the Principal or designee upon either of the following: 1) the pupil's presence will be disruptive to the education process; or 2) the pupil poses a threat or danger to others. Upon either determination, the pupil's suspension will be extended pending the results of an expulsion hearing.

The Advisor of the suspended student will collect and provide the student with classroom material and current assignments to be completed at home during the length of the suspension. Written notification listing all required assignments will be sent to the student's parents and all needed materials will be left in the front office.

The suspension of a student will be at the discretion of the Principal, Assistant Principal or the Dean of Students (as a designee of the Principal). A suspension appeal may be made in writing to the Principal within the term of the suspension. Within 48 business hours, a decision will be made by the Head of Schools regarding the appeal of the student suspension, and this decision will be considered final.

4. Homework Assignments During Suspension

The Advisor of the suspended student will collect and provide the student with classroom material and current assignments to be completed at home during the length of the suspension. Missed tests will also be coordinated to be completed either at home or upon return. Written notification listing all required assignments will be sent to the student's parents and all needed materials will be left in the front office.

D. Authority to Expel

As required by Education Code Section 47605(c)(5)(J)(ii), students recommended for expulsion are entitled to a hearing adjudicated by a Disciplinary Panel to determine whether the student should be expelled. The procedures herein provide for such a hearing and the notice of said hearing, as required by law.

A student may be expelled by a neutral and impartial Disciplinary Panel, The Disciplinary Panel shall consist of three members of the Bright Star Schools Board of Directors. The Disciplinary Panel shall be presided over by a member of the Panel designated as a hearing chairperson. The Disciplinary Panel may expel any student found to have committed an expellable offense.

E. Expulsion Procedures

If the Principal recommends expulsion, the student and the student's parents will be invited to a conference to determine if the suspension for the student should be extended pending an expulsion hearing. During this conference, the student and parents are offered the opportunity to be heard and offer justification for the behavior that led to the potential expulsion. This determination will be made by the Principal upon either of the following findings:

- The student's presence will likely be disruptive to the educational process
- The student poses a threat or danger to others.

Upon this determination, the student's suspension will be extended pending the results of an expulsion hearing, with a maximum of 20 total days in suspension. Students will be recommended for expulsion if the Principal finds that at least one of the following findings may be substantiated:

- Other means of correction are not feasible or have repeatedly failed to bring about proper conduct
- Due to the nature of the violation, the presence of the student causes a continuing danger to the physical safety of the student or others

Students recommended for expulsion are entitled to a hearing before the Disciplinary Panel to determine whether the student should be expelled. Unless postponed for good cause, the hearing shall be held within thirty (30) school days after the Principal or designee determines that the pupil has committed an expellable offense.

Following a recommendation for expulsion and a hearing, the Disciplinary Panel, consisting of three impartial members of the Bright Star School's Board of Directors, will make a final decision whether to expel. Any Board member who has independent knowledge of the student or disciplinary circumstances shall not participate as a member of the Disciplinary Panel. The hearing shall be held in closed session (complying with all pupil confidentiality rules under FERPA) unless the pupil makes a written request for a public hearing in open session three (3) days prior to the date of the scheduled hearing.

Written notice of the hearing, which will be emailed and mailed within 48 hours of the request for the hearing, shall be forwarded to the student and the student's parent/guardian at least ten (10) calendar days before the date of the hearing. Upon mailing the notice, it shall be deemed served upon the pupil. The notice shall include:

1. The date and place of the expulsion hearing;
2. A statement of the specific facts, charges and offenses upon which the proposed expulsion is based;
3. A copy of the Charter School's disciplinary rules which relate to the alleged violation;
4. Notification of the student's or parent/guardian's obligation to provide information about the student's status at the Charter School to any other school district or school to which the student seeks enrollment;
5. The opportunity for the student and/or the student's parent/guardian to appear in person or to employ and be represented by counsel or a non-attorney advisor;
6. The right to inspect and obtain copies of all documents to be used at the hearing;
7. The opportunity to confront and question all witnesses who testify at the hearing;
8. The opportunity to question all evidence presented and to present oral and documentary evidence on the student's behalf including witnesses.

Language support will be made available at the hearing, upon request, in the event that any party involved in the hearing has a primary language other than English.

F. Special Procedures for Expulsion Hearings Involving Sexual Assault or Battery Offenses

The Charter School may, upon a finding of good cause, determine that the disclosure of either the identity of the witness or the testimony of that witness at the hearing, or both, would subject the witness to an unreasonable risk of psychological or physical harm. Upon this determination, the testimony of the witness may be presented at the hearing in the form of sworn declarations that shall be examined only by the Charter School or the hearing officer. Copies of these sworn declarations, edited to delete the name and identity of the witness, shall be made available to the pupil.

3. The complaining witness in any sexual assault or battery case must be provided with a copy of the applicable disciplinary rules and advised of his/her right to (a) receive five days notice of his/her scheduled testimony, (b) have up to two (2) adult support persons of his/her choosing present in the hearing at the time he/she testifies, which may include a parent, guardian, or legal counsel, and (c) elect to have the hearing closed while testifying.

4. The Charter School must also provide the victim a room separate from the hearing room for the complaining witness' use prior to and during breaks in testimony.

5. At the discretion of the Disciplinary Panel, the complaining witness shall be allowed periods of relief from examination and cross-examination during which he or she may leave the hearing room.

6. The entity conducting the expulsion hearing may also arrange the seating within the hearing room to facilitate a less intimidating environment for the complaining witness.

7. The entity conducting the expulsion hearing may also limit time for taking the testimony of the complaining witness to the hours he/she is normally in school, if there is no good cause to take the testimony during other hours.

8. Prior to a complaining witness testifying, the support persons must be admonished that the hearing is confidential. Nothing in the law precludes the Disciplinary Panel from removing a support person whom the presiding entity finds is disrupting the hearing. The entity conducting the hearing may permit any one of the support persons for the complaining witness to accompany him or her to the witness stand.

9. If one or both of the support persons is also a witness, the Charter School must present evidence that the witness' presence is both desired by the witness and will be helpful to the Charter School. The entity presiding over the hearing shall permit the witness to stay unless it is established that there is a substantial risk that the testimony of the complaining witness would be influenced by the support person, in which case the presiding official of the Disciplinary Panel shall admonish the support person or persons not to prompt, sway, or influence the witness in any way. Nothing shall preclude the presiding officer from exercising his or her discretion to remove a person from the hearing whom he or she believes is prompting, swaying, or influencing the witness.

10. The testimony of the support person shall be presented before the testimony of the complaining witness and the complaining witness shall be excluded from the hearing room during that testimony.

11. Especially for charges involving sexual assault or battery, if the hearing is to be conducted in public at the request of the pupil being expelled, the complaining witness shall have the right to have his/her testimony heard in a closed session when testifying at a public meeting would threaten serious psychological harm to the complaining witness and there are no alternative procedures to avoid the threatened harm. The alternative procedures may include videotaped depositions or contemporaneous examination in another place communicated to the hearing room by means of closed-circuit television.

12. Evidence of specific instances of a complaining witness' prior sexual conduct is presumed inadmissible and shall not be heard absent a determination by the entity conducting the hearing that extraordinary circumstances exist requiring the evidence be heard. Before such a determination regarding extraordinary circumstances can be made, the witness shall be provided notice and an opportunity to present opposition to the introduction of the evidence. In the hearing on the admissibility of the evidence, the complaining witness shall be entitled to be represented by a parent, legal counsel, or other support person. Reputation or opinion evidence regarding the sexual behavior of the complaining witness is not admissible for any purpose.

G. Record of Hearing

A record of the hearing shall be made and may be maintained by any means, including electronic recording, as long as a reasonably accurate and complete written transcription of the proceedings can be made. The Charter School will create a written record of the expulsion proceeding in a separately-maintained file, which will be utilized in an appeal process if pursued. The record shall be made available to the parents upon request.

H. Presentation of Evidence

While technical rules of evidence do not apply to expulsion hearings, evidence may be admitted and used as proof only if it is the kind of evidence on which reasonable persons can rely in the conduct of serious affairs. A decision by the Disciplinary Panel to expel must be supported by substantial evidence that the student committed an expellable offense. Findings of fact shall be based solely on the evidence at the hearing. While hearsay evidence is admissible, no decision to expel shall be based solely on hearsay. Sworn declarations may be admitted as testimony from witnesses of whom the Disciplinary Panel determines that disclosure of their identity or testimony at the hearing may subject them to an unreasonable risk of physical or psychological harm.

If, due to a written request by the expelled pupil, the hearing is held at a public meeting, and the charge is committing or attempting to commit a sexual assault or committing a sexual battery as defined in Education Code Section 48900, a complaining witness shall have the right to have his or her testimony heard in a session closed to the public.

The decision of the Disciplinary Panel shall be in the form of written findings of fact. The final decision by the Disciplinary Panel shall be made within ten (10) school days following the conclusion of the hearing.

If the Disciplinary Panel decides not to recommend expulsion, the pupil shall immediately be returned to his/her educational program.

I. Written Notice to Expel

The Principal or designee, following a decision of the Disciplinary Panel to expel, shall send written notice of the decision to expel, including the Disciplinary Panel's adopted findings of fact, to the student or parent/guardian. This notice shall also include the following: (a) Notice of the specific offense committed by the student; and (b) Notice of the student's or parent/guardian's obligation to inform any new district in which the student seeks to enroll of the student's status with the Charter School.

The Principal or designee shall send a copy of the written notice of the decision to expel to the District. This notice shall include the following: (a) The student's name; and (b) The specific expellable offense committed by the student; (C) rehabilitation plans, including the term of expulsion, criteria to be set forth in the plan, and the timelines and process for reinstatement and/or readmission following completion of the term of expulsion.

J. Disciplinary Records

The Charter School shall maintain records of all student suspensions and expulsions at the Charter School. Such records shall be made available to the authorizer upon request.

K. Expulsion Appeal

An expulsion may be appealed in writing within ten working days of the communication of the expulsion to the parent or guardian and must be submitted in writing to the Principal. The student will be considered suspended until a meeting is convened to consider the appeal (within 10 working days). The Bright Star Board of Directors, excluding the members of the Disciplinary Panel who presided over the original expulsion hearing, shall hear the appeal. For an appeal, the student and guardian and or advocate may provide the reasons they disagree with the original findings and or his/her rationale for why they feel in some way the process was flawed. The Principal will also have the opportunity to represent their findings and reason for original recommendation.

For a student who has an expulsion upheld upon appeal, the family will be sent written notification by the Principal, within 24 hours of such decision, including specific reasons why appeal was denied, and will be given a readmission eligibility review date. For students whose expulsion has been overturned, a re-entry conference will be facilitated by a trained school personnel the next school day, and the student will resume regular classes immediately.

The decision of the Bright Star Board of Directors will be final. If the student is expelled or if expulsion is upheld on appeal, Charter School shall notify the Student Discipline and Expulsion Support Unit "SDES" including submitting an expulsion packet to include expulsion order, rehabilitation plan, and reinstatement eligibility immediately.

L. Rehabilitation, Reinstatement, and Readmission

In the event of a decision to expel a student, the Charter School will work cooperatively with the district of residence to assist with appropriate educational placement of the expelled student. Any incident of violent and/or serious student behavior such as sexual assault shall be communicated to the school district or school to which the student matriculates.

The term of the expulsion shall remain in effect for not more than one academic year or until the Governing Board of Bright Star Schools otherwise authorizes the pupil's readmission upon successful completion of the rehabilitation plan. The terms of the rehabilitation plan are developed by considering logical consequences for the behavior which the student is being expelled. During the time of expulsion from the Charter School, the student shall comply with the rehabilitation plan, and have satisfactory grades and attendance during the time of the expulsion, and may be asked to receive appropriate and related counseling services.

The decision to readmit a student shall be at the sole discretion of the Bright Star Schools Board, following a meeting with the Executive Director and the student and/or parent/guardian, to determine whether the student has successfully completed the rehabilitation plan and to determine whether the student poses a threat to others or will be disruptive to the school environment. The student's readmission is also contingent upon the enrollment capacity of the Charter School at the time the student seeks readmission.

M. Notice to Teachers

The Charter School shall notify teachers of each pupil who has engaged in or is reasonably suspected to have engaged in any of the acts listed in Education Code Section 49079 and the corresponding enumerated offenses set forth above.

Pupils of Charter School do not have or gain any right to admission in a particular school of any school district, or program of any school district, as a consequence of applying to or enrolling in Charter School, except to the extent that such a right is extended by the school district.

A pupil who chooses not to attend Charter School may attend a public school within the pupil's school district of residence in accordance with applicable law and that school district's policies and procedures. The pupil alternatively may seek to enroll in another charter school in accordance with applicable law and the terms of the school's charter. Charter School shall ensure completion of an independent final audit within six months after the closure of Charter School that includes:

1. An accounting of all financial assets. These may include cash and accounts receivable and an inventory of property, equipment, and other items of material value.

2. An accounting of all liabilities. These may include accounts payable or reduction in apportionments due to loans, unpaid staff compensation, audit findings, or other investigations.

3. An assessment of the disposition of any restricted funds received by or due to Charter School.

This audit may serve as Charter School's annual audit if it meets all of the requirements of the annual audit.

Charter School shall pay for the financial closeout audit of Charter School. This audit will be conducted by a neutral, independent licensed CPA who will employ generally accepted accounting principles. Any liability or debt incurred by Charter School will be the responsibility of Charter School and not LAUSD. Charter School understands and acknowledges that Charter School will cover the outstanding debts or liabilities of Charter School. Any unused monies at the time of the audit will be returned to the appropriate funding source. Charter School understands and acknowledges that only unrestricted funds will be used to pay creditors. Any unused AB 602 funds will be returned to the District SELPA or the SELPA in which Charter School participates, and other categorical funds will be returned to the source of funds.

Charter School shall ensure the completion and filing of any annual reports required. These reports include but are not necessarily limited to:

1. Preliminary budgets
2. Interim financial reports
3. Second interim financial reports
4. Final unaudited reports

These reports must be submitted to the CDE and the authorizing entity in the form required. These reports should be submitted as soon as possible after the Closure Action, but no later than the required deadline for reporting for the fiscal year.

For apportionment of categorical programs, the CDE will count the prior year average daily attendance (ADA) or enrollment data of the closed Charter School with the data of the authorizing entity. This practice will occur in the first year after the closure and will continue until CDE data collection processes reflect ADA or enrollment adjustments for all affected LEAs due to the charter closure.

Disposition of Liabilities and Assets

The closeout audit must identify the disposition of all liabilities of Charter School. Charter School closure procedures must also ensure appropriate disposal, in accordance with the District Required Language provisions in Element 11 of this Charter, Charter School's governing board bylaws, fiscal procedures, and any other applicable laws and regulations, of any net assets remaining after all liabilities of Charter School have been paid or otherwise addressed. Such disposal includes, but is not limited to:

1. Charter School, at its cost and expense, shall return to the District any and all property, furniture, equipment, supplies, and other assets provided to Charter School by or on behalf of the District. The District discloses that the California Education Code sets forth the requirements for the disposition of the District's personal property and Charter School shall bear responsibility and liability for any disposition in violation of statutory requirements.

2. The return of any donated materials and property in accordance with any terms and conditions set when the donations were accepted.

3. The return of any grant and restricted categorical funds to their sources according to the terms of the grant or state and federal law.

4. The submission of final expenditure reports for any entitlement grants and the filing of Final Expenditure Reports and Final Performance Reports, as appropriate.

If Charter School is operated as or by a nonprofit corporation, and if the corporation does not have any functions other than operation of Charter School, the corporation shall be dissolved according to its bylaws.

Charter School shall retain sufficient staff, as deemed appropriate by the Charter School governing board to complete all necessary tasks and procedures required to close the school and transfer records in accordance with these closure procedures.

Charter School's governing board shall adopt a plan for wind-up of Charter School and, if necessary, the corporation, in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Code.

Charter School shall provide LAUSD within fourteen (14) calendar days of the Closure Action with written notice of any outstanding payments due to staff and the time frame and method by which Charter School will make the payments.

Prior to final close-out, Charter School shall complete all actions required by applicable law, including but not limited to the following:

a. File all final federal, state, and local employer payroll tax returns and issue final W-2s and Form 1099s by the statutory deadlines.

b. Make final federal tax payments (employee taxes, etc.)

c. Complete and submit all required federal and state filings and notices to the State of California, the Internal Revenue Service, and the Department of the Treasury, including but not limited to final tax returns and forms (e.g., Form 990 and related Schedules).

This Element 15 shall survive the revocation, expiration, termination, cancellation of this Charter, or any other act or event that would end Charter School's authorization to operate as a charter school or cause Charter School to cease operation. Charter School agrees that, due to the nature of the property and activities that are the subject of this Charter, the District and public shall suffer irreparable harm should Charter School breach any obligation under this Element 15. The District therefore reserves the right to seek equitable relief to enforce any right arising under this Element 15 or any provision of this Element 15 or to prevent or cure any breach of any obligation undertaken, without in any way prejudicing any other legal remedy available to the District. Such legal relief shall include, without limitation, the seeking of a temporary or permanent injunction, restraining order, or order for specific performance, and may be sought in any appropriate court.
Bright Star Schools' Executive Director and Deputy Superintendent of Education, along with the School Principal, will serve as the school's closure agent in the event that the school closes.

Additional Provisions

Facilities

Charter School shall comply with all geographic and site limitations and related requirements set forth in Education Code sections 47605.1, 47602(a), and 47605(a).

District-Owned Facilities

If Charter School is using District facilities as of the date of the submission of this charter petition or takes occupancy of District facilities prior to the approval of this charter petition, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities as a condition of the approval of the charter petition. If at any time after the approval of this charter petition Charter School will occupy and use any District facilities, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities prior to occupancy and commencing use. Charter School shall implement and otherwise comply with the terms of any and all applicable facilities use agreements between Charter School and the District.

The circumstances of Charter School's occupancy of District facilities may change over time such as, but not limited to, enrollment, programs, and the conditions of facilities, and the District has a vested interest in having an agreement that is appropriate for the situation.

For a Sole Occupant Agreement or any other use agreement that is not a Proposition 39 Single Year Co-location Use Agreement or a lease issued through the Notice of Intent and bid process, the term may be co-terminous with the approved Charter, as permitted by law. Charter School and the District shall negotiate any modifications of the agreement with the goal of such amendment or new agreement being considered by the LAUSD Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition. If Charter School and the District cannot execute an agreement in time for such to be considered by the Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition, the approval of the renewal of the charter petition shall be conditioned upon Charter School and the District executing an amendment to the existing use agreement or a new agreement no later than May 1st or within nine (9) months of the date of the Board of Education's approval of the renewal of the charter petition. During such time period Charter School shall be permitted to remain in occupancy of the District facilities under the terms and conditions of the immediately preceding, executed use agreement; provided, that if Charter School and the District cannot agree upon and execute an amendment or new use agreement by said deadline, Charter School shall vacate the District facilities on or before June 30th of said school year.

Charter School acknowledges and agrees that occupancy and use of District facilities shall be in compliance with applicable laws and District policies for the operation and maintenance of District facilities and furnishings and equipment. Charter School shall comply with all District health, safety, and emergency procedures and requirements and shall be subject to inspection by the District's Facilities Services Division, OEHS, and other District offices in the same manner as other LAUSD campuses. All District facilities (i.e., schools) will remain subject to those laws applicable to public schools.

In the event of an emergency, all District facilities (i.e., schools) are available for use by the American Red Cross and public agencies as emergency locations, which may disrupt or prevent Charter School from conducting its educational programs. If Charter School will share the use of District facilities with other District user groups, Charter School agrees that it will participate in and observe all District safety policies (e.g., emergency chain of information and participation in safety drills).

The use agreements provided by the District for District facilities shall contain terms and conditions addressing issues such as, but not limited to, the following:

Use: Charter School will be restricted to using the District facilities for the operation of a public school providing educational instruction to public school students consistent with the terms of the Charter and incidental related uses. Separate and apart from its right as authorizer to observe and inspect any part of the charter school at any time pursuant to Education Code 47607(a)(1), the District shall have and reserves the right to inspect District facilities upon reasonable notice to Charter School.

Furnishings and Equipment: The District shall retain ownership of any furnishings and equipment, including technology, ("F&E") that it provides to Charter School for use. Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, shall provide maintenance and other services for the good and safe operation of the F&E.

Leasing; Licensing: Use of the District facilities by any person or entity other than Charter School shall be administered by the District. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement in the use agreement.

Programs, Services, and Activities Outside Instructional Program; Third Party Vendors:

Any program, service, or activity provided outside the instructional program shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement, and, additionally, may require a license, permit, or additional agreement issued by the District. The term "instructional program" is defined, per Education Code section 47612 and 5 CCR section 11960, as those required educational activities that generate funding based on "average daily attendance" and includes those extracurricular programs, services, and/or activities that students are required to participate in and do not require the payment of any consideration or fee.

Any program, service, or activity requiring the payment of any consideration or fee or provided by a third party vendor (defined as any person or entity other than Charter School), whether paid or volunteer and regardless of whether such may be within the instructional program, shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement and such third party vendor shall be required to obtain a license, permit, or additional agreement from the District.

Minimum Payments or Charges to be Paid to District Arising from the Facilities:

Pro Rata Share: The District shall collect, and Charter School shall pay a Pro Rata Share for facilities costs as provided in the Charter Schools Act of 1992 and its regulations. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding facilities costs in the use agreement; and Taxes; Assessments: Generally, Charter School shall pay any assessment or fee imposed upon or levied on the LAUSD facilities that it is occupying or Charter School's legal or equitable interest created by the use agreement.

Maintenance & Operations Services: In the event the District agrees to allow Charter School to perform any of the operation and maintenance services, the District shall have the right to inspect the District facilities, and the costs incurred in such inspection shall be paid by Charter School.

Co-Location: If Charter School is co-locating or sharing the District facilities with another user, the District shall provide the operations and maintenance services for the District facilities and Charter School shall pay the Pro Rata Share. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such in the use agreement.

Sole Occupant: If Charter School is a sole occupant of District facilities, the District shall allow Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, to provide some operations and maintenance services for the District facilities in accordance with applicable laws and LAUSD's policies on operations and maintenance services for facilities and F&E. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, the District shall provide all services for regulatory inspections which as the owner of the real property it is required to submit, and deferred maintenance, and Charter School shall pay LAUSD for the cost and expense of providing those services. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such services in the use agreement.

Real Property Insurance: Prior to occupancy, Charter School shall satisfy requirements to participate in LAUSD's property insurance or, if Charter School is the sole occupant of LAUSD facilities, obtain and maintain separate property insurance for the LAUSD facilities. Charter School shall not have the option of obtaining and maintaining separate property insurance for the LAUSD facility IF Charter School is co-locating or sharing the LAUSD facility with another user.

Non-District-Owned Facilities

Occupancy and Use of the Site: Prior to occupancy or use of any school site or facility, Charter School shall provide the CSD with a current Certificate of Occupancy or equivalent document issued by the applicable permitting agency that allows Charter School to use and occupy the site as a charter school. Charter School shall not exceed the operating capacity of the site and shall operate within any limitations or requirements provided by the Certificate of Occupancy and any applicable permit. Charter School may not open or operate without providing a copy of an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD. If Charter School intends to move or expand to another facility during the term of this Charter, Charter School shall adhere to any and all District policies and procedures regarding charter material revision and non-material amendment. Prior to occupancy or use of any such additional or changed school site, Charter School shall provide an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD for such facility. Notwithstanding any language to the contrary in this Charter, the interpretation, application, and enforcement of this provision are not subject to the Dispute Resolution Process outlined in Element 14.

Facility Compliance: Prior to occupancy or use of any non-District-owned school site and/or facility, Charter School shall ensure that the site and/or facility complies with all applicable building codes, standards and regulations adopted by the city and/or county agencies responsible for building and safety standards for the city in which Charter School is to be located, federal and state accessibility requirements (including the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504), and all other applicable fire, health, and structural safety and access requirements. This requirement shall also apply to the construction, reconstruction, alteration of or addition to the facility. Charter School shall resolve in a timely manner any and all corrective actions, orders to comply, and notices issued by any authorized building and safety agency. Charter School cannot exempt itself from applicable building and zoning codes, ordinances, and ADA/Section 504 requirements. Charter School shall maintain on file readily accessible records that document facilities compliance and shall promptly provide such documentation to the CSD upon request.

Pest Management: Charter School shall comply with the Healthy Schools Act, Education Code section 17608, which details pest management requirements for schools.

Asbestos Management: Charter School shall comply with the asbestos requirement as cited in the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA), 40 C.F.R. part 763. AHERA requires that any building leased or acquired that is to be used as a school or administrative building shall maintain an asbestos management plan.

Full implementation of the reorganized LAUSD SELPA commenced in the 2013-2014 school year requiring all District-authorized charter schools to elect one of the three options available under the LAUSD SELPA. Prior to an option election, all District-authorized charter schools were required to participate as a school of the District under the District-Operated Programs Unit. The Charter-operated Program schools do not have LEA status for the purposes of special education but will function in a similar role in that each charter school will be responsible for all special education requirements, including but not limited to services, placement, due process, related services, special education classes, and special education supports. Charter schools that have elected to participate in a District-operated programs option may apply for membership in the Charter-operated Program section of the SELPA. Charter School shall ensure that its staff is knowledgeable about and complies with the District's Discipline Foundation Policy and/or current equivalent policy. Charter School shall comply with the terms of the School Discipline Policy and School Climate Bill of Rights resolution adopted by the LAUSD Board of Education on May 6, 2013.

Charter School shall be responsible for the appropriate interim placement of students during and pending the completion of Charter School's student expulsion process and shall facilitate the post-expulsion placement of expelled students.

Charter School shall document and implement the alternatives to suspension and expulsion that Charter School utilizes in response to attendance-related concerns, e.g. truancy or excessive tardiness.

No student shall be involuntarily removed by the Charter School for any reason unless the parent or guardian of the student has been provided written notice of intent to remove the student no less than five schooldays before the effective date of the action. The written notice shall be in the native language of the student or the student's parent or guardian or, if the student is a foster child or youth or a homeless child or youth, the student's educational rights holder, and shall inform him or her of the basis for which the pupil is being involuntarily removed and his or her right to request a hearing to challenge the involuntary removal. If the student's parent, guardian, or educational rights holder requests a hearing, the student shall remain enrolled and shall not be removed until the Charter School issues a final decision. As used herein,

"involuntarily removed" includes disenrolled, dismissed, transferred, or terminated, but does not include removals for misconduct which may be grounds for suspension or expulsion as enumerated in this section.

(Ed. Code § 48913.5)

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Charter School shall establish and implement policies and procedures to ensure full compliance with federal and state laws and regulations regarding the discipline of students with disabilities. If a student is recommended for expulsion and the student receives or is eligible for special education, pending the completion of the expulsion process, Charter School shall identify and provide special education programs and services at an appropriate interim educational placement determined in coordination with the LAUSD Division of Special Education.

In the case of a student who has an Individualized Education Program ("IEP"), or a student who has a Section 504 Plan, Charter School shall ensure that it follows correct disciplinary procedures to comply with the mandates of state and federal laws, including IDEA and section 504 of the Rehabilitation Plan of 1973. As set forth in the MOU regarding special education between the District and Charter School, an IEP team will meet to conduct a manifestation determination and to discuss alternative placement utilizing the District's Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual. Prior to recommending expulsion for a student with a Section 504 Plan, Charter School's administrator will convene a Link Determination meeting to ask the following two questions:

  B. Was the misconduct a direct result of Charter School's failure to implement Section 504 Plan?

Notwithstanding and apart from the documentation sent to the Charter Schools Division as indicated above, if the student is a resident of a school district other than LAUSD, Charter School must notify the superintendent of the student's district of residence within 30 days of the expulsion. Additionally, upon request of the receiving school district, Charter School shall forward student records no later than 10 school days from the date of the request as stated in Education Code section 49068 (a) and (b).

Terms of expulsion should be reasonable and fair with the weight of the expelling offense taken into consideration when determining the length of expulsion. Charter School shall inform parents in writing of its processes for reinstatement and applying for expungement of the expulsion record.

Personnel records to be transferred to and maintained by the designee must include any and all employee records, including but not limited to, records related to performance and grievance. Charter School must provide to the CSD and the designee a list of all active and inactive employees and their periods of service. Both Charter School and the designee, individually and separately, shall inform the CSD immediately upon the transfer of Charter School's employee records to the designee.

8. Charter School shall ensure that all records are boxed and clearly labeled by classification of documents and the required duration of storage in accordance with District procedures.

9. Charter School shall provide to the responsible person(s) designated by the governing board of Charter School to conduct all closure-related activities a list of students in each grade level and, for each student, a list of classes completed and the student's district of residence.

Financial Close-Out

After receiving notification of closure, the California Department of Education (CDE) will notify Charter School and the authorizing entity of any liabilities Charter School owes the state, which may include overpayment of apportionments, unpaid revolving fund loans or grants, and/or similar liabilities. The CDE may ask the county office of education to conduct an audit of the charter school if it has reason to believe that the school received state funding for which it was not eligible.

Charter School shall ensure completion of an independent final audit within six months after the closure of Charter School that includes:

1. An accounting of all financial assets. These may include cash and accounts receivable and an inventory of property, equipment, and other items of material value.

2. An accounting of all liabilities. These may include accounts payable or reduction in apportionments due to loans, unpaid staff compensation, audit findings, or other investigations.

3. An assessment of the disposition of any restricted funds received by or due to Charter School.

This audit may serve as Charter School's annual audit if it meets all of the requirements of the annual audit.

Charter School shall pay for the financial closeout audit of Charter School. This audit will be conducted by a neutral, independent licensed CPA who will employ generally accepted accounting principles. Any liability or debt incurred by Charter School will be the responsibility of Charter School and not LAUSD. Charter School understands and acknowledges that Charter School will cover the outstanding debts or liabilities of Charter School. Any unused monies at the time of the audit will be returned to the appropriate funding source. Charter School understands and acknowledges that only unrestricted funds will be used to pay creditors. Any unused AB 602 funds will be returned to the District SELPA or the SELPA in which Charter School participates, and other categorical funds will be returned to the source of funds.

Charter School shall ensure the completion and filing of any annual reports required. These reports include but are not necessarily limited to:

1. Preliminary budgets
2. Interim financial reports
3. Second interim financial reports
4. Final unaudited reports

These reports must be submitted to the CDE and the authorizing entity in the form required. These reports should be submitted as soon as possible after the Closure Action, but no later than the required deadline for reporting for the fiscal year.

For apportionment of categorical programs, the CDE will count the prior year average daily attendance (ADA) or enrollment data of the closed Charter School with the data of the authorizing entity. This practice will occur in the first year after the closure and will continue until CDE data collection processes reflect ADA or enrollment adjustments for all affected LEAs due to the charter closure.

Disposition of Liabilities and Assets

The closeout audit must identify the disposition of all liabilities of Charter School. Charter School closure procedures must also ensure appropriate disposal, in accordance with the District Required Language provisions in Element 11 of this Charter, Charter School's governing board bylaws, fiscal procedures, and any other applicable laws and regulations, of any net assets remaining after all liabilities of Charter School have been paid or otherwise addressed. Such disposal includes, but is not limited to:

1. Charter School, at its cost and expense, shall return to the District any and all property, furniture, equipment, supplies, and other assets provided to Charter School by or on behalf of the District. The District discloses that the California Education Code sets forth the requirements for the disposition of the District's personal property and Charter School shall bear responsibility and liability for any disposition in violation of statutory requirements.

2. The return of any donated materials and property in accordance with any terms and conditions set when the donations were accepted.

3. The return of any grant and restricted categorical funds to their sources according to the terms of the grant or state and federal law.

4. The submission of final expenditure reports for any entitlement grants and the filing of Final Expenditure Reports and Final Performance Reports, as appropriate.

If Charter School is operated as or by a nonprofit corporation, and if the corporation does not have any functions other than operation of Charter School, the corporation shall be dissolved according to its bylaws.

Charter School shall retain sufficient staff, as deemed appropriate by the Charter School governing board to complete all necessary tasks and procedures required to close the school and transfer records in accordance with these closure procedures.

Charter School's governing board shall adopt a plan for wind-up of Charter School and, if necessary, the corporation, in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Code.

Charter School shall provide LAUSD within fourteen (14) calendar days of the Closure Action with written notice of any outstanding payments due to staff and the time frame and method by which Charter School will make the payments.

Prior to final close-out, Charter School shall complete all actions required by applicable law, including but not limited to the following:

a. File all final federal, state, and local employer payroll tax returns and issue final W-2s and Form 1099s by the statutory deadlines.

b. Make final federal tax payments (employee taxes, etc.)

c. Complete and submit all required federal and state filings and notices to the State of California, the Internal Revenue Service, and the Department of the Treasury, including but not limited to final tax returns and forms (e.g., Form 990 and related Schedules).

This Element 15 shall survive the revocation, expiration, termination, cancellation of this Charter, or any other act or event that would end Charter School's authorization to operate as a charter school or cause Charter School to cease operation. Charter School agrees that, due to the nature of the property and activities that are the subject of this Charter, the District and public shall suffer irreparable harm should Charter School breach any obligation under this Element 15. The District therefore reserves the right to seek equitable relief to enforce any right arising under this Element 15 or any provision of this Element 15 or to prevent or cure any breach of any obligation undertaken, without in any way prejudicing any other legal remedy available to the District. Such legal relief shall include, without limitation, the seeking of a temporary or permanent injunction, restraining order, or order for specific performance, and may be sought in any appropriate court.

Additional Provisions

FACILITIES

Charter School shall comply with all geographic and site limitations and related requirements set forth in Education Code sections 47605.1, 47602(a), and 47605(a).

District-Owned Facilities

If Charter School is using District facilities as of the date of the submission of this charter petition or takes occupancy of District facilities prior to the approval of this charter petition, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities as a condition of the approval of the charter petition. If at any time after the approval of this charter petition Charter School will occupy and use any District facilities, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities prior to occupancy and commencing use. Charter School shall implement and otherwise comply with the terms of any and all applicable facilities use agreements between Charter School and the District.

The circumstances of Charter School's occupancy of District facilities may change over time such as, but not limited to, enrollment, programs, and the conditions of facilities, and the District has a vested interest in having an agreement that is appropriate for the situation.

For a Sole Occupant Agreement or any other use agreement that is not a Proposition 39 Single Year Co-location Use Agreement or a lease issued through the Notice of Intent and bid process, the term may be co-terminous with the approved Charter, as permitted by law. Charter School and the District shall negotiate any modifications of the agreement with the goal of such amendment or new agreement being considered by the LAUSD Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition. If Charter School and the District cannot execute an agreement in time for such to be considered by the Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition, the approval of the renewal of the charter petition shall be conditioned upon Charter School and the District executing an amendment to the existing use agreement or a new agreement no later than May 1st or within nine (9) months of the date of the Board of Education's approval of the renewal of the charter petition. During such time period Charter School shall be permitted to remain in occupancy of the District facilities under the terms and conditions of the immediately preceding, executed use agreement; provided, that if Charter School and the District cannot agree upon and execute an amendment or new use agreement by said deadline, Charter School shall vacate the District facilities on or before June 30th of said school year.

Charter School acknowledges and agrees that occupancy and use of District facilities shall be in compliance with applicable laws and District policies for the operation and maintenance of District facilities and furnishings and equipment. Charter School shall comply with all District health, safety, and emergency procedures and requirements and shall be subject to inspection by the District's Facilities Services Division, OEHS, and other District offices in the same manner as other LAUSD campuses. All District facilities (i.e., schools) will remain subject to those laws applicable to public schools.

In the event of an emergency, all District facilities (i.e., schools) are available for use by the American Red Cross and public agencies as emergency locations, which may disrupt or prevent Charter School from conducting its educational programs. If Charter School will share the use of District facilities with other District user groups, Charter School agrees that it will participate in and observe all District safety policies (e.g., emergency chain of information and participation in safety drills).

The use agreements provided by the District for District facilities shall contain terms and conditions addressing issues such as, but not limited to, the following:

- Use: Charter School will be restricted to using the District facilities for the operation of a public school providing educational instruction to public school students consistent with the terms of the Charter and incidental related uses. Separate and apart from its right as authorizer to observe and inspect any part of the charter school at any time pursuant to Education Code 47607(a)(1), the District shall have and reserves the right to inspect District facilities upon reasonable notice to Charter School.

- Furnishings and Equipment: The District shall retain ownership of any furnishings and equipment, including technology, ("F&E") that it provides to Charter School for use. Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, shall provide maintenance and other services for the good and safe operation of the F&E.

- Leasing; Licensing: Use of the District facilities by any person or entity other than Charter School shall be administered by the District. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement in the use agreement.

- Programs, Services, and Activities Outside Instructional Program; Third Party Vendors:

  (i) Any program, service, or activity provided outside the instructional program shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement, and, additionally, may require a license, permit, or additional agreement issued by the District. The term "instructional program" is defined, per Education Code section 47612 and 5 CCR section 11960, as those required educational activities that generate funding based on "average daily attendance" and includes those extracurricular programs, services, and/or activities that students are required to participate in and do not require the payment of any consideration or fee.

  (ii) Any program, service, or activity requiring the payment of any consideration or fee or provided by a third party vendor (defined as any person or entity other than Charter School), whether paid or volunteer and regardless of whether such may be within the instructional program, shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement and such third party vendor shall be required to obtain a license, permit, or additional agreement from the District.

- Minimum Payments or Charges to be Paid to District Arising from the Facilities:

  (i) Pro Rata Share: The District shall collect, and Charter School shall pay a Pro Rata Share for facilities costs as provided in the Charter Schools Act of 1992 and its regulations. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding facilities costs in the use agreement; and

  (ii) Taxes; Assessments: Generally, Charter School shall pay any assessment or fee imposed upon or levied on the LAUSD facilities that it is occupying or Charter School's legal or equitable interest created by the use agreement.

- Maintenance & Operations Services: In the event the District agrees to allow Charter School to perform any of the operation and maintenance services, the District shall have the right to inspect the District facilities, and the costs incurred in such inspection shall be paid by Charter School.

  (i) Co-Location: If Charter School is co-locating or sharing the District facilities with another user, the District shall provide the operations and maintenance services for the District facilities and Charter School shall pay the Pro Rata Share. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such in the use agreement.

(ii) Sole Occupant: If Charter School is a sole occupant of District facilities, the District shall allow Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, to provide some operations and maintenance services for the District facilities in accordance with applicable laws and LAUSD's policies on operations and maintenance services for facilities and F&E. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, the District shall provide all services for regulatory inspections which as the owner of the real property it is required to submit, and deferred maintenance, and Charter School shall pay LAUSD for the cost and expense of providing those services. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such services in the use agreement.

- Real Property Insurance: Prior to occupancy, Charter School shall satisfy requirements to participate in LAUSD's property insurance or, if Charter School is the sole occupant of LAUSD facilities, obtain and maintain separate property insurance for the LAUSD facilities. Charter School shall not have the option of obtaining and maintaining separate property insurance for the LAUSD facility IF Charter School is co-locating or sharing the LAUSD facility with another user.

Non-District-Owned Facilities

Occupancy and Use of the Site: Prior to occupancy or use of any school site or facility, Charter School shall provide the CSD with a current Certificate of Occupancy or equivalent document issued by the applicable permitting agency that allows Charter School to use and occupy the site as a charter school. Charter School shall not exceed the operating capacity of the site and shall operate within any limitations or requirements provided by the Certificate of Occupancy and any applicable permit. Charter School may not open or operate without providing a copy of an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD. If Charter School intends to move or expand to another facility during the term of this Charter, Charter School shall adhere to any and all District policies and procedures regarding charter material revision and non-material amendment. Prior to occupancy or use of any such additional or changed school site, Charter School shall provide an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD for such facility. Notwithstanding any language to the contrary in this Charter, the interpretation, application, and enforcement of this provision are not subject to the Dispute Resolution Process outlined in Element 14.

Facility Compliance: Prior to occupancy or use of any non-District-owned school site and/or facility, Charter School shall ensure that the site and/or facility complies with all applicable building codes, standards and regulations adopted by the city and/or county agencies responsible for building and safety standards for the city in which Charter School is to be located, federal and state accessibility requirements (including the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504), and all other applicable fire, health, and structural safety and access requirements. This requirement shall also apply to the construction, reconstruction, alteration of or addition to the facility. Charter School shall resolve in a timely manner any and all corrective actions, orders to comply, and notices issued by any authorized building and safety agency. Charter School cannot exempt itself from applicable building and zoning codes, ordinances, and ADA/Section 504 requirements. Charter School shall maintain on file readily accessible records that document facilities compliance and shall promptly provide such documentation to the CSD upon request.

Pest Management: Charter School shall comply with the Healthy Schools Act, Education Code section 17608, which details pest management requirements for schools.

Asbestos Management: Charter School shall comply with the asbestos requirement as cited in the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA), 40 C.F.R. part 763. AHERA requires that any building leased or acquired that is to be used as a school or administrative building shall maintain an asbestos management plan.

Hold Harmless/Indemnification Provision

To the fullest extent permitted by law, Charter School does hereby agree, at its own expense, to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the LAUSD and the Board of Education and their members, officers, directors, agents, representatives, employees and volunteers from and against any and all claims, damages, losses

FISCAL MATTERS

In the event that Charter School owes funds to the District for the provision of agreed upon or fee for service or special education services or as a result of the State's adjustment to allocation of special education revenues from Charter School, Charter School authorizes the District to deduct any and all of the in lieu property taxes that Charter School otherwise would be eligible to receive under section 47635 of the Education Code to cover such owed amounts. Charter School further understands and agrees that the District shall make appropriate deductions from the in lieu property tax amounts otherwise owed to Charter School. Should this revenue stream be insufficient in any fiscal year to cover any such costs, Charter School agrees that it will reimburse the District for the additional costs within forty-five (45) business days of being notified of the amounts owed.

with the EERA, employees may join and be represented by an organization of their choice for collective bargaining purposes.

NOTE: This Charter contains specific "District Required Language" (DRL), including the Assurances, Affirmations, and Declarations section above. The DRL should be highlighted in gray within each Charter element or section. The final section of the Charter provides a consolidated addendum of the DRL. This intentional redundancy facilitates efficient charter petition review while ensuring ready access to the DRL for any given section of the Charter. To the extent that any inconsistency may exist between any provision contained within the body of the Charter and the DRL contained in the addendum, the provisions of the DRL addendum shall control.

Element 1: The Educational Program

"The educational program of the charter school, designed, among other things, to identify those whom the charter school is attempting to educate, what it means to be an "educated person" in the 21st century, and how learning best occurs. The goals identified in that program shall include the objective of enabling pupils to become self-motivated, competent, and lifelong learners." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(A)(i).)

"The annual goals for the charter school for all pupils and for each subgroup of pupils identified pursuant to Section 52052, to be achieved in the state priorities, as described in subdivision (d) of Section 52060, that apply for the grade levels served, or the nature of the program operated, by the charter school, and specific annual actions to achieve those goals. A charter petition may identify additional school priorities, the goals for the school priorities, and the specific annual actions to achieve those goals." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(A)(ii).)

"If the proposed charter school will serve high school pupils, a description of the manner in which the charter school will inform parents about the transferability of courses to other public high schools and the eligibility of courses to meet college entrance requirements. Courses offered by the charter school that are accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges may be considered transferable and courses approved by the University of California or the California State University as creditable under the "A" to "G" admissions criteria may be considered to meet college entrance requirements." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(A)(iii).)

In accordance with Education Code sections 47604.33 and 47606.5, Charter School shall annually update its goals and annual actions to achieve those goals identified in the charter pursuant to Education Code section 47605(b)(5)(A)(ii), using the Local Control and Accountability Plan template adopted by the State Board of Education, as it may be changed from time to time. Charter School shall comply with all requirements of Education Code section 47606.5, including but not limited to the requirement that Charter School "shall consult with teachers, principals, administrators, other school personnel, parents, and pupils in developing the local control and accountability plan and annual update to the local control and accountability plan." Charter School shall adhere to all provisions of federal law related to students with disabilities including, but not limited to, section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004.

Special Education Program

Charter School shall ensure that no student otherwise eligible to enroll in Charter School shall be denied, directly or indirectly, admission due to a disability or to Charter School's inability to provide necessary services. Charter School acknowledges that policies and procedures are in place to ensure the recruitment, enrollment, service, and retention of students with disabilities at LAUSD-authorized charter schools, including Charter School.

Prior to LAUSD Board of Education approval of an initial Charter petition, and if a renewing Charter School intends to operate as a "school of the district" for special education services, Charter School shall execute a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") by and between LAUSD and Charter School regarding the provision and funding of special education services consistent with applicable state law and the LAUSD Special Education Local Plan Area ("SELPA") Local Plan for Special Education and shall be considered a "public school of the District" for purposes of Special Education pursuant to Education Code Section 47641(b). However, Charter School reserves the right to make written verifiable assurances that it may become an independent local educational agency (LEA) and join a SELPA pursuant to Education Code Section 47641 (a) either on its own or with a grouping of charter school LEAs as a consortium following the requirements of Education Code section 56195.3(b).

SELPA Reorganization

The Los Angeles Unified School District is approved to operate as a single-District SELPA under the provisions of Education Code section 56195.1(a). As a single-District SELPA, the District has created two charter school sections (District-operated Programs and Charter-operated Programs) under the administration of one single Administrative Unit pursuant to a reorganization plan approved by the Board of Education on January 4, 2011 (149/10-11). Full implementation of the reorganized LAUSD SELPA commenced in the 2013-2014 school year requiring all District-authorized charter schools to elect one of the three options available under the LAUSD SELPA. Prior to an option election, all District-authorized charter schools were required to participate as a school of the District under the District-Operated Programs Unit. Prior to the beginning of the 2013-2014 school year, all District-authorized charter schools, other than those that had previously executed an Option 3 Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU"), were required to execute a new MOU setting forth the LAUSD SELPA option election for the remainder of the charter petition term. The Charter-operated Program schools do not have LEA status for the purposes of special education but will function in a similar role in that each charter school will be responsible for all special education requirements, including but not limited to services, placement, due process, related services, special education classes, and special education supports. Charter schools that have elected to participate in a District-operated programs option may apply for membership in the Charter-operated Program section of the SELPA. Charter schools accepted for participation in the Charter-operated Programs section receive support from a Special Education Director for the Charter-operated Programs.

Modified Consent Decree Requirements

All charter schools approved by the LAUSD Board of Education are bound by and must adhere to the terms, conditions and requirements of the Chanda Smith Modified Consent Decree ("MCD") and other court orders imposed upon the District pertaining to special education. The MCD is a consent decree entered in a federal court class action lawsuit initially brought on behalf of students with disabilities in LAUSD. It is an agreement of the parties approved by the federal court and monitored by a court-appointed independent monitor. The MCD includes nineteen statistically measureable outcomes and facilities obligations that the District has to achieve to disengage from the MCD and federal court oversight. All charter schools are required to use the District's Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual and Welligent, the District-wide web-based software system used for online Individualized Education Programs ("IEPs") and tracking of related services provided to students during the course of their education.

As part of fulfilling the District's obligations under the MCD, student level data requests from District-operated and Charter-operated charter schools are made on a regular basis. The requested data must be submitted in the Office of the Independent Monitor's ("OIM") required format in accordance with the OIM's required timelines and as follows:

- End of Year Suspension

  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, date of suspension, number of days suspended, and reason for suspension.

- Statewide Assessment Data

  The standard file including District ID.

- Norm day
  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, location code, school name and local district for all students enrolled on norm day.

- CBEDS

- All Students enrolled as of December 1 of each school year

  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, location code, school name and local district for all students enrolled on norm day.

- Dropout
  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, middle name, date of birth, grade, last location, school name and local district

- Monthly SESAC and Suspension data

- Graduation roster from all charter schools with 12th grade students with disabilities

The MCD requires charter schools to implement the District's integrated student information system, which is currently referred to as My Integrated Student Information System (MiSiS). MiSiS is a suite of applications which is designed to capture all District student data. All charter schools are required to utilize MiSiS directly or interface with MiSiS via a web based Application Programming Interface (API) in compliance with the requirements of the MCD and applicable timelines. Upon charter school full utilization of MiSiS either directly or via a web based API, the list of required data above will automatically be captured within MiSiS.

Community Need for Charter School

Larchmont Charter School, a grades TK-12 school, has established itself as one of the top performing public schools in Los Angeles. Unique among public charter networks in our focus on racial, ethnic, and socio-economic diversity, Larchmont Charter School aims to provide a richly diverse community of students with a high quality public education.

Larchmont Charter School grew out of a dream of a group of dedicated parents, opening in September 2005 as a K-2nd grade elementary school with 120 students. Inspired by the success of Larchmont Charter, a second group of parents advocated to open a sister school. The result was Larchmont Charter School–West Hollywood (LCW), a separate K-8 charter school, which opened its doors in September of 2008.

With Larchmont's expansion, the dream grew. The community now wanted to offer every Larchmont student a path from kindergarten through 12th grade. Larchmont Charter School amended its charter to include a high school, and in 2011 the LAUSD Board of Education approved the petition. But Larchmont Charter School–West Hollywood continued to operate as a separate entity, and our LCW students were limited to a K-8 program. To remedy this problem, the Larchmont Charter School Board of Directors submitted a Request for Material Revision in the spring of 2013, in an effort to merge Larchmont Charter-West Hollywood and Larchmont Charter into one Larchmont Charter School.

On April 16, 2013, the LAUSD Board of Education approved the material revision to the Larchmont Charter School charter petition. Today, Larchmont Charter School operates a continuous TK-12 program. The first senior class graduated at the end of the 2015-2016 school year. Our students are served on the following four campuses:

- Larchmont Charter School at Fairfax (TK-4)
- Larchmont Charter School at Hollygrove (TK-4)
- Larchmont Charter School at Selma (5-7) (This site has been provided based on Proposition 39 agreement and is subject to a yearly application process)
- Larchmont Charter School at La Fayette Park Place (8-12)

2. School Performance

Academic Performance Data and Other Absolute Comparative Performance Indicators

During the current charter term, Larchmont Charter School has demonstrated consistently high academic achievement, evidencing that it has and will continue to meet the needs of the community it serves. Larchmont provides a compelling option for families seeking quality schools in the Los Angeles community by providing a constructivist, inquiry-based educational program, high degree of parent engagement, and student population that mirrors our broader community.

California Assessment of Student Performance and Progress ("CAASPP")

The 2018 CAASPP results show that students at Larchmont are meeting or exceeding English Language Arts ("ELA") and Math standards at much higher rates compared to students enrolled at Resident Schools and at similar rates compared to students enrolled at Similar Schools within LAUSD. For the 2018 CAASPP for ELA, 73.29% of Larchmont students met or exceeded standards, compared to the Resident Schools Median of 41.50%, Similar School's Median of 73.00%, and LAUSD rate of 42.31%. In Math, 61.83% of Larchmont students met or exceeded standards, compared to the Resident Schools Median of 25.42%, Similar School's Median of 69.43%, and LAUSD rate of 31.32%. Larchmont's performance on the CAASPP has remained strong over time, as shown in the table below.

Larchmont's CAASPP results are strong schoolwide and also by subgroup. Because Larchmont is a TK-12 school on four separate campuses, the Resident Schools that serve as a comparison to Larchmont comprise a mix of 50 elementary, middle, and high schools. To simplify comparisons, the following charts contextualize Larchmont's 2018 CAASPP results alongside that of LAUSD, LA County, and a sample of Resident Schools.

The strength of Larchmont's academic programming is also reflected in the CAASPP results of returning students and newly enrolled students. In many grade levels, a third to three-quarters of newly enrolled students nearly met or did not meet ELA and/or Math standards, while the majority of returning students met or exceeded ELA and Math standards in the 2018 CAASPP. Students are able to benefit most from Larchmont's unique TK-12 program with continuous enrollment. The charts below show that returning students largely outperform new students in every grade level, a testimony to the effectiveness of Larchmont's program.

The academic performance of students at Larchmont Charter are also reflected in the California Charter Schools Association's ("CCSA") rankings, which compare all public schools in California based on CAASPP data. Larchmont received a State Rank of 9 out of 10 and a Similar Students Rank of 7 out of 10[2], both well above CCSA's target of 4 out of 10.

College and Career Readiness Indicators

Larchmont's unique TK-12 programming prepares students for success in higher education and beyond. On the California School Dashboard, Larchmont is rated "blue" – the highest performance indicator possible – in the areas of College/Career preparedness and Graduation Rate.

The four-year adjusted cohort graduation rate and college-going rate of Larchmont students exceed that of LAUSD and the state of CA, as shown in the tables[3] below.

These results evidence that Larchmont has not only shown high achievement in terms of student outcomes, but also strong growth, particularly in ELA and the elementary grades, that significantly outpaces schools in the community. This synthesized analysis therefore points to the fact that Larchmont Charter School is offering a high quality education program when compared against the district-wide and neighborhood benchmarks. The following reflection highlights our successes to date, transparently calls attention to our challenges, and discusses ways in which Larchmont Charter School aims to continuously improve in this next charter term.

Success of Key Features of the Educational Program

Larchmont Charter School provides a socio-economically, culturally and racially diverse community of students with an exceptional public education. We foster creativity and academic excellence; our students learn with and from each other in an experience-centered, inquiry-based learning environment. Nurturing our unique talents to be of service to each other and the larger world in which we live, students and adults alike embody the values of respect, integrity, compassion, and appreciation for differences of all kinds, grit, curiosity, problem solving, collaboration, and communication.

Three interrelated tenets have helped us achieve excellence and build an innovative educational program:

- Academic excellence. We strive to create an academically rigorous and challenging experience for each of our students every day.
- Diversity. We strive to have a racially and socioeconomically diverse community of learners. We also strive to have a richly diverse program that appeals to students' multiple intelligences and facilitates them making connections across the curriculum.
- Community engagement. We strive to ensure that every member of our community has access to, and a voice in the work we are doing to build our school and to improve the world we all inhabit. Core to this is teaching students how to be in community through an intentional focus on social emotional development and community building TK-12.

These three tenets drive the work we do at every level and are the basis for the success of the innovative features of our educational program. Our TK-12 grade span structure allows for teachers to vertically articulate the curriculum across the entire elementary, middle, and high school spectrum, resulting in a cohesive, personalized, rigorous learning experience for every student. At every grade level, interdisciplinary, standards-based projects are organized around common thematic elements stemming from ecology and social justice, the study of social movements and work in the humanities.
We consider the following innovations to be the reasons for Larchmont's success:

Challenging, constructivist and inquiry-based curriculum that inspires independent thinking, imagination and a passion for learning: Our unique approach to translating constructivist theory into practice is our signature innovation. The Larchmont curriculum is progressive, interdisciplinary, and experience-based, and rooted in social justice and the humanities. Students build and deepen concepts through the use of concrete manipulatives and experiential learning, and our curricula draw on the work of John Dewey, Jean Piaget, Reggio Emilia, Jerome Bruner, and Lev Vygotsky. Larchmont students receive differentiated instruction in response to their varied interests and strengths, and teachers are provided time, resources, support, and autonomy to continually develop their pedagogical skills in a professional learning community; create, evaluate and refine curricula; and ensure that all students have every opportunity to achieve.

Commitment to diversity that mirrors our community: Larchmont's continuing goal is to give all students the opportunity to learn with and from a student population that mirrors our community, where students are more actively engaged, parents are more actively involved, and teachers have high expectations for student achievement. Research shows that socioeconomically disadvantaged students benefit from attending schools with this model of economic diversity. A 2012 study by Richard Kahlenberg demonstrated that low-income students attending more affluent schools significantly outperform low-income students attending high-poverty schools with state-of-the-art educational interventions.[5]

Because of our commitment to serving a diverse community of students, Larchmont Charter School has undertaken efforts to increase its overall diversity. Larchmont continues to offer a weighted lottery priority for families that indicate that they qualify for the National School Lunch Program ("NSLP") and the school uses this priority to create a 40% NSLP-eligible pool in the lottery based on approved practice as described in Element 8. We also conduct significant and varied outreach efforts, offer a variety of ways for families of all backgrounds to connect with the larger school community once they arrive at Larchmont. As a result of these efforts, over 40% of the student population is considered socio-economically disadvantaged.

Focus on civic engagement, volunteerism, and community: The third innovative feature of our educational program is the emphasis we place on teaching our students that they are citizens of the world, whereby they take interest in and responsibility for their critical roles in the broader world, as advocates for equal opportunity and the dignity of others. Our campuses are not isolated entities in our neighborhoods, but instead are an integral part of the broader community. For instance, through our students' Signature/Interdisciplinary Projects and Junior/Senior Seminars, students participate in student-created service learning experiences every year from TK-12, and connect their experiences back to the curriculum across academic areas. Students in TK-4 engage in hands-on activities based in ecological sciences: life science, earth science, botany, zoology or supporting eco-literacy concepts of systems thinking and interconnectivity. In grades 5-12, these efforts are expanded to include a focus on exploring issues of social justice and community movements through work in the humanities: writing, performance art, research, and project design. These interdisciplinary projects culminate in the Junior Research Seminar and Senior Research Project, which include a community action/service component. Larchmont Charter School has successfully brought the community into our school during the school day and engaged our students in the community around them, thereby helping our students make relevant connections between themselves, their families, the city at large and communities beyond their city borders.

Dedication to family involvement and socio-emotional development: Larchmont Charter School nurtures a community that includes families, teachers, staff and other community members who are active participants in the education and social and emotional development of our students. Our family participation rates are high, and with strong parent support, we creatively utilize our limited resources and funds to offer a rich and varied educational program. We consider our families' active participation in the school community as an indicator of success. Regular meetings and communications between school leaders and families are utilized not only to address specific issues, but also to gauge and ensure high levels of parent satisfaction. Students, parents, teachers and staff promote active communication between the school and the students' homes, and providing meaningful family education programs. Our focus on the socio-emotional development of our students ensures that they learn to communicate effectively, seek to understand, share and care, take responsibility and persevere. Community members use reflective and collaborative practices to learn about self, others, and the diverse world around them. Community members act as global citizens to demonstrate respect, empathy, and care for others and the world they inhabit. Community members cultivate interdependence by connecting across and celebrating race, class, culture, language, gender identity, sexual orientation, learning needs, and age. Community members advocate for self and others by demonstrating efficacy and resilience in the face of opportunities and challenges in college, career, and life. Building authentic relationships across lines of difference among students, staff, and families is the basis of a positive and safe school culture with shared intentions and expectations.

Success of the Educational Program in Meeting the Specific Needs of Its Student Population

Instructional Model Based on Constructivism and Interdisciplinary Connections: We attribute our students' growth and achievement to our constructivist and integrated instructional strategies, practices, and organizational structures. Our print- and language-rich environment, focus on spoken word and oral expression, infusion of world languages, as well as clustering grade level structures and looping in the elementary grades, build continuous opportunities for student learning across the curriculum. In social studies, high school students, for example, examine eras in world history through an inquiry-based and interdisciplinary approach to understand the development of events and interactions among the world's people and cultures today.

Reflecting on our students' high achievement, detailed in the previous section, we attribute their success to our instructional model, and strongly believe it meets the needs of our diverse student population.

Differentiated Support for Diverse Populations of Students: In Larchmont's socio-economically integrated learning environment, we recognize that we must adapt instructional practices to the unique styles of different learners. The Larchmont educational program includes a variety of structures and practices that provide instruction that is geared toward students' particular needs, level, pacing and approach. Our interdisciplinary approach to all instruction allows for all learners, including English Learners ("ELs"), to develop language and vocabulary in a meaningful, authentic setting. In our time serving our ELs in particular, we see that our constructivist approach individualizes instruction for ELs, thus ensuring that a majority of ELs have well developed or moderately developed English language proficiency, as shown in the California School Dashboard below.

Our EL students also reclassify at high rates with Larchmont's higher standard for reclassification, though due to the small population of ELs, percentages may fluctuate from year to year. Our reclassification rates, per CDE via DataQuest, during the past charter term is shown below:

	2015-2016		2016-2017		2017-2018		2018-2019
	% EL	Reclass Rate	% EL	Reclass Rate	% EL	Reclass Rate	% EL	Reclass Rate
LCS	7%	28%	7%	31%	7%	13%	8%	25%
LAUSD	26%	12%	25%	17%	23%	20%	20%	23%
CA	22%	11%	21%	13%	20%	15%	19%	14%

Larchmont set its reclassification criteria based on the ELPAC at a higher standard than the guidance provided by the state of California, where Larchmont's rubric suggests that a student should score at Level 4 on all areas of the ELPAC, with the Overall score, and Oral Language and Written Language subscores, reflecting Level 4. This differs from the state's recommendation that any student scoring Level 4 Overall is ready to reclassify. This decision was made in response to student results, where some students were determined to have scored at Level 4 Overall, while still scoring at the lowest Beginning level on the Listening, Speaking, Reading and/or Writing areas of the test. The decision to hold our students to a higher standard before reclassification naturally impacts our reclassification rate, such that students are not reclassified until they demonstrate a more than moderately developed level of skill in English.

Larchmont offers varied approaches that appeal to different kinds of thinkers and learners during the instructional day, and beginning in fourth grade, our Accelerated Math program (for students performing above grade level), and our Math interventions (for students performing below grade level) offer additional opportunities to accelerate or intervene. High school students have daily opportunities to receive individualized support, including credit recovery opportunities within the school schedule and have regular check-ins with their homeroom teacher, providing students an opportunity to make decisions about how to engage their interests and take charge of their own learning.

Board Commitment to Monitoring Student Achievement: The Larchmont Charter School Board of Directors has institutionalized several practices that drive data-based decision-making across all levels of the organization. Three times a year, the LCS Board of Directors meets with the Executive Director's Academic Excellence Group and School Leaders, along with other stakeholders, to review academic data. The three review meetings focus on diagnostic data, midyear performance data, and end-of-year performance data, respectively. The reviews include NWEA MAP reading and assessment data (grades 2-11), Fountas & Pinnell data (grades TK-4), and Mathematics Diagnostic Testing Project data (grades 5-12). For high school students, A-G completion data, AP participation and passage rates, and college acceptance data are also reviewed closely. Data are disaggregated by grade level, subgroup and performance band; and tracks student performance across school-wide targets.

The LCS Board of Directors monitors students' progress towards defined periodic annual achievement targets, and, most importantly, School Leaders report actions to be taken in response to the data trends.

As a result of this ongoing practice, all decision makers have the tools and communication structures necessary to ensure Larchmont Charter School delivers on its promise to provide an exceptional public education to its diverse community of students.

Areas of Challenge and How They Will be Improved in the New Charter Term

Attracting and Serving a Diverse Student Population: The mission of Larchmont includes an emphasis on the importance of diversity in the school community, with the belief that students have more learning opportunities when surrounded by students of differing racial, ethnic, economic, and lingual statuses. Outreach to the local communities surrounding Larchmont's campuses is therefore essential to ensuring that the mission of diversity is upheld.

Larchmont's diversity has grown over time both through outreach and our policy of prioritizing students eligible to receive Free/Reduced-Price Lunch in our lottery to ensure that we are building a school community that represents the larger Los Angeles community. We plan to continue to be deliberate in our outreach efforts, targeting underrepresented communities of Los Angeles so that low-income and students from underrepresented backgrounds know about Larchmont and thrive once enrolled. Strategies include partnering with our family associations to support broad outreach, conduct orientation and outreach meetings, distribute promotional materials translated into Spanish and Korean, and reaching out to local Head Start Programs, local churches and community organizations, intensifying our efforts in the six weeks prior to the lottery.

In an effort to further our mission, Larchmont plans to both continue this work of attracting a diverse community and build on efforts underway to ensure we are serving all our diverse students and families well. These include an increased professional development focus on unconscious bias, culturally relevant and responsive pedagogy, anti-bias curriculum, inclusiveness and cultural competence. It also includes deepening work around ensuring equity in all we do as a school including working aggressively to close achievement gaps.

Continuing to increase student achievement: Larchmont is committed to raising student achievement for all students in all areas and accelerating the achievement of underperforming students. Larchmont has set a specific goal to strengthen its Math performance TK-12. With the goal of increasing student achievement in Math, the School Leadership Team and the Larchmont Charter School Board of Directors has embarked on a multiyear plan. It entails, in part, utilizing the reports provided from internal assessments to set modest subject, grade-level, individual, and subgroup specific growth goals based on current proficiency rates. The results of these assessments are compared between each testing time period (Beginning of Year in Fall, Middle of Year in Winter, and End of Year in Spring), and the analysis and resulting subgroup specific growth goals are shared with the LCS Board of Directors in accordance with our thrice yearly data reporting cycle for further review. Some of the multi-year steps recently taken in response to annual CAASPP Math results that will be a continued focus include:

- Reconfiguration of the Math pathway, such that the connection between the use of Everyday Math and supplementary curriculum at the elementary level and College Preparatory Math at the secondary level has been strengthened over time. The goal is to ensure there are no gaps in students accessing and acquiring mastery in foundational mathematical skills and that programming is targeted to a student's zone of proximal development.
- Augmenting Math leadership staffing between grade levels and campuses with the addition of a new position allowing a teacher leader with deep mathematical instructional and teacher coaching expertise to build alignment and coach teachers within the new Math pathway
- Increased use of the Mathematics Diagnostic Testing Project ("MDTP") at the beginning of the year and end of the year for grades 5 through 12 for placement and identifying areas of need for Math intervention, with professional development provided to ensure successful use of MDTP
- Focus on Mathematics professional development for TK-4th grade, including outside workshops and teacher in-services on Cognitively Guided Instruction

Recent 2019 CAASPP assessment results provide early indications of the effectiveness of this plan and we will keep closely monitoring and continually refining our practice based on student progress.

Cultivating Talent*:* Continuing to attract, develop and retain excellent staff is core to Larchmont's success and something we plan to emphasize in the coming charter term given looming teacher shortages. To attract excellent staff, Larchmont's human resources team has augmented recruitment to include offering referral bonuses to current staff, posting openings more broadly, attending job fairs, and forging partnerships with universities to host interns and student teachers. Larchmont has also refined its approach to professional development over time, invested in cognitive coaching training for school leaders and launched a teacher mentor program all in an effort to provide all teachers with high quality differentiated professional development. Larchmont is focused on retaining excellent staff by ensuring competitive compensation, nurturing the staff community, providing more embedded planning and collaboration time and more support and training. Lastly, we want to strengthen staff voice in the direction of the school through formalizing structures and systems to incorporate staff input and feedback on both instructional and operational matters. We also plan to provide training and support to keep staff growing professionally and as leaders at Larchmont.

Student Population To Be Served

3. Target Student Population

Larchmont Charter School is a TK-12 school serving diverse students with a constructivist inquiry based approach. As of October 2018, Larchmont's student population is 43% free and reduced price meal eligible, 11% students with special needs, 8% English Learners (approximately35% of students have a first language other than English), approximately 36% of students are Caucasian, 27% are Latino, 22% are Asian, Filipino, or Pacific Islander, 4% are African American and the remainder are students of multiracial backgrounds. Larchmont is a classroom-based charter located on 4 campuses in Los Angeles (in West Hollywood, Hollywood and Lafayette Park) providing a high degree of personalization, differentiation and hands-on, inquiry based, interdisciplinary project based learning that drives toward deeper conceptual understanding rather than rote memorization.

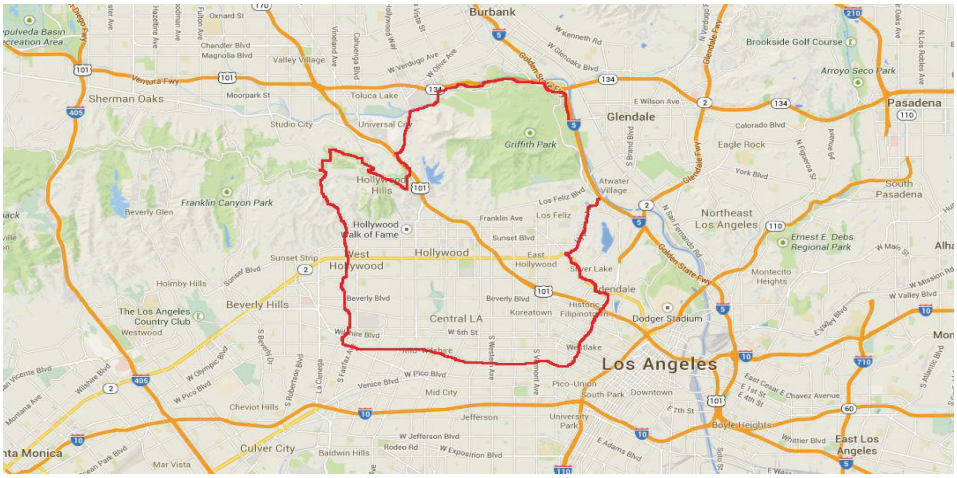
Larchmont students come from many Zip Codes and neighborhoods, including the Hancock Park neighborhood, Hollywood, East Hollywood, West Hollywood, and the Hollywood Hills. Many students come from the Zip Codes 90028, 90038, 90029, 90004, 90020, 90036, 90005, 90048, 90046, 90027, 90068, and 90069. The map below shows the general area of our geographic concentration:



Research suggests that greater socio-economic and racial diversity among students can be beneficial in that it is associated with reduced dropout rates, higher college entrance rates, and generally improved educational outcomes.[6] Diversity has been found to foster academic and social growth by promoting intellectual engagement and democratic participation within the classroom, supporting Larchmont's focus on increasing student socioeconomic diversity.[7]

Larchmont strives to enroll a student population that closely reflects the demographics of the city of Los Angeles, while acknowledging that not all groups are represented in the exact proportion seen citywide. We find that students who attend Larchmont generally live close to their school site, resulting in a population that is more representative of the central Los Angeles area (West Hollywood, Hollywood, and Koreatown) than the city as a whole. Larchmont is proud to be integrated and reflective of the surrounding community.

Our integrated public charter school model confirms this research. Following the model of other racially and socio-economically diverse charter schools in California and the U.S. as a whole, Larchmont Charter School brings the surrounding community together to provide an exceptional public education to socio-economically, racially, and culturally diverse student population.

Goals and Philosophy

5. Vision and Mission

Our country, indeed our world, is witnessing a rise in polarization between people along all lines of difference – be they political, racial, immigration status, religion, class, etc. We are seeing a rise in populism, in nationalism and in dictators. All of this poses an existential threat to the historical American idealized identity of being a melting pot, a democracy, a beacon to the world of a place where there's freedom, tolerance and social mobility - the home of the American Dream.

The antidote to this is complex but a key part of it is how we educate our children, how we prepare the next generation to be contributing members of society who know how to think deeply, critically and creatively, who know how to work across lines of difference with all kinds of people to address the challenges of the day, who are emotionally intelligent and adept at collaborating and leading and who have a sense of both respect and responsibility for the community and world around them.

This is the work of Larchmont Charter School. We believe that every child in America should be able to attend an excellent public school that reflects the full diversity of his or her community. This, after all, was the opinion of our Supreme Court 65 years ago in Brown v. Board of Education. Yet, this promise is still not a reality for many students in Los Angeles. Larchmont Charter School helps fulfill this promise for children in our communities with its mission:

The mission of Larchmont Charter School is to provide a socio-economically, culturally and racially diverse community of students with an exceptional public education. We foster creativity and academic excellence; our students learn with and from each other in an experience-centered, inquiry-based learning environment. With participation from our entire community, we strive to instill in each student a dedication to improving the world we inhabit.

As a result of their time at Larchmont Charter School, graduates will be communicative, curious, respectful, responsible and persistent young adults, prepared for college and career, and to lead purposeful, fulfilling lives. Larchmont graduates will:

- Possess the ability to conduct deep, accurate, and critical research, gauge sources, and form their own informed ideas about issues, events and circumstances;
- Communicate ideas confidently, clearly, and respectfully to and with others;
- Take responsibility for utilizing their learning and ideas to improve circumstances, systems, and the environment in which they live;
- Approach others, in academic, civic, and workplace settings, with respect, tolerance, and understanding;
- Integrate technology fluidly and productively into their lives; and
- Act with integrity in their family, workplace and civic lives.

6. What It Means to Be an Educated Person in the 21st Century

At Larchmont, we define an "educated person in the 21st century" as one who is self-directed, self-motivated and self-reliant in a socially complex, information-based society. This definition is synthesized from major research and policy findings from across the past two decades and reinforced through our mission, our pedagogy, and our community building. Educated persons of the 21st century demonstrate the following essential skills and knowledge:

- Effective written and verbal communication to a variety of audiences (NCTE position statement, 2008; 2013);
- An understanding of mathematic concepts, principles, facts, and theories, adeptly enough to apply them in real life problem situations across settings;
- Comprehension and analysis of a variety of printed materials when reading for pleasure and/or information (NCTE position statement, 2008; 2013);
- An understanding of history in order to frame critical and effective responses to the complexities of social, economic, and political problems (National Council for History Education: Blueprint for Student Learning, 2013);
- An understanding of methodologies, concepts, and technological tools that are common to all of the sciences (National Research Council report, 2012);
- An ability to use technology effectively to achieve specific goals (NCTM position paper, 2011; NRC, 2012;
- The skills and strategic thinking that will allow them to easily adapt to and benefit from new technologies for communicating, computing, presenting, and researching information (NCTM, 2011);
- Effective goal setting that creates pathways to academic and social success, and the ability to think critically in order to solve problems when making decisions (NRC, 2012);
- The ability to evaluate information across a range of media (NCTE, 2008, 2013); and
- The breadth of skills and knowledge that support success in the transition to trade schools, college and career (NRC, 2012).

We believe that this skill set and knowledge base must be encompassed by the character traits that allow one to function ethically and successfully in the complexity of our social environment. The combination of skills, knowledge, and character creates Larchmont's Schoolwide Learning Objectives, also known as the Essential Schoolwide Learning Results/Objectives, (ESLRs/SLOs). A Larchmont Charter School student is one who:

Communicates: shares thoughts and ideas orally and through the arts, writes clearly, listens to and hears others, expresses oneself respectfully,

Seeks to understand: formulates questions, pursues answers, reads and thinks critically and thoughtfully, is reflective, considers multiple perspectives of a world community.

Demonstrates respect: for oneself, for others, for teachers, for our school, for one's family and community, and for the environment, living beings, and the Earth's limited resources.

Takes responsibility: for one's actions, for one's words, for one's learning, for one's body, and for each other.

Perseveres: when problems cannot be solved readily or when faced with criticism and disappointment, through challenges, by reflecting, trying harder or differently, and then trying again until reaching a resolution.

In addition to the ESLRs/SLOs, at the high school level, the faculty has developed six character traits necessary for success at Larchmont. Students internalize these throughout the course of the year, as they engage in conversations with teachers and peers about their decisions and actions:

Be Respectful
To yourself, to one another, to teachers, and to the subject
Be Prepared
Bring your materials, homework, and a willing attitude
Be Self Aware
Dress appropriately and come to school with a positive attitude
Be Fearless
Take risks, be curious, and be open to learning new things
Be Productive
Work hard and take pride in that work
Be Honest
With yourself, classmates, and teachers

Our concept of an educated person in the 21st century is a powerful component of our educational program. The emphasis on lifelong learning, supported by our pillars of communicating, seeking to understand, demonstrating respect, taking responsibility, and persevering, serves as the touchstone for our curriculum development, instructional methods, school-wide tone, and community involvement. Larchmont's focus on integrating strong academic skills, self-awareness, and character growth creates in our students individuals poised for success in college, career, and life. Our graduates will recognize and confidently work to solve challenges posed before them in the university and work setting. They will persevere as creative problem solvers who hold the skills necessary to identify what is needed, research approaches directly related to problem solving and utilize available resources, as well as create new ones, to adeptly solve issues at hand. Our graduates will use technology, effective communication and collaboration to move themselves and their respective communities forward. We strive to instill these essential attributes in all our Larchmont students. They are the unifying elements for our school community.

7. How Learning Best Occurs

Larchmont Charter School is dedicated to constructivism as the educational strategy to achieve our mission. Based primarily on the work of Jean Piaget (1983), but influenced by many educators and researchers, Constructivism is a theory of thinking and learning. Its name is derived, of course, from the word "construction" because its fundamental concept is that students learn through the process of constructing their own personal understanding of new information and ideas. This process of constructing understanding is slightly different for all students.

There are two significant variables that educators consider when they develop a constructivist, inquiry-based learning environment. The first variable is how the student's mind best processes information. All learners take in new information through a variety of processes – we learn what we see, we learn what we hear, we learn by touching and exploring, we learn by doing actively with our body, we learn by discussing with others. Each of us uses each method to some extent. But most learners have a predominant method that is our strongest or preferred learning process (Dunn et al., 2010). Some children also have a distinctive weakness in one area or a heavy dependence on another. Every brain has a unique balance of strategies. Thus, in a classroom of diverse learners, it is important that information is presented through many different methods. This way, students, no matter their strongest learning process, will encounter information in a way that is well suited.

In addition, as each child takes part in learning activities of different styles – visual, tactile, auditory, oral – they begin to recognize their own strengths and preferences. Children begin to think about how they think, which is referred to as metacognition (Flavell, 1976). Developing metacognition from a young age helps students identify effective strategies for themselves as learners and to understand and support other students in their learning as well.

The second variable that influences educators as they create a constructivist learning environment is the student's life experience. Each student enters school, even at the young age of five, with a unique set of life experiences that have worked along with the student's own development to form a cognitive "schema" in the student's brain (Piaget, 1983). This schema is the set of ideas and connections that the student has made because of the day-to-day learning that has gone on and the unique combination of life experiences that has influenced the student. It can be described as a framework for representing the world or a mental structure of ideas (DeHart, Sroufe, & Cooper, 2000).

Some of these lessons might be very concrete – "I know how to find the surface area of a cylinder" or "I know how to create a mixed media work of art." Others are more abstract – "People are usually very nice to me" or "It is best to be a little cautious when meeting a new person." Some are very specific to academic subjects – "I can distinguish between a primary and secondary source" and others are more life-based – "I always make my bed when I get up in the morning." Frequently, this knowledge that students bring with them into the classroom is unknown even to the child, until activities and discussions help them reflect and draw upon that knowledge in a useful and organized fashion. By drawing on the knowledge within a student's schemata, we can create learning situations that require less effortful processing, freeing up valuable cognitive and affective capacity for tackling new learning.

As students mature and content becomes increasingly complex, secondary level teachers continue to utilize students' prior knowledge as a driver for establishing course themes, using students' experiences to make decisions about where to focus the curriculum, what activities should take place, and how material should be delivered. In this respect, the curriculum is both rigorous and meets the individual needs of students.

To create a constructivist educational experience, teachers must find ways to present new information and ideas through a varied set of experiences to capture the many unique methods that the brain uses to process information. Then they must create opportunities for students to connect their new learning to their pre-formed schemata – or to make meaningful connections between the new information and the way of understanding that their life experience has provided. Through this constructivist process, learning becomes a natural and exciting process for students.

At Larchmont from TK-12, cognitive constructivism is present across the curriculum through project and inquiry-based instruction, service learning experiences, an integrated curriculum, as well as small group and partner learning experiences.

Larchmont Charter School believes that the social learning environment is also a critical component to ensuring student success. As noted psychologist Lev Vygotsky described in Mind in Society: The Development of Higher Psychological Processes (1978), the key to a learning experience within a student's "zone of proximal development" is "problem-solving under adult guidance or in collaboration with more capable peers." Toward this end, differentiated grouping is a key component to the educational setting at Larchmont. In the primary grades (TK-2), individual development of language arts skills is very broad and creates a wide range of abilities and levels at each grade level. In these grades, Larchmont implements a differentiated model for reading and word study instruction. TK-1st students and 2nd-3rd students spend a portion of the day in small group differentiated instruction. By the 4th grade, individual development results in different patterns of growth and changes in learning style. At these older ages students demonstrate, for example, greater variation in their pacing and style of mathematical-logical thinking, or the thinking processes most necessary for mathematics and science concepts.

Larchmont draws further upon Vygotsky's social constructivism and Albert Bandura's social learning theory by recognizing the critical role that personal relationships play in the educational setting. Vygotsky (1978) states: "Every function in the child's cultural development appears twice: first, on the social level, and later, on the individual level; first, between people…and then inside the child…. This applies equally to voluntary attention, to logical memory, and to the formation of concepts. All the higher functions originate as actual relationships between individuals." (p. 57).

In order to support relationships that result in higher cognitive functioning in students, primary grade students in 1st – 4th grade participate in a loop in which students have the same teacher and classroom of peers for two consecutive years. This looping allows for a more in-depth and personal relationship development between teacher and student, as well as student and peers. 5th – 12th grade students have a PACK time (homeroom/advisory) teacher who supports processes around Advisory, study skills, organization, school communications, and student life. This practice results in a strong focus on building relationships and strengthening social problem solving skills. Further, small school size and class sizes develop a more intimate social learning environment and support positive academic outcomes through positive social relationships

9. Developing Lifelong Learners

Larchmont implements constructivist strategies in the classroom, and as a result students develop into 1) self-motivated, 2) competent, and 3) lifelong learners.

Developing self-motivated learners: Self-motivation, or intrinsic motivation, results from tapping into the natural thinking and learning processes of the student and connecting new learning to the personal schemata of the child (Stipek, 1988). Thus, each new lesson or unit helps the student to answer the internal questions and innate curiosity that drive a motivated learner. At Larchmont, primary students learn through integrated, action-based projects that resemble the real-life experiences outside the classroom. Opportunities for differentiated grouping allows students to learn at their natural and personal pace so that intrinsic motivation is not curtailed by forced benchmarks that might hold a student back or push a student before they have satisfied their need to learn. By middle school, students have greater cognitive skills for designing and developing their own learning experiences, guided by teachers, and are then capable of conceptualizing the abstract and unknown. They are encouraged to reach beyond their immediate surroundings to understand the interaction between the student as individual and the larger community and the world.

At the high school level, students receive ongoing individualized counseling to ensure each student plans, and eventually executes, the optimal pathway to attaining school, college, career, and life goals. All high school students work with the counselor to develop an Individual Graduation Plan (IGP). The IGP incorporates data-driven decision making, the mastery of content standards and individual goal setting. Students may have multiple pathways to college and career plans and may combine academic core plus technical knowledge and skills. Additionally, the IGP ensures that all students, including students with disabilities and English Learners, have access to a rigorous curriculum with opportunities to make regular and necessary changes in plans as needed. This personalized attention and support enhances student motivation as they learn how their school experience is reflective of their individual needs, differences, goals, and future plans.

Developing competent learners: The Larchmont curriculum is based on the California academic content and performance standards, including the Common Core State Standards ("CCSS"), Next Generation Science Standards ("NGSS"), History-Social Science Framework, English Language Development Standards, and any other applicable content standards (hereinafter, collectively "State Standards"). Implementation is carried out with instructional methodology interpreted through constructivist learning theory. Combined, this foundation and approach create a powerful partnership to provide students 1) a strong basis in basic literacy and numeracy skills, 2) a breadth of exposure to meaningful information in the sciences, social studies, and the arts, 3) experience applying skills and learning to real-life situations, and 4) the self awareness and personal strategies that will allow them to be skilled and successful learners across diverse settings and experiences throughout life.

Developing lifelong learners: Two aspects of the Larchmont curriculum create the foundation for lifelong learners in all of our students: 1) integrated, action-based projects that mirror learning outside the classroom and help students make personal connections to each learning experience; and 2) the development of metacognitive skills that allow students to be thoughtful, reflective learners and recognize themselves as the force behind their own academic and life success.

All curriculum designs have been directly aligned to the State Standards. At the high school level, academic goals move beyond mastery of the State Standards to include strong performance on the PSAT/SAT and ACT. Advanced Placement courses and exams are available across many subject areas including math, science, English, Spanish, and social sciences. The standardized testing and benchmarking are as integral to our assessment strategy as our faculty-constructed rubrics, project goals, student portfolios, and student demonstrations. In addition, character development, social responsibility, and leadership are qualities inherent to our entire program and growth in these is measured through multiple diverse evaluations.

Instructional Design

10. Overall Curricular and Instructional Design & Key Educational Theories, Research and Research-based Evidence

Diverse by Design

Our model is predicated on a constructivist approach to education. Constructivism is the theory that learning happens through interacting with the world around us and making connections between these experiences and our prior lived knowledge and experience. It is through this process that we construct meaning and understand our world.

Diversity is core to our model. It is through ensuring a richly diverse environment that we create the setting for learning to occur. The diversity of our community provides students the opportunities to interact and benefit from students and staff from disparate backgrounds often resulting in a variety of perspectives leading to diversity of thought and increasing critical and creative thinking. Our students celebrate their uniqueness, respect their differences, and appreciate the opportunities they have to elevate their learning amongst each other.

Through our constructivist model there is a focus on ensuring every child is known, through differentiating instruction to students' zone of proximal development and through tapping into students' natural curiosity through inquiry and authentic project based learning. From their earliest years at Larchmont, students develop an awareness of themselves, their world and their role in it. They learn how they can lead and make change whether they're a kindergartner seeking to change a conditional use permit to secure more play time/recess for kids or a 6th grader working to solve homelessness or a senior tackling linguistic imperialism in the world. Larchmont students are emotionally intelligent, academically fierce, and they are creative and compassionate advocates and leaders with a dedication to improving the world. They are exactly what the world needs. To this end, having graduated our second class of kindergarteners from high school, we embark on this journey to explore how we can grow our impact in the world – and meet the need for a future where more people are educated in the Larchmont way.

TK-12 Continuum

The Larchmont Charter School curricular and instructional design is based upon the belief that all students can be successful learners and achieve conceptual understanding through insightful guidance and collaborative efforts that heavily involve the student's cognitive styles and unique understanding. The key educational theories and research for our approach are outlined in section 8. We have intentionally created the Larchmont academic program with the development of the whole child in mind – from transitional kindergarten to middle school and through graduation. Our TK-12 organizational structure allows for teachers and instructional leaders to vertically align and adapt the instructional program, resulting in a cohesive, personalized, rigorous learning experience for every student. At all levels, interdisciplinary planning incorporates lessons from the State Standards. Lessons are structured and organized around common thematic elements stemming from ecology, the humanities, and social justice, and students are encouraged to be active learners and are supported as they challenge themselves and achieve higher levels of learning.

Constructivism in Action

At Larchmont the curriculum is driven forward by the State Standards, which include the California History Social Science Framework and CCSS, and structured through our constructivist approach. TK-12 signature/interdisciplinary projects, project based learning, and research projects embody our inquiry based approach.

The TK-7 Signature Project are designed through authentic, relevant topics that connect students to the world outside of the classroom through which to learn the standards in social studies, science, English language arts, mathematics, world languages, physical education, and the visual/performing arts. Signature Projects consist of multiple smaller units and lessons, connected through their thematic consistency and focus, and includes two approaches to teaching and learning:

1. Content/skill-based lessons are provided in which students develop a knowledge base and refine the academic skills to utilize that knowledge, and
2. Action-based lessons are provided in which students become active agents in life-based activities in order to learn how to put their knowledge to work.

Signature Projects are continually assessed and revitalized. Faculty and staff take part annually in a process of self-assessment in which the content, design, and implementation of the TK-7 Signature Project at each grade level is examined and improved. Through the use of our Signature Project Rubric, Larchmont faculty and administration validate that the Signature Project is:

- Academically integrated
- Common Core State Standards, Next Generation Science Standards, and CA Social Studies Framework-based and grade level appropriate
- Based upon authentic, relevant topics
- Action-oriented
- Using a constructivist approach to learning

The Larchmont Charter School high school curriculum is aligned to the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) and meets and exceeds coursework required for successful completion of the University of California A-G courses. Consistent with Larchmont's inquiry-based educational philosophy and approach, the CA CCSS emphasizes the development of critical thinking skills and the experience of reading and writing across the curriculum. Larchmont high school English students, for example, explore non-fiction materials from varied academic areas while continuing to read fiction from diverse sources and time periods. These experiences through the Interdisciplinary Projects serve to help students build the analytical skills necessary to successfully complete their Senior Seminar Project.

At the high school level, students work towards the following markers of success:

- Completion of all courses required for graduation from Larchmont Charter School. Larchmont's graduation requirements exceed those required for application to a University of California campus (A-G units). For complete Graduation Requirements, refer to page 70.
- As described above, completion of a cross-curricular, independently designed Senior Seminar Project that includes a written senior thesis grounded in thorough, college preparatory level research, a connected/related service component, an oral presentation to a panel of faculty and community members, and the integration of new media and technology into one or more of these components.

- Application and acceptance into the college/university program of choice.

In the high school grades, all courses serve to prepare students throughout their high school years to conduct deep and thorough research. All students then take a Junior and Senior Research Seminar researching an area of their choice that will eventually become the subject of their Senior Research Project. The goal for these yearlong research seminars is to provide ample preparation time to ensure that all students have the research skills necessary to complete a high-level, high quality Senior Research Project.

The Junior Seminar also allows students to take the time to explore those areas of interest they have been nurturing during their academic career at Larchmont. For example, perhaps some students were impacted by the work they did during their 8th grade Signature Project and would like to return to that topic/subject area in order to dig deeper, in a more personalized and formalized manner. Utilizing seminar faculty and peers as thought partners, students propose initial qualitative and quantitative research, evaluate sources, write and present an abstract, gather data through a variety of research methods, design summer work/community service proposals and finally complete the writing, service, and multimedia presentation components of the project in their senior year. The Senior Research Project thus represents the culmination of 13 years of growth as a member of a supportive and reflective learning community.

Another key component of the Junior and Senior Seminar is the exploration and preparation for life after high school, including college and career. Students are supported in their preparation for the SAT and/or ACT and college applications. The research conducted by students in their Junior and Senior Seminars offer exposure to topics they could pursue in higher education.

11. Curriculum and Instruction

English Language Arts

The overarching goal for TK-12 English Language Arts instruction is to ensure that students are able to develop and utilize improved communication skills, vocabularies, and writing abilities in an authentic manner. Emphasis is placed on building and strengthening a balance of all of the English Language Arts skill sets in reading and writing, and instruction is aligned to the CA CCSS.

These also emphasize the writing process necessary for clear and effective academic writing, as students work in various genres from narratives to research papers. Students become familiar with the elements and techniques of literature, including plot, setting, character, narrator and voice, theme, irony, foreshadowing, and symbolism. They learn to become literary critics of poetry, drama, short stories, and novels. These efforts are supported by grammar and vocabulary practice. Use of inquiry and the discovery process encourages students to fully challenge and engage their diverse learning styles. This experience-centered approach mirrors the learning required at the college level and in real life.

Across the TK-3 grades, ELA skills and content are addressed both in the regular classroom and in small groups. Daily ELA instruction supports the early development of phonemic awareness, phonics, and fluency. Classroom teachers integrate additional focus on vocabulary and comprehension with reading and writing instruction across the curriculum.

ELA in grades 4th-8th incorporates literature circles and reader's and writer's workshop approach to further develop vocabulary and comprehension with both fiction and nonfiction. In addition, significant focus is placed on constructivist activities with authentic audiences utilizing strategies such as Reader's Theater, playwriting, filmmaking, and storytelling. Emphasis on spoken word is formalized in the 6th-12th grades, across the curriculum, utilizing the tools and approaches from the Get Lit program and weaving these strategies throughout instruction across grades and academic areas.

The 9th-12th grade ELA courses provide a foundation for the study of English at both the high school and college levels and promote fluency in all aspects of communication using the English language. To this end, students experience a broad range of instruction in reading, literature, writing, listening and speaking, and language conventions with an emphasis on developing those skills required for clear and effective academic writing. Students encounter literature from diverse cultural perspectives, in the form of novels, short stories, poetry, plays and informational documents. Instruction focuses on reading strategies that enable students to read for understanding of subtlety, ambiguity, and inference. Writing instruction focuses on strategies that enable students to create coherent and relevant text, including a variety of essays, student centered projects, and inquiry-based approaches to writing.

The high school grades offer the following courses in English Language Arts:

English 9 (Core/College preparatory)
This course is designed to provide a foundation for the study of English at both the high school and college levels and to promote fluency in all aspects of communication using the English language. To this end, students experience a broad range of instruction in reading, literature, writing, listening and speaking, and language conventions with an emphasis on developing those skills required to produce clear and effective academic writing.

Creative Writing (Core/College preparatory)
The Creative Writing course serves as a writing workshop. Students write daily and explore different writing techniques and styles. Writing skills are developed through pre-writing, editing, re-writing, and critiquing. Students also examine various styles of writing through diverse readings including poetry, songs, newspaper columns, short stories, novels, plays, monologues, dialogues, reviews, montages, and stream-of-consciousness selections. Students must be willing to share their work with the group and are asked to critique their own work and the work of others in a positive and constructive manner.

English 10 (Core/College preparatory)
In English 10, students encounter literature from diverse cultural perspectives, serving as a companion to their study in World History class. These include novels, short stories, poetry, plays and informational documents. Instruction focuses on reading strategies that enable students to read for understanding of subtlety, ambiguity, and inference, as well as basic grade level comprehension. An emphasis on critical thinking skills and literary analysis prepares students for higher- level English courses. Writing instruction focuses on strategies that enable students to create coherent and relevant text, including a variety of essays, student centered projects, and constructivist approaches to writing.

English 11 (Core/College preparatory)
American Literature and Composition is a study of the major literary topics and themes across the history of the United States from pre-colonial times to present day. Students will focus on the major literary forms of the emerging nation, analyze the literary themes and trends, and research and compose several papers, speeches, and presentations using representative forms of discourse. The guiding question for the course is the following: What is the American Experience? In what ways is American literature a reaction to the American experience and in what ways is American literature a driving force for change?

AP English Language (Core/College preparatory)
The AP course in English Language and Composition engages students in becoming skilled readers of prose written in a variety of rhetorical contexts, and in becoming skilled writers who compose for a variety of purposes. Both their writing and their reading should make students aware of the interactions among a writer's purposes, audience expectations, and subjects, as well as the way genre conventions and the resources of language contribute to effectiveness in writing. As in the college course, the purpose of the AP English Language and Composition course is to enable students to read complex texts with understanding and to write prose of sufficient richness and complexity to communicate effectively with mature readers. The AP English Language and Composition course helps students move beyond such programmatic responses as the five-paragraph essay to place their emphasis on content, purpose and audience and allows this focus to guide the organization of their writing.

English 12 (Core/College preparatory)
English 12 is a course designed to provide the student with a broad literature, writing and technology curriculum. Emphasis will be placed on literary analysis and critique, advanced compositional theory, and research as well as an appreciation for classical literature outside the realm of the United States. Students will be further challenged to step outside the "familiar" and encouraged to diversify their perspectives and backgrounds through a variety of creative projects and activities as they prepare for their careers and/or post-secondary academic pursuits.

AP English Literature (Core/College preparatory)
This course will follow the curricular requirements outlined by the College Board in the AP English Literature and Composition Course Description, which focuses on building skills necessary for college level reading, writing, and critical thinking. The texts include works from a variety of time periods and genres, and the writing assignments include in class essays as well as formal process essays with several opportunities for revision. This is considered a college level course; students will be asked to read and analyze challenging, provocative, dense, and sometimes controversial material. In addition, the course design is based on the premise that the AP English Literature exam measures skills that one needs in order to be successful in college. In other words, the focus of the course is not the exam; rather, it is on the skill set that will lead to success on the exam and to success in college.

Junior Research Seminar (College preparatory)
Upon entering college, students must be individuals who are active learners and critical thinkers to become agents of change within their community and in the world. Junior Research Seminar is an 11th grade year long course that will provide students with the foundation skills of research in preparation for their Senior Project needed for graduation at Larchmont Charter School. They will explore the role of researchers and research in society as well as become researchers. Students will work individually and in small groups to explore a range of current issues and topics, and discover ways of asking pertinent research questions that they will ultimately challenge. As part of this course, students are given the opportunity to explore college and career pathways to prepare for life after high school.

Senior Research Seminar (Core/College preparatory) Completion of the Senior Research Project is a Larchmont Charter School graduation requirement. The Research Seminar is designed so students complete the work begun in the Junior Research Course. It offers students the opportunity to continue to explore and conduct research on the issue detailed in their research proposal completed and presented junior year. Students are to submit a research paper that meets – at minimum - proficiency according to a research seminar-writing rubric. Students must also present their findings to a panel and demonstrate they have completed a service-learning project directly related to their research. As part of this course, students are given the opportunity to prepare for college and career pathways to prepare for life after high school.

Mathematics

The mathematics curriculum is concept- and problem-based, allowing all students the opportunity to use problem solving strategies, group questioning techniques, investigations, critical analysis, the gathering and construction of evidence, and the communication of rigorous arguments in both written and oral language to justify their thinking. Students learn in collaboration with others, through sharing information, expertise, and ideas. In TK-12 math courses, students apply and extend previous learning by focusing on finding connections to learned material. Students also work to create and critique logical arguments, communicate their mathematical understanding effectively, and formulate complete, logical arguments to support their conclusions.

Larchmont Charter School uses a variety of math resources (e.g., Everyday Math, Engage NY, Cognitively Guided Instruction (CGI)) for all students grades TK-5 because it is designed in alignment with our constructivist model and recognizes the needs of different kinds of mathematical thinkers. The curriculum emphasizes: 1) use of concrete, real-life examples that are meaningful and memorable as an introduction to key mathematical concepts; 2) repeated exposures to mathematical concepts and skills to develop children's ability to recall knowledge from long-term memory; 3) frequent practice of basic computation skills to build mastery of procedures and quick recall of facts, often through games and verbal exercises; and 4) use of multiple methods and problem-solving strategies to foster true proficiency and accommodate different learning styles.

Larchmont utilizes College Preparatory Math (CPM) for 6th grade math and beyond. CPM strives to make middle and high school mathematics curriculum and instruction problem-based rather than centered on direct instruction, thereby ensuring that students retain the mathematical concepts necessary to apply skills across a variety of real-world situations. The instructional design implements significant focus on small group activities, life-based mathematics problems with multiple levels and layers, requiring mathematical knowledge to be integrated through a cohesive conceptual framework. The authors of CPM have described their approach as follows:

> "A growing body of evidence from the cognitive sciences supports the theory that students can make sense of mathematics if the concepts and skills are embedded within a context or problem. If time is spent exploring interesting mathematics situations, reflecting on solution methods, examining why the methods work, comparing methods, and relating methods to those used in previous situations, then students are likely to build more robust understanding of mathematical concepts and related procedures. This method is quite different from the assumption that students learn by observing a teacher as he or she demonstrates how to solve a problem and then practices that method on similar problems."

The progression of varied math resources in the elementary grades to College Preparatory Mathematics curricula and lessons provides a constructivist approach to delivering a CA CCSS aligned mathematics program. Students in all high school courses use problem solving strategies, questioning, investigating, analyzing critically, gathering and constructing evidence, and communicating rigorous arguments justifying their thinking. Students learn in collaboration with others, sharing information, expertise, and ideas. Students use geometry, algebra, trigonometry, and calculus to model and solve problems in both mathematical and real-world contexts.

The high school grades offer the following courses in Mathematics:

Algebra 1 (Core/College preparatory)

Algebra 1 at its core is all about using the properties of numbers (how they behave) to manipulate unknowns, called variables. But, in practicality, Algebra is used to recognize patterns, turn them into mathematical relationships, and then use these relationships for useful purposes. The following units are covered in this course: Rates, Patterns and Problem Solving, Variables and Expressions, The Commutative and Associative Properties, The Distributive Property, Equivalent Expressions, Seeing Structure in Expressions, Exponents as Repeated Multiplication.

Geometry (Core/College preparatory)
Geometry students focus on establishing triangle congruence criteria using rigid motions and formal constructions, building a formal understanding of similarity based on dilations and proportional reasoning, developing the concepts of formal proof, exploring the properties of two- and three- dimensional objects, working within the rectangular coordinate system to verify geometric relationships, proving basic theorems about circles and using the language of set theory to compute and interpret probabilities for compound events.

Algebra II (Core/College preparatory)
In this course, students investigate and explore graphs of linear, exponential, and polynomial functions. The topics of study include: development of strategies for understanding sequences and equivalence, solving equations and inequalities, solving systems of linear equations and linear inequalities involving two to three variables, introduction to matrices and using them to solve problems, developing an understanding of probability involving permutations and combinations.

Precalculus (Core/College preparatory)
Students in Precalculus use problem solving strategies, questioning, investigating, analyzing critically, gathering and constructing evidence, and communicating rigorous arguments justifying their thinking. Students learn in collaboration with others, sharing information, expertise, and ideas. Students will learn to use trigonometry to model and solve problems in both mathematical and real-world contexts, and will be able to use algebra and trigonometry to formulate and solve equations arising from geometric situations both on and off a coordinate grid. In addition, students will begin to explore Calculus concepts such as limits and area under a curve and come to understand and explore conic sections as they relate to the real world.

Math Analysis (Core/College Preparatory)
A course that blends pre-calculus concepts and skills to prepare for college-level calculus. A functional approach integrating concepts such as trigonometry and discrete mathematics. The California math content standards in Trigonometry and Mathematical Analysis are covered in this course. This course will provide students with an introduction to advanced mathematical concepts from a variety of subject areas. They will learn about Trigonometry, Math Analysis, Pre-Calculus, and Statistics. The goal of the course is to allow students to experience these topics, make a more educated decision in which course to pursue, and to give them a foundation upon which they can build when they take math classes in college.

AP Calculus AB (Core/College Preparatory)
In this course, students are prepared to take the Advanced Placement Calculus AB exam. Students do best when they have an understanding of the conceptual underpinnings of calculus. Rather than making the course a long laundry list of skills that students have to memorize, we stress the "why" behind the major ideas. If students can grasp the reasons for an idea or theorem, they can usually figure out how to apply it to the problem at hand. We explain to them that they will study four major ideas during the year: limits, derivatives, indefinite integrals, and definite integrals. As we develop the concepts, we explain how the mechanics go along with the topics.

AP Calculus BC (Core/College Preparatory)
In this course, students are prepared to take the Advanced Placement Calculus BC exam. In year two of college level calculus, students continue to work to develop their mastery of calculus. Their work builds on the foundation from AP Calculus AB, increasing the scope of what is covered. AP Calculus BC includes all topics in AP Calculus AB, plus others such as parametric, polar, and vector functions, and series. It is equivalent to one year of calculus at most colleges and universities.

AP Statistics (Core/College Preparatory)
In this course, students are introduced to the major concepts and tools for collecting, analyzing, and drawing conclusions from data. There are four themes evident in the content, skills, and assessment in the AP Statistics course: exploring data, sampling and experimentation, probability and simulation, and statistical inference. Students use technology, investigations, problem solving, and writing as they build conceptual understanding.

History/Social Studies

The History/Social Studies curriculum is based on California content standards and aims to provide students with rigorous, inquiry-based, and experience-centered lessons and classes that will allow students to acquire core knowledge in history and the social sciences. At all grade levels, Larchmont Charter School students work to "think like historians and social scientists" so they recognize connections to the present and the past so they may reach a greater understanding of themselves and the world around them.

At the elementary level, social studies curriculum is integrated across the curriculum through a project-based approach. Addressing all content standards, students study and explore themes and concepts of history, economics, and the broader social sciences by engaging in life-based activities, re-enactments, field trips, research projects, and service learning projects. Strong emphasis is placed on the integration of reading and writing skills across the curriculum through the use of first source materials, emphasis on comprehension skills for nonfiction, and research strategies. Teachers utilize a breadth of materials to support instruction including Harcourt Reflections Social Studies materials.

Our reason for choosing the History Alive! Teachers Curriculum Institute (TCI) curriculum for the middle and high school grades is best explained in the words of the curriculum authors, where we teach the process of history: "This approach emphasizes the process, known as historiography, where individuals or groups can investigate sources and develop their own interpretation of events." The history curriculum at Larchmont actively involves the learner in developing historical thinking skills and perspective taking, as well as practicing reflective and predictive skills in real life contexts. Furthermore, the use of the same textbooks and ancillary materials helps to create continuity from the middle school grades into the high school curriculum. The history curriculum is progressive and student-centered, focused on developing students' ability to find relevance between their lives and world events, the environment, social movements and universal historical themes.

At the secondary level, History/Social Studies courses prepare students for Advanced Placement and college-level coursework in the social sciences. A unique feature of the high school is the requirement that students take four (rather than the traditional three) years of social studies at the secondary level in order to graduate:

Geography, World History, US History and US Government/Economics. Students demonstrate their understanding of core knowledge through multiple and varied experiences including, but not limited to, expository, persuasive and analytical essays, group and individual projects, historical research, written and multiple choice assessments, and active class participation including Socratic seminars and historical reenactments.

The high school grades offer the following courses in History/Social Studies:

Geography (Core/College preparatory)
In this course, students will utilize the geographic inquiry process in their exploration of a diverse range of geographic questions and cases. From settlement patterns in Canada to urban sprawl in Atlanta, Portland, and Toronto, from urbanization and spatial inequality in Mexico City to the impact of women micro-entrepreneurs in Africa, students will question, investigate, analyze and question again as they work toward a greater understanding of themselves and the world around us. This course ultimately aims to provide students with a rigorous, inquiry-based, and experience-centered geography education; one that will prepare them for Advanced Placement and college-level coursework in the social sciences.

World History (Core/College preparatory)
This course examines the development of human history from ancient times to the present with particular focus on events that have shaped the modern world. As students explore the major eras of human history, they will utilize the methodologies and tools of historians, anthropologists and geographers in order to critically analyze, appreciate, and connect with the past.

AP World History (Core/College preparatory)
The scope of the AP World History (APWH) course addresses the challenges of studying the full course of human history by providing a clear framework of six chronological periods viewed through the lens of related key concepts and course themes, asking students to learn specific skills which would allow them to think historically. The students will be able to demonstrate these skills through the AP World History Exam. These six periods are organized into the following areas of study: Technological and Environmental Transformations, Organization and Reorganization of Human Societies, Regional and Transregional Interactions, Global Interactions, Industrialization and Global Integration, Accelerating Global Change and Realignments.

US History (Core/College preparatory)
In this survey course, students will grapple with a question central to the history of the United States: How closely has the United States of America lived up to the five fundamental promises (liberty, equality, democracy, rights and opportunity) found in the Declaration of Independence? Students will demonstrate their understanding of coursework through multiple means including, but not limited to, expository, persuasive and analytical written assignments, group and individual projects, Socratic seminar and discussion, multiple choice and short answer assessments, and participation.

AP US History (Core/College preparatory)
This course is equivalent to a freshman/sophomore-level college course. It is specifically designed to prepare students for the Advanced Placement United States History exam given by the College Board each May. Students will demonstrate their understanding of coursework through multiple means including, but not limited to, expository, persuasive and analytical written assignments, group and individual projects, Socratic seminar and discussion, multiple choice and short answer assessments, and participation.

Economics (Core/College preparatory)
This course provides students with a solid understanding of the economic principles, systems, and activities necessary in order to fully participate as a citizen in the U.S. Free Enterprise System. The course focuses on the basic principles of production, consumption, and distribution of services in the United States and includes a comparison with those in other countries around the world. The impact of a variety of factors including geography, the federal government, economic ideas from important philosophers, historic documents, societal values, and scientific discoveries and technological innovations on the national economy and economic policy are also integral to a broader understanding of economic systems around the world.

US Government (Core/College preparatory)
This course gives a broad overview of modern forms of government present in today's global community. It provides the student an opportunity to acquire detailed knowledge of the philosophy behind the democratic form of government practiced in the United States. In this course, the United States Constitution is studied in detail. The overall objective of this course is to prepare seniors for their place in society, by helping them learn how our government works, how it can be changed and what rights and freedoms the U.S. Constitution guarantees us.

AP US Government (Core/College preparatory)
The AP US Government course is designed to give students an analytical perspective on government and politics in the United States. The course will require students to master historical and analytic skills, including chronological and spatial thinking, historical research and interpretation. Students will evaluate viewpoints presented through major print and electronic media, understand statistical data and analyze trends related to significant political events. The course will also emphasize preparation and intensive study towards the AP U.S. Government & Politics exam.

Science

The Larchmont science curriculum is, at its core, inquiry-based. Students engage in science via exposure to real world concepts and cross-curricular themes, and regularly apply critical thinking skills and test new ideas and hypotheses through labs and experimentation. Specific content includes physical science, life science, and earth systems science. Students learn to explore the world around them through an inquiry-based approach. Across all grade levels, students ask questions, make observations and discoveries, gather data, analyze explanations, and communicate results and scientific arguments. The program is fully aligned to California standards, and will be aligned to the Next Generation Science Standards.

At the elementary level, students engage in scientific exploration and observation through hands-on, integrated projects. Supporting instruction with GEMS guides, Mystery Science and FOSS kits, teachers develop thematic projects to address all of the standards content. Emphasis is placed on developing scientific methodology at increasing developmental levels.

Methods of all science courses include the tools of science (e.g. active wet lab classrooms, technology, hands-on materials) and support development of the reading, writing, analysis, and communication skills students need to become science-literate citizens. Students tackle problems and challenges in science in varied ways (e.g. investigations, models), using critical thinking and problem solving to reach decisions grounded in knowledge and logic.

A sample of essential questions used in a middle grades science course includes:

- What can cause Earth's climate to change?
- What affects the energy flow through an ecosystem, population, and organisms and how are these connected?

- How do living things change over time?
- How are forms of energy affected and changed?

With our constructivist approach to curriculum development and instructional strategies, and through our unique constructivist framework, the science curriculum and scientific thinking is woven effectively throughout the curriculum and integrated meaningfully with ELA, mathematics, and social studies curriculum.

The high school grades offer the following courses in Science:

Biology (Core/College preparatory)
This core science course is intended to introduce students to a wide variety of biological topics. Through individual and group project-based investigation and experimentation, students will examine animal and plant cells, gene expression and the central dogma, genetics, DNA, genetic recombination, ecology, evolution, organ systems, physiology and anatomy, cell replication, photosynthesis, and respiration. Common core standards will be incorporated into the curriculum. Students will be expected to make connections and applications to real world phenomena or events through the synthesis of newly accommodated and acquired knowledge.

Chemistry (Core/College preparatory)
The course is designed to introduce students to the core ideas of chemistry in a collaborative, project-based manner. As much as possible problem solving and the application of chemical principles are at the center of projects and activities. The curriculum looks toward the Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS) and looks to develop atomic level models to explain bulk behavior of matter and how matter changes. Topics covered include: mixtures and pure materials, structure of the atom, elements and compounds, enthalpy and entropy, acids and bases, reaction rates, bonding, balancing reactions, stoichiometry, history of chemistry, electrochemistry, and nuclear chemistry.

Physics (Core/College preparatory)
The course is designed to introduce students to the core ideas of physics in a collaborative, constructivist manner. As much as possible, problem solving and the application of physical principles are at the center of projects and activities. The curriculum looks toward the Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS) and works to develop models (especially mathematical ones) to explain the universe around us. Topics covered include: models and measurement, constant velocity, constant acceleration, forces and Newton's Laws, momentum, energy and work, simple machines, circular motion, gravitation and satellites, fluids, waves, sound, light and color, lenses and mirrors, current electricity, static electricity, magnetism, and Modern Physics.

AP Biology (Core/College preparatory)
AP Biology is structured around the 4 "Big Ideas" as determined by the College Board. Students will be expected to engage in the content in order to develop a foundational understanding of biology that supports critical and independent thinking and promotes the acquisition of new knowledge. Big Idea 1: The process of evolution drives the diversity and unity of life. Big Idea 2: Biological systems utilize free energy and molecular building blocks to grow, to reproduce and to maintain dynamic homeostasis. Big Idea 3: Living systems store, retrieve, transmit and respond to information essential to life processes. Big Idea 4: Biological systems interact, and these systems and their interactions possess complex properties.

Environmental Science (Core/College preparatory)
This course is designed to show thematic connections between a variety of science disciplines including earth science, biology, chemistry, and physics. It gives students a coherent and realistic picture of the applications of a variety of scientific concepts as they manifest in our environment. During this course students will focus on human population growth, natural resources, and ecosystem dynamics. The aim of this course to increase student's knowledge of the environmental challenges of today, while continuing to cultivate scientific critical thinking skills.

AP Environmental Science (Core/College preparatory)
Students will be prepared to take the AP Environmental Science exam in the spring. This course cultivates their understanding of the interrelationships of the natural world through inquiry-based lab investigations and field work as they explore concepts like the four Big Ideas; energy transfer, interactions between earth systems, interactions between different species and the environment, and sustainability.

Visual and Performing Arts

The primary goal for the Visual and Performing Arts program is to nurture confidence and critical thinking through work and expression in the arts. Art is approached as a creative process that enables learners to become perceptive, reflective, appreciative, culturally aware, and civically engaged. It is also viewed as a set of media through which different learners access and/or express understanding of all other academic skills and knowledge. Visual and performing arts courses guide students towards becoming proficient in visual, musical, or theatrical arts. Through the arts, students also develop procedural discipline with which they improve the quality of their thinking and mastery across disciplines. Classroom experiences and student-created projects and events allow the Larchmont arts courses to work across the curriculum, bringing every subject to life.

Students in grades TK-8 are exposed to lessons and experiences in the visual arts and music across the strands of artistic perception, creative expression, historical and cultural context, aesthetic valuing, and connections, relationships, and applications. Lessons stand-alone at times, but frequently are integrated through social studies, science, mathematics, and language arts. Visual arts and music media and skills are frequently offered as options for personal self-expression and demonstration of understanding throughout the curriculum.

At the secondary level, the major emphasis of arts courses is developing student achievement through both individual and group ensemble performances appropriately arranged for senior high school students. In addition, students in upper level visual arts courses will explore the role of the creative arts across a variety of cultures and time periods. Students will develop aesthetic appreciation for various art works and experiences, and make critical judgments of quality based on analysis.

The high school grades offer the following courses in the Visual and Performing Arts, which meet the standards for A-G VAPA offerings as specified below.

Music Theory I (Core/College preparatory)
The major emphasis of this course is to develop student achievement through the visual and aural study of the vertical and horizontal aspects of music including the structure, function, and interrelationships of scales, intervals, chords, and rhythm. The course also develops the following skills: sight singing, ear training, reading and writing rhythmic and melodic notation, playing/keyboard application, analyzing chords and harmonic progressions, aesthetic appreciation, and beginning composition.

Advanced Music Theory (Core/College preparatory)
The major emphasis of this course is to develop more advanced study of the vertical and horizontal aspects of music including the structure, function, and interrelationships of scales, intervals and chords. The course also builds on the following skills begun in Music Theory 1: sight singing, ear training, reading and writing music, playing/keyboard application, analyzing chords and harmonic progressions, aesthetic appreciation, and beginning composition.

Chorus I (Core/College preparatory)

Students study how to use their voice efficiently for human expression, music literacy, sight singing, listening and responding to choral works, creating artistic opinions, and improvisational activities with their voice. This class is designed for all students with or without previous experience in vocal music and prepares students for more advanced choral classes.

Advanced Chorus (Core/College preparatory)
The major emphasis of this course is to develop student achievement through singing and vocal production as a member of a choral ensemble. Instruction is offered in the various techniques involved in the use of the singing voice. The course develops the skills necessary for ensemble singing of intermediate level choral literature appropriately arranged for senior high school voices, develops skills in reading music notation, proper breathing, vocal technique, sight singing, singing expressively, and rhythm reading, and provides opportunities for growth in the understanding of musical elements as applied to the music performed. In addition, the course provides for more highly developed aesthetic appreciation and critical judgment of recorded music.

Theater 1 (Core/College preparatory)
The purpose of this course is to give the student an appreciation of and experience in theater as an art form. The student will act in pantomimes, plays and play cuttings. Students will be introduced to technical theater, theater history and culture. The student will read, write and evaluate plays as well as view and discuss electronic and live performances. This course encompasses the California State Theatre Arts Standards as well as addressing standards in reading, writing, and technology.

Film 1 (Non-core/College preparatory)
The course is designed to enable students to understand film, television, and media from both a theoretical and production perspective, as well as from the view as to how it relates to culture and the world. By studying and analyzing films and the processes behind their creation, students in the course gain insight into the power and aesthetics of mass media, and they develop both appreciation and basic skills. Practical experience is provided in each major area of production: producing, directing, screenwriting, and post-production. This course encompasses the California State Visual Arts Standards as well as addressing standards in reading, writing, and technology.

Advanced Theater (Non-core/College preparatory)
This performance based class leads students through the collaborative process of playmaking and advanced character development. Students receive conservatory style training in acting, movement and voice and showcase their growth in a full scale production. Students learn to interpret plays dramatically, to analyze plot, genre and themes of dramatic literature. At the end of the semester, all students will have acting roles in a full length play or musical production. This class will require some after school rehearsals and will have mandatory, graded, performances for all class members.

Introduction to Art (Non-core/College preparatory)
This course is designed to introduce the fundamentals of drawing. Students will explore techniques in realistic drawing. Students will study composition, contour, shading and proportion in graphite, pen, markers, inks, and colored pencils. Drawing is a learnable, teachable skill and the stepping- stone to art careers: Illustrator, Architect, Graphic Computer Artist, fashion designer Animator, Cartoonist and many more.

Advanced Art (Non-core/College preparatory)
The class is designed to continue to advance students to refine techniques used in the making of art. To elevate students familiarity with the fundamental principles of design. To help students learn to critically analyze art both verbally and in writing. To continue to develop students ability to recognize the different stylistic characteristics of art of different cultural periods and individual artists.

Health and Physical Education

The focus of the TK-12 Physical Education curriculum is to support students in mastering fundamental movement skills at an early age. This foundation facilitates further motor skill acquisition and gives students increased capacity for a lifetime of successful and enjoyable physical activity experiences (California Department of Education, 2010). We believe that as a result of acquiring patterns of physical activity at Larchmont, our students will be more likely to maintain healthy lifestyles throughout their lives, providing physical, mental, and social benefits. The primary goal of the Physical Education program is therefore to provide students with the necessary mastered movement skills to participate confidently in different forms of physical activity, equipping students with the enhanced self-image and positive social development to live healthy and productive lives.

In addition to the focus on mastery of foundational movement skills at the transitional kindergarten and elementary levels, students will come to think critically about health options in order to make positive choices and live in a healthy way for the rest of their lives. The curriculum consists of both direct physical activity and coursework on health and fitness issues. Students learn basic anatomy and physiology (how the body is structured and how it works), research current events related to health and disease, and come to understand the components of a healthy lifestyle. Physical activity includes team building games, specific sports (such as street hockey or volleyball), and other exercises that serve to improve endurance, energy levels and overall fitness.
Further, our constructivist approach to curriculum and instruction across the curriculum emphasizes opportunities for active learning, exploration, use of manipulatives, and other activities that utilize and develop small and gross motor skills and movement. Our affiliation with the Edible Schoolyard brings a focus to healthy eating and lifestyle, and integration of curriculum across disciplines includes physical education in addition to the other content areas. Examples of physical education integrated into our academic program include elementary students moving outdoors during mathematics instruction to play jumping games along a long number line, emphasizing number sense, positive and negative numbers, addition and subtraction, while using and developing gross motor skills and muscle strength.

Incorporating the Physical Education Model Content Standards for California, PE courses include an analysis of both the individual and global processes of change in the body, and a study of health and nutrition, fitness, and physical activity.

The high school grades offer the following courses in Physical Education:

PE 9 (Core/Non-college preparatory)
The purpose of this course is to help students learn more about themselves and how to maintain a healthy lifestyle. The course consists of both direct physical activity and coursework on health and fitness issues. Students learn basic anatomy and physiology (how the body is structured and how it works), current events related to health and disease, and components of a healthy lifestyle. Physical activity will include team building games, sports, and other exercises to improve endurance, energy levels and overall fitness.

Students will learn basic anatomy and physiology (how the body is structured and how it works), current events related to health and disease, and components of a healthy lifestyle. Physical activity will include resistance training and metabolic conditioning.

World Languages

Larchmont Charter School provides instruction in world language across the TK-12 spectrum, and for both native and non-native Spanish speakers, so that all Larchmont students have the opportunity to move forward as speakers, readers, and writers of world languages. According to Martha Abbott, Director of Education for the American Council on the Teaching of World Languages:

> "Knowing other languages and understanding other cultures is a 21st Century skill set for American students as they prepare to live and work in a global society. No matter what career students enter, they will be interacting with others around the world on a routine basis and doing business locally with those whose native language is not English. Beginning world language instruction early sets the stage for students to develop advanced levels of proficiencies in one or more languages. In addition, younger learners still possess the capacity to develop near native-like pronunciation and intonation in a new language. Finally, young learners have a natural curiosity about learning which is evident when they engage in learning a new language. They also are open and accepting of people who speak other languages and come from other cultures." (Duke, 2007)

The Larchmont constructivist methodology is further supported by the introduction of world language instruction in the elementary years. Therese Caccavale, president of the National Network for Early Language Learning states, "Studies have shown repeatedly that world language learning increases critical thinking skills, creativity, and flexibility of mind in young students. Students who are learning a world language out-score their non-world language-learning peers in the verbal and… math sections of standardized tests" (Duke, 2007). This research supports Larchmont's philosophy that second language learning is more of a cognitive than linguistic activity, and therefore essential in the elementary years.

All language instruction at Larchmont is developed based on the CA CCSS in World Languages. The Spanish curricula begins in the 4th-6th grades, where students understand and produce signs, words, and phrases.

These skills create a solid base from which our students can move forward. The 7th-8th grade curriculum then prepares students for high school level Spanish I or II, whereby students understand and produce sentences and strings of sentences and produce paragraphs and strings of paragraphs in both oral and written exercises and demonstrations. This middle school experience allow our students to qualify for or test into Spanish II as freshmen in high school and proceed through advanced study including AP Spanish which supports students in achieving proficiency. As the high school world languages curriculum develops, we plan to offer at least two language options in Spanish, French, Italian, or Mandarin, for a total of four years of study in each language option.

In addition to Level 1 through 3 Spanish, the high school program also offers courses to native Spanish speakers. Spanish for Spanish Speakers 1 and 2 provide rigorous coursework for those students who speak Spanish in the home but need preparation in reading, writing and grammatical structures in preparation for the AP Spanish Language and AP Spanish Literature exams. Native speaker courses utilize materials and an approach that draw on the home language and culture of native-speaking Spanish students.
The following high school world languages courses are currently offered at Larchmont. As we develop the high school program, additional courses will be developed based on student interest:

Spanish 1 (Core/College preparatory)
Spanish I is an introductory course to the language and culture of Spanish-speaking countries. The focus is on the four language skills of speaking, writing, reading, and listening. Students learn greetings, verb conjugations, basic vocabulary, pronunciation, and grammatical structures and practice using those skills to communicate in real life situations. The course is aligned with the California Curriculum Frameworks that are organized in the five areas for foreign language education: Communication, Cultures, Connections, Comparisons, and Communities.

Spanish 2 (Core/College preparatory)
This course is designed to help students take the fundamental and basic skills of second language acquisition in Spanish to the next level. Spanish will be increasingly used by students to respond to classroom commands and to participate in conversational activities. Students will be expected to take risks, actively participate and give their maximum effort on a daily basis. Throughout the class, we will discuss why learning Spanish is a key component of being successful and necessary in our society and the world. All of the activities and lessons in class will be closely aligned with the six major components of the Spanish language: reading, writing, speaking, listening, culture, and grammar. Through the mastery of these skills, students will be able to communicate effectively in Spanish, ultimately preparing students for Spanish III, higher second language acquisition, and the future.

Spanish 3 (Core/College preparatory)
In this course, students will utilize the language skills of listening, speaking, reading and writing in order to become confident and capable speakers of Spanish. Level III students will function at the Novice-High-Intermediate- Low level of proficiency by the end of the year, as defined by the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages. Students continue to develop their proficiency in the language in all four skills: listening, speaking, reading, and writing. They understand short conversations and can be understood by native speakers accustomed to dealing with foreigners. Emphasis is on consistent use of the language for classroom activities. Students recount uncomplicated events and experiences orally, read short authentic material for main idea, and write about familiar topics using more complex grammatical structures. Knowledge of cultural perspectives and practices is expanded.

AP Spanish Language and Culture (Core/College preparatory)
The AP Spanish Language and Culture course provides students with opportunities to develop language proficiency across the three modes of communication: Interpretive, Interpersonal, and Presentational. Students learn about culture through the use of authentic materials that are representative of the Spanish-speaking world. Materials include a variety of different media, e.g., journalistic and literary works, podcasts, interviews, movies, charts, and graphs. AP Spanish Language and Culture is a language acquisition course designed to provide students with the necessary skills and intercultural understanding to enable them to communicate successfully in an environment where Spanish is spoken and as such, is an immersion experience requiring almost exclusive use of Spanish, a requirement which class participation grades reflect.

AP Spanish Literature and Culture (Core/College preparatory)
AP Spanish Literature is equivalent to a college level introductory survey course of literature written in Spanish. Students continue to develop their interpretive, interpersonal, and presentational skills in Spanish language as well as critical reading and analytical writing as they explore short stories, novels, plays, essays, and poetry from Spain, Latin America, and U.S. Hispanic authors along with other non-required texts.

Spanish for Spanish Speakers 1 (Core/College preparatory)
This is an advanced introduction to both the Spanish language and the cultures where Spanish is spoken. This course is based on a structure that provides students the opportunity to engage in meaningful learning where the emphasis is on critical thinking, collaboration, creativity and effective communication through projects reflecting real life, hands-on situations. While it is still important to study vocabulary and produce language, the focus will be directed toward student exploration and practice.

Spanish for Spanish Speakers 2 (Core/College preparatory)
In this course we will learn about the grammatical structures and conventions of the Spanish language. The course will focus on reading, writing, oral communication and listening communication in Spanish. In addition, this course will be an introduction to the cultures, communication, and comparisons, of Latin American and peninsular communities. Students will have to prepare oral presentations, work on individual and group projects, and conduct research on a variety of topics. The teacher will lead the classes in Spanish and students will use only Spanish in class.

ELD for English Learners
Identified English Learners receive individualized or small group designated EL support during class time. During these times, teachers provide ELD instruction in the four domains and address phonemic awareness, fluency, comprehension and explicit instruction in foundational literacy skills. ELD for ELs are supported through the use of standards-aligned curricular and supplemental materials that scaffold the mainstream instructional program (e.g. Fountas and Pinnell, Everyday Math, College Preparatory Math, English in Common, NorthStar). All teachers across content areas are continuously trained in SDAIE strategies and incorporate the use of visuals and explicitly teach key academic vocabulary.
All ELD curricula are selected from the AB 1802 California Department of Education approved publisher listings for English language instruction.

Innovative Curricular Components of the Educational Program

Service Learning

Service learning is woven through the Larchmont curriculum to support our mission "to instill in each student a dedication to improving the world we inhabit." Unique to our curricular design is the presence of service learning as early as the first grade – with a focus on increasing students' level of independence and self-direction through structured guidance in our Signature Projects in K-8 and then forward into High School and beyond (see Section 11: Overall Curricular and Instructional Design).

Through years of structured experiences with a focus on social justice and stewardship toward humanity and the environment, students internalize the personal responsibility to carry out the schools' mission. Over the course of all four years of high school, community service hours are a graduation requirement for Larchmont high school students. In addition, action research, which benefits the community and is linked to each student's junior and senior year capstone courses, serves as an integral component of the Senior Research Project.

The power of the Signature/Interdisciplinary Projects and Junior/Senior Research Seminars and Senior Research Project is twofold: 1) the projects are rooted in an integrated approach that is also standards-based and 2) the projects result in a focus on social justice and personal responsibility.

At the TK-8 grades, students put understanding into action through individual, small group, and large group activities designed to empower students, help them to develop a global outlook, and focus on personal responsibility to oneself, the larger social community, the earth, and our natural resources. Each loop results in a project rooted firmly in the skills and concepts of the grade level standards, in which students select a course of action and a beneficiary or goal.

The Junior Research Seminar and Senior Research Projects include a written senior thesis grounded in thorough, college preparatory level research, a connected/related service component, an oral presentation to a panel of faculty and community members, and the integration of new media and technology into one or more of these components. The seminar teacher monitors the service component, which is action-research based. For example, a student who is conducting research on the value of arts education in urban elementary schools might volunteer to work with a school music program in order to both support the program (community service) and gain first-hand understanding of the challenges and benefits of arts education (action research). Students are also permitted to complete the service requirement at a location or entity of their own choosing in the evenings and on weekends outside of school hours. Hours are logged and tracked by the student and submitted to the seminar teacher. The service/research experience is embedded in both the writing and oral presentation of the final Research Project. The certificated teacher approves and coordinates all service projects taking place outside of the school day. Standard permission slips and liability waivers that explain the nature of the project and provide basic information about the community non-profit organization are utilized for off-site service.

The Signature Projects and Senior Seminar and Research Projects exemplify Larchmont's unique approach to combining a State Standards-based curriculum with constructivist instructional strategies to educate and develop the whole child.

Clusters/Looping

Two of the most distinctive aspects of the Larchmont instructional structure are clustering grade levels and teaching in multi-year loops. These strategies have multiple benefits. They cater to the needs of developing students, create a strong professional team among teachers, build supportive teacher-student relationships, and enhance the meaningful, action-based learning that occurs in the integrated projects that make up much of our curriculum.

A "cluster" refers to classes that span two grade levels. Each cluster is housed in proximity to each other. Students are mixed together in various configurations across different academic and enrichment activities; teachers plan together and share curriculum for the two-year spectrum. This occurs for TK-4 for no more than one subject per grade level for no more than one hour a day as a way to allow for differentiation. All teachers involved are multi subject credentialed and highly qualified when regrouping or team teaching compliant with the State definition. "Looping" refers to the experience of our teachers who stay together with a class of students across two grade levels, and then loop back to teach a new class as it enters the two-year cluster. Looping has existed in educational settings for decades and has been associated with many academic benefits (Brown, 1997), including:

- Teachers gain extra teaching time;
- Teacher knowledge about a child's intellectual strengths and weaknesses increases in a way that is impossible to achieve in a single year;
- Long-term teacher/student relationships improve student performance; and
- Long-term teacher/student relationships improve job satisfaction for teachers.

Socially, students benefit as well (Brown, 1997):

- Students have reduced apprehension about the new school year and the new teacher after the first year;
- Students reap benefits from time spent on developing social skills and cooperative group strategies in subsequent years;
- English Language Learners adjust to their new school and become comfortable with their teacher, developing confidence in their newly acquired language; and
- Long-term relationships result in an emotional and intellectual climate that encourages thinking, risk-taking, and involvement.

The Edible Schoolyard at Larchmont

In 2009, the Larchmont Charter School was honored to become one of the few schools in the nation affiliated with Alice Waters' Edible Schoolyard program. The mission of the Edible Schoolyard, as conceptualized by Waters, is to teach essential life skills and support academic learning through hands-on classes in an organic garden and kitchen classroom. The Edible Schoolyard curriculum is meant to be fully integrated into the school day and to teach students how their choices about food affect their health, the environment, and their communities.

Larchmont's implementation of the Edible Schoolyard unifies our community around the themes and values of the program: eco-literacy, active life-based learning, community involvement, and healthy lifestyles. By providing experiences that demonstrate the relationship between the garden and kitchen, Larchmont's edible schoolyard program fosters appreciation of how the natural world sustains us and promotes the environmental and social well-being of our school community and beyond.

The manifestation of the Edible Schoolyard at Larchmont is a comprehensive organic gardening program on our urban public school grounds. The opportunities enhance our students' learning experiences in several ways. They are woven through our Signature Projects, Service Learning activities, Enrichments and Electives, lunch, and the After School Program. It creates a rich environmental and biological science program from TK-12. It allows for a deeply integrated curriculum across all academic and social areas, and supports our constructivist project-based curriculum through meaningful hands-on exploration in the garden and kitchen.

Commitment to Spoken Word, Speech, and Debate

Larchmont's TK-12 curriculum places a strong focus on supporting the development of students' use of spoken word. Through the constructivist lens, oral language provides an avenue for sharing, processing, and understanding information that creates a valuable avenue for all our learners. Our curriculum focuses on actualizing the elements of our ESLRs/SLOs including a focus on effective communication. Our students have demonstrated cognitive and behavior outcomes including improved reading, listening, speaking, and writing skills; improved critical thinking skills; intellectual curiosity and increased motivation as a result of their participation in speech and debate competitions.

At the high school level, students use spoken word and oral language in regular class presentations and Socratic seminars. All students are expected to formally defend their Junior Research Seminar Research proposal as well as their Senior Research Seminar Project findings. Seniors will present their culminating Research Seminar Project at a conference, displaying their learning through a variety of media. At the middle school level, oral language skills are strategically woven into projects, units, lessons, and demonstrations of knowledge to support varied learners and develop articulate and confident students who can state their beliefs, defend their ideas, voice concerns, and contribute to meaningful discussions in order to learn and to impact the world around them.

Specifically, the three categories of resources are connected meaningfully to core academic learning both in class and throughout the Signature Projects. The six categories of "Performance of Literature" (e.g. storytelling, poetry, prose, dramatic interpretation, humorous interpretation, and duo interpretation) play a significant role in the assignments and projects throughout ELA and support the developing skills of our EL population. The four categories of "Public Speaking" (i.e. original oratory, extemporaneous speaking, declamation, and impromptu) are woven into student life, as well as the curriculum of history and ELA. The skills and strategies of debate, including spontaneous argumentation, policy, and Lincoln-Douglas become significant means of expressing understanding and defending viewpoints in both the hard sciences and social sciences.

Intervention and Enrichment Programs

Accelerated Math and Math Workshop

A constructivist approach requires that we focus on adapting instructional practices to the unique styles of different learners. Across the 3rd through 8th grades, math content material shifts dramatically from being predominantly concrete to being increasingly abstract. Simultaneously, students progress through levels of cognitive development in which their mathematical-logical thinking skills, processing strategies, and self-concept and confidence transform. We find that students are most successful and responsive to instruction that is geared toward their particular needs, level, pacing, and approach. Some students are engaged more meaningfully when the pace is rather quick, and challenges come daily. Others relax and find their learning "comfort zone" when the pace is moderate and review is built in routinely. Still others need repeated opportunities to incorporate new math skills and concepts into their thinking to the level of proficiency. We see all three kinds of math learners and all can experience success. For these reasons, we offer varied approaches for learning in mathematics through our Mathematics curriculum, our Cognitively Guided Instruction (CGI), our Accelerated Math program, and our Math Workshop.

Self-guided Study

The Self-guided Study Program provides students with additional virtual opportunities for advancement and more access to AP classes, language classes, early college access, and credit recovery at a flexible and individualized pace. The Self-guided Study Program offers rigorous virtual courses, so students must be able to work independently. Any student enrolled at Larchmont may participate in the Self-guided Study program. The Self-guided Study Program includes the following:

- Personalized learning opportunities
- Virtual learning opportunities
- Blended learning programming
- In-class and self-guided explorations
- Credit recovery

Other self-guided programs include the following:

- SAT Clearchoice
- APEX Learning, which provides complete courses for credit recovery and advancement
- Teachers NewieLA for online self-guided reading
- Thrively for socio-emotional learning
- Naviance for social emotional learning and college readiness

Enrichments and Electives

At Larchmont, our constructivist approach focuses on students' natural and varied approaches to learning and understanding. We recognize that students "construct their own understanding" through various activities and experiences. Thus, a rich assortment of learning experiences not only exposes students to new skills and opportunities, but supports learning in the core academic areas as well. In addition to a breadth of enrichment classes at every grade level, enrichment teachers also assist the teachers periodically throughout the week in core academic classrooms to support the integration of various learning styles throughout the curriculum.

In elementary grades, examples of enrichment activities include music, art, physical education, gardening, and cooking classes. In middle grades, students' enrichments are expanded to include foreign language instruction as well as a variety of offerings in spoken word such as storytelling, visual and performing arts, and academic support.

In 8th grade, electives are designed for students to explore a wide area of interest that go beyond academics. Courses such as cooking, debate, art, dance, and physical conditioning are meant for students to experiment in a safe and supportive environment where they can take risk by trying new things. They are given two enrichment classes each semester, with them switching to new electives at the start of the spring semester.

In the high school, students have the opportunity to complete A-G elective courses, such as Music, Chorus, Theater, Film, Creative Writing and other Humanities-based interest. Additional courses in Visual and Performing Arts and the Sciences may be added based on student and community interest. The weekly high school schedule also includes a Homeroom/Advisory period where students can receive academic support, and academic or college counseling. Student enrichment clubs also meet once a week. Current students have taken the initiative to secure faculty advisors and found clubs that match their interests, such as the UNICEF Club, Soccer Club, Drone Club, GSA (Gay, Straight Alliance), and Volunteer Clubs. In addition, the Larchmont's Student Leadership meet during this time to organize events and assemblies. After school opportunities are built on a collaboration with Youth Policy Institute's after school program, offering enrichment programs such as homework club, poetry, 3D printing workshops, theater, and sports.

12. Curricular & Instructional Materials and Course Offerings

Larchmont Charter School currently uses the following materials aligned with the California state content and performance standards, including CA CCSS, to deliver the curriculum. In years ahead, resource selection may change, upon a thorough review of a curriculum adoption committee comprised of faculty and leadership, and all curricular and instructional materials will be aligned to state content and performance standards, including CA CCSS.

13. Instructional Methods and Strategies

The instructional methods and strategies employed at Larchmont Charter School all stem from our interpretation of constructivism into classroom teaching and learning. Utilizing methods and strategies with years of research supporting their effectiveness, Larchmont teachers engage students with interdisciplinary, inquiry-based learning opportunities that engage their minds and increase their interest and understanding. Careful attention to scheduling supports quality instruction and meaningful learning by providing students with longer blocks of time.

Our constructivist approach provides "real life" applications that enrich and solidify learning for all students, including English Learners and students experiencing academic difficulty. High levels of engagement for learners of varied ability levels and from diverse backgrounds have been cited in several studies about the effectiveness of project-based learning (Darling-Hammond et al., 2008; Ravitz, 2009; Thomas, 2000). As mentioned in Section 1: Community Need for Charter School, our instructional design has proven successful with our current student population as measured by the California Assessment of Student Performance and Progress (CAASPP) and other measures.

Interdisciplinary Instruction and Curriculum

Integrating instruction and curriculum across academic disciplines has been proven beneficial repeatedly over the last three decades through studies focused, specifically, on the integration of ELA skills with science (Cervetti, Pearson, Barber, Hiebert, and Bravo, 2007); integration of math, science, and technology in programs such as STEM (Satchwell and Loepp, 2002; Wicklein and Schell, 1995); integration of the arts throughout academic study (Catterall, Dumais, and Hampden-Thompson, 2012); integration of ELA and the social sciences through core blocks of humanities (Aschbacher, 1991); and integration of service learning opportunities with real-life applications (Furco and Root, 2010). The shift to the CA CCSS has now supported interdisciplinary integration of the arts, technology, and specific reading and writing skills.

Larchmont has focused on integration of instruction through its curricular planning and instructional strategies in multiple ways. Project-based instruction, through our TK-10 Signature/Interdisciplinary Projects and ongoing learning opportunities in grades 9-12, including the Senior Research Project provide the basis for curriculum planning. Dedication to shared planning time across grade levels allows teachers, even in the middle and high school with Single Subject academic training, to share information and strategies to support integrated studies. Integration of service learning requirements into the academic program in TK-12 keeps student learning focused on the connections between the action opportunities and the specific content and skills that support it.

Meaningful, Engaged Learning

Decades of research illustrate the benefits of inquiry-based and cooperative learning to help students develop the knowledge and skills necessary to be successful in a rapidly changing world. (Barron and Darling-Hammond, 2008). Further, project-based learning has been demonstrated to be superior for supporting long-term retention, skill development and satisfaction among students and teachers, as measured by standardized exams (Strobel, J. & van Barnesveld, A., 2009). Larchmont's interpretation of the theory of constructivism into opportunities for meaningful, engaged learning translates into increased mental and physical engagement in learning for students from TK-12.

In the elementary years, we see increased use of manipulatives in mathematics, hands-on experimentation in science, and use of the arts (visual and performing) for demonstrations of learning in the humanities. Each strategy increases engagement by allowing individual learners to connect to learning through varied senses, relate learning to real-world scenarios, and engage in exploration and experimentation to learn through personal experiences.[8] In middle and high school years, extensive use of the Socratic Seminar supplements these strategies, and learning units are structured around Essential Questions. Socratic Seminars value the power of asking questions and prize inquiry over information and discussion over debate. Socratic seminars acknowledge the highly social nature of learning and align with the work of John Dewey, Lev Vygotsky, Jean Piaget, and Paulo Friere. Because of the meaningful and relevant nature of the Larchmont learning environment, students' natural curiosity is peaked and students are inspired to answer questions about the world around them, reality, self-awareness and more.

Time for Engagement

Across grade levels, Larchmont employs various interpretations of block scheduling. In addition to serving as a more efficient way to utilize valuable school resources, block schedules have been shown to have advantages for teachers and students by allowing time for greater focus of instruction, time to develop and build stronger relationships, increased flexibility for creative approaches such as co-teaching, interdisciplinary strategies, and small group learning structures (Irmsher, 1996; LAB at Brown University, 1998).

In the elementary years, "project" time is built in to scheduling, in which teachers engage students in active learning through multi-subject integrated projects with particular focus on the sciences, social sciences, and the arts. The middle school utilizes a schedule that allows for increased learning opportunities across the arts, physical education, Spanish language instruction, and the introduction of enrichment classes providing greater student choice.

The high school schedule supports academic rigor and student success through an alternating (A/B) day block schedule. The block schedule allows students more opportunities to take AP courses and electives. In addition, the longer periods allow teachers and students to complete labs and fully engage in rich inquiry-based, seminar style humanities courses. As classes meet every other day, students have more time to process information and complete assignments, and are introduced to the experience of their classes not meeting daily (as will be the case in college). The block schedule allows for a deeper level of engagement and more meaningful academic experiences in addition to the opportunity to undertake a greater breadth of study.

14. How the School's Instructional Methodologies and Curriculum Will Ensure Mastery of the California CCSS and Other State Content Standards

Larchmont Charter School instructional methodologies, curricula, and courses have been aligned to the State Standards, including CCSS and NGSS, and in the high school grades, are college-preparatory. Our faculty receives training and guidance in continually refining curriculum and teaching practices aligned to the State Standards. Through ongoing professional development, collaboration, and support, Larchmont teachers develop a broad toolbox of strategies, and become experts at aligning those strategies to the standards and assessments for units, lessons and projects.

For every grade level, the standards are explicitly integrated in our constructivist-driven curriculum. School leaders provide feedback to faculty-created lessons for adequate depth, breadth, and rigor. In addition, instructional leaders review formative and summative assessments for depth and complexity as well as incorporation of a variety of learning modalities. The scope and sequence of academic standards at Larchmont may be modified as necessary and/or appropriate to reflect changes to state and national standards.

Through a project-based structure, students receive both individualized support and instructional strategies as they work to master the interrelated skills and knowledge in the content and performance standards. This approach leads to student mastery of higher level thinking skills. Students deeply understand what they learn, and interdisciplinary reading, writing, spoken language and arts foster this mastery. Within this context, EL students have many scaffolded opportunities to use English purposefully and interact with content and ideas in meaningful ways. Students receive instructional supports for learning based on the principles of Universal Design for Learning ("UDL") that engages students in presenting information in multiple ways and allows for diverse avenues of action and expression. Teachers provide this extra support and scaffolding through in-class strategies, team collaboration, as well as after school support programs, including online adaptive programs designed to remediate basic skills.

Universal Design for Learning (UDL) supports the constructivist theory. When teachers design their instruction to students' zone of proximal development, all students receive equal opportunity to learn. The key components of UDL are multiple methods of presentation, multiple means of engagement, and multiple modes of expression. At Larchmont, teachers ensure that the learning environment allows for differentiated instruction, a variety of activities, and creative options for demonstrating subject proficiency so that they can better meet the needs of every student.

Larchmont approaches curriculum design with the following criteria:

- Align curriculum to the CCSS and other State Standards;

- Apply principles of UDL to provide access and adequate challenge to our full range of diverse learners;
- Ensure rigorous instruction, leverage the use of technology as a tool;
- Provide many opportunities for students to participate in oral presentations of their learning in both individual and group settings;
- Include student input on the design of CCSS-aligned project rubrics;
- Provide learning opportunities to deepen connections to the State Standards, including CCSS, through regular instruction in the arts, elective opportunities and clubs;
- Integrate connections to social-emotional supports with a focus on college and career readiness; and
- Include a service-learning program that combines rigorous academic pursuits with real world experiences, focused on social justice.

15. How the Instructional Program will Support Student Development of Technology Skills and Student Use of Technology

Larchmont Charter School is committed to ensuring that all students have the technology access and skills to thrive in the 21st century. Research indicates that technology is most powerful when used as a tool for problem solving, conceptual development, and critical thinking (Culp, Hawkins, & Honey, 1999; Sandholtz, Ringstaff, & Dwyer, 1997; Means, 1994). To that end, Larchmont students have opportunities to interact with technology to enhance creativity and innovation, communicate and collaborate with others, do research and advance their information fluency, promote critical thinking, problem solving and decision making skills, develop an understanding of the responsibilities and possibilities of digital citizenship, and to troubleshoot and utilize technology operations and design concepts.

By the time they graduate, students will be able to:

- Access technological resources to represent learning in creative and compelling ways in order to be competitive as students in top colleges and universities;
- Communicate information and ideas effectively to multiple audiences using a variety of media and formats;
- Use the Internet to conduct online research with an understanding of how to discern whether or not information is valid and reliable;
- Use technology to gather information, discern its relevance and reliability and use it to solve problems extend their understanding of new ideas, and include relevant information in presentations;
- Maintain safe, legal, and responsible practices and use of information and technology; and
- Articulate the drawbacks of inappropriate use of technology as it applies to student safety and responsible academic behaviors.

In order to provide our students with access to technology, we will aim to invest in equipment (e.g. computers, tablets, and peripherals) and personnel and at all times ensuring sufficient technology for students to take State test online. The Director of Compliance and Operations, who oversees testing along with the IT Technician partner with School Leaders to ensure students have the needed access and familiarity with technology for online State testing.

16. Graduation Requirements

All of Larchmont's courses have been designed in alignment with the state content and performance standards, including CA CCSS. In order to graduate, students are required to successfully complete (with a C or better) a minimum of 230 credits in four years in grades 9 through 12 and meet proficiency standards as determined by the State of California. If support is needed to meet the minimum requirements, then credit recovery is offered to the students. Graduation requirements have also been designed to meet the UC/CSU A-G requirements, as shown here. All courses offered, with the sole exception of P.E., meet A-G requirements:

The Larchmont high school grades provide our students with college counseling to ensure that all students have access to the top colleges and universities across the country. Our individualized college counseling program guides students as they prepare for, apply to and select the college or university that best fulfills their long-term goals. Students and their families begin on this path as freshmen and receive ongoing support through their acceptance and commitment to the college or university of their choice.

The following table outlines the various programs and services Larchmont offers high school students to ensure they are college and career ready:

9th & 10th Grade	• Parent/Guardian & student orientation meetings to provide information on the college admissions and preparation process (including financial preparation). • Annual review of each student's class schedule (more frequently if needed on a case by case basis) to ensure they are prepared to successfully complete the appropriate college-preparatory courses and are on track for graduation and college admission (Individual Graduation Plan). • Ongoing college and career counseling. • Provision of PSAT (Preliminary Scholastic Assessment Test) information including test dates, registration, and fees. • On site administration of PSAT to all 10th graders. • AP World History and AP World History exam available to 10th graders. • Collaboration and counseling with students to plan and provide recommendations for summer enrichment opportunities that enhance student college application profiles.
11th Grade	• Parent/Guardian & student meetings to provide an overview and timeline for college admissions, application process and requirements. • Provide financial planning workshops for interested families. • Review of each student's class schedule to ensure they remain on track to graduate and successfully apply to college; update Individual Graduation Plan. • Ongoing college and career counseling. • Assist students with registering for college entrance examinations (SAT Reasoning or ACT and SAT Subject Tests.) • On site PSAT and SAT administration. • Arrange for students to attend college fairs and presentations by college and university representatives. • Provide individualized support, as needed, with the college application and essay-writing process and scholarship application process. • Assist students with development of resume and portfolio of accomplishments and extra-curricular activities including service-learning and summer enrichment opportunities.

17. Credit Recovery Opportunities

In order to ensure that all students graduate on time having completed A-G and graduation requirements, Larchmont Charter School makes credit recovery options available for students. Our full-time counselor is responsible for monitoring transcripts, and devises individualized plans for all students at risk of not graduating with the required courses. We utilize accredited online credit recovery programs such as APEX to deliver high-quality, A-G certified online courses. Students complete credit recovery classes both during the summer and regular school year, as the school schedule provides opportunities for intervention. In urgent situations (e.g. graduating seniors, or 11th and 12th graders who enroll late in the year and hold substantial credit deficits), additional credit recovery opportunities may be provided during elective blocks. The college/career counselor meets with all transfer students upon enrolling to develop their Individual Graduation Plan and ensure they are supported through the transition both academically and socially.

18. Western Association of Schools and Colleges ("WASC") Accreditation

In April 2011, the Western Association of Schools and Colleges granted Larchmont Charter School a six-year accreditation (the maximum possible), which was renewed in 2017 for another six years. The visiting committee report recognized the significant progress Larchmont has made in carrying out its action plan, commending Larchmont Charter School for its successful vertical integration and alignment of academic expectations. As a part of the six-year accreditation, Larchmont Charter School will undergo a midterm review in the fall of 2019.

19. How Charter School Will Inform Parents, Including Parents with Limited English, about Course Transferability and College Entrance Requirements

Larchmont Charter School provides all students and parents with a course catalog or its equivalent notifying parents/guardians about the transferability of courses to other public high schools and the eligibility of courses to meet college entrance requirements. Information will be made available in multiple languages. These notifications are distributed in various settings, including on the Larchmont website, at Parent and Student Orientations, and at monthly parent meetings with the School Leader. The Director of College and Career Access also completes an annual Individual Graduation Plan (IGP) review process with each student thus monitoring student progress to graduation and A-G completion. In addition, teachers communicate student progress during their regular meetings with parents, which occur once every semester and by appointment.

Parents of students seeking higher education admission will be notified in writing within five (5) business days should any issues or problems arise regarding the eligibility of Larchmont's courses to meet college entrance requirements. Larchmont Charter School has received full accreditation from the WASC, as noted above, and will continue to ensure that courses meet the standards of the University of California and the California State University's "A-G" course requirements for college entrance eligibility into the UC or CSU systems. Thus, all of our high school courses, with the exception of the 20 units students earn for completing 100 hours of community service, are transferable to other local high schools.

A core part of our mission is to provide students with the instruction and life skills necessary for them to succeed at the college or university of their choice, including the California State University, University of California and other national college and university systems. Thus, our high school graduation requirements will exceed the A-G requirements, as illustrated in the chart in Section 10, above.

20. Transitional Kindergarten

Larchmont offers Transitional Kindergarten in accordance with applicable California law. Transitional Kindergarten is the first year of a two-year kindergarten program. It is provided for students who do not meet the age eligibility for kindergarten but meet those required for TK. The TK curriculum is based on the Common Core State Standards, Larchmont's constructivist-based curriculum and instructional strategies, and follows the requirements of Education Code Section 48000(d) in providing a modified curriculum that is both age and developmentally appropriate. Utilizing a combination classroom approach and a stand-alone TK approach, emphasis is placed on developing oral language skills and providing integrated experiences in language and literacy, social-emotional development, mathematics, physical development, the arts, science, social studies, and English language development.

21. Academic Calendar and Schedules

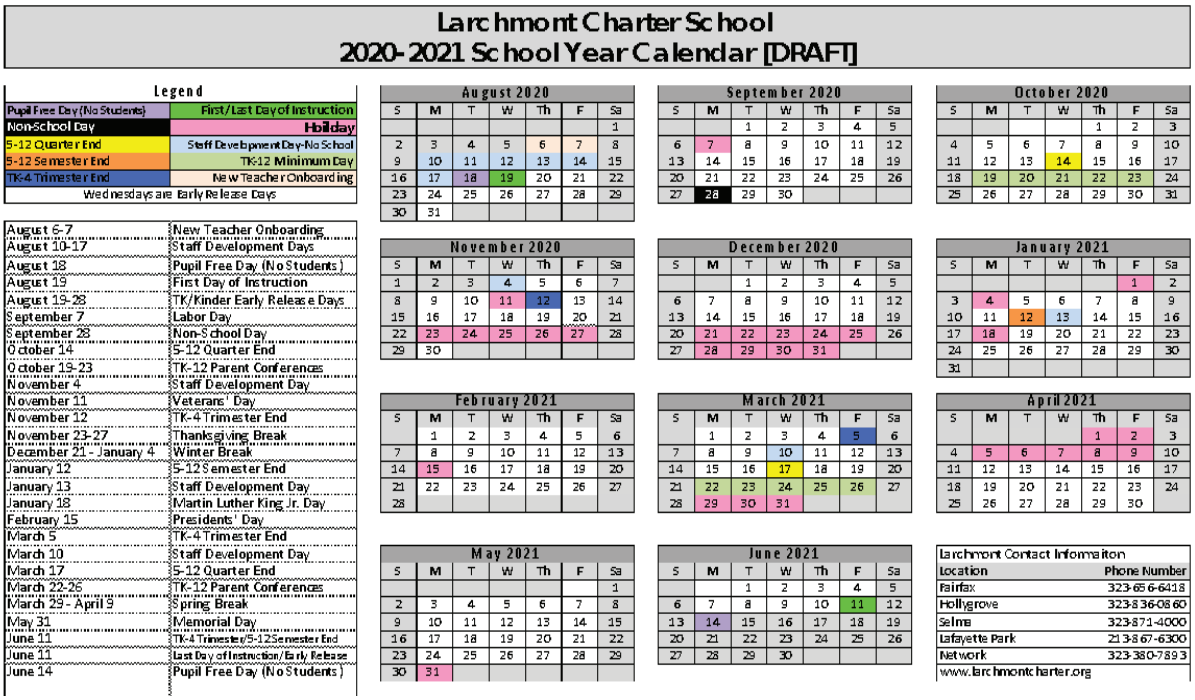
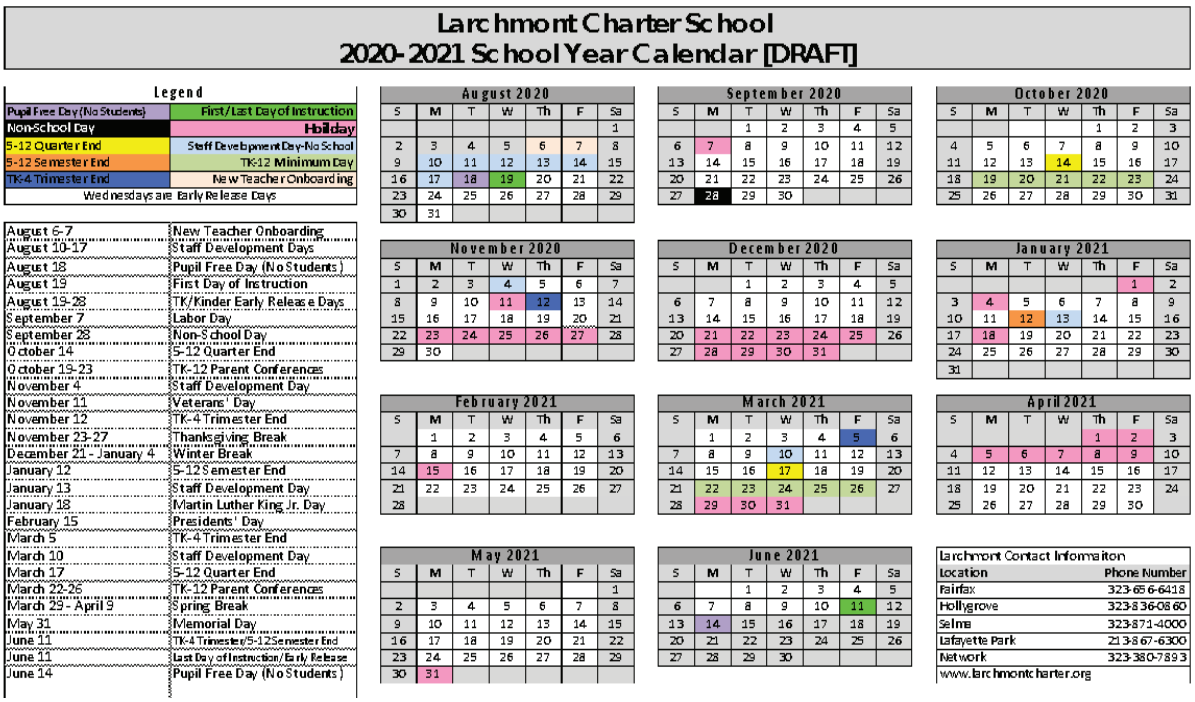
The Larchmont school year is similar to a traditional single-track calendar with the addition of increased instructional days for all students. We have 178 instructional days and exceed the number of annual instructional minutes as set forth in Education Code Section 47612.5 for all grade levels.





Sample Daily Schedules

Larchmont's daily schedules reflect our commitment to cognitive constructivism. The sample daily schedules presented below for each grade level or grade span reflect this commitment. Our longer blocks of study support project-based instruction, service learning experiences, integrated curriculum, and a differentiated group model for reading and language arts instruction. All teachers have planning periods, providing within the professional schedule the ability for teachers to design and tailor their instruction to student needs and interests. The secondary program also includes PACK time where students have Advisory, which includes academic and socio-emotional support.

22. Instructional Days and Minutes

The Charter School shall ensure that all students complete the minimum required number of instructional days (175 days) and minutes, as applicable per grade level. Specifically, pursuant to Education Code Section 47612.5, kindergarten students shall receive at least 36,000 instructional minutes, grades 1-3 at least 50,400 instructional minutes, students in grades 4-8 at least 54,000 instructional minutes and students in grades 9-12 at least 64,800 instructional minutes. As a result of having an extended instructional day, students at Larchmont receive instructional minutes that substantially exceed the minimum minutes required for traditional and charter public schools under Section 47612.5.

Professional Development

23. Ongoing Professional Development

Larchmont Charter School is committed to supporting its teachers, leaders and staff by providing frequent opportunities for professional growth and development. We foster a collaborative school environment in which teachers are given a chance to work with and learn from one another as well as develop leadership and facilitation skills. Professional development sessions throughout the year are tailored to the needs of faculty and designed to promote student learning. Driven by principles of constructivism for adult learners (Groves, 2008, Wilson & Lowry, 2000, Lax et al, 2004), Larchmont Charter School provides teachers with opportunities for:

- Discussion and planning with peers;
- Guidance and self-reflection around individual needs for growth and learning;
- Active participation in the experimental, investigatory, and reflective practice;
- Data-analysis, leading to critical thinking skills specific to the field of education; and
- Building on prior knowledge and adapting best practices through structured support.

Professional development is woven through teacher experiences in both team and individual approaches. Gathering in small groups, Larchmont teachers take part in weekly shared planning sessions with grade level and/or department teams; rotating monthly professional development meetings focused on 1) learning and instruction, 2) sharing best practices, and 3) analyzing data and developing effective assessment strategies; "whole child" assessment meetings each trimester (Grades TK-4); and several dedicated Professional Development days across the year focused on vertical and horizontal articulation of curriculum, programming, and school culture, safety, and processes.

Staff development over our next charter term will be focused on these key areas, in addition to other areas driven by student and faculty needs:

- Academic excellence through constructivism
  - Workshop model
  - Project-based learning
  - Inquiry, exploration and discovery
  - Academics (Math, ELA/ELD, Social Studies, Enrichments)
- Diversity
  - Equity
  - Differentiation
  - Multiple intelligences
  - Cultural competence
  - Unconscious bias and anti-bias teaching and learning
  - Differentiating to meet all students' needs
  - UDL
- Community
  - Whole child approach
  - Service learning
  - Social Emotional Learning curricula and strategies
  - Best Practices in PACK time (Homeroom/Advisory)

24. Teacher Recruitment

Larchmont Charter School uses multiple strategies to attract and retain a community of professionals who are dedicated to providing the best educational practices to all students. Regardless of their role in the school, every person hired by Larchmont actively promotes the mission and philosophy, through curriculum development, instructional strategies and development of a dynamic school program.

The School Leaders (TK-12) are responsible for hiring all instructional faculty, including credentialed teachers. Applicants complete and submit documents including required credential documentation so as to allow the team to conduct an in-depth screening of the match between the school's needs and the candidates' professional capabilities as well as qualifications. With the help of faculty, the School Leader selects and reviews candidates through a process of phone and in-person interviews, demonstration lessons, and submission of writing and lesson plan samples.

Consideration is given to teaching experience, the ability to demonstrate curriculum development, creative interpretation and application of the theory of constructivism, implementation of effective classroom strategies, knowledge of effective assessment tools and strategies, and respectful interactions, tone and style with peers and students. Larchmont also considers diversity of candidates in order to assemble a culturally competent faculty with diverse backgrounds and experiences. Reference checks are used to confirm impressions or further inform decision making on areas beyond those addressed in the interview process.

Larchmont's development team spreads the word among its extensive network of California-certified teachers to publicize positions, including the school website, EdJoin, California Charter Schools Association job listings, and educator networking groups such as graduate school of education alumni groups (i.e. UCLA, USC and Loyola Marymount University). Hiring committee members also recruit teachers at local and national job fairs to increase the number of quality candidates in the Larchmont pool.

Larchmont Charter School aims to attract highly talented teachers by offering a compensation and benefits package, involving teachers in decision-making, and by providing opportunities to collaborate with colleagues and receive meaningful professional development. Larchmont verifies all teaching credentials of candidates with the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing, ensuring that each teacher possesses credential subject authorization that meet state and ESSA requirements to teach the subject that he/she is being hired to teach.

Once hired, new teachers will be provided with ongoing professional development that supports their understanding and implementation of Larchmont Charter School's mission, vision and model. During Institute, the professional development days prior to the start of the regular school year, new teachers have two dedicated days where they are introduced and trained on the operations of LCS along with an introduction of what our mission and vision means within the educational program, and provided site-specific and school-wide expectations. These dedicated days allow new teachers to more fully participate and engage with their colleagues during the regular institute with all staff. From this point, new teachers are assigned mentor teachers where they have bi-weekly meetings that allow for an increased observation and feedback cycle throughout the school year. Also, within our weekly professional development meetings, collaboration with colleagues is embedded that allows for continued discussions around academic performance, student support and lesson implementation.

Meeting the Needs of All Students

25. English Learners

Process for Identifying English Learners (ELs)

Larchmont expects its student population to include approximately 8% ELs each year, with another approximately 15% recently Reclassified Fluent-English Proficient (RFEP). Larchmont serves its EL students in accordance with all applicable state and Federal laws and regulations.

Upon initial enrollment, parents complete the Home Language Survey (HLS) on Larchmont's Student Enrollment Form. The purpose of the HLS is to determine if a language other than English is used in the student's home. The HLS consists of the following four questions:

1. What language did the student learn when he or she first began to talk?
2. What language does this student most frequently use at home?
3. What language do you use most frequently to speak to this student?
4. Which language is most often used by the adults at home?

These questions are used to determine a student's home language status as follows:

- English Only (EO): If the answers to the four questions on the HLS are "English", the student is classified as English Only.

- Possible English Learner (EL): If the answers to any of the first three questions on the HLS indicate a language other than English, or a combination of English and another language, the student is administered the ELPAC to measure his or her level of English proficiency. Additionally, if the parent's response to the first three questions on the HLS is English and the response to the fourth question is other than English or there is an indication that the pupil's primary or native language is not English and there is evidence of significant non-English exposure and student is unable to perform ordinary classroom work in English, then school will determine whether pupil will be administered the ELPAC.

Parents are sent a notification that the student will be administered the ELPAC when initial identification is determined. If student should transfer to LCS within the school year, the school will evaluate cumulative records and CALPADS to determine if student should receive English Language instructional support.

If student is either new to the public school system or new to the U.S. and it has been determined from the HLS that another language is spoken, then student will receive the ELPAC within the first 30 days of enrollment.

Students with disabilities are permitted to take the ELPAC with the accommodations listed in Education Code if those accommodations are specified in students' IEPs or Section 504 plans. An alternate assessment for English language proficiency will be administered to students who are unable to participate in the ELPAC, according to the guidelines set forth in the student's IEP. Larchmont staff notifies parents of the school's responsibility to conduct ELPAC testing and informs parents of ELPAC testing results within 30 calendar days following receipt of test results from the test contractor.

Educational Program for English Language Acquisition

Larchmont Charter School has developed its own Master Plan for English Learners using the following guiding principles:

- Principle 1: English learners are held to the same high expectations of learning established for all students.

- Principle 2: English learners develop full receptive and productive proficiencies in the CCSS ELD/ELA Standards in the domains of Speaking and Listening, Reading, Writing, and Language consistent with expectations for all students.

- Principle 3: English learners are taught challenging academic content that enables them to meet performance standards in all content areas, including reading and language arts, mathematics, social studies, science, the fine arts, gardening, cooking, and physical education, consistent with those for all students.

- Principle 4: English learners receive instruction that builds on their previous education and cognitive abilities and reflects their language proficiency levels.

- Principle 5: English learners are evaluated with appropriate valid assessments that are aligned to state and local standards and that take into account their language development stages and cultural backgrounds.

- Principle 6: The academic success of English learners is a responsibility shared by all educators, the family, and the community. Progress of all students is tracked and regularly shared and analyzed publicly at LCS Board of Directors Meetings.

To support students in the development of their English language skills, Larchmont presumes both a "natural approach" to second language acquisition whereby language is acquired when given comprehensible input (Krashen, 1989; 2003). Our EL program promotes a belief in accepting, affirming, and accommodating the home language and culture of all students.

Recent data indicates that many of our ELs are categorized as "expanding" and "bridging" levels on the ELPAC. Because of this, our instruction focuses on the acquisition of academic language, supporting ELs in developing a deep and broad oral and written proficiency in English. Teachers use the techniques of whole language instruction combined with Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English ("SDAIE") strategies to support ELs in accessing core content, and to increase comprehensible input. In addition, sheltered English activities provide support for instructional delivery. Further primary language support is provided to students, and their families, through translation by teachers, aides, other students, and parent volunteers. Teachers incorporate substantive cooperative learning activities to provide optimum opportunities for authentic interaction, and to use newly acquired vocabulary and language.

Teachers will have access to ELPAC assessment results to inform program placement, reclassification, and to help target ELD instruction by adjusting instructional strategies as needed. Larchmont uses assessment interpretation resources to help teachers and administrators use student results to inform English learners and their parents or guardians about student progress.

EL instruction is grounded in the best available research on supporting ELs in an English Immersion environment and guided by the CA ELD Standards. Students will be expected to advance at least 1 ELD level, or the equivalent ELPAC Proficiency Level Descriptor, annually as measured by the ELPAC. School Leaders at the middle school sites and a designated teacher at the elementary sites serve as the EL Coordinators and partner with the teachers of EL students to carefully monitor student performance on both classroom assignments and standardized testing results. Observation scales and forms are partnered with a student work portfolio to develop a better understanding of the student's skills and abilities.

Larchmont provides high quality professional learning opportunities for all relevant educators to ensure that every English Learner has access to teachers who are prepared to accommodate individual instruction to meet the levels of rigor and depth required by the CA ELD Standards. Teachers authorized to teach English Learners will continue to receive training and support in the effective implementation of techniques described above.

Services and Supports For English Learners, Including Instructional Strategies and Intervention

All teachers deliver standards-based, differentiated instruction using Specifically Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE) strategies in reading, writing, math, science, and social studies to ensure full access to the core curriculum. English Language Learners are fully supported in accessing rich content knowledge and developing academic English across the disciplines. This Integrated ELD instructional approach emphasizes strategic scaffolding and support for meaning making, language development, effective expression, content knowledge and foundational skills.

Designated ELD instruction is provided to students in a small group setting that focuses on specific language skills that builds into and from content instruction. Instruction is designed to ensure that EL students acquire English Language proficiency and master academic content and ELD standards required of all California students. Instruction emphasizes the importance of ELA/Literacy in Reading, Writing, Speaking and Listening and Language, and provides opportunities for honing these skills in multiple contexts.

Process for Annual Evaluation of the Charter School's English Learner Program

As a part of our mission-driven dedication to diversity, Larchmont Charter School is committed to monitoring the implementation of its EL policies, programs, and services, and to evaluating their implementation as well as their effectiveness in order to continuously improve and hold itself accountable for outcomes.

At the beginning of each school year, teachers will evaluate student progress along the ELD Proficiency Level Continuum for each of their English Learners by looking at the ELPAC scores, end of year assessments, beginning of year assessments, CAASPP results to see level appropriateness, or other information for progress monitoring, such as NWEA or writing samples. Teachers will use this information to continuously monitor each English Learners' ability to achieve growth and progress through their proficiency level on the grade-level standards. Every grading period, teachers evaluate the recorded evidence from the ELD Monitoring Tracker and evaluate student's progress with respect to their Proficiency Level Descriptors for the CA ELD Standards. The progress of English Learners moving to the next level throughout the school year will be used to evaluate the EL program. Additionally, the school will look at the number of English Learners meeting the criteria to be reclassified as fluent English proficient (RFEP).

The results of this evaluation will be used to improve the EL program each year. Any grade-level standards or coursework that were particularly difficult for English Learners to master will be identified. The instructional and assessment methodologies for these standards will be addressed to improve the likelihood of English Learners achieving these standards the following year. In addition, any of the individual criteria for reclassification that is a barrier to reclassifying English Learners as fluent English proficient will be identified and addressed. Achievement gaps in ELA, Math and Foreign Language will be regularly analyzed and strategies for student support will be designed and implemented within strategic lessons. Regular reports to the LCS Board of Directors on comparative EL group progress will guide next steps and support budgetary allocations as needed.

Process and Specific Criteria for Reclassification

An English Learner is eligible for reclassification when he/she has met the established criteria. The reclassification criteria include the use of multiple measures to ensure both proficiency in the English language and success in an English Language Mainstream program. The School Leader, teacher(s), and parent(s) must participate in the reclassification process. Reclassification of students will when needed with parent meetings. Larchmont's reclassification criteria is as follows:

Reclassification Criteria Grades K-12
Assessment of English Language Proficiency English proficiency on the ELPAC Summative: ● Score of 4 in the Overall Performance; ● Scores of 4 in Oral Language and Written Language AND ● Scores of Somewhat/Moderately to Well-Developed in the domains of Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing. Comparison of Student Performance on an objective assessment of basic skills in English-language arts Reading Assessment: Score of 4 or 5 in Fountas & Pinnell (grades K-4), or 3 or 4 in CAASPP, or Achieving grade level mean score on NWEA (grades 2-12) Writing Assessment: Score of 3 or 4 in the Lucy Calkins units of Narrative, Informational, and Opinion writing prompt (grades 1-4) Teacher Evaluation Based on student grades/progress report in English Language Arts & Math ● K-4: Progress Report Grades of proficient or outstanding in English & Math

- 5-12: Report card grades of C or better in English and Math

Parent Opinion and Consultation

*In the event that a student meets the ELPAC and performance in basic grade level skills criteria but not the grade/progress report mark requirements, the school team must meet to analyze other student data that demonstrates grade-level proficiency. The following may be considered:

- Prior CAASPP results, if applicable
- Authentic student work samples, especially writing samples

The School Leader collects and reviews the ELPAC scores, other assessment data, students' grades, and teachers' recommendations for all English Learners. On the basis of this review, students who are eligible for reclassification are identified.

The School Leader notifies parents and/or guardians if a student is eligible for reclassification and provides an opportunity for the parents and/or guardians to attend a reclassification meeting. The parent may also communicate his/her opinion in writing or via phone call.

Process For Monitoring Progress Of English Learners And Reclassified (RFEP) Students

Students who have been reclassified as RFEP receive follow-up monitoring for a minimum of two years after reclassification. In the spring trimester, an evaluation of students that have been classified as RFEP will be conducted using test results in Language Arts and Math, the last two years of Language Arts and Math grades, CAASPP results, and GPA in Language Arts and Math, if applicable.

If a student has an Individualized Education Program (IEP), and has been receiving instruction in ELD, reclassification must be addressed through an annual IEP or Addendum meeting following the district procedures for reclassifying students with disabilities.

Process for Monitoring Progress and Supports for Long Term English Learners ("LTELs")

Larchmont tracks student performance of all students currently classified as ELs, including LTELs, and those who are reclassified English Proficient. Because the Larchmont instructional program is highly individualized, teachers can readily identify and assess the specific needs of LTELs, and respond with strategies identified as the most effective for this population, to address academic gaps and language development without sacrificing access to the constructivist-based educational program.

26. Gifted and Talented (GATE) Students and Students Achieving Above Grade Level

At Larchmont Charter School, we believe that all of our children bring unique talents and abilities to school. It is our role as educators to develop these strengths in our students. We use a wide variety of assessments and tools to inform our approach with our students. As a general rule, we do not believe that any one assessment should be used to classify children or determine what resources are provided for a child's learning. As Larchmont's model is designed to differentiate to meet a wide range of student needs, there are not designated "gifted" programs at Larchmont. Rather teachers adapt instruction, as practicable, to provide opportunities for extension or acceleration for identified students.

We understand however that there may be opportunities outside of Larchmont Charter School that families would like their children to access which are available only with the designation of "gifted" (e.g. entry into gifted magnet schools). To this end, Larchmont Charter universally ensures all our diverse students have at least three opportunities across different grade levels to obtain the designation of "gifted." Larchmont Charter School is an inclusive learning environment, and the "gifted" designation will be used to ensure teachers have pertinent information so that they can provide appropriate educational experiences to students who are gifted.

School leaders and teachers' monitor the progress of all students, including "gifted" and talented students. This is done daily through classroom assessments such as exit slips, projects, quizzes, and tests; quarterly through report cards; twice a year through school wide assessments like NWEA; and the annual CAASPP test. Questions and/or concerns can be brought to the Senior Director of Learning and Support Services, who oversees the overall GATE program. Parents should contact their School Leader for any specific support and/or questions.

27. Students Achieving Below Grade Level

The Larchmont Charter School program is designed to meet the needs of all types of students by differentiating instruction, increasing student motivation through an interdisciplinary curriculum, and providing a constructivist-based curriculum that challenges students from a variety of abilities and learning capacities. We are committed to ensuring that all students achieve at their maximum potential, including students achieving below grade level expectations.

Each fall, students at Larchmont are assessed by their classroom teacher in written language, reading, and math, among other CCSS-aligned assessments. These assessments, in addition to state testing data, serve as baseline measures and diagnostic tools to identify students achieving below grade level in any core content area. Internal benchmark measures are also used to look for trends among various groups of students, areas of need to be addressed in professional development, and areas needing increased or improved instruction. This information is shared as a staff and groups of students are formed who are in need of intensive intervention in order to help students achieve at higher levels. Various means are used to meet the needs of these students, including in-class small group teaching in skill instruction for reading and math, English language development (both for English language learners and those students with limited oral expression) and instruction in comprehension skills.

In most cases, students performing below grade level achieve grade level and classroom expectations as a result of the intervention methods described above based on longitudinal tracking of their progress over time on internal assessments. Our intensive early intervention systems, coupled with Student Success Team (SST) meetings, followed up with frequent progress monitoring ensures this subgroup of students' needs are addressed.

Larchmont uses the Multi-tiered System of Support ("MTSS") to meet the needs of students achieving below grade level. Larchmont's Academic Intervention (Academy) uses internal assessment data and teacher observations to provide increasing levels of targeted support, including the following:

- ELA - Intervention provided before, during and after school. Programs used are Leveled Literacy Intervention ("LLI") and Read 180.
- Math - Math continuum re-structured. Supports provided to students through differentiated/leveled small groups. Math coach also provides targeted instruction to students.

Larchmont pays special attention to high school students performing below grade level to ensure that they are on track to graduate with their A-G requirements completed in the four years of high school. Students who do not pass a course that is required for graduation or is for credit towards their A-G requirements are required to repeat the course the following year. In the event that students need to repeat a course, they will have fewer electives in their junior and senior years to accommodate for the completion of all essential credits. In the event that students are identified as unprepared to successfully accomplish the goals set out in the proposed schedule of classes, Larchmont staff provides interventions – beginning with the least invasive and building in, as needed, more structured supports such as the tiered approach below.

Listed below are three tiers of intervention that may be implemented to address the needs of students performing below grade level in grades 9-12:

- ✓ Tier 1: For a student whose transcripts indicate that a particular content area is challenging for him/her (e.g. a student who received a C in prior years' English course) or whose ongoing assessments show a student is not mastering content on pace with the class, the teacher will design, implement and track in-class interventions to support the student's learning. These in-class interventions may include, but are not limited to, small-group instruction, pre-teaching, offering supplementary materials or instructional resources to student or providing study-skills or specialized support with skills such as test preparation or writing research.

- ✓ Tier 2: It is our expectation that students will not fall behind to the point of not passing their classes. Our program is designed to ensure that challenges are identified and addressed in time to ensure students are on track to pass their courses. Should students experience substantial difficulty in completing courses that are not alleviated by Tier 1 interventions, students may be provided with small-group or individualized intervention during PACK time, their elective block and/or before/after school. These interventions are carefully monitored with weekly assessments. During a six-week intervention cycle, students are taught to self-monitor their progress and identify when to ask for help to better empower them to get their needs met during the regular instructional day.

- ✓ Tier 3: Larchmont provides classes to address the gaps when students have not successfully completed foundational courses necessary for enrollment in the course offerings at their grade level (e.g. students who did not complete Algebra 1 prior to 9th grade). These classes may be provided during a specially-designed summer bridge program for students enrolling in the school at the high school level, they may be offered during the elective period of the day or, if there is sufficient need across the grade level a dual track of classes will be created to provide students with the appropriate courses with the intent that by the end of high school students will have all completed the necessary A-G required classes no matter their starting point.

Every year, teachers receive training on strategies for reaching students who are not achieving at their highest potential. These strategies include best practices such as cooperative learning, providing students with "real-life" purposes to create relevance to learning, and varied assessment strategies, where students utilize a variety of avenues for teachers to tap into students' knowledge. Teachers clearly communicate goals for students, focusing on the skills required for underperforming students to be successful in school. We believe if students know how to learn, question, and access prior knowledge, they will be more successful in integrating new knowledge. Thus, teachers differentiate instruction for underachieving students by demonstrating and structuring the steps necessary to accomplish an academic task, providing feedback on student practice, and holding students accountable for their work through frequent teacher review.

By continuing to look to research, and giving teachers time to meet, discuss, and learn what works best with their students, teachers will continually assure that they are using the most effective strategies for helping all of their students become active and motivated learners who master the knowledge necessary for life-long learning and success.

28. Socio-Economically Disadvantaged/Low Income Students

Socio-economically disadvantaged students, as defined by free and reduced price lunch eligibility, comprised approximately 43% of our student population in 2018-19. Larchmont offers several programs to address the needs and associated risks of this subgroup. Our school psychologist is available for group or individual sessions to support student needs associated with poverty. The MTSS provides intervention for students facing academic and behavioral challenges. Enrichment and afterschool programs with activities such as art, music, gardening, coding, and karate also offer students exposure to activities beyond academics. Furthermore, our physical education program addresses the relationship between exercise and health and our Healthy Lunch program incorporates the tenets of the Edible Schoolyard. Integration of technology is an important part of our instructional program, and students have opportunities to use technology for academic purposes at school, even though they may not have access at home. Teachers, instructional leaders and the Executive Director's Academic Excellence Group routinely review achievement data disaggregated by subgroup to ensure monitoring of how all students are achieving and the targeting of intervention resources as needed.

29. Students in Other Subgroups

Larchmont recognizes the sense of urgency in providing programs to foster youth that will help them succeed educationally. Foster youth are identified through the enrollment process. Both the student enrollment application and the meal application solicit student information that can identify foster youth. PACK time (Homeroom/Advisory) and/or classroom teachers also identify needs of foster youth and monitor their overall school progress through informal surveys, observations, assessments, and overall academic performance. Larchmont has a multi-faceted approach in addressing the needs of foster youth: academic support, social-emotional support, home-school communication, parent/guardian education, over-all school experience support, and connection to community resources. Teachers, school leaders, and school psychologists partner with community organizations and universities to provide services, supports, and opportunities to Larchmont's foster youth. The School Leader monitors the progress of foster youth and works in conjunction with the team to provide intervention and support as needed.

30. A Typical Day at Larchmont Charter School

As visitors tour the halls of Larchmont, they will see a myriad of approaches that are as diverse as our students themselves. Our program fosters creativity and academic excellence; our students learn with and from each other in an experience-centered, inquiry-based learning environment. Based on their reflective analysis of student behaviors, classroom dynamics, and learning outcomes, teachers draw on their rich repertoire of instructional strategies as well as students' knowledge and interests, to meet the individual needs of their students. Throughout a typical day in the life of a Larchmont student, collaborative structures vary from whole class direct instruction to individual practice, to small group collaboration and instruction (including combining groups between different classrooms or grade levels, based on skill levels and interests).

Through an inquiry-based approach, the State Standards are the foundation upon which teachers build the curriculum. Throughout a typical day in the life of a Larchmont student, observers will see teachers provide opportunities for student-initiated questions, variations, diversions, or alternate methods of learning. Our teachers' ability to offer this flexibility is a direct result of the backwards planning approach to lesson design our teachers use. An observer will also see active learning, where students make the curriculum their own while instructors formally and informally assess their progress. The rich and nuanced information that teachers glean from project- and performance- based assessment informs both modest changes in instruction (such as pulling several students for a small group lesson while the class engages in independent practice or chunking lessons across five days instead of two) to more substantive changes (such as revising assessment tools, or purchasing additional curricular materials).

Elementary Grades

An observer will immediately feel the sense of belonging and community in our LCS students' elementary school experience. Students start the day engaged in the practice of Morning Meeting where they not only have an opportunity to transition thoughtfully from home to school. During this short block of time, students not only develop Social Emotional Learning Skills by sharing events in their lives with their classmates, but also, students work to solidify academic concepts, such as through the use of the calendar to develop the concepts of seasons and weather. Classroom spaces are set up to facilitate student access to resources, including supplies, a word wall, sample texts and their own folders of past work. Teachers continuously tailor and personalize instruction to meet the needs of the particular students, including English Learners, students with special needs, and students who are performing above grade level. Students continue their day by transitioning to Math where they learn key concepts and ideas through interdisciplinary activities, and where they solve problems in a variety of ways, with the teacher first walking children through all the component parts of a problem before presenting them with the whole problem to solve. By focusing on mathematical understanding, students develop logical thinking and critical lifelong problem-solving skills. Following math, students split up into groups according to reading level or word study level and receive targeted reading instruction in comprehension, phonemic awareness, phonics, and word study. You may observe a teacher either conferencing with individual students or working with students in a small guided reading group, while other students are independently reading and practicing the comprehension skill from the day's Reader's Workshop mini-lesson.

Students continue the day with shared reading, where they explore a poem that the teaching team has chosen to teach rhyming patterns, memorization and to build connections to other content areas. Then, students head out to recess where they enjoy an active break before they sit down to enjoy a seasonal meal out of our Edible Schoolyard garden. As parent volunteers serve students orange and red veggies, they talk with students about the special vitamins in those delicious plants that make our bodies strong and healthy. Students are encouraged to pay attention to the items from today's meal that should go into the compost bin. Students return to the classroom, and in a circle on the carpet, the teacher engages the class in an Interactive Read Aloud to support comprehension, deepen concepts in content areas or model ideas that are being developed for writer's workshop that follows. After the read aloud, students turn their attention to deepening their understanding of one of the Common Core writing genres that they are learning in Writer's Workshop. Students spend dedicated time drafting genre specific independent writing pieces while practicing the taught writing strategies. During this time you might also see the classroom teacher individually conferencing with students as pairs of students engage in peer editing and revising. Students have the opportunity to support their own growth as well as the learning of others throughout the writing block. After writer's workshop, the students engage in their Signature Project time, where students explore NGSS science standards and the interconnections between the plant and animal kingdoms. In the first grade classrooms, students brainstorm ways to support and contribute to the well-being of the animal and plant kingdoms and then write and draw about those ideas.

Throughout the day, learning activities are happening simultaneously—and each one is focused on ensuring that the students are engaged in learning experiences that draw out the knowledge (or schemata) that students bring with them into the classroom. Interspersed throughout the day are various enrichment classes, including music, art, gardening and cooking, PE, and Improv. These enrichment opportunities allow students to develop a wide range of skills. From deepening their content knowledge through art and music or practicing their Social Emotional Learning through Improv, Larchmont students have the opportunity to grow and shine in these different areas.

Middle Grades

Students begin the day with PACK time, where they have the opportunity to develop their social and emotional skills. Teachers facilitate council circles and other strategies to discuss social skills from the Second Step curriculum, online safety from the Cyber Civics curriculum, student strengths, goal setting, and career paths from the Thrively curriculum, or other topics as needed for students. This PACK time sets a positive tone for the school day and students have a safe environment each day.

Students begin English Language Arts, where they share their annotations from the prior night's reading assignment – a short memoir. The teacher leads the students in a discussion about the various characters, character traits, and story themes, asking questions and prompting divergent thinking. In History, students analyze cave drawings of early Hominids, noting their observations and questions, and then compare their findings to the real social scientist's hypotheses noted in the history textbook. Learning experiences like these throughout the school day challenge students to reach beyond their immediate surroundings to understand the interaction between the student as individual and the larger community and the world.

During Math class, students work in small groupings, where they discuss a set of data provided to the students in various formats (stem and leaf plot, tally chart, bar graph, and line plot). Balancing participation amongst the group, students review the graphs and note similarities and differences, then share out their findings with the whole class. Taking the investigation deeper, the students review the graphs and decide which graph best helps them identify the range, median, and mode most easily, and explain their thinking in writing. In their responses, all middle grades students articulate both the procedural steps necessary to solve the particular problem as well as the conceptual connections behind the standard. In this exercise, the teacher aims for students to become aware that real problems require solutions based on the integration of knowledge that spans and connects several subject areas. As students master standards and skills and accumulate a comprehensive knowledge base, they are more equipped to conduct their inquiries successfully and find solutions to problems.

Middle grades students' transition to lunch/recess freely and with independence. Then, students begin Science by generating hypotheses around the question of the ecological roles that different organisms play in similar biomes. This lesson is one of several in a series of knowledge- and skill-based lessons around the larger concept that organisms in ecosystems exchange energy and nutrients among themselves and with the environment. These lessons provide the prerequisite knowledge and skills for students to explore through their Signature Projects, whereby the Big Idea that the unfolding of life, across all species, involves the interplay of creativity and mutual adaptation, in which organisms and environment co-evolve.

Students transition to their physical education class, where they engage in a warm-up led by one of their peers, followed by the weekly 1-mile run. Students track their progress from their previous time before moving into a group game of basketball. Teachers ask students to reflect on the connection between the overarching Big Idea that humans can coexist with others in unique settings through adaptation and adjustment and the game of basketball.

High School

On a typical day at Larchmont's high school campus, students are already clustered around benches and tables on the quad comparing notes from yesterday's classes or last night's homework. Students go through their typical academic day by rotating through teachers and course subjects by periods according to an A/B block schedule. If you visit and are able to walk through classrooms, you will see uniformity in that certain practices are common in classrooms: checks for understanding, gradual release of responsibility, collaborative World History, students use the "SPICE" (Social, Political, Interaction, Cultural, Economic) historical analysis framework to analyze primary and secondary sources and write essays. In all high school classrooms, you will hear students speak about the character traits they aim to embody by the end of their time at Larchmont (Respectful, Prepared, Self-Aware, Fearless, Productive, and Honest) as they prepare for success in rigorous colleges.

The first bell rings and students begin Geometry, starting with a discussion around a scaled model structure built out of balsa wood representing the downtown Disney Concert Hall. Their assignment: determine what three-dimensional geometric shapes were used to create the unexpected combination of walls and ceiling that make up the hall's unique architecture. Students use their knowledge of trigonometric functions and the relationships between three-dimensional geometric shapes to explain their answers to this question. Students use class laptops to search for information about architect Frank Gehry's past projects while others pull out measuring tape, sketch what they see on graph paper and compare notes from a prior lesson on geometric shapes. The teacher facilitates thinking amongst small groups of students, and makes connections to students' noteworthy observations and conclusions. A team re-builds portions of the model in the back of the room with connecting rods and tests the pressure points on the shapes. Other students research the way sound travels and responds to a variety of configurations in concert halls around the world using the Berkeley School of Music website and links referenced by a PhD student for her research. Students draft hypotheses that they will present to the class in a closing discussion the following day, when the teacher will respond to students' questions and proposed theories.

In another class, a group of juniors work alongside their math teacher to gather data about the pollution and littering affecting the Los Angeles River. They decide to organize groups of LCS students to conduct observations and measurements of the amount of trash in high traffic areas of the river, gathering information that they may present to an LA Times staff writer and/or the City Council in open session. This research project parallels the larger, multi-year Research Seminars, which includes the Junior Research Seminar, a yearlong course supporting students' development of the foundational research skills in preparation for their Senior Research Project needed for graduation at Larchmont Charter School. Students explore the role of researchers and research in society as well as become researchers themselves. Walking through a Junior Research Seminar classroom, an observer would see students discussing their draft research questions with one another, and revising their questions based on recent formal and informal interviews and observations. The Junior Research Seminar teacher will be listening in on student conversations to assess the nature of the students' inquiries as they develop over time, and whether students are asking questions of more depth, which are likely to enhance their learning.

Block 2, English opens with a series of short monologues presented by members of the drama club. The focus of the day's lesson: Articulate the relationship between the expressed purposes and the characteristics of different forms of dramatic literature (e.g., comedy, tragedy, drama, dramatic monologue). Students examine the essential questions surrounding the unit of study as they connect to the lesson objective and read excerpts of the literature aloud. After making notes in the margins and highlighting evidence of the characteristics of each type of literature, student leaders then facilitate small group discussions in which students first identify the characteristics of the different forms of literature and then draw comparisons to another text in the same genre. The groups present their analysis to one another while the teacher captures their learning in a template on his computer projected on the board. At the end of the class the teacher prints and distributes the notes to the students along with three sample texts they analyze for homework.

The day continues for the students as they head to lunch and then afternoon classes in Social Studies and Women's Literature. In both courses, students bring their own real-world questions, issues, and controversies and discuss them through Socratic methods. Teachers support students' development of research and communication skills, and students are continually engaged in solving problems or creating solutions in these courses. During the typical school day, you might see students collaborating in Women's Literature on their thesis statements and essay outlines, participating in the improvement of ideas and knowledge in a public setting – the classroom. Students develop a deep understanding of the content as a result.

Students end the day in Chemistry class, where they work in lab groups to investigate chemical reactions. In this case, they are investigating what happens when two aqueous solutions are combined, including the rate of reaction, change of temperature and the amount of precipitate formed. Analysis is both quantitative and qualitative as students describe the experiment, their roles, and results in lab books that serve as a written and visual record of their work. Students work in heterogeneous lab groups that have been formed previously as part of the daily practice of the classroom. The teacher moves between groups monitoring progress and answering questions, providing guiding feedback and encouragement. Groups end the class reporting their findings to the full class and sharing questions and ideas about what they've come to understand as a result of the experiment and discussion they experienced. The teacher closes the class with a preview of the next lesson/class meeting and a brief review of what students need to complete before then.

Larchmont believes that more instructional time is essential to allow our students to master the content area standards as well as the essential skills they need for success in college and beyond. We also believe that instruction in the arts, sports and music is essential for all. This is why our model allows for all students to be actively involved in these activities throughout the day as well as after school. Our Homeroom/Advisory program expands across all high school grade levels and allows for students to work directly with their teachers in a smaller group setting after lunch on any work they need additional help on.

After spending a few moments in Larchmont classrooms, it becomes clear that students learn content and skills through a variety of different methodologies to ensure that each student's individualized array of intelligences, learning styles, talents, and learning needs are attended to. The faculty and staff at Larchmont consistently create and foster a school culture of joy, excitement, and celebration in learning and the work being done within and beyond school walls by our students.

Parents are a common presence in our school, as enthusiastic supporters of student performances and demonstrations; volunteers in the classrooms, school office, lunch area and library; joining students in weekly service-learning activities; and serving as true "boosters" of our operation. This collaborative effort ensures that students enjoy learning, see their classmates as teammate, and feel supported by their teachers and parents.

Element 2: Measurable Pupil Outcomes and Element 3: Method by which Pupil Progress Toward Outcomes will be Measured

"The measurable pupil outcomes identified for use by the charter school. "Pupil outcomes," for purposes of this part, means the extent to which all pupils of the school demonstrate that they have attained the skills, knowledge, and attitudes specified as goals in the school's educational program. Pupil outcomes shall include outcomes that address increases in pupil academic achievement both schoolwide and for all groups of pupils served by the charter school, as that term is defined in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 47607. The pupil outcomes shall align with the state priorities, as described in subdivision (d) of Section 52060, that apply for the grade levels served, or the nature of the program operated, by the charter school." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(B).)

"The method by which pupil progress in meeting those pupil outcomes is to be measured. To the extent practicable, the method for measuring pupil outcomes for state priorities shall be consistent with the way information is reported on a school accountability report card." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(C).)

Charter School shall meet all statewide content and performance standards and targets. (Ed. Code §§ 47605(c)(1), 60605.)

Charter School shall comply with all applicable laws and regulations related to AB 97 (2013) (Local Control Funding Formula) and AB 484 (2013), as they may be amended from time to time, including all requirements pertaining to pupil outcomes.

STANDARDIZED TESTING

Charter School agrees to comply with state requirements for participation and administration of all state-mandated tests, including computer-based assessments. Charter School shall submit and maintain complete, accurate, and up-to-date California Longitudinal Pupil Achievement Data System (CALPADS) data in accordance with the requirements of California Code of Regulations, title 5, section 861. Charter School hereby grants authority to the State of California to provide a copy of all test results directly to the District as well as Charter School. Upon request, Charter School shall submit, in the requested format (e.g., CD), a copy of the results of all state-mandated tests to the District.

1. Measurable Goals of the Educational Program

Please see Element 1, Section 10, The Requirements Of California Education Code § 47605(B)(5)(A)(ii).

2. Measuring Pupil Outcomes: Summative Assessment Performance Targets

Please see Element 1, Section 10, The Requirements Of California Education Code § 47605(B)(5)(A)(ii).

3. Other Performance Targets

Please see Element 1, Section 10, The Requirements Of California Education Code § 47605(B)(5)(A)(ii).

4. Method for Measuring Pupil Progress Toward Outcomes: Formative Assessment

In addition to measuring student outcomes from standardized testing exams adopted by the State of California (CAASPP, ELPAC, CAST, CA Physical Fitness Test, etc.), Larchmont utilizes a variety of formative assessment measures consistent with the educational program outlined in Element 1 to track student progress towards mastery of the State Standards, including CCSS. Larchmont aims to meaningfully integrate standards across the curriculum, and implements multiple and varied measures of assessment in order to ensure that teachers and students have a holistic picture of academic progress and achievement. Led by the School Leaders, teachers at Larchmont then utilize this data to make informed instructional decisions in order to support and improve student achievement. The Executive Directors' Academic Excellence Group has institutionalized a reporting system, described below that drives data-driven decision-making by regularly reporting on student achievement against established goals and outcomes.

In the beginning of the year, teachers administer diagnostics described in the school assessment plan below. Throughout the year, at the end of each marking period (trimester/semester end) teachers utilize a variety of formative assessment methods, including TK-7 Signature Projects and 8-12 Interdisciplinary Research Projects and Seminars, teacher-made assessments, and publisher assessments in the content areas to monitor student performance. All assessments are constructivist in nature. The Academic Excellence Group sets the expectation that minimally 80% of students across all statistically significant subgroups will be proficient or advanced in Math and ELA. In concert with School Leaders, faculty continually reviews and revises assessments and ensures that they remain aligned to the state content and performance standards, including the new CCSS. The Larchmont focus on constructivist assessment practices is particularly well suited to the CCSS interdisciplinary and problem-based approach to assessment. Our faculty ensures that our internal summative assessments are properly aligned with the CAASPP and serve as a meaningful predictor of success on the CAASPP.

Current Larchmont assessment methods include:

It is Larchmont's performance-based approach to assessment that we believe to be the most valuable measure of student understanding.

In order to ensure that our assessment measures align to the learning goals we have in mind for students, teachers develop Standards Trackers. These Standards Trackers are the Larchmont structure for backwards planning methods across all grade levels and content areas. They serve as a guide for ensuring that all standards are incorporated into instruction, and that course work is meaningfully integrated across the curriculum. Before the school year begins, teachers develop Standards Trackers that include, for each unit of study, measurable student outcomes, essential questions and/or big ideas, a scope and sequence of learning outcomes (including a timeline/pacing plan), as well as aligned curricular resources. These critical instructional planning tools support instructional decisions around the frequency and form of objective assessments (both formative and summative).

As much as possible, Larchmont encourages students to demonstrate their learning in a performance-based manner, tapping into the ways in which students learn best as well as their prior knowledge. One method through which we assess student progress is through Signature Projects (TK-7) and Research Seminars (8-12). As described in Section 3, Innovative Curricular Components of the Educational Program, in the elementary grades, Signature Projects are ongoing throughout the school year and also vary in depth and timing. Students in the middle grades demonstrate their conceptual understanding and application of integrated standards through an end of semester/year Signature Project. This project not only measures fundamental understanding of core knowledge, but also taps into presentation, leadership, and process skills. And as students progress to the high school grades, their experience in developing Signature Projects continues with continued project-based learning in the content areas and Junior/Senior Seminars, and Senior Research Projects. A key component of the Junior and Senior Seminar is the exploration and preparation for life after high school, including college and career. We see that when students are engaged in real-life activities that require investigation and experimentation, as the depth and complexity of student assessment increases as students advance, we are able to gauge a both nuanced and comprehensive picture of what they know and are able to do.

In the elementary and middle grades, each student develops an assessment portfolio that 1) addresses all the standards, 2) offers a constructivist set of options for demonstrating understanding, and 3) identifies opportunities for cross-curricular assessments. Portfolios accumulate a variety of formative, performance-based assessments. Once students reach the second grade, they prepare and lead conferences in the late fall and spring, communicating their own progress to their parents/guardians and identifying additional goals for the school year. Aligned to the ESLRs/SLOs and state content and performance standards, students self-evaluate their portfolios using defined rubrics.

In addition to the assessment methods described above, Larchmont Charter School utilizes a variety of ongoing and authentic embedded assessments as checks for understanding in order to inform instruction and facilitate student learning. Examples include rubrics used to evaluate projects and assignments, teacher observations, anecdotal records, and student self-evaluations. Formative assessments occur regularly during the development of units of study to demonstrate to teachers the most current level of understanding for each student. Project expectations embedded in rubrics help teachers and students jointly describe expectations prior to the completion of projects and assignments. The ongoing monitoring of student progress throughout the year, along with the emphasis on a constructivist set of options for demonstrating understanding, makes performance-based assessment at Larchmont rigorous and relevant.

5. Data Analysis and Reporting

In order to best serve their students, Larchmont teachers and instructional leaders engage in a continuous cycle of examining meaningful and timely individual student data. As such, we use the variety of formative and summative assessment methods described above to help understand our students' strengths and needs, so that we can not only forecast their performance on high-stakes assessments, but also adapt and differentiate instruction to maximize learning. Student assessment at Larchmont Charter School not only complies with federal and state standards but it also includes faculty-devised instruments and processes to appraise students' academic competence, emotional growth and social responsibility.

To this end, the Executive Directors' Academic Excellence Group has institutionalized a reporting system called the Academic Performance Dashboard. This system includes a variety of internal measures the organization has tracked in the absence of standardized testing data. Internal progress report data and reading assessment data, writing assessment data, math interpretative data, and other data are disaggregated by subgroup, performance band, and grade level. Larchmont values using data at multiple levels and prioritizes employing a Data Manager who is skilled in data analysis, statistical analysis and overall data management. As a result of these resources and practices, all decision-makers have the tools and communication structures necessary to ensure Larchmont Charter School delivers on its promise to provide an exceptional public education to our diverse community of students.

Larchmont teachers, with guidance from the School Leaders, examine and analyze pupil outcomes during professional development days throughout the year following each trimester's assessment cycle. At the beginning of the school year, teachers participate in a professional development institute which gives them the opportunity to analyze data derived from state-mandated testing from the previous school year and review incoming students' standards-based report cards which include narratives describing student performance, work habits, and citizenship. When testing data arrives, teachers and instructional leaders examine trends in achievement, including subgroup performance, then make decisions on how to modify, change, or enhance their teaching methodologies and/or the existing educational program. Teachers develop revised vertical articulation guides and curricular plans based on this data, and intervention placement decisions occur as a result. Furthermore, the college counselor reviews students' PSAT/SAT/ACT results and discusses needed interventions with students and their teachers.

After analyzing data to set individualized student goals and instructional priorities, the School Leaders with input from the instructional leadership team identify professional development goals for the year. The LCS Board of Directors confirms the academic goals and instructional priorities and identifies necessary managerial support the School Leaders need to execute these plans. As the year progresses, teachers administer ongoing assessments and analyze the data to modify and differentiate instruction. Further, the School Leaders and other instructional leaders provide guidance and support to teachers. At the end of the year, teachers administer end of year assessments and analyze the data to develop initial academic and professional goals for the following school year. Working with the Executive Director, the LCS Board of Directors identifies ways to support the School Leaders to meet professional development goals and provide curricular support and inform stakeholders of the Charter School's performance as outlined below.

6. Grading, Progress Reporting, and Promotion/Retention

Progress Reporting

All test data is entered into the Larchmont Student Information System ("SIS"), Powerschool, and this system is readily available to parents, teachers, and students. It also includes grades for all assignments, progress reports, and other useful student achievement data. Once the Charter School receives testing results from the State, individual student reports are immediately mailed home or picked up by families. Larchmont Charter School uses the SIS to produce periodic progress reports. These progress reports detail students' progress on State Standards, including the CCSS, as well as the ESLRs/SLOs.

In addition to reporting individual performance to students and families, Larchmont also analyzes, reports, and distributes results from assessments, data collection records, evaluations, stakeholder surveys and interviews, including the Larchmont Academic Dashboard, LAUSD School Performance Framework, School Accountability Report Card ("SARC"), CCSA's statewide rankings, and the California School Dashboard, to the school community as part of an annual progress and program audit. The LCS Board of Directors continually evaluates these reports to monitor student achievement at Larchmont.

Progress Reports and Grading

The intention of bi-annual progress reports is to inform families of their child's development and progress towards understanding broader concepts, rather than emphasizing mastery of isolated skills. Teachers communicate progress related to specific skills during parent-teacher-student conferences, as well as through ongoing verbal and written feedback during class lessons and on student work.

Elementary grades (TK-4) progress reports at Larchmont include developmental descriptors that describe where students are in their mastery of the State Standards, including the CCSS. These descriptors are Emerging, Growing, Proficient, and Outstanding (E, G, P, and O). These descriptors carry the following meaning:

> Emerging – We have seen signs that the student is beginning to grasp this concept. It is inconsistent and needs more time and opportunity to solidify.
> Growing – Greater consistency is showing or the student is demonstrating greater comfort in exploring, expressing, or applying the concept.

Proficient – The student demonstrates solid understanding of the concept at the level consistent with expectations for the particular grade level.

Outstanding – The student demonstrates complete comfort with the concept and has taken it significantly beyond expectations for the particular grade level; this manifests itself in higher level creative application of the concept to new experiences and opportunities.

When students transition to the middle and high school grades (5-12), students are graded on a traditional A-F grading scale based on their mastery of the standards demonstrated through coursework, homework, class participation, and tests. At the high school level, students also receive an updated Individualized Graduation Plan (IGP) indicating A-G course credit progress towards graduation. The IGP, developed in collaboration with the student, family, and high school counselor, outlines the student's goals and plans for college and career.

Retention and Promotion

Larchmont Charter School has a standards-based promotion policy in accordance with Education Code Section 48070.5 (d)(1). Larchmont Charter School expects students to demonstrate achievement of grade level standards in order to progress through each grade within one school year. To accomplish this, instruction accommodates the varying interests and growth patterns of individual students and includes strategies for addressing academic deficiencies when needed.

In grades 9-12, promotion is based on successful completion of academic courses and the accrual of units awarded per each passed course. Students must pass required core courses (with a C or better) in order to accrue units towards attaining the next grade level and graduation. Students who have not passed required courses do not promote to the next grade level until units are completed. Students who need to repeat courses are able to do so as the 8- class schedule allows for more classes per year. In addition, struggling students receive continuous academic counseling and have access to ongoing faculty support during conference time.

Criteria for Promotion

- English proficient students must meet minimum grade level standards in English Language Arts and mathematics (based on a combination of state test scores if available, grades and other proficiency measures such as Fountas & Pinnell and Scholastic Reading Inventory scores and Everyday Math and CPM scores)
- English Learners not meeting minimum grade level standards can show adequate progress by advancing one ELD level per year (based on ELPAC)
- Decisions about retention of Special Education students will be made working with the IEP team looking at the individual student's IEP and their performance level

When making retention decisions, Larchmont Charter School shall consider the student's grades, overall classroom progress and performance, and other indicators of academic achievement such as national, state, and Larchmont Charter School placement assessments, and portfolios of student work. Additional factors to be considered include academic, physical, social, and emotional readiness for the next grade.

Interventions to Support Promotion

When a student is recommended for retention or is identified as being at risk for retention, the Executive Director or designee shall ensure the student is offered a variety of interventions for assistance. Such opportunities may include but are not limited to tutorial programs, after-school programs, summer school programs, and in-school intervention programs.

Steps Towards Retention

If a student is not making adequate progress and becomes a candidate for retention, the school will notify the parent in writing and will also contact the child's parent by phone. The child's teacher will consult with the School Leader and parent in each case concerning possible retention. An interpreter will be provided for parents whose native language is not English. In all cases, parents will be encouraged to remain involved throughout the process. After intensive interventions have been implemented and the results documented, a collaborative decision to retain may be made.

1. Educational Plan

Teachers with support of the School Leader will develop for each student an education plan, including highlighted, time-tracked areas of need in reading, writing and mathematics. This continuum will be used to identify appropriate learning goals for the student. The continuums will continue to be used and updated to monitor student progress during the retention year and thereafter.

2. Documentation of Interventions

Formal student interventions, conferences and any recommendations for retention will be documented and retained. All interventions will have occurred prior to the recommendation and will be verified by the School Leader. This folder will also maintain records of school parent communications, including a signed notification to the parent that their student is at risk for retention (see step 3). Finally, the folder shall include assessment data as appropriate to grade level, report card scores and comments, samples of representative work as compared with proficient work at the same grade level, and/or other important information.

3. Parent Notification Process

Parents shall be notified through teacher conferences and progress reports by the midpoint in the grading period when their child is at risk of not meeting grade-level standards for promotion. All written notification must be signed by the parent and returned to the school.

4. Retention Decision Making Process

A final decision regarding a recommended or required retention will be made by the School Leader at a retention meeting before the end of the school year. Parents are invited and encouraged to attend. Parents are given documentation outlining the Charter School's final decision regarding retention no later than 15 days prior to the last day of instruction. Parents must sign and return the form indicating their agreement or disagreement with the recommendation to retain (in the case of a recommended retention) or their agreement or intent to appeal (in the case of a required retention).

5. Parent/Guardian Appeals Process

The School Leader's decision to promote or retain a student may be appealed consistent with the following provisions. The burden shall be on the appealing party to show why the School Leader's decision should be overruled. The School Leader's determination may be appealed by submitting a written appeal indicating disagreement and the reasons for objecting to the retention to the Executive Director, within 15 days of notification of the retention decision. Within 10 days of receipt of a written appeal, the parents or guardians may meet with Executive Director to appeal the retention decision. The Executive Director's determination may be appealed by submitting a written appeal indicating disagreement and the reasons for objecting to the retention to the Larchmont Charter School Board of Directors, within 10 school days of meeting with Executive Director. Within 30 days of receipt of a written appeal, the parents or guardians may appear before the LCS Board of Directors to appeal the retention decision. The LCS Board of Directors shall meet in closed session to decide the appeal. The decision of the LCS Board of Directors shall be final. If the decision of the LCS Board of Directors is unfavorable to the appealing party, he/she shall have the right to submit a written statement of objections, which shall become part of the student's record.

(Ratio represents the percentage of Predominantly Hispanic Black Asian Other (PHBAO) compared to Other White (OW)). 1. Plan for Achieving and Maintaining LAUSD's Racial and Ethnic Balance Goal

As part of its mission, Larchmont Charter School aims to provide a rigorous academic program to a racially, ethnically, and socio-economically diverse group of students. Larchmont Charter School has taken the following steps to strive to maintain a racial and ethnic balance of its students that reside within the LAUSD jurisdiction and to increase opportunities for students who are representative of the Charter School's community.

To ensure we recruit a diverse population, we begin by identifying the potential preschool programs, including local Head Start programs (for TK/Kindergarten), elementary schools (for middle school), middle schools (for high school) and community organizations that may help us source students of diverse backgrounds. We then conduct an asset analysis of our current community (teachers, leaders, and parents) to see who could help us most effectively target various schools and community groups. We reach out to schools and organizations to disseminate information and meet with parents and students. In the two months leading up to the lottery, we step up our recruiting and problem solve around any recruitment challenges we have.

Our outreach efforts are done primarily in English, Korean and Spanish. We work to accommodate language needs as quickly as possible through parent volunteers and community support.

2. How This Plan Will Achieve and Maintain the LAUSD Racial and Ethnic Balance Goal

The many strategies we use to achieve the racial/ethnic balance we seek are:

1. Conduct informational sessions/tours prior to the opening of each school year to inform interested parents and students of school offerings. Outreach meetings are held in multiple locations in the target area to ensure that all students in the area have an opportunity to attend the school
2. Partner with our Korean Families Association and our Latino Families Association to ensure broad outreach in the community.
3. Conduct open houses and school tours on a regular basis during the school year
4. Develop and distribute promotional and informational material, such as school brochures and flyers that are translated into Spanish and Korean.
5. Partner with various pre-schools, elementary, middle and high schools, to provide them with information specific to their grade level(s).
6. Use of online tools to publicize the availability of the current year's Lottery Form. Current LCS families will make this announcement to various youth sports groups, various enrichment classes outside of LCS (dance classes, self-defense classes, etc.).
7. We use our parents as tour guides to provide bilingual tours.
8. We advertise in local Spanish language informal and formal media
9. We provide neighboring elementary schools and middle schools with brochures/flyers and let them know that we have grades 6 and above.
10. We have information available through brochures, flyers and the school's website

In addition to reaching out to local Head Start Programs (Gregory Park, La Mirada, Fountain, Yucca Street, Melrose, Wilton Place, Plummer Park and Hollywood), our parent associations are leading outreach to local churches and community organizations and our Spanish and Korean-speaking parents, teachers and Instructional Aides distribute flyers in the targeted community. While these efforts happen throughout the year, we intensify these efforts in the six (6) weeks prior to the lottery.

In order to provide school information to a more diverse population, Larchmont Charter School targets families in areas that are located within a two mile radius of its campuses including the neighborhoods of Hollywood, East Hollywood, West Hollywood, Hancock Park, and the Hollywood Hills.

We are also are also working with various service agencies, such as Preschools, Child Care Resource and Referral Agencies, Medical and Social Service Clinics, Career Counseling and Job Skills Centers to ensure that we are reaching diverse groups of parents and that they are aware of the opportunities at Larchmont.

Outreach activities have also been focused on local libraries, KYCC, National Council of Jewish Women, West Hollywood City Hall, various churches, temples and places of worship, all with the aim of creating a lottery pool that represents the diversity of the community we serve.

Individuals at each campus have been identified to ensure that Larchmont has year-round outreach efforts and the organizations that serve the families we want to connect with and that we want to see as part of the Larchmont community. This includes families from across the ethnic and socio-economic spectrum.

Larchmont Charter School maintains an accurate accounting of the ethnic and racial balance of students enrolled in the Charter School along with documentation of the efforts used to recruit a diverse school community.

LCS aims to serve a population of students that is at least 50% non-white, that is 40% Free/Reduced Price Meal-eligible, that has significant populations of Latino, Asian and African American students, that has no one subgroup representing more than 60% of the overall population and that is inclusive of students with special needs.

Larchmont will achieve this diversity through its outreach efforts. By working with area schools, community groups, preschool operators (including the area Head Start/First Five programs), religious groups, afterschool providers and neighborhood group, we will provide information about the Larchmont program and provide materials to prospective parents. As we continue to build a multi-faceted school community, we will create and distribute outreach materials in various languages, including Spanish and Korean, utilize native speakers to conduct parent meetings and support outreach activities, distribute multilingual information through our website and other electronic distribution tools and provide multiple language translation services at school outreach events.

Larchmont will continue to use its outreach efforts to recruit a diverse student body and will work with current and new neighborhood partners to ensure that information about LCS is accessible to all members of the community. This will include presentations to community groups, Head Start programs as well as local religious organizations, afterschool programs and preschools serving diverse communities of children.

Lottery Preferences and Procedures

3. Preferences and Rationale

Larchmont Charter School seeks to serve a diverse student body and in the event of a lottery, preference in admissions will be offered to students in the following order and in accordance with the Notes and Procedures below:

- Students who live within the jurisdictional boundaries of the Los Angeles Unified School District
- Students of Founding Parents in accordance with LAUSD approved Founding Parent Policy (adopted February 7, 2012)

- Siblings of students admitted to or already attending the Charter School
- Children of Larchmont Charter School employees and LCS Board of Directors members (this preference will be capped at 10% of current openings at any grade level)
- All other applicants

Notes:

- For the children of employee/Board member preference, if the current openings available in any grade are less than 10, this preference will not be provided for that grade. "Current opening" is defined as a seat in a grade for which there is no currently enrolled student at the time of the lottery. For example, if 6th grade has 50 more seats than 5th grade as the school grows from 119 to 169 seats, therefore five (5) seats (10% of 50) would be available for this preference as there are no currently enrolled students for those 50 new seats.

- In addition, students who meet one or both of the following criteria will have a weighted preference (as described in the Lottery Procedures below) in the lottery – these preferences are applied to all lottery participants. A student who meets the criteria for both weighted preferences will be given the benefit of both preferences. A weighted preference means that a participant in the lottery will have a greater chance of being selected after the weighting has been applied than would another participant in the lottery who does not have the benefit of the weighted preference. The weighted preference criteria are:

    - FRL Eligible Preference: Students indicating they qualify for free or reduced price lunch ("FRL-eligible") on their lottery form in accordance with the current income requirements as provided by the California Department of Education; verification of eligibility will be required prior to enrollment.
    - Attendance Area Preference: Students who are currently enrolled in, or reside in, one of the elementary school attendance areas where one of the charter school sites is located, pursuant to Education Code Section 47614.5. For the purpose of this weighted preference, the elementary schools are Laurel Avenue ES, Vine Street ES and Charles White ES.

The weighting is applied by increasing the number of times the name of the student is included in the lottery pool. For example, if the FRL-eligible weighting is 2:1, every student who indicates that he or she is eligible for this preference will be included twice in the lottery, rather than once.

4. Lottery Procedures

The primary means to access the Larchmont Charter School lottery form is through the LCS website – www.larchmontcharter.org. If a family does not have access to the Internet, LCS main office staff will provide the family with a paper lottery form and/or allow individual families to use the Charter School's computers, printers, and Internet access to complete their lottery form. The lottery process is explained in detail on the same webpage as the lottery application, and the process is also verbally explained to any families who walk in their paper application. English, Spanish and Korean versions of the lottery form are available.

Lottery procedures include the following:

1. The lottery forms for LCS will be available online and at the school sites no later than the first school day of November each school year. At the time the lottery form is made available, the closing date and the lottery date, time and location will be indicated. In no case will the closing date of the lottery be prior to third Wednesday in February of the following year, unless approved by the Larchmont

Charter School Board of Directors prior to the commencement of the open enrollment period. The closing date of the open application period and all relevant information about the lottery will be provided on the lottery form and school website.

2. A public lottery is conducted for all grades that have more lottery forms than capacity for the next school year. Should the number of students who seek admission exceed the number of spaces available, a random lottery will be held. The lottery will be monitored by the Executive Director or Designee and/or one or more Larchmont Charter School Board of Directors members to ensure fair and accurate implementation of the lottery procedures.

3. Every lottery entrant will be assigned to one of the following groups by grade based on the information provided on the lottery form:

- Group A: Child of Founding Parents (in accordance with the LAUSD Founding Parent Policy)
- Group B: Sibling of student admitted to or attending the Charter School (LAUSD resident)
- Group C: Sibling of student admitted to or attending the Charter School (non-LAUSD resident)
- Group D: Child of Larchmont Charter School employee or Board member (LAUSD resident)
- Group E: Child of Larchmont Charter School employee or Board member (non-LAUSD resident)
- Group F: Students who reside in the District
- Group G: All other applicants

Notes: As detailed above, Groups D and E will only be formed if there are at least 10 current openings in the grade for which the student(s) applied. Per LAUSD 2012 policy, Group A is capped at 10% of enrollment for those involved in founding the schools prior to first opening, founding status is non-transferable.

The Charter School and the District agree to adhere to the requirements related to admission preferences as set forth in Education Code Section 47605(d)(2)(B)(i)-(iv).

4. The Larchmont Charter School Board of Directors, meeting in open session, will annually approve the weighting to be applied to ensure that the FRL population is adequately represented in the lottery – typically this will result in FRL-eligible families having a 2:1 weighting in the lottery to meet school-wide targets of 40% FRL-eligible students. The LCS Board of Directors may alter the weighting order to ensure adequate representation of FRL-eligible families in the lottery. Again, this means that each family that indicates they are FRL-eligible will have two chances in the lottery rather than one. The LCS Board of Directors will determine the final weighting based on the final lottery pool at a LCS Board of Directors meeting prior the lottery and the calculation is based on the percentage of FRL-eligible lottery forms that have been submitted. The inclusion of this weighting helps LCS fulfill its mission to serve a diverse socio-economic population and is used in conjunction with outreach efforts to ensure that families that are FRL-eligible have an increased chance to attend LCS through the lottery.

5. The weighting for the Attendance Area preference will be a 2:1. Again, this means that each family that indicates that it meets these criteria will have two chances in the lottery rather than one. The inclusion of this weighting allows LCS to apply for reimbursement for its facility-related expenses through the State's Charter School Facility Grant program. This program requires that a preference be given to students who are currently enrolled in, or reside in, one of the elementary school attendance areas where one of the Charter School's sites is located and provides LCS with funding to offset the cost of non-LAUSD facilities used for the school.

The weighting is applied for the two groups above in order to increase the number of times the name of the student is included in the lottery pool so that the odds of a student that meets one or both of these criteria being offered a seat or having a higher place on the waiting list are better than those of a student who does not meet the criteria. For example, if the FRL-eligible weighting is 2:1, every student who indicates that he or she is eligible for this preference will be included twice in the lottery, rather than once and will therefore have a greater chance of being admitted than those in the lottery who are only included once.

6. Prior to the lottery, the approved weightings will be applied to all applicants that meet one or both eligibilities.

7. Students in each of the seven groups listed in this bullet are sorted alphabetically by group for each grade and then assigned randomly generated numbers. Each group is then sorted in ascending order by the random number to determine the order by which seats will be filled. The groups are sorted in the following order for each grade:

    1. Group A
    2. Group B
    3. Group C
    4. Group D
    5. Group E
    6. Group F
    7. Group G

8. The sorted lists are then used to fill all available seats, as well as to establish the order of the waiting list for any grade for which there were more entrants than available seats. Admission for each grade is offered in order by Group until capacity is reached. Once capacity is reached, names are added to the waitlist based on the randomly generated number assigned to each entrant by Group.

    Larchmont Charter School offers instruction in the same grades at multiple campuses. For this reason, prospective families applying to the Charter School are asked to list their preferred elementary campus. It is noted on the lottery form that campus preference is not a guarantee as it is based on availability since we are one school. After the lottery, in the order established by the lottery, Larchmont enrolls students in the noted preferred campus until all spots at that campus are filled. After this time, families are offered spots in the order established by the lottery at whichever campus has space.

    All families that participate in the lottery will be informed by email or US Mail (if an email address is not available) that they are either being:

    - Offered admission, or
    - Placed on the waiting list for the upcoming school year.

    This communication will include the student's number on the waiting list, if they are not being offered admission, and will go out within five (5) business days of the lottery. All families of students who are not offered admission for the upcoming school year will remain on the waiting list until it is cleared at the end of the academic year for which it was drawn unless there is a written request by the parent to remove their child from the waiting list prior to that time. Parents shall be directed by LCS office staff to send such written notice to remove their child from the waiting list to:

Larchmont Charter School
Attn: Lottery
444 N. Larchmont Blvd, #207
Los Angeles, CA 90004
or Via Email to admissions@larchmontcharter.org

Instructions about removing a child from the waiting list will be included in the waitlist letter that is sent to all families that are not offered admission.

9. Families that are offered admission are given five (5) calendar days after the receipt of the acceptance letters to respond to the Charter School's Office Manager by phone or email in order to secure enrollment. Receipt is defined as the date sent if sent by email and three days after date sent if sent by US Mail. The LCS Office Manager will maintain records of when letters are mailed and date that emails are sent. The LCS Office Manager will follow up with all families that have not responded within the five (5) days after receipt window by phone and email to ensure that they received their letter, to answer any questions and to ascertain their intent to enroll.

   If a family indicates that they are not accepting admission, Charter School staff (Office Managers and/or Director of Compliance & Operations) will document the information and send a confirming email (requesting confirmation of the parent/guardian's decision to decline the offered seat) or letter (requesting a confirmation of the parent's decision to decline the offered seat and a postage-paid return envelope) if no email is available, in order to confirm the conversation. Upon receipt of the confirmation, the first family on the waiting list will then be offered the seat.

10. Families that accept admission are provided with an enrollment packet containing documents, instructions and information necessary to process the incoming student(s). Parents will be given approximately two (2) weeks to complete the enrollment packet for the Charter School. In the event that the enrollment information is not submitted to the Charter School by the requested date, Charter School staff will contact the family to provide assistance and to ascertain if the family intends to enroll their child at LCS. If the family indicates that they do not intend to enroll their child, their seat will be reassigned to the first family on the applicable waiting list and documented in the same manner noted above. If the family intends to enroll their child at LCS, they will be granted an extension, with the duration of the extension set by the School Leaders based on the circumstances provided by the family, and the Office Manager will provide any necessary assistance to complete the enrollment. The extension will be documented via email or US Mail (if no email is available) and the Office Manager will maintain records of all communication.

    Lottery forms are kept for the duration of the school year. These are kept as backup to the electronic waiting list. The electronic waiting list is kept and managed by Charter School staff for the duration of the school year. The wait list is cleared at the end of the academic year for which the lottery was drawn. Therefore, the wait list does not carry over from one year to the next.

Element 9: Annual Financial Audits

Annual Audit Procedures

1. Position Responsible for Contracting with Accountant

Each fiscal year an independent auditor certified by the State of California will conduct an audit of the financial affairs of Larchmont Schools to verify the accuracy of the Charter School's financial statements, attendance and enrollment accounting practices, and internal controls. Larchmont Charter School's Board of Directors will select a State-approved Charter School Auditor based upon their relevant experience with school finance and charter school finance, auditing team experience, proposed fees, and other relevant criteria. Persons involved in selecting and overseeing the auditor's work will not have a direct, personal financial stake in matters audited.

2. Position Responsible for Working with the Auditor

The State-approved Charter School Auditor will report directly to the Larchmont Charter School Board of Directors. Pursuant to Education Code Section 47604.33, Larchmont Charter School will provide any necessary financial statements to LAUSD and the Los Angeles County Office of Education (LACOE), and the respective state agencies. To the extent required under applicable federal law, the audit scope will be expanded to include items and processes specified in applicable Office of Management and Budget Circulars.

3. Procedures to Ensure the Selected Auditor is on State Controller's List

Larchmont Schools will retain auditors to conduct independent financial audits that will employ generally accepted auditing principles and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Controller General of the United States.

4. Process to Address and Resolve Deficiencies

The LCS Board of Directors will review any audit exceptions or deficiencies and report recommendations on resolution to the LCS Board of Directors. The LCS Board of Directors will report to the District regarding how exceptions and deficiencies have been or will be resolved. It is understood that exceptions and deficiencies will be resolved to the satisfaction of LAUSD.

5. Position Responsible for Ensuring the Auditor Sends the Audit by Deadline

The Executive Director shall ensure that all deadlines related to the LCS Board of Directors' review of the audit and the submission of the Audit to all relevant agencies are met. The Executive Director will work with The State-approved Charter School Auditor to advise and update the LCS Board of Directors.

The independent financial audit of the Charter School is a public record to be provided to the public upon request.

Element 10: Suspension and Expulsion Procedures

"The procedures by which pupils can be suspended or expelled." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(J).)

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Charter School shall provide due process for all students, including adequate and timely notice to parents/guardians and students of the grounds for all suspension and expulsion recommendations and decisions and their due process rights regarding suspension and expulsion, including rights of appeal.

Charter School shall ensure that its policies and procedures regarding suspension and expulsion will be periodically reviewed, and modified as necessary, in order to conform to changes in state law.

Charter School shall ensure that its staff is knowledgeable about and complies with the District's Discipline Foundation Policy and/or current equivalent policy, as required by the Modified Consent Decree. Charter School shall comply with the terms of the School Discipline Policy and School Climate Bill of Rights resolution adopted by the LAUSD Board of Education on May 6, 2013.

Charter School shall be responsible for the appropriate interim placement of students during and pending the completion of Charter School's student expulsion process and shall facilitate the post-expulsion placement of expelled students.

Charter School shall document and implement the alternatives to suspension and expulsion that Charter School utilizes in response to attendance-related concerns, e.g. truancy or excessive tardiness.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Charter School shall establish and implement policies and procedures to ensure full compliance with federal and state laws and regulations regarding the discipline of students with disabilities. If a student is recommended for expulsion and the student receives or is eligible for special education, pending the completion of the expulsion process, Charter School shall identify and provide special education programs and services at an appropriate interim educational placement determined in coordination with the LAUSD Division of Special Education.

In the case of a student who has an Individualized Education Program ("IEP"), or a student who has a Section 504 Plan, Charter School shall ensure that it follows correct disciplinary procedures to comply with the mandates of state and federal laws, including IDEA and section 504 of the Rehabilitation Plan of 1973. As set forth in the MOU regarding special education between the District and Charter School, an IEP team will meet to conduct a manifestation determination and to discuss alternative placement utilizing the District's Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual. Prior to recommending expulsion for a student with a Section 504 Plan, Charter School's administrator will convene a Link Determination meeting to ask the following two questions:

A. Was the misconduct caused by, or directly and substantially related to the student's disability?
B. Was the misconduct a direct result of the Charter School's failure to implement Section 504?

NOTIFICATION OF THE DISTRICT

Upon expelling any student, Charter School shall notify the Charter Schools Division by submitting an expulsion packet to the CSD immediately or as soon as practicable, which shall contain:

- Completed "Notification of Charter School Expulsion" [form available from the CSD website or office], including attachments as required on the form
- Documentation of the expulsion proceeding, including statement of specific facts supporting the expulsion and documentation that Charter School's policies and procedures were followed
- Copy of parental notice of expulsion hearing
- Copy of expulsion notice provided to parent stating reason for expulsion, term of expulsion, rehabilitation plan, reinstatement notice with eligibility date and instructions for providing proof of student's compliance for reinstatement, appeal process, and options for enrollment
- If the student is eligible for Special Education, documentation related to expulsion in compliance with IDEA and the MCD, including the Expulsion Analysis page of the pre-expulsion IEP
- If the student is eligible for Section 504 accommodations, documentation that Charter School conducted a Link Determination meeting to address two questions:
  A. Was the misconduct caused by, or directly and substantially related to the student's disability?
  B. Was the misconduct a direct result of Charter School's failure to implement Section 504 Plan?

Notwithstanding and apart from the documentation sent to the Charter Schools Division as indicated above, if the student is a resident of a school district other than LAUSD, Charter School must notify the superintendent of the student's district of residence within 30 days of the expulsion. Additionally, upon request of the receiving school district, Charter School shall forward student records no later than 10 school days from the date of the request as stated in Education Code section 49068 (a) and (b).

OUTCOME DATA

Charter School shall gather and maintain all data related to placement, tracking, and monitoring of student suspensions, expulsions, and reinstatements, and make such outcome data readily available to the District upon request.

REHABILITATION PLANS

Pupils who are expelled from Charter School shall be given a rehabilitation plan upon expulsion as developed by Charter School's governing board at the time of the expulsion order, which may include, but is not limited to, periodic review as well as assessment at the time of review for readmission. Terms of expulsion should be reasonable and fair with the weight of the expelling offense taken into consideration when determining the length of expulsion. Therefore, the rehabilitation plan should include a date not later than one (1) year from the date of expulsion when the pupil may apply to Charter School for readmission. Charter School shall inform parents in writing of its processes for reinstatement and applying for expungement of the expulsion record.

READMISSION

Charter School's governing board shall adopt rules establishing a procedure for the filing and processing of requests for readmission and the process for the required review of all expelled pupils for readmission. Upon completion of the readmission process, Charter School's governing board shall readmit the pupil, unless Charter

School's governing board makes a finding that the pupil has not met the conditions of the rehabilitation plan or continues to pose a danger to campus safety. A description of the procedure shall be made available to the pupil and the pupil's parent or guardian at the time the expulsion order is entered and the decision of the governing board, including any related findings, must be provided to the pupil and the pupil's parent/guardian within a reasonable time.

REINSTATEMENT

Charter School's governing board shall adopt rules establishing a procedure for processing reinstatements, including the review of documents regarding the rehabilitation plan. Charter School is responsible for reinstating the student upon the conclusion of the expulsion period in a timely manner.

GUN-FREE SCHOOLS ACT

Charter School shall comply with the federal Gun-Free Schools Act.

School Climate and Student Discipline System

Larchmont Charter School strives to provide a socio-economically, culturally and racially diverse community of students with an exceptional public education. Our students learn with and from each other in an experience centered, inquiry-based learning environment. With participation from our entire community, we strive to instill in each student dedication to improving the world we inhabit.

Larchmont plans for, evaluates, and monitors the behavioral, social emotional and academic needs of every student by providing universal screenings for all students at the beginning of their time at Larchmont and throughout the tenure of their academic careers. Larchmont Charter School uses a Multi-tiered System of Support. By providing increasing levels of targeted support for those who are struggling in any capacity; extension opportunities for more advanced learners; and strong first instruction for all learners, we can ensure that we are meeting the needs of ALL students at Larchmont Charter School.

Larchmont uses progressive discipline to address behavioral needs and social-emotional needs:

- Whole Child Check-in - utilize quantitative, qualitative data to ensure that all students are known, seen, and heard. Teachers document and discuss data with school site leaders and grade level teams 2x/year
- Pack Time/Morning check-in – Incorporated in weekly/daily
- Inquiry-based/experiential character building education (Cool Tools/Safe Schools, conflict resolution, digital citizenship, etc.)
- ESLRs/SLOs
- Mindfulness and self-regulation practices
- Student-Parent-Teacher Conferences - 2x/year; Student-led
- Assemblies/Morning Sing - Celebrates diversity/other cultures

Students learn best in an environment where there are clear expectations about behavioral and community norms that allow them to feel safe and cared for. Larchmont does not consider suspension and/or expulsion to be effective means of improving student behavior and compliance with Charter School rules and policies. While either or both may become necessary in extraordinary circumstances, Larchmont uses a variety of other strategies to intervene. Students who do not adhere to stated expectations for behavior and who violate the Charter School's rules will experience non-suspension and non-expulsion consequences for their behavior. Consequences may include, but are not limited to:

- Warning, verbal and/or written
- Individual conference with the teacher
- Loss of privileges (e.g. attendance at school functions- dances, games, etc.)
- Individual behavior contract
- Referral to the School Leader or other school staff member
- Notices to parents by telephone or letter
- Parent conference, at school or during a home visit

All LCS faculty and staff shall enforce disciplinary rules and procedures fairly and consistently among all students. Larchmont Charter School faculty and staff are trained in strategies focused on developing relationships with students, identifying and avoiding, when possible, triggers for undesirable behavior, and stabilize students who have been triggered safely.

This policy and its procedures will clearly describe discipline expectations, and it will be printed and distributed as part of the Parent/Student Handbook, which is sent to each student at the beginning of the school year. Each family receives a copy of these policies and is required to verify that they have reviewed them with their children at the time of enrollment or at the beginning of the school year. Policies and procedures regarding suspension and expulsion will be periodically reviewed.

Policies regarding suspension or expulsion will conform to applicable state and federal laws regarding all students. Students will be accorded due process in all disciplinary procedures, outlined below. Disciplinary policies and procedures will also address student conduct that presents an immediate threat to the health or safety of others.

No student shall be involuntarily removed by the Charter School for any reason unless the parent or guardian of the student has been provided written notice of intent to remove the student no less than five schooldays before the effective date of the action. The written notice shall be in the native language of the student or the student's parent or guardian or, if the student is a foster child or youth or a homeless child or youth, the student's educational rights holder, and shall inform the student, the student's parent or guardian, or the student's educational rights holder of the basis for which the pupil is being involuntarily removed and his or her right to request a hearing to challenge the involuntary removal. If a parent, guardian, or educational rights holder requests a hearing, the Charter School shall utilize the same hearing procedures specified below for expulsions, before the effective date of the action to involuntarily remove the student. If the student's parent, guardian, or educational rights holder requests a hearing, the student shall remain enrolled and shall not be removed until the Charter School issues a final decision. As used herein, "involuntarily removed" includes disenrolled, dismissed, transferred, or terminated, but does not include removals for misconduct which may be grounds for suspension or expulsion as enumerated below.

In-School Suspension

Larchmont Charter School offers in-school suspension as a means of reducing time missed from learning for behavioral issues. Based on the offense committed, the Executive Director shall take into consideration the safety and health of all students and staff at the Charter School before determining whether or not in-school suspension is in the best interest of both the student who committed the offense, along with the other Larchmont students and staff. If the Executive Director determines that in-school suspension is a viable option, the Executive Director or certificated designee will notify the student and his/her parents in writing of the in-school suspension, which will include a description of the offense committed and the length of the in-school suspension. Suspensions, when not including a recommendation for expulsion, shall not exceed five (5) consecutive school days per suspension. Students will not be suspended for more than 20 days for the year.

During in-school suspension, students shall be supervised by a designated instructional staff member. During the course of the in-school suspension, students shall receive assignments through their regular classroom teachers, to be supervised by a designated instructional staff member. Students who receive supports will continue to receive supports during the course of the in-school suspension.

Grounds for Suspension and Expulsion

A student may be suspended or expelled for prohibited misconduct if the act is related to Charter School activity or school attendance occurring at anytime including but not limited to: a) while on Charter School grounds; b) while going to or coming from Charter School; c) during the lunch period, whether on or off the Charter School campus; d) during, going to, or coming from a Charter School-sponsored activity.

Suspension Procedures

A. Informal Conference

Suspension shall be preceded, if possible, by an informal conference conducted by the School Leader or his/her certificated designee, with the student and his/her parent/guardian, and, whenever practical, the teacher, supervisor or Charter School employee who referred the student to the School Leader or his/her certificated designee.

The conference may be omitted if the School Leader or designated certificated staff determines that an emergency situation exists. An "emergency situation" involves a clear and present danger to the lives, safety or health of students or school personnel. If the student is suspended without conference, both the parent/guardian and student shall be notified of the student's right to return to school for the purpose of a conference.

At the conference, the pupil shall be informed of the reason for the disciplinary action and the evidence against him or her and shall be given the opportunity to present his or her version and evidence in his or her defense, in accordance with Education Code Section 47605(b)(5)(J)(i). This conference shall be held within two (2) school days of when the student was suspended, unless the pupil waives this right or is physically unable to attend for any reason including, but not limited to, incarceration or hospitalization. No penalties may be imposed on a pupil for failure of the pupil's parent or guardian to attend a conference with Charter School officials. Reinstatement of the suspended pupil shall not be contingent upon attendance by the pupil's parent or guardian at the conference.

The Charter School assures that the process for investigating incidents and collecting evidence will be fair and thorough.

B. Notice to Parents/Guardians

At the time of suspension, a Charter School employee shall make a reasonable effort to contact the parent/guardian by telephone or in person to be followed up with a written notification. This notice will state the specific offense committed by the student. In addition, the notice will also state the date and time the student may return to school. Reference to expulsion for continued violations of school rules may also be included. If Charter School officials wish to ask the parent/guardian to confer regarding matters pertinent to the suspension, the notice may request that the parent/guardian respond to such requests without delay.

C. Suspension Time Limits/Recommendation for Expulsion

Suspensions, when not including a recommendation for expulsion, shall not exceed five (5) consecutive school days per suspension. Students will not be suspended for more than a total of twenty (20) days for the year for general education students and ten (10) days for special education students. A student may have more than a 5 consecutive day suspension if expulsion process has been initiated.

Upon a recommendation of expulsion by the Executive Director or Executive Director's certificated designee, the pupil and the pupil's parent/guardian or representative will be invited to a conference to determine if the suspension for the pupil should be extended pending an expulsion hearing. In such instances when the Charter School has determined a suspension period shall be extended, such extension shall be made only after a conference is held with the pupil or the pupil's parents, unless the pupil and the pupil's parents fail to attend the conference.

This determination will be made by the Executive Director or certificated designee upon either of the following: 1) the pupil's presence will be disruptive to the education process; or 2) the pupil poses a threat or danger to others. Upon either determination, the pupil's suspension will be extended pending the results of an expulsion hearing. The student will have the opportunity, at the discretion of the Executive Director and/or the classroom teacher, to complete instructional activities missed due to his or her suspension and will be able to communicate with School Leader or designated certificated staff for any questions and for evaluation of work.

D. Right to Appeal Suspension

Appeals of suspensions must be made in writing and submitted to the Executive Director within 24 hours of the disciplinary action or suspension. The Executive Director may convene a meeting between the parent and School Leader before coming to a decision regarding the appeal. The meeting must be scheduled within 10 days of the request. The Executive Director will provide a written response no more than 20 days from the written request. All decisions made by the Executive Director are final.

If a parent or guardian disagrees with the suspension, or the Executive Director's decision, the parent or guardian may include a written statement of his or her objections to the suspension. Any such statement shall be submitted to the School Leader within thirty (30) days of the last day of the pupil's suspension. The statement shall become part of the pupil's school record unless the suspension is changed or removed as a result of the objection.

E. Access to Education

Interim education will be provided for suspended students in the form of independent work put together by a credentialed staff member.

Expulsion Procedures

A. Authority to Expel

As required by Education Code Section 47605(b)(5)(J)(ii), students recommended for expulsion are entitled to a hearing adjudicated by a neutral officer to determine whether the student should be expelled. The procedures herein provide for such a hearing and the notice of said hearing, as required by law.

A student may be expelled by the neutral and impartial Administrative Panel following a hearing before it, and preceded by recommendation from the Executive Director. The Administrative Panel shall consist of at least three members who are certificated employees and neither a teacher of the pupil or an LCS Board of Directors member. One of the Administrative Panel members shall act as the neutral hearing chairperson who will preside over the hearing. The Charter School's Board of Directors will identify qualified individuals who may serve on an Administrative Panel. The Administrative Panel may expel any student found to have committed an expellable offense.

A student and his or her parents/guardians may appeal an expulsion decision by the Administrative Panel to the LCS Board of Directors, which will make the final determination.

B. Expulsion Procedures

Charter School shall provide a hearing before an Administrative Panel for any student recommended for expulsion to determine whether the student should be expelled. Unless postponed for good cause, the hearing shall be held within thirty (30) school days after the Executive Director or designee determines that the pupil has committed an expellable offense and recommends the student for expulsion. Pending the expulsion hearing, the Charter School will ensure that the student and his or her family receive classroom materials and current assignments to be completed at home during the term of the suspension. The teacher will grade all work and feedback will be provided in a timely manner.

The Administrative Panel will hold a hearing on the case, and will make a determination whether to expel. The hearing shall be held in closed session (complying with all pupil confidentiality rules under FERPA) unless the student makes a written request for a public hearing in open session three (3) days prior to the date of the scheduled hearing.

Written notice of the hearing shall be forwarded to the student and the student's parent/guardian at least ten (10) calendar days before the date of the hearing. Upon mailing the notice, it shall be deemed served upon the pupil. The notice shall include:

- The date and place of the expulsion hearing;
- Information about obtaining reasonable accommodations and/or language support
- A statement of the specific facts, charges and offenses upon which the proposed expulsion is based;
- A copy of the Charter School's disciplinary rules which relate to the alleged violation;
- Notification of the student's or parent/guardian's obligation to provide information about the student's status at the Charter School to any other school district or school to which the student seeks enrollment;
- The opportunity for the student and/or the student's parent/guardian to appear in person or to employ and be represented by counsel or a non-attorney advisor;
- The right to inspect and obtain copies of all documents to be used at the hearing;
- The opportunity to confront and question all witnesses who testify at the hearing;
- The opportunity to question all evidence presented and to present oral and documentary evidence on the student's behalf including witnesses.

C. Record of Hearing

A record of the hearing shall be made and may be maintained by any means, including electronic recording, as long as a reasonably accurate and complete written transcription of the proceedings can be made.

D. Presentation of Evidence

While technical rules of evidence do not apply to expulsion hearings, evidence may be admitted and used as proof only if it is the kind of evidence on which reasonable persons can rely in the conduct of serious affairs. A determination by the Administrative Panel to expel must be supported by substantial evidence admitted during the hearing that the student committed an expellable offense. Findings of fact shall be based solely on the evidence at the hearing. While hearsay evidence is admissible, no decision to expel shall be based solely on hearsay. Sworn declarations may be admitted as testimony from witnesses of whom the Administrative Panel determines that disclosure of their identity or testimony at the hearing may subject them to an unreasonable risk of physical or psychological harm.

If, due to a written request by the expelled pupil, the hearing is held at a public meeting, and the charge is committing or attempting to commit a sexual assault or committing a sexual battery as defined in Education Code Section 48900, a complaining witness shall have the right to have his or her testimony heard in a session closed to the public.

The decision of the Administrative Panel shall be in the form of written findings of fact.

If the Administrative Panel decides not to recommend expulsion, the pupil shall immediately be returned to his/her educational program.

E. Written Notice to Expel

The Executive Director or designee, following a decision of the Administrative Panel to expel, shall send written notice of the decision to expel to the student or parent/guardian, within five (5) school days of the decision to expel. This notice shall also include the following: (a) the Administrative Panel's adopted findings of fact; (b) the specific offense(s) committed by the student; (c) the student's or parent/guardian's obligation to inform any new district in which the student seeks to enroll of the student's status with the Charter School; (d) the process to appeal the expulsion as outlined below, including information about reasonable accommodations and language support; (e) educational alternatives for students, as described below; (f) a rehabilitation plan; and (g) procedures for readmission and reinstatement..

The Executive Director or designee shall send a copy of the written notice of the decision to expel to the LAUSD. This notice shall include the following: (a) The student's name; and (b) The specific expellable offense committed by the student.

F. Disciplinary Records

Records of all student suspensions and expulsions will be maintained at Larchmont Charter School. Such records shall be made available to the District upon request.

G. Expulsion Appeal Rights & Timeline

Parents may appeal the expulsion decision of the Administrative Panel by making a written request and submitting it to the LCS Board of Directors within 5 school days of the expulsion decision. The student will be considered suspended until a LCS Board of Directors meeting is convened within ten (10) school days of the receipt of the written appeal request. The LCS Board of Directors will convene in closed session to consider the appeal, at which time the parent(s) must attend to present their appeal.

The appeal meeting is not a new hearing; it is an opportunity for the parent and student to challenge the expulsion decision. During the appeal meeting, the LCS Board of Directors will review information from the original expulsion hearing. No new evidence shall be considered unless there is relevant and material evidence which, in the exercise of reasonable diligence, could not have been produced or which was improperly excluded at the hearing before the Administrative Panel. The parent or student may but are not required to make a statement to the LCS Board of Directors explaining why they are appealing from the decision. A school representative may but is not required to make a statement about the recommendation for expulsion. The LCS Board of Directors shall deliberate privately, without the parent/guardian or school representative present. The LCS Board of Directors will report in open session any action during the closed session, including whether the LCS Board of Directors granted or denied the appeal. Within five (5) school days of the appeal meeting, the LCS Board of Directors shall issue a written decision denying or granting the appeal. The LCS Board of Directors decision regarding the expulsion will be final.

H. Special Procedures for Expulsion Hearings Involving Sexual Assault or Battery Offenses

The Charter School may, upon a finding of good cause, determine that the disclosure of either the identity of the witness or the testimony of that witness at the hearing, or both, would subject the witness to an unreasonable risk of psychological or physical harm. Upon this determination, the testimony of the witness may be presented at the hearing in the form of sworn declarations that shall be examined only by the Charter School or the hearing officer. Copies of these sworn declarations, edited to delete the name and identity of the witness, shall be made available to the pupil.

a. The complaining witness in any sexual assault or battery case must be provided with a copy of the applicable disciplinary rules and advised of his/her right to (a) receive five days notice of his/her scheduled testimony, (b) have up to two (2) adult support persons of his/her choosing present in the hearing at the time he/she testifies, which may include a parent, guardian, or legal counsel, and (c) elect to have the hearing closed while testifying.

b. The Charter School must also provide the victim a room separate from the hearing room for the complaining witness' use prior to and during breaks in testimony.

c. At the discretion of the Administrative Panel, the complaining witness shall be allowed periods of relief from examination and cross-examination during which he or she may leave the hearing room.

2. The Administrative Panel may also arrange the seating within the hearing room to facilitate a less intimidating environment for the complaining witness.

3. The Administrative Panel may also limit time for taking the testimony of the complaining witness to the hours he/she is normally in school, if there is no good cause to take the testimony during other hours.

4. Prior to a complaining witness testifying, the support persons must be admonished that the hearing is confidential. Nothing in the law precludes the Administrative Panel Chairperson presiding over the hearing from removing a support person whom the Chairperson finds is disrupting the hearing. The Administrative Panel may permit any one of the support persons for the complaining witness to accompany him or her to the witness stand.

5. If one or both of the support persons is also a witness, the Charter School must present evidence that the witness' presence is both desired by the witness and will be helpful to the Charter School. The Administrative Panel Chairperson shall permit the witness to stay unless it is established that there is a substantial risk that the testimony of the complaining witness would be influenced by the support person, in which case the presiding official shall admonish the support person or persons not to prompt, sway, or influence the witness in any way. Nothing shall preclude the Chairperson from exercising his or her discretion to remove a person from the hearing whom he or she believes is prompting, swaying, or influencing the witness.

6. The testimony of the support person shall be presented before the testimony of the complaining witness and the complaining witness shall be excluded from the courtroom during that testimony.

7. Especially for charges involving sexual assault or battery, if the hearing is to be conducted in public at the request of the pupil being expelled, the complaining witness shall have the right to have his/her testimony heard in a closed session when testifying at a public meeting would threaten serious psychological harm to the complaining witness and there are no alternative procedures to avoid the threatened harm. The alternative procedures may include videotaped depositions or contemporaneous examination in another place communicated to the hearing room by means of closed-circuit television.

8. Evidence of specific instances of a complaining witness' prior sexual conduct is presumed inadmissible and shall not be heard absent a determination by the person conducting the hearing that extraordinary circumstances exist requiring the evidence be heard. Before such a determination regarding extraordinary circumstance can be made, the witness shall be provided notice and an opportunity to present opposition to the introduction of the evidence. In the hearing on the admissibility of the evidence, the complaining witness shall be entitled to be represented by a parent, legal counsel, or other support person. Reputation or opinion evidence regarding the sexual behavior of the complaining witness is not admissible for any purpose.

I. Readmission Criteria & Procedures for Rehabilitation, Readmission, and Interim Placement

The general requirements for rehabilitation plans, readmission and reinstatement are explained at the beginning of Element 10.

LCS' procedure for the filing and processing of requests for readmission or reinstatement, and the process for the required review of all expelled pupils for readmission or reinstatement is explained below.

- Families are asked to submit a written document requesting readmission or reinstatement within thirty (30) calendar days of the last day of the expulsion..
    - Readmission means the student wants to reenroll at LCS.
    - Reinstatement means the student does not want to reenroll at CLS but is requesting LCS to confirm in writing that he or she satisfied the terms of the rehabilitation plan so he or she can be reinstated.

Reinstatement

- For families seeking only reinstatement who do not wish to reenroll their child at LCS, the family must submit along with the request for reinstatement, documentation of compliance with the student's rehabilitation plan. So long as the student seeking reinstatement has satisfied the terms of the rehabilitation plan, LCS will issue a written notice stating as much and that the student can be reinstated. The notice will be issued within ten (10) school days of receipt of the request for reinstatement and documentation of compliance with the rehabilitation plan.

Readmission

- For families who want to reenroll their child at LCS (readmission), in addition to the written request, the student needs to re-enter the lottery process via online waitlist application, consistent with all applicable LCS admission policies and procedures.
- Should the student be awarded a conditional seat, including any necessary documents documentation of good standing at the school the student attended during the expulsion.
- Upon completion of the readmission process, LCS may readmit the pupil, unless LCS makes a finding that the pupil has not met the conditions of his or her rehabilitation plan and/or the pupil continues to pose a danger to campus safety.
- Response to the written request for readmission will be provided to the family within ten (10) school days from the date the review committee convened.

A description of these procedures for readmission will be made available to the pupil and the pupil's parent or guardian at the time the expulsion order is entered.

J. Educational Alternatives for Pupils who are Expelled

If there is a decision to expel, Larchmont Charter School will assist the parent/guardian with information that facilitates finding an alternative placement. LCS students who are expelled from LCS can apply to enroll in their home school, or any other school, pursuant to inter- and intra-District transfer policies. They can also enroll at any other public charter schools, subject to those charter schools' enrollment policies and capacity. Private schools are also an alternative. LCS will not admit or re-admit a student who is currently on an expulsion order and has not completed his or her rehabilitation plan.

K. Notice to Teachers

The Charter School shall notify teachers of each pupil who has engaged in or is reasonably suspected to have engaged in any of the acts listed in Education Code Section 49079 and the corresponding enumerated offenses set forth above.

"The manner by which staff members of the charter schools [sic] will be covered by the State Teachers' Retirement System, the Public Employees' Retirement System, or federal social security." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(K).)

Charter School shall comply in a timely manner with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations, as they may change from time to time, including but not limited to Internal Revenue Code section 414(d) and related regulations, governing Charter School's participation in, and/or coverage of its staff members by, the State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS), the Public Employees' Retirement System (CalPERS), and/or federal social security.

If Charter School participates in, or otherwise covers its staff members by enrolling or continuing their enrollment in, a "government plan" governed by section 414(d) (e.g., CalPERS), upon dissolution or final liquidation of Charter School, and/or its nonprofit public benefit corporation, notwithstanding any provision in Element 15 to the contrary, Charter School shall distribute its net assets in accordance with section 414(d), related regulations, and the government plan's requirements.

If Charter School participates in CalSTRS and/or CalPERS, Charter School shall continue such participation for the duration of Charter School's existence under the same CDS code, if mandated by applicable legal and retirement plan requirements.

Pupils of Charter School do not have or gain any right to admission in a particular school of any school district, or program of any school district, as a consequence of applying to or enrolling in Charter School, except to the extent that such a right is extended by the school district.

A pupil who chooses not to attend Charter School may attend a public school within the pupil's school district of residence in accordance with applicable law and that school district's policies and procedures. The pupil alternatively may seek to enroll in another charter school in accordance with applicable law and the terms of the school's charter. If LAUSD is the pupil's school district of residence, an eligible pupil may pursue an inter-district transfer, if available, in accordance with the admission, enrollment, and transfer policies and procedures of the District, as they may change from time to time.

Larchmont will inform parents and students on the enrollment form that the Charter School is a school of choice and inform families of their public school attendance alternatives.

Element 13: Rights of District Employees

Financial Close-Out

The CDE may ask the county office of education to conduct an audit of the charter school if it has reason to believe that the school received state funding for which it was not eligible.

Charter School shall ensure completion of an independent final audit within six months after the closure of Charter School that includes:

1. An accounting of all financial assets. These may include cash and accounts receivable and an inventory of property, equipment, and other items of material value.

2. An accounting of all liabilities. These may include accounts payable or reduction in apportionments due to loans, unpaid staff compensation, audit findings, or other investigations.

3. An assessment of the disposition of any restricted funds received by or due to Charter School.

This audit may serve as Charter School's annual audit if it meets all of the requirements of the annual audit. Charter School shall pay for the financial closeout audit of Charter School. This audit will be conducted by a neutral, independent licensed CPA who will employ generally accepted accounting principles. Any liability or debt incurred by Charter School will be the responsibility of Charter School and not LAUSD. Charter School understands and acknowledges that Charter School will cover the outstanding debts or liabilities of Charter School. Any unused monies at the time of the audit will be returned to the appropriate funding source. Charter School understands and acknowledges that only unrestricted funds will be used to pay creditors. Any unused AB 602 funds will be returned to the District SELPA or the SELPA in which Charter School participates, and other categorical funds will be returned to the source of funds.

Charter School shall ensure the completion and filing of any annual reports required. These reports include but are not necessarily limited to:

1. Preliminary budgets
2. Interim financial reports
3. Second interim financial reports
4. Final unaudited reports

These reports must be submitted to the CDE and the authorizing entity in the form required. These reports should be submitted as soon as possible after the Closure Action, but no later than the required deadline for reporting for the fiscal year.

For apportionment of categorical programs, the CDE will count the prior year average daily attendance (ADA) or enrollment data of the closed Charter School with the data of the authorizing entity. This practice will occur in the first year after the closure and will continue until CDE data collection processes reflect ADA or enrollment adjustments for all affected LEAs due to the charter closure.

Disposition of Liabilities and Assets

The closeout audit must identify the disposition of all liabilities of Charter School. Charter School closure procedures must also ensure appropriate disposal, in accordance with the District Required Language provisions in Element 11 of this Charter, Charter School's governing board bylaws, fiscal procedures, and any other applicable laws and regulations, of any net assets remaining after all liabilities of Charter School have been paid or otherwise addressed. Such disposal includes, but is not limited to:

1. Charter School, at its cost and expense, shall return to the District any and all property, furniture, equipment, supplies, and other assets provided to Charter School by or on behalf of the District. The District discloses that the California Education Code sets forth the requirements for the disposition of the District's personal property and Charter School shall bear responsibility and liability for any disposition in violation of statutory requirements.

2. The return of any donated materials and property in accordance with any terms and conditions set when the donations were accepted.

3. The return of any grant and restricted categorical funds to their sources according to the terms of the grant or state and federal law.

4. The submission of final expenditure reports for any entitlement grants and the filing of Final Expenditure Reports and Final Performance Reports, as appropriate.

If Charter School is operated as or by a nonprofit corporation, and if the corporation does not have any functions other than operation of Charter School, the corporation shall be dissolved according to its bylaws.

Charter School shall retain sufficient staff, as deemed appropriate by the Charter School governing board to complete all necessary tasks and procedures required to close the school and transfer records in accordance with these closure procedures.

Charter School's governing board shall adopt a plan for wind-up of Charter School and, if necessary, the corporation, in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Code.

Charter School shall provide LAUSD within fourteen (14) calendar days of the Closure Action with written notice of any outstanding payments due to staff and the time frame and method by which Charter School will make the payments.

Prior to final close-out, Charter School shall complete all actions required by applicable law, including but not limited to the following:

a. File all final federal, state, and local employer payroll tax returns and issue final W-2s and Form 1099s by the statutory deadlines.

b. Make final federal tax payments (employee taxes, etc.)

c. Complete and submit all required federal and state filings and notices to the State of California, the Internal Revenue Service, and the Department of the Treasury, including but not limited to final tax returns and forms (e.g., Form 990 and related Schedules).

This Element 15 shall survive the revocation, expiration, termination, cancellation of this Charter, or any other act or event that would end Charter School's authorization to operate as a charter school or cause Charter School to cease operation. Charter School agrees that, due to the nature of the property and activities that are the subject of this Charter, the District and public shall suffer irreparable harm should Charter School breach any obligation under this Element 15. The District therefore reserves the right to seek equitable relief to enforce any right arising under this Element 15 or any provision of this Element 15 or to prevent or cure any breach of any obligation undertaken, without in any way prejudicing any other legal remedy available to the District. Such legal relief shall include, without limitation, the seeking of a temporary or permanent injunction, restraining order, or order for specific performance, and may be sought in any appropriate court.

Closure Agent

In the event that the Charter School closes, the Executive Director will serve as the Charter School's closure agent.

Additional Provisions

FACILITIES

Charter School shall comply with all geographic and site limitations and related requirements set forth in Education Code sections 47605.1, 47602(a), and 47605(a).

District-Owned Facilities

If Charter School is using District facilities as of the date of the submission of this charter petition or takes occupancy of District facilities prior to the approval of this charter petition, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities as a condition of the approval of the charter petition. If at any time after the approval of this charter petition Charter School will occupy and use any District facilities, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities prior to occupancy and commencing use. Charter School shall implement and otherwise comply with the terms of any and all applicable facilities use agreements between Charter School and the District.

The circumstances of Charter School's occupancy of District facilities may change over time such as, but not limited to, enrollment, programs, and the conditions of facilities, and the District has a vested interest in having an agreement that is appropriate for the situation.

For a Sole Occupant Agreement or any other use agreement that is not a Proposition 39 Single Year Co-location Use Agreement or a lease issued through the Notice of Intent and bid process, the term may be co-terminous with the approved Charter, as permitted by law. Charter School and the District shall negotiate any modifications of the agreement with the goal of such amendment or new agreement being considered by the LAUSD Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition. If Charter School and the District cannot execute an agreement in time for such to be considered by the Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition, the approval of the renewal of the charter petition shall be conditioned upon Charter School and the District executing an amendment to the existing use agreement or a new agreement no later than May 1st or within nine (9) months of the date of the Board of Education's approval of the renewal of the charter petition. During such time period Charter School shall be permitted to remain in occupancy of the District facilities under the terms and conditions of the immediately preceding, executed use agreement; provided, that if Charter School and the District cannot agree upon and execute an amendment or new use agreement by said deadline, Charter School shall vacate the District facilities on or before June 30th of said school year.

Charter School acknowledges and agrees that occupancy and use of District facilities shall be in compliance with applicable laws and District policies for the operation and maintenance of District facilities and furnishings and equipment. Charter School shall comply with all District health, safety, and emergency procedures and requirements and shall be subject to inspection by the District's Facilities Services Division, OEHS, and other District offices in the same manner as other LAUSD campuses. All District facilities (i.e., schools) will remain subject to those laws applicable to public schools.

In the event of an emergency, all District facilities *(*i.e., schools) are available for use by the American Red Cross and public agencies as emergency locations, which may disrupt or prevent Charter School from conducting its educational programs. If Charter School will share the use of District facilities with other District user groups, Charter School agrees that it will participate in and observe all District safety policies (e.g., emergency chain of information and participation in safety drills).

The use agreements provided by the District for District facilities shall contain terms and conditions addressing issues such as, but not limited to, the following:

- Use: Charter School will be restricted to using the District facilities for the operation of a public school providing educational instruction to public school students consistent with the terms of the Charter and incidental related uses. Separate and apart from its right as authorizer to observe and inspect any part of the charter school at any time pursuant to Education Code 47607(a)(1), the District shall have and reserves the right to inspect District facilities upon reasonable notice to Charter School.

- Furnishings and Equipment: The District shall retain ownership of any furnishings and equipment, including technology, ("F&E") that it provides to Charter School for use. Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, shall provide maintenance and other services for the good and safe operation of the F&E.

- Leasing; Licensing: Use of the District facilities by any person or entity other than Charter School shall be administered by the District. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement in the use agreement.

- Programs, Services, and Activities Outside Instructional Program; Third Party Vendors
  - (i) Any program, service, or activity provided outside the instructional program shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement, and, additionally, may require a license, permit, or additional agreement issued by the District. The term "instructional program" is defined, per Education Code section 47612 and 5 CCR section 11960, as those required educational activities that generate funding based on "average daily attendance" and includes those extracurricular programs, services, and/or activities that students are required to participate in and do not require the payment of any consideration or fee.
  - (ii) Any program, service, or activity requiring the payment of any consideration or fee or provided by a third party vendor (defined as any person or entity other than Charter School), whether paid or volunteer and regardless of whether such may be within the instructional program, shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement and such third party vendor shall be required to obtain a license, permit, or additional agreement from the District.

- Minimum Payments or Charges to be Paid to District Arising From the Facilities:
  - (i) Pro Rata Share: The District shall collect and Charter School shall pay a Pro Rata Share for facilities costs as provided in the Charter Schools Act of 1992 and its regulations. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding facilities costs in the use agreement; and

  - (ii) Taxes; Assessments: Generally, Charter School shall pay any assessment or fee imposed upon or levied on the LAUSD facilities that it is occupying or Charter School's legal or equitable interest created by the use agreement.

- Maintenance & Operations Services: In the event the District agrees to allow Charter School to perform any of the operation and maintenance services, the District shall have the right to inspect the District facilities, and the costs incurred in such inspection shall be paid by Charter School.

SELPA Reorganization

The Los Angeles Unified School District is approved to operate as a single-District SELPA under the provisions of Education Code section 56195.1(a). As a single-District SELPA, the District has created two charter school sections (District-operated Programs and Charter-operated Programs) under the administration of one single Administrative Unit pursuant to a reorganization plan approved by the Board of Education on January 4, 2011 (149/10-11). Full implementation of the reorganized LAUSD SELPA commenced in the 2013-2014 school year requiring all District-authorized charter schools to elect one of the three options available under the LAUSD SELPA. Prior to an option election, all District-authorized charter schools were required to participate as a school of the District under the District-Operated Programs Unit. Prior to the beginning of the 2013-2014 school year, all District-authorized charter schools, other than those that had previously executed an Option 3 Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU"), were required to execute a new MOU setting forth the LAUSD SELPA option election for the remainder of the charter petition term. The Charter-operated Program schools do not have LEA status for the purposes of special education but will function in a similar role in that each charter school will be responsible for all special education requirements, including but not limited to services, placement, due process, related services, special education classes, and special education supports. Charter schools that have elected to participate in a District-operated programs option may apply for membership in the Charter-operated Program section of the SELPA. Charter schools accepted for participation in the Charter-operated Programs section receive support from a Special Education Director for the Charter-operated Programs.

Modified Consent Decree Requirements

All charter schools approved by the LAUSD Board of Education are bound by and must adhere to the terms, conditions and requirements of the Chanda Smith Modified Consent Decree ("MCD") and other court orders imposed upon the District pertaining to special education. The MCD is a consent decree entered in a federal court class action lawsuit initially brought on behalf of students with disabilities in LAUSD. It is an agreement of the parties approved by the federal court and monitored by a court-appointed independent monitor. The MCD includes nineteen statistically measureable outcomes and facilities obligations that the District has to achieve to disengage from the MCD and federal court oversight. All charter schools are required to use the District's Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual and Welligent, the District-wide web-based software system used for online Individualized Education Programs ("IEPs") and tracking of related services provided to students during the course of their education.

As part of fulfilling the District's obligations under the MCD, student level data requests from District-operated and Charter-operated charter schools are made on a regular basis. The requested data must be submitted in the Office of the Independent Monitor's ("OIM") required format in accordance with the OIM's required timelines and as follows:

- End of Year Suspension

  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, date of suspension, number of days suspended, and reason for suspension.

The MCD requires charter schools to implement the District's integrated student information system, which is currently referred to as My Integrated Student Information System (MiSiS). MiSiS is a suite of applications which is designed to capture all District student data. All charter schools are required to utilize MiSiS directly or interface with MiSiS via a web based Application Programming Interface (API) in compliance with the requirements of the MCD and applicable timelines. Upon charter school full utilization of MiSiS either directly or via a web based API, the list of required data above will automatically be captured within MiSiS.

Charter School shall ensure completion of an independent final audit within six months after the closure of Charter School that includes:

1. An accounting of all financial assets. These may include cash and accounts receivable and an inventory of property, equipment, and other items of material value.

2. An accounting of all liabilities. These may include accounts payable or reduction in apportionments due to loans, unpaid staff compensation, audit findings, or other investigations.

3. An assessment of the disposition of any restricted funds received by or due to Charter School.

This audit may serve as Charter School's annual audit if it meets all of the requirements of the annual audit.

Any liability or debt incurred by Charter School will be the responsibility of Charter School and not LAUSD.

Charter School understands and acknowledges that Charter School will cover the outstanding debts or liabilities of Charter School. Any unused monies at the time of the audit will be returned to the appropriate funding source. Charter School understands and acknowledges that only unrestricted funds will be used to pay creditors. Any unused AB 602 funds will be returned to the District SELPA or the SELPA in which Charter School participates, and other categorical funds will be returned to the source of funds.

This practice will occur in the first year after the closure and will continue until CDE data collection processes reflect ADA or enrollment adjustments for all affected LEAs due to the charter closure.

Disposition of Liabilities and Assets

The closeout audit must identify the disposition of all liabilities of Charter School. Charter School closure procedures must also ensure appropriate disposal, in accordance with the District Required Language provisions in Element 11 of this Charter, Charter School's governing board bylaws, fiscal procedures, and any other applicable laws and regulations, of any net assets remaining after all liabilities of Charter School have been paid or otherwise addressed. Such disposal includes, but is not limited to:

1. Charter School, at its cost and expense, shall return to the District any and all property, furniture, equipment, supplies, and other assets provided to Charter School by or on behalf of the District. The District discloses that the California Education Code sets forth the requirements for the disposition of the District's personal property and Charter School shall bear responsibility and liability for any disposition in violation of statutory requirements.

2. The return of any donated materials and property in accordance with any terms and conditions set when the donations were accepted.

3. The return of any grant and restricted categorical funds to their sources according to the terms of the grant or state and federal law.

Charter School shall retain sufficient staff, as deemed appropriate by the Charter School governing board to complete all necessary tasks and procedures required to close the school and transfer records in accordance with these closure procedures.

Charter School's governing board shall adopt a plan for wind-up of Charter School and, if necessary, the corporation, in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Code.

Charter School shall provide LAUSD within fourteen (14) calendar days of the Closure Action with written notice of any outstanding payments due to staff and the time frame and method by which Charter School will make the payments.

Prior to final close-out, Charter School shall complete all actions required by applicable law, including but not limited to the following:

a. File all final federal, state, and local employer payroll tax returns and issue final W-2s and Form 1099s by the statutory deadlines.

b. Make final federal tax payments (employee taxes, etc.)

c. Complete and submit all required federal and state filings and notices to the State of California, the Internal Revenue Service, and the Department of the Treasury, including but not limited to final tax returns and forms (e.g., Form 990 and related Schedules).

This Element 15 shall survive the revocation, expiration, termination, cancellation of this Charter, or any other act or event that would end Charter School's authorization to operate as a charter school or cause Charter School to cease operation. Charter School agrees that, due to the nature of the property and activities that are the subject of this Charter, the District and public shall suffer irreparable harm should Charter School breach any obligation under this Element 15. The District therefore reserves the right to seek equitable relief to enforce any right arising under this Element 15 or any provision of this Element 15 or to prevent or cure any breach of any obligation undertaken, without in any way prejudicing any other legal remedy available to the District. Such legal relief shall include, without limitation, the seeking of a temporary or permanent injunction, restraining order, or order for specific performance, and may be sought in any appropriate court.

Additional Provisions

FACILITIES

District-Owned Facilities

If Charter School is using District facilities as of the date of the submission of this charter petition or takes occupancy of District facilities prior to the approval of this charter petition, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities as a condition of the approval of the charter petition. the District facilities prior to occupancy and commencing use. Charter School shall implement and otherwise comply with the terms of any and all applicable facilities use agreements between Charter School and the District.

The circumstances of Charter School's occupancy of District facilities may change over time such as, but not limited to, enrollment, programs, and the conditions of facilities, and the District has a vested interest in having an agreement that is appropriate for the situation.
For a Sole Occupant Agreement or any other use agreement that is not a Proposition 39 Single Year Co-location Use Agreement or a lease issued through the Notice of Intent and bid process, the term may be co-terminous with the approved Charter, as permitted by law. Charter School and the District shall negotiate any modifications of the agreement with the goal of such amendment or new agreement being considered by the LAUSD Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition. If Charter School and the District cannot execute an agreement in time for such to be considered by the Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition, the approval of the renewal of the charter petition shall be conditioned upon Charter School and the District executing an amendment to the existing use agreement or a new agreement no later than May 1st or within nine (9) months of the date of the Board of Education's approval of the renewal of the charter petition. During such time period Charter School shall be permitted to remain in occupancy of the District facilities under the terms and conditions of the immediately preceding, executed use agreement; provided, that if Charter School and the District cannot agree upon and execute an amendment or new use agreement by said deadline, Charter School shall vacate the District facilities on or before June 30th of said school year.

Charter School acknowledges and agrees that occupancy and use of District facilities shall be in compliance with applicable laws and District policies for the operation and maintenance of District facilities and furnishings and equipment. Charter School shall comply with all District health, safety, and emergency procedures and requirements and shall be subject to inspection by the District's Facilities Services Division, OEHS, and other District offices in the same manner as other LAUSD campuses. All District facilities (i.e., schools) will remain subject to those laws applicable to public schools.
In the event of an emergency, all District facilities (i.e., schools) are available for use by the American Red Cross and public agencies as emergency locations, which may disrupt or prevent Charter School from conducting its educational programs. If Charter School will share the use of District facilities with other District user groups, Charter School agrees that it will participate in and observe all District safety policies (e.g., emergency chain of information and participation in safety drills).

The use agreements provided by the District for District facilities shall contain terms and conditions addressing issues such as, but not limited to, the following:

- Use: Charter School will be restricted to using the District facilities for the operation of a public school providing educational instruction to public school students consistent with the terms of the Charter and incidental related uses. - Furnishings and Equipment: The District shall retain ownership of any furnishings and equipment, including technology, ("F&E") that it provides to Charter School for use. Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, shall provide maintenance and other services for the good and safe operation of the F&E.

- Leasing; Licensing: Use of the District facilities by any person or entity other than Charter School shall be administered by the District. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement in the use agreement.

    (i) Any program, service, or activity provided outside the instructional program shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement, and, additionally, may require a license, permit, or additional agreement issued by the District. The term "instructional program" is defined, per Education Code section 47612 and 5 CCR section 11960, as those required educational activities that generate funding based on "average daily attendance" and includes those extracurricular programs, services, and/or activities that students are required to participate in and do not require the payment of any consideration or fee.
    (ii) Any program, service, or activity requiring the payment of any consideration or fee or provided by a third party vendor (defined as any person or entity other than Charter School), whether paid or volunteer and regardless of whether such may be within the instructional program, shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement and such third party vendor shall be required to obtain a license, permit, or additional agreement from the District.

- Minimum Payments or Charges to be Paid to District Arising From the Facilities:
    (i) Pro Rata Share: The District shall collect and Charter School shall pay a Pro Rata Share for facilities costs as provided in the Charter Schools Act of 1992 and its regulations. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding facilities costs in the use agreement; and

    (ii) Taxes; Assessments: Generally, Charter School shall pay any assessment or fee imposed upon or levied on the LAUSD facilities that it is occupying or Charter School's legal or equitable interest created by the use agreement.

- Maintenance & Operations Services: In the event the District agrees to allow Charter School to perform any of the operation and maintenance services, the District shall have the right to inspect the District facilities, and the costs incurred in such inspection shall be paid by Charter School.

    (i) Co-Location: If Charter School is co-locating or sharing the District facilities with another user, the District shall provide the operations and maintenance services for the District facilities and Charter School shall pay the Pro Rata Share. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such in the use agreement.

    (ii) Sole Occupant: If Charter School is a sole occupant of District facilities, the District shall allow Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, to provide some operations and maintenance services for the District facilities in accordance with applicable laws and LAUSD's policies on operations and maintenance services for facilities and F&E. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, the District shall provide all services for regulatory inspections which as the owner of the real property it is required to submit, and deferred maintenance, and Charter School shall pay LAUSD for the cost and expense of providing those services. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such services in the use agreement.

- Real Property Insurance: Prior to occupancy, Charter School shall satisfy requirements to participate in LAUSD's property insurance or, if Charter School is the sole occupant of LAUSD facilities, obtain and maintain separate property insurance for the LAUSD facilities. Charter School shall not have the option of obtaining and maintaining separate property insurance for the LAUSD facility IF Charter School is co-locating or sharing the LAUSD facility with another user.

Non-District-Owned Facilities

Occupancy and Use of the Site: Prior to occupancy or use of any school site or facility, Charter School shall provide the CSD with a current Certificate of Occupancy or equivalent document issued by the applicable permitting agency that allows Charter School to use and occupy the site as a charter school. Charter School shall not exceed the operating capacity of the site and shall operate within any limitations or requirements provided by the Certificate of Occupancy and any applicable permit. Charter School may not open or operate without providing a copy of an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD. If Charter School intends to move or expand to another facility during the term of this Charter, Charter School shall adhere to any and all District policies and procedures regarding charter material revision and non-material amendment. Prior to occupancy or use of any such additional or changed school site, Charter School shall provide an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD for such facility. Notwithstanding any language to the contrary in this Charter, the interpretation, application, and enforcement of this provision are not subject to the Dispute Resolution Process outlined in Element 14.

Facility Compliance: Prior to occupancy or use of any non-District-owned school site and/or facility, Charter School shall ensure that the site and/or facility complies with all applicable building codes, standards and regulations adopted by the city and/or county agencies responsible for building and safety standards for the city in which Charter School is to be located, federal and state accessibility requirements (including the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504), and all other applicable fire, health, and structural safety and access requirements. This requirement shall also apply to the construction, reconstruction, alteration of or addition to the facility. Charter School shall resolve in a timely manner any and all corrective actions, orders to comply, and notices issued by any authorized building and safety agency. The oversight fee provided herein is separate and distinct from the charges arising under charter school facilities use agreements.

Cash Reserves
Charter School acknowledges that the recommended cash reserve is 5% of expenditures, as provided in section 15450, title 5 of the California Code of Regulations.

Third Party Contracts
Charter School shall ensure that all third party contracts, whether oral or written, for supplies, equipment, goods and/or services, for the direct or indirect benefit of, or otherwise related to the operation of, Charter School, require compliance with and otherwise conform to all applicable local, state, and federal policies, regulations, laws, and guidelines, including but not limited to licensing and permit requirements as well as requirements related to protection of health and safety.

Special Education Revenue Adjustment/Payment for Services
In the event that Charter School owes funds to the District for the provision of agreed upon or fee for service or special education services or as a result of the State's adjustment to allocation of special education revenues from Charter School, Charter School authorizes the District to deduct any and all of the in lieu property taxes that Charter School otherwise would be eligible to receive under section 47635 of the Education Code to cover such owed amounts. Charter School further understands and agrees that the District shall make appropriate deductions from the in lieu property tax amounts otherwise owed to Charter School. Should this revenue stream be insufficient in any fiscal year to cover any such costs, Charter School agrees that it will reimburse the District for the additional costs within forty-five (45) business days of being notified of the amounts owed.

Student Body Funds
Charter School shall supervise and manage any and all student body funds in a manner consistent with the provisions of Education Code sections 48930-48938. Charter School shall include and address student body funds in its financial reports, and ensure that such funds are included and addressed in Charter School's annual audit as a stand-alone item.

Audit and Inspection of Records
Charter School agrees to observe and abide by the following terms and conditions as a requirement for receiving and maintaining its charter authorization:

- Charter School is subject to District oversight.

- The District's statutory oversight responsibility continues throughout the life of the Charter and requires that the District, among other things, monitors the fiscal condition of Charter School.

- The District is authorized to revoke this Charter for, among other reasons, the failure of Charter School to meet generally accepted accounting principles or if Charter School engages in fiscal mismanagement.

Accordingly, the District hereby reserves the right, pursuant to its oversight responsibility, to audit Charter School books, records, data, processes and procedures through the District Office of the Inspector General or other means. The audit may include, but is not limited to, the following areas:

- Compliance with terms and conditions prescribed in the Charter agreement,
- Internal controls, both financial and operational in nature,
- The accuracy, recording and/or reporting of Charter School's financial information,
- Charter School's debt structure,
- Governance policies, procedures and history,
- The recording and reporting of attendance data,
- Charter School's enrollment process,
- Compliance with safety plans and procedures, and
- Compliance with applicable grant requirements.

Charter School shall cooperate fully with such audits and shall make available any and all records necessary for the performance of the audit upon 30 days notice to Charter School. When 30 days notice may defeat the purpose of the audit, the District may conduct the audit upon 24- hours notice.

Fiscal Policies and Procedures

Charter School shall establish, maintain, and implement sound fiscal policies and procedures, including but not limited to internal controls governing all financial and business-related activities.

Apportionment Eligibility for Students Over 19 Years of Age

Charter School acknowledges that, in order for a pupil over nineteen (19) years of age to remain eligible for generating charter school apportionment, the pupil shall be continuously enrolled in public school and make satisfactory progress toward award of a high school diploma. (Ed. Code § 47612(b).)

Local Control and Accountability Plan

In accordance with California Education Code sections 47604.33 and 47606.5, Charter School shall include in its annual update a "listing and description of the expenditures for the fiscal year implementing the specific actions included in the charter as a result of the reviews and assessment required by paragraph (1)" of section 47606.5(a). These expenditures shall be "classified using the California School Accounting Manual pursuant to Section 41010." (Ed. Code § 47606.5(b).)

(Ed. Code § 47605(d)(1).)
- Admit all pupils who wish to attend CNHS No. 2. (Ed. Code § 47605(d)(2)(A).)

CNHS No. 2 shall comply with all provisions of the EERA and shall act independently from LAUSD for collective bargaining purposes. In accordance with the EERA, employees may join and be represented by an organization of their choice for collective bargaining purposes.

NOTE: This Charter contains specific "District Required Language" (DRL), including the Assurances, Affirmations, and Declarations section above. The DRL should be highlighted in gray within each Charter element or section. The final section of the Charter provides a consolidated addendum of the DRL. This intentional redundancy facilitates efficient charter petition review while ensuring ready access to the DRL for any given section of the Charter. To the extent that any inconsistency may exist between any provision contained within the body of the Charter and the DRL contained in the addendum, the provisions of the DRL addendum shall control.

Element 1 – The Educational Program

"The educational program of the charter school, designed, among other things, to identify those whom the charter school is attempting to educate, what it means to be an "educated person" in the 21st century, and how learning best occurs. The goals identified in that program shall include the objective of enabling pupils to become self-motivated, competent, and lifelong learners." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(A)(i).)

"The annual goals for the charter school for all pupils and for each subgroup of pupils identified pursuant to Section 52052, to be achieved in the state priorities, as described in subdivision (d) of Section 52060, that apply for the grade levels served, or the nature of the program operated, by the charter school, and specific annual actions to achieve those goals. A charter petition may identify additional school priorities, the goals for the school priorities, and the specific annual actions to achieve those goals." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(A)(ii).)

"If the proposed charter school will serve high school pupils, a description of the manner in which the charter school will inform parents about the transferability of courses to other public high schools and the eligibility of courses to meet college entrance requirements. Courses offered by the charter school that are accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges may be considered transferable and courses approved by the University of California or the California State University as creditable under the "A" to "G" admissions criteria may be considered to meet college entrance requirements." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(A)(iii).)

Special Education Program

Charter School shall ensure that no student otherwise eligible to enroll in Charter School shall be denied, directly or indirectly, admission due to a disability or to Charter School's inability to provide necessary services. Charter School acknowledges that policies and procedures are in place to ensure the recruitment, enrollment, service, and retention of students with disabilities at LAUSD-authorized charter schools, including Charter School.

Prior to LAUSD Board of Education approval of an initial Charter petition, and if a renewing Charter School intends to operate as a "school of the district" for special education services, Charter School shall execute a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") by and between LAUSD and Charter School regarding the provision and funding of special education services consistent with applicable state law and the LAUSD Special Education Local Plan Area ("SELPA") Local Plan for Special Education and shall be considered a "public school of the District" for purposes of Special Education pursuant to Education Code Section 47641(b). However, Charter School reserves the right to make written verifiable assurances that it may become an independent local educational agency (LEA) and join a SELPA pursuant to Education Code Section 47641 (a) either on its own or with a grouping of charter school LEAs as a consortium following the requirements of Education Code section 56195.3(b).

SELPA Reorganization

The Los Angeles Unified School District is approved to operate as a single-District SELPA under the provisions of Education Code section 56195.1(a). As a single-District SELPA, the District has created two charter school sections (District-operated Programs and Charter-operated Programs) under the administration of one single Administrative Unit pursuant to a reorganization plan approved by the Board of Education on January 4, 2011 (149/10-11). Full implementation of the reorganized LAUSD SELPA commenced in the 2013-2014 school year requiring all District-authorized charter schools to elect one of the three options available under the LAUSD SELPA. Prior to an option election, all District-authorized charter schools were required to participate as a school of the District under the District-Operated Programs Unit. Prior to the beginning of the 2013-2014 school year, all District-authorized charter schools, other than those that had previously executed an Option 3 Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU"), were required to execute a new MOU setting forth the LAUSD SELPA option election for the remainder of the charter petition term. The Charter-operated Program schools do not have LEA status for the purposes of special education but will function in a similar role in that each charter school will be responsible for all special education requirements, including but not limited to services, placement, due process, related services, special education classes, and special education supports. Charter schools that have elected to participate in a District-operated programs option may apply for membership in the Charter-operated Program section of the SELPA. Charter schools accepted for participation in the Charter-operated Programs section receive support from a Special Education Director for the Charter-operated Programs.

Modified Consent Decree Requirements

All charter schools approved by the LAUSD Board of Education are bound by and must adhere to the terms, conditions and requirements of the Chanda Smith Modified Consent Decree ("MCD") and other court orders imposed upon the District pertaining to special education. The MCD is a consent decree entered in a federal court class action lawsuit initially brought on behalf of students with disabilities in LAUSD. It is an agreement of the parties approved by the federal court and monitored by a court-appointed independent monitor. The MCD includes nineteen statistically measureable outcomes and facilities obligations that the District has to achieve to disengage from the MCD and federal court oversight. All charter schools are required to use the District's Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual and Welligent, the District-wide web-based software system used for online Individualized Education Programs ("IEPs") and tracking of related services provided to students during the course of their education.

As part of fulfilling the District's obligations under the MCD, student level data requests from District-operated and Charter-operated charter schools are made on a regular basis. The requested data must be submitted in the Office of the Independent Monitor's ("OIM") required format in accordance with the OIM's required timelines and as follows:

- End of Year Suspension
  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, date of suspension, number of days suspended, and reason for suspension.
- Statewide Assessment Data
  The standard file including District ID.
- Norm day
  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, location code, school name and local district for all students enrolled on norm day.
- CBEDS
- All Students enrolled as of December 1 of each school year
  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, location code, school name and local district for all students enrolled on norm day.
- Dropout
  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, middle name, date of birth, grade, last location, school name and local district
- Monthly SESAC and Suspension data
- Graduation roster from all charter schools with 12th grade students with disabilities

The MCD requires charter schools to implement the District's integrated student information system, which is currently referred to as My Integrated Student Information System (MiSiS). MiSiS is a suite of applications which is designed to capture all District student data. All charter schools are required to utilize MiSiS directly or interface with MiSiS via a web based Application Programming Interface (API) in compliance with the requirements of the MCD and applicable timelines. Upon charter school full utilization of MiSiS either directly or via a web based API, the list of required data above will automatically be captured within MiSiS.

Who We Are

Camino Nuevo Charter Academy ("CNCA") operates high-performing, public schools that provide students in underserved areas of Los Angeles a free, quality, college preparatory education. CNCA prepares students from preschool through high school and beyond for academic, college and lifelong success.

The mission of Camino Nuevo Charter Academy is to educate students in a college preparatory program to be literate, critical thinkers and independent problem solvers who are agents of social justice with sensitivity toward the world around them. Founded in 2000, Camino Nuevo Charter Academy began amid a broader community-based initiative to address the severe socioeconomic and educational needs of residents in MacArthur Park, one of the poorest areas of Los Angeles lacking quality public schools. Since inception, Camino Nuevo Charter Academy has created an exceptional network of seven high-achieving schools through the combined efforts of dedicated teachers, administrators, parents and community partners. We currently operate one preschool, four K-8 span schools and two high schools, serving 3,500 students across sites. Camino Nuevo High School No. 2, our Dalzell Lance Campus, is our second of two high schools.

Community Need for Charter School

Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 aims to provide an academically rigorous, college preparatory program that prepares students to compete for admission to four-year colleges. The ultimate aim of the program is t*o* educate students in a college preparatory program to be literate, critical thinkers, and independent problem solvers who are agents of social justice with sensitivity toward the world around them. All students are held to the highest standards of achievement and are supported by a dedicated community of teachers and administrators. Building upon the success of the elementary and middle school programs of its sister schools, CNHS No. 2 provides a high-quality college-preparatory high school option for all of its students.

Meeting the Needs of CNHS No. 2 Student Population

The majority of families at CNHS No. 2 qualify as socioeconomically disadvantaged as indicated by 97% of our students receiving free or reduced lunch. Approximately 10% of our students are English Learners and 14% of students are students with disabilities. CNHS No. 2 maintain an unwavering commitment to providing high-quality educational opportunities to all students in this community and continues to work diligently to continuously strengthen our educational practices and achieve our mission of preparing students to succeed in college and beyond.

CNHS No. 2 offers both a rigorous academic program and a highly innovative approach to social-emotional whole-child learning. The academic program includes a college-preparatory instructional program that ensures all-student access to A-G coursework, at least 10 Advanced Placement classes, and curricula designed to support students' social and emotional needs. Our course sequence is backwards planned from the demands of Advanced Placement courses, so as to adequately prepare students for the demands of college and career. Teachers design rigorous Common Core standards-based curriculum with authentic reading and writing at its core across the content areas. Conceptual math, science and technology coursework provides students the 21st century skills they need to succeed. In addition, project-based learning is used strategically to prepare students with the academic skills needed for college and career. Online programs are used to supplement, extend or intervene students' learning. All of the instructional practices that are currently employed among the existing CNCA schools are continuously refined and balanced against emerging educational research to strengthen how we serve the whole child on the K-12 continuum.

Further, the needs of the students are met through: 1. a program that include a college-going culture of high expectations; 2. high quality core instruction, including authentic literacy and conceptual math practices; 3. a relevant curriculum that employs best practices for English language learners; 4. an inclusive model to support our students with disabilities; 5. a mental health program that fosters trauma-sensitive practices; and 6.innovative programs to foster genuine partnerships with parents at the high school level. Our instructional program focuses on increasing rigor and full implementation of the Common Core State Standards, while infusing the importance of social justice, character education, and a college going culture to meet the needs of the whole child.

CNHS No. 2 maintains a small school environment with the capacity to serve 500 students. In comparison to larger schools, small schools have more favorable student attitudes, positive social behavior, better attendance, lower dropout rates, and positive interpersonal relationships that support academic success. We firmly believe that students have a much greater chance of academic and social success in this type of academic setting. All CNCA schools strive to create a culture of care for each individual student. We believe in teaching the whole child and using differentiated small group instruction to inspire students to self-define what motivates them to learn.

Intervention

Each semester, teachers and leaders identify struggling students who need long-term intervention based on class performance and grades. These students are placed in an intervention class named Study Lab that is taught by content-specific teachers. During Study Lab, students receive support for their core subject area class, complete remediation work, and preview upcoming lessons to position students to accelerate in core classes. For example, CNHS No. 2 offers two Study Lab sessions during the summer specifically focused on preparation for Algebra I and II. These Study Labs are designed to assist incoming 9th grade students who need additional support in order to successfully help them transition into high school level math. Over time, we have recognized that all students benefit from additional intervention. As such, in 2015-2016, CNHS No. 2 adjusted its bell schedule to include a tutoring block every Wednesday for 45 minutes, so that all students can potentially benefit from this level of intervention.

Special Education Program

Each year, approximately 13-15% of our student population are students with disabilities (SWDs), most of whom exhibit mild to moderate disabilities. In the 2016-2017 school year, 13.9% of our student population had an IEP. The framework that we use to determine special education programming for our students is a CNCA developed framework: Dynamic Blended Inclusion. It is very similar to a Response to Intervention (RTI) approach in that it is rooted in flexible, data-driven, targeted support and on-going progress monitoring. Ultimately, the services and programs a student is assigned to are determined by an IEP team and are based on a student's least restrictive environment. We strive to include students in the general education setting. Each student has a unique program based on his or her individual needs, and therefore those students with a data-based need for intensive remediation receive that within a small group or 1:1 learning center.

We strategically allocate our time and human resources to ensure a full spectrum of support. We have special education teachers and special education teacher assistants that design a co-planning and co-teaching schedule to meet the service needs of each student's Free Appropriate Public Education (FAPE). For example, some students may receive as much as 800 minutes per week of academic support across ELA and math, 600 of which are delivered inclusively through co-planning and co-teaching, and 200 of which is provided within our learning center, where the student's specific IEP goals are even more targeted. Typically, a student with such a high volume of minutes would be in a Special Day Program class, but we have seen the achievement and social benefits of a more inclusive approach. Another student with less intensive needs might have closer to 300 minutes of academic services, but perhaps all are delivered within the general education setting. Still others may only have a need in one content area and their services are structured accordingly. Each student's LRE is carefully considered.

We also offer a variety of related services. Our Speech Language Pathologist provides LAS services and our School Psychologist offers DIS counseling in group and 1:1 settings. Additionally, we contract with an NPA to provide occupational therapy, physical therapy, and adaptive PE.

One hundred percent of our students with disabilities (SWDs) graduate meeting A-G requirements, our minimum graduation requirement. To get there, our special education teachers, TAs, and general education teachers monitor ongoing progress and provide targeted support to ensure our SWDs pass their classes in order to meet A-G requirements.

- In 2015-2016, 13 out of 13 SWDs graduated meeting A-G requirements; 46% of them were accepted into a four-year university/college.
- In 2016-17, 17 out of 17 SWDs graduated meeting A-G requirements, and 41% of them were accepted into a four-year university/college.

While we still have a lot of work to do to ensure our SWDs are college ready and college bound, our robust special program has provided access, confidence, and many opportunities for our SWDs.

English Language Development (ELD) Program

Given the community we serve, we place a strong emphasis on our service to English Learners and our approach to reclassification. Our EL reclassification rate Increased from 16% in 2014-2015 to 20% in 2015-2016 due to a number of systems, supports and programs that we put in place. Further, in 2016-2017, the school's reclassification rate increased to 22.4% .In comparison, in the same year, LAUSD had a 16.8% reclassification rate and the state reclassified at a rate of 13.3%.

We use internal ELD benchmark data to guide placement and instruction of students in ELD classes. Additionally, our ELD teachers have comprehensive CELDT preparation units in the beginning of the year. We have also leveled our ELD classes based on EL levels. This has allowed our ELD teachers to focus on our students' zone of proximal development in regards to their language acquisition. We have identified that the majority of our students score lowest on the reading section of the CELDT. Because of this, all ELD teacher focus on English language reading skills during ELD class.

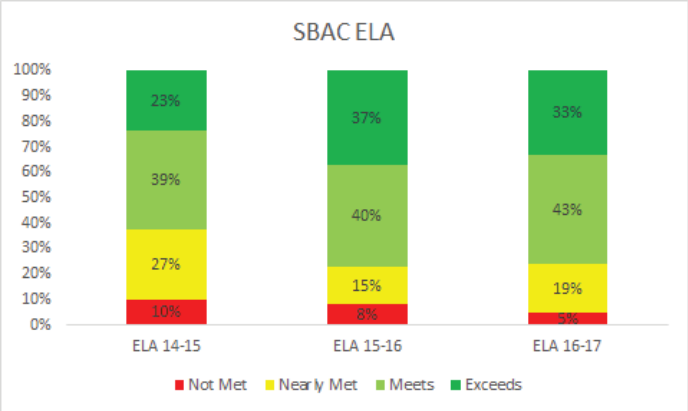
In order to support our most vulnerable subgroup, ELLs with an IEP, we have created a specific ELD class with this subgroup, taught by an RSP teacher who is also trained in Lindamood bell. The RSP teacher also provides appropriate accommodations for individual students as she supports their language needs. In the past year, we experienced a dramatic increase in the number of newcomers that started with us during S1, and we made changes to our ELD rosters to create a specific ELD class with our 8 newcomers to provide strategic language support.

Advanced Placement

We have consistently offered a minimum of 10 Advance Placement (AP) courses to our students. Over time, however, we recognized the need to be more intentional about setting students up for success as they enrolled in AP courses. As such, our staff stepped back in the spring of 2015 to develop a more cohesive vision for our AP program. The outcome was the development of a process for students to “apply” to take AP courses; the application process required students to reflect on their readiness for intended AP courses. The AP application requests students to provide grades for previous classes taken in subject area, an essay describing their desire to enroll in an AP class, and PSAT AP Potential Indicator information. For some classes, students also take a diagnostic test to assess their readiness. All students can ultimately access the AP courses they are interested in taking, but this process has positioned our students to achieve greater success in Aps. The revamping of the AP program led to the increase in our AP test passing rate from 9% in 2015 to 31.5% in 2016. Our goal is to continue to improve and refine our AP program so that we continue to provide access to our students while also improving our passage rate to ensure college readiness.

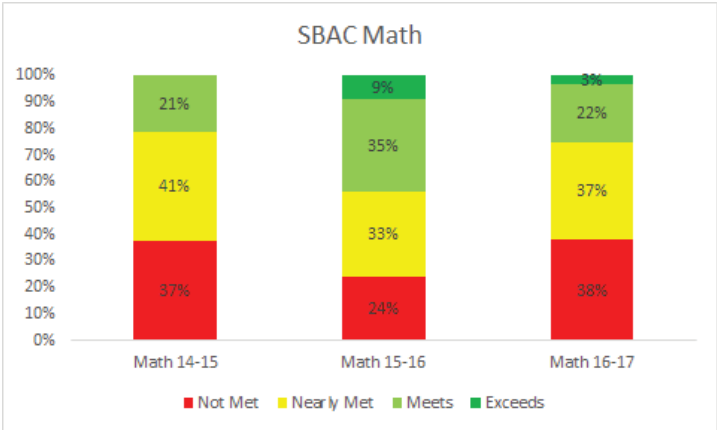
Academic Performance Data and Other Performance Indicators

Over the past three years, our students have demonstrated tremendous growth and success on state standardized tests. In the first year of SBAC, 62% of students met or exceeded the standards in ELA and 21% met or exceeded the standards in math. The following year in 2015-2016, ELA percentage went up to 77% and the math percentage more than doubled to 44%. In 2016-2017, the school was able to maintain above 70% of students meeting or exceeding the standards in ELA. The table below shows the school’s growth in proficiency in ELA over the past three years*.



* SBAC Summative ELA Results 2015-17

However, our SBAC math performance decreased to 23% this past year *. In the previous two years, the school made significant growth due to consistent implementation of CCSS-aligned math curriculum and data-driven instruction; this past year, scores went down due to changes in staffing that significantly impacted the implementation of consistent and effective instruction. We are addressing this decline through a cross-site implementation of a new math instructional framework and curriculum, ongoing professional development and collaboration among math teachers, and continuous engagement in data analysis and learning cycles to improve teacher practice in the classrooms that will ultimately improve student achievement.



*SBAC Summative Math Results 2015-17

Concurrently, the school consistently outperforms similar schools in the neighborhood. The data below shows the school's performance on SBAC in English Language Arts (ELA) and math this past year compared to LAUSD resident schools*. In ELA, the school outperformed neighboring schools and the district. In math, the school outperformed these neighborhood schools by at least 5 percentage points, but trailed just behind the district's overall performance.

If we expand our point of comparison even broader, to include all schools LAUSD identifies as district comparison schools, we see a similar pattern of CNHS No. 2 outperforming district schools. In 2014-2015, 23% of CNHS No. 2 students exceeded ELA students, compared to 8% of LAUSD comparison schools. In 2015-2016, 37% of CNHS No. 2 students exceeded ELA standards compared to 11 % of LAUSD comparison schools. In 2016-17, 32% of CNHS No 2. Students exceeded ELA standards compared to 12% of LAUSD comparison schools. The data is sourced from the LAUSD-provided tables referenced below.

In math, we see that 23% of CNHS No. 2 students met or exceeded standards in 2014-2015, relative to 18% of LAUSD comparison schools. In 2015-2016, 44% of CNHS No. 2 met or exceeded math standards compared to 20% of district comparison schools. In 2016-17, 23% of CNHS No. 2 met or exceeded math standards compared to 18% of district comparison schools, as demonstrated in the data tables provided by LAUSD, illustrated below.

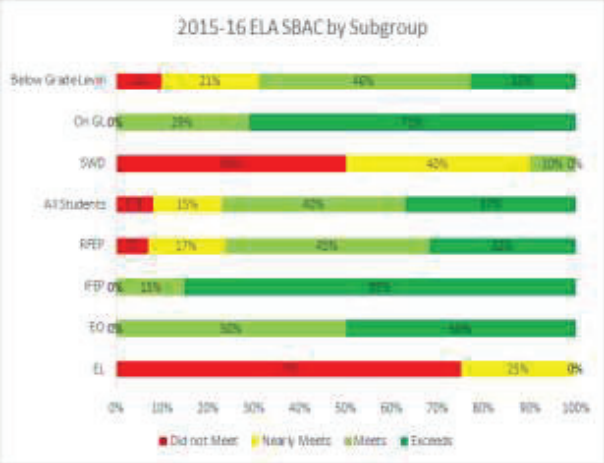
In summary, in 2016-2017, 72% of CNHS No. 2 students in the 11th grade met or exceeded the standards ELA. While these ELA proficiency scores represent a decline by 5% from 2015-2016, the school continues to outperform LAUSD resident schools' average of 44%. CNHS No. 2 will continue to focus on improving literacy skills in reading, writing, and analysis across all disciplines to best prepare students for college and beyond. In math, 23% of the CNHS No. 2 11th grade cohort met or exceeded the standards in 2016-2017. The scores went down by 21% due to changes in staffing that significantly impacted the implementation of consistent and effective instruction. As a result, the 11th grade cohort had gaps in math skills and while targeted interventions were provided for some of our most struggling students, there was limited time for remediation to overcome the significant gaps acquired.

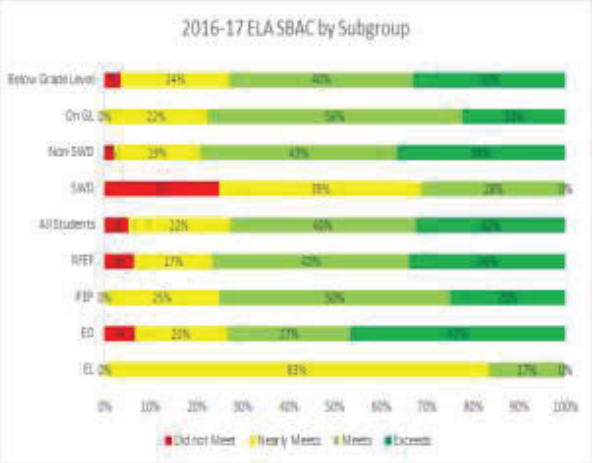
The immediate steps taken by the school to address this decline include offering remediation courses during summer school and targeted intervention and core math courses for the 2017-2018 school year based on student performance. The school is addressing this decline through full adoption of College Preparatory Math (CPM), a high quality Common Core-aligned curriculum that emphasizes research-based instructional practices, for all of our math courses, cross-site implementation of CPM, ongoing professional development and collaboration among math teachers, and continuous engagement in data analysis and learning cycles to improve teacher practice in the classrooms that will ultimately improve student achievement. All math teachers, including special education teachers, also received professional development on CPM and support from the CNCA Director of Mathematics. Additionally, the school hired an assistant principal of math and science to provide targeted support for all our math teachers. Over 30K was allotted in the 2017-2018 budget to cover the costs of professional development and instructional materials (i.e. textbooks, manipulatives, online resources) for CPM.

Subgroup Data

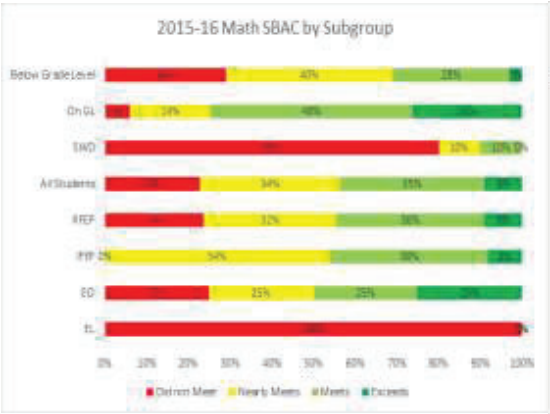
Given that the vast majority of our students are Latino/Hispanic, our subgroup data is limited to the performance of our English Language Learners and Students with Disabilities. Over the last two years, our English Language Learners and Students with Disabilities demonstrated significant growth in English and math. From 2015-2016 to 2016-2017, English Language Learners grew from 0% to 17% meeting standards in ELA. Students with disabilities grew from 10% to 28% meeting standards in ELA. The stack bar graphs below demonstrate this growth.

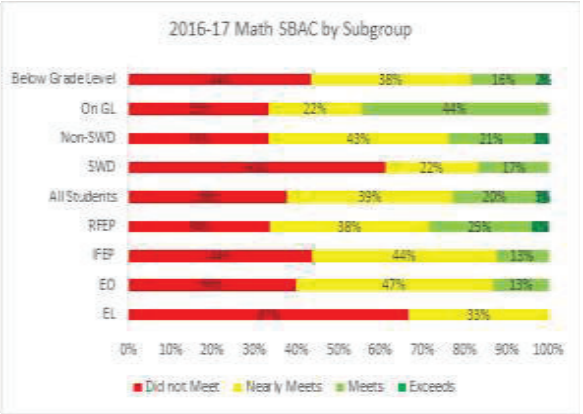
CA State SBAC Data





From 2015-2016 to 2016-2017, English Language Learners grew from 100% did not meet standards in math to 33% nearly met standards in math. Students with Disabilities grew from 10% to 17% meeting or exceeding standards in math. The stack bar graphs below demonstrate this growth.





Reading-Level Data

Improving the literacy skills of all of our students is an ongoing priority for the school. We have witnessed impressive literacy and level growth over the last several years, yet we recognize the need to continue to focus our efforts in this area so that a far greater percentage of our students are reading above grade level. For example, during the 2016-17 school year, the percentage of students reading at or above grade level grew from 19% to 30%*.

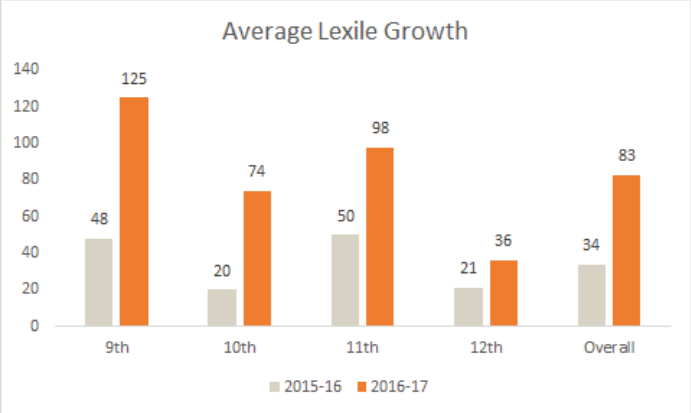
Additionally, in 2015-2016, there was an average growth of 34 Lexile points school wide. In 2016-2017, the average grew by more than 100% to 83 Lexile points school wide.



*Achieve3000 Level Set Lexile Assessment

In efforts to continuously improve student reading levels, CNHS No. 2 is committed to providing targeted reading intervention for students who are not reading at or above grade-level. The school administers school-wide reading level assessments three times a year to monitor reading-level progress. All teachers are provided professional development on how to support struggling readers in their classrooms. Additionally, reading intervention teachers are provided time for analysis and planning. All students engage in an online reading program to continue to support literacy development, and targeted reading support (e.g. phonics and fluency support) is provided for high-needs students, especially ELLs and SWDs.

Graduation Rates and College Acceptance

CNHS No. 2's first graduating class graduated in 2014. Since then, the school's seniors have graduated and been accepted in to four-year colleges at exceptionally high rates for all three graduating classes. An average of 79% of seniors have been accepted into four-year colleges and 100% of seniors graduate meeting A-G requirements. The cohort graduation rate was 100% in 2015 and 2016, and 99% in 2017. LAUSD comparison schools had a median cohort graduation rate of 77%. The table below demonstrates the rate at which our seniors are accepted and matriculate to two- and four-year colleges. Almost 100% of our graduates matriculate in to a two- and four-year college.

Ultimately, our goal is for our students to matriculate in to a higher education institution and also to graduate from a four-year college. As an organization, Camino Nuevo Charter Academy, intends for 2000 graduates to have graduated from a four-year institution by the year 2022. Therefore, through support of Pueblo Nuevo Education Development Group (PN-EDG), our partner organization, CNCA alumni receive college counseling and other academic and personal support post-high school graduation and during their transition to higher education. All seniors participate in an all-day transition day event in partnership with neighboring charter schools to help students build a network with scholars also attending their prospective campuses, and learn the information needed to prevent summer melt. An alumni coordinator meets regularly with CNCA alumni to assist in their course selection, financial aid applications, graduation checks and career development and applications. Our alumni also return to our campuses to share their college experiences with current students and continue to motivate our students to pursue higher education.

Other Performance Indicators: External Accolades

While we are laser-focused on meeting and exceeding internal and state benchmarks for success, we are also appreciative of the external recognition we have received over the term of this petition and believe the recognitions speak to our ability to comprehensively prepare our students for college and beyond:

Innovative Practices

CNHS No. 2 aims to support the whole child through innovative practices around instruction, teacher collaboration, college readiness, experiential learning opportunities, and parent engagement.

Instruction: CNHS No. 2 focuses heavily on literacy and has created a literacy framework that is embedded into the core instruction across multiple disciplines. The literacy framework incorporates strategic vocabulary instruction, multiple ways to help students break down and analyze text, and writing. All of our students also use Achieve3000, an online reading program, to help increase student reading levels through a consistent and meaningful application of the program during all four years of our students' high school career. CNHS No. 2 also uses a standards-based grading system where instructors assign grades based on students' proficiency on core standards for each class and not based on the accumulation of scores on assessments. This allows instructors to observe and assess students' proficiency levels on standards with precision, identify specific areas for needed support, and incorporate the data and observations into their re-teaching plans. Students are also given opportunities for reassessment to gain levels of proficiency throughout the year.

Each year, approximately 13-15% of our student population are students with disabilities (SWDs), most of which have mild to moderate disabilities. Approximately 14% of our student population had an IEP during the 2016-2017 school year. Dynamic Blended Inclusions is the framework used to determine special education programming for our students. It is similar to the Response to Intervention (RTI) approach in that it is rooted in flexible, data-driven, targeted support and on-going progress monitoring.

Ultimately, a student's specific program and services are determined by the IEP team based on a student's least restrictive environment. We strive to include students in the general education setting to the full extent possible, but each student has a unique program based on his or her individual needs, and therefore those students with a data-based need for intensive remediation receive that within a small group or 1:1 learning center. Through a robust co-planning and co-teaching model, students receive differentiated instruction and accommodations to ensure their success in the general education classroom settings. As a result, 100% of our SWDs graduate meeting A-G requirements as this is our graduation requirement, and through our model, our special education teachers, teachers' aides, and general education teachers monitor ongoing progress and provide targeted support to ensure our SWDs pass their classes in order to meet A-G requirements. 13 out of 13 SWDs from the class of 2015 graduated meeting A-G requirements, and 46% of them were accepted into a four-year university/college. 17 out of 17 SWDs from the following Class of 2016 graduated meeting A-G requirements, and 41% of them were accepted into a four-year university/college. While we still have a lot of work to do to ensure our SWDs are college ready and college bound, our robust special program has provided access, confidence, and many opportunities for our SWDs.

Teacher Collaboration: CNHS No. 2 furthered its efforts to increase student literacy through the implementation of "Professional Learning Communities" in order to increase cross-disciplinary literacy practices. This effort to create a PLC at CNHS No. 2 is part of a larger push to integrate literacy standards into History and Science courses to increase literacy across all subject-areas. Our push to increase cross-disciplinary literacy practices through PLCs has led the formation of Common Formative Assessments-- which have proven invaluable in helping us determine how are students are performing in their literacy skills across all four grade levels, and to plan accordingly. Teacher investment in our literacy push across disciplines has also increased due to authentic PLC collaboration.

College Readiness: CNHS No. 2 offers unique courses and programs including iGraduate for grades 9-11, Senior Seminar, college visits, college and career fairs, and financial literacy guest educators, to round out our college preparatory program. Through iGraduate courses, students in grades 9th to 11th learn about the college preparation process, explore college and career options, prepare for college-entrance exams and the college application process, and learn about and apply to summer college programs and financial aid opportunities. All 11th graders also receive free PSAT and SAT Preparation from Study Smarts Tutors during their iGraduate time. Finally, all classes incorporate a college readiness strand through the focus on literacy.

Teachers facilitate lessons around Achieve 3000 and reading and writing strategies to help students access college-level reading text after high school. Students also experience and complete the college application process in their Senior Seminar course.

In addition, all students participate in at least two college field trips per school-year to a variety of public and private California colleges and also receive 1:1 college and academic counseling for hands-on support through their high school courses and the college application and selection process. CNHS No. 2 also offers 11 Advanced Placements and college-level courses through our partnership with Los Angeles City College to provide opportunities for our students to graduate high school with college-level credit. While we recognize that many of our students might be the first in their family to have the opportunity to go to college, we strive to support our students and families in becoming knowledgeable about their post-secondary options and supporting them through the transition. As a result, approximately 80% of each graduating class were accepted into four-year colleges and universities.

Experiential Learning Opportunities: Each year, 100% of our students are engaged in experiential learning outside of the classroom setting through a myriad of ways to increase civic engagement and exposure to the world: community service to give back to the community, grade-level camping trip to build a sense of community and culture, urban agriculture learning through community garden projects, internships for career exploration and to build work-related skills, in-state and out-of-state college trips, educational trips to Europe, student clubs to build advocacy skills, and other course-related field trips to enhance the learning in the classrooms.

Every student is also enrolled in a single-gender, multi-grade level advisory class called iConnect, a small, more intimate class where every student on campus can connect with an adult and other students in a more authentic setting than the normal classroom. Students develop personal character and receive information regarding health and wellness and study skills, and they engage in a variety of fun, interactive activities designed to build our school community. A crucial part of these classes involves character education where students learn about the six character pillars (trustworthiness, fairness, responsibility, respect, caring and citizenship). iConnect classes also include sex education and drug resistance awareness education, and anti-bullying education. Every student also has the opportunity to complete an internship outside of school to provide students with workplace skills in a real-world environment. Additionally, the program is designed to provide local organizations with a well-supported intern who provides a modest return on investment.

Parent Engagement: Our parents are our most important partners, as we believe they have the most pivotal role in the academic, emotional, and social lives of our students. In order to foster our partnership with them and ensure they have the necessary tools to support their children, we offer our parents various opportunities to become involved in our school. Parents are invited to serve as school volunteers, assist with supervision, serve as field trip chaperones, participate in classroom presentations, help organize events, and attend family events. We also offer a robust series of workshops weekly, which are facilitated by staff or community organizations. We offer interactive workshops on a variety of topics such as communication with their teenage child, nutrition, parenting skills, and college preparation. Through ongoing outreach and communication with families, in 2016-2017, close to 70% of our parents and families have participated in workshops and/or completed volunteer hours.

Areas of Challenge

During the past five years, CNHS No. 2 experienced challenges in improving math achievement, reading levels, and Advanced Placement (AP) pass rates, at various points along the way. While we've made significant growth in SBA math performance in 2015-2016, the drop in 2016-2017 indicates the need to continue to strategically address this challenge through a newly-adopted CCSS-aligned math curriculum, effective instructional practices, professional development and collaboration amongst math teachers, and continuous engagement in data analysis and learning cycles to improve teacher practice in the classrooms that will ultimately improve student achievement.

CNHS No. 2 has also created a new literacy framework to be implemented in all core English, history, science, and art courses to ensure students are able to access complex text, engage in critical thinking and analysis and articulate their learning through speaking and writing. Professional development and planning and collaboration time amongst content-related teachers will continue to be provided for teachers to build capacity to improve reading levels and literacy skills amongst our students.

The need to improve AP pass rates will also be addressed through rigorous preparation and focus on reading and writing across the curriculum in non-AP courses, improving student reading levels to help students access rigorous text in AP courses, continuous monitoring of progress of student performance in A-G courses, and ongoing professional development and time for collaboration for AP teachers. Appropriate funds will be allocated in the budget to ensure all instructional materials and textbooks are purchased to support the new math curriculum, pull-out days for data analysis and planning are provided for teachers, and teachers are provided or able to attend relevant trainings and professional development.

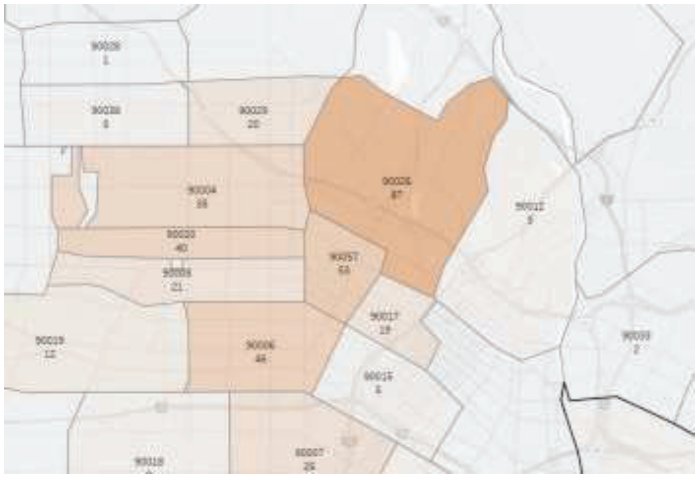
Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 is located at 3500 W. Temple St., Los Angeles, CA, 90004, and serves grades 9-12. Enrollment at Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 has ranged between 460 and 475 students since opening the school in August 2013.

The majority of families at CNHS No. 2 qualify as socioeconomically disadvantaged as indicated by 97% of its students receiving free or reduced lunch. Students reside in some of the most historically underserved areas of Central Los Angeles, including the communities of MacArthur Park, Pico-Union, the Wilshire Corridor, and Echo Park where the annual family income is among the lowest in the city. The map below provides an overview of the neighborhoods in which a majority of our students live. The darker colors reflect a higher percentage of CNHS No. 2 students.



These families face substantial social and economic challenges typically associated with poverty and minority status. The community we serve has one of the highest percentages of severe overcrowding in the city, the greatest concentration of single parent households (50-88%, over twice the city average), the highest non-fluency in English (40-66% speak English “not well” or “not at all”), and the lowest availability of automobiles (housing units with no vehicle available ranges from 46 to 90% -- more than three times the city average) in the city of Los Angeles. Foreign-born residents represent 61% of the community, compared with 11% in the United States. Annual income within this district is the lowest in Los Angeles: the median income is $11,475. The poverty rate in the area is 35%, compared with a citywide rate of 18%. Rentals represent 82% of housing units in the neighborhood versus 34% nationally (LA County Children’s Planning Council, 2000).

Five-Year Enrollment

CNHS No. 2 serves students in grades nine through twelve. Starting in the 2018-2019 school year, the school will matriculate approximately 120 ninth grade students each year. At enrollment capacity, CNHS No. 2 will approximately serve 460 students. The table below shows CNHS No. 2 projected five-year enrollment.

Projected Enrollment

	Grade 9	Grade 10	Grade 11	Grade 12	Total

Goals and Philosophy

The mission of Camino Nuevo Charter Academy is to educate students in a college preparatory program to be literate, critical thinkers, independent problem solvers and agents of social justice with sensitivity to the world around them. The network of Camino Nuevo schools embody this mission through our developmental bilingual program, authentic literacy and conceptual math frameworks, and our continuum of care that addresses the needs of the whole child.

Specifically, at Camino Nuevo High School No. 2, our vision is centered on our scholarly community: We are a community of scholars who find ourselves, build and support others and together strive for excellence.

Lastly, the vision encompasses the three overarching expectations of our scholars, the Schoolwide Learner Outcomes: Camino Nuevo Scholars will be self-reflective, critical thinkers, and agents of social change.

What It Means To "Be an Educated Person in the 21st Century"

An educated person in the 21st century must possess a diverse set of characteristics and skills in order to function in an increasingly global society. An educated person requires advanced levels of literacy and mathematical skills to be college and career-ready and to successfully navigate both their personal and professional lives. They require strong critical thinking skills to evaluate and synthesize the abundance of available information. Adolescents entering the adult world in the 21st century require a firm grasp of technology through regular exposure and access to computers and technological tools. As societies become increasingly more interdependent across cultures and languages, bilingualism and biliteracy will prepare educated citizens to function in a global economy. The educated person must possess a strong command of the emotional intelligences in order to communicate effectively, work well in teams with people of diverse backgrounds, and collectively solve problems. Ultimately, an educated person in the 21st century must possess the capacity to draw upon their educational and experiential background to make decisions that positively impact themselves and the world around them.

How Learning Best Occurs

CNHS No. 2 believes that learning best occurs in a small, safe, student-centered environment where diversity is valued and risk-taking is supported. Additionally, CNHS No. 2 believes that there are a number of key concepts that drive our practices. Specifically, CNHS No. 2 approaches learning from a conceptual framework known as the Triangle for Academic Success.

The Triangle for Academic Success is visualized in the figure to the right. Within this conceptual framework, CNHS No. 2 believes that language development, literacy development, and standards based learning are the heart of the work. Specifically, this conceptual framework is based on the specific student population served. However, CNHS No. 2 believes that academics are only one part of how learning best occurs. CNHS No. 2 approaches this work from believing that academic learning is strengthened when families are partners in the work, when students' whole self and needs are met, and when learning experiences extend beyond the classroom.

CNHS No. 2 believes that this approach builds students' self-confidence and self-reliance and supports their success in being an educated in the 21st century.

A Teacher's Role at CNHS No. 2

A teacher's role is to maintain high expectations for all students while acting as a facilitator who ensures that every child is working towards grade level mastery. Educators are encouraged and supported to use innovative teaching methods and collaborate on curriculum and school governance. In addition, we believe that the student's families and parents are their first teachers and that we must work together to achieve the goals we have set for our students.

School Goals

Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 is committed to providing college access to the students and families we serve. We do this by ensuring every student has a rigorous academic experience every day. In addition, our staff also focuses on fostering a school climate and culture that prioritizes academic rigor, community, family and the development of diverse cultural experiences and critical social perspectives. With these two goals, Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 will help students not only obtain the knowledge needed to be successful after high school but also have an internal motivation to continue to strive for success long after they move on from our school. With a thoughtful approach to this work, our school is working to make these goals a reality.

Over the course of the 2016-2017 and 2017-2018 school years, we have begun to ensure that all classrooms provide this rigorous academic experience through the implementation of aligned instructional frameworks for literacy across the content areas and for math instruction. These frameworks seek to ensure that students engage in authentic reading, text-based and problem-solving discussions, and meaningful writing experiences in all classrooms. Given that reading, critical thinking, and effective communication skills are ubiquitous competencies required for a wide-range of post-graduate pursuits, we believe that prioritizing the implementation of these frameworks will ensure that students are able to achieve college and career success.

In order to ensure that our students have access to the rigorous academic experience that these frameworks provide, we also prioritize academic support classes to address our students' language and literacy needs. CNHS No. 2 has a robust English language development program that uses the Systematic ELD curriculum. Students engage in language development in an authentic format that places an emphasis on student talk and the transference of these oral skills to academic writing. In addition, all students in grades 9-12 receive reading support though the use of Achieve3000, which is a computer-based program aimed at developing students' non-fiction reading and text-based analysis skills. Reading development time is built into every student's daily schedule.

Parent, family and community outreach is also critical to building a culture of academic excellence. In the community we serve, the message of college access for all and building a love a lifelong learning must emanate from within the school's walls and project outward to the community it serves. To do this, CNHS No. 2 has strategic focus areas that are designed to engage all stakeholder groups and build strong partnerships within the surrounding community. The school has a full time Family Services Coordinator (FSC) position that provides support services to engage and partner with parents. The Family Services Coordinator holds workshops on topics such as wellness, social/emotional development, and college knowledge. The FSC works with the school's administrators to educate parents and families about how to provide positive incentives for students to be on time to school and ready to engage in learning every day. Lastly, our FSC and Dean of Culture facilitate a multitude of enrichment activities such as whole school college fieldtrips, community outreach experiences, and summer internship programs. During these events, students experience college life, work with community organizations and develop real world experiences in professional employment settings. By coupling rigorous learning experiences with a culture of high achievement, CNHS No. 2 is providing the tools and environment necessary to ensure success in life after high school.

Enabling students to be self-motivated, competent, and lifelong learners

The school's first goal to improve college access and college readiness through a rigorous academic program is designed to ensure that students acquire the necessary literacy, language, math, and critical thinking skills to be competent scholars in college and beyond. This goal will be achieved through:

- Targeted interventions for students struggling with reading, language, and math and monitoring student progress
- Professional development for teachers and staff
- Implementation of Literacy Instructional Framework across content areas
- Hiring highly qualified teachers

The school's second goal to foster a positive school climate and culture is designed to ensure the conditions for students to be self-motivated and become lifelong learners. This goal will be achieved through:

- Implementation of support structures to improve student attendance and reduce suspension rates (e.g. advisory classes, community partnerships, counseling services, positive behavior interventions)
- Offering meaningful extra-curricular opportunities to provide relevance to students (e.g. internships, after-school programs, field trips)
- Encouraging and incorporating parent and family participation to promote a positive culture of learning

Instructional Design

CNHS No. 2 believes that students learn best in a place-based, rich holistic educational environment. Our curricular and instructional design approach is first in deeply knowing our students, their needs, and their backgrounds. This approach is called our Place-Based approach and includes our approach to serving the mental health needs of students, experiential learning, families as partners, and college readiness. This holistic approach to serving our students is based on the work of multiple scholars in the field. One notable scholar, Pedro Noguera, discusses poverty's effect on student's schooling experience. Namely, Noguera researches approaches to educating students who come from poverty that includes meeting their social and psychological needs as well. CNHS No. 2's core instructional approach includes access to all components that ensure the social and psychological needs of all students are met. Examples of this discussed in other elements of this petition include i-grad, i-connect, Senior Seminar. From a staffing perspective, the school employs a Dean of Student Services and a Student and Family Services Coordinator who together serve as case managers for the needs of students. Additionally, CNHS No. 2 has full-time mental health counselor and partners with a number of outside partners to provide in-house mental health resources to students. Finally, our teaching staff teach i-grad and i-connect to students.

From an academic and instructional point of view, CNHS No. 2 is committed to the successful implementation of the Common Core State Standards. We also believe that the teacher is the most critical key lever for student success and that no set curriculum meets the needs of all students in the classroom. Therefore, we hire staff that share our commitment to the Common Core standards and our philosophy that teachers must "own their craft" by continuously reflecting on their effectiveness in the classroom and seeking out best practices in pedagogy. CNHS No. 2 staffs positions by hiring appropriately credentialed subject teachers for each of the content areas. All students at CNHS No. 2 have full access to A-G requirements, AP courses, and other elective based courses throughout their freshman-senior year. Additional information on detailed course offerings is found in section 12.

In his book, What Works in Schools: Translating Research Into Action, Robert Marzano identifies a "guaranteed and viable curriculum" as the school-level factor with the most significant impact on student achievement (2003). In our effort to yield the greatest student achievement gains in the shortest amount of time, the Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 leadership team maintains a strong commitment to ensuring a guaranteed and viable curriculum for all students. We ensure the quality of instruction for every student by guaranteeing what gets taught through teacher-created Common Core aligned standards based pacing plans and how it gets taught through consistent professional development around pedagogy that meets the needs of our learners. The development of CCSS aligned pacing plans occurs and will continue to occur during five days of professional development prior to the start each school year and continue throughout the year during weekly professional development sessions led by the Principal and team members from CNCA's Home Office Staff.

Another key tenet of our approach to teaching and learning is the use of ongoing formative and summative data to inform instructional practices. Teachers participate in ongoing professional learning communities with both their grade-level and departments. This structure is based on the scholarly work of Dufour, and Marzano and is grounded in the importance of school communities focused on four questions: 1) What will students know, 2) How will we know they know it, 3) What will we do when they don't, and 4) What will we do when they do?. To this end, each departmental team uses ongoing common formative assessments and student-level data to make instructional decisions in a timely manner.

Curriculum and Instruction

As described above, CNHS No. 2 has started the work of co-constructing and implementing math and literacy frameworks. These instructional frameworks are based off of the leaders in in the fields of education. The literacy framework is derived from Mike Schmoker's "Authentic Literacy Template," as described in his book Focus (2011). CNHS No. 2 teachers are committed to implementing this literacy framework to fidelity and building the school's collective capacity to address the literacy needs of the students it serves.

The instructional framework for math at CNHS No. 2 is derived from the Standards for Mathematical Practice, a collection of mathematical practices synthesized at the national level by leading experts in mathematical pedagogy. CNHS No. 2 uses a conceptual approach to the instruction of math. Moreover, the math department has moved to the full implementation of the College Prep Math curriculum in grades 9-12. This program reinforces the conceptual foundations of the SMP.

However, the school also recognizes the need for all departments to focus on curricular development and provides time in the year for that work to take place. At the beginning of the academic year, the CNHS No. 2 staff was organized into departments based on academic categories; i.e. Math Department, Social Science Department, Science Department, English Department, and Arts/Foreign Language (AFL) Department. These laterally-aligned departments were tasked with strategically choosing which academic skills they would have students develop over the span of their high school career. Some of these skills are trans-discipline (i.e. students will practice citing evidence to substantiate an argument or claim from 9-12th grade in their English, Social Science, and Science courses), while other skills were selected so students continually build and expand upon prior knowledge as they move from grade level to grade level. The majority of the skills across disciplines come exclusively from the new Common Core curriculum framework. The RSP (Resource Specialist Program) Department works from Jan Johnston-Tyler's text "The CEO of Self" as a guide to decide which executive functions they assess by grade level (2014). The English Language Development (ELD) teachers utilize Susana Dutro's "Systematic English Language Development" framework to assess student's progress on English language acquisition. The Art and Foreign Language Departments draw from various sources to construct their assessments, including AP standards and A-G requirements.

With the adoption of the Common Core standards within the various departments, we chose to create Common Formative Assessments (CFAs) around the academic skills to trace the academic improvement on targeted skills of student cohorts as they move through grade levels. The CFAs are further graded on teacher created rubrics, which attempt to mirror undergraduate expectations and common practices. The objective of the CFAs and rubrics is to get an accurate sense of how prepared our student population is in terms of demonstrating specific skills for college readiness. After administering the CFAs, departments analyze their results and then adjusts instruction accordingly so that the next cohort can improve upon these skills.

In terms of content, all departments cross-reference the primary, literary, and otherwise academic sources before finalizing the appropriate content for their respective courses and assessments: Common Core content standards, the "power standards" of the former CST state exam, and AP curriculum content. Some of the broad criteria that influence the final decisions on content include: academic rigor, relevance to the digital economy of the twenty-first century, and relevance to national and global sociopolitical issues.

In brief, each department strategically chooses and negotiates academic content that best represents and aligns to Common Core expectations. They then assess specific skills on this content using teacher-created CFAs that gauge college readiness every semester. Each department analyzes the results of the CFAs and then adjust instruction accordingly so that students can score higher on these specific skills on their next CFA. In this manner, the CNHS No. 2 staff aims to establish consistency between academic content and skills so as to prepare students to thrive in a college environment.

Courses Offered at CNHS No. 2

World History
A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

The Greek-origin of the term "History" means to "acquire knowledge through investigation". History is simply the study and interpretation of recorded past events. Its purpose is to help you develop analytical skills that you can apply to other fields of study and to help you understand how societies and nations interact and impact each other beginning from the Enlightenment of the Eighteenth century through the dawn of the Twenty-first century.

U.S. Government
A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

A well-designed course in United States Government and Politics will give students an historical and an analytical perspective on government and politics in the United States. This course includes both the study of general concepts used to interpret U.S. government and politics and the analysis of specific examples. It also requires familiarity with the various institutions, groups, beliefs, and ideas that constitute U.S. government and politics. English

English 9

A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

English 9 at CNHS No. 2 focuses on teaching students skills and strategies for independent reading and writing of complex expository and narrative texts. With support from lessons in Critical Reading, Writing, and Communication, students will analyze expository and literary texts that cover a wide range of interrelated, culturally relevant, and high interest topics. Students will read fiction (Romeo and Juliet and Perks of Being a Wallflower) and nonfiction (units based around juvenile justice and media manipulation). Key unit themes include cultural literacy, the complexity of human nature, juvenile rights and justice, and LGBT rights and equality. The course utilizes balanced literacy instructional approaches, integrating reading, writing, and analysis in interpreting texts through Common Core standards. Students are provided with multiple opportunities to articulate their own ideas as well as to question, interpret, and evaluate others' ideas through structured preparation for discussion and numerous persuasive, evidence-based essays. The goal of instruction is to support students in becoming independent, strategic, critical readers, writers, listeners, and speakers who communicate effectively in various forms, for genuine purposes, and to authentic audiences.

CSU Expository Reading and Writing
A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course. Course adopted from California State University (CSU) Early Assessment Program (EAP).

The goal of the Expository Reading and Writing Course (ERWC) is to prepare college-bound seniors for the literacy demands of higher education. Students in this yearlong, rhetoric-based course develop advanced proficiency in expository, analytical, and argumentative reading and writing. The cornerstone of the course—the ERWC Assignment Template—presents a scaffolded process for helping students read, comprehend, and respond to nonfiction and literary texts. The twelve instructional modules in the ERWC—from which adopting schools select eight-to-ten—are organized by semester. Most modules include multiple reading selections on a topic, often representing different genres. Course texts include contemporary essays, newspaper and magazine articles, editorials, reports, interviews, memos, assorted public documents, scholarly studies, and other nonfiction texts. Three modules include full-length works—a work of nonfiction in semester one and two novels in semester two. Adopting schools must select one full-length work in each semester. Schools are strongly encouraged to select modules in sequence and to consider the balance of text types and writing assignments in the eight-to-ten modules they select. All modules integrate text-based grammar study with rhetorical reading and writing; schools are strongly encouraged to incorporate these lessons based on the needs of their students. Modules also provide instruction in research methods and documentation conventions. Students will be expected to increase their awareness of the rhetorical strategies employed by authors and to apply those strategies to their own writing. They will read closely to examine the relationship between an author's argument or theme and his or her audience and purpose; to analyze the impact of structural and rhetorical strategies; and to examine the social, political, and philosophical assumptions that underlie the text. By the end of the course, students will be expected to use this process independently when reading unfamiliar texts and writing in response to them.

Advanced Placement courses also available for English Language and Composition, and English Literature and Composition.

Mathematics

Algebra I

A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

This is a first year algebra course where students will learn to reason logically and symbolically. The key content involves writing, solving, and graphing linear and quadratic equations, including systems of two linear equations with more than one unknown. In this course quadratic equations are solved by factoring, completing the square, graphically, or by applying the quadratic formula. The roots of the quadratic equations are represented graphically and algebraically as solutions. The course also includes study of monomial and polynomial expressions, inequalities, exponents, functions, rational expressions, ratio, and proportion. Algebraic skills are applied in a wide variety of problem-solving situations. This course motivates the application of algebraic skills to reason logically and symbolically in a quest to solve real world scenarios and problems.

Algebra II

A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

Algebra 2 is a challenging year long course, which provides an introduction to higher mathematics. Students will learn to solve systems of linear equations and inequalities by using the properties of the real number system, and imaginary number system. Graphing will be emphasized using for systems of linear equations, systems of linear inequalities and complex numbers. Problem solving with logarithms will be used though out this course.

Calculus

A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

Calculus AB is primarily concerned with developing the students' understanding of the concepts of calculus and providing experience with its methods and applications. The course emphasizes a multi-representational approach to calculus, with concepts, results, and problems being expressed graphically, numerically, analytically, and verbally. The connections among these representations also are important. Topics include: (1) functions, graphs, and limits; (2) derivatives; and (3) integrals. Technology is used regularly by students and teachers to reinforce the relationships among the multiple representations of functions, to confirm written work, to implement experimentation, and to assist in interpreting results.

Advanced Placement course also available for Calculus AB and BC.

College Mathematics
A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

This is a rigorous, college preparatory math course that covers topics from a variety of fields. In an aim to make students mathematically literate citizens with a sense of informed agency, this course takes students through application. This goal will be accomplished by analyzing the stock market, businesses, banking, credit, and taxation as well as carbon dioxide concentrations on the earth and in the oceans, global warming and deforestation. They will also look at the application of trigonometry and the concept of limits to real-life situations. The lenses of financial literacy and environmental husbandry are particularly appropriate for CNHS No. 2 students as CNHS No. 2 seniors are expected to take Economics and AP Environmental Science. Mathematic topics used in these explorations include: Representing Data and Math Modeling, Polynomial Functions, Rational Functions, Geometry, Advanced Trigonometry, Exponential Functions, Logarithmic Functions, Statistical Analysis, Matrices, Limits.
This course is a third-year college prep, applied mathematics course. Students in this course are expected to have a firm grasp of concepts through Algebra 2, and to be prepared to deal with concepts that build on previous learning and explore linear algebra, trigonometry and calculus. The concepts are presented within the study of real-world applications The purpose of this course is to give the student an appreciation of the usefulness of the subject matter through a variety of applied problems from many disciplines. Students will also be prepared for a college level math placement exam. Topics covered throughout the year include: Representing Data and Math Modeling, Polynomial Functions, Rational Functions, Geometry and Triangle Trigonometry, Exponential Functions, Logarithmic Functions, Statistical Analysis, Matrices, Trigonometry & Limits.

Geometry
A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

The geometry curriculum serves to enhance geometric skills and understanding. The course will support students as they develop their ability to construct formal arguments and logical proofs using both inductive and deductive reasoning in a project based, ‘discovery’ learning environment. The students will study plane and solid geometry with an emphasis on methods of problem formulation and problem solving and the use of Algebra 1 in geometric settings. Students will be given the chance to use geometry in real life applications.

Pre-Calculus
A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

This discipline combines many of the trigonometric, geometric, and algebraic techniques needed to prepare students for the study of calculus and strengthens their conceptual understanding of problems and mathematical reasoning in solving problems. These standards take a functional point of view toward those topics. The most significant new concept is that of limits. Mathematical analysis is often combined with a course in trigonometry or perhaps with one in linear algebra to make a year-long pre-calculus course. Trigonometry uses the techniques that students have previously learned from the study of algebra and geometry. The trigonometric functions studied are defined geometrically rather than in terms of algebraic equations. Facility with these functions as well as the ability to prove basic identities regarding them is especially important for students intending to study calculus, more advanced mathematics, physics and other sciences, and engineering in college.

Laboratory Science

Biology
A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

Students will demonstrate the ability to use scientific skills and biological concepts to explain living organisms at cellular and organ/system level, their interactions with the environment, and their life cycle. Core concepts of the biology course:

1. Cell Biology- Living organisms are composed of cells. Cellular units are composed of molecules that serve as building blocks and energy source. Cells obtain energy from different sources to carry out their function.
2. Genetics - Organisms contain genetic information that is passed on to their offspring during reproduction. The genetic information influences traits of offspring leading to uniqueness and diversity found on earth.
3. Evolution- The diversity and variations within organisms serve as a raw material for evolution. The organism with variation favorable to surrounding is selected leading to changes in characteristics of organisms in a population.
4. Ecology - Organisms in an ecosystem are interdependent on each other and their environment for obtaining energy.
5. Physiology - Cells within an organism specialize to form organs/system. Various systems coordinate with each other for effective functioning of body as a whole.

Advanced Placement course also available.

Chemistry
A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

The course is designed to be a laboratory-based course in chemistry. The level of instruction is to be at a level that will provide adequate preparation for entry into a college level chemistry class. The class will cover the nature of chemistry as a science, and experimental methods. The strands that will be covered are: Atomic Theory, Theory of the Periodic Table, Theories of Chemical Bonding, Stoichiometry (including oxidation reductions), Gas Laws, Theories of Equilibrium (Keqt, Kw, Ka, pH), Energy Theories, and organic chemistry.

Environmental Science
A-G approved, Core and College-preparatory course

Environmental science offers students a real world opportunity to discover and understand principles of scientific methodologies, biology, and chemistry required to understand the interrelationships of the natural world. Students, working individually and in teams, participate in a series of hands-on experimental projects to identify and analyze environmental problems, both natural and human-made, to evaluate the relative risks associated with this problems and to examine alternative solutions for resolving or preventing them. These projects provide a foundation for data collection, analysis, reflection, presentations and technical writing skills. Through these experiences, students hone critical thinking, communication, collaboration, creativity and college readiness skills while learning key environmental science concepts.

Instructional Methods & Strategies

The primary instructional methods and strategies implemented at CNHS No. 2 are described in our instructional frameworks for literacy across the content areas and math. In addition, the instructional staff create an academic environment grounded in inquiry-based instruction. This is facilitated through a variety of manners; however, the core, cross-curriculum and subject methods of engaging all students in this process is demonstrated through the use of small group instruction, visual exemplars, and project based learning that emphasizes student led instruction.

Literacy Framework

Our approach to literacy instruction, which is implemented across the content areas, is based on Mike Schmoker's "Authentic Literacy Template," which he described in his book Focus (2011). This instructional method features the following stages of an authentic literacy cycle: teaching vocabulary, setting the purpose for reading, teacher modeling of reading skills, guided and independent reading practice, text-based discussion, and writing. While this framework is new to the teachers of CNHS No. 2, we are striving to implement all of the aforementioned steps throughout the course of a week in all non-math classes.

Math Framework

Similarly, we have developed a Balanced Math Framework over the course of the past year and are striving to implement it in all math classrooms. The foundational instructional practices of this framework include: strategies to encourage and support student talk, collaborative groups, and a rich mathematical environment characterized by anchor charts, math word walls, and student work. These instructional practices are coupled with a strategic planning approach geared toward inquiry-driven instruction. Lessons are planned to support students' problem solving and inquiry within a given task. Teachers achieve this by setting the stage for effective collaborative problem solving, providing ample time and structures for this collaborative work to occur, and facilitating a student-led discussion and reflection of the task in order to solidify learning.

Small Group Instruction

Small group instruction, which teachers are working to norm across all content areas, can be seen in pockets throughout the school. We are working to make small group instruction a cornerstone of the instruction at Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 and we pride ourselves in embodying a dynamic blended inclusion model. This research-based instructional method of engaging with students has proven effective in a number of manners. Most importantly, this method of instruction allows for instructors to efficiently and with greater precision, differentiate student learning. They are able to do this by allowing for students that need extra practice with the material (whether due to general difficulty with the material, special learning needs, language needs, or simply absence) to have that extra time and space without detracting too greatly from the class' pacing plan.

Furthermore, while that group is remediating, the instructor is given the opportunity to implement an enrichment activity that further enhances student understanding for those that have mastered the specific skill/concept being taught. This instructional method allows for more individualized student attention between the student and instructor, which has been proven to be important for all types of student learners, whether advanced or those that need specific assistance such as those that have a specific learning and language need. Since implementing this model of instruction, one can notice a notable upward trend of both student engagement and achievement across all content areas and all types of learners. One other noteworthy aspect to this model is the fact that it allows for the learner to focus on the task in a smaller and often times quieter learning environment. Anecdotally, it is also worth noting that the small group model of instruction has been effective in terms of decreasing feelings of alienation and stigma among students with special learning needs because they are often paired with students of different abilities. This is particularly true in times when small group instruction is paired with the next item to be discussed, project based learning.

Project-Based Learning

In order to effectively meet the needs of all learners, many instructors across content areas have implemented project based learning as a manner of engaging with all learners. This can be seen in activities ranging from creating a multi-dimensional poster, scripting their own play based on an issue, conducting research, or painting a mural. Like in the case of small group instruction, this is a research and data driven initiative that has proven, over time, to be an effective manner of allowing for all types of student learners (examples: visual, kinesthetic, auditory) to participate in the learning process. Furthermore, this method allows students to demonstrate both mastery and their understanding of course materials in a manner that best reflects their strengths as a learner. While there are certainly some non-negotiables in terms of standardized testing and common assessments being implemented in the standard essay or test format, these projects allow students to more fully invest in the course material. Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 strives to provide opportunities for students to “put themselves” (either their type of learning or their personal experience) into the work that they are producing. By combining and maximizing their strengths, students are able to produce work that they can truly call their own. Finally, this is an effective method of reaching all learners on campus for a couple of reasons. It both leverages and builds upon a student's strengths, which empowers them to take on more challenging tasks found within the unit or later on in the class. Second, it has been proven through research (and at CNHS No. 2) that students most effectively learn material when they are tasked “to create knowledge” and have opportunities to teach it to their peers.

Teachers and other staff members responsible for instruction go to great lengths to provide indicators for success for each standard and skill, using specific rubrics and exemplars towards which students should strive. Clear expectations and paths/guides to success are important for students to understand how best to achieve success on an assignment. Furthermore, by having this in place, students are able to advocate for themselves and the help that they need in order to understand the material, based on their particular needs and style of learning. This is because students understand what is expected of all students (example: English Language Learners and students with specific learning disabilities) and they are able to take the necessary steps for them to reach success and mastery. Project Based Learning is effectively and fully supported by both general education teachers and the RSP staff member that are assigned to each grade level. Both parties share ownership of all student learning, which means that all student needs are addressed and proper scaffolds will be created to assist students in reaching academic goals. By having these structures in place, the RSP staff and general education are able to fully assist students in mastering the content or skill.

Standards-Based Instruction

CNHS No. 2's curriculum is centered on the CA Common Core State Standards (CCSS) across all contents. Starting in the 2015-2016 school year, the school strategically integrated the Next Generation Science Standards, as well. Grade level teams work together to ensure that that the CCSS for Informational text are successfully and explicitly integrated into science, foreign language, arts, and technical classrooms. In addition, the school's English Language Development curriculum, Systematic ELD which is utilized during Designated ELD instruction, is aligned to the 2012 California English Language Development Standards. The school will continue to broaden its use of the CA ELD standards across the instructional day as teachers and school leaders learn more about the standards in practice following the release of the English Language Proficiency Assessment for California (ELPAC), administered annually for the first time in February of 2018. The course catalog and the graduation requirements for CNHS No. 2 are aligned to meet the UC "A-G" requirements.

In order to ensure the school utilizes a standards based curriculum, CNHS No. 2 is committed to standards based grading, which evaluates students' level of mastery on specific standards rather than holistic grades. Teachers collaborate on creating rigorous rubrics that not only align with the CCSS, but also promote high level skill development to ensure college readiness. As CNHS No. 2 has moved from focusing on college access to college readiness, we have worked to ensure that all curriculum explicitly ties the standards to high expectations of student performance.

To further ensure faithful adherence to the CCSS, CNHS No. 2 has engaged in a rigorous process of developing departmental professional learning communities. As such, departments have been asked to focus on standards that contain essential college readiness skills and design common assessments across grade levels. The data from these assessments is then used to plan re-teaching strategies, create a vertically aligned curriculum, and discuss college readiness skills.

In addition to this work currently being done in all classrooms, CNHS No. 2 has developed a rigorous and competitive AP program that offers 10 distinct courses. These courses are aligned not only to relevant CCSS but also to college readiness standards as evidenced by the use of AP and university rubrics in the classrooms. Course syllabi are revised to ensure they reflect college readiness standards and are submitted to the College Board each year for approval.

Development of Technology-Related Skills and Use of Technology

Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 will strive to improve the literacy skills of its student population by providing technological exposure and access, which is found to have a critical link to literacy development. Working towards our mission and vision, students will have access to information, to other communities, and to resources through greater access to technology. Students and educators will use technology for many learning tasks. In turn, students will develop their ability to navigate computer based tests such as SBAC by developing related skills. Students will also be exposed to quarterly online Smatter Balances assessments. Students will take quarterly Smatter Balance IAB assessments to gain exposure to online testing platforms. A well-designed technological infrastructure will help to create a model 21st-century learning environment, encouraging students to learn efficiently in order to prepare to be part of a technologically-based workforce.

At Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 all teachers are equipped with a laptop computer. We also have mobile carts in every classroom and two computer labs available for student use. Students will continue learning about technology by using computers to engage in learning activities related to their current units of study. For example, the use of Achieve 3000 will strategically support student interface with social media, online expository texts and polls. Moreover, the texts that this tool provides are accessible in English, social studies and science curriculum, at reading levels from 3 to college, and in Spanish. As part of their advisory curriculum, students will learn keyboarding and office software programs. Further, Contemporary technology, including the use of tablets, will ensure students are meeting Common Core Standard expectations in this area.

Graduation Requirements

Historically, CNHS No. 2's graduation requirements met and exceeded the national and state standards as well as the A-G requirements of admission into the University of California and California State University. However, to make the rigor of our program even more explicit, the graduation requirements for the class of 2021 and beyond will be as follows:

College/Career Indicator

CNHS No.2 ensures all students meet and/or exceed the "Prepared Level" for the California College/Career Indicator Performance Levels though a multitude of course offering, supports, and targeted graduation requirements. CNHS No.2 offers eleven advanced placement classes. With this number of AP course offerings, students at CNHS No.2 have the opportunity to engage in at least one AP course and subsequent test while attending the school. Students are highly encouraged to take at least one AP course throughout their four years at CNHS No.2. Moreover, the school holds an annual AP fair to build a positive school culture around Advanced Placement classes. To graduate, Students at CNHS No.2 must complete University of California A-G criteria requirements. To ensure students complete these rigorous graduation requirements, the school closely supports and monitors student course matriculation by ensuring a 240 to 1 student to college counselor ratio. This students to counselor ratio is less than half that of the average in the state of California, 500 to 1. Lastly, ELA and Math curriculum at CNHS No.2 is aligned to CCSS for ELA and Math so that students achieve high marks of these assessments.

Intervention and Credit Recovery

- Students with fails in A-G classes must retake those courses to meet minimum graduation requirements. Fails will stay on students' historical transcripts and be included in their GPA, along with the grade for the repeated credit. Students with a history of incompletes or fails will be carefully placed in classes that meet their current and historical credit needs.
- Students with current I's and F's are required to attend service learning, academic and college trips and may not stay back to get caught up on work.
- CNHS No. 2 will ensure a robust summer school program designed to offer students an opportunity to engage in credit recovery classes and provide students with remedial classes to help them better access core content.
- CNHS No. 2 has allocated funds to provide students with online classes that can aid in the credit recovery process. While these classes are an option, the school takes great care in assigning these classes for students based on individual student's ability to succeed in this more independent learning format.
- Students transferring into CNHS No.2 meet with college counselor and/or an administrators to determine courses that will allow students to meet graduation and college entrance requirements.
- Transcripts of students who transfer to CNHS No.2 are reviewed by the college counselor before student is enrolled in classes. Previous course work is checked for accreditation and a-g alignment. Students are then enrolled in the appropriate classes that will ensure graduation and college access.

WASC Accreditation

On May 1, 2017, CNHS No. 2 received six-year WASC accreditation through June 2023.

Parent Notification of Transferable Courses

CNHS No. 2 serves high school students in grades 9-12 and meets UC/CSU course entrance requirements. The transferability of CNHS No. 2 courses, due to their A-G alignment and the school's WASC accreditation, is explained to parents as they learn about the A-G coursework alignment during student recruitment, student enrollment, and during the beginning of each school year when course requirements and their A-G alignment are communicated through the distribution of our family handbook. The student/family handbook and the enrollment contract is signed by each student and parent, and is offered digitally and in hard copy to our families in both English and Spanish. If a student decides to transfer out of CNHS No. 2, a school administrator can review the courses that transfer to the relevant A-G credit(s) with the family. College counselors ensure nearly all classes offered at CNHS No. 2 undergo the A-G approval process so that students exiting the school leave with the maximum amount of A-G accredited classes and can enroll in classes at their receiving school that will facilitate college access. Students transferring out of CNHS No. 2 are provided with copies of multiple official transcripts so to ensure the receiving school has the information necessary to enroll the exiting student into college ready classes. The school is WASC accredited ensuring all A-G approved classes are acceptable for use in the college application process.

Staff Recruitment and Selection Process

CNHS No. 2 seeks a group of professionals committed to our mission—that all students will become literate, critical thinkers with sensitivity to the world around them and the desire to be agents of social justice. In addition, the teachers must be able and willing to plan and deliver meaningful, rigorous instruction as well as to be actively involved in a professional learning community. We seek tenacious and resourceful instructional leaders, highly-skilled and committed teachers, extraordinarily connected parent and community liaisons and classified staff who personalize their services with absolute customer service. Each Camino Nuevo Charter Academy campus selects its own staff. All candidates undergo a thorough hiring process led by the school administrators. The hiring process helps to ensure that the candidate and school are well-matched.

Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 recruits through announcing openings and encouraging candidates at various locations, such as: Edjoin website, local universities recruitment fairs, LinkedIn, partnerships with LMU, CSUDH, & USC, Teach For America website , and word of mouth/inter office email.

Teacher Selection Process

1. The selection process includes the following steps: research and establish job qualifications, announce opening(s), recruits applicant(s), request resume, references, and credentials, interview candidate(s), candidates present demo lesson to a class, check references, select top candidate.
2. Medical clearance - proof of TB testing
3. Fingerprinting - applicant submits prints through LiveScan which is forwarded to appropriate agencies for criminal record check prior to employment in a manner consistent with applicable state law
4. Check for employment eligibility and require annual completion of mandated reporting training on child abuse to ensure compliance.

CNHS No. 2 Professional Development

CNHS No. 2 is committed to supporting its staff and teachers by providing high-quality professional development and the opportunity to belong to a powerful adult learning community. Research confirms that, "professional learning communities are indeed the best form of staff development. In a five-year period where Adlai Stevenson High School made immense achievement gains, not a single external staff development initiative was launched. Their gains were the result of internal expertise, shared and refined by groups of teachers" (Schmoker, 2006). CNHS No. 2 firmly believes in the power of professional learning communities and actively fosters a results-oriented, collaborative, professional environment.

Research maintains that when teachers learn together in a collaborative culture, dramatic increases in student achievement are possible. "Creating collaborative culture is the single most important factor for successful school improvement initiatives and the first order of business for those seeking to enhance the quality of their schools" (DuFour and Eaker, 2004). Therefore our vision for support and development at CNHS No. 2 defines our professional culture and ensures a powerful adult learning community focused on academic excellence:

> We are a professional learning community (PLC) dedicated to constantly improving our ability to meet our students' academic and socio-emotional needs through engaging in action research and the reflective cycle in collaborative teams, so that all of our students learn.

Similarly, our shared commitments align with DuFour's four questions of an effective Professional Learning Community. These fundamental questions ensure ongoing alignment between our mindsets, behaviors, and outcomes for students and our team. They remain alive in the minds of faculty and leadership team members through regular reflection during the opening and closing of collaborative meetings. We are committed to constantly reflecting on and improving our ability to effectively respond to the four essential questions:

1. What do we expect our students to learn?
2. How will we know if they have learned?
3. How will we respond when they don't learn?
4. How will we respond when they do learn?

To hold high expectations for each other, all members of CNHS No. 2 receive extensive professional development, from teachers, to administrators, to support staff. The site Principal is responsible for the development and delivery of a data-based annual professional development scope and sequence that embeds CNHS No. 2's core professional development foci. In 2017-2018, the organizational-wide focus areas for professional development are: Common Core through Authentic Literacy, Conceptual Math, Effectively Serving English Learners, Whole Child, Restorative Justice, Partnering with Families, and Data Analysis and Response. With these foci and data in mind, the principal crafts a yearlong PD calendar that is unique to CNHS No. 2. The annual scope and sequence is reviewed by the Chief Learning Officer in consultation with the Home Support Office team members to ensure high levels of quality and alignment. Home Support Office staff are activated to facilitate professional development with the site Principal, as appropriate. Although the focus of CNHS No. 2 professional development plan is standards-based classroom instruction, mandatory trainings in child abuse, sexual harassment, health, CPR and First Aid, school emergencies, and daily operations are also scheduled for all-school staff.

The topics for the professional development for the 2018-2019 school year might shift as we respond to our school's needs; the topics are determined based on teacher need, end-of-school-year student achievement data, and progress toward our school-wide goals. Our school-wide goals are centered around school culture and instruction, more specifically creating a culture of academic scholarship, focusing on authentic literacy in all content areas, and implementation of new guaranteed and viable curriculum in mathematics courses. We project that we will be continuing the work within our professional learning communities to refine curriculum and pacing so it is literacy-rich, guaranteed, and viable. In addition to instruction-focused PD, additional topics for PD include restorative justice and standards based grading

The format of CNHS No. 2 professional learning community (PLC) is defined by five key structures:

1. Grade-Level/Content Area Teams
2. Classroom Walk-Throughs
3. Instructional Coaching
4. In-House Professional Development
5. Teacher Leadership
6. External Workshops and Opportunities

1. Grade-Level/Content Area Teams: Research from Richard DuFour underscores the importance of providing time for teachers to collaborate, plan together, analyze data, and share best practices. Therefore, significant time is allocated in our early-release professional development calendar for grade level teams, or content area departments, to meet together two to three times per month to reflect upon and share their teaching practice with like-minded colleagues. In alignment with the four guiding questions of effective PLCs, this collaborative time is spent developing common standards-based pacing plans, creating common assessments, analyzing the results from common assessments, or planning for re-teaching/extension based on assessment data. This structure encourages a continuous cycle of inquiry, reflectiveness, and the responsibility of "owning one's craft".

2. Classroom Walk-Throughs (CWT): The UCLA School Management Program developed this process to provide teachers and leaders the opportunity to observe and have conversations about what is happening in classrooms, so teachers can make change in the classroom and increase student achievement. CNHS No. 2 leaders conduct classroom walkthroughs monthly to collect data around school-wide instructional trends. Teachers are included in CWTs on a quarterly basis to promote shared accountability and transparency of practice across all grades. The observational data gathered in CWTs is used to develop next steps for professional development and coaching.

3. Coaching Model: At CNHS No. 2, administrators are required to be true instructional leaders who are present and involved in teachers' instructional practice. At CNHS No. 2, we strive to harness the collective power of collaboration by opening up our doors and our dialogue to build professional relationships that help all students meet the standards. We believe that professional growth is dependent upon creating a "feedback rich" culture that creates and sustains high performance. Teachers and leaders value the coaching model as an opportunity for regular opportunities for observation, feedback, reflection, and eventually, improvement.

The Principal and three Assistant Principals act as instructional coaches for all classroom teachers. The Dean of Culture coaches teacher assistants and elective teachers. Coaches typically oversee 8-10 teachers each. Instructional coaches observe in classrooms once a week for new or struggling teachers, or every other week for experienced teachers for 15-20 minutes. The Dean observes bimonthly as well. Subsequently, coaches and teachers meet once a week or every other week for one hour to debrief, analyze student work, and plan together.

The overarching role of the coach is to build teacher capacity to implement effective instructional practices to improve student learning and performance. The teacher role is to be a learner continually engaged in their curriculum and the study of teaching. When both teacher and coach fulfill their roles, they engage in an ongoing, reflective conversation about what happens in the classroom that translates into engaged and prepared students. All instructional leaders share a common focus as they engage in coaching conversations with teachers and are guided by three key questions:

- Is the content being taught standards-based and rigorous?
- What evidence of learning are students demonstrating?
- What instructional decisions are teachers making and why?

The learning loop cycle below outlines the essential elements of the model and frames our coaching conversations with teachers (Schmoker, 2006).

4. In-House Professional Development: CNHS No. 2 provides extensive professional development opportunities to our teachers, administrators, and staff. Seven full professional development days are calendared each year, during instructional leaders guide teachers in learning and applying new approaches to curriculum planning, instructional strategies, and assessment. Professional development is also embedded into the work week through weekly early-release Wednesday sessions dedicated to ongoing adult learning. All teachers participate in these two hour sessions.

One Wednesday PD of each month is allocated for rotations (teachers rotate within 3-4 mini sessions). A significant portion of professional development sessions are dedicated to content area collaboration as outlined above. The remaining meetings are commonly "new learning" sessions facilitated by site leaders, internal experts, or outside consultants to build teachers' collective capacity in core school-wide expectations. These sessions are typically utilized for new initiatives or curricular frameworks, such as Common Core, ELD curricula, and Readers Workshop structures.

Other activities facilitated during our onsite professional development program may include the following topics: developing positive classroom culture, fostering our parents as partners philosophy, utilizing effective bilingual pedagogy, crafting high-quality lesson plans, discussing strategies to increase student achievement, and engaging in regular data analysis and reflection.

The Home Support Office of Camino Nuevo Charter Academy has developed an extensive professional learning community for administrative leaders as well. School leaders come together for a monthly meeting with leaders across the Camino Nuevo Charter Academy network to share best practices, engage in case studies, and develop collaborative action plans for key growth areas. In addition, Principals, Assistant Principals, Deans, and Operation Coordinators are part of role-alike teams which meet monthly to collaborate around issues specific to their position. Each member of the instructional leadership team also receives leadership coaching from the Vice President of Leadership development and HSO content specialists. Furthermore, Camino Nuevo Charter Academy provides all leaders with workshops focused on topics like: teacher evaluation, documenting personnel performance, data driven dialogue, and stakeholder communication.

5. Teacher Leadership: CNHS No. 2 established Instructional Cadres, which are comprised of teachers and leaders and are focused on initiatives related to teaching and learning, as well as initiatives focused on the socio-emotional support needed to maximize learning. Sample Cadre projects include the school's Technology Initiative and Restorative Justice practices. Teachers in the Teacher Leadership Cadre meets once or twice a month to collaborate and plan for capacity building opportunities. These are essential school-wide practices that support the teaching and learning process. The Cadre experience provides teachers with ongoing leadership development which strengthens their craft, and a valuable sense of ownership of school programs.

Teacher Orientation and Induction

Teachers new to CNHS No. 2 participate in a mandatory 4-day new teacher orientation in August before all teachers return for school-wide professional development. During the orientation, new teachers learn the essentials of CNCA's approach, as well as CNHS No. 2's specific information such as the academic program and operational procedures of the school. Specifically, curricular resources are shared and norms for instructional planning and assessment are communicated. New teachers also have the opportunity to understand the school's partnership with parents, professional expectations and safety procedures. Teachers who are in their first and second year of BGDI are supported by an advisor on-site.

Following New Teacher Induction, both new and existing faculty come together for four days before school begins to revisit the school's vision and recommit to the staff norms. It is also an opportunity for the staff to analyze student achievement data, discuss the current year initiatives, and better understand the scope and sequence of professional development throughout the remainder of the year.

Meeting the Needs of All Students

English Learners

CNHS No. 2 will continue to implement the EL Master Plan for Camino Nuevo Charter Academy. As described in the Master Plan, CNHS No. 2's process for identifying English Learners varies depending on whether the students are new to a California public school, new to Camino Nuevo Charter Academy, or a returning student. These processes are described in the charts that follow:

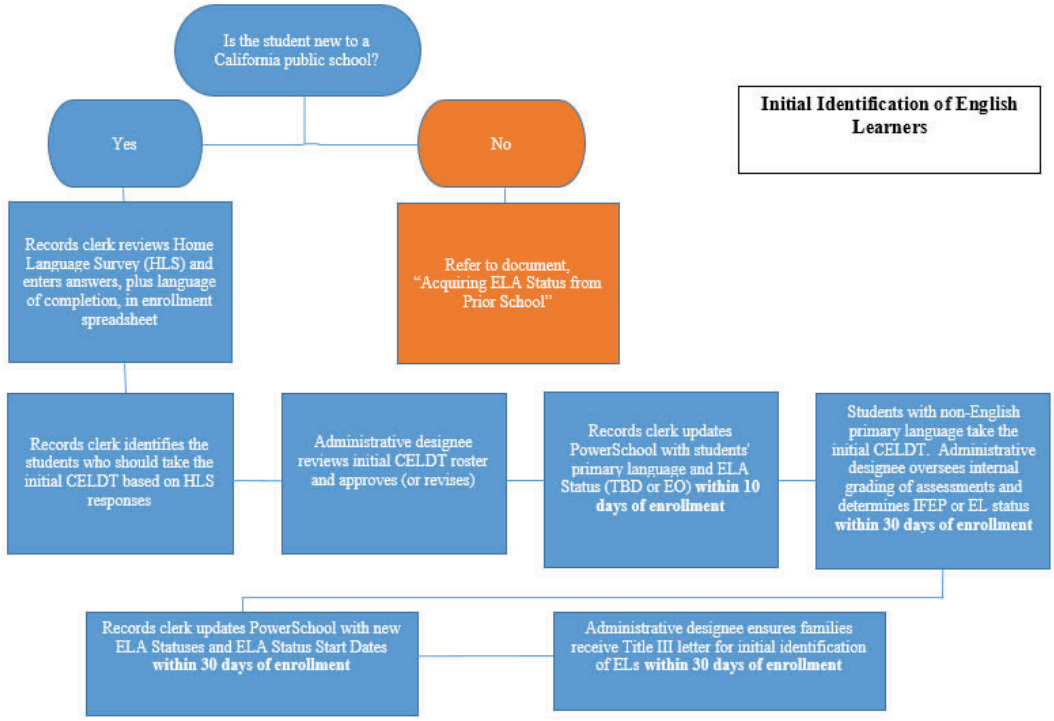
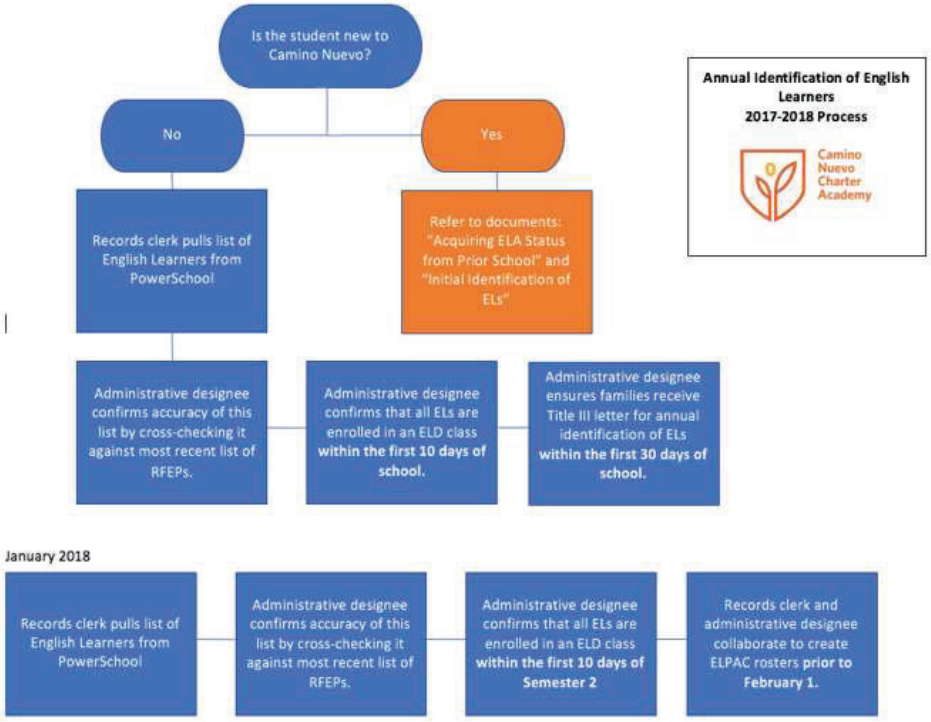
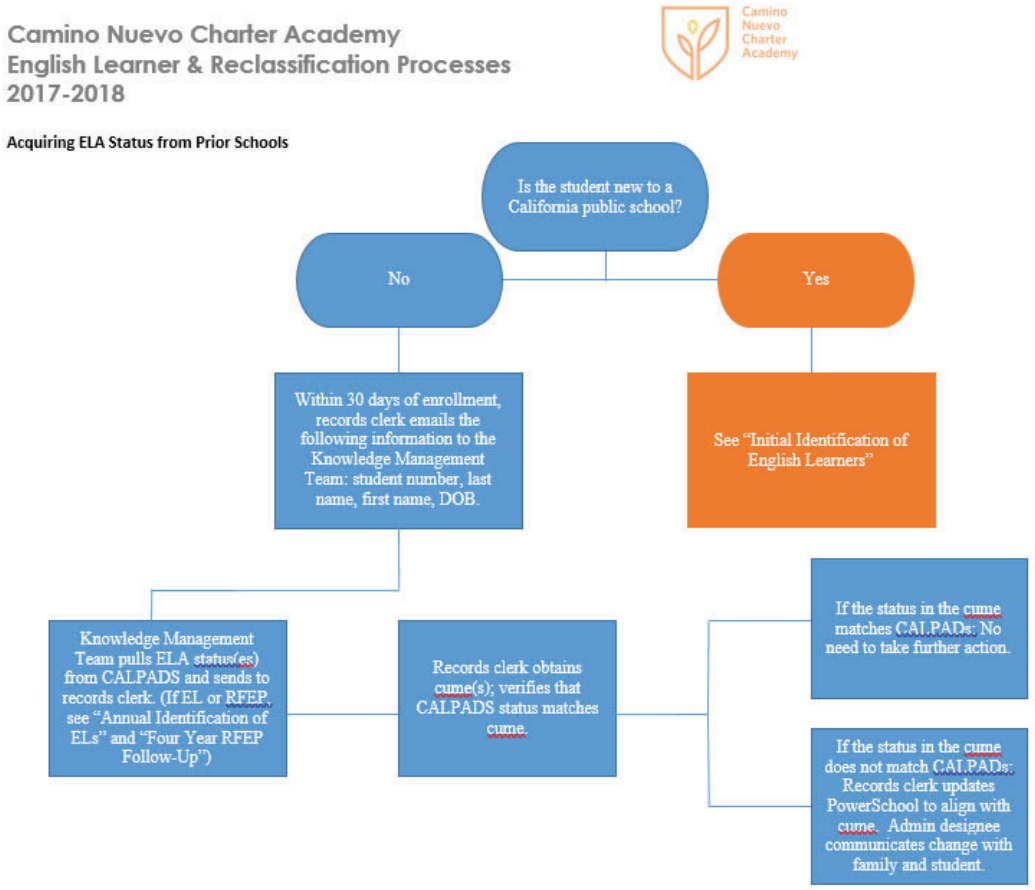
English Learner & Reclassification Processes
2017-2018



Camino Nuevo Charter Academy
English Learner & Reclassification Processes
2017-2018



January 2018



Once English Learners have been identified, they are placed into an English Language Development class for Designated ELD instruction. Based on extensive research into effective programs, Camino Nuevo Charter Academy adopted a data-based methodology for teaching English Language Development, called Systematic ELD. This framework was identified by teachers and leaders at the Camino Nuevo Charter Academy Burlington Campus during the 2008-2009 school year, adopted by them in the 2009-2010 school year, and then spread to other campuses in the subsequent years.

Based on the work of Susana Dutro and EL Achieve, Systematic ELD is a framework that initially attracted, and continues to attract, CNCA educators because of its unique features:

- Students are grouped and taught at their assessed ELD proficiency level by fully credentialed teachers at least three times a week at the high school level;
- Students are explicitly taught forms and functions of language, which the framework writers paced out across the levels of language development and aligned to the California ELD standards to reflect a research-based linguistic progression for language learning;

- Students are also taught high-utility vocabulary that they are unlikely to learn on their own or during other instructional blocks, but need for academic and social life; and
- Students use oral and written language in meaningful contexts.

In order to meet the needs of all students with academic language needs, teachers design ELD lessons that have clearly stated language objectives designed to "build into and from content instruction" (Tariba, 2014). As described in the subsequent pages of this section, teachers utilize a gradual release model to:

- explicitly teach students language patterns and vocabulary connected to a specific language function, or purpose for communicating
- provide students with ample oral practice (i.e., 50% of the lesson) in the context of structured language practice routines
- help students connect oral language to its written form through guided, shared, and independent writing activities

Curriculum and Assessment

CNHS No. 2 teachers draw from Sample Unit Instructional Maps and function pages within the Systematic ELD Handbook to backwards plan Designated ELD units that lead students toward the completion of a worthwhile cognitive task that is aligned to the language students need in other parts of the instructional day (i.e., in history, English, science, math, or an arts class). These units are aligned to the California ELD standards, as are the assessment tasks described below. It is through the grading and analysis of these assessments that ELD teachers ensure that English Learners are making adequate progress toward mastery of the ELD standards.

Daily	Weekly	Unit (every 4-6 weeks)	Summative (end of each semester)
• Do-Now (pre-assessment or assessment of previous day's work) • "You Do Independently" Task (e.g., exit slip) • Ongoing Assessment Checklist – used to collect in-the-moment data while students practice oral language	• Weekly Application Tasks – created by the teacher to assess students' ability to synthesize the language learned during the week into a brief, performance task that is grade-level and developmentally appropriate (i.e., the task is as cognitively rigorous as any other high school-level task would be)	• Unit Assessments – created by the teacher to assess students' ability to synthesize language learned during the unit into an extended, performance task that is grade-level and developmentally appropriate (i.e., the task is as cognitively rigorous as any other high school-level task would be)	• Benchmark assessments by grade-span and proficiency level, created by CNCA teachers and leaders

In addition to using data from the internal assessments described above to monitor student progress and drive instructional decisions, teachers at CNHS No. 2 have historically used results from the CELDT to tailor instruction to student needs. For example, through an analysis of subtest results, ELD teachers identified that a common low-scoring domain for their students was Reading. As a result of this, they adapted their lesson structure to include guided and independent reading fluency and comprehension work on a regular basis. Camino Nuevo Charter Academy educators are committed to data-driven instruction and will use ELPAC results in a similar way when appropriate.

Daily Instruction

Teachers' planning sets them up to implement the following common practices during Designated ELD time:

I. Gradual Release of Responsibility

Designated ELD lessons are characterized by a gradual release of responsibility from teacher modeling to guided oral practice to independent written practice. Teachers move through each of these phases in every lesson in order to ensure that students get enough oral practice and that they have an opportunity to apply their new oral language to writing.

II. Visual Supports

Observers in a Designated ELD classroom at CNHS No. 2 should notice ample visual support for language learners, such as charts with sentence frames and vocabulary word banks, labeled posters to help students visualize new vocabulary in context (e.g., pictorial input charts), picture cards for students to use during partner and group talk, and graphic organizers for structured writing support. Teachers model how students might use these visuals during oral and written practice, as well as support students toward independent language production without the use of a scaffold.

III. Structured Language Practice

During guided oral practice, students engage in Structured Language Practice (SLP) routines, which promote focused, accountable talk. Teachers are trained in the facilitation of these routines during their initial Systematic ELD professional development (PD) sessions. They range from routines for whole class choral language practice (e.g., Echo Repeat) to small group activities (e.g., Talking Stick) to partner routines (e.g., Lines of Communication).

IV. Written Application Tasks

In order to ensure that students' oral language production transfers to their writing, teachers embed daily written application tasks as early in elementary school as possible (i.e., by the middle of kindergarten at the latest). These tasks may be guided, as with a shared writing activity, or may be more independent, such as an exit ticket. The key feature of all written tasks in Designated ELD is that the teacher explicitly makes the connection between them and students' oral language practice so that students begin to write the way they speak and speak the way they write.

Meaningful Access to the Core Curriculum

In order to ensure that English Learners achieve parity with their non-English Learner peers, Camino Nuevo Charter Academy provides both Designated and Integrated ELD. The California ELA/ELD Framework states, "Integrated ELD is provided to ELs throughout the school day and across all subjects by all teachers of ELs…to ensure students strengthen their abilities to use English as they simultaneously learn content through English." Research on the length of time needed to acquire native-like language proficiency suggests that intentionally designed Integrated ELD should in fact be provided to students past their initial reclassification. Virginia Collier, a professor of bilingual education, states, "Research has indicated that it takes the most advantaged students 4-12 years of second language development to reach deep academic proficiency to compete successfully with native speakers." Given that meeting the criteria for reclassification does not necessarily indicate that one has achieved "deep academic (language) proficiency," Camino Nuevo Charter Academy provides Integrated ELD to all students in an effort to achieve this goal. This approach is also supported by the research related to the vocabulary gap between low and upper income children. As of the 2015-2016 school year, 97% of our students qualified for free and reduced price lunch. We consider this along with the research showing that by age three, there is a 30 million word gap between children from the poorest and the wealthiest families (Hart, 1995). As such, we believe that all students we serve benefit from and should therefore receive Integrated English Language Development.

Daily Instruction and Assessment

Teachers' planning prepares them to implement the following common Integrated ELD practices throughout the instructional day:

Vocabulary Instruction

Teachers engage in a prioritization process which helps them determine which words to pre-teach, both quickly and through an in-depth study, and which words to introduce during the lesson, once students have grasped an understanding of the concept the word represents. Teachers define less important or easily understood words in context, providing synonyms in English and, when possible, in Spanish. When engaging students in an in-depth study of key vocabulary words, teachers use graphic organizers to help students conceptualize important ideas related to the word, such as cognates in Spanish, definitions, related words, and example sentences. Teachers also use pictures, realia, and total physical response (TPR), to help students understand and remember the words. After the teacher introduces the words and their meanings, students practice using the words. They are given sentence frames with the word already embedded and then are asked to insert the word into less scaffolded sentences.

Most importantly, the words that have been selected for in-depth study are re-visited and students are required to use them in writing and conversation to ensure that they develop a deep understanding of the word meaning. (Lesaux & Harris, 2015).

Visual Supports

In addition to providing pictures of key vocabulary words and graphic organizers to organize information about these words, teachers implement additional visual supports to ensure that English Learners can access content instruction. These include:

- pictorial input charts
- anchor charts with key concepts and processes defined in pictures and words
- graphic organizers that help students visually display information, such as Thinking Maps
- word walls with high frequency and/or content-specific words and symbols

Structured Language Practice

Research on English Learners' language development has shown that there is a strong correlation between students' oral English skills and their reading comprehension and writing abilities. (August & Shanahan, 2006) As such, English Learners benefit from abundant oral practice throughout the course of a lesson. However, this oral practice must be well structured in order to be effective. As such, teachers teach and implement Structure Language Practice routines, or SLPs. These routines provide students with a structured time to practice the vocabulary and grammatical structures that characterize the academic language of the lesson. The routines ensure that there is an equitable balance of talk time among students and that students are held accountable for speaking and listening to their peers.

Sentence Frames and Sentence Starters

To help students perform the language function necessary to accomplish an oral or written task, teachers provide students with written sentence frames and sentence starters. An example of a sentence frame for cause and effect language is: As a result of __(past tense verb phrase: cause)__, ____(past tense verb phrase: effect) ___. Another example is: _____ due to the fact that _____. Both examples are sentence frames in that they support students with the completion of an entire sentence, whereas sentence starters only support students in beginning a sentence. However, as exemplified above, even sentence frames can vary in the amount of support they provide students, with the first example being more supportive than the second. Teachers use their knowledge of students' developmental and language needs to determine which type of sentence frame to use and whether to post it or to share it orally. No matter the type of frame used, teachers always spend time introducing the frame to students, teaching them how to use it, and practicing it before they expect students to use it independently.

Process for Annual Evaluation of the EL Program

The administrators of CNHS No. 2 meet with members of the Learning Group from Camino Nuevo Charter Academy's Home Support Office on a regular basis in the form of Quarterly Data Meetings. These Data Meetings, which are held at the end of each quarter of the academic year, are opportunities for school site and organizational leaders to collectively evaluate the effectiveness of the entire educational program, including the English Learner Program. During these meetings, leaders analyze a wide range of EL performance data, including CELDT/ELPAC scores, Lexile scores, Smarter Balanced Interim Assessment Block scores, course grades. They also analyze whole child data points such as attendance and suspensions. This holistic portrait of English Learner performance allows leaders to synthesize programmatic strengths and weaknesses, as well as determine whether members of the following subgroups are in need of additional support:

- English Learners, especially Long-Term English Learners (LTELs) and students At Risk of Becoming LTELs
- Reclassified students, especially those who reclassified within the previous four school years

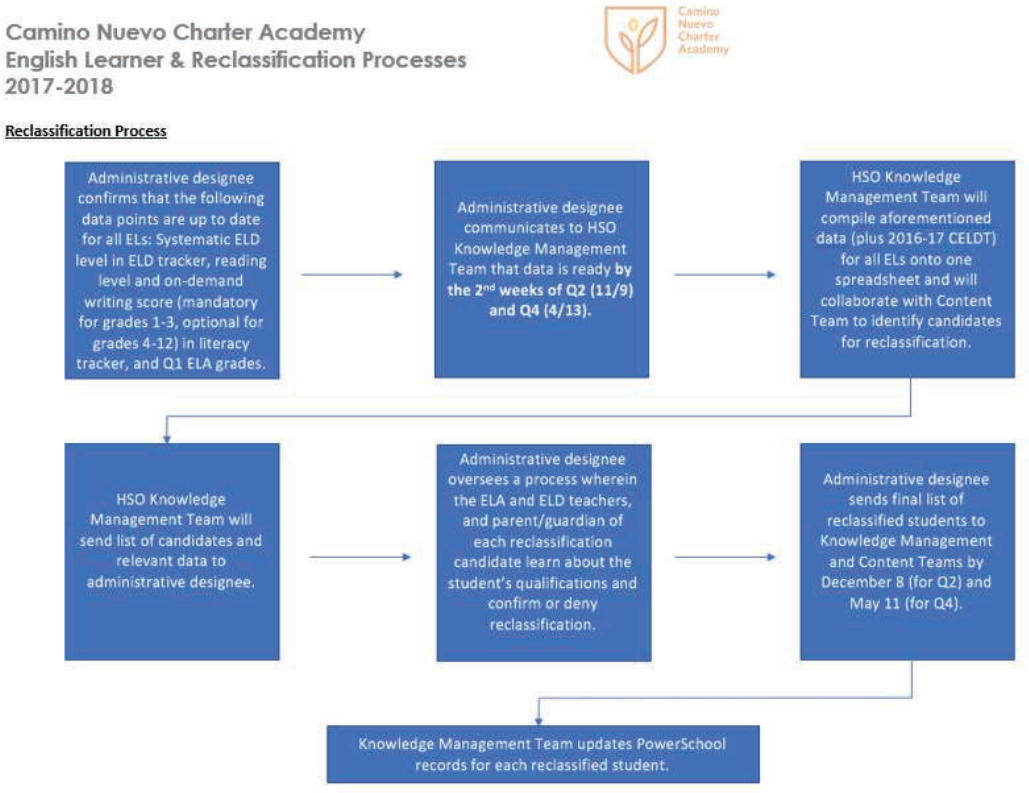
CNHS No. 2 leaders and Home Support Office staff also analyze performance data of reclassification candidates in order to ensure that all students who are ready or close to ready to reclassify are able to do so within the subsequent cycle. For example, students who are meeting all criteria but one are explicitly identified and targeted for intervention support, if needed, in order to ensure that they meet the missing criterion and reclassify swiftly.

Quarterly Data Meetings are followed by strategic planning time for the site leadership team members to take into account recommendations from the Home Support Office, as well as their own ideas for programmatic adjustments. By engaging in annual strategy plan writing, and adjusting these plans on a quarterly basis based on the results of student achievement data, leaders at CNHS No. 2 ensure that data is not collected to simply sit in a spreadsheet. Rather, data is used to prioritize leadership actions and to make programmatic adjustments in order to better meet the needs of all students, especially English Language Learners and reclassified students.

Reclassification Process and Criteria

The following describes the reclassification process for the 2017-2018 school year, as well as the reclassification criteria for all Camino Nuevo Charter Academy students.

Reclassification Process



Reclassification Criteria

Gifted and Talented (GATE) Students and Students Achieving Above Grade Level

Camino Nuevo Charter Academy's educational philosophy is grounded in the belief that we should serve all students with the expectation that they can achieve at the highest academic levels. Subsequently, CNHS No. 2 does not identify GATE students nor do we offer GATE classes. High-achieving students will be identified by scoring in the advanced range on internally developed standardized assessments, reading at least one or more years above grade level, and achieving mastery in all core courses with a score of 4 or an A. Teachers will consistently analyze student data and performance to inform their instructional focus and promote appropriate opportunities for individualization. They will use this information to create learning activities that target the needs of all students and scaffold appropriately. The accelerated pace at which gifted and talented students learn information requires flexible pacing strategies (Daniel & Cox, 1988) such as: skill grouping, curricular compacting, contracting, and credit by examination. Other examples include:

- Using different text levels in independent reading and guided reading instruction.
- Homogeneous grouping for challenge projects.
- Assigning challenge problems for early finishers.
- Vertical enrichment projects aligned to academic learning.
- Activities to hone thinking, reasoning, communication and self-regulation skills.

Students Achieving Below Grade Level

On a monthly basis, the CNHS No. 2 leadership team looks at student level data to identify students who need extra support and/or additional differentiation. On a quarterly basis, the CNHS No. 2 leadership team meets with CNCA home office staff to take a deep dive in to student and teacher level data. The reflections of these discussions are shared in weekly teacher professional development. From these data discussions and daily instructional time, teachers and leaders identify struggling students who need long-term intervention based on class performance and grades. These students, particularly in math, are placed in an intervention class named Study Lab that are taught by math teachers. During Study Lab, students are receiving support for their core math classes, doing remediation work to get caught up, or previewing upcoming lessons to prepare them for the core math classes. Additionally, due to challenges around getting students to stay after school for tutoring support and remediation, in 2015-2016, CNHS No. 2 adjusted the bell schedule to include a Tutoring Block every Wednesday for 45 minutes where students are assigned to a class that they are either failing or close to failing to get tutoring support directly from the teacher. This space allows all students to get support or get ahead during the school day and provides opportunities for teachers to reteach, assess, and/or work with individuals and smaller groups of students who need more support.

Socio-Economically Disadvantaged/Low-Income Students

Given that 97% of the CNHS No. 2 student population qualify as socio-economically disadvantaged, the support of these students is a whole-school approach. CNHS No. 2 identifies its socio-economically disadvantaged students subgroup through meal applications, CALPADS Direct Certification, and parent education data collected though the enrollment form. CNHS No.2 school leadership team and Home Office leadership team have quarterly data meetings to monitor and track progress of all students. Site administrators are part of SSTs to track progress of individual students with teachers in the grade-level teams. Many times, students who come from low SES households require more extensive supports to be successful in school. As mentioned earlier, our instructional model is grounded in a whole-student approach, taking in to account the social emotional, social capital, and academic needs of our students. As such, CNHS No. 2 has an innovative on site counseling program that allows the school to provide a significant percentage of the student population with mental health service during school hours. CNHS No. 2 has a full time Family Services Coordinator that provides extensive trainings for parents, coordinates services for families, and connects with other outreach organizations to provide wrap around supports. Our school has two-full time college counselors and a part time college counseling assistant. Our families and students have a relatively low counselor to student ratio when compared with the national average. Additionally, we offer our students internship opportunities and experiential educational opportunities, such as college trips, camping trips, and partnerships with a variety of leadership development organizations that are intended to build our students' social capital so they are prepared to navigate the academic and social challenges of college, regardless of their socio-economic status.

CNHS No. 2 partners with the Youth Policy Institute to provide a comprehensive after school program that ensures student safety and offers enrichment, free of charge. The program includes access to computers, sports programs, food services, and academic support after school. Moreover, CNHS No. 2 has enrichment activities after school such as CIF sports teams, school clubs and tutoring. With these partnerships and supports CNHS No. 2 is able to effective meet the needs of students that fall under the category of socio-economically disadvantaged.

Students with Disabilities
The DRL contains all provisions necessary to address matters related to students with disabilities and special education.

Students in Other Subgroups

CNHS No. 2 serves a high-needs population. Ninety-seven percent of our students come from households that qualify for free or reduced lunch, many of our students have been exposed to traumatic life expenses related to living in poverty, and for many of the students at CNHS No. 2 the school is the one point of stability in their lives. Subsequently, the school has embedded supports to address these needs throughout its approach to instruction, social emotional supports, and outreach to parents. Strategies and services such as in school therapy, a restorative approach to discipline, and highly differentiated instruction all meet the needs related to servicing foster youth. The family services coordinator at CNHS No. 2 will also track the needs of any foster youth that attend the school. The family services coordinator will act as a liaison to any and all agency involved in providing services for foster youth students and ensure their needs are being met. CNHS No. 2's family services coordinator will identify foster youth, homeless students, and unaccompanied minors through self-disclosure, enrollment process, or referral by a local agency, staff member, and/or family member of the student. Upon identification of a student as foster, homeless, or unaccompanied minor, CNHS No. 2 will immediately enroll the student in school even if records normally required for enrollment are lacking (e.g., academic records, special education records, proof of residency, medical records and/or immunizations). The family services coordinator will also assist the student with referrals to school based educational programs and/or support services as well as community resources. Families, children and youth receive educational services for which they are eligible, including referrals to health, mental health, dental and other appropriate centers.

English Language development has developed into a leveled class systems where students are grouped according to their language development levels. The program has three dedicated teachers that provided instruction that is aligned to a Systematic ELD curriculum. The school uses internal ELD benchmarks and CELDT scores to track student progress. With this information teachers differentiate instruction to target language accusations domains such as listing, speaking, reading, and writing. The school also uses data from the CELDT to place students in the correct ELD classes and to help teachers target long term English language learners language accusation deficit area.

CNHS No. 2 has incorporated a space for students with IEPs to practice their English language accusation skills with an RSP teacher. During this time, students receive support with their language accusation needs through the lens of each student's processing deficits. The team has determined students with IEPs that are also long term English language learners have yet to reclassify English fluent proficient due the processing deficit in the language acquisition area they are struggling in. One of the leveled ELD classes for this school is for students with IEPs and is taught by an RSP teacher.

Lastly, the school population of new comers to our country has increased steadily year after year. Subsequently, the school has created an English Language support lab class that provided a myriad of supports for these high needs students. In this class teachers supplement core instruction in Spanish (ELA and Math), cover community resources with students, and help to craft a transition plan for life after high school. The students that we serve in this class are also in ELD classes designed to ensure students are provided with English language acquisition support.

A Narrative Describing a "Typical Day" at the Charter School

Students begin arriving at school at 7:15 am and are greeted by school staff and administrators. The school environment is a small, safe school that allows teachers and staff to get to know every student's needs and focus on ensuring they achieve at high levels.

Our master schedule is designed to meet the needs of our students. Our A-G curriculum and focus on the Common Core State Standards ensures a rigorous and well-rounded education. Subsequently, innovative scheduling practices have been utilized to ensure the student's schedules complement their rigors leaning experience. CNHS No. 2 has imbedded math support, achieve 3000 reading support, i-connect, tutoring block, and i-graduate classes into every students weekly learning experience. Our math support and reading support classes are targeted classes created to provide students with tier two intervention supports such as targeted remediation, extension work on curriculum covered during core instruction, and opportunities to reassess on content that has not been mastered during core instruction. Students will meet every day in an advisory like class, i-connect. There, students will build connection with teachers and fellow students in a gender specific setting. In i-connect, students will also reach out to the community during service leaning trips where they will build an appreciation for civic duty though hands on experiential leaning. Lastly, all students go to a tutoring block class one a week. During this highly dynamic time students are pre-selected by teachers to focus on an area of study they need the most support in. The rosters are every changing and evolving though out the year based on student needs and upcoming academic experiences.

In each classroom students will be taught by highly qualified teachers that implement proven instructional strategies. Literacy experiences are aligned to an instructional framework based off of Mike Schmoker's research. Students are brought though a cycle of strategic vocabulary, reading, discussion and writing mini lessons that are based off of proven strategies. All students experience math though the College Prep Math curriculum. This curriculum places a premium on conceptual exploration of mathematics and is designed to allow students to obtain an internalized understating of mathematical concepts. Lastly, all students will travers their school day with opportunities to expresses themselves in the arts, forging languages and a myriad of other engaging academic and nonacademic elective courses.

After school, students have a safe structured environment provided by the Youth Policy institute. Even more, student run clubs, tutoring and sports teams are available for students to develop both their social and academic capacities. After school ends members of the student government might be attending an SBC meeting or students might be diligently working on assignments in the computer lab that is open after school hours. CNHS No. 2 is committed to providing a safe and supportive space both during and after school ends.

Sample Student School Day

Time	Activity
7:45-8:00	I arrive at school and am greeted by my principal as I enter the campus. I make my way to receive breakfast with my fellow students. The first bell rings at 7:55am and I quickly make my way to 1st period that starts at 8:00am
8:00-9-25	Science, I love science! I am greeted by my teacher at the door and work my way to my seat. The learning objective is clear, “understand the various fault configurations and their relationship to geologic principals.” After doing the “do now” my classmates and I break off into small groups to develop visual representations of a specific fault configuration that we are expected to teach to other members of our class. I share out my work and listen intently to my classmates describe the other material while taking notes on a graphic organizer. We fill out our exit ticket that allows us to reflect on our work and set goals for the next time we meet.
9:30-10:55	In history we are beginning a new unit. The class works though new vocabulary with the aid of a graphic organizer. We record these vocabulary words in a vocabulary binder and are instructed to reference these words as we engage with documents throughout the unit. The teacher begins to read though an article from the 1960s on civil rights. We read along with her as she points out the vocabulary words we covered earlier. I have such a better understanding of the text now knowing these words. At the end of class we discuss if we agree or disagree with the tactics the Black Panther group was engaged in. As I engage in a discussion with fellow students I start to develop a deeper understanding of greater context the Civil Rights Movement as a whole. Off to i-connect!
11:00-11:35	As we settle in, the boys in my class connect with one another and check in about how the first few weeks of school have been. Our teacher then leads us in a reflective goal setting experience where we set an objective for the year and commit to hold each other accountable to accomplish it. Lastly, we sit and listen to the daily students announcements about upcoming events and important information.

11:35-12:15	The rush to the lunch line begins. My friends and I say hello to the administrators and campus aids out during lunch and hurry to pick up our food. We receive our lunch and sit down outside to catch up and talk about the test coming up next week in science. There are activates taking place that are led by the student government and some of my friends make their way over the field to take part in an informal soccer game. The bell rings and as soon as it starts lunch is over.
12:20-1:45	During art we review a reading from a contemporary art magazine. We are required draw connections between contemporary artwork and the classic works of Picasso. Before we start however, the teacher guides us though the reading and helps us annotate key paragraphs. We apply our learning in a self-created contemporary art piece that symbolizes any emotion of our choosing. We straighten up our work areas and prepare to move onto our last class.
1:45-3:15	As our teacher greets us at the door of our i-graduate class I can see the computer cart is open and ready to go. We sign out our computers and all students quickly logged into their Achieve 3000 accounts. We work though the lesson and wait for our accuracy report. My friend asks me for help answering a question. Just as I lean over to help him my teacher reminds me that all questions are different as the program is leveled to everyone's individualized reading levels and the articles and questions we read are tailored to our reading ability and proximal zone of development. At the end of class we review our ACT and SAT registration forms and go over the expectations for the college trip we will be taking as a class next week. Right before the bell rings students quickly put the computer away in the cart and straighten up the room.
3:15-6:00	I find the YPI sign in table and go to the computer lab. I start work on an essay that is due Friday. The YPI staff member helps me with a few paragraphs and revisions. I save my work and go out to the field for a quick basketball game. We play a few games and the day is over. 6:00 rolls around and my mother picks me up and I make it home to help around the house and prepare for the next day.

(Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(B).)

"The method by which pupil progress in meeting those pupil outcomes is to be measured. To the extent practicable, the method for measuring pupil outcomes for state priorities shall be consistent with the way information is reported on a school accountability report card." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(C).)

CNHS No. 2 believes a robust assessment program yields positive student results. Students are assessed from the time they enter the school though graduation. Teachers, administration and central leadership monitor their progress closely.

Teachers administer quarterly Common Formative Assessments (CFAs) within their departments to evaluate student progress in reaching essential standards. With increased focus on formative assessments targeting critical Common Core skills, the data from individual students' assessments is used to drive strategies for re-teaching and reassessment, and to ensure that each student is mastering essential standards. Common Formative Assessments with rubrics provide a unique opportunity for teachers to compare results and identify which classroom practices glean the highest levels of student achievement. Opportunities to discuss teaching practices that target specific essential standards also allow teachers to brainstorm best practices for reaching students who struggle with any particular aspects of a topic. Assessment strategies are therefore informed by the collaboration of multiple teachers from any given discipline, with perspective across grade levels.

Given that student performance on math is a critical learner need for our school, beginning last year, the math department administered Common Formative Assessments on a more frequent basis to obtain additional feedback for comparative value across classes, and also administered Common Summative Assessments as a best practice. This allowed the math department as a team to monitor the particular needs of individual students, in addition to identifying topics meriting additional instruction.

The Common Formative Assessments for math are collaboratively created and vetted by our math team. Most recently, the math department has incorporated CFAs based on the Common Core Standards for Mathematical Practice. These assessments are carefully analyzed with the goal of revising curriculum pacing and offering strategic, differentiated intervention to ensure that all students master essential content standards.

CNHS No. 2 also assesses and monitors student Lexile levels and ELD classification in order to put in place the proper supports to propel student growth in literacy and language. Lexile levels are assessed twice a year for all students and monthly for students enrolled in reading support classes using the Achieve3000 program. Teachers are able to monitor shifts in student Lexile levels and use this information to inform literacy targets in the classroom. Students designated as English Learners (EL) are assessed annually with the CELDT for their state designation. Students designated as EL all students are also assessed on an internal ELD placement test. This allows us to identify additional areas of support. Selected students with low literacy may also be administered the Flynt Cooter exam to better pinpoint literacy needs and to determine appropriate supports for the student.

Data Analysis and Reporting

- The type(s) of data the school will use:
  - CELDT/ELPAC Levels
  - RFEP Status
  - SBAC Standard Proficiency
  - Reading Levels
  - ELD Benchmark Assessments
  - Content specific Mastery Grades
  - Subgroup performance on these data points
- The role and use of data to inform curriculum, instruction, tiered intervention, and enrichment:
  - After administering the aforementioned assessments, the Home Support Office Education Team, site leaders/administrators, and teachers engage in a robust data analysis process each quarter to identify strengths of the academic program, areas for growth, struggling students, and opportunities for re-teaching. Focus students are identified so that teachers may strategically target differentiated supports to meet their individual needs. Student performance data is compiled and various reports are created. Not only is the overall proficiency evaluated, but causal factors, such as students' literacy and language abilities, are considered as levers for progress towards proficiency. The performance of high priority subgroups, such as ELLs and students with disabilities is examined so that we may closely monitor their progress.
  - Site leaders/administrators meet quarterly with the Home Support Office team to discuss student learning and progress, as well as viable and actionable next steps. This includes class placement and schedule alterations, identifying focus students for intervention courses, as well as Advanced Placement.
  - Board receives end-of-year progress reports measuring performance towards organizational success formula.
- The role and use of data to inform stakeholders of school performance:
  - School-wide data is then shared outwardly with parent representatives on the Site Based Council as well families who attend Coffee with the Principal where data is shared on a regular basis. The board is also presented with middle-of-the-year and end-of-the-year progress reports, indicating current student progress on the Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium as well as ACT and SAT scores for eleventh and twelfth grade students.

Grading, Progress Reporting, and Promotion/Retention

- Grading policy
  - Letter Grades – CNHS No. 2 uses a grading system called "standards based grading," where grades are given based on students' proficiency on core standards for each class. This grading system uses a 4-point scale.

4-Point Scale	Proficiency Level	Approximate Letter Grade Equivalency
4	Advanced	A
3	Proficient	B
2	Basic	C
1	Below Basic	F
0	No Data	No Grade

Scores & Letter Grades

Proficiency Level	Score	iConnect Letter Grade
Super advanced	Above 800	A
Advanced	650-800 = A	A
Proficient	500-649 = B	B
Basic	400-499 = C	C
Below Basic	Under 400 = F	F

- Type and frequency of progress reporting
  - Parents are regularly informed of student progress through five-week and quarterly progress reports. Additionally, students receive formal semester grades that are recorded onto transcripts. Similar to their children, parents have continual access to detailed student grade reports and logs through PowerSchool and Kickboard. Should that data raise significant concern prompting multiple parent-teacher conferences, the Student Success Team will work collaboratively with parents to create a goal and viable and actionable next steps.
  - From Family Handbook: The Camino Nuevo Charter Academy academic year is divided into two 20-week semesters. Families will get a report card at the end of each semester and progress reports at the end of the first and third quarters of the year. Report cards may be mailed home or given directly to students or families/guardians during family conferences.

- Promotion/retention policy and procedures including appeals procedures
  - From Handbook: Retention Policy - Students with 2 or more I's or F's in their A-G courses at the end of the spring semester of summer school might repeat the grade. Students with 20 or more absences or excessive tardies may be retained. Other decisions about retention will be based on an individual basis, based on each student's credit readiness for the following year.
  - Retention/Promotion Appeal Policy - The parent/guardian may disagree with the retention or promotion determination. If the parent/guardian disagrees, they are entitled to an appeal meeting. Upon request for information, the principal/designee shall explain the appeal process and provide the parent(s)/guardian(s) with a form to request a site-level appeal.

Parents as Partners

Charter School's goal is to create the strongest possible partnership between home and school in order to increase student achievement and success. Parents are our most important partners in the road to student success. We strongly believe that students will find greater levels of academy success when their home and school share similar values about learning, develop a positive relations, and when they work together to build a strong partnerships.

Element 7 – Means to Achieve Racial and Ethnic Balance

"The means by which the school will achieve a racial and ethnic balance among its pupils that is reflective of the general population residing within the territorial jurisdiction of the school district to which the charter petition is submitted." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(G).)

Court-ordered Integration

Charter School shall comply with all requirements of the Crawford v. Board of Education, City of Los Angeles court order and the LAUSD Integration Policy adopted and maintained, pursuant to the Crawford court order, by the District's Student Integration Services (collectively the "Court-ordered Integration Program"). The Court-ordered Integration Program applies to all schools within or chartered through LAUSD.

Charter School has set forth below its initial plan for achieving and maintaining the LAUSD's Racial and Ethnic Balance goal of a 70:30 or 60:40 ratio. (Ratio represents the percentage of Predominantly Hispanic Black Asian Other (PHBAO) compared to Other White (OW)). The written plan lists specific dates and locations of recruitment activities that Charter School will undertake in order to achieve the District's Racial and Ethnic Balance goal. Charter School shall monitor the implementation and outcomes of the initial plan, and modify it as necessary throughout the term of the Charter to achieve the District's goal. Upon request, Charter School shall provide the District with a copy of its current written plan.

The District receives neither average daily attendance allocations nor Court-ordered Integration Program cost reimbursements for charter school students. The District may receive the Targeted Instructional Improvement Block Grant (TIIBG) for its Court-ordered Integration Program. The District retains sole discretion over the allocation of TIIBG funding, where available, and cannot guarantee the availability of this funding.

Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 will make diligent efforts to recruit students of various racial and ethnic groups so as to achieve a balance that is reflective of the general population residing within the territorial jurisdiction of the LAUSD. Recruitment includes publicizing our instructional program through fliers, mailings, banners, school website, hosting Open House events, providing tours of the Charter School and speaking to interested parents. Digital outreach will also be conducted, targeting families in the neighborhoods listed below, and leveraging the support of SchoolMint, an online tool intended to streamline the application and enrollment process for families. Major outreach efforts will target a two-mile radius of the school. Recruitment efforts will target the Greater MacArthur Park, Mid-Wilshire, and Echo Park communities. Per Ed Code 48985, CNHS No. 2 will provide all outreach materials in the primary language spoken by more than 15% of the student population, which is currently English and Spanish. CNHS No. 2 will continue to revisit enrollment and census data annually to ensure that materials are provided in any other relevant language.

- November-January – Hold open house and informational meetings on at least two separate nights to inform parents of the academic and extracurricular activities at Camino Nuevo High School No. 2.

Element 8 – Admission Requirements

"Admission requirements, if applicable." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(H).)

Documentation of Admissions and Enrollment Processes

Charter School shall maintain complete and accurate records of its annual admissions and enrollment processes, including but not limited to documentation of implementation of lottery and waitlist criteria and procedures in accordance with the terms of the Charter. These records shall be made available to the District upon request.

Homeless and Foster Youth

Charter School shall adhere to the provisions of the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and ensure that each child of a homeless individual and each homeless youth has equal access to the same free, appropriate public education as provided to other children and youths. Charter School shall provide specific information, in its outreach materials, websites, at community meetings, open forums, and regional center meetings, that notifies parents that Charter School is open to enroll and provide services for all students, and provides a standard District contact number for access to additional information regarding enrollment.

Charter School shall comply with all applicable federal and state laws regarding homeless and foster youth, including but not limited to the provisions of AB 379 (2015) and Chapter 5.5 (commencing with Section 48850) of Part 27 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Education Code, as amended from time to time. Charter School shall extend its uniform complaint procedure to complaints filed pursuant to the applicable provisions of AB 379.

Non-Discrimination

Charter School shall not require a parent/legal guardian/student to provide information regarding a student's disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, nationality, legal or economic status, primary language or English Learner status, race or ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, or any other characteristic that is contained in the definition of hate crimes set forth in section 422.55 of the Penal Code, or any other information that would violate federal or state law, prior to admission, participation in any admissions or attendance lottery, or pre-enrollment event or process, or as a condition of admission or enrollment. Charter School may request, at the time of, and as part of, conducting its lottery process, the provision of information necessary to apply specific admissions preferences set forth in this Charter.

Charter School shall not request or require submission of a student's IEP, Section 504 Plan, or any other record or related information prior to admission, participation in any admissions or attendance lottery, or pre-enrollment event or process, or as a condition of admission or enrollment.

Admission to CNHS No. 2 is open to any resident of the state of California. Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 shall adhere to all state and federal laws regarding the minimum age of students. Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 shall not enroll pupils over 19 years of age unless continuously enrolled in a public school and making satisfactory progress toward high school diploma requirements and is not over the age of 22. Camino Nuevo High School No. 2 shall not require any child to attend the charter school. If the number of students applying for admission exceeds openings available, entrance will be determined by a public random drawing.

Student Recruitment

CNHS No. 2 will recruit students from all backgrounds. Major outreach efforts will target a two-mile radius of the school. Recruitment efforts will target the Greater MacArthur Park, Mid-Wilshire, and Echo Park communities. These efforts will also include information on services the school offers for students with low academic performance, socio-economically disadvantaged students, and students with disabilities. This information will be included in the outreach efforts outlined in Element 7.

Lottery Preferences and Procedures

CNHS No. 2 shall admit all students who wish to attend. If the number of pupils who wish to attend exceeds the school's capacity, attendance shall be determined according to public random drawing.

1. Preference shall be extended first to students residing within LAUSD.
2. Preference shall be then extended to students currently attending CNCA schools.
3. Preference shall then be extended to siblings of students currently attending CNHS No. 2.
4. Preference shall then be extended to children of CNHS No. 2 employees not to exceed 10% of the Charter School population.
5. Students residing in California with no ties to CNHS No. 2.

CNCA has a K-12 model, as such we extend preference to students who attended a CNCA middle school in order to allow them to continue the strand. We extend a preference to siblings that would be attending the same campus to help our families.

In order to participate in the lottery a family must fill out the enrollment interest form and receive a duplicate copy or receipt. It is the families' responsibility to contact us if any information on their enrollment interest form changes. Enrollment interest forms will be made available in the school office, online, and at recruitment events and accepted after October 1 of each year.

- The lottery will be held on a designated date each year for CNCA schools.

- The lottery will be held annually on a Friday between December and mid-February, and no later than February 15. The specific date will be confirmed and communicated broadly to our schools, families, board, and the community by mid-September each school year.
- The date and location(s) will be advertised in advance at all CNCA schools and on the CNCA website.
- Families may attend the lottery in person, but do not need to be present in order to participate.
- Only open seats will be filled.
- Names of students who filled out enrollment interest forms by the school's designated deadline will be entered into the lottery.
- All students entered into the lottery will be assigned a lottery number.
- Families selected in the lottery will be notified by phone call and/or letter. Notified families must confirm verbally intent to enroll by the campus deadline and then submit enrollment paperwork. Families that do not respond will be withdrawn from the list.
- CNHS No. 2 will utilize SchoolMint, or a similar platform, to perform the lottery drawing.

SchoolMint is an application that automates and streamlines the lottery interest forms and waitlist for both CNHS No. 22 and Camino Nuevo High School. It will allow parents to apply to one or both campuses. School staff will be able to manage all lottery forms and view analytics online. Lotteries are run by a secure computer algorithm, it runs rules and priorities as set forth in the charter and insures they are followed every time. This will assure families of an equitable, tamper-proof process. Site staff will enter the data manually for any paper enrollment interest forms received. In addition, SchoolMint will automate waitlist and track open seats in real time.

Element 9 – Annual Financial Audits

"The manner in which annual, independent financial audits shall be conducted, which shall employ generally accepted accounting principles, and the manner in which audit exceptions and deficiencies shall be resolved to the satisfaction of the chartering authority." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(I).)

Charter School shall provide for an annual audit that shall be conducted in compliance with applicable state and federal laws, including but not limited to the requirements of Education Code sections 47605(b)(5)(I) and 41020 as they may be amended from time to time. Charter School shall ensure compliance with the requirements of section 41020(f)(2), which makes it unlawful, absent an Education Audits Appeal Panel waiver, for a public accounting firm to provide audit services to a local educational agency if the lead audit partner, or coordinating audit partner, having primary responsibility for the audit, or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that local educational agency in each of the six previous years.

Annual Audit Procedures

Each fiscal year, an independent auditor certified by the State of California conducts an audit of the financial affairs of CNHS No. 2 and CNCA to verify the accuracy of the school's financial statements, attendance and enrollment accounting practices, and internal controls. CNCA's Board of Directors selects an auditor based upon their relevant experience with school finance and charter school finance, auditing team experience, proposed fees, and other relevant criteria. An annual independent financial audit of the books and records of CNHS No. 2 will be conducted for each fiscal year. The books and records of CNHS No. 2 will be kept in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and as required by applicable law, the audit will employ generally accepted accounting procedures. The audit shall be conducted in accordance with applicable provisions with the California Code of Regulations governing audits of charter schools as published in the State Controller's K-12 Audit Guide.

The Audit Committee, made up of members of the Board of Directors, will annually recommend to the Board of Directors selection of an independent auditor. The auditor will have, at a minimum, a CPA and educational institution audit experiences and will be approved by the State Controller on its published list as an educational audit provider. To the extent required under applicable federal law, the audit scope will be expanded to include items and processes specified in applicable Office of Management and Budget Circulars. Pursuant to AB 1137, CNHS No. 2 will provide any necessary financial statements to charter granting agency and the Los Angeles County Office of Education (LACOE), and the respective state agencies. The CEO and representatives of ExED, back office provider, will provide auditors with all required documentation prior to execution. The CEO will ensure the required agencies receive copies of the completed audit by the statutory deadline. At conclusion of the audit, the CEO, along with the audit committee, will review any deficiencies, findings, material weaknesses, or audit exceptions and report them to the Board of Directors with recommendations on how to resolve them. The Board of Directors will submit a report to the charter granting agency describing how the exceptions and deficiencies have been or will be resolved to the satisfaction of the charter granting agency along with an anticipated timeline.

Element 10 – Suspension and Expulsion Procedures

"The procedures by which pupils can be suspended or expelled." (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(J).)

Charter School shall provide due process for all students, including adequate and timely notice to parents/guardians and students of the grounds for all suspension and expulsion recommendations and decisions and their due process rights regarding suspension and expulsion, including rights of appeal.

Charter School shall ensure that its policies and procedures regarding suspension and expulsion will be periodically reviewed, and modified as necessary, in order to conform to changes in state law.

Charter School shall ensure that its staff is knowledgeable about and complies with the District's Discipline Foundation Policy and/or current equivalent policy, as required by the Modified Consent Decree. Students with Disabilities

Charter School shall establish and implement policies and procedures to ensure full compliance with federal and state laws and regulations regarding the discipline of students with disabilities. If a student is recommended for expulsion and the student receives or is eligible for special education, pending the completion of the expulsion process, Charter School shall identify and provide special education programs and services at an appropriate interim educational placement determined in coordination with the LAUSD Division of Special Education.

In the case of a student who has an Individualized Education Program ("IEP"), or a student who has a Section 504 Plan, Charter School shall ensure that it follows correct disciplinary procedures to comply with the mandates of state and federal laws, including IDEA and section 504 of the Rehabilitation Plan of 1973. As set forth in the MOU regarding special education between the District and Charter School, an IEP team will meet to conduct a manifestation determination and to discuss alternative placement utilizing the District's Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual. Prior to recommending expulsion for a student with a Section 504 Plan, Charter School's administrator will convene a Link Determination meeting to ask the following two questions:

A. Was the misconduct caused by, or directly and substantially related to the student's disability?
B. Was the misconduct a direct result of the Charter School's failure to implement Section 504?

NOTIFICATION OF THE DISTRICT

Upon expelling any student, Charter School shall notify the Charter Schools Division by submitting an expulsion packet to the CSD immediately or as soon as practicable, which shall contain:
